18 Therefore hee entred into Egypt with a mightie compayn, with charets, and Elephantes, and with horsemen, and with a great nauie, g The second battel with the Carthaginenses.

19 g And moued warre against Ptolemeus King of Egypt: but Ptolemeus was afraid of him, and fledde, and many were wounded to death.

20 Thus Antiochus wanne many strong cities in the land of Egypt, and tooke away the spoyles of the land of Egypt.

21 And after that Antiochus had smitten Egypt, hee turned againe in the hundreth, fourtie and three yeere, 22 And went vp toward Israel and Ierusalem with a mightie people,

23 And entred proudly into the Sanctuarie, and tooke away the golden altar, and the candlesticke for the light, and all the instruments thereof, and the table of the shewbread, and the powring vessels, and the bowles, and the golden basins, and the vaile, and the crownes, and the goldern apparel, which was before the Temple, and brake all in pieces.

24 He tooke also the siluer and golde, and the precious iewels, and he tooke the secret treasures that he found, and when he had taken away all, hee departed into his owne land, 25 After he had murthered many men, and spoken very proudly.

26 Therefore there was a great lamentatiō in euery place of Israel.

27 For the Princes and the Elders mourned: the yong women, and the yong men were made feeble, and the beautie of the women was changed.

28 Euery bridegrome tooke him to mourning, and she that sate in the marriage chamber, was in heauinesse.

29 The lande also was moued for the inhabitants thereof: for al the house of Iacob was couered with confusion.

h The battel of Macedonia.

30 h After two yeres the King sent his chiefe tare master into the cities of Iuda, which came to Ierusalē with a great multitude, 31 Who spake peaceable woordes vnto them in deceit, and they gaue credit vnto him.

32 Then he fell suddenly vpon the citie, and smote it with a great plague, & destroyed much people of Israel.

33 And when he had spoyled the citie, he set fyre on it, casting downe the houses thereof, and walles thereof on euery side.

34 The women & their children tooke they captiue, and led away the cattel.

35 Then fortified they the citie of Dauid with a great and thicke wall, and with mightie to wyes, and made it a stronghold for them.

36 Moreouer they set wicked people there, and vngodly persons, and fortified them selues therein.

37 And they stored it with weapons and victailes, and gathered the spoyle of Jerusalem, and laid it vp there.

38 Thus became they a sore snare and were in ambushment for the Sanctuarie, & were wicked enemies euermore vnto Israel.

39 For they shed innocent blood on euerye side of the sanctuarie, & defiled the Sanctuarie, 40 In so much that the citizens of Jerusalē fled away because of them, and it became an habitation of strangers, being desolate of them whome she had borne: for her own children did leaue her.

41 Her sanctuarie was left waste as a wildernes: her holy dayes were turned into mourning, her Sabbaths into reproche, & her honour brought to nought.

42 As her glory had bene great, so was her dishonour, and her excellencie was turned into sorowe.

Iosep. Antiq. 12. Chap. 6. and 7.

43 Also the king wrote vnto all his kingdome, that all the people should be as one, & that euery man should leaue his lawes.

44 And all the heathen agreed to the commandement of the king.

45 Yea, many of the Israelites consented to his religion, offering vnto idoles, and defiling the Sabbath.

46 So the king sent letters by the messengers vnto Jerusalem, and to the cities of Juda, that they should followe the strange lawes of the countrey, 47 And that they should forbid the burnt offerynges and sacrifices, and the [a]offeringes in the Sanctuarie,

48 And that they shoulde defile the Sabbaths and the feasts,

49 And pollute the Sanctuarie and the holy men,

50 And to set vp altars, and grones, and chappels of idoles, and offer vp swines flesh, and vncleane beastes,

51 And that they should leaue their children vncircumcised, and defile their soules with vncleanesse, & pollute them selues, that they might forget the Lawe, and change al the ordinances, 52 And that whosoeuer would not do according to the commandement of ꝑ king, should suffer death.

53 In like maner wrote he throughout all his kingdomes, & set ouerseers ouer all the people, for to compell thē to do these things.

54 And he commanded the cities of Juda to do sacrifice, citie by citie.

55 Then went many of the people vnto thē by heaps, euery one that forsoke the Law, and so they committed euill in the land.

56 And they droue the Israelites into secret places, euen whereseoeuer they could flee for succour.

57 The fifteenth day of Casleu, in the hundreth and fine and fortieth yeere, they set vp the abomination of desolation vpon the altar, and they builded altars throughout the cities of Juda on euery side.

58 And before the doores of the houses, and in the streetes they burnt incense.

59 And the bookes of the Lawe, which they found, they [i] burnt in the fire, & cut in pieces.

[i] It is a manifest note of the enemies of God, to burne the bookes of the Law, Hist. eccles. lib. 8. chap. 2.

60 Whosoeuer had a booke of the Testament found by him, or whosoeuer consented vnto the Lawe, the kinges commandement was, that they should put him to death by their authoritie.

61 And they executed these thinges euery moneth vpon the people of Israel that were found in the cities.

62 And in the fine and twentieth day of the moneth, they did sacrifice vpon the altar, which was in the steade of the altar of sacrifices.

63 And according to the commandement, they put certeine women to death, which had caused their children to be circumcised.

64 And they hanged vp the children at their neckes, and they spoyled their houses, and slewe the circumcisers of them.

65 Yet were there many in Israel, which were of courage, and determined in them selues, that they would not eate vncleane thinges, 66 But chose rather to suffer death, then to be defiled with those meates: so because they would not breake the holy conenant, they were put to death.

67 And this [b] tyrannie was verie sore vpon the people of Israel.

[b] Or, rage.

CHAP. II.

1 The mourning of Mattathias and his sonnes for the destruction of the holy citie. 19 They refuse to do sacrifice vnto idoles. 24 The zeale of Mattathias for the Law of God. 31 They are slaine & will not fight against because of the Sabbath day. 49 Mattathias dying commandeth his sonnes to sticke by the worde of God, after the example of the fathers.

1 In those dayes stood vp Mattathias the Iosep. Antiq. 12. Chap. 7. priest, the sonne of Joannes, the sonne of Simeon, of the sonnes of Joarib of Jerusalem, and dwelt in Modin.

2 And hee had fiue sonnes, Joanan called Gaddis,

3 Simon called Thassi,

4 Judas which was called Maccabeus,

5 Eleazar called [a] Abaron, and Jonathan, whose name was Apphus,

[a] or, Auran.

6 Howe he sawe the blasphemies, which were committed in Juda and Jerusalem:

7 And he said, Wo is me: wherefore was I borne, to see this destruction of my people, and the destruction of the holie citie, & thus to sit still? it is deliuered into the hands of the enemies,

8 And the Sanctuarie is in the handes of strangers: her temple is as a man that hath no reuowme.

9 Her glorious vessels are carried away into captiuitie: her infants are slaine in the streets, and her yong men are fallen by the swoorde of the enemies.

10 What people is it, that hath not some possession in her kingdom, or hath not gotten of her spoyles?

11 All her glorie is taken away: of a free woman, man, he is become an handmaid.

12 Behold, our sanctuarie & our beautie, and honour is desolate, and the Gentiles haue defiled it.
13 What helpeth it vs then to liue any longer?
14 And Mattathias rent his clothes, hée, & his sonnes, & put sackcloth vpon them, and mourned very sore.
15 ¶ Then came men from the king to the citie of Modin to compell them to forsake God, and to sacrifice.
16 So many of the Israelites consented vnto them: but Mattathias and his sonnes assembled together.
17 Then spake the cõmissioners of the king, & said vnto Mattathias, Thou art þ chiefe and an honourable man, & great in this citie, and hast many children and brethren.
18 Come thou therefore first, and fulfill the kings commandement, as all the heathen haue done, & also þ men of Juda, & such as remaine at Jerusalem: so shalt thou & thy familie be in the kings fauour, & thou and thy children shalbe enriched with siluer & gold, and with many rewardes.
19 Then Mattathias answered & said with a loude voyce, Though al nations that are vnder the kings dominion, obey him, & fal away euery man frõ the religiõ of their fathers, & consent to his commandements, a The father promiseth for his children, that they shall serue God: so doth Iosh. for his household, Iosh. 24. 15.
20 a Yet will I and my sonnes, and my brethren, walke in the couenãt of our fathers.
21 God be mercifull vnto vs, that we forsake not the Lawe and the ordinances.
22 We will not hearken vnto the kinges wordes to transgresse our religion, neither on the right side, nor on the left.
23 And when hée had left off speaking these words, there came one of the Jewes, in the sight of all to sacrifice vpon the altar which was at Modin, according to the kings cõmandement.
b It is a griefe to the godly to see the people offende.
24 Now when Mattathias sawe it, he was so b inflamed with zeale, that his reines thooke, & his wrath was kindled according to the ordinance of the Lawe: therefore hée ranne vnto him, & killed him by the altar:
25 And at the same time he slewe the kinges commissioner, that compelled him to doe sacrifice, and destroyed the altar.
26 Thus bare he a zeale to the Law God,
Num. 25. 7. c doing, as Phinees did vnto Zambri the sonne of Salom.
27 ¶ Then cryed Mattathias with a loude voyce in the citie, saying, Whosoeuer is zealous of the Lawe, and wil stande by the couenant, let him come forth after me.
28 So hée, & his sonnes fled into the mountaines, & left al that they had in the citie.
d Or, that liued iustly and vprightly. 29 Then many that d sought after iustice and iudgement, 30 Went down into the wildernesse to dwel there, both they, and their children, & their wiues, and their cattel: for the afflictions increased sore vpon them.
31 ¶ Now when it was tolde vnto þ kings seruants, & to the garisons, which were in Jerusalem in the citie of Dauid, that men had broken the kings commandement, & were gone downe into the secrete places in the wilderne.
32 Then many pursued after them: and hauing ouertaken them, they camped against them, & set the battel in arap against them on the Sabbath day, 33 And said vnto thé, Let this nowe be sufficient: come forth & doe according to the cõmandement of the king, and ye shall liue.
34 But they answered, We wil not go forth, neither will we doe the kings commandement, to defile the Sabbath day.
35 Then they gaue them the battell.
36 But the other answered them nothing, neither cast any one stone at them, nor stopped the prime places, 37 But said, We will die all in our innocencie: the heauen and earth shal testifie for vs, that ye destroy vs wrongfully.
38 Thus they gaue them the battel vpon the Sabbath, & slew both men and cattel, their wiues & their children to the number of a thousand people.
39 ¶ Why Mattathias & his friends vnderstoode this, they mourned for them greatly,
40 And said one to another, If we al doe as our brethren haue done, & fight not against the heathen for our liues, & for our Lawes, then shal they incontinently destroy vs out of the earth.
41 Therefore they concluded at þ same time, saying, Whosoeuer shal come to make battell with vs vpon the sabbath day, we will fight against him, that wé die not all, as our brethren that were murthered in the secret places.
42 Then came vnto them the assemblie of the Aldeans, which were of the strongest men of Israel, all such as were well minded toward the Lawe.
43 And all they that were fled for persecutiõ, ioyned them selues vnto them, and were an helpe vnto them.
44 So they gathered a power, and smote the wicked men in their wrath, & the vngodly in their anger: but the rest fled vnto the heathen, and escaped.
45 Then Mattathias and his friends went about, and destroyed the altars, 46 And circumcised the children by force that were vncircumcised, as many as they found within the coastes of Israel, 47 And they pursued after the proud men: & this act prospered in their hands.
48 So they recouered þ Law out of the hand of the Gentiles, & out of the hand of kings, and gaue not place to the wicked.
49 Nowe when the time drew neere, that Mattathias should dye, hée sayde vnto his sonnes, Nowe is pride and persecution increased, and the time of destruction, and the wrath of indignation.
50 Now therefore, my sonnes, be ye zealous of the Lawe, and giue your liues for the couenant of our fathers.
51 Call to remembrance what acts our fathers did in their time: so shall yé receiue great honour and an euerlasting name.

64 Wherefore my sonnes, take good hearts, & shew your selues men for the Law: for by it shall you obtaine glorie.

65 And beholde, I knowe that your brother Simon is a man of counsel: giue eare vnto him alway: he shall be a father vnto you.

66 And Judas Maccabeus hath bene mightie and strong, euen from his youth up: let him be your captaine, & fight you þ battel for the people.

67 Thus shal ye bring vnto you al those that obserue the Law, and shall auenge the iniuries of your people.

68 Recompense full ye heathen, & giue your selues to the commandement of the Lawe.

69 So he blessed them, and was layed with his fathers.

70 And died in the hundreth, fourtie and fiue yere, and his sonnes buried him in his fathers sepulchre at Modin, & al Israel made great lamentation for him.

CHAP. III.

1 Judas is made ruler ouer the Iewes. 11 Hee killeth Apollonius and Seron the princes of Syria. 44 The confidence of Judas toward God. 55 Judas determineth to fight against Lysias, whom Antiochus had made captaine ouer his hoste.

1 THen Judas his sonne, called Maccabeus, rose up in his place.

2 And al his brethren helped him, and al they that helde with his father, & fought with courage the battel of Israel.

3 So he gate his people great honour: he put on a breastplate as a gyant, & armed him selfe, and set the battel in arrap, and defended the campe with the sword.

4 In his actes he was like a lyon, & as a lyons whelpe roaring after the pray.

5 For he pursued the wicked, and sought them out, and burnt up those that vexed his people,

6 So that the wicked fled for feare of him, & al þ workers of iniquitie were put to trouble: and saluation prospered in his hand.

7 And he grieued diuers kings, but Jacob reioyced by his actes, and his memoriall is blessed for euer.

8 He went also thorow the cities of Juda, & destroyed the wicked out of them, and turned away the wrath from Israel.

9 So was he renowned vnto the ends of the earth, & he assembled together those that were readie to perish.

10 ¶ But * Apollonius gathered the Gentiles, and a great hoste out of Samaria, to fight against Israel. * Who was gouernour of Syria, Iosep.Antiq.12 chap.9.

11 Which when Judas perceiued, he went forth to mete him, and smote him, & slewe him, so that many fell downe slaine, & the rest fled.

12 So Judas toke their spoyles, and toke also Apollonius sworde, and fought with it all his life long.

13 ¶ Now when Seron a prince of the armie of Syria, heard that Judas had gathered vnto him the congregatiō, & Church of the faithful, and went forth to the warre, 14 He said, I wil get me a name, & wilbe glorious in þ Realme: for I will go fight with Judas, & them that are with him, which haue despised the Kings commandement.

15 So he made him readie to go vp, and there went with him a mightie hoste of the vngodlie to helpe him, and to be auenged of the children of Israel.

16 And when he came nere to the going vp of Bethhoron, Judas went forth to mete him with a small companie.

17 But when they saw the armie cōming against them, they said to Judas, Howe are we able, being so fewe, to fight against so great a multitude, & so strong, seeing we be so wearie, and haue fasted all this day?

18 Then said Judas, It is an easie thing for many to be shut vp in the handes of fewe, and there is no difference before the God of heauen, to deliuer by a great multitude, or by a small companie.

19 For the victorie of the battel standeth not in the multitude of the host, but the strength commeth from heauen.

20 They come against vs with a cruell and proud multitude, to destroy vs, and our wiues, and our children, and to robbe vs.

21 But we doe fight for our liues, & for our Lawes, 22 And God him selfe wil destroy thē before our face: therfore be not ye afrayd of them.

23 And when he had left off speaking, he leapt suddenly vpon them: so was Seron and his hoste destroyed before him.

24 And they pursued thē frō the going down of Bethhoron vnto the plaine: where there were slaine eight hundreth mē of thē, & the residue fled into the land of the Philistims.

25 Then the feare and terrour of Judas & his brethren fell vpon the nations rounde about, 26 So that his fame came vnto the King: for all the Gentiles could tel of the warres of Judas.

27 ¶ But

27 ¶ What when King Antiochus heard these tidings, he was angrie in his mind: wherfore he sent forth, & gathered all the power of his realme a very strong armie, 28 And opened his treasure, & gaue his host a yeres wages in hand, comanding them to be readie for a yere for al occasions.
29 Neuertheles, when he sawe þ the money of his treasures fayled, & that þ tributes in the countrey were small, because of the dissension, & plagues that he had brought vpon the land, in taking away þ lawes which had bene of olde time,
30 He feared least he should not haue now at the second time, as at the first, for þ charges & giftes that he had giuen with a liberall hand afore: for in liberalitie he farre passed the other Kings that were before him.
31 Wherefore he was heavy in his mind, & thought to goe into Persia, for to take tributes of the countreis, and to gather much money.
32 So he left Lysias a noble mā & of þ Kings bloud to ouersee the Kings busines, frō þ riuer of Euphrates vnto þ borders of Egypt, 33 And to bring vp his sonne Antiochus, til he came againe.
34 Moreouer, he gaue him half of his hoste and elephants, & gaue him the charge of al things that he woulde haue done,
35 And concerning those which dwelt in Iuda & Ierusalem, þ he should send an armie against thē, to destroy & roote out þ power of Israel & the remnant of Ierusalem, and to put out their memorial from that place, 36 And to set strāgers for to inhabite al their quarters, & part their lande among them.
37 And the king tooke the halfe of the host þ remained, & departed from Antiochia his royal citie, in the yere an hundreth fourtie and seuen, & passed the riuer Euphrates, & went thorow the hie countries.
38 Then Lysias chose Ptolemeus the sonne of Dorimmus, and Nicanor, & Gorgias, mightie men, and the Kings friendes, 39 And sent with thē fourty thousand footemen, & seuen thousand horsemen, to go into the land of Iuda, and to destroy it, as the king commanded.
40 So they went forth with al their power, and came & pitched by ‖ Emmaus in the plaine countrey. ‖ Emmaus.
41 Now when the marchants of þ countrey heard the rumour of them, they tooke very much siluer & gold, and seruants, & came into the campe to buy the children of Israel for slaues, and the strength of Syria and of strange nations ioyned with them.
42 ¶ Now when Iudas & his brethren saw that trouble increased, & that the host drew nere vnto their borders, cōsidering þ kings words, wherby he had commanded to destroy the people, and vterly abolish them, 43 They saide one to another, Let vs redeeme the decay of our people, and let vs fight for our people, and for our Sanctuarie.
44 Then the congregation were come readie gathered to fight, and to pray, and to desire mercie and compassion.
45 As for Ierusalem, it was not inhabited, but was as a wilderne. There went none that was borne in it, in or out at it, and the Sanctuarie was troden down, & the strangers kept the fortresse, & it was the habitation of the heathen: and the mirth of Iacob was taken away: þ pipe & the harp ceased.
46 So they gathered themselues together, & came to Maspha before Ierusalem: for in Maspha was the place where they prayed afore time in Israel.
47 And they fasted that day, & put sackcloth vpon them, & cast ashes vpon their heads, and rent their clothes, 48 And opened the booke of the Lawe, wherein the heathen sought to paint the likenesse of their Idoles, 49 And brought the Priests garments, & the first fruites, & the tithes, & set there the Nazarites, which accomplished their daies.
50 And they cryed with a loud voice toward heauen, saying, What shal we do vnto these? and whither shal we carry them away?
51 For thy Sanctuarie is troden down and defiled, & thy Priests are in heauines, and brought downe.
52 And behold, the heathen are come against vs to destroy vs: þ knowest what things they imagine against vs.
53 How can we stand before them, except thou helpe vs?
54 Then they blewe the trumpets, and cryed with a loude voyce.
55 And after this Iudas ordeined captaines ouer the people, euen captaines ouer thousands, & captaines ouer hundreths, & captaines ouer fifties, and captains ouer ten.
56 And they commanded them that builded houses, or married wiues, or planted vines pardes, or were fearefull, that they should returne euery one to his own house, according * to the Lawe. * Deu. 20. 5. ind. 7. 3.
57 So the hoste remoued, & pitched vpon the Southside of Emmaus.
58 And Iudas said, Arme your selues, & be valiant men, and be readie against the morning to fight with these nations, which are gathered together against vs, to destroy vs and our Sanctuarie.
59 For it is better for vs to die in battel, thē to see the calamities of our people and of our Sanctuarie.
60 Neuertheles as the wil of God is in heauen, so be it.

CHAP IIII.

1 Iudas goeth against Gorgias which lieth in wait. 24 He putteth Gorgias & his host to flight. 28 Lysias inuadeth Iudea, 29 But Iudas driueth him out. 43 Iudas purifieth the Temple and dedicateth the altar.

1 THen tooke Gorgias fiue thousand foote men, & a thousand of the best horsmen, and departed out of þ campe by night, Ioseph. lib. 12. chap. 10.
2 To inuade the campe of the Iewes, & to slay them suddenly: and the men of the fortresse were his guides.
3 Now when Iudas heard it, he remoued, & they that were valiant men to smite the kings armie which was at Emmaus,
4 Whiles yet the armie was dispersed from the campe.
5 In þ meane season came Gorgias by night into Judas campe: and when he found no man there, he sought the in the mountaines: for saide he, They flee from vs.

6 But allcome as it was day, Judas shewed him self in the fielde vp thee thousand men, which had neither harnesse nor swordes to their mindes.

7 And they sawe that the armies of the heathen were strong and wel armed, and their horsemen about them, and that these were expert men of warre.

8 Then said Judas to the men that were with him, Feare ye not their multitude, neither be afraide of their assault.

9 Remember, how our fathers were delivered *in the red Sea, when Pharao pursued them with an armie. *Exo.14.9,25.

10 Therefore now let vs crie vnto heauen, and the Lord wil haue mercie vpon vs, and remember the covenant of our fathers, and will destroy this hoste before our face this daye:

11 So shal al the heathen know, that there is one, which delivereth and saueth Israel.

12 Then the strangers lift vp their eyes, and sawe them comming against them, 13 And they went out of their tents into the battell, & they that were with Judas, blew the trumpets.

14 So they ioyned together, and the heathen were discomfited and fled vp the plaine.

15 But the hyndmost of them fel by the sword, and they pursued them vnto *Gazeron, & into the plaines of Idumea, & of Azotus, & of Jamnia, so that there were slaine of the about three thousand men. *Or, Assartemoth.

16 So Judas turned again with his host frō pursuing them,

17 And said vnto the people, Bee not greedie of the spoples: for there is a battel before vs.

18 And Gorgias & the armie is here by vs in the mountaine: but stand ye now fast against your enemies, & ouercome them: then may ye safely take the spoples.

19 As Judas was speaking these wordes, there appeared one part which looked frō the mountaines.

20 But when Gorgias sawe that his were fled, and that Judas souldiers burnt the tents: (for the smoke that was seene, declared what was done.)

21 When they sawe these things, they were sore afraide, and when they sawe also that Judas and his host were in the field ready to set themselues in arap, 22 They fled euery one into the land of strangers.

23 So Judas turned againe to spople the tents, where he gate much gold and siluer, and precious stones, and purple of the sea, and great riches.

24 Thus they went home, & sung psalmes, & praised toward the heauen: for he is gracious, and his mercie endureth for euer.

25 And so Israel had a great victory in that day.

26 ¶ Now all the strangers that escaped, came, & told Lysias al the things that were done.

27 Who whē he heard these things, was sore afrayd, & discouraged, because such things came not vpō Israel as hee would, neither such things as the king had commanded him, came to passe.

28 Therefore the next yere following, gathered Lysias three score thousand chosen foote men, and fiue thousand horsemen to fight against Jerusalem.

29 So they came into *Idumea, and pitched their tentes at *Beth-sura, where Judas came against them with ten thousād men. *Or, Judea. *Or, Bethoron.

30 And when he saw that mightie armie, he prayed & said, Blessed be thou, O Sauiour of Israel, *which diddest destroy the assault of the mightie man by the hand of thy seruant Dauid, *& gauest the host of the strangers into the hand of Jonathan, the sonne of Saul, and of his armour bearer: *1.Sam.17.50,51. *1.Sam.14.13,14.

31 Shut vp this armie in the hād of thy people of Israel, and let them be confounded with their power, and with their horsemen.

32 Make them afraid, & consume their boldnes and strength, that they may be astonished at their destruction.

33 Cast them downe by the swoorde of them that loue thee: then shall al they that know thy name, praise thee with songs.

34 So they ioyned together, and there were slain of Lysias host, fiue thousand men, and they fell before them.

35 Then Lysias, seeing his army put to flight, and the manlines of Judas souldiers, and that they were ready, either to liue or die valiantly, he went into Antiochia, and gathered stragers, and when he had furnished his armie, he thought againe (being prepared) to come against Judea.

36 Then said Judas & his brethren, Behold, our enemies are discomfited: let vs now go vp to clense, and to repaire the Sanctuary.

37 So al the host gathered them together, & went vp into the mountaine of Sion.

38 Now when they saw the Sanctuary laid waste, and the altar defiled, and the doores burnt vp, and the shrubbes growing in the courtes, as in a forest, or as on one of the mountaines, & that the Priests chambers were broken downe,

39 They rent their clothes, & made great lamentation, & cast ashes vpon their heads, 40 And fell downe to the ground on their faces, and blewe an alarme with the trumpets, and cryed toward heauen.

41 Then Judas commanded certaine of the men to fight against those which were in the castel, til he had clensed the Sanctuary.

42 So he chose Priests that were vndefiled, such as delited in the Law, 43 And they clensed the Sanctuarie, & bare out the defiled stones into an vncleane place, 44 And consulted what to do with the altar of burnt offrings, which was polluted.

45 So they thought it was best to destroy it, least it should be a reproche vnto them, because the heathen had defiled it: therefore they destroyed the altar, 46 And layed vp the stones vpon the mountaine of the Temple in a conuenient place, till there should come a Prophet, to shewe what should be done with them.

47 So they tooke whole stones according to the Law, and builded a newe altar accor-

48 And made vp ꝑ Sanctuarie, & the things that were within ꝑ Temple, & the courts, and all things.
49 They made also newe holy vessels, and brought into the Temple the candlesticke, and the altar of burnt offrings, and of incense, and the table.
50 And they burnt incense vpō the altar, and lighted the lampes which were vpon the candlestickes, that they might burne in the Temple.
51 They set also the shewbread vpon the table, & hanged vp the vailes, and finished all the workes that they had begonne to make.
52 And vpon the fiue & twentieth day of the ninth moneth, which is called ꝑ moneth of Chasleu, in ꝑ hundreth and eight & fourtieth yere they rose vp betimes in the morning, 53 And offred sacrifice according to the Law, vpon the newe altar of burnt offrings, that they had made.
54 According to the time, and according to the day, that the heathen had defiled it, in the same day was it made new with songs, and harpes, and lutes, and cymbales.
55 And all ꝑ people fel vpon their faces, worshipping and praysing toward the heauen him that had giuen them good successe.
56 So they kept ꝑ dedicatiō of the altar eight days, offring burnt offrings with gladnes, & offred sacrifices of deliuerance and praise, 57 And deckt the forefrōt of the Temple with crownes of gold and shields, and dedicated the gates and chambers, and hāged doores vpon them.
58 Thus there was very great gladnesse among the people, and the reproche of the heathen was put away.
59 So Iudas & his brethren with the whole congregation of Israel ordeined that the dayes of dedication of the altar shoulde be kept in their season from yere to yere, by the space of eight dayes, from the fiue and twentie daye of the moneth Chasleu, with mirth and gladnes.
60 And at ꝑ same time builded they vp mōst Sion with hie walles and strong towres rōnd about, lest the Gentiles should come, and tread it downe, as they had done afore.
61 Therefore they set a garison there to kepe it, and fortified Beth-sura to kepe it, that the people might haue a defence against Idumea.

CHAP. V.

9 Iudas vanquished the heathen that goe about to destroy Israel, and is holpen of his brethren Simon & Ionathan. 50 He ouerthroweth the citie of Ephron, because they denied him passage thorowe it.

Ioseph. lib. 13. cap. 12.

NOw when the nations rounde about heard, that the altar was builded, & the Sanctuarie renued, as afore, they were sore grieued.
2 Therefore they thought to destroy the generation of Iacob that was among them, and began to slap and destroy the people.
3 Then Iudas fought against the children of Esau in Idumea at *Arrabathene, because they besieged the Israelites, and he smote them with a great plague, and droue them to straites, and tooke their spoiles.

Or, Arabathane.

4 He thought also vpō the malice of the children of Bean, which had bene a snare and an hinderance vnto the people, when they lay in wayte for them in the by way.
5 Wherefore he shut them vp in towres, and besieged them, and destroyed them vtterly, and burnt their towres with fire, with all that were in them.
6 Afterward, went he against the children of Ammon, where he found a mighty power, and a great multitude with Timotheus their captaine.
7 So he had many battels with them, but they were destroyed before him, and so he discomfited them,
8 And tooke Gazer with the townes therof, and so turned againe into Iudea.
9 ¶ Then the heathen that were in Galaad, gathered them together against the Israelites that were in their quarters, to slay them: but they fled to the castel of Datheman,
10 And sent letters to Iudas, and to his brethren, saying, The heathen that are about vs, are gathered against vs, to destroy vs, 11 And they make them ready for to come, & to take the fortresse, whervnto we are fled, and Timotheus is captaine of their hoste.
12 Come nowe therefore, and deliuer vs out of their handes: for many of vs are slayne:
13 And all our brethren that were at Tubin, are slaine, and they haue taken away their wiues, and their children, and their goods, and destroyed there almost a thousād men.
14 While these letters were yet a reading, beholde, there came other messengers frō Galile with their clothes rent, which told the same tidings, 15 And said, that they of Ptolemais, and of Tyrus, and of Sidon, and of all Galile of the Gentiles were gathered against them to destroy them.
16 When Iudas, and the people heard these wordes, a great Congregation came together, to cōsult what they might do for their brethren, that were in trouble, and whome they besieged.
17 Then said Iudas to Simon his brother, Chuse thee out men, and go & deliuer thy brethrē in Galile, and I & my brother Ionathan, will go into the countrey of Galaad.
18 ¶ So he left Iosephus the sonne of Zacharias, & Azarias to be captaines of the people, and to keepe the remnant of the host in Iudea, 19 And commanded them, saying, Take the ouersight of this people, & make no warre against the heathen, vntil we come againe.
20 And vnto Simon were giuen three thousand men to go into Galile, and to Iudas eight thousand mē for the countrey of Galaad.
21 Then went Simon into Galile, and gaue diuers battels to the heathen, and the heathen were discomfited by him.
22 And he pursued them vnto the gates of Ptolemais: and there were slayne of the heathen almost three thousande men: so he tooke their spoyles.
23 Thus they rescued them that were in Ga-lile

Ile and in Arbattis with their wines, and their children, and all that they had, and brought them into Judea with great ioy.

24 ¶ Judas Maccabeus also, & his brother Jonathan went ouer Jorden, & trauelled thre dayes iourney in the wildernes,

25 Where they met wt the Nabathites, who receiued them louingly, & told them euery thing that was done vnto their brethren in the countrey of Galaad,

26 And how that many of them were besieged in Bosora, & Bosor, in Alemis, *Chasbon, Maged and Carnaim (all these cities are strong, and great)

27 And that they were kept in other cities of Galaad, & to morow they are appointed to bring their hoste vnto these sorts, and to take the, & to destroy them all in one day.

28 So Judas and his host turned in al haste by þ way of the wildernes toward Bosora, & wanne the citie, & slewe al the males wt the edge of the sword, and tooke all their spoyle, and set fire vpon the citie.

29 And in the night he remoued from thence, and went toward the fortresse.

30 And betimes in þ morning whē they looked vp, behold, there was an innumerable people bearing ladders, & instruments of warre, to take the fort, & had assaulted thē.

31 When Judas saw that the battel was begun, and þ crie of the citie went vp to heauen with trumpets, and a great soūd, 32 Then he said vnto the armie, Fight this day for your brethren.

33 So he went forth behinde them wt three companies, and they blew the trumpets, and cryed with prayer.

34 Then the hoste of Timotheus knewe, that it was Maccabeus, & they fled from him, and he smote them with a great slaughter, so that there was killed of them the same day, almost eight thousande men.

35 ¶ Then departed Judas vnto Maspha, and laid siege vnto it, and wanne it, & slew al the males thereof, and spoyled it, and set fire vpon it.

36 From thence went he and tooke Chasbon, Maged, and Boser, and the other cities in Galaad.

37 After these things gathered Timotheus an other hoste, & he camped before Raphon beyonde the flood.

38 Now Judas had sent to espie the hoste, & they brought him worde againe, saying, All the heathē that be round about vs, are gathered vnto him, & the host is very great,

39 And he hath hired the Arabians to helpe them, & they haue pitched their tents beyond the flood, & are ready to come & fight against thē. So Judas wēt to mēte thē.

40 Then Timotheus said vnto the captains of his hoste, When Judas & his host come nēre þ floude, if he passe ouer first vnto vs, we shall not be able to withstand him: for he will be too strong for vs.

41 But if he be afraid, and campe beyond þ flood, we will goe ouer vnto him, and shall preuaile against him.

42 Now when Judas came nēre to þ flood, he caused the gouernours of the people to remaine by the flood, & commanded them, saying, Suffer none to pitche a tent, but let euery man come to the battel.

43 So he went first ouer towarde them, and all the people after him: and all the heathen were discomfited before him, & cast away their weapons, and fled into the temple that was at Carnaim.

44 Which citie Judas wanne, and burnt the tēple with al that were in it: so was Carnaim subdued, and might not withstande Judas.

45 ¶ Then Judas gathered al the Israelites that were in the countrey of Galaad, from the least vnto the most, with their wiues & their children, & their baggage, a very great hoste, to come into the lande of Juda.

46 So they came vnto Ephron, which was a great citie by the way, and strongly defēsed: they could not passe, neither at þ right hand nor at the left, but must go thorow it.

47 But they that were in the citie, shut them selues in, and stopped vp the gates with stones: and Judas sent vnto them with peaceable woordes, saying,

48 Let vs passe thorow your land, þ we may go into our owne countrey, and none shall hurt you: we wil but onely go thorow on foote: but they would not open vnto him.

49 Wherfore Judas commanded a proclamation to be made throughout the hoste, þ euery mā should assault it according to his standing.

50 So the valiant men set vpon it, & assaulted the citie al þ day, and al that night, and the citie was giuen ouer into his handes:

51 Who slewe al the males with the edge of the sworde, and destroyed it, and tooke the spoile thereof, and went thorowe the citie ouer them that were slaine.

52 Then went they ouer Jorden into þ great plaine before Bethsan.

53 And Judas gathered together those that were behind, and gaue the people good exhortation al the way thorow, til they were come into the lande of Juda.

54 Thus they went vp with ioy, & gladnes vnto mount Sion, where they offred burnt offrings, because there were none of them slaine, but came home againe in safetie.

55 ¶ Now whiles Judas & Jonathan were in the land of Galaad, & Simon their brother in Galile before Ptolemais, 56 Joseph the sonne of Zacharias, & Azarias the captaines, hearing of the valiant acts, and battels which they had atchieued, said, 57 Let vs get vs a name also, and go fight against the heathen that are rouū about vs.

58 So they gaue their hoste a cōmandement and went toward Jamnia.

59 But Gorgias & his men came out of the citie to fight against them.

60 And Joseph & Azarias were put to flight, and pursued vnto the borders of Judea: and there were slaine that day of the people of Israel about two thousand men: so that there was a great ouerthrowe among the people of Israel,

61 Because they were not obedient vnto Judas, & his brethren, but thought to do some valiant baliant thing.

62 Also they came not of the stocke of these men, by whose handes deliuerance was giuen to Israel.
63 But the man Judas, and his brethren were greatly commended in the sight of all Israel, and of all the heathen, wheresoeuer their name was heard of.
64 And the people came vnto them, bidding them welcome.
Iosep. Antiq. 12.chap.11. 65 Afterward went Judas forth with his brethren, & fought against the childre of Esau in the land toward þ South, where hee wanne Hebron, & the townes thereof, & hee destroyed the castell thereof, and burnt the towres therof round about.
66 Then remoued he to go into the lande of the or, Philistim. strangers, & went thorow Samaria.
67 At the same time were the Priestes of the cities slaine in the battell, which would shew their valiantnes, & wēt forth to battel wout counsel: & when Judas came to Azotus in þ stragers land, he brake down their altars, & burnt with fire þ images of their gods, & took awap the spoyles of the cities, and came againe into the land of Juda.

CHAP. VI.

a Antiochus willing to take the citie of Elimais, is driuen away of the citizens. 8 He falleth into sickenes, & dyeth. 17 His sonne Antiochus is made King. 34 The maner to prouoke elephants to fight. 43 Eleazarus valiant acte. 48 The siege of Sion.

Iosep. Antiq. 12.chap.13. 1 NOwe when King Antiochus trauelled thorough the high countries, hee heard that Elimais in the countrey of Persia was a citie greatly renowned for riches, siluer and gold,
2 And that there was in it a very rich tẽple, whereas were couerings of golde, cote armours, & harnesse, which Alexander king of Macedonia the sonne of Philip (þ reigned first in Grecia) had left there.
3 Wherefore he went about to take the citie, and to spoile it, but he was not able: for the citizens were warned of the matter,
4 And rose vp against him in battel, and hee fled and departed thence with great heauines, and came againe into Babylon.
5 Moreouer, there came one which brought him tidings in the countrey of Persia, that the armies that went against the lād of Juda, were driuen awap,
6 And that Lysias, which went forth first with a great power, was driuen awap of the Jewes, and that they were made strong by the armour, & power, & diuers spoyles which they had gotten of the armies whō they had destroyed,
7 And that they had pulled downe the abomination, which he had set vp vpon þ altar at Jerusalem, and fenced the Sanctuarie with high walles, as it was afore, & Bethsura his citie.
8 So when the king had heard these words, he was astonished, and sore moued: therefore he laid him down vpon his bed, and fell sicke for very sorrowe, because it was not come to passe, as he had thought.
9 And there continued he many dayes: for his griefe was euer more and more, so that he sawe he must needes die.
10 Therefore he sent for all his friends, & said vnto them, The sleepe is gone from mine eyes, and mine heart faileth for very care.
11 And I thinke with my selfe, Into what aduersitie am I come? & into what floods of miserie am I fallen nowe, where as aforetime I was in prosperitie, & greatly set by, by reason of my power?
12 And nowe do I remember the euils that I haue done at Jerusalem: for I tooke all the vesselles of gold and of siluer that were in it, and sent to destroy the inhabitants of Juda without cause.
13 I know that these troubles are come vpon me for the same cause, & behold, I must die with great sorowe in a strange land.
14 Then called hee for Philippe, one of his friends, whō he made ruler of al his realme, 15 And gaue him the crowne, and his robe, & the ring, that he should instruct his sonne Antiochus, and bring him vp, till he might reigne him selfe.
16 So King Antiochus died there in the hundreth, and fourtie and ninth yeere.
17 ¶ When Lysias knew, that the king was dead, hee ordeyned Antiochus his sonne (whom he had brought vp) to reigne in his fathers steade, and called him Eupator. Iosep. Antiq. 12.chap.14.
18 Now they that were in the castell at Jerusalem, kept in the Israelites round about the Sanctuarie, and sought alwayes their hurt, & the strengthening of the heathen.
19 Therefore Judas thought to destroy them, and called al the people together to besiege them.
20 So they came together, & besieged the in the hundreth & fiftie yere, and made instruments to shoote & other engins of warre.
21 But certaine of them that were besieged, gate forth, (vnto whom some vngodly men of Israel ioyned themselues)
22 And they went vnto þ king, saying, How long wilt thou cease from executing iudgement, and auenge our brethren?
23 We haue bene readie to serue thy father, & to go forward in those things, þ he appointed, & to obey his commandements.
24 Therefore they of our nation fel from vs for this cause, and whersoeuer they found any of vs, they slew them, and spoyled our inheritance.
25 And they haue not onely layde hande vpon vs, but vpon all about their borders.
26 And behold, this day are they besieging the castel at Jerusalem to take it, and haue fortified the Sanctuarie, and Beth-sura.
27 And if thou doest not preuent them quickly, they wil do greater things then these, & thou shalt not be able to ouercome them.
28 When the king heard this, hee was very angry, and called all his friends, the captaines of his armie, and his horsemen, 29 And bands that were hired, came vnto him from þ Kings, that were confederate, and from the yles of the sea.
30 So the number of his armie was an hundreth thousand footemen, & twentie thousand horsemen, & two and thirtie elephants exercised in battel.

31 These

31 These came through Idumea, & drew nere to Beth-sura, and besieged it a long season, & made engins of warre: but thei came out, & burnt them with fire, & fought valiantly.
32 Then departed Judas from the castell, & remoued the hoste toward Beth-zacarias ouer against the kings campe.
33 So the king arose verp earelp, and brought the armie & his power towarde the wap of Beth-zacarias, where þ armp set thẽselues in arap to the battel, & blew the trumpets.
34 And to pronoke the elephants foꝛ to fight, thep thewed them the blood of grapes and mulberies, 35 And thep set the beastes accoꝛding to the ranges: so that bp euerp elephãt there stood a thousand men armed with coats of maile and helmets of brasse upon their heades, & unto euerp beast were ordapned fiue hundzeth hoꝛsemen of the best,
36 Which were redp at all times wheresoeuer the beast was: & whithersoeuer þ beast wẽt, thep went also, & departed not from him.
37 And upon thẽ were strong towꝛes of wood that couered euerp beast, which were fastened theron with instruments, & upon euerp one was two and thirtie men, that fought in them, and the Indian that ruled him.
38 Thep set also the remnant of the hoꝛsemẽ upon both the sides in two wings of the hoste, to stirre them up, and to keepe them in the valleys.
39 And when the sunne shone upon the golden shields, the mountaines glistered therewith, and gaue light as lampes of fire.
40 Thus part of the kings armie was spied upon the hie mountaines, & part beneath: so thei marched foꝛward warilp, & in oꝛder.
41 And all thep that heard the nopse of their multitude, and the marching of the companp, and the rattling of the harnesse, were astonished: foꝛ the armie was verp great and mightie.
42 Then Judas and his hoste entred into the battel, and thep slew fiue hundzeth men of the kings armie.
43 ¶ Now when Eleazar, the sonne of Aharon, sawe one of the elephants armed with ropal harneis, and was moze excellent then all the other beastes, hee thought that the king should be upon him.
44 Wherefoꝛe he ieopaꝛded himselfe to deliuer his people, and to get him a perpetuall name, 45 And ranne boldelp unto him through the middes of the host, slaping on the right hãd and on the left, so that thep departed awap on both sides.
46 So went he to the elephants feete, & gate him under him, & slew him: then fell the elephant downe upon him, & there he died.
47 But the other, seeing the power of the king and the fiercenes of his armie, departed from them.
48 ¶ And the kings armie went up to mẽte them toward Jerusalem, and the king pitched his tents in Judea towarde mount Sion.
49 Moreouer, the king toke truce with them that were in Beth-sura: but whẽ they came out of þ citie, because they had no vitailes there, & were shut up therein, and the land had rested,
50 The king toke Beth-sura, and set there a garison to keepe it, 51 And besieged þ Sanctuarie manp dapes, and made instruments to shoot, & other engins of warre, & instruments to cast fire & stones, & pieces to cast darts and slings.
52 *They also made engins against their engins, and fought a long season. *Or, the Iewes.
53 But in the garners there were no vitails: foꝛ it was the seuenth pere, & then thep that were in Judea, & were deliuered frõ the Gẽtiles, had eaten up the residue of the stoꝛe, 54 So that in the Sanctuarie were few men left: foꝛ the famine came so upon them, that thep were scattered euerp man to his own place.
55 ¶ Nowe when Lysias heard that Philip (whom Antiochus the king, whiles he liued, had ordeined to bring up Antiochus his sonne, that he might be king)
56 Was come againe out of Persia, & Pedia, & the Kings hoste with him, & thought to take unto him the rule of things, 57 He and his hasted, & were stirred foꝛwarde bp them in the castell to goe & tell the king, and the captaines of the hoste, and to others, saping, We decrease dailp, and our vitailes are but small: and the place that we lap siege unto, is strong, and the affaires of the realme depende upon us.
58 Now therefoꝛe let us *agree with these men, and take truce with them, and with al their nation, *Or, giue handes.
59 And graunt them to liue after their Law, as thep did afoꝛe: foꝛ thep be grieued, and do all these things, because we haue broken their Lawes.
60 So the king and the princes were content, and sent unto them to make peace, and thep receiued it.
61 When the king and the princes had made an othe unto thẽ, thep came upon this out of the foꝛtresse.
62 And the king went up to mount Sion: but when he sawe that the place was well defensed, he brake his othe þ he had made, & commanded to breake down the wal rouñ about.
63 Then departed he in all haste, & returned unto Antiochia where he found Philip hauing dominion of the citie: so he fought against him, and toke the citie bp foꝛce.

CHAP. VII.

1 Demetrius reigned, after he had killed Antiochus and Lysias. 5 He troubleth the children of Israel through the counsel of certain wicked persons. 37 The prayer of the Priests against Nicanor. 41 Judas killeth Nicanor, after he had made his prayer.

1 In the hundzeth and one and fiftieth pere, departed Demetrius the sonne of Seleucus from Rome, and came up with a few men unto a citie of the sea coast, and reigned there. Iosep. Antiq. 12. chap. 5.
2 And when he came into the possession of his fathers kingdome, his souldiers tooke Antiochus & Lysias, & brought thẽ unto him.
3 But when it was tolde him, he said, Shew me a This example is not to be followed, because it is contrary to the commandement.

not their faces.
4 So they put the to death. Now when Demetrius was set vpon the throne of his kingdome, 5 There came vnto him all the wicked & vngodly me of Israel, whose captaine was Alcimus, ꝓ would haue bene ꝓ hie Priest.
6 Thes men accused the people vnto ꝓ king, saying, Iudas & his brethren haue slaine al thy friends, and driuen vs out of our owne lande.
7 Wherefore send nowe some man, whome thou trustest, that he may go and se all the destruction, which he hath done vnto vs, and to the kings lande, and let him punish them with all their partakers.
8 Then the king chose Bacchides a friend of his, which was a great ma in ꝓ realme, and ruled beyond the flood, & was faithfull vnto the king, and sent him, 9 And that wicked Alcimus, whome he made hie Priest, and commanded him to be auenged of the children of Israel.
10 So they departed, and came with a great hoste into the land of Iuda, & sent messengers to Iudas and his brethren, deceitfully with peaceable wordes.
11 But they beleued not their saying: for they saw ꝓ they were come with a great hoste.
12 Then a company of the gouernours assembled vnto Alcimus and Bacchides to intreat of reasonable pointes.
13 And the *Assideans were the first that required peace among the children of Israel.
14 For sayde they, He that is a Priest of the seede of Aaron, is come with this armie: therefore he will not hurt vs.
15 Then he spake vnto them peaceably, and swore vnto them, & saide, We will do you no harme, neither your friends:
16 And they beleeued him: but he tooke of the threescore men, & slewe them in one day according to the wordes that were written,
17 *They haue cast the bodies of thy Saints, & their bloud round about Ierusalem, and there was no man that would burie them.
18 So there came a feare and trembling among all the people: for they said, There is neither trueth nor righteousnes in them: for they haue broken the appointment & othe that they made.
19 Then Bacchides remoued frō Ierusalē, & pitched his tent at *Beth-zecha, where he sent forth and tooke many of the men ꝓ had forsaken him, & certain of the people whom he slewe and cast into the great pit.
20 Then cōmitted he the countrey vnto Alcimus, & left mē of warre with him to helpe him: so Bacchides went vnto the king.
21 Thus Alcimus strone for the Priesthode.
22 And all such as troubled the people, resorted vnto him: in so much, that they obtained the land of Iuda, & did much hurt in Israel.
23 Now when Iudas sawe al the mischiefe, that Alcimus and his companie had done among ꝓ Israelites more the the heathen, 24 He went forth round about all the borders of Iudea, & punished those, that were fallen away, so that they came no more a-hyde in the countrey.

25 But when Alcimus saw that Iudas & his people had gotten the vpper hand, and knewe that he was not able to abide them, he went againe to the king, and accused them of wicked things.
26 Then the king sent Nicanor one of his chiefe princes, which hated Israel deadly, and commaunded him, that he should destroy the people.
27 ¶ So Nicanor came to Ierusalem with a great host, and sent vnto Iudas, and his brethren deceitfully with friendly wordes, saying,
28 Let there be no warre betweene me, and you: I wil come with few men, to se how we do, friendly.
29 So he came vnto Iudas, and they saluted one another peaceably: but the enemies were prepared to take away Iudas.
30 Nathelesse, it was told Iudas, that he came vnto him vnder deceit: therefore he feared him, and would not se his face no more.
31 When Nicanor perceiued that his counsell was bewrayed, he went out to fight against Iudas, beside *Caphalalama.
32 Where there were slaine of Nicanors hoste about fiue thousand men: so they fled vnto the citie of Dauid.
33 After this came Nicanor vp vnto mount Sion, and some of the Priests with the Elders of the people went forth of the Sanctuarie to salute him peaceably, and to shew him the burnt offring that was offred for the king.
34 But he laughed at them, and mocked the, & counted the prophane, & spake prondely.
35 And swore in his wrath, saying, If Iudas and his hoste be not deliuered nowe into mine handes, if euer I come againe in safetie, I wil burne vp this house. With that, went he out in a great anger.
36 Then the Priests came in, & stoode before the altar in the Temple, weeping, & saying,
37 For so much as thou, O Lorde, hast chosen this *House, that thy Name might be called vpon therein, and that it should be an house of prayer, and petition for thy people, 38 Be auenged of this man & his hoste, and let them be slaine by the sword: remember their blasphemies, & suffer them not to continue.
39 ¶ When Nicanor was gone from Ierusalem, he pitched his tent at Beth-horon, & there an hoste met him out of Syria.
40 And Iudas pitched in *Adasa with three thousand me, where Iudas prayed, saying, 41 O Lorde, *because the messengers of king Sennacherib blasphemed the, thine Angel went forth, & slew an hundreth, foure score, and fiue thousand of them.
42 So destroy thou this hoste before vs to day, that all other may knowe that he hath spoken wickedly against thy Sanctuarie, & punish him according to his malice.
43 So the armies ioyned together in battel, the thirteenth day of the moneth Adar: but Nicanors hoste was discomfited, and he him selfe was first slaine in the battell.

46 So they came forth of all the townes of Judea round about, & ruthed vpon them, and threwe them from one to another, so that they all fell by the swoorde, & there was not one of them left.
47 Then they tooke the spoiles, & the pray, and smote off Nicanors head, & his right hand, which he helde vp so proudly, and brought it with them, and hanged them vp afore Jerusalem.
48 So the people reioyced greatly, and kept that day as a day of great gladnes.

a Judas, considering the power & policie of the Romanes, maketh peace with them. 22 The conditions of mutuall friendshippe sent to the Iewes.

Iosep. Antiquit. 12. chap. 28.

1 IUdas heard also þ fame of þ Romains, that they were mightie, & valiant, and agreeable to all thinges that were required of them, & made peace with all that came vnto them,
2 And that they were men of great power, & they tolde him of their battels, & their worthie actes, which they did among þ a Galatians whom they had conquered, & made to pape tribute,
3 And what they had done in the countrey of Spaine: how that they had wonne there the mines of siluer and golde,
4 And that by their counsell, and gentle behauiour they were rulers in euery place, though the place was farre from them, & that they had discomfited, & giuen great ouerthrowes to þ kings þ came against thē, frō the vttermost part of the earth, & that others gaue them tribute euery yere,
5 How they had also discomfited by battell Philippe & Perses Kings of the b Macedonians, & others, that arose against them, and howe they ouercame them,
6 And howe great Antiochus King of Asia that came against them in battell, hauing an hundreth and twentie elephantes, with horsmen, and charets, and a verie great armie, was discomfited by them,
7 And howe they tooke him aliue, and ordened him, with such as should reigne after him, to pay a great tribute, & to giue hostages, and a separate portion,
8 Euen the countrey of India, and Media, & Lydia, & of his best countreys, which they tooke of him and gaue them to King Eumenes.
9 Againe when it was tolde them that the Grecians were comming to destroy them,
10 They sent against them a captaine, which gaue them battell, & slewe many of them, & tooke many prisoners with their wiues, & children, and spoiled them, and conquered their lande, & destroyed their strong holdes, and subdued them to be their bondmen vnto this day:
11 Moreouer, how they destroyed, & brought into subiection other kingdomes and ples, whosoeuer had withstande them:
12 But that they kept amitie with their own friendes, & those that stayed vpon them: finally, that they coquered kingdomes, both farre and neere, in so much that whosoeuer heard of their renoume, was afraid of thē.
13 For who they would helpe to their kingdomes, those reigned, & whom they would, they put downe: thus were they in most high authoritie.
14 Yet for al this that none of them ware a crowne, neither was clothed in purple, to be magnified therby,
15 But that they had ordened them selues a counsell, wherein three hundreth & twentie men consulted dayly, and pounded for the common affaires, to gouerne them wel,
16 And that they committed their gouernment to one man euery yere, who did rule ouer al their countrey, to whom euery man was obedient: and there was neither hatred nor enuie among them.
17 ¶ Then Judas chose Eupolemus þ sonne of John, the sonne of Accus, and Jason, the sonne of Eleazar, & sent them vnto Rome to make friendship, and mutuall felowship with them,
18 That they might take frō them the yoke (for they sawe that þ kingdome of the Grecians would keepe Israel in bondage.)
19 So they went vnto Rome, which was a verie great iourney, and came into the a Senate where they spake and said, 20 Judas Maccabeus with his brethren, & the people of the Jewes hath sent vs vnto you, to make a bond of friendship, & peace with you, and ye to register vs as your partakers and friendes.
21 And the matter pleased them.
22 And this is the copie of the epistle þ they wrote in tables of brasse & sent to Jerusalē, that they might haue by them a memorial of the peace, and mutuall fellowship.
23 Good successe be to the Romaines, & to the people of the Jewes, by sea, & by lande for euer, & the swoord, & enemie be from them.
24 If there come first any warre vpon the Romaines, or any of their friendes throughout all their dominion, 25 The people of the Jewes shal helpe them, as the time shalbe appointed, with al their heart, 26 Also b they shal giue nothing to them that come to fight for them, nor serue them with wheate nor weapons, nor money, nor shippes, as it pleaseth the Romaines, but b they shall keepe their couenantes without taking any thing of them.
27 Likewise also if warre come first against the nation of þ Jewes, the Romaines shal helpe them with a good will, accordyng as the time shall be appointed them.
28 Neither shal wheat be giuen vnto thē, þ take their part, nor weapons, nor money, nor ships, as it pleaseth þ Romaines, who wil keepe these couenants without deceit.

CHAP. IX.

1 After the death of Nicanor, Demetrius sendeth his armie against Iudas. 11 Iudas is slayne. 31 Ionathan & Simon the friends of his brother. 47 The battell betweene Ionathan and Bacchides. 53 Alcimus is smitten with the palsie, and dyeth. 68 He commeth vpon Ionathan by the counsell of certaine wicked persons, and is ouercome. 70 The truce of Ionathan with Bacchides.

Ioseph. Antiq. in chap. 12.

1 IN þ meane season when Demetrius had heard how Nicanor, & his hoste had giuen the battel, he sent Bacchides, & Alcimus againe into Iudea, and his *chiefe strength with them.
2 So they went forth by the way that is toward Galgala, and pitched their tentes before Mesaloth which is in Arbelis, & wanne it, and slewe much people.
3 And in the first moneth of the hundreth, fifte & two yere, they layed their siege against Ierusalem.
4 But they rayled their campe, and came to Berea, with twenty thousand foote men & two thousand horsemen.
5 Now Iudas had pitched his tent at *Elesa, & three thousand chosen men with him.
6 And when they sawe that the multitude of the armie was great, they were sore afraid, and many conueyed them selues out of the hoste, so that there abode no more of the, but eight hundreth men.
7 When Iudas sawe that his hoste rayled him, and that he must needes fight, he was sore troubled in mynde that he had no time to gather them together, and was discouraged.
8 Neuertheles, he said vnto them þ remayned, Let vs rise, and goe vp against our enemies, if peradventure we may be able to fight with them.
9 But they would haue staied him, saying, We are not able: but let vs rather saue our liues: turne backe now, seeing our brethren are departed: for shall we fight against the, that are so fewe?
10 Then Iudas said, a God forbid that we shoulde do this thing, to flée from them: if our time be come, let vs die manfully for our brethren, and let vs not staine our honour.
11 Then the hoste remoued out of the tentes, & stoode against them, who had deuided their horsemen into two troupes, and they that threw with slinges & the archers marched in the foreward, and then that fought in the foreward, were all valiant men.
12 And Bacchides was in þ right wing. So the army drew nere on both sides, & blewe the trumpets.
13 They of Iudas side blew þ trumpets also, and the earth shooke at the noyse of the armies, and the battell continued from morning to night.
14 And when Iudas saw that Bacchides & the strength of his armie was on the right side, he took with him all the hardie men, 15 And brake the right wing, and followed vpon them vnto mount Azotus.
16 Howe when they which were of the left wing, saw that the right wing was discomfited, they followed Iudas behinde, & them that were with him hard at the heles.
17 Then was there a sore battell: for many were slaine of both the parties.
18 Iudas also himself was killed, & the remnant fled.
19 So Ionathan and Simon tooke Iudas their brother, and buried him in his fathers sepulchre in the cite of Modin.
20 And all the Israelites wept for him, and mourned greatly for him, & lamented many dayes, saying, 21 How is the valiant man fallen which deliuered Israel!
22 Concerning the other thinges of Iudas, both the battels & the valiant actes that he did, & of his worthynesse, they are not written: for they were very many.
23 Now after the death of Iudas, wicked Ioseph Antiq. 13. chap. 6. men came vp in all the coastes of Israel, & there arose all such as gaue them selues to iniquitie.
24 In those dayes was there a very great famine in the land, and all the countrey gaue ouer them selues with them.
25 And Bacchides did chuse wicked men, and made them lords in the land.
26 These sought out, & made search for Iudas friends, & brought them vnto Bacchides, which auenged him selfe vpon them, and mocked them.
27 And there came so great trouble in Israel, as was not since the time that no Prophet was séene among them.
28 Then came all Iudas friendes together, and said vnto Ionathan, 29 Seeing thy brother Iudas is dead, & there is none like him to go forth against our enemies, euen against Bacchides, and against them of our nation þ are enimies vnto vs, Or, against the enemies of our nation.
30 Therefore, this day we chuse thee at thine hand to be our prince and captaine in his place to order our battel.
31 So Ionathan took the gouernance vpon him at that same time, and rose vp in the stead of his brother Iudas.
32 But when Bacchides knew it, he sought for to slay him.
33 Then Ionathan and Simon his brother, perceiuing that, fled into the wildernesse of Thecua with all their companie, & pitched their tentes by the water poole of Asphar.
34 Which whe Bacchides vnderstoode, he came ouer Iorden with all his hoste vpon the Sabbath day.
35 Now had Ionathan set his brother Iohn, a captaine of þ people, to pray his friends the the Nadathites, that they woulde kepe their baggage which was much.

[a] or, Iambri. 36 But the children of [a] Ambri came out of Medaba, and toke Johi, and all that he had, and when they had taken it, went their way.

37 After this came worde vnto Jonathan, & to Simon his brother, that the children of Ambri made a great marriage, & brought the bride from [a] Medaba w great pompe: for ther was daughter to one of the noblest princes of Canaan.

[a] or, Nadabath. 38 Therefore they remebred Johi their brother, and went vp, and hid them selues vnder the couert of the mountaine.

39 So they lift vp their eyes, and loked, and behold, there was a great noyse, and much preparation: the bridegrome came forth, and his friendes & his brethren met them with tymbrels, and instruments of musike, and many weapons.

40 Then Jonathans men p lay in ambush, rose vp against them, & slew many of them, and the remnant fled into the mountaines, so that they toke all their spoyles.

41 Thus the marriage was turned to mourning, and the noyse of their melodie into lamentation.

42 And so when they had auenged the blood of their brother, they turned againe vnto Jorden.

43 When Bacchides heard this, he came vnto the border of Jorde with a great power vpon the Sabbath day.

44 Then Jonathan said vnto his companie, Let vs rise nowe, and fight against our enemies: for it is not to day as in time past.

45 Behold, the battel is before vs, and behind vs, and the water of Jorden on this side & that side, and the marish, and forrest, so that there is no place for vs to turne aside.

46 Wherefore crie now vnto heauen, that ye may be deliuered from the power of your enemies: so they ioyned battel.

47 Then Jonathan stretched out his hande to smite Bacchides: but he turned aside from him and reuiled.

48 Then Jonathan, and they that were with him, lept into Jorden, & swimmed ouer vnto the further banke: but the other woulde not passe through Jorden after them.

49 So in that day were slaine of Bacchides side about a thousand men.

50 Then he turned againe to Jerusalem, and built vp the strong cities in Jude, as the castel of Jericho, and Emmaus, & Bethhoron, & Bethel, and Thamnatha, [a] Pharathon, & [b] Tephon, with high walles, with gates, and with barres,

[a] or, Phara. [b] or, Thopo. 51 And set garisons in them, that they might vse their malice vpon Israel.

52 He fortified also the citie Bethsura, and Gazara, and the castel, and set a garison in them with prouision of vitailes.

53 Yea toke also the chiefest mens sonnes in the countrey for hostages, and put them in the castel at Jerusalem to be kept.

54 ¶ Afterward in the hundreth, fifte & three score, in the second moneth, Alcimus commaunded, that the walles of the inner court of the Sanctuarie shoulde be destroyed, and he pulled downe the monumentes of the Prophetes, and begunne to destroye them.

55 But at the same time Alcimus was plagued, & his enterprises were hindered, and his mouth was stopped: for he was smitte with a palsie, and could no more speake, nor giue order concerning his house.

56 Thus dyed Alcimus with great torment at the same tyme.

57 And when Bacchides saw, p Alcimus was dead, he turned againe to the King, & so the land of Juda was in rest two yeres.

58 Then al the ungodly men helde a counsel, saying, Behold, Jonathan and his companie dwel at ease, and without care: wherefore let vs bring Bacchides hither, and he will take them all in one night.

59 So they went and consulted with him.

60 Who arose & came with a great hoste, and sent letters priuily to his adherents, which were in Judea, to take Jonathan and those that were with him: but they could not, for their counsell was knowen vnto them.

61 And [a] they toke fiftie men of the contrie, which were the chiefe workers of this wickednes, and slew them.

[a] or, Jonathan.

62 ¶ Then Jonathan and Simon with their companie departed vnto [a] Bethbasin which is in the wilderne, and repaired the decay thereof, and made it strong.

[a] or, Bethbessen.

63 When Bacchides knew this, he gathered all his hoste, and sent worde to them that were of Judea.

64 Then came he and laid siege to Bethbasin, and fought against it a long season, and made instruments of warre.

65 But Jonathan had left his brother Simon in the citie, & went forth into the countrey, and came with a certaine number.

66 And slew [a] Odomera and his brethren & the children of Phasiron in their tentes: so he began to slay, and increased in power.

67 Simon also & his companie went out of p citie, & burnt vp the instrumentes of warre, 68 And fought against Bacchides, & discomfited him, & vexed him sore, so that his counsel and iourney was in vayne.

69 Wherefore he was very wroth at p wicked men, [b] that gaue him counsell to come into the countrey, and slew many of them, and purposed to returne into his owne countrey.

b Wicked counsel falleth on the counsellers.

70 Whereof when Jonathan had knowledge, he sent ambassadours vnto him, to intreate of peace with him, and that the prisoners should be deliuered.

71 Which thing he accepted, & did according to his desire, & made an othe, that he would neuer do him harme all p dayes of his life.

72 So he restored vnto him p prisoners that he had taken afore time out of the lande of Juda, and so returned and went into his owne lande, neither did he come any more into their borders.

73 Thus the sworde ceased from Israel, & Jonathan dwelt at Machmas, & began there to gouerne the people, and destroyed the vngodly men out of Israel.

4 Demetrius desireth to haue peace with Ionathan. 18 Alexander also desireth peace with the Iewes. 48 Alexander maketh warre against Demetrius. 50 Demetrius is slaine. 51 The friendship of Ptolemeus and Alexander.

Ioseph. Antiq. 13. chap. 2.

1 IN the hundreth and threescore yere came Alexander the sonne of Antiochus Epiphanes, and tooke Ptolemais, and they receiued him, and there he reigned.

2 Nowe when Demetrius the King heard it, he gathered an exceeding great hoste, and went forth against him to fight.

3 Also Demetrius sent letters vnto Ionathan, ye louing words, as though he would preferre him.

4 For he said, We will first make peace with him, before he ioyne with Alexander against vs.

5 Els he will remember all the euill that we haue done against him, and against his brethren and his nation.

6 And so he gaue Ionathan leaue to gather an hoste, and to prepare weapons, and to be confederate with him, and commanded the hostages that were in the castell, to be deliuered vnto him.

7 ¶ Then came Ionathan to Ierusalem, and read the letters in the audience of all the people, and of them that were in the castel.

8 Therefore they were sore afraide, because they heard that the King had giuen him licence to gather an armie.

9 So they that were of the castell, deliuered the hostages vnto Ionathan, who restored them to their parents.

10 Ionathan also dwelt at Ierusalem, and began to builde, and repaire the citie.

11 And he commanded the workemen to build the walles, and the mount Sion rownd about with hewen stone, to fortifie it: and so they did.

12 Then the strangers that were in the castels which Bacchides had made, fled.

13 So that euery man left his place, & went into his owne countrey.

14 Onely at Beth-sura remained certeine which had forsaken the Lawe and the commandements: for it was their refuge.

15 ¶ Now when King Alexander had heard of the promises that Demetrius had made vnto Ionathan: and when it was told him of the battels and noble acts, which he and his brethren had done, & of the paines that they had indured, 16 He said, Might we finde such a man? now therefore we will make him our friend and confederate.

17 Vpon this he wrote a letter, and sent it vnto him, with these words, saying, 18 KING ALEXANDER to his brother Ionathan sendeth salutation.

19 We haue heard of thee, that thou art a verie valiant man, and worthy to be our friend.

20 Wherefore this day we ordeine thee to be the hie Priest of thy nation, and to be called the Kings friend: (and he sent him a purple robe, & a [a] crowne of gold,) that thou mayest [b] consider what is for our profite, and keepe friendship toward vs.

21 So in the seuenth moneth of the hundreth and three score yere, vpō the feast day of the tabernacles, Ionathan put on the holy garment, and gathered an hoste, and prepared many weapons.

22 ¶ Which when Demetrius heard, he was marueilous sorie, and saide, Ioseph. Antiq. 13. chap. 3.

23 What haue we done, that Alexander hath preuented vs in getting the friendship of the Iewes for his strength?

24 Yet wil I write and exhort them, and promise them dignities & rewardes, that they may helpe me.

25 Whereupon he wrote vnto them these words, KING DEMETRIVS vnto the nation of the Iewes sendeth greeting.

26 We haue heard that ye haue kept your couenant towarde vs, and continued in our friendship, and haue not ioyned with our enemies, whereof we are glad.

27 Now therefore remaine still, & keepe fidelitie toward vs, and we will recompense you for the good things ye haue done for vs, 28 And will release you of many charges, and giue you rewardes.

29 And now I discharge for your sake all the Iewes from tributes, and free you from the customes of salte, and the crowne taxes, and from the third part of the seede.

30 And from the halfe of the fruite of the trees which is mine owne duetie, I so release the that from this day forth, none shall take any thing of the land of Iuda, or of the three gouernements which are added thereunto, as of Samaria and of Galile, [a] from this day forth for euermore.

a And of the countrey beyond Iorden, as Iosephus writeth.

31 Ierusalem also with all things belonging thereto, shall be holy & free from the tenthes and tributes.

32 Also I release the power of the castel which is at Ierusalē, & giue it vnto the hie Priest, that he may set in it such men, as he shall chuse to keepe it.

33 Moreouer I freely deliuer euery one of the Iewes that were take away prisoners out of the land of Iuda throughout all my realme, and euery one of them shall be free from tributes, yea, euen their cattell,

34 And all the feastes, and Sabbaths, & new moones, & the dayes appointed & the three dayes before the feast, and the three daies after the feast, shall be dayes of freedome and libertie for all the Iewes in my realme, 35 So that in them no man shall haue power to do any thing, or to vexe any of them in any maner of cause.

36 Also thirtie thousand of the Iewes shall be written vp in the Kings hoste, and haue their wages paied them as appertaineth to all them that are of the Kings armie: and of them shall be ordeined certaine to keepe the Kings strong holdes.

37 And some of them shalbe set ouer the kings most secrete affaires, and their gouernours and their princes shalbe of them selues, and they shall liue after their owne lawes, as the King hath commaded in the land of Iuda.

38 And the three gouernments that are added vnto Iudea from the countrie of Samaria, shall be ioyned vnto Iudea, and they shalbe as vnder one, and obey none other power, but the hie Priest.

39 And I giue Ptolemais & the borders therof vnto the Sanctuarie at Ierusalem, for the necessary expences of the holy things.

40 Moreouer, I will giue euery yere fiftéene thousand sicles of siluer of the kings reuenues out of þ places appertamming vnto me.

41 And all the ouerplus which they haue not paied for the things due, as they did in the former yeres, from héncefoorth they shall giue it toward the workes of the Temple.

42 And besides this, the fiue thousande sicles of siluer which they receiued yerely of þ account appointed for the intertenement of the Sanctuarie, these yeres passed, euen these thinges shall be released because they appertaine to the Priests that minister.

43 Item, whosoeuer they be that flée vnto the Temple at Ierusalem, or within the liberties therof, and are indebted to the king for any maner of thing, they shal be pardoned, and all that they haue in my realme.

44 For the building also and repairing of the workes of the Sanctuarie, expenses shall be giuen of the kings reuenues.

45 And for the making of the walles of Ierusalem, & fortifying it round about, that the holds in Iudea may be built vp, shall also þ costs be giuen out of the Kinges reuenues.

46 ¶ But when Ionathan & the people heard these wordes, they gaue no credit vnto thē, neither receiued them: for they remembred the great wickednesse that he had done in Israel, and howe sore he had vexed them.

47 Wherefore they agreed vnto Alexander: for he was the first þ had intreated of true peace with them, and so were confederate with him alway.

48 Then gathered king Alexander a great host, and camped ouer against Demetrius.

49 So the two kings ioyned battell, but Demetrius hoste fled, and Alexander pursued him, and preuailed against them, 50 So that sore battel continued til the sunne went downe, and Demetrius was slayne the same day.

Ioseph. Antiq. 13. chap. 5.

51 ¶ Then Alexander sent ambassadours vnto Ptolemeus the king of Egypt wt these wordes, saying,

52 For so much as I am come againe to my realme, & am set in þ throne of my fathers, and haue gotten the dominion, & haue destroyed Demetrius, and enioy my cōtrey,

53 Séeing þ I haue euen giuen him the battell, and he and his armie is discomfited by me, and I sit in the throne of his kingdome, 54 Let vs now make friendship together, and giue me now thy daughter to wife: so shal I be thy sonne in law, & giue thée rewardes, & vnto her things according to thy dignitie.

55 Then Ptolemeus the king gaue answere, saying, Happy be the day, wherein thou art come againe vnto the lande of thy fathers, and sittest in the throne of their kingdome.

56 Now therefore will I fulfill thy writing: but mete me at Ptolemais that we may sée one another, and that I may make thée my sonne in lawe, according to thy desire.

57 So Ptolemeus went out of Egypt with his daughter Cleopatra, and came vnto Ptolemais in the hundreth threscore and two yere, 58 Where king Alexander met him, and hée gaue vnto him his daughter Cleopatra, & married them at Ptolemais wt great glory, as the maner of kings is.

59 ¶ Then wrote king Alexander vnto Ionathan, that he should come and mete him.

60 So he went honourably vnto Ptolemais, and there he met the two kings, & gaue thē great presents of siluer and golde, & to their frendes, and found fauour in their sight.

61 And there assembled certaine pestilent fellowes of Israel, and wicked men to accuse him: but the king would not heare them.

62 And the king commāded that they should take off the garments of Ionathan, & clothe him in purple: and so they did: and the king appointed him to sit by him, 63 And said vnto his princes, Goe with him into the middes of the city, and make a proclamation, that no man complaine against him of any matter, and that no man trouble him for any maner of cause.

64 So when his accusers saw his honour according as it was proclaimed, and that he was clothed in purple, they fled al away.

65 And the king preferred him to honour, and wrote him among his chief friends, & made him a duke, and partaker of his dominion.

66 Thus Ionathan returned to Ierusalem with peace and gladnesse. Ioseph. Antiq. 13. chap. 6.

67 ¶ In the hundreth, threscore and fiue yere came Demetrius the sonne of Demetrius, from Creta into his fathers lande.

68 Wherof when king Alexander heard, he was very sory, & returned vnto Antiochia.

69 Then Demetrius appointed Apollonius the gouernor of Coelosyria, who gathered a great hoste, and camped in Iamnia, & sent vnto Ionathan the hie Priest, saying, 70 Dарest thou, being but alone, lift vp thy selfe against vs? and I am laughed at, and reproched, because of thee: nowe therefore why doest thou braue thy selfe against vs in the mountaines?

71 Nowe then if thou trust in thine owne strength, come downe to vs into the plaine fielde, and there let vs trie the matter together: for I haue the strength of cities.

72 Aske and learne who I am, and they shal take my part: and they shall tell thée that your foote is not able to stād before our face: for thy fathers haue bene twise chased in their owne lande.

73 And now howe wilt thou be able to abide so great an hoste of horsemen and footemen in the plaine, where is neither stone, nor rocke, nor place to flée vnto?

74 When Ionathan heard the wordes of Apollonius, he was moued in his minde: wherfore he chose tenne thousand men, and went out of Ierusalem, & Simon his brother met him for to helpe him.

75 And he pitched his tentes at Ioppe: but they shut him out of the citie: for Apollonius garrison was in Ioppe.

76 Then they fought against it, and they that were in the citie, for very feare let him in: so

Ionas

Jonathan wanne Joppe.

77 Apollonius hearing of this, toke three thousand horsemen with a great hoste of foote mẽ, & went toward Azotus, as though he would go forward, and came immediatly into the plaine field, because he had so many horsemen, and put his trust in them.

78 So Jonathan folowed vpon him to Azotus, and the armie skirmished with his arriere band.

79 For Apollonius had left a thousand horsemen behinde them in ambush.

80 And Jonathan knewe that there was an ambushmẽt behind him, & though they had compassed in his hoste, & shot dartes at the people from the morning to the euening, 81 Yet the people stood stil, as Jonathan had commaunded them, till their horses were wearie.

82 Then brought Simon forth his hoste, & set them against the band: but the horses were weary, and he discomfited them, & they fled: so the horsemen were scattered in the fielde.

83 And they fled to Azotus, & came into the temple of Dagon their idole, that they might there saue them selues.

84 But Jonathan set fire vpon Azotus and all the cities round about it, and toke their spoples, & burnt with fire the temple of Dagon with all them that were fled into it.

85 Thus were slaine and burnt about eight thousand men.

86 So Jonathan remoued the hoste from thence, and camped by Ascalon, where the men of the citie came forth, and met him with great honour.

87 After this went Jonathan & his hoste againe to Jerusalem with great spoples.

88 And when king Alexander heard these things, he begã to do Jonathã more honor, 89 And sent him a collar of gold, as the vse is to be giuen vnto such as are of the Kings blood: he gaue him also Accaron, with the borders therof in possession.

CHAP. XI.

1 The dissension betweene Ptolemeus and Alexander his sonne in Law. 17 The death of Alexander. 19 Demetrius reigneth after the death of Ptolemeus. 32 Sion is besieged of Ionathan. 42 Demetrius seeing that no man resisted him, sendeth his armie against. 54 Tryphon maketh Antiochus against Demetrius.

Iosep. Antiq. 13. chap. 7.

1 AND the king of Egypt gathered a great hoste, like the sand that lyeth vpon the sea shore, and many ships, and went about through deceit to obtaine the kingdome of Alexander, and to ioyne it vnto his owne Realme.

2 Vpon this he wet into Syria with friendly words, & was let into the cities, and men came forth to meete him: for king Alexander had commaunded them to meete him, because he was his father in lawe.

3 Now when he entred into the citie of Ptolemais, he left bãds & garisons in euery citie.

4 And when he came neere to Azotus, they shewed him the Temple of Dagon that was burnt, and Azotus, & the suburbes therof that were destroyed, and the bodies cast abroad, & them that he had burnt in the battel: for they had made heapes of them by the way where he should passe.

5 And they tolde the king what Jonathan had done, to the intent they might get him euill will: but the king helde his peace.

6 And Jonathan met the king with great honour at Joppe, where they saluted one another, and lay there.

7 So when Jonathan had gone with the king vnto the water that was called Eleutherus, he turned againe to Jerusalem.

8 So king Ptolemeus gate the dominion of the cities by the sea vnto Seleucia vpon the sea coast, imagining wicked counsels against Alexander, 9 ¶ And sent Ambassadours vnto king Demetrius, saying, Come, let vs make a league betweene vs, and I will giue thee my daughter, which Alexander hath, and thou shalt reigne in thy fathers kingdome.

10 For I repent that I gaue Alexander my daughter: for he goeth about to slay me.

11 Thus he slandered Alexander, as one that should desire his Realme.

12 And he toke his daughter from him, and gaue her vnto Demetrius, & forsoke Alexãder, so þ their hatred was openly knowen.

13 Then Ptolemeus came to Antiochia, where he set two crownes vpon his owne head, of Asia and of Egypt.

14 In the meane season was king Alexander in Cilicia: for they that dwelt in those places, had rebelled against him:

15 But when Alexander heard it, he came to warre against him, & Ptolemeus brought forth his hoste, and met him with a mighty power, and put him to flight.

16 Then fled Alexander into Arabia, there to be defended: so Ptolemeus was exalted.

17 And Zabdiel the Arabian smote off Alexanders head, and sent it vnto Ptolemeus.

18 But the third day after, king Ptolemeus died: & they that were in the holdes, were slaine one of another.

19 And Demetrius reigned in the hundreth, threescore and seuenth yeere.

20 ¶ At the same time gathered Jonathan them þ were in Judea, to lay siege vnto the castle, which was at Jerusalẽ, & they made many instruments of warre against it.

21 Then went there certaine vngodly persons (which hated their owne people) vnto king Demetrius, and tolde him that Jonathan besieged the castell.

22 So when he heard it, he was angrie, & immediately came vnto Ptolemais, & wrote vnto Jonathan, that he should lay no more siege vnto it, but that he should meete him, & speake with him at Ptolemais in all haste.

23 Neuertheles when Jonathan heard this, bee commaunded to besiege it: bee chose also certaine of the Elders of Israel, and the Priests, and put him selfe in danger, 24 And toke with him siluer and golde, and apparell, and diuers presents, and went to Ptolemais vnto the king, and founde fauour in his sight.

25 And though certaine vngodly men of his own nation had made complaints vpon him,

26 Yet the king intreated him as his predecessors had done, & promoted him in þ sight of all his friends,

27 And confirmed him in the hie Priesthood with all the honourable things, that he had afore, and made him his chefe friend.
28 Jonathan also desired þ king, þ he would make Judea frée wt the three gouernments, and the countrey of Samaria, and Ionathan promised him three hundreth talents.
29 Whereunto the king consented, and gaue Jonathan writing of the same, concerning these wordes, 30 KING DEMETRIVS vnto his brother Jonathan, and to the nation of the Jewes sendeth greeting.
31 We sende you here a copie of the letter, which we did write vnto our cousin Lasthenes concerning you, that ye should see it.
32 King Demetrius vnto Lasthenes his father, sendeth greeting.
33 For the faithfulnesse that our friends the nation of the Jewes kéepe vnto vs, and for their good will towards vs, we are determined to doe them good.
34 Wherefore we assigne to them the coastes of Judea with the three gouernments Apherema, and Lydda, and Ramath (which are added vnto Judea from the countrey of Samaria) and all that appertaineth to all them that sacrifice in Hierusalem: both concerning the payments which the king tooke péeuip afortime, both for the fruites of the earth, and for the fruites of the trees.
35 As for the other things appertaining vnto vs of the tenths and tributes, which were due vnto vs, and the customes of salt, and crowne tares, which were payed vnto vs, we discharge them of all from hencefoorth.
36 And nothing hereof shalbe reuoked from this time foorth and for euer.
37 Therefore see that ye make a copie of these things, and deliuer it vnto Jonathan, that it may be set vp vpon the holy mount in an open place.
38 After this when Demetrius the king saw that his land was in rest, and that no resistance was made against him, he sent away all his hoste, euery man to his owne place, except certaine bands of straugers, whom he brought from the yles of the heathen: wherefore all his fathers hoste hated him.
39 Now was there one Tryphon, that had bene of Alexanders part afore, which when he saw that all the hoste murmured against Demetrius, he went to [a] Simalcue the Arabian, that brought vp Antiochus þ sonne of Alexander,
40 And lay fore vpon him, to deliuer him this yong Antiochus, that he might reigne in his fathers stead: he tolde him also what great euill Demetrius had done, and howe his men of warre hated him, and he remained there a long season.
41 Also Jonathan sent vnto king Demetrius to drive them out which were in the castel at Jerusalem, and those that were in the fortresses: for they fought against Israel.
42 So Demetrius sent vnto Jonathan, saying, I will not onely do these things for thée and thy nation, but if opportunitie serue, I will honour thee and thy nation.
43 Howe therefore thou shalt do me a pleasure, if thou wilt lend me men to helpe me: for all mine armie is gone from me.
44 So Jonathan sent him three thousande strong men vnto Antiochia, and they came vnto the king: wherefore the king was verie glad at their comming.
45 ¶ But they that were of the citie, euen an hundreth, and twentie thousand men, gathered them together in the middes of the citie, and would haue slaine the king.
46 But the king fled into the palace, and the citizens kept the streetes of the citie, and began to fight.
47 Then the king called to the Jewes for helpe, which came to him altogether, and went abroad through the citie,
48 And slew the same day an hundreth thousande, and set fire vpon the citie, and tooke many spoyles in that day, and deliuered the king.
49 So when the citizens saw that the Jewes had gotten the vpper hand of the citie, and that they them selues were disappointed of their purpole, they made their supplication vnto the king, saying,
50 [b] Graunt vs peace, and let the Jewes ceale from vexing vs and the citie.
51 So they cast away their weapons, and made peace, and the Jewes were greatly honoured before the king, and before all that were in his Realme, and they came againe to Jerusalem with great pray.
52 Then king Demetrius sate in the throne of his kingdome, and had peace in his land.
53 Neuertheleste hee dissembled in all that euer he spake, and withdrewe him selfe from Jonathan, neither did he rewarde him according to the benefites which he had done for him, but troubled him very sore.
54 ¶ After this returned Tryphon with the yong childe Antiochus, which reigned, and was crowned.
55 Then there gathered vnto him all the men of warre, whome Demetrius had scattered, and they fought against him, who fled and turned his backe.
56 So Tryphon tooke the [c] beastes, & wanne Antiochia.
57 And yong Antiochus wrote vnto Jonathan, saying, I appoint thee to be the chiefe Priest, and make thée ruler ouer the foure gouernements, that thou mayest be a friend of the kings.
58 Vpon this he sent him golden vessels to be serued in, and gaue him leaue to drinke in golde, and to weare purple, and to haue a collar of golde.
59 He made his brother Simon also captain from the coasts of Tyrus vnto the borders of Egypt.
60 Then Jonathan went forth, and passed thorow the cities beyond the flood, and all the men of warre of Syria gathered vnto him for to helpe him: so he came vnto Ascalon, and they of the citie receiued him honourably.
61 And from thence went he vnto Gaza: but they of Gaza shut him out: wherefore he layed siege vnto it, and burned the suburbes urdes thereof with fyre, and ſpoyled them.

62 Then they of Gaza made ſupplication vnto Jonathan, and he made peace with them, and toke of the ſonnes of the chiefe men for hoſtages, and ſent them to Jeruſalem, and went thorowe the countrey vnto Damaſcus.
63 And when Jonathan heard that Demetrius Princes were come into Cades, which is in Galile, with a great hoſte, purpoſing to dryue him out of the countrey, 64 He came againſt them, & left Simon his brother in the countrey.
65 And Simon beſieged Beth-ſura, & fought againſt it a long ſeaſon, and ſhut it vp.
66 So they deſired to haue peace with him, which he graunted them, and afterwarde put them out from thence, and toke the citie, and ſet a gariſon in it.
67 Then Jonathan with his hoſte came to the water of Geneſar, and betymes in the morning came to the plaine of Azor.
*Or, heathen. 68 And beholde, the hoſtes of the *ſtrangers met him in the plaine, & had laied ambuſhments for him in the mountaines.
69 So that when they came againſt them, the ambuſhments roſe out of their places and ſkirmiſhed.
70 So that all that were of Jonathans ſide, fled; and there was not one of them left, except Mattathias the ſonne of *Abſalomus, and Judas the ſonne of Calphi the Captaines of the hoſte.
*Or, Abeſſalomus.
71 Then Jonathan rent his clothes, and caſt earth vpon his head, and prayed.
72 And turned againe to them to fight, and put them to flight, ſo that they fled away.
73 Now when his owne men that were fled, ſaw this, they turned againe vnto him, and helped him to followe after all vnto their tentes at Cades, and there they camped.
74 So there were ſlaine of the ſtrangers the ſame day about three thouſand men, and Jonathan turned againe to Jeruſalem.

CHAP. XII.

1 Jonathan ſendeth ambaſſadours to Rome, 2 And to the people of Sparta, to renewe their covenant of friendſhip. 24 Jonathan putteth to flight the Princes of Demetrius. 40 Tryphon taketh Jonathan by deceite.

Ioſe. Antiq. 13. chap. 8.
1 JOnathan nowe ſeing that the time was mete for him, choſe certaine men, & ſent them vnto Rome, to eſtabliſh and renew the friendſhip with them.
*Or, Lacedemonians.
2 He ſent letters alſo vnto *the Spartians & to other places, for the ſame purpoſe.
3 So they went vnto Rome, and entred into the Senate, and ſaide, Jonathan the hie Prieſt and the nation of the Jewes ſent vs vnto you, for to renewe friendſhippe with you, and the bond of loue, as in times paſt.
4 So the Romaines gaue them free paſſportes, that men ſhould leade them home into the lande of Juda peaceably.
5 ¶ AND THIS is the copie of the letters that Jonathan wrote vnto the Spartians, 6 Jonathan the hie Prieſt with the Elders of the nation, and the Prieſts, and the reſt of the people of the Jewes, ſende greting vnto the Spartians their brethren.
7 Heretofore were letters ſent vnto Onias the high Prieſt, from *Arius, which then reigned among you, that ye would be our brethre, as the copy here vnder written ſpecifieth. Ioſe. Antiq. 12. chap. 3. *Or, Darius.
8 And Onias intreated the ambaſſadour honourably, and receiued the letters: wherein there was mention made of the bonds of loue and friendſhip.
9 But as for vs, we nede no ſuch writings: for we haue the holy bookes in our handes for comfort.
10 Neuertheleſſe we thought it good to ſend vnto you, for the renewing of the brotherhode and friendſhippe, leaſt we ſhould be ſtrange vnto you: for it is long ſince ye time that ye ſent vnto vs.
11 Wherefore we remember you at all ſeaſons continually, and in the feaſts & other dayes appointed, when we offer ſacrifices & prayers, as it is mete and conuenient to thinke vpon our brethren.
12 And we reioyce at your proſperous eſtate.
13 And though we haue bin enuironed with great troubles and warres, ſo that the kings rounde about vs haue fought againſt vs, 14 Yet would we not be grieuous vnto you, nor to other of our cõfederates and friends in theſe warres.
15 For we haue had helpe from heauen, that hath ſuccoured vs, & we are deliuered from our enemies, and our enemies are ſubdued.
16 Yet haue we choſen Numenius the ſonne of Antiochus, and Antipater the ſonne of Jaſon, and ſent them vnto the Romaines, for to renewe the former friendſhippe with them, and leagne.
17 We commanded them alſo to go vnto you, and to ſalute you, and to deliuer you our letters, concerning the renewing of our brotherhod.
18 And nowe ye ſhall doe vs a pleaſure to giue vs an anſwere of theſe things.
19 ¶ And this was the copie of the letters, which Arius the king of Sparta ſent vnto Onias.
20 THE KING of the Spartians vnto Onias the hie Prieſt ſendeth greting.
21 It is found in writing, ye the Spartians and Jewes are brethren, and come out of the generation of Abiaham.
22 And nowe for ſo much as this is come to our knowledge, ye ſhall do well, to write vnto vs of your proſperitie.
23 As for vs, we haue written vnto you, that your cattel and goodes are ours, & ours are yours: theſe thinges haue we commanded to be ſhewed vnto you.
24 ¶ Now when Jonathan heard, that Demetrius princes were come to fight againſt him, with a greater hoſte then afore, 25 He went from Jeruſalem, and met them in the lande of Hamath: for he gaue them not ſpace to come into his owne countrey.
26 And he ſent ſpies vnto their tents, which came againe, and told him, that they were appointed to come vpon him in the night.

27 Wherefore, when the sunne was gone downe, Jonathan commanded his men to watch, and to be in armes readie to fight all the night, and sent watchmen round about the hoste.
28 But when the aduersaries heard that Jonathan was readie with his men to the battell, they feared, and trembled in their heartes, and kindled fires in their tentes, and fled away.
29 Neuertheles Jonathan & his companie knewe it not till the morning: for they sawe the fires burning.
30 Then Jonathan followed vpon them, but he could not ouertake them: for they were gone ouer the flood Eleutherus.
31 So Jonathan turned to the Arabians, which were called Zabedei, & slewe them, and tooke their spoyle.
32 He proceeded further also, and came vnto Damascus, and went thorowe al the countrey.
33 But Simon his brother went forth, and came to Ascalon and to the next holdes, departing vnto Joppe, and wanne it.
34 For he heard that hee would deliuer the holde to them that tooke Demetrius part: wherefore he set a garrison there to keepe it.
35 ¶ After this came Jonathan home, and called the Elders of the people together, & deuised with them for to build vp the strog holdes in Judea, 36 And to make the walles of Jerusalē hier, & to make a great mount betwirt the castel and the citie, for to separate it frō the citie, that it might be alone, & that men should neither bye, nor sell in it.
37 So they came together to builde vp the citie: for part of the wall vpon the broke of the East side was fallen downe, and they repaired it, and called it Caphenatha.
38 Simon also set vp Adida in Sephela, and made it strong with gates and barres.
39 ¶ In the meane time Tryphon purposed to reigne in Asia, and to be crowned when he had slaine the king Antiochus, 40 But he was afraide that Jonathan would not suffer him, but fight against him: wherefore he went about to take Jonathan, and to kill him: so he departed, and came vnto Bethsan.
41 Then went Jonathan forth against him to the battell with fourtie thousande chosen men, and came vnto Bethsan.
42 But when Tryphon saw that Jonathan came with so great an host, he durst not lay handes vpon him, 43 But receiued him honourably, and commended him vnto all his friends, and gaue him rewardes, and commanded his men of warre to be as obedient vnto him as to him selfe,
44 And said vnto Jonathan, Why hast thou caused this people to take such trauaile, seeing there is no warre betwene vs?
45 Therefore send them now home againe, & chuse certeine men to wayte vpon thee, and come thou with me to Ptolemais: For I wil giue it thee, with the other strong holdes, and the other garisons, and all them that haue the charge of the common affaires: so wil I returne, and depart: for this is the cause of my comming.
46 Jonathan beleeued him, & did as he saide, and sent away his hoste, which went into the land of Juda, 47 And reteined but three thousande with him, wherof he sent two thousand into Galile, and one thousand went with him selfe.
48 Now assone as Jonathan entred into Ptolemais, they of Ptolemais shut the gates, and tooke him, & slewe all them with the swoorde, that came in with him.
49 Then sent Tryphon an hoste of footemen, and horsemen into Galile, and into the great plaine, to destroy all Jonathans companie.
50 But when they knewe þ Jonathan was taken, & slaine, & they that were with him, they encouraged one another, & came forth against them ready to the battell.
51 But when they which followed vpon them, sawe that it was a matter of life, they turned backe againe.
52 By this meanes all they came into the lande of Juda peaceably, and bewayled Jonathan, and them that were with him, and feared greatly, & all Israel made great lamentation.
53 For all the heathen that were rounde about them, sought to destroy them.
54 For they saide, Now haue they no captaine, nor any man to helpe them: therefore let vs now fight against them, and roote out their memorie from among men.

CHAP. XIII.

1 After Jonathan was taken, Simon is chosen captaine. 17 Tryphon, taking his children, and money for the redemption of Jonathan, killeth him and his children. 31 Tryphon killeth Antiochus, and possesseth the realme. 36 Demetrius taketh truce with Simon. 43 Simon winneth Gaza. 50 He possesseth the towre of Sion. 53 He maketh his sonne Iohn captaine.

Iosephus Antiq. 13. chap. 9.

NOw when Simon heard that Tryphō gathered a great host to come into the lande of Juda, and to destroy it, Iosephus Antiq 13. chap. 9.
2 And sawe that the people was in great trembling and feare, he came vp to Jerusalem, and gathered the people together,
3 And gaue them exhortation, saying, Ye knowe what great thinges I, and my brethren, & my fathers house haue done for the Lawe, and the Sanctuarie, and the battels, and troubles that we haue seene.
4 By reason whereof all my brethren are slaine for Israels sake, and I am left alone.
5 Now therefore God forbid, that I should spare mine own life in any time of trouble: for I am not better then my brethren.
6 But I wil auenge my nation, & the Sanctuarie, and our wiues, & our children: for all the heathē are gathered together to destroy vs of perie malice.
7 In hearing these wordes the hearts of the people were kindled,
8 So that they cryed with a loud voyce, saying, Thou shalt be our captaine in stead of Judas and Jonathan thy brethren.
9 Fight thou our battels, and whatsoeuer thou thou commaundest vs, we will doe it.

10 ¶ So he gathered al the men of warre, making haste to finish the walles of Jerusalē, and fortified it round about.
11 Then sent he Jonathan the sonne of Absalomius with a great hoste vnto Joppe, which dryue them out that were therein, and remained there him selfe.
12 Tryphon also removed from Ptolemais with a great armie, to come into the lande of Juda, and Jonathan was with him as prisoner.
13 And Simon pitched his tents at [a] Addis vpon the open plaine.
14 But when Tryphon knewe that Simon stood vp in stead of his brother Jonathan, and that he would fight against him, he sent messengers vnto him, saying,
15 Where as wee haue kept Jonathan thy brother, it is for money that he is owing in the kings account concerning the business that he had in hand.
16 Wherefore send now an hundreth talents of siluer, & his two sonnes for hostages, that when he is letten foorth, he wil not turne from vs, and we wil send him againe.
17 Nevertheles Simon knew that he dissembled in his wordes, yet commaunded he the money and children to be deliuered vnto him, least he should be in greater hatred of the people of Israel:
18 Who might haue said, Because he sent him not the money and the children, therefore is Jonathan dead.
19 So he sent the children and an hundreth talents: but he dissembled, and would not let Jonathan goe.
20 ¶ Afterward came Tryphon into the land to destroy it, & went rounde about by the way, þ leadeth vnto Adora: but wheresoeuer they went, thither went Simon and his hoste.
21 Now they that were in the castle, sent messengers vnto Tryphon, that he should make haste to come by the wildernes, and to send them vitailes.
22 So Tryphon made ready all his horsemen: but the same night fell a very great snowe, so that he came not, because of the snow: but he remoued and went into the countrey of Galaad.
23 And when he came neere to Baleama, he slewe Jonathan, and he was buried there.
24 So Tryphon returned, and went into his owne land.
25 ¶ Then sent Simon to take the bones of Jonathan his brother, and they buried him in Modin his fathers citie.
26 And all Israel bewayled him with great lamentation, and mourned for him very long.
27 And Simon made vpon the sepulchre of his father and his brethren, a building high to looke vnto, of hewen stone behinde and before,
28 And set vp seuen pillars vpon it, one against another, for his father, his mother, and foure brethren.
29 And set great pillars round about them, and set armes vpon the pillars for a perpetual memorie, and carued shippes beside the armes, that they might be seene of men sayling in the sea.
30 This sepulchre which he made at Modin, standeth yet vnto this day.
31 ¶ Now as Tryphon went forth with the young king Antiochus, he slewe him traytorously, 32 And reigned in his stead, & crowned him selfe king of Asia, & brought a great plague vpon the land.
33 Simon also built vp the castels of Judea, and compassed them about with high towers, and great walles, euen with towres, and gates and barres, and layd vp vitailes in the strong holdes.
34 Moreouer Simon chose certaine men and sent them to king Demetrius, þ he would discharge the land: for all Tryphons doings were robberies.
35 Whereupon Demetrius þ king answered him, and wrote vnto him after this maner, 36 DEMETRIVS the king vnto Simon the high Priest, and the friend of kings, and to the Elders, and to the nation of the Jewes sendeth greeting.
37 The golden crowne, and [b] precious stone that ye sent vnto vs, haue we receiued, & are ready to make a stedfast peace with you, and to write vnto the officers, to release you of the things wherein we made you free.
38 So the things that we haue graunted you, shall be stable: the strong holdes which ye haue builded, shalbe your owne.
39 Also we forgiue the ouersights, and faultes committed vnto this day, and the crowne tare that ye ought vs: and where as was any other tribute in Jerusalem, it shalbe nowe no tribute.
40 And they that are mete among you to be written with our men, let them be written vp, that there may be peace betweene vs.
41 Thus the yoke of the heathen was taken from Israel in the hundreth and seuentie yere.
42 And the people of Israel began to write in their letters, and publike instruments, IN THE FIRST yere of Simon, the high and chiefe Priest, gouernour & prince of the Jewes.
43 In those dayes Simon camped against Gaza, and besieged it round about, where he set vp an engine of warre, and approched nere the citie, and beate a towre, and tooke it.
44 So they that were in the engine, lept into the citie, and there was great trouble in the citie,
45 In so much that the people of the citie rent their clothes, & climed vp vpon the walles with their wiues, and children, & cried with a lowde voyce, beseeching Simon to graunt them peace, saying,
46 Deale not with vs according to our wickednes, but according to thy mercie.
47 Then Simon pitied them, & would fight no more against them, but put them out of the citie, & clensed the houses, wherein the idoles were, and so entred therein to with Psalmes and thanksgiuing.
48 So when he had cast all the filthines out, he set such men in it as kept the Lawe, and

49 Nowe, when they in the castle at Jerusalem were kept, that they could not come forth nor go into the countrey, neither bye nor sell, they were very hungrie, and many of them were famished to death.

50 In so much that they besought Simon to make peace with them: which he graunted them, & put them out from thence, and clensed the castle from filthines.

51 And vpon the three and twentie day of the second moneth, in the hundreth seuenty and one yeere, they entred into it with thankesgiuing, & branches of palme trees, and with harpes, and with cymbales, & with violes, and with psalmes, and songs, because the great enemie of Israel was ouercome.

52 And he ordeined that the same day should be kept euery yeere with gladnes.

53 And he fortified the mount of the Temple that was beside the castle where he dwelt him selfe with his companie.

54 Simon also seeing þ Iohn his sonne was now a man, he made him captaine of al the hostes, & caused him to dwel in *Gazaris.

*Or, Gaza.

CHAP. XIIII.

1 Demetrius is ouercome of Arsaces. 11 Simon being captaine, there is great quietnes in Israel. 18 The couenant of friendship with the Romaines, and with the people of Sparta is renewed.

1 IN the hundreth, seuentie & two yeere gathered king Demetrius his hoste, and departed vnto Media, to get him helpe for to fight against Tryphon.

2 But when Arsaces the king of Persia and Media heard, that Demetrius was entred within his borders, he sent one of his princes to take him alue.

3 So he went, & ouercame the armie of Demetrius, and toke him, and brought him to Arsaces, which kept him in ward.

4 Thus al the land of Iuda was in rest, so long as Simon liued: for he sought the wealth of his nation: therefore were they glad to haue him for their ruler, and to do him worship alway.

5 Simon also wanne the citie of Joppe to his great honor to be an hauen towne, & made it an entrance vnto the yles of the sea.

6 He enlarged also the borders of his people, and conquered the countreys,

7 He gathered vp many of their people that were prisoners, and he had the dominion of Gazaris, and Beth-sura, & the castle, which he clensed from filthines, and there was no man that resisted him,

8 So that euery man tilled his grounde in peace, and the land gaue her fruites, and the trees gaue their fruite.

9 The Elders sate in the open places, & consulted all together for the common wealth, and the yong men were honourably clothed and armed.

10 He prouided vitailes for the cities, and all kinde of munition, so that his glorious fame was renowmed vnto the ende of the worlde.

11 He made peace throughout the land, and Israel had perfit mirth and ioy.

12 For euery man sate vnder his vine, and the figge tree, & there was no man to fray them.

13 There was none in þ land to fight against them: for then the kings were ouercome.

14 He helped all those that were in aduersitie among his people: he was diligent to see the Lawe kept, and he toke away the vngodly, and wicked.

15 He beautified the Sanctuarie, & increased the vessels of the Temple.

16 When the Romains heard, & the Spartians had knowledge, that Jonathan was dead, they were very sore.

17 But when they heard, that Simon his brother was made hie Priest in his stead, and howe he had wonne the land againe with the cities in it, 18 They wrote vnto him in tables of brasse, to renewe the friendship and bond of loue, which they had made with Judas and Jonathan his brethren.

19 Which writings were read before the congregation at Jerusalem, & this is the copie of the letters that the Spartians sent, 20 THE SENATORS and citie of Sparta vnto Simon the great Priest, and to the Elders, and to the Priests, and to the residue of the people of the Jewes their brethren send greeting.

21 When your ambassadours that were sent vnto our people, certified vs of your glorie and honor, we were glad of their comming, 22 And haue registred their ambassage in the publike records in this maner, NVMENIVS the sonne of Antiochus, and Antipater the sonne of Jason the Jewes ambassadours came vnto vs, to renewe amitie with vs.

23 And it pleased the people, that the men should be honorably intreated, and that the copie of their ambassage should be registred in the publike recordes, that it might be for a memoriall vnto the people of Sparta: and a copie of the same was sent to Simon the chiefe Priest.

24 After this, Simon sent Numenius to Rome, with a great shield of gold of a thousand pound weight, to confirme the friendship with them.

25 Which when the people vnderstoode, they sayd, What thankes shal we recompense againe vnto Simon and his children?

26 For he and his brethren, and the house of his father haue stablished Israel, and ouercome their enemies, and haue confirmed the libertie thereof: therefore they wrote this in tables of brasse, and set it vpon pillars in mount Sion.

27 The copie of the writing is this, In the eight and twentie day of the moneth ‖ Elul in the hundreth, seuentie and two yeere, in the third yeere of Simon the high Priest.

‖ August.

28 In *Saramel in the great congregation of the Priests, and of the people, and of the gouernours of the nation, and of the elders of the countrey, we would signifie vnto you, that many battels haue been fought in our countrey.

*Or, Jerusalem.

29 Wherein Simon the sonne of Mattathias (come

(coms of the children of Jarib) and his brethren put themselues in danger, & resisted the enemies of their nation, that their Sanctuarie, and Lawe might be maintained, and did their nation great honour.
30 For Jonathan gathered his nation together, and became their high Priest, and is layd with his people.
31 After that would their enemies haue in-uaded their countrey, & destroyed their land, and lay their hands on their Sanctuarie.
32 Then Simon resisted them, & fought for his nation, & spent much of his owne substance, & armed the valiant men of his nation, and gaue them wages.
33 He fortified also þ cities of Judea, & Beth-sura that lyeth vpon the borders of Judea (where the armiance of their enemies lay sometime) & set there a garison of þ Jewes.
34 And he fortified Joppe, which lyeth vpon the sea, & [b] Gazara that bordeth vpon Azo-tus (where the enemies dwelt afore) & there he placed Jewes, and furnished them with things necessarie for the reparation thereof.
35 Now when the people sawe the faithfuls-nes of Simon, & to what glory he thought to bring his nation vnto, they made him their gouernour, and the chiefe Priest, because he had done all these things, and for the vprightnes, & fidelitie that he had kept to his nation, and that sought by al meanes to exalt his people.
36 For in his time they prospered wel by him, so that the heathen were taken out of their countrey, & they also which were in the citie of Dauid at Jerusalem, where they had made them a castel, out of the which they went & defiled al things that were about the Sanctuarie, and did great hurt vnto religion.
37 And he set Jewes in it, & fortified it, for the assurance of the land, and citie, and raised vp the walles of Jerusalem.
38 And king Demetrius confirmed him in his high Priesthode for these causes, 39 And made him one of his friends, & gaue him great honour.
40 For it was reported that the Romaines called the Jewes their friends and confederates, & that they honourably receiued Simons ambassadours,
41 And that the Jewes, and Priests consented, that Simon should be their prince, and high Priest perpetually till God rayled vp the true Prophet, 42 And that he should be their captaine, and haue the charge of the Sanctuarie, and so set men ouer the workes, & ouer the countrey, and ouer the weapons, and ouer the fortresses, and that should make prouision for the holy things, 43 And that he should be obeyed of euery ma, and that all the writings in the countrey should be made in his name, and that he should be clothed in purple, & weare golde, 44 And that it should not be lawfull for any of the people or Priestes to breake any of these things, or to withstand his wordes, or to call any congregation in the countrey without him, or be clothed in purple, or weare a collar of golde:

[b] or, Gezer, or Gezarit.

45 And if any did contrarie to these thinges, or brake any of them, he should be punished.
46 So it pleased all the people to agree that it should be done to Simon according vnto these wordes.
47 Simon also accepted it, and was content to be the high Priest, and the captaine, and the prince of the Jewes, and of the Priests, and to be the chiefe of all.
48 And they commanded to set vp this writing in tables of braße, & to fasten it to the wall that compassed the Sanctuarie in an open place, 49 And that a copie of the same should be layed vp in the treasurie, that Simon & his sonnes might haue it.

CHAP. XV.

1 Antiochus maketh a couenant of friendship with Si- mon. 11 Tryphon is pursued. 15 The Romains write letters vnto kings and nations in the defence of the Iewes. 27 Antiochus refusing the helpe that Simon sent him, breaketh his couenant.

1 MOreouer king Antiochus the sonne of Demetrius sent letters from the ples of the sea vnto Simon the Priest, and prince of the Jewes, and to all the nation, 2 Conteining these wordes, ANTIOCHVS the King vnto Simon the great Priest, and to the nation of the Jewes sendeth greeting.
3 For so much as certaine pestilent men haue vsurped the kingdome of our fathers, I am purposed to chalenge the Realme againe, and to restore it to the olde estate: wherefore
I haue gathered a great hoste, and prepared shippes of warre, 4 That I may go thorowe the countrey, and be auenged of them, which haue destroyed our countrey, and wasted many cities in the Realme.
5 Now therefore I do confirme vnto thee all the liberties, whereof all the kings my pro-genitours haue discharged thee, & al the payments, wherof they haue released thee.
6 And I giue thee leaue to coyne money of thine owne stampe within thy countrey, 7 And that Jerusalem, and the Sanctuarie be free, and that all the weapons, that thou hast prepared, & the fortresses, which thou hast builded, and keepest in thine handes, shall be thine.
8 And all that is due vnto the king, and all that shalbe due vnto the king, I forgiue it thee, from this time forth for euermore.
9 And when we haue obteined our kingdom, we wil giue thee, and thy nation & the temple great honour, so that your honor shalbe knowen throughout the world.
10 ¶ In the hundreth, seuentie & foure yeere, went Antiochus into his fathers land, and all the bands came together vnto him, so that fewe were left with Tryphon. Ioseph. Antiq. 13. chap. 11.
11 So the king Antiochus pursued him, but he fled and came to Doza, which lieth by the sea side.
12 For he sawe that troubles were towarde him, and that the armie had forsaken him.
13 Then camped Antiochus against Doza with an hundreth & twentie thousand fighting men, and eight thousand horsemen.

14 So

14 So he compassed the citie about, and the shippes came vp the sea. Thus they pressed the citie vp land, and vp sea, in so much that they suffered no man to go in nor out.
15 In the meane season came Numenius, & his companie from Rome, having letters written vnto the kings & countreys, wherein were contained these words,
16 LVCIVS the Consul of Rome vnto king
Ptolemeus sendeth greeting.
17 The ambassadors of the Iewes are come vnto vs as our friends and confederates from Simon the hie Priest, and from the people of the Iewes to renewe friendship, and the bond of loue, 18 Who haue brought a shield of golde weiging a thousand pound.
19 Wherefore we thought it good to write vnto the kings & countreys, þ they should not goe about to hurt them, nor to fight against them, nor their cities, nor their countrey, neither to maintain their enemies against thē.
20 And we were content to receiue of them the shield.
21 If therfore there be any pestilent fellowes fled from their countrey vnto you, deliuer them vnto Simon the hie Priest, þ he may punish them according to their owne law.
22 The same things were written to Demetrius the king, and to Attalus, and to Arathes, and to Arsaces, 23 And to al þ countreys, as [a]Sampsames, & to thē of Sparta, & to [b]Delus, & to Mindus and to Sicion, & to Caria, and to Samos, and to Pamphylia, and to Lycia, & to Halicarnassus, and to Rhodus, and to Phase-lis, and to Cos, & to Side, & to Coirpna, and to Gmdon, and to Cyprus, & to Cyene.
24 And they sent a copie of them to Simon the hie Priest.
25 ¶ So Antiochus the king camped against Doza the second time euer ready to take it, & made diuers engins of warre, & kept Tryphon in, that he could neither go in nor out.
26 Then Simon sent him two thousand chosen men to helpe him with siluer and golde, and much furniture.
27 Neuertheles, he would not receiue thē, but brake all þ couenant, which he had made w him afore, & withdrewe him selfe from him, 28 And sent vnto him Athenobius one of his friends to cōmune w him, saying, Ye withhold Ioppe, & Gazara with the castel that is at Ierusalem, the citie of my Realme, 29 Whose borders ye haue destroyed & done great hurt in the land, & haue the gouerne-ment of many places of my kingdome.
30 Wherefore now deliuer the cities, which ye haue taken, with the tributes of the places, that ye haue rule ouer without the boders of Iudea,
31 Or els giue me for them fiue hundreth talents of siluer, & for the harme that ye haue done, & for the tributes of the places other fiue hundreth talents: if not, we will come, and fight against you.
32 So Athenobius the kings friend came to Ierusalem, and when he saw the honour of Simon, and the cupboyd of golde and siluer plate, & so great preparation, he was astonished, and tolde him the kings message.
33 Then answered Simon, & said vnto him,
We haue neither taken other mens lands, nor withholden that which appertaineth to others: but our fathers heritage, which our enemies had vnrighteously in possession a certaine time.
34 But when we had occasion, we recouered the inheritance of our fathers.
35 And whereas thou [a]requirest Ioppe & Ga- [a]Or, compla-zara, they did great harme to our people, nest conserand thorow our countrey, yet will we giue ning.
an hundreth talents for them. But Athenos bius answered him not one word, 36 But turned againe angrie vnto the king, and tolde him all these words, and the dignitie of Simon, with all that he had seene:
and the king was very angrie.
37 ¶ In the meane time fled Tryphon by ship vnto Orthosias.
38 Then the king made Cendebeus captaine of the sea coast, and gaue him bands of footmen and horsemen,
39 And commanded him to remoue the hoste toward Iudea, & to build vp Cedron, & to fortifie the gates, and to warre against the people: but the king pursued Tryphon.
40 So Cendebeus came vnto Iamnia, & began to vexe the people, & to inuade Iudea, & to take the people prisoners, & to slay them.
41 And he built vp Cedron, where he set horsemen & garisons, that they might make out-rodes by the wayes of Iudea, as the king had commaunded him.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Cendebeus the captaine of Antiochus hoste is put to flight by the sonnes of Simon. 11 Ptolemeus the sonne of Abubus killeth Simon & his two sonnes at a banket.
23 Iohn killeth them that lie in waite for his life.

1 THen came Iohn vp from Gazara, and Ioseph.
tolde Simon his father, what Cende- Antiq. 13.
beus had done. chap. 12.
2 So Simon called two of his eldest sonnes, Iudas and Iohn, & said vnto them, I, and my brethren, & my fathers house, haue euer frō our youth vnto this day fought against the enemies of Israel, & the matters haue had good successe vnder our hands, and we haue deliuered Israel oftentimes.
3 But I am now olde, and be by Gods merciful of me, & my brother, and go forth & fight for our nation, & the helpe of heauē be with you.
4 So he chose twenty thousand fighting men of the countrey with the horsemen, which went forth against Cendebeus, and rested at Modin.
5 In the morning they arose, & went into the plaine field: & behold, a mightie great hoste came against them both of footmen, & horsemen: but there was a riuer betwixt them.
6 And Iohn ranged his armie ouer against him, and when he saw that the people was afrayde to goe ouer the riuer, he went ouer first him self, and the men seeing him, passed through after him.
7 Then he deuided his men, and set the horsemen in the middes of the footemen.
8 For their enemies horsemen were very many: but when they blewe the trumpetters,

Cendebeus

[a] Or, Sampsace.
[b] Or, Delo. Or, Mydo, or, Mydus.

Cendebeus fled with his host, whereof many were slame, and the remnant gate them to the fortresse.

9 Then was Judas Johns brother wounded: but John folowed after them, til he came to Cedron, which Cendebeus had built.

10 Also they fled vnto the towres, that were in the fieldes of Azotus, and those did Iohn burne with fire: thus were there slaine two thousand men of them: so he returned peaceably into the land of Juda.

11 ¶ Nowe in the field of Jericho was Ptolemens the sonne of Abubus made captaine, and he had abundance of siluer and gold.

12 (For he had married the daughter of the hye Priest.)

13 Therefore he waxed proude in his minde, and thought to rule the lande, and thought to slay Simon and his sonnes by deceit.

14 Nowe as Simon went about thorow the cities of the countrey, & studied carefully for them, he came down to Jericho with Mattathias, and Judas his sonnes in the hundreth seuentie and seuen yere, in the eleuenth moneth, which is the moneth Sabat.

15 Then the sonne of Abubus receiued them by treason into a litle holde, called Dochus, which he had built, where he made them a great banket, and had hid men there.

16 So when Simon & his sonnes had made good chere, Ptolemeus stode vp with his men, & toke their weapons, & entred in to Simon in the banket house, & slewe him & his two sonnes, & certaine of his seruantes.

17 Whereby he committed a great villenie, & recompensed euill for good.

18 Then wrote Ptolemeus these things and sent to the King, that he might send him an host to helpe him, and so would deliuer him the countrey with the cities.

19 He sent other men also vnto Gazara, to take John, and sent letters vnto the captaines to come to him, and he would giue them siluer, and gold and rewards.

20 And to Jerusalem he sent other to take it, and the mountaine of the Temple.

21 But one ranne before, and tolde John in Gazara, that his father, and his brethren were slaine, and that Ptolemeus had sent to slay him.

22 When he heard this, he was sore astonished, & laid handes of them that were come to slay him, and slewe them: for he knewe that they went about to kill him.

23 Concerning other thinges of John, both of his warres, & of his noble acts (wherein he behaued him selfe manfully) of the building of walles which he made, and other of his deedes, 24 Beholde, they are written in the chronicles of his Priesthode, from the time, that he was made high Priest after his father.

The second booke of the Maccabees.

CHAP. I.

1 An epistle of the Iewes that dwelt at Ierusalē, sent vnto them that dwelt in Egypt, wherein they exhort them to giue thankes for the death of Antiochus. 19 Of the fire that was hid in the pit. 24 The prayer of Nemias.

THe brethren the Iewes, which be at Jerusalem, and they that are in the countrey of Judea, vnto the brethren the Iewes, that are thorowout Egypt, sende salutation, and prosperitie.

2 God be gracious vnto you & remember his couenant made with Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob his faithful seruants,

3 And giue you all an heart, to worship him, and to doe his will with a whole heart and with a willing minde,

4 And open your hearts in his Law, & commandements, and send you peace,

5 And heare your prayers, & be reconciled vnto you, & neuer forsake you in time of trouble.

6 Thus now we pray here for you.

7 When Demetrius reigned, in the hundreth, three score & ninth yere, we Iewes wrote vnto you in the trouble, and violence that came vnto vs in those yeres, after that Jason, and his company departed out of the holy land and kingdome,

8 And burnt the porch, and shedde innocent blood. Then we prayed vnto the Lord, & were heard; we offred sacrifices & fine flower, & lighted the lampes, and set forth the bread.

9 Now therfore kepe ye the dayes of the feast of the Tabernacles in the moneth Chasleu.

10 ¶ In the hundreth, fourescore & eight yere, the people that was at Jerusalem, and in Judea, and the counsell and Judas, vnto Aristobulus king Ptolemeus master, which is of the stocke of the anoynted priests, and to the Iewes that are in Egypt, sendeth greeting and health.

11 In so much as God hath deliuered vs from great perilles, we thanke him highly, as though we had ouercome the King.

12 For he brought them into Persia by heaps, that fought against the holy citie.

13 For albeit the captaine, and the armie, that was with him, seemed inuincible, yet they were slaine in the Temple of Nanea, by the deceit of Naneas Priests.

14 For Antiochus, as though he would dwell by her, came thither, he, & his friendes with him, to receiue money vnder the title of a dowry.

15 But when the Priests of Nanea had laid it forth, & he was entred with a small company within the Temple, they shut the Temple, when Antiochus was come in.

16 And by opening a priuie doore of the vaut, they cast stones, as it were thunder, vpon the captaine and his, and hauing hurled them in pieces, they cut off their heads & threwe them to those that were without.

17 God

17 God be bleſſed in all thinges, which hath delyuered vp the wicked.
18 Whereas we are nowe purpoſed to keepe the purification of the Temple vpō the fiue and twenty day of the moneth Chaſleu, we thought it neceſſary to certifie you thereof, that ye alſo might keepe the feaſt of the Tabernacles, and of the fire which was giuen vs when Neemias offred ſacrifice, after that he had built the Temple, and the altar.
19 For when as our fathers were led awap vnto Perſia, the Prieſts, which ſought the Leuit.6.13. & 10.2. & 16.12. honour of God, tooke þ * fire of þ altar priuily, & hid it in an hollowe pit, which was dry in þ bottome, & therein they kept it, ſo þ the place was vnknowen vnto euery man.
20 Now after many yeeres when it pleaſed
God þ Neemias ſhould be ſēt frō þ king of Perſia, he ſēt of þ poſteritie of thoſe Prieſts, which had hid it, to fetch the fire, & as they told vs, they found no fire, but thick water.
21 Then commanded he them to draw it vp, and to bring it: and whē the things apperteining to the ſacrifices were brought, Neemias commanded the Prieſtes to ſprinkle the wood, and the things layd thereupon with water.
22 When this was done, and the time came that the Sunne ſhone, which afore was hid in the cloude, there was a great fire kindled, ſo that euery man marueiled.
23 Now the Prieſts, and all prayed, while the ſacrifice was conſuming: Jonathan began, and the other anſwered thereunto.
24 And the prayer of Neemias was after this maner, O Lord, Lord God maker of all things, which art fearefull, and ſtrong, and righteous, and mercifull, and the onely and gracious king,
25 Onely liberal, onely iuſt & almightye & euerlaſting, thou that deliuereſt Iſrael from all trouble, and haſt choſen the fathers, and ſanctified them,
26 Receiue the ſacrifice for thy whole people of Iſrael, and preſerue thine owne portion, and ſanctifie it.
27 Gather thoſe together, that are ſcattered from vs: deliuer them that ſerue among the heathen: looke vpon them which are deſpi-ſed, and abhorred, that the heathen maye knowe that thou art our God.
28 Puniſh them that oppreſſe vs, and with pride do vs wrong.
29 Plant thy people againe in thine holy Deut.30.5. place * as Moyſes hath ſpoken.
30 And the Prieſts ſang Pſalmes thereunto.
31 Now when the ſacrifice was conſumed, Neemias commanded the great ſtones to be ſprinkled with the reſidue of the water.
32 Which whē it was done, there was kindled a flame, which was conſumed vp the light, that ſhined from the altar.
33 So when this matter was knowen, it was tolde the king of Perſia, that in the place where the Prieſts, which were led away, had hidde fire, there appeared water, wherewith Neemias and his company had purified the ſacrifices.
34 The King tried out the thing, and cloſed the place about, and made it holy.
35 And to them that the King fauoured, hee gaue and beſtowed many gifts.
36 And Neemias called þ ſame place * Epha-thar, which is to ſay, purification: but many men call it Nephthar.

a That is to ſaye, a ſhining, it is alſo called Nephi, or Nephthar, which is a cleanſing.

CHAP. II.

4 Howe Ieremie hidde the tabernacle, the Arke and the altar in the hill. 23 Of the fiue bookes of Iaſon contained in one.

1 IT is founde alſo in the writings of Jere-mias the Prophet, that he commanded the, which were carped awap, to take fire, as was declared, & as the Prophet cōmand-ded them that were led into captiuitie, 2 * Giuing them a lawe that they ſhould not Baruch.6.
forget the cōmandements of the Lorde, and that they ſhould not erre in their mindes, when they ſaw images of golde and ſiluer, with their ornaments.
3 Theſe & ſuch other thinges commanded he them, and exhorted them that they ſhoulde not let the Lawe go out of their heartes.
4 It is written alſo, how þ Prophet, by an oracle that he had, charged them to take the tabernacle and the arke, and follow him: & when he came vp into the mountain where Moyſes went vp, * and ſawe the heritage of Deut.34.1.
God,
5 Jeremias went forth, and found an hollow caue, wherein he layd the Tabernacle, and the Arke, and the altar of incenſe, and ſo ſtopped the dore.
6 And there came certaine of thoſe that followed him, to marke the place: but they coulde not finde it.
7 Which when Jeremias perceiued, he re-proued them, ſaying, As for that place, it ſhalbe vnknowen, vntill the time that God gather his people together againe, and that mercie be ſhewed.
8 Then ſhal the Lord ſhewe thē theſe thinges, and the maieſtie of the Lorde ſhall appeare and the cloude alſo, as it was ſhewed vnder Moyſes, & as * when Salomon deſired, 1.King.8.
þ the place might be honourably ſanctified. 14,23,30.
9 For it is manifeſt that he, being a wiſe mā, 2.chr.6.21.
offred the * ſacrifice of dedication, and con- 1.King.8.62, 65.2.chro.7.
ſecration of the Temple.
10 * And as when Moyſes prayed vnto the 4,5. Leui.9.24.&
Lorde, the fire came downe from heauen, & 10.16.
conſumed the ſacrifice: ſo, when Salomon 2.Chro.7.1.
prayed, * the fire came downe from heauen, and conſumed the burnt offring.
11 And Moyſes ſaid, Becauſe þ ſame offring was not eaten, therefore is it conſumed.
12 So Salomon kept thoſe eyght dayes.
13 Theſe thinges alſo are declared in the writings, & regiſters of * Neemias, and how he * Some read actes of the Kings, and of the Prophets, & the actes of Dauid, and the epiſtles of the Kings concerning the holy gifts.

14 Euen ſo Judas alſo gathered all thinges that came to paſſe by the warres that were among vs, which thinges we haue.
15 Wherefore if ye haue neede thereof, ſende ſome to fetch them vnto you.
16 Where as we then are about to celebrate þ purification, we haue written vnto you, and ye ſhal do wel, if ye kepe the ſame dayes.

17 We hope also that the God, which delivered all his people, and gaue an heritage to them all and the kingdome, and the Priesthode, and the Sanctuarie, Deut.30.5. 18 * As he promised in the lawe, will shortly haue mercie vpon vs, and gather vs together from vnder the heauen into his holy place: for he hath saued vs from great perils, and hath cleansed the place.

19 As concerning Judas Maccabeus, and his brethren, the purification of the great Temple, and the dedication of the altar,

20 And the warres against Antiochus Epiphanes, and Eupator his sonne, 21 And the manifest signes, þ came from heauen vnto thole, which manfully stood for the Jewes religion: (for though they were but fewe, yet they ranne through whole countreys, and pursued the barbarous armies, 22 And repaired þ Temple that was renowned throughout all the world, & delivered the citie, & established the Lawes, that were like to be abolished, because the Lorde was mercifull vnto them with all lenitie)

23 We will also to abridge in one volume those things, that Jason the Cyrenean hath declared in fiue bookes.

24 For considering the wonderfull number, & the difficultie that they haue that would be occupied in the rehearsall of stories, because of the diuersitie of the matters, 25 We haue indeuoured, þ they that would reade, might haue pleasure, and that they which are studious, might easely kepe them in memorie, & that whosoeuer reade them, might haue profite.

26 Therefore to vs that haue taken in hand this great labour, it was no easie thing to make this abbridgement, but required both sweat, and watching.

27 Like as he that maketh a feast, & seeketh other mens commoditie, hath no small labour: so we also for many mens sakes are very wel content to vndertake this great labour.

28 Leauing to the authour the exact diligence of euery particular, we will labour to goe forward according to the prescript order of an abbridgement.

29 For as he that will builde a newe house, must prouide for the whole building, but he that setteth out the plat or goeth about to paint it, seeketh but onely what is comely for the decking thereof:

30 Euen so I thinke for vs, that it appertaineth to the first writer of a storie to enter deepely into it, and to make mention of all things, and to be curious in euery part.

31 But it is permitted to him that will shorten it, to vse fewe wordes, and to auoyde those things that are curious therein.

32 Here then will we begin the storie, adding thus much to our former wordes, that it is but a foolish thing to abound in wordes before the storie, and to be short in the storie.

CHAP. III.

1 Of the honour done vnto the Temple by the Kings of the Gentiles. 6 Simon vttereth what treasure is in the Temple. 7 Heliodorus is sent to take them away. 26 He is stricken of God, and healed at the prayer of Onias.

1 WHat time as the holy citie was inhabited with all peace, & when the Lawes were very wel kept, because of the godlines of Onias the hie Priest, and hatred of wickednes,

2 It came to passe that euen the kings did honour the place, & garnished the Temple with great giftes.

3 In so much that Seleucus King of Asia of his own rentes, bare all the costs belonging to the seruice of the sacrifices.

4 But one Simon of the tribe of Beniamin being appointed ruler of the Temple, contended with the hie Priest concerning * the iniquitie committed in the citie. * or, the state and prouision.

5 And when he could not ouercome Onias, hee gate him to Apollonius the sonne of Thraseas, which then was gouernour of Coelosyria and Phenice,

6 And told him that the treasurie in Jerusalem was ful of vnmunerable money, which did not belong to the prouision of the sacrifices, and that it were possible that these things might come into the Kings hands.

7 Now when Apollonius came to the king, & had shewed him of the money, as it was told him, the king chose out Heliodorus his treasurer, and sent him with a commandement, to bring him the foresayd money.

8 Immediatly Heliodorus tooke his iourney as though he would visite the cities of Coelosyria and Phenice, but in effect to fulfill the kings purpose.

9 So when he came to Jerusalem, and was courteously receiued of the hie Priest into the citie, he declared what was determined concerning the money, & shewed the cause of his comming, and asked if these things were so in deede.

10 Then the hie Priest told him that there were such things layd vp by the widowes and fatherles,

11 And þ certaine of it belonged vnto Hircanus the sonne of Tobias a noble man, and not as that wicked Simon had reported, & that in all, there were but foure hundreth talents of siluer, and two hundreth of gold, 12 And that it were altogether vnpossible to do this wrong to them that had committed it of trust to the holines of the place & Temple, which is honoured throwout the whole world for holines and integritie.

13 But Heliodorus because of the kings commandement giuē him, said that in any wise it must be brought into the kings treasurie.

14 So he appointed a day, & went in to take order for these things: then there was no smal griefe throughout the whole citie.

15 For the Priests fell downe before the altar in the Priests garments, and called vnto heauen vpon him which had made a lawe concerning things giuen to be kept, that they should be safely preserued for such as had committed them to be kept.

16 Then they that looked the hie Priest in the face, were wounded in their heart: for his countenance, & the changing of his colour declared the sorowe of his minde.

17 The man was so wrapped in feare & trembling of the body, that it was manifest to them them that looked vpon him, what sorow he had in his heart.

18 Others also came out of their houses by heapes vnto the common prayer, because the place was like to come vnto contempt.

19 And the women, girt with sackcloth vnder their breasts, filled the streets, & the virgins that were kept in, ranne some to the gates, and some to the walles, and others looked out of the windowes.

20 And all helde vp their hands toward heauen, and made prayer.

21 It was a lamentable thing to see the multitude that fell downe of all sortes, and the expectation of the hie Priest being in such anguish.

22 Therefore they called vpon the almightie Lorde, that he would keepe safe and sure the things, which were layed vp for those that had deliuered them.

23 Neuertheles, the thing that Heliodorus was determined to do, that did he performe.

24 And as he & his souldiers were now there present by the treasurie, he that is þ Lord of the spirits, & of all power, shewed a great vision, so þ all they which presumed to come with him, were astonished at the power of God, and fell into feare, and trembling.

25 For there appeared vnto them an horse with a terrible man sitting vpon him, most richly barded, and he ranne fiercely, and smote at Heliodorus with his fore feete, & it seemed that he that sate vpon the horse, had harnesse of golde.

26 Moreouer, there appeared two yong men, notable in strength, excellent in beautie, and comely in apparell, which stoode by him on either side, & scourged him continually, and gaue him many sore stripes.

27 And Heliodorus fell suddenly vnto the ground, & was couered with great darkenesse: but they that were with him, tooke him vp, and put him in a litter.

28 Thus he that came with so great companie, and many souldiers into the said treasurie, was borne out: for he could not helpe himselfe with his weapons.

29 So they did know þ power of God manifestly, but he was dumme by the power of God, and lay destitute of all hope & health.

30 And they praysed the Lorde that had honoured his owne place: for the Temple which a litle afore was full of feare & trouble, when the almightie Lorde appeared, was filled with ioye and gladnes.

31 Then straightwaies certaine of Heliodorus friends prayed Onias, that he would call vpon the most High to graunt him his life, which lay readie to giue vp the ghost.

32 So the hie Priest, considering þ the King might suspect that the Iewes had done Heliodorus some [a] euill, he offered a sacrifice for the health of the man.

a In working some trecherie or sorcerie against him.

33 Nowe when the hie Priest had made his prayer, the same yong men in the same clothing appeared, and stoode beside Heliodorus, saying, Giue Onias þ hie Priest great thankes: for, for his sake hath the Lorde graunted thee thy life.

34 And seeing that thou hast bene scourged from heauen, declare vnto all men the mightie power of God: and when they had spoken these wordes, they appeared no more.

35 So Heliodorus offred vnto the Lord sacrifice, & made great vowes vnto him, which had graunted him his life, & thanked Onias, and went againe with his hoste to the king.

36 Then testified he vnto euery man of the great workes of God that he had seene with his eyes.

37 And when the king asked Heliodorus, who were meete to be sent yet once againe to Ierusalem, he sayd, 38 If thou hast any enemie or traitor, sende him thither, & thou shalt receiue him well scourged, if he escape with his life: for in that place, no doubt, there is a speciall power of God.

39 For he þ dwelleth in heauen, hath his eye on that place, & defendeth it, and he beateth and destroyeth them that come to hurt it.

40 This came to passe concerning Heliodorus, and the keeping of the treasurie.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Simon reporteth euill of Onias. 7 Iason obtaineth the office of the hie Priest by corrupting the king, 27 And was by Menelaus displaced by like bribing. 34 Onias is slayne trayterously by Andronicus.

1 This Simon nowe, of whome we spake afore, being a bewrayer of the money and of his owne naturall countrey, reported euill of Onias, as though he had moued Heliodorus vnto this, and had bene the inuenter of the euill.

2 Thus was he bold to cal him a traitor, that was so beneficial to the citie, and a defender of his nation, and so zealous of the Lawes.

3 But when his malice increased so farre, that though one that belonged to Simon, murthers were committed,

4 Onias considering the danger of this contention, & that Apollonius, as he that was the gouernour of Coelosyria & Phenice, did rage, and increased Simons malice,

5 He went to the king not as an accuser of the citizens, but as one that intended the common wealth both priuately & publikely.

6 For he saw it was not possible, except the king tooke order, to quiet the matters, and that Simon would not leaue of his folie.

7 But after the death of Seleucus, when Antiochus, called Epiphanes, tooke the kingdome, Iason the brother of Onias laboured by vnlawfull meanes to be hie Priest,

8 For he came vnto the king, & promised him three hundreth and three score talents of siluer, and of an other rent, foure score talents.

9 Besides this he promised him an hundreth and fiftie, if he might haue licence to set vp a place for exercise, and a place for the youth, and that they would [a] name them of Ierusalem Antiochians.

a Or, that he would write the Antiochians that were at Ierusalem, among them.

10 The which thing when þ king had graunted, & he had gotten the superiorite, he began immediatly to drawe his kinsmen to the customes of the Gentiles,

11 And abolished þ friendly priuileges of the kings, that the Iewes had set vp by John, the father of Eupolemus, which was sent ambassadour vnto Rome, to become frends

and cõfederates: he put downe their lawes and policies, and brought vp new statutes, and contrarie to the Lawe.

12 For hee presumed to build a place of exercise vnder the castel, and brought the chiefe yong men vnder his subiection, and made them were 'hattes.

13 So there began a great desire to folow the maners of the Gentiles, & they toke vp þ facions of strange nations by the exceeding wickednes of Iason, not the hie Priest, but the vngodly person, 14 So that the Priests were nowe no more diligent about the seruice of the altar, but despised the Temple, & regarded not the sacrifices, but made haste to be partakers of the wicked expenses at the playe 'after the casting of the stone.

15 For they did not set by the honour of their fathers, but liked the glory of the Gentiles best of all.

16 By reason whereof great calamitie came vpon them: for they had them to be their enemies & punishers, whose customs they followed so earnestly, and desired to be like them in all things.

17 For it is not a light thing to transgresse against the Lawes of God: but the time following shal declare these things.

18 ¶ Now when the 'games that were vsed euery fiue yere, were played at Tyrus, the king being present, 19 This wicked Iason sent from Ierusalem men to looke vpon thē, as though they had bin Antiochians, which brought three hundreth drachmes of siluer for a sacrifice to Hercules: albeit they that caried them, desired they might not be bestowed on the sacrifice (because it was not comely) but to be bestowed for other expenses.

20 So he that sent them, sent them for the sacrifice of Hercules: but because of those that brought them, they were giuen to the making of galleies.

21 ¶ Howbe Apollonius the sonne of Menestheus was sent into Egypt because of the coronation of king Ptolemeus Philometor: but when Antiochus perceiued that he was euill affectioned toward his affaires, he sought his owne assurance, & departed frō thence to Ioppe, & so came to Ierusalē.

22 Where hee was honourably receiued of Iason, & of the citie, & was brought in with torchlight, & with great shoutings, and so he went with his hoste vnto Phenice.

23 Three yere afterward Iason sent Menelaus, the foresaid Simons brother, to beare the money vnto the king, & to bring to passe certaine necessary affaires, wherof he had giuen him a memorial.

24 But he, being cõmended to the king, magnified him for the appearance of his power, and turned the Priesthode vnto him selfe: for he gaue three hundreth talents of siluer more then Iason.

25 So he gate the kings 'letters patents, albeit he had nothing in him selfe worthie of the hie Priesthode, but bare the stomacke of a cruel tyrant, & þ wrath of a wilde beast.

26 Then Iason, which had deceiued his own brother, being deceiued by another, was compelled to flee into the countrey of the Ammonites.

27 So Menelaus gate the dominion: but as for the money þ hee had promised vnto the king, he toke none order for it, albeit Sostratus the ruler of the castel required it.

28 For vnto him appertened the gathering of the customes: wherefore they were both called before the king.

30 ¶ Whiles these things were in doing, the Tharsians and they of Mallot made insurrection, because they were giuen to þ kings concubine called Antiochis.

31 Then came the king in al haste, to appease the businesse, leauing Andronicus a man of authoritie to be his lieutenant.

32 Now Menelaus, supposing þ he had gotten a conuenient time, stole certaine vessels of gold out of the Temple, & gaue certaine of them to Andronicus: & some he solde at Tyrus and in the cities thereby.

33 Which when Onias knew of a suertie, he reproued him, & withdrewe him selfe into a Sanctuarie at Daphne by Antiochia.

34 Wherefore Menelaus, taking Andronicus aparte, prayed him to slay Onias: so when he came to Onias, he counseled him craftily, giuing him his right hande with an oth: (howbeit he suspect him, & perswaded him to come out of the Sanctuarie) so he slewe him incontinently without any regarde of rightousnes.

35 For the which cause not only the Iewes, but many other nations also were grieued, & toke it heauily for the vnrighteous death of this man.

36 ¶ And when þ king was come againe from the places about Cilicia, the Iewes þ were in the citie, and certaine of the Grekes that abhorred the fact also, complained because Onias was slaine without cause.

37 Therefore Antiochus was sorie in his minde, and he had compassion, and wept because of the modestie and great discretion of him that was dead.

38 Wherefore being kindled vñ anger, he toke away Andronicus garment of purple, and rent his clothes, and commanded him to be led throughout the citie, & in the same place where he had committed the wickednes against Onias, he was slayne as a murtherer. Thus the Lord rewarded him his punishment, as he had deserued.

39 ¶ Now whē Lysimachus had done many wicked deedes in the citie through the cõsel of Menelaus, and the bruite was spred abroade, the multitude gathered them together against Lysimachus: for he had caried out nowe much vessel of golde.

40 And when the people arose, and were ful of anger, Lysimachus armed about three thousand, & began to vse vnlawful power, a certaine tyrant being their captaine, who was no lesse decaped in witte then in age.

41 But when they vnderstood the purpose of Lysimas 'Or, hattes in token of wantonnesse as the Gentiles did.

a This game was to trie strength by casting a stone that had an hole in the mids, or a piece of metall.

'Or, Olympian sportes, which were games kept euery fifth yere.

'Or, cõmandements.

b That is, of thē that measured the corne.

Lysimachus, some gate stones, some great clubbes, & some cast handfuls of dust, which lay vp, vpon Lysimachus men, & those that inuaded them.

42 Wherevp many of them were wounded, some were slayne, and al the other chased as wap: but the wicked Churchrobber himselfe, they killed besides the treasurie.

43 For these causes an accusation was laide against Menelaus.

44 And when the king came to Tyrus, three men sent from þ Senate pleaded the cause before him.

45 But Menelaus, being nowe conuinced, promised to Ptolemeus the sonne of Dorimenes much money, if he would perswade the King.

46 So Ptolemeus went to the king into a court, where as he was to cole him selfe, and turned the kings minde.

47 In so much that he discharged Menelaus from the accusations (notwithstanding he was the cause of al mischiefe) and condemned those poore men to death, which if they had tolde their cause, yea, before the Scythians, they should haue bin heard as innocet.

48 Thus were they soone punished vnrustly, which folowed vpon þ matter for the citie, & for the people, and for the holy vessels.

49 Wherefore they of Tyrus hated that wickednes, and ministred all thinges liberally for their burial.

50 And so though the couetousnes of them that were in power, Menelaus remained in authoritie, increasing in malice, & declared him selfe a great traitour to the citizens.

CHAP. V.

2 Of the signes and tokens seene in Ierusalem. 6 Of the end and wickednes of Iason. 11 The pursuite of Antiochus against the Iewes. 15 The spoiling of the Temple. 27 Maccabeus fleeth into the wildernes.

1 ABout the same time Antiochus vndertooke his secõd vopage into Egypt.

2 And then were there seene throughout all the citie of Ierusalem, fourtie dayes long, horsemen running in the aire, with robes of gold, and as bands of speare men,

3 And as troupes of horsemen set in arrap, incountering and coursing one against another with shaking of sheildes and multitude of darres, and drawing of swords, and shooting of arrowes, and the glittering of the golden armour seene, and harnesse of all sortes.

4 Therefore euery man prayed, that those tokens might turne to good.

5 Now whē there was gone forth a false rumour, as though Antiochus had bin dead, Iason tooke at the least a thousand mē, and came suddenly vpon the citie, and they that were vpon the walles, being put backe and the citie at length taken,

6 Menelaus fled into þ castel, but Iason slew his owne citizens without mercie, not considering that to haue the aduantage against his kinsmen is greatest disaduantage, but thought that he had gotten the victorie of his enemies, and not of his owne nation.

7 Yet he gate not the superioritie, but at the last receiued shame for the rewarde of his treason, and went againe like a vagabond into the countrey of the Ammonites.

8 Finally he had this end of his wicked conuersation, that he was *accused before Aretas, the king of the Arabians, & fled frō citie to citie, being pursued of euery man, & hated as a forsaker of the Lawes, & was in abomination, as an enemie of his countrey and citizens, and was driuen into Egypt. Or, about.

9 Thus he that had chased many out of their owne countrey, perished as a banished mā, after that he was gone to the Lacedemonians, thinking there to haue gotten succour by reason of kinred.

10 And he that had cast many out vnburied, was throwen out him selfe, no man mourning for him, nor putting him in his graue: neither was he partaker of his fathers sepulchre.

11 ¶ Nowe when these thinges þ were done, were declared to the King, he thought that Iudea would haue fallen from him: wherefore he came with a furious minde out of Egypt, and tooke the citie by violence.

12 He cōmanded his men of warre also, that they should kill, and not spare such as they met, & to slay such as wēt into their houses.

13 Thus was there a slaughter of yong men, and olde men, & a destruction of men, women and children, and virgins, and infants were murthered.

14 So that within three dayes were slayne fowre score thousand, and fourtie thousand taken prisoners, and there were as many sold as were slaine.

15 Yet was he not cōtent with this, but durst go into þ most holy Temple of all the worlde, hauing Menelaus þ traitour to the Lawes, and to his owne countrey, to be his guide, 16 And with his wicked hands tooke the holy vessels, which other kings had giuen for the garnishing, glorie and honour of that place, and handled them with his wicked hands.

17 So hautie in his minde was Antiochus, that he considered not, that God was not a little wroth for the sinnes of thē that dwelt in the citie, for the which such contempt came vpon that place.

18 For if they had not bene wrapped in many sinnes, he, assoone as he had come, had suddenly bene punished, & put backe from his presumption, as Heliodorus was, whom Seleucus the king sent to viewe þ treasury.

19 But God hath not chosen the nation for the places sake, but the place for the nations sake.

20 And therefore is þ place become partaker of the peoples trouble, but afterward shal it be partaker of þ benefits of the Lord, & as it is now forsaken in the wrath of þ Almightie, so when the great Lord shalbe reconciled, it shalbe set vp in great worship againe.

21 ¶ So when Antiochus had taken eightene hundred talents out of the Temple, he gate him to Antiochia in al haste, thinking in his pride to make men sayle vpon the drie land, & to walke vpon the sea: such an hie minde had he.

22 But he left deputies to ver þ people: at Ierusalē Philip a Phrygian by birth, in manners yers more cruel then he that set him there:

23 And at Garizin Andronicus, & with the Menelaus, which was more grieuous to þ citizens then the other, & was delyterfull against the Jewes his citizens.
24 He sent also Apollonius a cruel prince, with an armie of two & twentie thousand, whom he cõmanded to slay those that were toward mans age, and to sell the women, and the ponger sorte.
25 So when he came to Jerusalem, he fained peace, and kept him still until the holie day of Sabbath: & then finding the Jewes képing the feast, he commaunded his men to take their weapons.
26 And so he slew all them that were gone forth to the shew, and running through the citie with his men armed, hée murthered a great number.
27 But Judas Maccabeus, being as it were the tenth, fled into the wilderness, and lined there in the mountaines with his companie among the beasts, & dwelling there, and eating grasse, least they should be partakers of the filthines.

CHAP. VI.

1 The Iewes are compelled to leaue the Lawes of God. 4 The Temple is defiled. 10 The women cruelly punished. 21 The grieuous payne of Eleazarus.

1 NOt long after this, sent þ King an old mã of Athens, for to cõpell þ Iewes to trãsgresse the Lawes of the fathers, & not to be governed by the Law of God,
2 And to defile the Témple that was at Jerusalem, and to call it the temple of Jupiter Olympius, and that of Garizim, accoýding as they did that dwelt at that place, Jupiter, that kéepeth hospitalitie.
3 This wicked gouernement was sore and grieuous vnto the people.
4 For the Temple was full of dissolution, & gluttonie of the Gentiles, which dallied with harlots, & had to do with women within the circuit of the holy places, and brought in such things as were not lawful.
5 The altar also was full of such things, as were abominable & forbidden by the Law.
6 Neither was it lawefull to kéepe the Sabbaths, nor to obserue their auncient feastes, nor plainly to confesse him selfe to be a Iewe.
7 In the day of þ Kings birth they were grieuously cõpelled perforce euery moneth to banket, & when the feast of Bacchus was kept, they were cõstrained to goe in þ procession of Bacchus with garlands of yuie.
8 Moreouer through the counsel of Ptolemeus, there went out a cõmandemẽt vnto the next cities of þ heathẽ against þ Iewes, that the like customs, & banketting should be kept.
9 And who so would not conforme themselues to the maners of the Gentiles, should be put to death: then might a man haue séene the present miserie.
10 For there were two womẽ brought forth, þ had circumcised their sonnes, who when they had led round about the citie (þ babes hanging at their breasts) thei cast thẽ down headlong ouer the walles.
11 Some þ were runne together into dennes to kéepe þ Sabboth day secretly, were discouered vnto Philippe, & were burnt together, because that for the reuerence of þ honourable day they were afraid to help thẽ selues.
12 ¶ Now I beséeche those which reade this booke, þ they bee not discouraged for these calamities, but that they iudge these afflictions, not to be for destruction, but for a chastening of our nation.
13 For it is a token of his great goodnes not to suffer sinners long to continue, but straightwayes to punish them.
14 For the Lord doth not long wait for vs, as for other nations, whom he punisheth when they are come to the fulnes of their sinnes.
15 But thus he dealeth with vs, that our sinnes should not be heaped vp to the full, so that afterward he should punish vs.
16 And therefore he neuer withdraweth his mercie frõ vs: & though he punish with aduersitie, yet doeth he neuer forsake his people.
17 But let this be spoken now for a warning vnto vs: and now will we come to the declaring of the matter in fewe wordes.
18 ¶ Eleazar then one of the principal scribes, an aged man, & of a well fauoured countenãce, was constrained to open his mouth, and to eate swines flesh.
19 But he desiring rather to dye gloriously then to liue with hatred, offred himself willingly to the torment, and spit it out:
20 As they ought to go to death which suffer punishment for such things, as it is not lawefull to taste of for the desire to liue.
21 But they þ had the charge of this wicked banket, for that olde friendship of the man, tooke him aside priuily, & prayed him, that he would take such flesh, as was lawfull for him to vse, & as he wold prepare for himselfe, and dissemble as though he had eaten of the things appointed by the King, euen the flesh of the sacrifice,
22 That in so doing he might be deliuered frõ death, & that for the olde friendship þ was among them, he would receiue this fauour.
23 But he began to consider discretely, & as became his age, & the excellencie of his ancient yeeres, and the honour of his grape heares, whereunto he was come, and his most honest conuersation from his childehode, but chiefly the holy Lawe made and giuen by God: therefore he answered consequently, and willed them straightwayes to sende him to the graue.
24 For it becõmeth not our age, said he, to dissemble, whereby many yong persons might thinke, þ Eleazar being fourescore yere old & ten were nowe gone to another religion, 25 And so through mine hypocrisie (for a little time of a trãsitorie life) they might be deceiued by me, and I should procure malediction, and reproche to mine olde age.
26 For though I were now deliuered from þ torments of men, yet could I not escape the hand of þ Almightie, neither aliue nor dead.
27 Wherefore I will nowe change this life manfully, and will shewe my selfe such as mine age requireth.

1 or, Antiochus.

9 or, eating of the flesh that was sacrificed

24 Or, to another maner of life.

28 And so will leaue a notable exampie for such as be pong, to die willingly and courageously for the honourable & holy lawes. And when he had said these wordes, immediatly he went to torment.

29 Now they that led him, changed the loue which they bare him before, into hatred, because of the wordes that he had spoken: for they thought it had bene a rage.

30 And as he was ready to giue the ghost because of the strokes, he sighed & said, The Lord þ hath the holy knowledge, knoweth manifestly, þ whereas I might haue bene deliuered from death, I am scourged & suffer these sore paines of my body: but in my minde I suffer them gladly for his religiō.

31 Euen now after this maner ended he his life, leauing his death for an exāple of a noble courage, & a memorial of vertue, not only vnto pong men, but vnto all his nation.

CHAP. VII.

The punishment of the seuen brethren & of their mother.

1 IT came to passe also that seuen brethren, with their mother, were taken to be compelled by the king against the Law, to tast swines flesh, & were tormented with scourges and whippes.

2 But one of the, which spake first, said thus, What seekest thou? & what wouldest thou know of vs? we are ready to die, rather the to transgresse the lawes of our fathers.

3 Then was the king angrie, & commanded to heate paunes & cauldrons, which were incontinently made hote.

4 And he cōmanded the tongue of him that spake first, to be cut out, and to flap him & to cut off the vttmost partes of his body in the sight of his other brethren and his mother.

5 Now whē he was thus mangled in al his members, he cōmanded him to be brought alue to the fire & to fry him in the panne: & while the smoke for a long time smoked out of the panne, the other brethren with their mother, exhorted one another to dye courageously, saying in this maner,

6 The Lord God doeth regard vs, & in deede taketh pleasure in vs, as Moyses* declared in þ song wherin he testified openly, saying, That God wil take pleasure in his seruāts. Deu. 32. 36.

7 ¶ So whē the first was dead after this maner, they brought the second to make him a mocking stock: & when they had pulled the skinne with þ heare ouer his head, they asked him, if he wouldē eate, or he were punished in all the members of the bodie.

8 But he answered in his own language, & said, No. Wherfore he was tormēted forthwith like the first.

9 And whē he was at the last breath, he said, Thou murtherer takest this present life frō vs, but the king of the world will raise vs vp, which die for his Lawes, in the resurrection of euerlasting life.

10 ¶ After him was the third had in derision, & when they demanded his tongue, he put it out incontinently, and stretched forth his handes boldly, 11 And spake manfully, These haue I had frō the heauen, but now for the Law of God, I despise them, and trust that I shall receiue them of him againe.

12 Insomuch that the King and they which were with him, marueled at þ pong mās courage, as at one that nothing regarded the paines.

13 ¶ Now when he was dead also, they vexed and tormented the fourth in like maner.

14 And when he was nowe ready to die, he said thus, It is better þ we should change this which we might hope for of men, and wayt for our hope from God, that we may be raised vp againe by him: as for thee, thou shalt haue no resurrection to life.

15 ¶ Afterward they brought the fift also and tormented him, 16 Who looked vpon the King, and saide, Thou hast power among men, and though thou be a mortall man, thou doest what thou wilt: but thinke not, that God hath forsaken our nation.

17 But abide a while, and þ shalt see his great power, how he wil torment thee & thy sed.

18 After him also they brought þ 6irt, who being at the point of death, said, Deceiue not thy self foolishly: for we suffer these things, which are worthy to be wōdred at for our own sakes, because we haue offended our God.

19 But thinke not thou, which vndertakest to fight against God, that thou shalt be vnpunished.

20 But þ mother was marueilous aboue al other, & worthy of honorable memorie: for whē she saw her seuen sonnes slain within the space of one day, she suffred it with a good wil, because of the hope þ she had in the Lord.

21 Yea, she exhorted euery one of them in her own language, & being ful of courage & wisdome, stirred vp her womanly affections with a manly stomacke, & said vnto them,

22 I cannot tel how ye came into my wōbe: for I neither gaue you breath nor life: it is not I that set in order the mēbers of your body,

23 But doubtlesse the Creator of the worlde, which formed the birth of man, and found out the beginning of al thinges, will also of his own mercy giue you breath & life again, as ye now regard not your own selues, for his Lawes sake.

24 Now Antiochus thinking himselfe despised, & cōsidering the iniurious words, while þ pongest was yet alue, he did exhort him not onely with words, but swore also vnto him by an othe that he would make him rich & welthie, if he would forsake þ Lawes of his fathers, & that he would take him as a friend, and giue him offices:

25 But when the pong man would in no case hearken vnto him, the king called his mother, and exhorted that she would counsell the pong man to saue his life.

26 And when he had exhorted her with many wordes, shee promised him that she wouldē counsell her sonne.

27 So she turned her vnto him, laughing the cruel tyrant to scorne, & spake in her owne language, O my sonne, haue pitie vpō me, that bare thē nine moneths in my wōbe, & gaue thē sucke thre yēres, and nourished then,

ther, and tooke care for thee vnto this age, and brought thee vp.
28 I beseech thee, my sonne, looke vpon the heauen & the earth, & all that is therein, and consider that God made thē of things that were not, & so was mākind made likewise.
29 Feare not this hangman, but shewe thy self worthie such brethē by suffring death, that I may receiue thee in mercy with thy brethren.
30 While she was yet speaking these words, the yong man saide, Whom wait ye for? I will not obey the kings cōmandement: but I will obey the commandemēt of the Law þ was giuen vnto our fathers by Moyses.
31 And thou that imaginest all mischiefe against the Hebrewes, shalt not escape the hand of God.
32 For we suffer these things, because of our sinnes,
33 But though the liuing Lorde be angrie with vs a litle while for our chastening & correction, yet will hee be reconciled with his owne seruants.
34 But thou, O man without religion and most wicked of all men, lift not thy selfe vp in vaine, which art puffed vp with vncertaine hope, and liftest thine handes against the seruants of God.
35 For thou hast not yet escaped the iudgemēt of almightie god, which seeth all things.
36 My brethren þ haue suffered a litle paine, are now vnder the diuine couenāt of euerlasting life: but thou through the iudgement of God, shalt suffer iust punishments for thy pride.
37 Therefore I, as my brethren haue done, offer my body and life for the Lawes of our fathers, beseeching God, that he will soone be merciful vnto our nation, and that thou by torment and punishment mayest confesse, that he is the only God, 38 And that in me & my brethren the wrath of the Almightie, which is righteously falle vpon all our nation, may cease.
39 Then the king being kindled with anger, raged more cruelly against him then the others, and tooke it grieuously, that he was mocked.
40 So he also died holily, & put his whole trust in the Lord.
41 Last of all after the sonnes, was the mother put to death.
42 Let this nowe be enough spoken concerning the bankets, and extreme cruelties.

CHAP VIII.

1 Iudas gathereth together his hoste. 9 Nicanor is sent against Iudas. 16 Iudas exhorteth his soulldiers to constancie. 20 Nicanor is ouercome. 27 The Iewes giue thanks, after they haue put their enemies to flight, diuiding part of the spoyles vnto the fatherles and vnto the widowes. 30 Timotheus and Bacchides are discomfited. 35 Nicanor fleeth vnto Antiochus.

1 THen Iudas Maccabeus, and they that were with him, went priuily into the townes, and called their kinsfolkes and friends together, and tooke vnto them al such as continued in the Iewes religion, and assembled fiue thousand men.
2 So they called vpon the Lord, þ he would haue an eye vnto his people, which was vexed of euery man, & haue pitie vpon the Temple that was defiled by wicked men,
3 And that he would haue compassion vpon the citie þ was destroyed, & almost brought to the ground, and that he would heare the voyce of the blood that cryed vnto him,
4 And that he would remember the wicked slaughter of the innocent children, and the blasphemies cōmitted against his Name, & that he would shewe his hatred against the wicked.
5 Now when Maccabeus had gathered this multitude, he could not be withstand by þ heathen: for the wrath of the Lorde was turned into mercie.
6 Therefore he came at vnwares, & burnt vp the townes and cities: yet here tooke the most commodious places, and slew many of the enemies.
7 But specially he vsed the nightes to make such assaults, insomuch that the fame of his manlinesse was spred euery where.
8 ¶ So when Philip saw that this man increased by litle & litle, & that things prospered with him for þ most part, he wrote vnto Ptolemeus the gouernour of Coelosyria & Phenice, to help him in the kings business.
9 Then sent he speedily Nicanor, the sonne of Patrocius, a special friende of his, & gaue him of al nations of þ heathen no lesse then twentie thousand men, to roote out the whole generation of the Iewes, & ioyned with him Gorgias a captaine, which in matters of warre had great experience.
10 Nicanor ordeined also a tribute for the king of two thousand talents, which the Romaines should haue, to be taken of the Iewes that were taken prisoners.
11 Therefore immediatly he sent to the cities on þ sea coast, prouoking thē to bye Iewes to be their seruants, promising to sell foure score and ten for one talent: but he considered not the vengeance of almightie God, that should come vpon him.
12 When Iudas then knewe of Nicanors comming, he tolde them that were with him, of the comming of the armie.
13 Now were there some of them fearefull, which trusted not vnto the righteousnes of God, but fled away, & abode not in þ place.
14 But the other solde all that they had left, and besought the Lord together, to deliuer them from that wicked Nicanor, which had solde them, or euer he came nere them.
15 And though he would not doe it for their sakes, yet for the couenant made with their fathers, and because they called vpon his holy and glorious Name.
16 And so Maccabeus called his mē together about fiue thousand, exhorting the not to be afraid of their enemies, neither to feare þ great multitude of þ Gētiles, which came against thē vnrighteously, but to fight manly,
17 Setting before their eyes the iniurie that they had vniustly done to the holy place, & the crueltie done to the citie by derision, & the destruction of the orders established by their fathers.
18 For they, said he, trust in their weapons &

holdnes: but our confidence is in þ almightie God, which at a becke can both destroy thē that come against vs, and all the world.

19 Moreouer he admonished them of the helpe þ God shewed vnto their fathers, as when there perished an hundreth and fourescore, and fiue thousand vnder* Sennacherib.

*2. King. 19. 35. Isa. 37. 36. Ecclus. 48. 21. 2 Mac. 7. 41.

20 And of the battel þ they had in Babylon against þ Galatians, how they came in al to the battel[a] eight thousand, wt foure thousand Macedonians: & when the Macedonians were astonished, þ eight thousand slew an hundreth & twentie thousand through þ helpe þ was giuen thē from heauen, wherby they had receiued many benefites.

21 Thus when hee had made them bolde with these wordes, and readie to die for the Lawes and the countrey, he deuided his armie into foure parts, 22 And made his owne brethren captaines ouer the armie, to wit, Simon, and Joseph and Jonathan, giuing eche one fiftene hundreth men.

23 And when Eleazarus had read the holy booke, and giuen them a token of the helpe of God, Iudas which led the forward, ioyned with Nicanor,

24 And because the Almightie helped them, they slewe aboue nine thousand men, and wounded & maimed the most part of Nicanors hoste, and so put all to flight, 25 And tooke the money from those that came to buy them, & pursued them farre: but lacking time they returned.

26 For it was the day before the Sabbath, & therefore they would no longer pursue the.

27 So they tooke their weapons, & spoiled the enemies, and kept the Sabbath, giuing thankes & praysing the Lord wonderfully, which had delmered them þ day, & powred vpon them the beginning of his mercy.

28 And after the Sabbath,* they distributed the spoyles to the sicke, & to the fatherlesse, and to the widowes, and deuided the residue among them selues and their children.

*Num. 31. 27. 1. Sam. 30. 24.

29 When this was done, and they all had made a generall prayer, they besought the mercifull Lord to be reconciled at the length with his seruants.

30 Afterward with one consent they fel vpō Timotheus & Bacchides, and slew aboue twentie thousād, & wan hie & strong holds, & deuided great spoiles, and gaue an equal portion vnto the sicke, & to the fatherlesse, & to the widowes, and to aged persons also.

31 Moreouer they gathered their weapons together, & layd them vp diligently in conuenient places, and brought the remnant of the spoyles to Jerusalem.

32 They slewe also Philarches a most wicked person, which was with Timotheus, & had vexed the Jewes many waies.

33 And when they kept the feast of victorie in their countrey, they burnt Callisthenes that had set fire vpon the holy gates, which was fled into a litle house: so he receiued a reward meete for his wickednes.

34 And that most wicked Nicanor, which had brought a thousand marchants to buy the Jewes, 35 Be was through the helpe of the Lord brought downe of them whom he thought as nothing, in so much that he put off his glorious rayment, and fled ouerthwart the countrey like a fugitiue seruant, & came alone to Antiochia, with great dishonour through the destruction of his hoste.

36 Thus he that promised to pay tribute to the Romaines, by meanes of the prisoners of Jerusalem, brought newes, þ the Jewes had a[a] defender, and for this cause none could hurt the Jewes, because they followed the lawes appointed by him.

[a] Or, God their defender.

CHAP. IX.

1 Antiochus willing to spoyle Persepolis, is put to flight. 5 As he persecuteth the Iewes, he is stricken of the Lord. 13 The fained repentance of Antiochus. 28 He dyeth miserably.

1 At the same time, came Antiochus again with dishonour out of the countrey of Persia.

2 For when he came to Persepolis, & went about to rob the Temple, & to subdue the city, the people ran in a rage to defend themselues with their weapons, & put them to flight, and Antiochus was put to flight by the inhabitants, and returned with shame.

3 Nowe when he came to Ecbatane, he vnderstood the things that had come vnto Nicanor, and Timotheus.

4 And thē being chafed in his mme, he thoght to impute to þ Jews their fault, which had put him to flight, & therefore cōmanded his charet man to dyue continually, & to dispatch the iourney: for Gods iudgemēt cōpelled him: for he had said thus in his pride, I wil make Jerusalem a cōmon burying place of the Jewes, when I come thither.

5 But the Lord almighty and God of Israel smote him with an incurable and inuisible plague: for as soone as hee had spoken these wordes, a paine of the bowels, that was remediless, came vpon him, and sore torments of the inner partes,

6 And that most iustly: for he had tormented other mens bowels with diuers, & strange torments.

7 Howbeit he would in no wise cease from his arrogancie, but swelled the more with pride, breathing out fire in his rage against the Jewes, and commanded to haste the iourney: but it came to passe that he fell downe from the charet that ranne swiftly, so that al the members of his body were bruised with the great fall.

8 And thus he that a litle afore thought hee might commaund the floudes of the sea (so proud was he beyond the conditiō of man) and to weigh the high mountaines in the balance, was now cast on the ground, and carped in an horselitter, declaring vnto all the manifest power of God,

9 *So that the wormes came out of the body of this wicked man in abundance: and whiles he was aliue, his flesh fell off for paine and torment, and al his armie was grieued at his [a] smell.

*All. 12. 23.

[a] Or, rottenesse.

10 Thus no man could beare because of his stincke, him that a litle afore thought he might reach to the starres of heauen.

11 Then

11 Then he began to leane off his great pride, and selfewill, when hee was plagued and came to the knowledge of him selfe by the scourge of God, and by his pame which increased euerie moment.
12 And whē he him selfe might not abide his owne stinke, he said these wordes, It is méete to be subiect vnto God, & that a man which is mortall, shoulde not thinke him selfe equall vnto God through pride.
13 This wicked person prayed also vnto the Lorde, who would nowe haue no mercy on him, 14 And saide thus, þ hee would set at libertie the holie citie vnto the which he made haste to destrope it, & to make it a burping place.
15 And as touching the Jewes (whom he had iudged not worthie to be burped, but would haue cast them out with their children to bē deuoured of the fowles & wilde beastes) hē would make them all like the citizens of Athenes.
16 And where as he had spoyled the holy Temple afore, he woulde garnishe it with great gifts, and increase the holie vessels, & of his owne rents beare the charges belonging to the sacrifices.
17 Yea, & that he would also become a Jewe himselfe, & goe thorow al the world that was inhabited, and preach the power of God.
18 But for al this his paines would not cease: for the iust iudgemēt of God was come vpō him: therefore despairing of his health, hee wrote vnto þ Jewes this letter vnder written, containing the forme of a supplication.
19 ¶ THE KING and prince Antiochus vnto the Jewes his louing citizēs, wisheth much ioye and health and prosperitie.
20 If ye and your children fare wel, and if al things goe after your minde, I giue great thāks vnto God hauing hope in the heauē.
21 Though I lye sicke, yet I am mindeful of your honour, and good will for the loue I beare you: therefore when I returned from the countrey of Persia, and fell into a sore disease, I thought it necessarie to care for the common saftie of all,
22 Not distrusting mine health, but hauing great hope to escape this sickenes.
23 Therefore cōsidering that when my father led an hoste against the high countreies, hee appointed who should succēde him:
24 That if any controuersie happened contrarie to his expectation, or if that any tidings were brought that were grieuous, they in the land might knowe to whom the affayres were committed, that they shoulde not bē troubled.
25 Againe, when I ponder how that the gouernours, that are borderers, and neighbours vnto my kingdome, waite for all occasions, and looke but for opportunitie, I haue ordeined that my sonne Antiochus shalbe king, whom I oft commended and committed to many of you, when I went into the hie prouinces, and haue written vnto him as followeth hereafter.
26 Therefore, I pray you, and require you to remēber þ benefites that I haue done vnto you generally, & particularly, & that euerie man wil be faithful to me and to my sonne, 27 For I trust that he wilbe gentle, & louing vnto you according to my minde.
28 ¶ Thus the murtherer and blasphemer suffered most grieuously, and as he had intreated other men, so he dyed a miserable death in a strange countrey among the mountaines.
29 And Philippe that was brought vp with him, carped away his body, who fearing the sonne of Antiochus, went into Egypt to Ptolemeus Philometor.

CHAP. X.

1 Judas Maccabeus taketh the citie and the Temple. 10 The altes of Eupator. 16 The Iewes fight against the Idumeans. 24 Timotheus inuadeth Iudea, with who Judas ioyneth battel. 29 Fiue men appeare in the aire to the helpe of the Iewes. 37 Timotheus is slaine.

1 MAccabeus now and his companie, through the helpe of the Lord, wanne the Temple and the citie againe,
2 And destroied the altars, and chappels that the heathen had builded in the open places,
3 And cleansed the Temple, and made another altar, and burned stones, & tooke fire of thē, and offred sacrifices, & incense two yeres, & sixe moneths after, & set forth the lampes, and the shewbread.
4 When that was done, they fell down flatte vpon the ground, & besought the Lord, that they might come no more into such troubles: but if they sinned any more against him, þ he himselfe would chasten thē with mercie, & that they might not bē deliuered to the blasphemous, & barbarous nations.
5 Nowe vpon the same day, þ the strangers polluted the Temple, on þ verie same day it was cleansed againe euen þ fiue & twentieth day of the same moneth, which is Chaseu. 1 or, Nouember.
6 They kept eight dayes with gladnes as in the feast of the Tabernacles, remembring, that not long afore they held the feast of the Tabernacles when they liued in the mountaines and dennes like beastes.
7 And for the same cause they bare grēne boughs, and faire branches & palmes, and sang psalmes vnto him that had giuen thē good successe in cleansing his place.
8 They ordeined also by a commō statute, & decree that euery yere those dayes shoulde be kept of the whole nation of the Jewes.
9 And this was the ende of Antiochus called Epiphanes.
10 ¶ Nowe will we declare the actes of Antiochus Eupator, which was the sonne of this wicked man, gathering briefly the calamities of the warres, that followed.
11 For when hee had taken the kingdome, he made one Lysias, which had bene captaine of the host in Phenice, and Coelosyria, ruler ouer the affaires of the realme.
12 For Ptolemeus that was called Macron, purposed to do iustice vnto the Jewes for the wrong, that had bene done vnto thē, and went about to behaue himselfe peaceably with them.
13 For the which cause he was accused of his friends before Eupator, and was called oft times traitour, because hee had left Cyprus that Philometor had committed vnto him, and came to Antiochus Epiphanes: therefore seeing that he was no more in estimation, he was discouraged, and poysoned him selfe, and died.

14 ¶ But when Gorgias was gouernour of the same places, he intertained strangers, & made warre oft times against the Iewes.

15 Moreouer the Idumeans that helde the strong holdes, which were méte for their purpose, troubled the Iewes, and by receiuing them that were driuen from Ierusalem, tooke in hande to continue warre.

16 Then they that were with Maccabeus made prayers, and besought God that he would be their helper, and so they fell vpon the strong holdes of the Idumeans, 17 And assaulted them sore, that they wanne the places, & slewe all þ fought against them on the wall, & killed all that they met with, and slewe no lesse then twentie thousand.

18 And because certain (which were no lesse then nine thousand) were fled into two strong castels, hauing al maner of things conuenient to sustene the siege, 19 Maccabeus left Simon, and Ioseph, and Zaccheus also, and those that were with them, which were inowe to besiege them, and departed to those places which were more necessarie.

20 Now they that were with Simon, being led wt couetousnes, were intreated for money (though certaine of those that were in the castel) and tooke seuentie thousande [h] drachmes, and let some of them escape.

[h] A drachme is the eight part of an ounce, which is about three pence.

21 But when it was told Maccabeus what was done, he called the gouernours of the people together, and accused those men, that they had solde their brethrē for money, and let their enemies go.

22 So he slew them when they were conuict of treason, and immediatly wan the two castels:

23 And hauing good successe, as in all the warres that he tooke in hande, he slewe in the two castels mo then twentie thousand.

24 Now Timotheus whom þ Iewes had ouercome afore, gathered an armie of strangers of all sorts, & brought a great troupe of horsmen out of Asia to winne Iewrie by strength.

25 But when he drewe nére, Maccabeus, & they þ were with him, turned to pray vnto God, & sprinkled earth vpon their heads, & girded their reines with sackecloth, 26 And fell downe at the foote of the altar, & besought the Lorde to be merciful to them, & to be an enemie to their enemies, and to be an aduersarie to their aduersaries, as the Lawe declareth. Exo. 23.22. deut. 30.4.

27 So after the prayer, they tooke their weapons, & went on further from the citie, and when they came neere to the enemies, they tooke héde to them selues.

28 And whē the morning appeared, they both ioyned together: the one part had the Lorde for their refuge, and pledge of prosperitie, & noble victorie, and the other tooke courage as a guide of the warre.

29 But when the battell waxed strong, there appeared vnto the enemies from heauen fiue comely men vpon horses with bridles of golde, and two of them led the Iewes,

30 And tooke Maccabeus betwixt them, and couered him on euery side with their weapons, and kept him safe, but shot dartes, and lightnings against the enemies, so that they were confounded with blindnesse, and beate downe and full of trouble.

31 There were slayne of foote men twentie thousand and fiue hundreth, & fiue hundreth horsemen.

32 As for Timotheus himselfe, he fled vnto Gazara, which was called a verie strong hold, wherein Chereas was captaine.

33 But Maccabeus and his companie layde siege against the fortresses with courage for foure dayes.

34 And they that were within, trusting to the height of the place, blasphemed exceedingly, and spake horrible words.

35 Neuertheles vpon the "fifth day in the morning, twentie yong men of Maccabeus companie, whose heartes were inflamed, because of the blasphemies, came vnto the wall, and with bolde stomacks smote down those that they met. " Or, the fiue and twentith day.

36 Others also þ climed vp vpon the engins of warre against them that were within, set fire vpon the towres, & burnt those blasphemers quicke with the fires that they had made, & others brake vp the gates, & receiued the rest of the armie & tooke the citie.

37 And hauing found Timotheus, that was crept into a caue, they killed him, & Chereas his brother with Apollophanes.

38 When this was done, they prayed the Lorde with psalmes, & thankesgiuing, which had done so great things for Israel, & giuen them the victorie.

CHAP. XI.

1 Lysias goeth about to ouercome the Iewes. 8 Succour is sent from heauen vnto the Iewes. 16 The letter of Lysias vnto the Iewes. 22 The letter of King Antiochus vnto Lysias. 27 A letter of the same vnto the Iewes. 34 A letter of the Romaines to the Iewes.

1 VEry shortly after this, Lysias þ kings steward, & kinsma of his, which had the gouernance of haffaires, tooke sore displeasure for the things that were done.

2 And when hee had gathered about foures score thousande, with all the horsemen hée came against the Iewes, thinking to make the citie an habitation of the Gentiles.

3 And the Temple woulde he haue to gette money by, like the other temples of the heathen: for he woulde sell the Priestes office euery peere

4 And thus being puffed vp in his minde, because of the great number of footemen, and thousandes of horsemen, & in his foure score elephants,

5 Hée came into Judea, and drewe nére to Beth-sura, which was a castell of defence, fiue [a] furlonges from Ierusalem, and layde sore siege vnto it. [a] Whereof eight make a mile.

6 But when Maccabeus, and his companie knewe that he besieged the holdes, they, and all the people made prayers with weeping, and teares before the Lorde, that hee woulde sende a good Angell to deliuer Israel.

7 And

7 And Maccabeus him selfe first of all tooke weapons, exhorting the other þ they would ieoparde them selues together with him to helpe their brethren: so they went foorth together with a courageous minde.
8 And as they were there beſides Jeruſalem, there appeared before the vpon horſebacke a man in white clothing, ſhaking his harneſſe of golde.
9 Then they prayſed the merciful God all together, and tooke heart, in ſo much that they were ready, not onely to fight with men, but with the moſt cruel beaſtes, and to breake downe walles of yron.
10 Thus they marched forward in arrap, hauing an helper from heauen: for the Lorde was mercifull vnto them.
11 And running vpō their enemies like lions, they ſlewe eleuen thouſand footemen, & ſixteene hundreth horſemen, and put al þ other to flight.
12 Many of them alſo being wounded, eſcaped naked, & Ipſias himſelfe fled away ſhamefully, and ſo eſcaped, 13 Who as he was a man of vnderſtanding, conſidering what loſſe he had had, & knowing, that the Hebrewes couldē not be ouercome becauſe the Almightie God helped them, ſent vnto them,
14 And promiſed, that he would conſent to al things which were reaſonable, & perſwade the king to be their friend.
15 Maccabeus agreed to Ipſias requeſts, hauing reſpecte in all thinges to the common wealth, and whatſoeuer Maccabeus wrote vnto Ipſias concerning the Jewes, the king graunted it.
16 For there were letters written vnto the Jewes frō Ipſias contepning theſe wordes, LYSIAS vnto the people of the Jewes ſendeth greeting.
17 Johā & [a] Abeſſalom, which were ſent from you, deliuered me the things þ you demand by writing, and required mee to fulfill the things that they had declared.
18 Therefore what things ſoeuer were māte to be reported tod king himſelfe, I haue declared them, & he grāted þ that was poſſible.
19 Therefore if yē behaue your ſelues as friends toward his affaires, hereafter alſo I will endeuour my ſelfe to do you good.
20 As concerning theſe thinges, I haue giuen commandement to theſe men, and to thoſe whom I ſent vnto you, to commune with you of the ſame particularly.
21 Fare ye well, the hundreth & eight & fourtie yēre, the foure and twentieth day of the moneth Dioſcorinthius.
22 ¶ Nowe the Kings letter contepned theſe wordes, KING ANTIOCHVS vnto his brother Ipſias ſendeth greeting.
23 Since our father is trāſlated vnto the gods, our will is, þ they which are in our realme, liue quietly, that euery man may apply his owne affaires.
24 We vnderſtand alſo that the Jewes would not conſent to our father, for to be brought vnto þ cuſtome of the Gentiles, but would kepe their owne maner of liuing: for the which cauſe they require of vs, þ we would ſuffer them to liue after their owne lawes.
25 Wherefore our minde is that this nation ſhalbe in reſt, and haue determined to reſtore them their Temple, that they may bee gouerned according to the cuſtome of their fathers.
26 Thou ſhalt do well therefore to ſende vnto them, and graunt them peace, þ when they are certified of our minde, they may bee of good comfort, & cherefully goe about their owne affaires.
27 And this was the Kinges letter vnto the nation, KING ANTIOCHVS vnto the Elders of the Jewes, and to the reſt of the Jewes ſendeth greeting.
28 If ye fare wel, we haue our deſire: wee are alſo in good health.
29 Menelaus declared vnto vs that your deſire was to returne home, and to apply your owne buſines.
30 Wherefore, thoſe that wil depart, we giue them free libertie, vnto the thirtie day of the moneth of [b] Panthicus, 31 That the Jewes may vſe their own maner of liuing & lawes, like as afore, and none of them by any maner of wayes to haue harme for things done by ignorance.
32 I haue ſent alſo Menelaus to comfort you.
33 Fare ye well: the hundreth and eight and fourtie yeere, the fifteenth day of the moneth of Panthicus.
34 ¶ The Romaines alſo ſent a letter contepning theſe wordes, QVINTVS MEMMIVS and Titus [c] Manilius ambaſſadours of the Romaines, vnto the people of the Jewes ſend greeting.
35 The things that Ipſias the Kinges kinſman hath graunted you, we graunt the ſame alſo.
36 But concerning þ which he ſhall report vnto the king, ſend hither ſome vs ſpeede, when ye haue conſidered þ matter diligently, that we may conſult thereupon as ſhalbe beſt for you: for we muſt go vnto Antiochia.
37 And therefore make haſte and ſende ſome men, that we may knowe your minde.
38 Fare well: this hundreth and eight and fourtie yeere, the fifteenth day of the moneth of Panthicus.

CHAP. XII.

2 Timotheus troubleth the Iewes. 3 The wicked deede of them of Ioppe againſt the Iewes. 6 Iudas is auenged of them. 9 He ſetteth fire in the hauen of Iamnia. 20 The purſuit of the Iewes againſt Timotheus. 24 Timotheus is taken and let go vnhurt. 32 Iudas purſueth Gorgias.

1 When theſe couenantes were made, Ipſias went vnto the king, and the Jewes tilled their ground.
2 But the gouernours of the places, as Timotheus and Apollonius the ſonne of Genneus, & Jeronimus, & alſo Demophon, and beſides them Nicanor þ gouernour of Cyprus, would not let the Iewes liue in reſt & peace.
3 ¶ They of Ioppe alſo did ſuch a vile acte: they prayed the Jewes þ dwelt among thē, to goe with their wiues & children into the ſhips, which they had prepared as though they had ought them none euil wil.
4 And ſo by the common aduice of the citie, they they obeyed them, and suspect nothing: but when they were gone forth into the deepe, they drowned no lesse then two hundreth of them.

5 Now when Judas knewe of this cruelties shewed against his nation, he commanded those men þ were wt him, to make the readp.

6 And naming called vpon God þ righteous Judge, he went forth against þ murtherers of his brethren, and set fire in the hauen by night, and burnt the ships, and those that fled thence, he slewe.

7 And when þ citp was shut vp, he departed as though he would come againe, & roote out all them of the citie of Joppe.

8 ¶ But when he perceiued that the Jammites were minded to do in like maner vnto the Jewes, which dwelt among them, 9 He came vpon the Jammites by night, & set fire in the hauen with the naup, so that the light of the fire was seene at Jerusalem, vpon a two hundreth and fourtie furlongs.

10 Now when they were gone from thence nine furlongs, in their iourney toward Timotheus, about fiue thousand men of foote & fiue hundreth horsemen of the Arabians set vpon him.

11 So the battel was sharpe, but it prospered with Judas through the helpe of God: the [a] Nomades of Arabia, being ouercome, besought Judas to make peace with them, and promised to giue him certaine [b] cattell, and to helpe him in other things.

[a] So called because they were shepheards.

[b] Or, pasturs.

12 And Judas thinking that they should in deed be profitable concerning many things, granted them peace: wherupon they shooke handes, and so they departed to their tents.

13 ¶ Judas also assaulted a citp called Calpis, which was strong by reason of a bridge, & fenced rounde about with walles, and had diuers kindes of people dwelling therein.

14 So they that were wtin it, put such trust in the strength of þ walles, & in store of vitailes, þ they were the slacker in their domgs, reuiling them that were with Judas, and reproching them: pea, they blasphemed and spake such wordes as were not lawfull.

15 But Maccabeus souldiers, calling vpon the great Prince of the world (which without anp [c] instruments, or engines of warre, did [d] cast downe the walles of Jericho, in the time of Jesus) gaue a fierce assault against the walles, [c] Or, battel rammes. Iosh. 6. 20.

[d] Iosh. 6. 20.

16 And tooke the citp by the will of God, and made an exceeding great slaughter, in so much that a lake of two furlongs broade, which lape thereby, seemed to flowe with bloud.

17 ¶ Then departed they from thence, seuen hundreth and fiftie furlongs, and came to Characa vnto the Jewes, that are called Tubieni.

18 But they found not Timotheus there: for he was departed from thence, & had done nothing, and had left a garison in a verp strong holde.

19 But Dositheus, & Sosipater, which were captaines with Maccabeus, went forth, & slewe those that Timotheus had left in the fortresse, moze then ten thousand men.

20 And Maccabeus prepared, & ranged his armie by bandes, & went courageously against Timotheus, which had with him an hundreth and twentie thousande men of foote, and two thousand and fiue hundreth horsemen.

21 Whe Timotheus had knowlege of Judas comming, he sent the women, & children, & the other baggage afore vnto a fortresse called Carnion, for it was hard to beslege, and vneasie to come vnto because of the straites on all sides.)

22 But whe Judas first band came in sight, þ enemies were smitten wt feare, & a trembling was amõg them through þ presence of him that seeth al things, in so much þ they slewing one here, another there, were oft times hurt by their owne people, and wounded with the points of their owne swordes.

23 But Judas was verp ernest in pursuing, & slewe those wicked men: pea, he slew thirtie thousand men of them.

24 Timotheus also him selfe fel into þ hands of Dositheus, & Sosipater, whõ he besought wt much craft to let him go with his life, because he had many of the Jewes parents & the brethren of some of them, which, if they put him to death, should be despised.

25 So when he had assured them with many wordes, & promised that he would restore them without hurt, they let him go for the health of their brethren.

26 ¶ Then went Maccabeus toward Carnion, and Atargation, and slewe fiue and twentie thousand persons.

27 And after þ he had chased away & slaine them, Judas remoued þ hoste toward Ephron a strong citie, wherin was Ptolias & a great multitude of al nations, & the strong pong men kept the walles defending them mightily: there was also great preparation of engins of warre, and darts.

28 But when they had called vpon the Lord, which with his power weaketh þ strength of the enemies, they wanne the citie, & slewe fiue and twentie thousand of them þ were within.

29 ¶ From thence went they to Scythopolis, which lieth fiue hundreth furlongs from Jerusalem.

30 But when þ Jewes which dwelt there, testified, that the Scythopolitans dealt louingly with them, & intreated them kindely in the time of their aduersitie, 31 They gaue them thanks, desiring them to be friendly still vnto them, and so they came to Jerusalem, as the feast of the weekes approched.

32 ¶ And after the feast called Pentecost, they went forth against Gorgias the gouernour of Idumea:

33 Who came out with three thousande men of foote and foure hundreth horsemen.

34 And when they ioyned together, a fewe of the Jewes were slaine.

35 And Dositheus one of þ Taccenoys, which was on horsebacke & a mightie man, tooke Gorgias, and layd holde of his garment, and drewe him by force, because he would haue taken the wicked man aliue: but an horseman horsemē of Thracia fell vpon him, & smote off his shoulder, so that Gorgias fled into [1] Idumea.

36 And when they that were [1] with Esdrin, had fought ten long, and were wearie, Iudas called vpon the Lord, that he would shewe himselfe to be their helper, and captayne of the fielde.
37 And then he began in his own language, & sung Psalmes wt a loud voyce, insomuch that straygtwaies he made the that were about Gorgias, to take their flight.
38 ¶ So Iudas gathered his host, and came into the citie of Odolla. And when the seuenth day came, they clensed themselues (as the custome was) and kept the Sabbath in the same place.
39 And vpon the day following, as necessitie required, Iudas & his companie came to take vp the bodies of them that were slain, and to burie them with their kinsemen in their fathers graues.
40 Now vnder þ coates of euery one, þ was slain, they found iewels that had bin consecrate to the idoles of the [2] Iamnites, which thing is forbidden the Iewes by the law. Then euery man saw, þ this was the cause wherefore they were slaine.
41 And so euery man gaue thankes vnto the Lord, the righteous Iudge, which had opened the things that were hid.
42 And they gaue themselues to prayer, & besought him, þ they should not vtterly be destroyed for þ faute cōmitted. Besides that, noble Iudas exhorted þ people to keep thē selues frō sinne, for so much as they saw before their eyes the thinges which came to passe by the sinne of these that were slaine, 43 And hauing made a gathering throughout þ cōpany, sent to Ierusalē about two thousand drachmes of siluer, to offer a sinne offring, doing very wel, and honestly that he thought of the resurrection.
44 For if he had not hoped, þ they which were slain, should rise again, it had bene superfluous, & vaine, to [3] pray for the dead.
45 And therfore he perceiued, that there was great fauour laid vp for those þ died godly. (It was an holy & good thought.) So he made a reconciliation for the dead that they might be deliuered from sinne.

a From this verse to the ende of this chapter, the Greeke text is corrupt, so that no good sense, much lesse certain doctrine can be gathered thereby: Also it is euident that this place was not written by þ holy Ghost, both because it disenteth frō the rest of the holy Scriptures, and also the autor of this booke acknowledging his own infirmitie, desireth pardon, if he haue not atteined to that he should. And it seemeth, that this Iason the Cyrenean, out of whom he toke this abbridgement, is Ioseph Ben Gorion, who hath written in Ebrew fiue books of these matters, & intreating this place maketh no mentiō of this prayer for þ dead. lib. 3. cha. 19. for it is contrary to þ custome of þ Iewes, euen to this day, to pray for the dead. And though Iudas had so done, yet this particular example is not sufficiēt to establish a doctrine, no more thē Zipporahs was to proue þ women might minister þ Sacraments, Ex. 4. 25. or the example of Razis that one might kil himselfe, whom this autor so much commendeth, Chap. 14. 41.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The comming of Eupator into Iudea. 4 The death of Menelaus. 10 Maccabeus going to fight against Eupator, moueth his souldiers vnto prayer. 15 He killeth fourteene thousand men, in the tents of Antiochus. 31 Rhodocus the betrayer of the Iewes is taken.

1 IN the hundreth, fourtie and nine pāre it was tolde Iudas, þ Antiochus Eupator was comming with a great power into Iudea,
2 And Lysias the steward & ruler of his affayres wt him, hauing both in their armie an hundreth & ten thousand men of foote of the Grecians, & fiue thousand horsemen, & two and twentie Elephants, & three hundreth charrets set with hookes.
3 Menelaus also ioyned him selfe with them, & with great deceit incouraged Antiochus, not for the safegarde of the countrey, but because he thought to haue bene made the gouernour.
4 But the King of kings moued Antiochus mind against this wicked man, and Lysias informed the king þ this man was þ cause of all mischiefe, so that þ king commanded to bring him to Berea to put him vnto death as the maner was in that place.
5 Now there was in þ place a towre of fiftie cubites high, ful of ashes, and it had an instrument that turned round, and on euery side it rouled down into the ashes.
6 And there whosoeuer was condemned of sacrilege, or of any other grieuous crime, was cast of al men to the death.
7 And so it came to passe þ this wicked man should die such a death, and it was a most iust thing þ Menelaus should want burial,
8 For because he had cōmitted many sinnes by the altar, whose fire & ashes were holy: he himselfe also dyed in the ashes.
9 ¶ Now the king raged in his minde, and came to shew him selfe more cruel vnto the Iewes then his father.
10 Which things when Iudas perceiued, he commanded the people to cal vpon þ Lord night & day, that if euer he had holpen thē, he would now helpe thē, when they should be put from their Lawe, frō their countrey and from the holie Temple:
11 And that he would not suffer the people, which a litle afore began to recouer, to be subdued vnto the blasphemous nations.
12 So whē they had done this al together, & besought þ Lord for mercie wt weeping, and fasting, & falling downe three dayes together, Iudas exhorted them to make themselues readie.
13 And he being apart wt the Elders, toke counsell to go forth, afore the king brought his host into Iudea, & should take the citie, and commit the matter to the helpe of the Lord.
14 So committing the charge to the Lord of the world, he exhorted his souldiers to fight manfully, euē vnto death for the Lawes, þ Temple, the citie, their countrey, & the common wealth, and camped by Modin.
15 And so giuing his souldiers for a watche word, The victorie of God, he piked out the manliest young men, & went by night into the Kings campe, & slew of the host foureteene thousand men, & the greatest elephāt with all that sate vpon him.
16 Thus when they had brought a great feare, & trouble in þ campe, & al things wēt prosperously with them, they departed.
17 This was done in þ breake of the day, because þ protection of þ Lord did help them.
18 ¶ Now whē the king had tasted the manlinesse linelle of the Jewes, he went about to take the holdes by policie, 19 And marched toward Beth-sura, which was a strog hold of the Jewes: but he was chased away, hurt & lost of his men.

20 For Judas had sent vnto them that were in it, such things as were necessarie.

21 But Rhodocus which was in the Jewes host, disclosed the secrets to the enemies: therfore he was sought out, and when they had gotten him, they put him in prison.

22 After this did the king commune wt them

that were in Beth-sura, and ‖ toke truce with them, departed, & ioyned battell with Judas, who ouercame him.

23 But when he vnderstood, þ Philip (whō he had left to be ouerseer of his busines at Antiochia) did rebel against him, he was astonished, so that he yelded himselfe to the Jewes, & made thē an oth to do al things þ were right, & was appeased toward them, and offred sacrifice & adorned the Temple, and shewed great gentlenesse to the place, 24 And embraced Maccabeus, & made him captaine and gouernour from Ptolemais vnto the Gerrenians.

25 Neuertheles when he came to Ptolemais, the people of the citie were not content with this agreement: & because they were grieued, they would that he should breake the couenants.

26 Thē wēt Lysias vp into þ iudgemēt seate, & excused the fact as wellas he coulde, and perswaded them, & pacified them, & made them wel affectioned, & came againe vnto Antiochia. This is the matter concerning the kinges iourney, and his returne.

CHAP. XIIII.

‖ Demetrius moued by Alcimus sendeth Nicanor to kil the Iewes. 11 Nicanor maketh a compact with the Iewes, 19 Which he yet breaketh through the motion of the King. 37 Nicanor commandeth Razis to be taken, who slayeth him selfe.

1 AFter thre yeres was Judas enformed that Demetrius the sonne of Seleucus was come vp with a great power and naule by the hauen of Tripolis,

2 Which he had wonne the countrey, & slaine Antiochus and his lieutenant Lysias.

3 Now Alcimus, which had bin þ high priest & wilfully defiled himselfe in the time that all things were confounded, seing þ by no meanes he could saue himself, nor haue any more entrance to the holy altar,

4 He came to king Demetrius in þ hundreth, fifty & one yere, presenting vnto him a crown of gold & a palme, & of the boughes, which were vsed solemnely in the Temple, & that day he held his tongue.

5 But when he had gotē opportunitie, & occasiō for his rage, Demetrius called him to counsell, & asked him what deuices or counsels the Jewes leaned vnto.

6 To the which he answered, The Jews that be called Assideans, whose captaine is Judas Maccabeus, mainteine warres, and make insurrections, and will not let the Realme be in peace.

7 Therefore I, being depriued of my fathers honour (I meane the hie Priesthode) am now come hither, 8 Partly because I was wel affectioned vnto the kings affaires, and secondly because I sought the profit of mine owne citizens: for al our people, through their rashnes, are not a litle troubled.

9 Wherefore, O King, seeing thou knowest al these things, make prouision for the countrey & our nation which is abused, according to thine owne humanitie, that is ready to helpe al men.

10 For as long as Judas lineth, it is not possible that the matter should be wel.

11 When he had spoken these words, other friends also hauing euil wil at Judas, set Demetrius on fire.

12 Who immediatly called for Nicanor, the ruler of the elephants, and made him captayne ouer Judea, 13 And sent him forth, commanding him to slay Judas, and to scatter them that were with him, & to make Alcimus high Priest of the great Temple.

14 Then the heathen which fled out of Judea frō Judas, came to Nicanor by flocks, thinking the harme and calamities of the Jewes to be their welfare.

15 Now when þ Jewes heard of Nicanors coming, & þ gathering together of þ hethē, they sprinkled thēselues with earth, & prayed vnto him which had appointed himselfe a people for euer, and did alwayes defende his owne portion with euident tokens.

16 So at the commandement of þ captaine, they remoued straightwayes from thence, and came to the towne of Dessau, 17 Where Simō Judas brother had ioyned battel wt Nicanor, & was somwhat astonished through þ suddē silence of þ enemies.

18 Neuertheles Nicanor hearing the manlines of thē that were wt Judas, & the bold stomacks that they had for their countrey, durst not proue þ matter wt bloodshedding.

19 Wherfore he sent Posidonius, ‖ Theodocius, and ‖ Matthias before, to make peace.

‖ or, Theodotus.

‖ or, Mathias.

20 So when they had taken long aduisemēt therupon, & the captain shewed it vnto the multitude, they were agreed in one minde, and consented to the couenants.

21 And they appointed a day whē they should particularly come together: so whe the day was come, they set for euery mā his stoole.

22 Neuertheles Judas commanded certain mē of armes to waite in cōuenient places, least there should suddenly arise any euil thorow þ enemies: & so they cōmuned together of the things whereupon they had agreed.

23 Nicanor, while he abode at Jerusalem, did none hurt, but sent away þ people that were gathered together.

24 He ‖ loued Judas, & fauoured him in his heart.

‖ or, had Iudas before his eyes.

25 He prayed him also to take a wife, and to beget children: so he maried, and they lined together.

26 But Alcimus perceiuing the loue þ was betwēne thē, & vnderstāding the couenāts that were made, came to Demetrius, & told him that Nicanor had taken strange matters in hand, & ordeined Judas a traytour to the realme, to be his successour.

27 Then

27 Then the king was displeased, and by the reports of this wicked man, he wrote to Nicanor, saying, that he was very angry for the couenants, commanding him that he should sende Maccabeus in all haste prisoner vnto Antiochia.

28 When these things came to Nicanor, he was astonished & sore grieued, þ he should breake the things wherin they had agreed, seeing þ that man had committed no wickednesse.

29 But because it was not commodious to him to withstand the king, he sought craftily to accomplish it.

30 Notwithstanding whē Maccabeus perceiued that Nicanor began to be rough vnto him, & that he intreated him more rudely then he was wont, he perceiued that such rigour came not of good, and therefore he gathered a few of his men, and withdrewe himselfe from Nicanor.

31 But the other perceiuing that he was preuented by Maccabeus worthy policie, came into the great & holy Temple, & commanded the Priestes, which were offring their vsuall sacrifices, to deliuer him the man.

32 And when they sware that they could not tel where the man was, whome he sought, 33 He stretched out his right hand toward þ Temple, & made an othe in this maner, If he will not deliuer me Judas as a prisoner, I will make this Temple of God a plaine field, and will breake downe the altar, & will erect a notable temple vnto Bacchus.

34 After these words he departed: then the Priests lift vp their hāds toward heauen, and besought him that was euer the defender of their nation, saying in this maner, 35 Thou, O Lorde of all thinges, which hast nēd of nothing, wouldest that the Temple of thine habitation should be among vs.

36 Therfore now, O most holy Lord, keep this house euer vndefiled, which lately was clēsed, & stop al þ mouthes of þ vnrighteous.

37 Now was there accused vnto Nicanor, Razis one of the Elders of Jerusalem, a louer of the citie, and a man of very good report, which for his loue was called a father of the Jewes.

38 For this mā afortetimes whē the Jewes were minded to kepe themselues vndefiled & pure, being accused to be of the religiō of þ Jewes, did offer to spend his body & life wt all constancie for the religion of the Jewes.

39 So Nicanor willing to declare the hatred that he bare to the Jewes, sent about fiue hundreth men of warre to take him.

40 For he thought by taking him to doe the Jewes much hurt.

41 But when this company would haue taken his castel, & would haue broken þ gates by violence, & commaunded to bring fire to burne the gates, so that he was readye to be taken on euery side, he a fell on his swoorde,

42 Willing rather to die māfully, thē to giue himselfe into the hands of wicked men, & to suffer reproch vnworthy for his noble stock

43 Notwithstanding what time as he missed of his stroke for haste, & the multitude rushed in violently betweene the doores, he ran boldly to the wall, and cast him selfe downe manfully among the multitude.

44 Which comeyed themselues lightly away, & gaue place, so that he fel vpon his belly.

45 Neuertheless while there was yet breath in him, being kindled in his minde, he rose vp, & though his blood gushed out like a fountaine, & he was very sore wounded, yet he ranne thorowe the middes of the people,

46 And gat him to the toppe of an hie rocke: so when his blood was vtterly gone, he took out his owne bowels with both his hāds, & threw them vpon the people, calling vpō þ Lord of life & spirit, that he would restore them againe vnto him, and thus he dyed.

CHAP. XV.

1 Nicanor goeth about to come vpon Judas on the Sabbath day. 5 The blasphemie of Nicanor. 12 Maccabeus expounding vnto the Iewes the vision, incourageth them. 22 The prayer of Maccabeus. 30 Maccabeus commandeth Nicanors head and hands to be cut off, & his tongue to be giuen vnto the fowles. 35 The author excuseth himselfe.

1 NOw whē Nicanor knew that Judas & his company were in the countrey of Samaria, he thought th at assurāce to come vpon them, vpō the Sabbath day.

2 Neuertheless the Jewes þ were compelled to go wt him, said, O kill not so cruelly & barbarously, but honor & sanctifie the day, that is appointed by him þ seeth all things.

3 But this most wicked person demaunded, Is there a Lord in heauen, that commandeth the Sabbath day to be kept?

4 And whē they said, There is a liuing Lord, which raigneth in the heauen, who commanded the seuenth day to be kept,

5 Then he saide, And I am mightie vpon earth to command them for to arme themselues, and to performe the kings business. Notwithstanding he could not accomplish his wicked enterprise.

6 For Nicanor lifted vp th great pride, purposed to set vp a memoriall of the victorie obteined of all thē that were with Judas.

7 But Maccabeus had euer sure confidence & a perfite hope that þ Lord would help him,

8 And exhorted his people not to be afraid at the comming of þ heathē, but alway to remember the helpe þ had bene shewed vnto them from heauen, & to trust now also that they should haue þ victory by þ Almighty.

9 Thus he incouraged them by the law and Prophets, putting them in remembrance of the battels that they had wonne afore, & so made them more willing,

10 And stirred vp their hearts, and shewed them also the deceitfulnes of the heathen, & howe they had broken their othes.

11 Thus he armed euery one of thē, not with the assurance of shieldes and speares, but with wholesome wordes & exhortations, & shewed them a dreame worthie to be beleeued, and reioyced them greatly.

12 And this was his vision, He thought þ he saw Onias (which had bene the hie Priest, a vertuous & a good man, reuerent in behauiour, & of sober conuersation, well spoken, & one that had bene exercised in all poynts of godlinesse from a childe) holding vp his hands a As this priuate example ought not to be followed of the godly, because it is contrary to the word of God, although the author seeme here to approue it: so that place as touching prayer, Chap. 12. 44. though Judas had appointed it, yet were it not sufficient to proue a doctrine, because it is onely a particular example.

hands toward heauen, and praying for the whole people of the Iewes.

13 ¶ After this there appeared vnto him another man which was aged, honorable, & of a wōderful dignitie, & excellēcie aboue him.

14 And Onias spake, & saide, This is a louer of the brethren, who prayeth much for the people, and for the holy citie, to wit, Jeremias the Prophet of God.

15 He thought also that Jeremias held out his right hand, & gaue vnto Judas a sword of golde: and as he gaue it, he spake thus,

16 Take this holy sworde a gift from God, wherwith þ shalt woūde the aduersaries.

17 And so being cōforted by the words of Judas, which were very sweete & able to stirre thē vp to valiantnesse and to incourage the hearts of the yong men, they determined to pitch no cāpe, but courageously to set vpon thē, & manfully to assaile thē, and to trie the matter hand to hand, because the citie & the Sanctuarie & the Temple were in danger.

18 As for their wiues, & children, & brethren & kinsfolkes, they set lesse by their danger: but their greatest and principall feare was for the holy Temple.

19 Againe they that were in the citie, were carefull for the armie that was abroad.

20 Now whiles they all waited for the triall of the matter, & the enemies now met with thē, & the hoste was set in arap, & the *beasts were separated into conuenient places, & the horsemen were placed in the wings,

*Or, elephants.

21 Maccabeus considering the cōming of the multitude & þ diuers preparations of weapons, & þ fiercenes of þ beasts, held vp his hands toward heaue, calling vpō the Lord þ doeth wonders, & that looked vpon them, knowing that the victorie cōmeth not by þ weapons, but þ he giueth the victorie to thē that are worthy, as seemeth good vnto him.

22 Therefore in his prayer he said after this maner, O Lorde, *þ that biddest sende thine Angel in the time of Ezekias king of Judea, who in the hoste of Sennacherib slewe an hundreth, fourescore and fiue thousand,

*2. Kings 19. 35 Isa. 37. 36. 2 Esd. 1. 12. Eccles. 48. 21.

23 Send now also thy good Angel before vs, O Lord of heauens, for a feare and dread vnto them, 24 And let them be discōfited by the strength of thine arme, which come against thine holy people to blaspheme. Thus with these wordes he made an ende.

25 Thē Nicanor & they that were with him, drew nere with trumpets & shoutings for ioy.

26 But Judas and his companie praying and calling vpō God, incountred with the enemies.

27 So that with their handes they fought, but with their hearts they prayed vnto God, and slew no lesse then fiue and thirtie thousand men: for through the presence of God they were wonderously comforted.

28 Now when they left off, & were turning againe with ioy, they vnderstoode þ Nicanor him selfe was slaine for all his armour.

29 Thē they made a great shout & a cry, praising the Almightie in their owne language.

30 Therefore Judas, which was euer the chief defender of his citizens both in bodye and minde, & which bare euer good affection towards them of his nation, commanded to smite off Nicanors head, with his hand & shoulder, and to bring it to Jerusalem.

31 And when he came there, he called all them of his nation, and set the Priests vp the altar, and sent for them of the castel, 32 And shewed thē wicked Nicanors head, & the hand of that blasphemour which he had holden vp against the holy Temple of the Almightie with proud bragges.

33 He smote the tongue also of wicked Nicanor to be cut in litle pieces, & to be cast vnto the foules, & that þ rewards of his madnes should be hāged vp before the Temple.

34 So euery mā praised toward the heauen the glorious Lorde, saying, Blessed be her, that hath kept his place vndefiled.

35 He hanged also Nicanors head vpon the high castell, for an euident and plaine token vnto all of the helpe of God.

36 And so they stablished all together by a common decree that they would in no case suffer this day vnkept vnkeeping it holy:

37 And that the feast should be the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth, which is called Adar in the Syrians language, the daye before Mardocheus day.

38 Thus far as cōcerning Nicanors matters, & from that time þ Hebrewes had þ city in possessiō. And here will I also make an ende.

39 If I haue done wel, & as the storie required, it is the thing þ I desired: but if I haue spoken slenderly & barrenly, it is that I could.

40 For as it is hurtful to drinke wine alone, and then againe water: & as wine tempered with water is pleasant and delighteth the taste, so the setting out of the matter delighteth the eares of them that reade the storie. And here shalbe the ende.

The ſumme of the whole Scripture of the bookes of the olde and newe Teſtament.

God.

THe bookes of the olde Teſtament, doe teache vs that the ſame God, whom Adam, Noe, Abraham, Iſaac, Iacob, Dauid, and the other fathers did worſhip, is * the onely true God, and that he the ſame is almightie and a euerlaſting: who of his mere goodneſſe hath created by his worde b heauen and earth, and all that is in them: from whom all thinges doe come: without whome there is nothing at all: And that he is c iuſt and mercifull: Who alſo d worketh all in all, e after his owne will: f To whom it is not lawfull to ſay, wherefore he doeth thus or thus.

Creation of man.

MOreouer, theſe bookes teache vs, that this very God almightie, after he created all thinges, ſhope alſo Adam the firſt man, g to the image & ſpiritual ſimilitude of himſelfe, and that he did conſtitute him lord ouer all thinges that he had created in earth. Which Adam, by the enuie and fraude of the deuill, tranſgreſſing the precept of his creator, h by this his ſinne brought in ſuch and ſo great ſinne into the worlde, that we which be ſprong from him by the fleſhe, i be in nature the children of wrath, and thereupon we be made ſubiect and thrall to death, to damnation, to the yoke, and tyrannie of the deuill.

Chriſt promiſed.

FVrthermore, we are taught by theſe excellent bookes, that God promiſed to k Adam, l Abraham, m Iſaac, n Iacob, o Dauid, and to other fathers of the olde time, that he woulde ſende that bleſſed ſeede, his ſonne Ieſus Chriſt our ſauiour, which ſhoulde deliuer all thoſe from ſinne, and from the p tyrannie of the deuill, which by a liuely and working faith ſhould beleeue this promiſe, and put their truſt in Ieſus Chriſt, hoping that of him and by him, they ſhould obteine this deliuerance.

The Lawe.

ALſo they giue vs to vnderſtande, that in the meane ſeaſon, while thoſe fathers the Iſraelites looked for the ſaluation and deliuerance promiſed (for that the nature of man is ſuch, ſo proude and ſo corrupt, that thoſe would not willingly acknowledge them ſelues to be ſinners, which had neede of the ſauiour promiſed) God the creator gaue by Moſes his q lawe written in two tables of ſtone: that by it, ſinne and the malice of mans heart being r knowne, men mought more vehemently thirſt for the ſ comming of Ieſus Chriſt, who ſhould redeeme and deliuer them from ſinne: Which thing, neyther the lawe, nor yet the ſacrifices and oblations of the lawe did t performe. For they were ſhadowes and figures of the true oblation of the bodie of Chriſt: by which oblation all u ſinne ſhould be blotted out, and quite put away.

Chriſt God our Sauiour came.

BY the bookes of the new Teſtament we be taught, that Chriſt ſo afore promiſed (* which is God abuue al things moſt bleſſed for euer) euen he, I ſay, was ſhadowed in the bookes of the olde Teſtament, and in ſacrifices figured, that hee was a ſent at the laſt from the Father, the ſelfe ſame time which the Father did conſtitute within him ſelfe: I ſay, b at that time, when all wickednеſſe abounded in the world, then he was ſent: And this Ieſus our ſauiour, being borne in the fleſhe, c ſuffred death, and roſe againe from the dead. Which actes of his were not done by him in reſpect of the d good workes of any man (for we were al ſinners) but that this God our Father ſhould e appeare true, in exhibiting the abundant f riches of his grace which he promiſed, and that g through his mercie he mought bring vs to ſaluation.

A lambe.
A ſacrifice.
Peace.
Adoption.

Whereupon it is euidently ſhewed in the h newe Teſtament, that Ieſus Chriſte, being the i lambe, the true k ſacrifice of the world, l putting away the ſinnes of men, came into this world to purchaſe grace and m peace for vs with the Father, n waſhing vs from our ſinnes in his owne blood, and o ſhould deliuer vs from the bondage of the deuill, whom by ſinne we did ſerue: And ſo we ſhould be p adopted by him to be ſ ſonnes of God, made q heires with him of that moſt excellent and euerlaſting kingdome.

The holy Ghoſt.
Faith.

Now, that we ſhould acknowlede this ſingular and excellent benefite of God towards vs, almightie God r giueth vs his holy ſpirit: the ſ fruite and effect of the which is faith in God, and in his Chriſt. For, without the holy Ghoſt, by which we are inſtructed and t ſealed, neyther can we beleeue that God the Father ſent Meſſias, nor yet that Ieſus is Chriſt: For u no man (ſaith Paul) can ſay that Ieſus is the Lord, but by the holy Ghoſt. The x ſame ſpirit witneſſeth to our ſpirite, that we are the children of God, y and powreth into our bowels that charitie which Paul deſcribeth to the Corinthians. Furthermore, that holy ſpirit doth giue vs hope, which is a ſure looking for eternal life, whereof he him ſelfe is the certaine z token and pledge. Alſo he giueth vs other * ſpirituall giftes, of the which Paul writeth to the Galatians.

Therefore the benefite of faith is not yet to be deſpiſed, or lide to be ſet by. For by ſ meanes of this truſt and [a] faith in Chriſt, which [b] worketh by charitie, and ſheweth it ſelfe ſorth by the workes of charitie, mouing man thereto, we are [c] iuſtified and ſanctified: that is to ſay, God and the Father of our Lorde Ieſus Chriſt (which is made our [d] Father alſo by him, being our [e] brother) doeth account vs to be iuſt and holy through his grace, and through the merite of his ſonne Ieſus Chriſt, not [f] imputing our ſinnes to vs, ſo farre foorth, that we ſhoulde ſuffer the paines of hell for them.

Iuſtification and ſanctification.

Finally, Chriſt himſelfe [g] came into the world, to the intent that we through him being ſanctified and cleanſed from our ſinnes, following his will in good workes, ſhould denie the thinges perteyning to the fleſh, and freely [h] ſerue him in righteouſnes and holines all the daies of our life: and that [i] by good workes (which God hath prepared for vs to walke in) we ſhould [k] ſhew our ſelues to be called to his grace and gift of faith: which good workes who ſo hath not, doth ſhew himſelfe not to haue ſuch a faith in Chriſt as is required in vs.

Good workes.

To Chriſt muſt we come, and [l] followe him with a cherefull minde, that he may teache vs: For he is [m] our maſter, [n] lowly and humble of heart: he is to vs an [o] example, whereby we muſt learne the rule to liue well.

Chriſt our maſter and teacher.

Moreouer, he is our [p] biſhop & our [q] high prieſt, which did himſelfe offer vp for vs his owne blood, being the onely [r] mediatour betweene God & men: Who now ſitteth at the right hand of God the Father, being made our [s] aduocate, making prayer and interceſſion for vs: who doutleſſe ſhall obteine for vs [t] whatſoeuer we ſhall deſire, either of him, or elſe of his Father in his name, if ſo be that we thus deſiring, ſhal beleeue that he wil ſo do: for thus hath he promiſed. Therefore let vs not doubt, if we ſinne at any time, to come with [u] repentance (to the which he doeth inuite and ſtirre vs at the very beginning of his preaching) and with ſure truſt to the [x] throne of his grace, with this beliefe, that we ſhal obteine mercie: For therfore [y] came he into the world, that he mought ſaue ſinners by his grace.

Biſhop. Mediatour. Aduocate.

Iudgement.

THis is verily Chriſt Ieſus, which ſhal come at a [z] certaine time appointed by his Father, and ſhall ſit in great maieſtie to [a] iudge all men, & to render to euery man [b] ſ workes of his bodie according to that he hath done, whether it be good or euill. And he ſhal ſaye to them which ſhalbe on the right ſide, which in this worlde did looke for the good thinges to come (that is to ſay, life euerlaſting): [c] Come ye bleſſed of my father, enioy the kingdome hath bin prepared for you frō the beginning of the world. But to thē which ſhalbe on the left ſide, he ſhal ſaye: Depart from me ye curſed into euerlaſting fire prepared for the deuill and his angels. And then [d] ſhall the end be, when Chriſt, hauing vtterly vanquiſhed al maner of enemies, ſhall deliuer vp the kingdome to God the Father.

Eternall life.

Eternall fire,

TO the intent that we mought vnderſtand theſe things, the [e] ſacred bookes of ſ Bible were deliuered to vs by the goodnes of God through his holy ſpirit, with the preaching of that doctrine which is conteined in them, and with his Sacraments, by which the trueth of this doctrine is ſealed vp to vs: that we [f] mought vnderſtand, I ſay, and beleeue that there is one only true God, and one ſauiour Ieſus Chriſt, whom (as he had promiſed) he hath ſent: ſ & that we beleeuing, mought haue in his Name life euerlaſting.

To what intent the ſcriptures were written.

Chriſt the onely foundation.

BEſide this [h] foundation, no man can lay any other in the Church of Chriſt: and vpon this foundation the Church doth ſtand ſure & ſtedfaſt. And Paul willeth him to be [i] accurſed which ſhal preach any other faith & ſaluation, thē by Ieſus Chriſt, yea although he were an Angel from heauen.

For [k] of him, through him, and for him, are all things: To whome with the father and the holy Ghoſt, be al honour and glory, world without ende, Amen.

Certaine

Certaine questions & answeres touching the doctrine of predestination, the vse of Gods word and Sacraments.

Question.

WHy do men so much varie in matters of religion?

Answere.

Because al haue not the like measure of knowledge, neither do al beleeue þ Gospel of Christ.

Question.

What is the reason thereof?

Answere.

Because they onely beleeue the Gospell and doctrine of Christ, which are ordeyned vnto eternall life.

Question.

Are not all ordeyned vnto eternall life?

Answere.

Some are vessells of wrath ordayned vnto destruction, as others are vessels of mercie prepared to glory.

Question.

How standeth it with gods iustice, that some are appointed vnto damnation?

Answere.

Very well: because all men haue in them selues sinne, which deserueth no lesse: and therefore the mercie of God is wonderful in that he vouchsafeth to saue some of that sinfull race, and to bring them to the knowledge of the trueth.

Question.

If Gods ordinance and determination must of necessitie take effect, then what nede any man to care? for hee that liueth well must needes be damned, if hee be therennto ordeyned: and hee that liueth ill must needes be saued, if he be thereunto appointed.

Answere.

Not so, for it is not possible, that either the elect should alwayes be without care to do well, or that the reprobate shoulde haue any will thereunto. For to haue either good will or good worke, is a testimonie of the Spirite of God, which is giuen to the elect onely, whereby faith is so wrought in them, that, being grafte in Christ, they growe in holynes to that glorie, whereunto they are appointed. Neyther are they so vayne as once to thinke that they may do as they list them selues, because they are predestinate vnto saluation: But rather they indeuour to walke in such good workes as God in Christ Iesus hath ordeined them vnto, & prepared for them to be occupied in, to their owne comfort, stay and assurance, & to his glory.

Question.

But how shall I knowe my selfe to bee one of those whome God hath ordayned to life eternall?

Answere.

By the motions of spirituall life, which belongeth onely to the children of God: by the which that life is perceyued, euen as the life of this body is discerned by the sense and motions thereof.

Question.

What meane you by the motions of spirituall life?

Answere.

I meane remorse of conscience, ioyned with the loathing of sinne, & loue of righteousnes: the hand of faith reaching vnto life eternall in Christ: the conscience comforted in distresse, and rapted vp to confidence in God by the worke of his Spirit: a thankefull remembrance of Gods benefites receyued, and the vsing of all aduersities as occasion of amendment sent from God.

Question.

Can not such perishe as at some time or other feele these motions within them selues?

Answere.

It is not possible that they should: for as Gods purpose is not chaungeable, so he repenteth not the giftes and graces of his adoption: neyther doeth hee cast off those, whom he hath once receyued.

Question.

Why then shoulde we pray by the example of Dauid, that he cast vs not from his face, & that he take not his holy Spirit from vs?

Answere.

In so praying we make protestation of the weaknes of flesh, which moueth vs to dout: yet should not we haue courage to aske, if we were not assured that God will giue, according to his purpose and promise, that which we require.

Question.

Do the children of God feele the motions aforesaid alwaies alike?

Answere.

No truely: for God sometime to proue his seruets leaue them in such sort, that the flesh ouermatcheth the spirit, whereof ariseth trouble of conscience for the time: yet the spirit of adoption is neuer taken from them, that haue once receyued it:

elſe might they periſh. But as in many diſeaſes of the bodie, the powers of bodilye life are letted: So in ſome aſſaultes theſe motions of ſpirituall life are not perceiued, becauſe they lye hidden in our manifold infirmities, as the fire couered with aſhes. Yet as after ſickneſſe commeth health, and after cloudes the ſunne ſhineth cleare: ſo the powers of ſpirituall life will more or leſſe be felt and perceiued in the children of God.

Queſtion.

What if I neuer feele theſe motions in my ſelfe, ſhall I deſpaire and thinke my ſelfe a caſtaway?

Anſwere.

God forbid: for God calleth his at what time he ſeeth good: and the inſtruments whereby he vſually calleth, haue not the like effect at all times. yet it is not good to neglect the meanes whereby God hath determined to worke the ſaluation of his. For as ware is not melted without heate, nor clay hardened but by meanes therof: ſo God vſeth means both to drawe thoſe vnto himſelfe, whom he hath appointed vnto ſaluation, and alſo to bewray the wickednes of them whom he iuſtly condemneth.

Queſtion.

By what meanes vſeth God to drawe men to him ſelfe that they may be ſaued?

Anſwere.

By the preaching of his worde and the miniſtring of his Sacraments thereunto annexed.

Queſtion.

What meane you by the word of God?

Anſwere.

I meane the doctrine of the Prophets and Apoſtles which they receiued of the Spirite of God, and haue left written in that booke which we commonly call the olde and newe teſtament.

Queſtion.

Howe may I be aſſured, that it is the worde of God, which that booke conteineth?

Anſwere.

By the maieſtie of God appearing in that plaine and ſimple doctrine: by the purenes, vprightnes and holines thereof: by the certaintie of euery thing therein affirmed: by the ſucceſſe of all things according to it: by perpetuall conſent which is to be ſeene in euery part thereof: by the excellencie of the matters vttered: But eſpecially by the teſtimonie of Gods ſpirit, whereby it was written, who moueth the hearts of thoſe in whome it reſteth, to conſent vnto the worde, and reuerently to embrace it.

Queſtion.

Howe doth this worde of God ſerue to drawe men vnto him?

Anſwere.

When it is ſo preached and heard, that men may vnderſtande and learne what God teacheth: accept and receiue thankfully that which is thereby giuen, promiſed and aſſured: and be moued with deſire and diligence to do that which it commaundeth.

Queſtion.

Doe the Sacraments alſo ſerue to this ende?

Anſwere.

Yea verely: that by ſight, taſte and feeling, as well as by hearing, we might bee inſtructed, aſſured, and brought to obedience.

Queſtion.

Howe doth our baptiſme ſerue hereunto?

Anſwere.

It teacheth vs to put on Chriſt, that with his righteouſnes our vnrighteouſnes may be hidden: it aſſureth vs, that we are ſo graft into Chriſt, that all our ſinnes by him are waſhed awaye: it chargeth vs to dye to ſinne, to continue in the profeſſion of Chriſt, and to loue eche other.

Queſtion.

Hath the Lords ſupper alſo this vſe?

Anſwere.

Yea doubtles: for it teacheth, that the bodie and blood of Chriſt crucified is the onely foode of the newe borne children of God; it aſſureth that Chriſt is wholy theirs to giue and to continue life ſpirituall and heauenly to bodie and ſoule, to nouriſh, ſtrengthen, refreſhe, and to make cherefull the hearts of the elect: it requireth thankfull remembrance of the death of Chriſt, vnitie among thoſe that doe profeſſe him, with a free confeſſion of his trueth.

Queſtion.

Why is not this vſe of the ſacraments commonly knowen?

Anſwere.

Becauſe they are abuſed for fome, for facion, for cuſtome and companie, without regarde vnto the worde, whereunto they are ſo annexed, that they ought not vpon any neceſſitie by any perſon be ſeuered from it, which teacheth the right vſe of euery thing.

Queſtion.

I perceiue that nothing is more neceſſarie then the worde of God: therefore I pray you ſhew me howe I may attaine to ſome knowledge and profite thereby.

Anſwere.

Anſwere.

By diligent hearing of ſuch as preach it, by continuall and orderly exercise of reading and praying.

Queſtion.

What orderly exercise think you moſte conuenient to be vſed herein?

Anſwere.

That as euery day, twyſe at the leaſt, wee moſt commonly receyue foode to the nourishment of this corporall life: ſo no day be let paſſe without ſome reading in ſuch ſorte, that occaſion thereby may bee taken to ſpeake again vnto God by praier, as he in his word ſpeaketh vnto vs: So that at the leaſt two chapters would be orderly and deuiſedly read euery day, all other buſines, impediments and lets ſet aparte.

Queſtion.

This ſéemeth verye eaſie to bee done, what thinke you els requiſite?

Anſwere.

That ſome eſpecial places of Scripture be ſo committed to memorie, that the minde may euer be furniſhed with ſome good matter againſt all temptations. To which ende I note theſe ſcriptures vnto you, wherevnto you may ioyne other at your owne choyce:
Pſalmes 139.37.50. Eſay.53. John 17. Rom.8. 1.Tim.4.

Queſtion.

But the Scriptures are hard and not eaſie to vnderſtand.

Anſwere.

Diſcourage not your ſelfe herewith: for God maketh them eaſie to ſuch as in humilitie ſéeke him: & that hardnes that you finde ſerueth to moue you to more diligence, and to make inquiry of ſuch as haue knowledge, when any dout ariſeth. That which you perceiue not at one time, God ſhal reueale at another: So that you ſhal haue your growing in grace, knowledge & godlines, to Gods glorie & your owne comfort in Chriſt, whoſe name for euer be prayſed. AMEN.

THE HOLIE [a] GOSPEL OF IESVS CHRIST, [b] ACCORDING TO MATTHEWE.

a This word signifieth good tidings, and is taken here for the ſtorie, which cõteineth the ioyful meſſage of the comming of the ſonne of God promiſed from the beginning.
b That is, written and taught by Matthewe.

THE ARGVMENT.

IN this hiſtorie written by Matthewe, Marke, Luke, and Iohn, the Spirite of God ſo gouerned their hearts, that although they were foure in number, yet in effect and purpoſe they ſo conſent, as though the whole had bene compoſed by any one of them. And albeit in ſtyle and maner of writing they be diuers, and ſometime one writeth more largely that which the other doth abbridge: neuertheleſſe in matter and argument they all tende to one ende: which is, to publiſh to the worlde the fauour of God toward mankinde through Chriſt Ieſus, whom the Father hath giuen as a pledge of his mercie and loue. And for this cauſe they intitle their ſtorie, Goſpel, which ſignifieth good tidings, forasmuch as God hath perfourmed in deede that which the fathers hoped for. So that hereby we are admoniſhed to forſake the worlde, and the vanities therof, and with moſt affectioned hearts embrace this incomparable treaſure freely offered vnto vs: for there is no ioy nor conſolation, no peace nor quietneſſe, no felicitie nor ſaluation, but in Ieſus Chriſt, who is the very ſubſtance of this Goſpel, and in whome all the promiſes are Yea, and Amen. And therefore vnder this worde is conteined the whole Newe Teſtamẽt: but commonly we vſe this name for the hiſtorie, which the foure Euangeliſtes write, conteyning Chriſtes comming in the fleſh, his death and reſurrection, which is the perfect ſumme of our ſaluation. Matthewe, Marke, and Luke are more copious in deſcribing his life & death: but Iohn more laboureth to ſet foorth his doctrine, wherein both Chriſtes office, and alſo the vertue of his death and reſurrection more fully appeare: for without this, to knowe that Chriſt was borne, dead and riſen againe, ſhoulde nothing profite vs. The which thing notwithſtanding that the three firſt touche partly, as he alſo ſometime intermedleth the hiſtoricall narration, yet Iohn chiefly is occupied herein. And therefore as a moſt learned interpreter writeth, they deſcribe, as it were, the body, and Iohn ſetteth before our eyes the ſoule. Wherefore the ſame aptely termeth the Goſpel written by Iohn, the key which openeth the doore to the vnderſtanding of the others: for whoſoeuer doeth knowe the office, vertue and power of Chriſt, ſhall reade that which is written of the Sonne of God come to be the redeemer of the world, w moſt profit. Now as concerning the writers of this hiſtorie, it is euident that Matthewe was a Publicane or cuſtome gatherer, and was thence choſen of Chriſt, to be an Apoſtle. Marke is thought to haue bene Peters diſciple, and to haue planted the firſt Church at Alexandria, where he died the eight yere of the reigne of Nero. Luke was a Phyſition of Antiochia and became Pauls diſciple, and fellowe in all his trauels: he liued foureſcore and foure yeeres, and was buried at Conſtantinople. Iohn was that Apoſtle whom the Lorde loued, the ſonne of Zebedeus, and brother of Iames: he died three ſcore yeeres after Chriſt, and was buried neere to the citie of Epheſus.

c This is the rehearſal of ỹ progenie, whereof Ieſus Chriſt is ſprong according to the fleſh.
d So called, for that he came of the ſtocke of Dauid.

2 * Abraham begate Iſaac. * And Iſaac begate Iacob. And * Iacob begate Iudas & his bretheren.

e These two are firſt rehearſed, becauſe Chriſt was eſpecially promiſed to come of them and their ſeede, and therefore Chriſt commonly was called ỹ ſonne of Dauid, becauſe the promes was more euidently confirmed vnto him. Gen.21.2. Gen.25.24. Gen.29.35. Gen.38.27.

4 And Aram begate Aminadab. And Aminadab begat Naaſſon. And Naaſſon begate Salmon.

5 And Salmon begat Booz of [g] Rachab. And * Booz begate Obed of Ruth. And Obed begate Ieſſe.

8 And Aſa begate Ioſaphat. And Ioſaphat begate Ioram. And Ioram begat Ozias.

9 And Ozias begate [h] Ioatham. And Ioatham begate Achaz. And Achaz begate Ezekias.

16 And Iacob begate Ioseph, the husband of Marie, [k] of whom was borne IESVS, that is called [l] Christ.
17 So all the generations from Abraham to Dauid, are fourteene generations. And from Dauid until they were caried away into Babylon, fourtene generations: and after they were caried away into Babylon, vntill Christ, fourteene generations.
18 ¶ Now ℣ birth of IESVS Christ was thus, When as his mother Mary was * betrothed to Ioseph, [m] before they came together, she was founde * with childe of the holy Ghost.
19 Then Ioseph her husbande, beyng a * iust man, & not willing to * make her a publike example, was minded to put her away secretly.
20 But whiles he thought these things, beholde, the Angell of the Lorde appeared vnto him in a [p] dreame, saying, Ioseph the [q] sonne of Dauid, feare not to take Marie for thy wife: for that which is conceiued in her, is of the holy Ghost.
21 And she shall bring forth a sonne, and thou shalt * call his name [r] IESVS: for he shall * saue his people from their sinnes.
22 And all this was done that it might bee fulfilled, which was spoken of the Lorde by the Prophet, saying,
23 * Beholde, a Virgine shall bee with childe, and shall beare a sonne, and * they shall call his name Emmanuel, which is by interpretation, [s] GOD with vs.
24 ¶ Then Ioseph, being raised frõ sleepe, did as the Angel of the Lord had inioyned him, and tooke his wife.
25 But knewe her not, till she had brought forth her [t] first borne sonne, and he called his name IESVS.

1 WHen * Iesus then was borne at Beth-lehem in [a] Iudea, in the dayes of Herode the king, beholde, there came [b] Wisemen from the East to Ierusalem,
2 Saying, Where is the King of the Iewes that is borne? for we haue seene his [c] starre in the East, ℣ are come [d] to worship him.
3 When king Herode hearde this, he was troubled, and all Ierusalem with him.
4 And gathering together all the chiefe Priests and Scribes of the people, he asked of them, where Christ should be borne.
5 * And they saide vnto him, At Beth-lehem in Iudea: for so it is written by the Prophet,
6 * And thou Beth-lehem in the land of Iuda, art not the least among the princes of Iuda: for out of thee shall come the gouernour that shall feede my people Israel.
7 Then Herode [e] priuily called the Wisemen, and diligently inquired of them the time of the starre that appeared,
8 And sent them to Beth-lehem, saying, Goe, and search diligently for the babe: and when ye haue found him, bring me worde againe, that I may come also, and worship him.
9 ¶ So when they had heard the King, they departed: and lo, the [f] starre which they had seene in the East, went before them, til it came, and stood ouer the place where the babe was.
10 And when they sawe the starre, they reioyced with an exceeding great ioye, 11 And went into the house, and * found the babe with Marie his mother, and fell downe, and worshipped him, and opened their treasures, and presented vnto him gifts, [h] euen golde, & incense, and myrrhe.
12 And after they were warned of God in a dreame, that they should [i] not goe againe to Herode, they returned into their countrey another way.
13 ¶ After their departure, beholde, the angell of the Lord appeareth to Ioseph in a dreame, saying, Arise, and take the babe and his mother, and flee into Egypt, and be there til I bring thee word: for Herode will seeke the babe, to destroy him.
14 So he arose and tooke the babe & his mother by night, and departed into Egypt,

17 Then was that fulfilled which was spoken by ỹ prophet Ieremias, saying,

18 * In m Rama was a voyce heard, mourning, and weeping, and great lamentation: Rachel weeping for her children, and would not be comforted, because they n were not.

19 And when Herode was dead, behold, an Angel of the Lorde appeareth in a dreame to Ioseph in Egypt, 20 Saying, Arise, and take the babe and his mother, and go into the land of Israel: for they are o dead which sought the babes life.

21 Then he arose vp, and tooke the babe and his mother, and came into the land of Israel.

22 But when he heard that Archelaus did reigne in Iudea in stead of his father Herod, he was afraid to go thither: p yet after he was warned of God in a dreame, he turned aside into the partes of Galile, 24 * No man can serue two masters: for either he shall hate the one, and loue the other, or els he shal leane to the one, and despise the other. Ye can not serue God and riches.

25 * Therefore I say vnto you, be not s careful for your life, what ye shal eate, or what ye shall drinke: nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. Is not the life more worth then meate? and the body then rayment?
26 Beholde the fowles of the heauen: for they sowe not, neither reape, nor carie into the barnes: yet your heauenly Father feedeth them. Are ye not much better then they?

1 THen he entred into a ship, & passed ouer, and came into his owne citie.
2 And *lo, they brought to him a mā sicke of the palsie, lying on a bed. And Iesus seeing their a faith, said to the sick of the palsie, Sōne be of good comfort: thy b sinnes are forgiuen thee.
3 And beholde, certaine of the Scribes said with themselues, This man blasphemeth.
4 But when Iesus saw their thoughts, he said, Wherefore thinke ye euil things in your hearts?
5 For whether is it c easier to saye, Thy sinnes are forgiuen thee, or to say, Arise, and walke?
6 And that ye may know that the Sōne of man hath authoritie in earth to forgiue sinnes, (then said he vnto the sicke of the palsie,) Arise, take vp thy bed, & go to thine house.
7 And he arose, & departed to his owne house.
8 So when the multitude sawe it, they marueyled, & glorified God, which had giuen such authoritie to men.
9 ¶ *And as Iesus passed foorth from thence, he sawe a man sitting at the receyte of custome named Matthewe, and said to him, Folowe me. And he arose, and followed him.
10 And it came to passe, as Iesus sate at meate in his houle, behold, many Publicanes and sinners, that came thither, sate downe at the table with Iesus & his disciples.

12 Now when Iesus heard it, he sayde vnto them, The [e] whole neede not a physition, but they that are sicke.

13 But go ye and learne what this is, [f] I will haue mercy, and not sacrifice: for I am not come to call ỳ righteous, but the sinners to repentance.

14 ¶ [g] Then came the disciples of Iohn to him, saying, Why do we and the Pharises fast oft, and thy disciples fast not?

15 And Iesus said vnto them, Can the [h] children of the mariage chamber mourne as long as the bridegrome is with them? But the dayes will come when the bridegrome shall be taken frō them, and then shall they fast.

16 Moreouer no man pieceth an [i] olde garment with a piece of [a] newe cloth: for that that should fill it vp, taketh away from the garment, and the breach is worse.

17 Neither do they put newe wine into [k] old [b] vessels: for then the vessels would breake, and the wine would be spilt, & the vessels should perish: but they put newe wine into new vessels, and so are both preserued.

18 ¶ [l] While hee thus spake vnto them, behold there came a certaine ruler, and worshipped him, saying, My daughter is nowe deceassed, but come and lay thine hand on her, and she shall liue.

19 And Iesus arose and followed him with his disciples.

20 (And beholde, a woman which was diseased with an issue of blood twelue yeres, came behind him, and touched the hemme of his garment.

21 For shee sayde in her selfe, If I may touche but his garment onely, I shall be whole.

22 Then Iesus turned him about, and seeing her, did say, Daughter, be of good cōfort: thy faith hath made thee whole. And the woman was made whole at that houre.)

23 Now when Iesus came into the rulers house, and sawe the [l] minstrels and the multitude making noise, 24 He sayde vnto them, Get you hence: for the maide is not dead, but sleepeth. And they laughed him to scorne.

25 And when the multitude were put forth, he went in and tooke her by the hand, and the mayde arose.

26 And this bruite went throughout all that lande.

27 And as Iesus departed thence, two blind men followed him, crying, and saying, O sonne of Dauid, haue mercie vpon vs.

28 And when he was come into ỳ house, the blinde came to him, and Iesus said vnto them, [m] Beleeue ye that I am able to do this? And they sayde vnto him, Yea, Lorde.

29 Then touched he their eyes, saying, According to your faith be it vnto you.

30 And their eyes were opened, & Iesus charged them, saying, See that no man know it.

31 But when they were departed, they spred abroad his fame throughout all that land.

32 ¶ And as they went out, behold, they brought to him a dumme man possessed with a deuil.

33 And when the deuil was cast out, the dumme spake: then the multitude marueiled, saying, The like was neuer seene in Israel.

34 But the Pharises said, [n] He casteth out deuils, through ỳ prince of deuils.

35 ¶ And [o] Iesus went about all cities and townes, teaching in their Synagogues, & preaching the Gospell of the [c] kingdome, and healing euerie sickнes and euery diseasе among the people.

36 But [p] when he saw the multitude, he had compassion vpon them, because they were dispersed, & scattered abroad, as sheepe hauing no shepheard.

37 Then said he to his disciples, [q] Surely the [r] haruest is great, but the labourers are fewe.

38 Wherefore pray the Lorde of the haruest, that he would [s] send forth labourers into his haruest.

Christ sendeth out his Apostles to preach in Iudea. 7 He giueth them charge, teacheth them, & comforteth them against persecution. 20 The holy Ghost speaketh by his ministers. 26 VVhome we ought to feare. 30 Our heares are counted. 32 To confesse Christ. 37 Not to loue our parents more than Christ. 38 To take vp our crosse. 39 To saue or lose the life. 40 To receiue the preachers.

AND [a] he called his twelue Disciples vnto him, and gaue them power against vncleane spirits, to cast them out, and to heale euery sickнes, and euery diseasе.

2 Now the names of the twelue Apostles are these. The first is Simon, called Peter, and Andrewe his brother: James the sonne of Zebedeus, & Iohn his brother:

3 Philippe and Bartlemew: Thomas, and Matthewe the Publicane: Iames the sonne of Alpheus, and Lebbeus whose surname was Thaddeus:

4 Simon [b] the Cananite, and Iudas Iscariot, who also betrayed him.

5 These twelue did Iesus sende forth, and commanded them, saying, Go not into the way of the Gentiles, and into the cities of the Samaritanes enter ye not:

6 But go rather [c] to the [d] lost sheepe of the house of Israel.

7 And as ye go, preach, saying, The kingdome of heauen is at hand.

CHAP. XIII.

3 The parable of the kingdome of God set forth by the parable of the seede. 24 Of the tares. 31 Of the mustarde seede. 33 Of the leauen. 44 Of the treasure hid in the field. 45 Of the pearle. 47 And of the net. 57 The Prophet is contemned in his owne countrey.

1 THe * same day went Jesus out of the house, and sate by the sea side.

*Mar.4.1.luk.8.4.5.

2 And a great multitudes resorted vnto him, so that he went into a ship, & sate downe: and the whole multitude stoode on the shore.

a All desired to heare his doctrine, but there was not like affection in all.

3 Then spake he many things to them in parables, saying, Behold, a sower went forth to sowe.

4 And as he sowed, some fell by the wayes side, and the fowles came and deuoured them vp.

5 And some fell vpon stonie grounde, where they had not much earth, and anon they sprong vp, because they had no depth of earth.

6 And when the sunne rose vp, they were parched, and for lacke of rooting, withered away.

7 And some fell among thornes, and the thornes sprong vp, and choked them.

8 Some againe fell in good ground, and brought forth fruite, one come an hundreth folde, some sixtie folde, and another thirtie folde.

b He sheweth that all men can not vnderstand these mysteries, and also maketh his disciples more attentiue.

9 He that b hath eares to heare, let him heare.

10 ¶ Then the disciples came, and said to him, Why speakest thou to them in parables?

c The Gospell is hid to them that perish. Chap.25.29.

11 And he answered and said vnto them, Because it is giuen vnto you, to know the secretes of the kingdome of heauen, but to them it is not c giuen.

d Christ encreaseth in his children his graces.

12 * d For whosoeuer hath, to him shall be giuen, and he shall haue abundance: but whosoeuer hath not, from him shalbe taken away, euen e that he hath.

e Euen that which he seemeth to haue.

13 Therefore speake I to them in parables, because they seeing, do not see: and hearing, they heare not, neither vnderstand.

14 So in them is fulfilled the prophecie of Esaias, which prophecie saith, * By hearing, ye shall heare, and shall not vnderstand, and seeing ye shall see, and shall not perceiue.

*Isa.6.9.mar.4.12.luk.8.10.ioh.12.40.act.28.26.rom.11.8.

15 f For this peoples heart is waxed fat, and their eares are dull of hearing, and with their eyes they haue winked, lest they should see with their eyes, & heare with their eares, & should vnderstande with their hearts, and should returne, that I might heale them.

f That which the Prophet referreth to ỹ secret counsell of God, is here attributed to the hard stubburnnes of ỹ people: for the one can not be separated from the other.

16 But blessed are your eyes, for they g see: and your eares, for they heare.

g To wit, the glorie of the Sonne of God, to acknowledge him their Sauiour.

17 * For verily I say vnto you, that many Prophets, and righteous men haue desired to see those things which ye see, and haue not seene them, and to heare those things which ye heare, and haue not heard them.

*Luke.10.24.Mar.4.15.luk.8.12.

18 ¶ * Heare ye therefore the parable of the sower.

19 Whensoeuer a man heareth the word of the kingdome, and vnderstandeth it not, the euill one commeth, & catcheth away that which was sowen in his heart: & this is he which h hath receiued the seede by the way side.

h Or, was sowen.

20 And he that receiued seede in the stonie grounde, is he which heareth the worde, and incontinently with ioy receiueth it.

21 Yet hath he no roote in him selfe, and dureth but a season: for assone as tribulation or persecution commeth because of the worde, by and by hee is offended.

22 And he that receiueth ỹ seede among thornes, is he that heareth the worde: but the care of this worlde, and the deceitfulnes of riches choke the worde, & he is made vnfruitfull.

23 But he that receiueth the seede in the good ground, is he that heareth ỹ word, and vnderstandeth it, which also beareth fruite, and bringeth forth, some an hundred folde, some sixtie folde, & some thirtie folde.

24 ¶ An other parable put hee foorth vnto them, saying, The kingdome of heauen is like vnto a man which sowed good seede in his fielde.

25 i But while men slept, there came his enemie, and sowed tares among the wheat, and went his way.

i He teacheth that the good & the bad shall be mixt together in the Church, to the end that the faithfull may arme themselues with pacience & constancie.

26 And when the blade was sprong vp, and brought forth fruite, then appeared the tares also.

27 Then came the seruants of ỹ housholder, and said vnto him, Maister, sowedst not thou good seede in thy fielde? from whence then hath it tares?

28 And he said to them, The enuious man hath done this. Then the seruants said vnto him, Wilt thou then that we go and gather them vp?

29 But

29 But he said, Nay, lest while ye go about to gather the tares, yee plucke vp also with them the wheate.
30 i Let both growe together vntill the harueſt, and in time of harueſt I will say to the reapers, Gather yee firſt the tares, and binde them in sheaues to burne them: but gather the wheat into my barne.
31 ¶ * Another parable put he forth vnto them, saying, The kingdome of heauen is like vnto a graine of mustard seede, which a man taketh and soweth in his fielde:
32 Which in deede is the k least of all seedes: but when it is growen, it is the greatest among herbes, & it is a tree, so that the birdes of heauen come and builde in the branches thereof.
33 ¶ *Another parable spake he to them, The kingdome of heauen is like vnto leauen, which a woman taketh and hideth in three peckes of meale, l til al be leauened.
34 ¶ * All these things spake Jesus vnto the multitude in parables, & without parables spake he not to them,
35 That it might be fulfilled, which was spoken by the Prophet, saying, *I will open my mouth in m parables, and wil vtter the things which haue bene kept secret from the foundation of the world.
36 Then sent Jesus the multitude away, & went into the house. And his disciples came vnto him, saying, Declare vnto vs the parable of the tares of the field.
37 Then answered he, and said to them, Hee that soweth the good seede, is the Sonne of man,
38 And the fielde is the worlde, and the good seede, they are the children of the kingdom, and the tares are the children of the wicked,
39 And the enemie that soweth them, is the deuill, * and the harueſt is the ende of the worlde, and the reapers be the Angels.
40 As then the tares are gathered and burned in the fire, so shall it bee in the ende of this world.
41 The Sonne of man shall sende forth his Angels, and they shal gather out of his kingdome all things that n offend, and them which doe iniquitie, 42 And shall cast them into a fornace of fire. There shall be wailing & gnashing of teeth.
43 *Then shall the iuſt men shine as the sunne in the kingdome of their Father. He that hath eares to heare, let him heare.
44 ¶ Againe the kingdome of heauen is like vnto treasure hid in o fielde, which when a man hath found, he hideth it, & for ioy thereof departeth and selleth all that he hath, and bieth that field.
45 ¶ Againe the kingdome of heauen is like to a marchant man, that seeketh good pearles, 46 Who hauing found a pearle of great price, went, & solde all that he had, and bought it.
47 ¶ Againe the kingdome of heauen is like * vnto a drawe net cast into the sea, that gathereth of all kindes of things.
48 Which, when it is full, men drawe to lande, and sit and gather the good into vessels, and cast the p bad away.
49 So shal it be at the end of the world. The Angels shal go forth, and seuer the bad from among the iuſt, 50 And shall cast them into a fornace of fire: there shalbe wailing, and gnashing of teeth.
51 ¶ Jesus said vnto them, Vnderstand ye al these things? They said vnto him, Yea, Lord.
52 Then saide hee vnto them, Therefore euerie q Scribe which is taught vnto the kingdom of heauen, is like vnto an houſholder, which bringeth forth out of his r treasure things both newe and olde.
53 ¶ And it came to passe, that when Jesus had ended these parables, he departed thence,
54 * And came into his owne countrey, and taught them in their Synagogue, so that they were astonied, and saide, Whence commeth this wiſedome and great workes vnto this man?
55 Is not this the carpenters sonne? is not his mother called Marie, * and his s brethren James & Joſes, and Simon and Judas?
56 And are not his sisters all with vs? Whence then hath he all these things?
57 And they were offended with him. Then Jesus saide to them, *A prophet is not without honour, t saue in his owne countrey, and in his own house.
58 And he did not many great workes there, for their vnbeleefes sake.

13 ¶ * Nowe when Iesus came into the his disciples, saying, Whome do men say that I, the Sonne of man am?

14 And they said, Some say, Iohn Baptist: and some, Elias: and others, Jere-mias, or one of the Prophetes.
15 He sayd vnto them, But whome say ye that I am?
16 Then Simon Peter answered, & said,
* Thou art the Christ, the Sonne of the liuing God.
17 And Iesus answered, and said to him, Blessed art thou, Simon, the sonne of Jonas: for [g] flesche and blood hath not reuealed it vnto thee, but my Father which is in heauen.
18 And I saye also vnto thee, that thou

20 Then he charged his disciples, that they should [m] tell no man that he was Iesus the Christ.
21 ¶ * From that time forth Iesus began to shewe vnto his disciples, that he must go vnto Jerusalem, & suffer many thinges of the Elders, and of the hie Priestes, & Scribes, and be slaine, and rise againe the thirde day.
22 Then Peter toke him aside, & began to rebuke him, saying, Master, spare thy selfe: this shall not be vnto thee.
23 Then he turned backe, and said vnto
Peter, Get thee behinde mee, * Satan:
thou art an offence vnto mee, because thou vnderstandest not the things that are of God, but the thinges that are of men.
24 Iesus then said to his disciples, * If any man will folowe me, let him forsake him selfe, and take vp his crosse, and fo-lowe me.
25 For * whosoeuer will [p] saue his life, shall lose it: and whosoeuer shal lose his life for my sake, shal finde it.
26 * For what shall it profite a man, what shall a man giue for recompence of his soule?

27 For the Sonne of man shall come in 4 Then answered Peter, and said to Iesus, Master, it is [c] good for vs to be here: if thou wilt, let vs make here three tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.

5 While he yet spake, beholde, a bright cloude shadowed them: and beholde, there came a voyce out of the cloude, saying, * This is my beloued Sonne, [d] in whome I am well pleased: [e] heare him.

15 And sayde, Master, haue pitie on my sonne: for he is lunatike, and is soze vexed: for oft times he falleth into the fyre, and oft times into the water.

16 And I brought him to thy disciples, & they coulde not heale him.

17 Then Jesus answered, and saide, h O generation faithles, and crooked, howe long nowe shall I be with you? howe long nowe shall I suffer you? bring him hither to me.

18 And Jesus rebuked the deuill, and he went out of him: and the childe was healed at that houre.

19 Then came the disciples to Jesus apart, and saide, Why could not we cast him out?

20 And Jesus saide vnto them, Because of your vnbeliefe: for *verely I say vnto you, if ye haue faith as much as is a graine of mustard seede, ye shall say vnto this mountaine, i Remoone hence to ponder place, and it shall remoue: and nothing shall be impossible vnto you.

25 He said, Yes. And when he was come into the house, Jesus preuented him, saying, What thinkest thou Simon? Of whom do the kinges of the earth take tribute, or polle money? of their children, or of strangers?

26 Peter saide vnto him, Of strangers. Then saide Jesus vnto him, Then are the children free.

4 Whosoeuer therefore shall humble him selfe as this litle childe, the same is the greatest in the kingdome of heauen.

c He calleth the litle children now, which humble themselues with al humilitie and subiection. Mar 9.42. luke 17.1,2.

5 c And whosoeuer shall receyue such a litle childe in my name, receiueth me.

6 *But whosoeuer shall offende one of these litle ones which beleeue in me, it were better for him, that a d millstone were hanged about his necke, and that he were drowned in the depth of the sea.

d The word signifieth a great millstone which an asse turneth: and it is spoken in respect of that which is turned with mans hand, which is lesse.

8 *Wherefore, if thine hande or thy foote cause thee to offende, cut them off, & cast them from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life, halt, or maimed, then hauing two handes, or two feete, to be cast into euerlasting fire.

f Christ toucheth the cause of this offence, which is pride and disdaine of our inferiours. Psalm. 34.7. g Seeing God hath commaunded his Angels to take the charge of his children, the wicked may be assured that if they despise them, God will reuenge their cause. Luke. 19.10. h Wee maye not lose by our offence that which God hath so derely bought. Luke 15.4.

9 And if thine eye cause thee to offende, plucke it out, and cast it from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life with one eye, then hauing two eyes, to bee cast into hell fire.

10 f See that yee despise not one of these litle ones: for I say vnto you, that in heauen their * g Angels alwayes beholde the face of my Father which is in heauen.

11 For * the Sonne of man is come to h saue that which was lost.

12 Howe thinke ye? * If a man haue an hundreth sheepe, & one of them be gone astray, doeth he not leaue ninetie and nine, and go into the mountaines, and seeke that which is gone astray?

13 And if so be that he finde it, verely I say vnto you, he reioyceth more of that sheepe, then of the ninetie & nine which went not astray.

14 So is it not the will of your Father which is in heauen, that one of these litle ones shoulde perish.

15 ¶ * Moreouer, if thy brother trespasse against i thee, go, and k tell him his fault betweene thee and him alone: if he heare thee, thou hast wonne thy brother.

16 But if he heare thee not, take yet with thee one or two, that by the * mouth of two or three witnesses euery word may be confirmed.

17 And if he will not vouchsafe to heare them, tell it vnto the k Church: and if he refuse to heare the Church also, let him be vnto thee as an heathen man, and a Publicane.

18 Verely I say vnto you, * Whatsoeuer ye l binde on earth, shalbe bound in heauen: and * whatsoeuer ye loose on earth, shalbe loosed in heauen.

19 Againe, Verely I say vnto you, that if two of you shall agree in earth vpon any thing, whatsoeuer they shall desire, it shalbe m giuen them of my Father which is in heauen.

20 For where two or three are gathered together in my Name, there am I in the middes of them.

21 Then came Peter to him, and sayde, Master, howe oft shall my brother sinne against me, and I shall forgiue him? * vnto seuen times?

22 Iesus said vnto him, I say not to thee, vnto seuen times, but vnto m seuentie times seuen times.

23 Therefore is the kingdome of heauen likened vnto a certayne king, which woulde take a count of his seruants.

24 And when he had begun to recken, one was brought vnto him, which ought him ten thousand n talents.

25 And because he had nothing to pay, his master commanded him to bee solde, and his wife, and his children, and all that he had, and the dette to be payed.

26 The seruant therefore fell downe, and besought him, saying, Master, appease thine anger towarde me, and I will pay thee all.

27 Then that seruants master had compassion, and loosed him, & forgaue him the dette.

28 But when the seruant was departed, he founde one of his felowes, which ought him an hundreth o peuce, and he layed handes on him, and tooke him by the throte, saying, Pay me that thou owest.

29 Then his felowe fell downe at his feete, & besought him, saying, Appease thine anger towardes me, and I will pay thee all.

30 Yet he would not, but went and cast him into prison, till he should paye the dette.

31 And when his other felowes saw what was done, they were very sore, & came, and declared vnto their master all that was done.

32 Then his master called him, and sayd to him, O euill seruant, I forgaue thee all that dette, because thou prayedst me.

33 Oughtest not thou also to haue had pitie on thy felowe, euen as I had pitie on thee?

34 So his master was wroth, and deliuered him to the iaylers, till he shoulde pay all that was due to him.

35 So likewise shall mine heauenly Father do vnto you, except ye forgiue p from your heartes, euery one to his brother their trespasses.

6 Wherefore they are no more twaine, but one flesh. Let not man therefore put asunder that, which God hath coupled together.

7 They said to him, Why did then * Moses command to giue a bill of diuorcement, and to put her away?

8 He said vnto them, Moses, because of the b hardnes of your heart, suffred you to put away your wiues: but c from the beginning it was not so.

9 I say therefore vnto you, * that whosoeuer shall put away his wife, except it be for whoredome, and marry another, d committeth adulterie: and whosoeuer marrieth her which is diuorced, doeth commit adulterie.

10 Then said his disciples to him, If the matter be so betweene man and wife, it is not good to marie.

e He setteth the crosse before their eyes to draw them from ambition, calling it a cup, to signifie the measure of the afflictions, which God hath ordeined for euery man: the which thing also he calleth baptisme.

23 And he said vnto them, Ye shal drinke in deede of my cup, and shalbe baptized with the baptisme, that I am baptized with, but to sit at my right hande, and at my left hand, is f not mine to giue: but it shalbe giuen to them, for whome it is prepared of my Father.

31 And the multitude rebuked them, because they should holde their peace: but they cryed the more, saying, O Lorde, the Sonne of Dauid, haue mercy on vs.

5 ¶ * Tell ye the b daughter of Sion, Beholde, thy king commeth vnto thee, meeke and sitting vpon an asse, and a c colt, the fole of an asse vsed to the yoke.

6 So the disciples went, and did as Iesus had commanded them,

8 And a great multitude spred their garments in the way: and other cut downe branches from the trees, and strawed them in the way.

16 And said vnto him, Hearest thou what these say? And Iesus saide vnto them, Yea: read ye neuer, *By the [i] mouth of babes and sucklinges thou hast [k] made perfit the prayse?

17 ¶ So he left them, and went out of the citie vnto Bethania, and lodged there.

18 And *in the morning as he returned into the citie, he was hungrie, 19 And seeing a figge tree in the wape, he came to it, and found nothing thereon, but leaues onely, and said to it, Neuer frute growe on thee henceforwardes. And anon the figge tree withered.

20 And when his disciples sawe it, they marueiled, saying, How sone is the fig tree withered!

21 And Iesus answered and saide vnto them, * Verily I saye vnto you, if ye haue fayth, and doubt not, ye shall not onely doe that, which I haue done to the fig tree, but also if ye say vnto this mountaine, [l] Take thy self away, and cast thy selfe into the sea, it shalbe done.

22 * And whatsoeuer ye shall aske in prayer, if ye beleeue, ye shall receyue it.

23 ¶ * And when he was come into the Temple, the chiefe Priestes, & the Elders of the people came vnto him, as he was teaching, & saide, By what authoritie doest thou these thinges? and who gaue thee this authoritie?

24 Then Iesus answered and said vnto them, I also will aske of you a certaine thing, which if ye tell me, I likewise wil tell you by what authoritie I doe these things.

25 The baptisme of John whence was it? [n] from heauen, or of men? Then they reasoned among them selues, saying, If we shal say, From heauē, he will say vnto vs, Why did ye not then beleeue him?

26 And if we saye, Of men, we [m] feare the people: * for all holde John as a Prophet.

27 Then they answered Iesus, and saide, We cannot tell. And he said vnto them, Neither tell I you by what authoritie I do these things.

28 ¶ But what thinke ye? A certaine man had two sonnes, and came to the elder, and said, Sonne, goe and worke to day in my vineyard.

29 But he answered, and said, I will not: yet afterward he repented himselfe, and went.

30 Then came he to the second, and saide likewise. And he answered, and saide, I will, sir: yet he went not.

31 Whether of them twaine did the will of the father? They sayde vnto him, The first. Iesus saide vnto them, Verily I say vnto you, that the [o] Publicanes and the harlottes shal go before you into the kingdome of God.

32 For John came vnto you in the [p] way of righteousnes, and ye beleeued him not: but the Publicanes, and the harlots beleeued him, and ye, though ye sawe it, were not moued with repentance afterwarde, that ye might beleeue him.

33 ¶ Heare another parable, There was a certaine housholder, *which planted a [p] vineparde, and [q] hedged it roumde about, and [r] made a winepresse therein, and built a towre, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a strange countrey.

34 And when the tyme of the frute drewe nere, he sent his seruants to [s] the husbandmen to receyue the fruites thereof.

35 And the husbandmen tooke his [t] seruants and beat one, and killed another, and stoned another.

36 Againe he sent other seruantes, moe then the first: and they did the like vnto them.

37 But last of all he sent vnto them his owne [t] sonne, saying, They will reuerence my sonne.

38 But when the husbandmen sawe the sonne, they sayde among themselues, * This is the heire: come, let vs kyll him, and let vs take his inheritance.

39 So they tooke him, and cast him out of the vineparde, and slewe him.

40 When therefore the Lorde of the vineparde shall come, what will he doe to those husbandmen?

41 They sayd vnto him, He will cruelly destroy those wicked men, and will let out his vineparde vnto other husbandmen, which shall deliuer him the fruites in their seasons.

42 Iesus saide vnto them, Read ye neuer in the Scriptures, * The stone which the builders [u] refused, the same is made the [x] head of the corner? This was the Lords doing, and it is marueilous in our eyes.

43 Therefore say I vnto you, the kingdom of God shalbe taken from you, & shal be giuen to a nation, which shall bring forth the fruites thereof.

44 * And whosoeuer shall fall on this stone, he shalbe broken: but on whomesoeuer it shall fall, it will grinde him to powder.

45 And when the chiefe Priestes & Pharises had heard his parables, they perceiued that he spake of them.

46 And they seeking to lay hāds on him, feared the people, because they tooke him as a Prophet.

1 THen * Jesus answered, and spake vnto them againe in parables, saying,

2 The kingdome of heauen is like vnto a certaine king which married his sonne, a Christ reprocheth the Iewes of their ingratitude & obstinate malice, in that they reiected the grace of God, which was so plentifully offred vnto them.

3 And a sent forth his seruantes, to call them that were bid to the wedding, but they would not come.

4 Againe he sent forth other seruantes, saying, Tell them which are bidden, Behold, I haue prepared my dinner: mine oxen and my fatlings are killed, and all thinges are readie: come vnto the marriage.

b God punisheth extremely such ingratitude

5 But they made light of it, & went their wayes, one to his farme, and another about his marchandise.

c The ingratitude of them which are bid, can not cause Gods liberalitie and his holie meates to perish, which he hath prepared for his.

6 And the remnant tooke his seruants, & intreated them shamefully, and slew them.

7 But when the king heard it, hee was wroth, and sent forth his warriers, and b destroyed those murderers, and burnt vp their citie.

d In the Church the hypocrites are mixed with the godly.

8 Then saide he to his seruants, Truely c wedding is prepared: but they which were bidden, were not worthie.

9 Go ye therefore out into the hie waies, and as many as ye finde, bidde them to the marriage.

e He had not a pure affection & vpright conscience, which proceeded of faith.

10 So d those seruants went out into the hie wayes & gathered together all that euer they founde, both e good and bad: so the wedding was furnished with ghestes.

16 And then sent vnto him their disciples with the h Herodians, saying, Master, we knowe that thou art true, and teachest the way of God truely, neither carest for any mā: for thou considerest not the i person of men.

17 Tell vs therefore, howe thinkest thou? Is it lawfull to giue tribute vnto Cesar, or not?

18 But Jesus perceiued their wickednes, and said, Why tempt ye me, ye hypocrites?

19 Shewe me the k tribute money. And they brought him a l pennie.

h These were certeine flatterers of the court, which euer maintened that religion which king Herod best approued: and thogh they were enemies to the Pharises: yet in this thing they consented, thinking to intangle Christ, and so either to accuse him of treason, or to bring him into the hatred of al his people.

i As touching the outward qualitie, as whether a man be riche or poore.

21 They saide vnto him, Cesars. Then saide he vnto them, * Giue therefore to Cesar, the things which are Cesars, and giue vnto God, those things which are Gods.

22 And when they heard it, they marueiled, and left him, and went their way.

23 ¶ * The same day the Sadduces came to him (which saye that there is no resurrection) and asked him, 24 Saying, Master, * Moses said, If a mā die, hauing no m children, let his brother n marrie his wife, and raise vp seede vnto his brother.

25 Now there were ih vs seuen brethē, and the first married a wife, & deceased: and hauing no sede, left his wife vnto his brother.

26 Likewise also the seconde, & the thirde, vnto the seuenth.

27 And last of all the woman died also.

28 Therefore in the resurrection, whose wife shal she be of the seuen? for all had her.

29 Then Jesus answered, and said vnto them, Ye o are deceiued, not knowing the Scriptures, nor the power of God.

30 For in the resurrection they neyther marry wiues, nor wiues are bestowed in marriage, but are as the p angels of God in heauen.

31 And concerning the resurrection of the dead, haue ye not read what is spoken vnto you of God, saying, 32 * I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? God is not the God of the dead, but of the liuing.

33 And when the people hearde it, they were astonied at his doctrine.

34 ¶ * But when q Pharises had heard, that he had put q Sadduces to silence, they assembled together.

35 And one of them, which was an expounder of the Lawe, asked him a question, tempting him, and saying, 36 Master, which is the great commandement in the Lawe?

37 Jesus said to him, * Thou shalt loue the Lord thy God with all thine heart, with all thy soule, and with all thy minde.

38 This is the first and the great commandement.

39 And the seconde is like vnto this, * Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe.

40 On these two commandements hangeth the whole Lawe and the Prophetes.

al our fathers, we would not haue ben partners with them in the blood of the Prophets.

31 So thē ye be witnesses vnto your selues, that ye o are the children of them that murdered the Prophets.

32 Fulfil ye also the measure of your fathers.

33 O serpents, the generation of vipers, how should ye escape the damnation of hell?

34 Wherefore behold, I sende vnto you p Prophets, & wise men, & Scribes, & of them ye shal kill & crucifie: and of them shal ye scourge in your Synagogues, and persecute from citie to citie, 35 That vpon you may come al ỹ righteous blood that was shedde vpon the earth, *from the blood of Abel ỹ righteous, vnto the blood r of Zacharias, the sonne of Barachias, whom ye slew betweene the Temple and the altar.

36 Verely I say vnto you, al these things shall come vpon this generation.

37 *Ierusalem, Ierusalem, which killest the Prophets, & stonest them which are sent to thee, howe often would I haue gathered thy children together, *as the hēne gathereth her chickens vnder her wings, and ye would not!

38 Beholde, your habitation shalbe left vnto you desolate.

39 For I say vnto you, ye shal not see me s henceforth til that ye say, Blessed is he that commeth in the name of the Lord.

1 AND *Iesus went out, and departed from the Temple, and his disciples came to him, to shewe him the a building of the Temple.

b They thought the world should be at an ende, when Ierusalem were destroyed. Ephe.5.6.col.2.18

3 And as he sate vpon the mount of Oliues, his disciples came vnto him apart, saying, Tell vs when these things shalbe, & what signe shalbe of thy comming, b and of the ende of the worlde.

c He answereth them not according to their myndes, but admoniseth them of that which is necessary for them to knowe.

4 And Iesus answered, and sayde vnto them, * c Take heede that no man deceiue you.

5 For many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ, & shal deceiue many.

6 And ye shal heare of warres, and rumors of warres: see ỹ ye be not troubled: for all these things must come to passe: but the ende is not yet.

7 For nation shal rise against nation, and realme against realme, & there shal be pestilence, and famine, and earthquakes in diuers places.

11 And many false prophets shall arise, and shal deceiue many.

CHAP. XXV.

1 By the similitude of the virgins Iesus teacheth euery man to watche, 14 And by the talents to be diligent. 31 The last iudgement. 32 The sheepe and the goates. 35 The workes of the faithfull.

1 Then the a kingdome of heauen shall be likened vnto ten virgins, which tooke their lampes, & went to b meete the bridegrome.

a This similitude teacheth vs, that it is not sufficiēt to haue once giuen our selues to follow Christ, but that we must continue.

b To do him honour, as the maner was.

2 And fiue of them were wise, and fiue foolish.

3 The foolish tooke their lampes, but tooke none oyle with them.

4 But the wise tooke oyle in their vessels with their lampes.

5 Now while the bridegrome taried long, all slumbred and slept.

6 And at midnight there was a cry made, Behold, the bridegrome commeth: goe out to meete him.

7 Then al those virgins arose, and trimmed their lampes.

8 And the foolish said to the wise, c Giue vs of your oyle, for our lampes are out.

c Manie seeke þ which they haue contemned, but it is too late.

9 But the wise answered, saying, We feare least there will not be ynough for vs & you: but d goe rather to them that sel, and bie for your selues.

d This was spoken in repreche, because they made not prouision in time.

10 And while they went to bie, the bridegroome came: and they that were readie, went in with him to the wedding, and the gate was shut.

11 Afterwardes came also the other virgins, saying, Lord, Lord, open to vs.

12 But he answered, and said, Verely I say vnto you, e I knowe you not.

e I wil not open to you because you haue failed in the midway.

13 *Watch therefore: for ye knowe neither the day, nor the houre, when the Sonne of man will come.

Chap.24.42,44. mar.13.33,35. Luke.19.12.

14 *f For the kingdome of heauen is as a man that going into a strange countrey, called his seruantes, and deliuered to them his goods.

f This similitude teacheth howe we ought to continue in þ knowledge of God, and do good with those graces that God hath giuen vs.

15 And vnto one he gaue fiue g talents, and to another two, & to another one, to euery man after his owne habilitie, and straightway went from home.

g Euery talent commōly made three score pound, reade chap 18.24.

16 Then he that had receiued the fiue talents, went and occupied with them, & [h] gained other fiue talents.

[h] Or, made.

17 Likewise also, he that receiued two, he also gayned other two.

18 But he that receiued that one, went and digged it in the earth, and hid his masters money.

19 But after a long season, the master of those seruants came, and reckoned with them.

20 Then came he that had receiued fiue talents, and brought other fiue talents, saying, Master, thou deliueredst vnto me fiue talents: beholde, I haue gained with them other fiue talents.

21 Then

21 Then his master saide vnto him, It is well done good seruant and faithfull. Thou hast bene faithful in litle, I will make thee ruler ouer much: h enter in into thy masters ioye.

h The master receyueth hym into his house to giue hym part of his goods and commodities.

22 Also he that had receiued two talents, came and saide, Master, thou deliueredst vnto me two talents: beholde, I haue gained two other talents with them.

23 His master saide vnto him, It is well done good seruant, and faithfull, Thou hast bene faithfull in litle, I will make thee ruler ouer much: enter in into thy masters ioye.

24 Then he which had receiued the one talent, came and said, Master, I knewe that thou wast an harde man, which reapest where thou sowedst not, and gatherest where thou strawedst not:

25 I was therefore afraid, and went and hid thy talent in the earth: beholde, thou hast thine owne.

26 And his master answered, and saide vnto him, Thou euil seruant and slothfull, thou knewest that I reape where I sowed not, & gather where I strawed not.

g Or, lingerer.

27 Thou oughtest therefore to haue put my money to the exchangers, and then at my comming should I haue receyued myne owne with vantage.

28 Take therefore the talent from him, & giue it vnto him which hath ten talents.

29 * For vnto euery man that hath, it shalbe giuen, and he shal haue abundance, and from him that hath not, euen that he hath, shalbe taken away.

Chap.13.12. luke.8.18.& 19.26 mar.4.25.

i The graces of God shalbe take away from him that doeth not bestowe them to Gods glory and his neighbours profite.

30 Cast therefore that vnprofitable seruant into vtter * darknes: there shalbe weeping, and gnashing of teeth.

31 ¶ And when the Sonne of man commeth in his glory, and all the holy Angels with him, then shal he sit vpon the throne of his glory.

32 And before him shalbe gathered all nations, and he shal separate them one from another, as a shepherd separateth the sheepe from the goates.

Chap.8.12. & 22.13.

k For our saluation commeth of the blessing and fauour of God.

33 And he shal set the sheepe on his right hand, and the goates on the left.

l Hereby God declareth the certaintie of our predestination, wherby we are saued, because we were chosen in Christ before the fundations of the worlde, Ephe.1.4.

m Christ meaneth not that our saluation dependeth on our workes, or merites, but teacheth what it is to liue iustly according to godlynesse and charitie, and that God recompenseth his of his free mercy, likewise as he doeth elect them. Ecclus.7.35. n Or, infirme.

37 Then shall the righteous answere hym, saying, Lord, when saw we thee an hungred, and fed thee? or a thirst, and gaue thee drinke?

38 And when saw wee thee a stranger, and lodged thee? or naked, and clothed thee?

39 Or when saw we thee sicke, or in prison, and came vnto thee?

40 And the king shall answere and saye vnto them, Verely I say vnto you, in as much as ye haue done it vnto one of the least of these my brethren, ye haue done it to me.

41 Then shal he say vnto them on the left hand, * Depart from me ye cursed, into euerlasting fire, which is prepared for the deuil and his angels.

Psal.6.8. chap.7.23. luke 13.27.

42 For I was an hungred, and ye gaue me no meate: I thirsted, and ye gaue me no drinke:

43 I was a stranger, and ye lodged me not: I was naked, and ye clothed me not: sicke, and in prison, & ye visited me not.

44 Then shal they also answere him, saying, Lord, when saw we thee an hungred, or a thirst, or a stranger, or naked, or sicke, or in prison, and did not minister vnto thee?

Dan.12.2. iohn.5.29.

n We must therefore onely do that, which God requireth of vs, and not followe mens foolish fantasies.

45 Then shal he answere them, and saye, Verely I say vnto you, in as much as ye did it not to one of the least of these, ye did it not to me.

46 * And these o shal goe into euerlasting paine, and the righteous into life eternal.

o Or, punishment.

CHAP. XXVI.

Conspiracie of the Priests against Christ. 10 He excuseth Magdalene. 26 The institution of the Lordes Supper. 31 the disciples weakenes. 48 The treason of Iudas. 62 The swords. 64 Because Christ calleth himselfe the Sonne of God, he is iudged worthie to die. 69 Peter denieth, and repenteth.

8 And when his disciples sawe it, they had q indignation, saying, What needed this waste?

b This was through Iudas motion, to whō they gaue credit.

9 For this ointment might haue bene sold for much, & geuen to the poore.

10 And

10 And Jesus knowing it, said vnto thē, Why trouble ye the woman? for shee hath wrought a good worke vpon me.
11 *For ye haue the poore alwayes with you, but me shal ye not c haue alwaies.
12 For in that she poured this ointment on my body, she did it to d burie me.
13 Verely I say vnto you, Wheresoeuer this Gospell shalbe preached throughout all the worlde, there shal also this that she hath done, be spoken of for a memorial of her.
14 ¶ * Then one of the twelue, called Judas Iscariot, went vnto the chiefe priests, 15 And said, What wil ye giue me, and I will deliuer him vnto you? and they appointed vnto him thirtie e pieces of siluer.
16 And from that time, he sought opportunitie to betray him.
17 ¶ * Now on the first day of the feast of vnleauened bread the disciples came to Jesus, saying vnto him, Where wilt thou that wee prepare for thee to eate the Passeouer?
18 And he said, Go into the citie to such a man, and saye to him, The master saith, f My time is at hande: I wil keepe the Passeouer at thine house with my disciples.
19 And the disciples did as Jesus had giuen them charge, and made readye the Passeouer.
20 *So when the euen was come, he sate downe with the twelue.
21 And as they did eate, he said, Verely I say vnto you, that one of you shal betray me.
22 And they were exceeding sorowfull, and began euery one of them to say vnto him, Is it I, maister?
23 And he answered, and sayde, *He that g dippeth his hand with me in the dish, he shall betray me.
24 Surely the Sonne of man goeth his way, h as it is written of him: but woe be to that man, by whom the Sonne of man is betrayed: it had bene good for that man, if he had neuer bene borne.
25 Then Judas which betrayed him, answered, and said, Is it I, Master? He said vnto him, Thou hast said it.
26 ¶ * And as they did eate, Jesus tooke the bread: and when hee had giuen thankes, hee brake it, and gaue it to the disciples, and sayde, Take, eate: i this is my body.
27 And he tooke the cup, and whē he had giuen thankes, he gaue it them, saying, Drinke ye all of it.
28 For this is my k blood of the newe testament, that is shed for many, for the remission of sinnes.
29 I say vnto you, that l I wil not drinke henceforth of this fruite of the vine vntil that day, when I shal drinke it newe with you in my Fathers kingdome.
30 And when they had sung a Psalme, they went out into the mount of Olives.
31 ¶ * Then said Jesus vnto them, All ye shal be m offended by me this night: for it is written, I wil * smite the shepherd, and the sheepe of the flocke shalbe scattered.
32 But * after I am risen againe, I wyll go before you into Galile.
33 But Peter answered, and saide vnto him, n Though that all men shoulde be offended by thee, yet wil I neuer be offended.
34 * Jesus saide vnto him, Verely I say vnto thee, that this night, before the cocke crow, thou shalt deuie me thrise.
35 Peter said vnto him, Though I should die with thee, yet will I not deny thee. Likewise also said all the disciples.
36 ¶ * Then went Jesus with them into a place which is called Gethsemane, & saide vnto his disciples, Sitte ye here, while I go and pray ponder.
37 And he tooke Peter, & the two sonnes of Zebedeus, & began to waxe sorowful, o and grieuously troubled.
38 Then said Jesus vnto them, My soule is very heauie, euen vnto the p death: tarye ye here, and watch with me.
39 So he went a litle further, and fell on his face, and prayed, saying, O my Father, if it be possible, let this q cup passe from me: neuertheless, not as I will, but as thou wilt.
40 After, he came vnto the disciples, and found them a sleepe, and said to Peter, What? couldest ye not watch with me one houre?
41 Watch, and pray, that ye enter not into temptation: the spirit in deede is redy, but the flesh is r weake.
42 Againe he went away the second time, and prayed, saying, O my father, if this cup can not passe away from me, but that I must drinke it, thy wil be done.
43 And he came, and found them a sleepe againe: for their eyes were heauie.
44 So he left them, & went away againe, and prayed the third tyme, saying the same wordes.
45 Then came he to his disciples, & sayd vnto them, s Sleepe henceforth, & take your rest: behold, the houre is at hand, and the Sonne of man is giuen into the hands of sinners.
46 t Rise, let vs go: behold, he is at hand that betrayeth me.
47 * And while he yet spake, lo, Judas, one of the twelue, came, and with him a great multitude with swordes and staues, from the hie Priests, & Elders of the people.
48 Now he that betrayed him, had giuen them a token, saying, Whomsoeuer I shal kisse, that is he, lay hold on him.
49 And forthwith he came to Jesus, and said, u God saue thee, Master, and kissed him.
50 Then Jesus said vnto him, x Friend, wherefore art thou come? Then came they, & laid hands on Jesus, & tooke him.
51 And beholde, one of them which were with Jesus, stretched out his hande, and 62 Then the chiefe priest arose, and sayd to him, Answerest thou nothing? What is the matter that these men witnes against thee?

63 But Iesus [c] held his peace. Then the chiefe priest answered, and said to him, I [d] charge thee by the liuing God, that thou tell vs, if thou be the Christe the sonne of God.

64 * Iesus saide to him, * Thou hast said it: neuertheles I say vnto you, hereafter shal ye see the Sonne of man, sitting at the right hand of the power of God, and come in the cloudes of the heauen.

65 Then the hie Priest rent his [e] clothes, saying, He hath [f] blaspheamed: what haue we any more nede of witnesses? behold, now ye haue heard his blasphemie.

66 What thinke ye? They answered, & said, He is worthy to die.

67 * Then spate they in his face, and buffeted him: and [h] other smote him with their rodes, 68 Saying, [i] Prophecie to vs, O Christ, Who is he that smote thee?

69 ¶ * Peter sate without in the hal: and a maide came to him, saying, Thou also wast with Iesus of Galile.

70 But he denied before them all, saying, I wot not what thou sayest.

71 And when he went out into the porche, an other maide saw him, and said vnto them that were there, This man was also with Iesus of Nazaret.

72 And [k] againe he denied with an othe, saying, I knowe not the man.

73 So after a while, came vnto him they that stode by, and saide vnto Peter, Surely thou art also one of them: for euen thy speach betrayeth thee.

74 Then began he to curse him selfe, and to sweare, saying, I know not the man. And immediatly the cocke crewe.

75 Then Peter remembred the words of Iesus, which had saide vnto him, Before the cocke crow, thou shalt denie me thrise. So he went out, and [l] wept bitterly.

CHAP. XXVII.

Christ is deliuered vnto Pilate. 5 Iudas hangeth himselfe. 24 Christ is pronounced innocent by the Iudge, and yet is condemned, and crucified among theeues. 46 He prayeth vpon the crosse. 51 The vaile is rent. 52 The dead bodies arise. 57 Ioseph burieth Christ. 64 VVatchmen keepe the graue.

1 WHen * the morning was come, all the chiefe Priestes, & the Elders of the people tooke counsell against Iesus, to put him to death,

2 And led him away bound, and deliuered him vnto Pontius Pilate the gouernour.

3 ¶ Then when Iudas which betrayed him, saw that he was condemned, [b] he repented himselfe, and brought againe the thirtie peces of siluer to the chiefe Priests, and Elders,

4 Saying, I haue [c] sinned betraying the innocent blood. But they said, What is that to vs? [d] see thou to it.

5 And when he had cast downe the siluer pieces in the Temple, he departed, and went, * and hanged himselfe.

6 And the chiefe Priests tooke the siluer pieces, and said, It is not [e] lawful for vs to put them into the [f] treasure, because it is the price of blood.

7 And they tooke counsell, and bought with them a potters field, for the burial of [g] strangers.

8 Wherefore that fielde is called, * The fielde of blood, vntill this day.

9 (Then was fulfilled that which was spoke by Ieremias the Prophet, saying, * And they toke thirtie siluer pieces, the price of him that was valued, whome they of the children of Israel valued.

12 And when he was accused of the chief Priestes and Elders, he answered nothing.

13 Then saide Pilate vnto him, Hearest thou not how many things they lay against thee?

14 But hee answered him not to one worde, insomuch that the gouernour marueiled greatly.

ᵉ Or, quit.

f It was a tradition of the Iewes to deliuer a prisoner at Easter.

15 Nowe at the feast, the gouernour was wont to ᵉ deliuer vnto the people a prisoner, whom they would.

16 And they had then a notable prisoner, called Barabbas.

17 When they were then gathered together, Pilate saide vnto them, Whether will ye that I let loose vnto you Barabbas, or Iesus which is called Christ?

18 (For he knew wel, that for enuie they had deliuered him.

19 Also when he was set down vpon the iudgement seate, his wyfe sent to him, saying, ʰ Haue thou nothing to do with that iust man: for I haue suffred many things this day in a dreame by reason of him.)

h This was to ỹ greater condemnation of Pilate, whom neither his owne knowledge coulde teach, nor counsell of others, to defend Christs innocencie.

22 Pilate saide vnto them, What shal I doe then with Iesus which is called Christ? They all sayde to him, Let him be crucified.

29 And platted a crowne of thornes, and put it vpon his head, and a reede in his right hand, & bowed their knees before him, and mocked him, saying, God saue thee king of the Iewes, a Here y Euangelist rekoneth the natural day from the Sunne rising to his rising againe, and not as the Iewes did, which began to count at the first houre after the Sunne set.

* Or, morning.

2 And beholde, there was a great earthquake: for the b Angel of the Lorde descended from heauen, and came and rolled backe the stone from the doore, and sate vpon it.

b There were two: but it is a maner of speach to vse the singular number for the plurall, and contrarie.

3 And his countenance was like lightening, and his rayment white as snow.

4 And for feare of him, the keepers were astonied, and became as dead men.

5 But the Angel answered, & saide to the women, Feare ye not: for I know that ye seeke Iesus which was crucified:

6 He is not here, for he is risen, as he said: come, see the place where the Lord was laid,

7 And goe quickly, and tell his disciples that he is risen from the dead: and beholde, he goeth before you into Galile: there ye shall see him: c loe, I haue tolde you.

c He assureth them that it is so.

8 So they departed quickly from the sepulchre, with feare and great d ioy, and did runne to bring his disciples word.

d Their ioy was mixt with feare, both because of the Angels presence, and also for that they were not assured

9 And as they went to tell his disciples, beholde, Iesus also met them, saying, God saue you. And they came, & tooke him by the feete, and worshipped him.

10 Then saide Iesus vnto them, Be not afraide. Goe, and tell my brethren, that they go into Galile, and there shall they see me.

11 ¶ Now when they were gone, beholde, some of the watch came into the citie, & shewed vnto the hie Priests al y things that were done.

12 And they gathered them together with the Elders, and tooke counsel, and gaue large money vnto the souldiers, 13 Saying, Say, His disciples came by night, & stole him away while we slept.

14 And if the gouernour heare of this, we wil perswade him, and saue you harmeles.

15 So they tooke the mony, & did as they were taught: and this e saying is noysed among the Iewes vnto this day.

e An extreme vengeance of God, whereby the Iewes were the more hardened, so that they can not feele the profit of his death and resurrection.

16 ¶ Then the eleuen disciples went into Galile, into a mountaine, where Iesus had appointed them.

17 And when they sawe him, they worshipped him: but some doubted.

18 And Iesus came, & spake vnto them, saying, * All power is giuen vnto me in heauen, and in earth.

19 And when he had gone a litle further thence, he sawe Iames the sonne of Zebedeus, and Iohn his brother, as they were in the ship, mending their nettes.

20 And anon he called them: and they left their father Zebedeus in the ship with his hired seruantes, & went their way after him.

25 And Iesus rebuked him, saying, [m] Hold thy peace, and come out of him.

m Christ would not suffer the father of lyes to beare witnes to the trueth.

26 And the vncleane spirit tare him, and cryed with a loude voyce, and came out of him.

27 And they were al amased, so that they demaded one of another, saying, What thing is this? what [n] new doctrine is this? for he commandeth the foule spirits with authoritie, & they obey him.

n They referre the myracle to the kinde of doctrine, & so marueile at it, as a newe & strange thing, & do not consider the power of Christ, who is the authour of the one and the other.

41 And Iesus had compassion, and put forth his hande, and touched him, and said to him, I will: be thou cleane.

a Where he was wont to remaine

2 And anon, many gathered together, in so much that the places about the doore coulde not receyue any more: and he preached the word unto them.

3 And there came unto him, bringing one sicke of the palsie, borne of foure men.

4 And because they could not come nere unto him for the multitude, they uncouered the roofe of the house where hee was: and when they had broken it vp, they let downe the bed, wherein the sicke of the palsie lay.

b By these words Christ shewed that he was sent of his Father with authoritie to take away our sinnes. Iob. 14. 4. Esa. 43. 25.

5 Now when Iesus saw their faith, hee said to the sicke of the palsie, Sonne, thy b sinnes are forgiuen thee.

6 And there were certaine of the Scribes, sitting there, and reasoning in their hearts,

7 Why doeth this man speake such blasphemies? *who can forgiue sinnes, but God only?

8 And immediatly when Iesus perceiued in his spirit, that thus they thought with themselues, he said unto them, Why reason ye these things in your hearts?

9 c Whether is it easier to say to the sicke of the palsie, Thy sinnes are forgiuen thee? or to say, Arise, and take vp thy bed, and walke?

c Christ speaketh according to their capacitie, who were so blinde that they would beleeue nothing, but that which they saw with their eyes, and therefore sheweth his authoritie ouer the soule by the power which he hath ouer the body.

10 And that ye may know, that the Sonne of man hath authoritie in earth to forgiue sinnes, (he said unto the sicke of the palsie)

11 I say unto thee, Arise and take vp thy bed, and get thee hence unto thine owne house.

12 And by and by he arose, and tooke vp his bed, and went forth before them all, in so much that they were all amased, and glorified God, saying, d We never sawe such a thing.

d Their owne cōsciences cause them to confesse the trueth. Mat. 9. 9. luke 5. 27.

13 ¶ Then he went againe towarde the sea, and all the people resorted unto him, and he taught them.

14 *And as Iesus passed by, he saw Leui the sonne of Alpheus sit at the receite of custome, and said unto him, Folow me. And he arose and followed him.

15 ¶ And it came to passe, as Iesus sate at table in his house, many Publicanes and sinners sate at table also with Iesus, and his disciples: for there were many that folowed him.

16 And when the Scribes and Pharises saw him eate with the Publicanes and sinners, they sayde unto his disciples, How is it, that he eateth and drinketh with Publicanes and sinners?

17 How when Iesus heard it, he sayde unto them, The whole haue no neede of the physician, but the sicke. *I came not to call the *rightuous, but the sinners to repentance.

1. Tim. 1. 15.

e He speaketh of such as perswade them selues to be iust, although they be nothing lesse. Mat. 9. 14. luke 5. 33.

18 *And the disciples of John, and the Pharises did fast, and came and sayde unto him, Why do the disciples of John and of the Pharises fast, and thy disciples fast not?

19 And Iesus saide unto them, Can the f children of the marriage chamber fast, whiles the bridegrome is with them? as long as they haue the bridegrome with them, they can not fast.

f Christ sheweth that he wil spare his, and not burden them before it be necessarie.

20 But the dayes will come, when the bridegrome shalbe taken frō them, and then shall they fast in those dayes.

21 Also no man soweth a piece g of newe cloth in an olde garment: for els the new piece taketh away the filling vp from the olde, and the breach is worse.

g The word properly signifieth new cloth which as yet hath not passed the hande of the fuller.

22 Likewise, no man putteth newe wine into olde vessels: for els the newe wine breaketh the vessels, and the wine runneth out, and the vessels are lost: but newe wine must be put into newe vessels.

4 And he ſayde to them, Is it lawfull to do a good deede on the Sabbath day, or to do euil? to ſaue the life, or to kil? But they a held their peace.

a They helde their tongues of malice: for they woulde neither confeſſe nor denie.

5 Then he looked rounde about on them b angerly, mourning alſo for the hardneſſe of their heartes, & ſaid to the man, Stretch forth thyne hand. And he ſtretched it out: and his hand was reſtored, as whole as the other.

b Chriſt is in ſuch ſort angrie with man that he pitieth him and ſeeketh to winne him.

CHAP. IIII.

a By the parables of the seed, and the mustard corne, Christ sheweth the state of the kingdome of God. 11 A speciall gift of God to know the mysteries of his kingdome. 37 He stilleth the tempest of the sea which obeyed him.

Mat.13.1. luke.8.4.

1 AND * he began again to teach by the sea side, & there gathered vnto him a great multitude, so þ he entred into a ship, and sate in the sea, and all the people was by the sea side on the land.
2 And he taught them many thinges in parables, and sayd vnto them [b] in [a] his doctrine,
3 Hearken: Beholde, there went out a sower to sowe.
4 And it came to passe as he sowed, that some fell by the wayes side, and the foules of the heauen came and deuoured it vp.
5 And some fell on stonie ground, where it had not much earth, and by and by sprang vp, because it had not depth of earth.
6 But assoone as the sunne was vp, it caught heat, & because it had not roote, it withered away.
7 And some fell among the thornes, and the thornes grewe vp and choked it, so that it gaue no fruit.
8 Some againe fell in good ground, and did yeeld fruit that sprong vp, & grewe, and it brought forth, some thirtie folde, some sixtie folde, and some an hundreth folde.
9 Then he saide vnto them, He that hath [b] eares to heare, let him heare.
10 And when hee was alone, they that were about him with the twelue, asked him of the parable.
11 And he said vnto them, To [c] you it is giuen to know the mysterie of the kingdome of God: but vnto them that are [d] without, all thinges bee doone in parables, 12 * That they seeing, may see, & not discerne: and they hearing, may heare, and not vnderstand, least at any time they shoulde turne, and their sinnes shoulde be forgiuen them.
13 Againe he said vnto them, Perceyue ye not this parable? how then shoulde ye vnderstand all other parables?
14 The sower soweth the word.
15 And these are they that receiue the seed by the wayes side, in whom the worde is sowen: but when they haue heard it, Satan commeth immediately, and taketh away the worde that was sowen in their heartes.
16 And likewise they that receyue þ seed in stonie ground, are they, which when they haue heard the worde, straightwayes receyue it with gladnes.
17 Yet haue they no roote in themselues, & endure but a time: for when trouble and persecution ariseth for the worde, immediatly they be offended.
18 Also they that receyue the seede among the thornes, are such as heare the worde:
19 But the cares of this world, & the * deceyptfulnes of riches, and the lustes of other things enter in, & choke the word, and it is vnfruitfull.
20 But they that haue receiued seede in good ground, are they that heare the worde, and receyue it, and bring forth fruit, one corne thirtie, an other sixtie, & some an hundreth.
21 ¶ Also hee saide vnto them, * Is [e] the candle lighted to be put vnder a bushel, or vnder the table, and not to be put on a candlesticke?
22 * [f] For there is nothing hid, that shall not be opened: neither is there a secrete, but that it shall come to light.
23 If any man haue eares to heare, let him heare.
24 And he saide vnto them, Take heede what ye heare. * With [g] what measure ye mete, it shall bee measured vnto you: and vnto you that heare, shall more bee giuen.
25 * For vnto him that hath, shall it bee giuen, & from him that hath not, shal be taken away, [h] euen that he hath.
26 ¶ Also he said, So is the [i] kingdome of God, as if a man shoulde [k] cast seede in the ground, 27 And should sleepe, & rise vp night and day, and the seede shoulde spring and grow vp, he not knowing how.
28 For the earth bringeth forth fruite of her selfe, first the blade, then the eares, after that, full corne in the eares.
29 And assoone as the fruit sheweth it selfe, anon he putteth in the sickle, because the haruest is come.
30 ¶ * He sayde moreouer, Whereunto shall we liken the kingdome of God? or with what comparison shall wee compare it?
31 It is like a graine of mustarde seede, which when it is sowen in the earth, is the least of all seedes that bee in the earth:
32 But after that it is sowen, it groweth vp, and is greatest of all herbes, and beareth great branches, so that the foules of heauen may builde vnder the shadow of it.
33 And * with many such parables hee preached the worde vnto them, as they were able to heare it.
34 And without parables spake hee nothing vnto them: but he expounded all things to his disciples apart.
35 ¶ * Howe the same daye when euen was come, he sayde vnto them, Let vs passe ouer vnto the other side.
36 And they left the multitude, and [l] tooke him as hee was in the shippe: and there were also with him other shyps.
37 And there arose a greate stourme of

CHAP. V.

1 Iesus casteth the deuils out of the man, and suffreth them to enter into the swine. 25 He healeth a woman from the bloudie ysſue, 41 And raiseth the captaines daughter.

Mat.8.28. luke.8.26.

1 AND * they came ouer to the other side of the sea into the countrey of the Gadarens.

2 And when hee was come out of the ship, there mette him incontinently out of the graues, a man which had an vncleane spirit:

3 Who had his abiding among the graues, and no man could binde him, no not with chaines,

4 Because that when he was often bound with fetters and chaines, hee plucked the chaines asunder, and brake the fetters in pieces, neither could any man tame him.

5 And alwayes both night and day hee cryed in the mountaines, and in the graues, & stroke him selfe with stones.

6 And when hée sawe Iesus afar off, he ran, and worshipped him,

7 And cryed with a loud voyce, & sayde, o What haue I to doe with thee, Iesus, the sonne of the most high GOD? I charge thee by p God, that thou torment me not.

o To adiure thee to sweare by God.

p He abuseth ſ Name of God, to maintaine his tyrannie.

8 (For he saide vnto him, Come out of the man, thou vncleane spirit.)

9 And he asked him, What is thy name? and he answered, saying, My name is q Legion: for we are many.

q A Legion contained aboue 6000 in nomber, reade, Mat. 26.53.

10 And he prayed him instantly, that hée woulde not sende them awaye out of the countrey.

11 Now there was there in the mountaines a great heard of swyne, feeding.

12 And all the deuils besought him, saying, Send vs into the swine, that wée may enter into them.

13 And incontinently Iesus gaue them leaue. Then the vncleane spirits went out, and entred into the swine, and the hearde r ran headlong from the high banke into the sea, (and there were about two thousand swine) & they were drowned in the s sea.

r Or, ran with violence headlong.

s Or, in the lake.

14 And the swineheards fled, and tolde it in the citie, and in the countrey, and they came out to see what it was that was done.

15 And they came to Iesus, and saw him that had bene possessed with the deuill, and had the legion, sit both clothed, and in his right minde: and they were afraid.

16 And they that sawe it, told them, what was done to him that was possessed with the deuill, and concerning the swine.

17 Then t they began to pray him, that hée would u depart from their coastes.

t Marke howe loue of riches & worldly respects hinder men to receiue Christ.

18 And when he was come into the ship, he that had bene possessed with the deuill, prayed him that he might be with him.

19 Howbeit, Iesus would not suffer him, but saide vnto him, Goe thy waye home to thy friends, and x shewe them what great things the Lorde hath done vnto thee, and howe he hath had compassion on thee.

u The worldlings more esteeme their swine, then they do Iesus Christ.

x We must declare vnto others the benefits which God sheweth towards vs, that thereby they may giue him praise & glory.

z Her faith brought her to Christ, and moued her to approchenere vnto him, and not a superstitious opinion, to attribute any vertue to his garment.

32 And he looked round about, to see her that had done that.

33 And the woman feared & trembled: for for she knew what was done in her, and she came & fell downe before him, and tolde him the whole trueth.

34 And he sayde to her, Daughter, thy faith hath made thee whole: goe in peace, and be whole of thy [a] plague.)

38 So he came vnto the house of the ruler of the Synagogue, and sawe the tumult, and them that wept and wayled greatly.

39 And he went in, and saide vnto them, Why make ye this trouble, and weepe? the childe is not [b] dead, but sleepeth.

[b] He ment, she was not dead to remaine so, because she should incontinently be restored againe to life.

40 And they [i] laught him to scorne: but he put them all out, and tooke the father, and the mother of the child, and [k] them that were with him, & entred in where the child lay, 12 ¶ And they went out and preached, that men should amend their liues.

13 And they cast out many deuils: and they * anointed many that were sicke, with [i] oyle and healed them.

[l] They had then this common errour, that they thought the soules being departed out of one body went straight into another.

17 For Herode him selfe had sent foorth, and had taken Iohn, and bounde him in prison for Herodias sake, which was his brother Philips wife, because he had maried her.

18 For Iohn saide vnto Herode, * It is not [m] lawfull for thee to haue thy brothers wife.

19 Therefore Herodias had a quarell against him, and would haue killed him, but she could not:

20 For Herode feared Iohn, knowing that he was a iust man, and an holy, and reuerenced him, & when he heard him, he did many thinges, and [n] heard him gladly.

21 But the time being conuenient, when Herode on his birth daye made a banket to his princes and captaines, and chefe states of Galile:

25 Then shee came in straightway with haste vnto the King, and asked, saying, I wonde that thou shouldest giue mee euen now in a charger p head of Iohn Baptist.

26 Then the King was very sorie: yet for his othes sake, & for their sakes which sate at table with him, he would not refuse her.

39 So he commanded the to make them all sit downe by ' companies vpon the greene grasse.

42 So they did all eate, & were satisfied.

43 And they tooke vp twelue baskets full of the fragments, and of the fishes.

44 And they that had eaten, were about fiue thousand men.

45 ¶ And straightway he caused his disciples to goe into the ship, and to go before vnto the other side vnto Bethsaida, while he sent away the people.

The disciples eate with vnwashen hands. 8 The commaundement of God is transgressed by mans traditions. 22 What defileth man. 24 Of the woman of Syrophenissa. 32 The healing of the dumme. 37 The people praiſe Christ.

1 THen * gathered vnto him the Phariſes, and certayne of the Scribes which came from Ieruſalem.

Mat.15.2.

2 And when they sawe some of his disciples disciples eate meate with [1] common [a] handes, (that is to say vnwashen) they complayned.

3 (For the Pharises, and all the Iewes, except they wash their handes [b] oft, eate not, holding the tradition of the Elders.

4 And when they come from the market, except they washe, they eate not: and manie other thinges there bee, which they haue taken vpon them to obserue, as the washing of cuppes, and [c] pottes, and of brasen vessels, and of tables.)

5 Then asked him the Pharises and Scribes, Why walke not thy disciples according to the tradition of the Elders, but eate [1] meate with vnwashen handes?

6 Then hee answered and sayde vnto them, Surely [d] Esai hath prophecied wel of you, hypocrites, as it is written, This people honoureth me with their [d] lippes, but their heart is farre away from me.

7 But they worship mee in vaine, teaching for doctrines the [e] commandements of men.

8 For ye lay the commandement of God apart, and obserue the tradition of men, as the washing of pots [g] of cups, and many other such like thinges ye doe.

9 And hee sayde vnto them, Well, ye reiect the commaundement of GOD, that ye may obserue your owne tradition.

10 For Moses said, [] Honour thy father, and thy mother: and, [] Whosoeuer shal curse father or mother, let him [f] dye the death.

11 But ye saye, If a man say to father or mother, Corban, that is, By the gifte that is offered by mee, thou maist haue profite, he shalbe free.

12 So ye suffer him no more to doe any thing for his father, or his mother, 13 Making the word of God of none authoritie, by your tradition which ye haue ordeined: and ye do manye such like things.

Mat.15.10.

14 * Then he called the whole multitude vnto him, and said vnto them, Hearken you all vnto me, and vnderstand.

15 There [g] is nothing without a man, that can defile him, when it entreth into him: but the things which proceed out of him, are they which defile the man.

16 If any haue eares to heare, let him heare.

17 And when he came into an house away from the people, his disciples asked him concerning the parable.

18 And he said vnto them, What? are ye without vnderstanding also? Do ye not know that whatsoeuer thing from without entreth into a man, cā not defile him, 19 Because it entreth not into his heart, but into the bellie, and goeth out into the draught which is the purging of al meates?

20 Then he said, That which commeth out of man, that defileth man.

21 [*] For from within, euen out of the heart of men, proceede euil thoughtes, adulteries, fornications, murthers, Gen.6.5.& 8.21.

22 Theftes, couetousnes, wickednes, deceit, [1] vncleannes, [a] a wicked eye, backebiting, pride, foolishnes. [1] Or, wantonnes. [a] Or, enuie.

23 All these euil things come from within, and defile a man.

24 ¶ * And from thence he rose, and went into the borders of Tyrus and Sidon, and entred into an house, and would that no man should haue knowen: but he could not be hid. Mat.15.25.

25 For a certaine woman, whose litle daughter had an vncleane spirit, heard of him, and came, and fell at his feete.

26 (And the woman was a Greeke, a Syrophenissian by nation) and she besought him that he would cast out the deuill out of her daughter.

27 But Jesus said vnto her, Let [h] children first be fed: for it is not good to take the childrens bread, and to cast it vnto [i] whelpes.

28 Then she answered, and sayde vnto him, Trueth, Lord: yet in deede the whelpes eate vnder the table of [h] childrens [k] crommes.

29 Then he sayde vnto her, For this saying go thy way: the deuil is gone out of thy daughter.

30 And when shee was come home to her house, she founde the deuill departed, and her daughter lying on the bed.

31 ¶ And he departed againe from the coastes of Tyrus and Sidon, and came vnto the sea of Galile, through the middes of the coastes of Decapolis.

32 And they brought vnto him one that was deafe, and stambred in his speach, and prayed him to put his hand vpon him.

33 Then hee tooke him a side from the multitude, and put his fingers in his eares, and did spit, and touched his tongue, 34 And looking vp to heauen, he [l] sighed, and sayde vnto him, Ephphatha, that is, Be opened.

35 And straightway his eares were opened, and the string of his tongue was loosed, and he spake plaine.

36 And he commanded them, that they should tell no man: but howe much soeuer he forbad them, the more a great deale they published it, 37 And were beyond measure astonied, saying, * [m] Hee hath done all thinges wel: he maketh both the deafe to heare, and the domme to speake.

4 Then his diſciples anſwered him, Or, Vvhence. *Howe can a man ſatiſfie theſe b with bread here in the wilderneſs?

b If bread were ſo hard to come by, it ſeemed vnpoſſible to obtaine other meate.

1 AND he said vnto them, Verely I say vnto you, that there be some of them that stand here, which shal not taste of death, till they haue seene the [a] kingdome of GOD come with power.

a The preaching of the Gospel received and increased: he spake this to comfort them, and that they should not thinke they trauailed in vaine.

Mat.17.1. luke.9.28.

2 *And sixe dayes after, Jesus tooke Peter, and James, and John, and bringeth them vp into an hie mountaine out of the way alone, and he was transfigured before them.

3 And his raiment did [b] shine, and was very white, as snowe, so white as no fuller can make vpon the earth.

b Christ sheweth his maiestie so farre as their infirmitie was able to comprehend it.

4 And there appeared vnto them Elias with Moses, and they were talking with Jesus.

5 Then Peter answered, and saide to Jesus, Master, it is good for vs to bee here: let vs make also three tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.

c Peter measured this vision according to his owne capacitie, not considering the end thereof.

6 [c] For he knewe not what he saide: for they were afraide.

Mat.3.17.& 17.5 luke.3.22. chap.1.11.

7 And there was a cloude that shadowed them, and a voyce came out of the cloude, saying, *This is my beloued Sonne: [d] heare him.

d Christ onely must be the chief teacher & instructour of all them, which professe themselues to be his members, seeing that God the Father giueth him this authoritie, & cõmandeth vs this obediẽce.

8 And suddenly they looked round about, and sawe no more any man saue Jesus onely with them.

Mat.17.9.

9 *And as they came downe from the mountaine, he charged them, that they should tel no man what they had seene, saue when the Sonne of man were risen from the dead againe.

Malach.4.5.

10 So they kept that matter to themselues, and demanded one of another, what the rising from the dead againe should meane?

e Their false opinion was that either Elias should rise again from the dead, or that his soule should enter into some other body

11 Also they asked him, saying, Why say the Scribes, That *Elias must first come?

Mat.17.9.

12 And he answered, and sayde vnto them, Elias verely shall first come and restore all things: and *as it is written of the Sonne of man, hee must suffer many things, and be set at nought.

Isai.53.4.

13 But I say vnto you, that [f] Elias is come, (and they haue done vnto him whatsoeuer they would) as it is written of him.

f That is, Iohn Baptist.

Mat.17.14. luke.9.37,38.

14 ¶ *And when he came to his disciples, he saw a great multitude about them, and the Scribes disputing with them.

15 And straightway all the people, when they beheld him, were amased, and ran to him, and saluted him.

g To the nine, which he left the day before.

16 Then hee asked the Scribes, What dispute you [a] among your selues?

*Or, against them.

17 And one of the companie answered, and said, Master, I haue brought my sonne vnto thee, which hath a dumme spirit:

18 And whereseuer he taketh him, he [b] teareth him, and he foameth, and gnasheth his teeth, and pineth away: and I spake to thy disciples [c] they should cast him out, and they could not.

h When y spirit cõmeth vpo him he teareth him with inward sorowe and pangs, as in a colicke a man feeleth such griefe, as if his bowels were rent a sunder.

i It seemeth that this man deserued not so sharp an answer, but Christ speaketh in his person to the Pharises, which were stubborne and desperate.

19 Then hee answered him, and sayde, [i] O faithles generation, how long now shal I be [d] with you? How long now shall I suffer you? Bring him vnto me.

20 So they brought him vnto him: and assoone as the spirit sawe him, he tare him, and he fel downe on the ground, wallowing and foming.

21 Then he asked his father, Howe long time is it since he hath bene thus? And he said, Of a childe.

22 And oft times he casteth him into the fire, and into the water to destroy him: but if thou canst do any thing, help vs, and haue compassion vpon vs.

k The Lord is euer ready to helpe vs, so that we put him not backe through our incredulitie.

23 And Jesus said vnto him, If [k] thou canst beleeue it, all things are possible to him that beleeueth.

l All things that are agreeable to the will of God, shalbe graunted to him that beleeueth: for faith seketh nothing, that is contrarie to his will, or that is not reuealed in his word.

24 And straightway the father of the childe cryed with teares, said, Lord, I beleeue: helpe my [m] vnbeliefe.

m That is, the feeblenes, & imperfection of my fayth.

25 When Jesus sawe that the people came running together, he rebuked the vncleane spirit, saying vnto him, Thou dumme and deafe spirit, I charge thee, come out of him, and enter no more into him.

n Meaning, the childe.

26 Then the spirit cryed, and rent him sore, and came out, and [n] he was as one dead, in so much that many said, He is dead.

27 But Jesus tooke his hande, and lift him vp, and he rose.

28 And when hee was come into the house, his disciples asked him secretly, Why could not we cast him out?

29 And he sayde vnto them, This kinde can by no other meanes come forth, but by [o] prayer, and fasting.

o Meaning, that prayer which is surely grounded vpon fayth, and hath fasting ioyned vnto it as a profitable aide

Mat.17.22. luke.9.22.

30 ¶ And they departed thence, and went through Galile, and he would not that any should haue knowen it.

p Because they imagined that Christ sheulde reigne temporally, this matter of his death was so straunge, that they could perceyue nothing.

31 For he taught his disciples, and sayd vnto them, The Sonne of man shalbe deliuered into the handes of men, and they shall kill him, but after that hee is killed, hee shall rise againe the thirde day.

Mat.17.22.

32 But [p] they vnderstoode not that saying, and were afraid to aske him.

2 Of diuorcement. 17 The rich man questioneth with Christ. 30 Their reward that are persecuted. 35 Of the sonnes of Zebedeus. 46 Bartimeus hath his eyes opened.

Mat.19.1.

1 And * hée arose from thence, and went into the coastes of Iudea by the farre side of Iordan, & the people resorted vnto him againe, & as he was wont, he taught them againe.
2 Then the Pharises came and asked him, if it were lawful for a man to put away his wife, and tempted him.
3 And hee answered, and sayde vnto them, What did * Moyses commande you?
4 And they said, Moses suffered to write a bil of diuorcement, and to put her away.
5 Then Iesus answered, and sayde vnto them, For the hardnes of your heart he wrote this precept vnto you.
6 But at the [a] beginning of the creation, * GOD made them male and female.
7 *For this cause shall man leaue his father and mother, and cleaue vnto his wife.
8 And they twaine shall be one [b] flesh: so that they are no more twaine, but one flesh.
9 *Therefore, what God hath coupled together, let not man separate.
10 And in the house his disciples asked him againe of that matter.
11 And hee said vnto them, * Whosoeuer shall put away his wife and marie another, [b] committeth adulterie against her.
12 And if a woman put away her husband, and be maried to another, shee committeth adulterie.
13 ¶ Then they brought litle children to him, that hee shoulde touche them: and his disciples rebuked those ỹ brought them.
14 But when Iesus sawe it, he was displeased, and saide to them, Suffer the litle children to come vnto mee, and forbidde them not: for of such is the kingdome of God.
15 Verely I say vnto you, Whosoeuer shall not receiue the kingdome of God as [c] a litle childe, hee shall not enter therein.
16 And hee tooke them vp in his armes, and put his handes vpon them, and [d] blessed them.
17 ¶ And when he was gone out on the way, there came one * running, and kneeled to him, and asked him, Good Master, what shall I doe, that I may possesse eternall life?
18 Iesus sayd to him, Why callest thou me good? there is none [e] good but one, euen God.
19 Thou knowest the commandementes, * Thou shalt not committe adulterie. Thou shalt not kill. Thou shalt not steale. Thou shalt not beare false witnes. Thou shalt hurt no man. Honour thy father and mother.
20 Then he answered, and said to him, Master, all these things I haue obserued from my youth.
21 And Iesus beheelde him, and [f] loued him, and saide vnto him, One thing is lacking vnto thee, Go and [g] sell all that thou hast, and giue to the poore, and thou shalt haue treasure in heauen, and come, followe mee, and take vp the crosse.

i For he can giue grace to the riche to cause him to enioy his riches, as if he had them not. Mat.19.27. luke.18.28.

28 ¶ Then Peter began to say vnto him, Lo, we haue forsaken all, and haue followed thee.

29 Jesus answered, & said, Verely I say vnto you, there is no man that hath forsaken house, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands for my sake and the Gospels, 30 But he shall receiue an hundreth folde nowe at this present: houses, and brethren, and sisters, and mothers, and children, and landes with [k] persecutions, and in the world to come, eternall life.

k We must not measure these promises by our owne couetous desires, but referre the accomplishment to Gods will, who euen in our persecutions and afflictions performeth the same so farre as they be expedient. 32 ¶ And they were in the way going vp to Jerusalem, and Jesus went before them, and they were amased, and as they followed, they were afraid, and Jesus tooke the twelue againe, and began to tell them what thinges should come vnto him, 33 Saying, Beholde, we goe vp to Jerusalem, & the Sonne of man shalbe deliuered vnto the Priests, & to the Scribes, & they shall condemne him to death, & shall deliuer him to the Gentiles.

34 And they shall mocke him, & scourge him, and spitte vpon him, and kill him: but the third day he shall rise againe.

35 ¶ Then James & John the sonnes of Zebedeus came vnto him, saying, Master, we would that thou shouldest do for vs that that we desire.

m Can you be partakers of my crosse and afflictions?

36 And he said vnto them, What would ye I should do for you?

37 And they saide to him, Graunt vnto vs, that we may sit one at thy right hand, and the other at thy left hande in thy glory.

38 But Jesus said vnto them, Ye know not what ye aske. Can ye [m] drinke of the cuppe that I shall drinke of, and be baptized with the baptisme that I shall be baptized with?

39 And they said vnto him, We can. But Jesus saide vnto them, Ye shall drinke in deede of the cuppe that I shall drinke of, and be baptized with the baptisme wherewith I shalbe baptized:

40 But to sit at my right hande, and at my left, is not [n] mine to giue, but it shall be giuen to them for whome it is prepared.

n I haue not this commission for this time.

41 And when the ten heard that, they began to disdaine at Iames and John.

42 But Jesus called them vnto him, & said vnto them, * Ye knowe that they which beare rule among the Gentiles, haue domination ouer them, and they that bee great among them, exercise authoritie ouer them. Luke 22.25.

43 But it shall [o] not bee so among you: but who so euer will bee great among you, shalbe your seruant, o Christ woulde not that his disciples and ministers should beare rule as worldly gouernours do.

44 And whosoeuer will be chiefe of you, shalbe the seruant of all.

45 For euen the sonne of man came not to be serued, but to serue, & to giue his life for the ransome of many.

46 ¶ Then they came to Jericho: & as he went out of Jericho with his disciples, and a great multitude, [p] Bartimeus the sonne of Timeus, a blynde man, sate by the wayes side begging.

48 And many rebuked him, because he shoulde holde his peace: and he [q] cryed much more, O Sonne of Dauid, haue mercie on me.

q The more that Satan resisteth vs, the more our faith ought to increase.

49 Then Jesus stoode stil, and commanded him to be called: and they called the blind, saying vnto him, Be of good comfort: arise, he calleth thee.

50 So he threw away his cloke, and rose, and came to Jesus.

51 And Jesus answered, and saide vnto him, What wilt thou that I doe vnto thee? And the blynde sayde vnto him, Loude, that I may receiue sight.

52 Then Jesus sayde vnto him, Goe thy way: thy faith hath saued thee. And by and by he receiued his sight, and followed Jesus in the way.

b Euery one shewed some signe of honour and reuerence.

f This was to declare howe much they displease God, which haue but an outwarde shewe and apperance without fruite.

15 ¶ And they came to Jerusalem, and Jesus went into the Temple, and began to cast out them that sold & bought in the Temple, and ouerthrewe the tables of the money changers, and the seates of them that solde doues.

16 Neyther would he suffer that any man shoulde carry a vessell thyough the Temple.

19 And when euen was come, Jesus went out of the citie.

20 ¶ * And in the morning as they passed by, they sawe the figge tree dried vp from the rootes.

21 Then Peter remembred, and said vnto him, Master, beholde, the figge tree which thou cursedst, is withered.

22 And Jesus answered, and saide vnto them, Haue [h] faith in God.

h Christ taketh occasion to instruct them of the vertue of fayth.

23 For verely I say vnto you, that whosoeuer shall saye vnto this mountaine, Take thy selfe away, and cast thy selfe into the sea, and shall not wauer in his heart, but shal beleeue that those things which he sayth, shall come to passe, whatsoeuer hee sayeth, shall be done to him.

1 And he began to speake vnto them in parables, * A certaine man planted a vineyarde, and compassed it with an hedge, and digged a pit for the [a] winepresse, and built a towre in it, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a strange countrey.

Isa.5.1. Jere.2.21. matth.21.33. luke.20.9.

a The Greeke woorde signifieth the vessel or fat, which standeth vnder the wine presse to receiue the iuyce or liquour.

2 And at a time, he sent to the husbandmen a seruaunt, that he might receiue of the husbandmen of the fruite of the vineyarde.

3 But they toke him, and beat him, and sent him away emptie.

4 And againe, he sent vnto them another seruant, and at him they cast stones, and brake his head, and sent him him away shamefully handled.

5 And againe he sent an other, and him they slewe, and many other, beating some, and killing some.
6 Yet had he one sonne, his deare beloued: him also he sent the last vnto them, saying, They will reuerence my sonne.
7 But the husbandmen said among the selues, This is the heire: come, let vs kill him, and the inheritance shall be ours.
8 So they tooke him, and killed him, and cast him out of the vineyarde.
9 What shall then the Lorde of the vineyarde doe? He [b] will come and destroy these husbandmen, and giue the vineyard to others.
10 Haue ye not read so much as this Scripture? *The stone which the builders did refuse, is made the head of the corner.
11 This [c] was done of the Lord, and it is marueilous in our eyes.
12 Then they went about to take him, but they feared the people: for they perceiued that he spake [d] parable against them: therefore they left him, and went their way.
13 ¶ *And they sent vnto him certain of the Pharises, & of the Herodians that they might take him in his talke.
14 And when they came, they sayde vnto him, Master, we knowe that thou art true, and carest for no man: for thou considerest not the [e] person of men, but teachest the [f] way of God truely, is it lawfull to giue tribute to Cesar, or not?
15 Should we giue it, or shoulde we not giue it? But he knewe their hypocrisie, and sayde vnto them, [g] Why tempt ye me? Bring me a penye, that I may see it.
16 So they brought it, and he sayde vnto them, Whose is this image and superscription? and they said vnto him, Cesars.
17 Then Jesus answered, and said vnto them, * Giue to Cesar the things that are Cesars, and to God, those that are Gods: and they marueiled at him.
18 ¶ * Then came the Sadducees vnto him, (which say, there is no resurrection) and they asked him, saying,
19 Master, * Moses wrote vnto vs, If any mans brother dye, and leaue his wife, and leaue no children, that [g] his brother should take his wife, and raise vp seede vnto his brother.
20 There were seuen brethren, and the first tooke a wife, and when he dyed, left no issue.
21 Then the second tooke her, and he died, neither dyd he yet leaue issue, and the third likewise.
22 So seuen had her, and left no issue: last of all the wife died also.
23 In the resurrection then, when they shall rise againe, whose wife shall she be of them? for seuen had her to wife.
24 Then Jesus answered, and said vnto them, Are ye not therefore deceiued, because ye know not the Scriptures, neyther the power of God?
25 For when they shal rise againe from the dead, neither men marry, nor wiues are married, but are [h] as the Angels which are in heauen.
26 And as touching the dead, that they shall rise againe, haue ye not read in the booke of Moses, howe in the bush God spake vnto him, saying, I *am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob?
27 He is not the God of the dead, but the God of the liuing. Ye are therefore greatly deceiued.
28 ¶ * Then came one of the Scribes that had heard them disputing together, and perceiuing that he had answered them well, he asked him, Which is the first commandement of all?
29 Jesus answered him, The first of all [i] commandements is, * Heare, Israel, the Lord our God is the onely Lord.
30 Thou shalt therefore loue the Lorde thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soule, and with all thy [k] mind, and with all thy strength: this is the first commandement.
31 And the second is [l] like, that is, * Thou shalt loue thy neyghbour as thy selfe. There is none other commandement greater then these.
32 Then the Scribe said vnto him, Well Master, thou hast said the trueth, that there is one God, & that there is none but he,
33 And to loue him with all the heart, and with all the vnderstanding, and with all the soule, & with all the strength, and to loue his neighbour as him selfe, is more then all burnt [l] offrings and sacrifices.
34 Then, when Jesus sawe that he answered discretely, he sayde vnto him, Thou [m] art not far from the kingdome of God. And no man after that durst aske him any question.
35 ¶ * And Jesus answered and said teaching in the Temple, How say the Scribes that Christ is the Sonne of Dauid?
36 For Dauid himselfe said by the [n] holy Ghost, * The Lord said to my Lord, Sit at my right hande, till I make thine enemies thy footestole.
37 Then Dauid him selfe calleth him Lorde: by what meanes is he then his sonne? & much people heard him gladly.

44 For they all did cast in of their superfluitie: but she of her pouertie did cast in all that she had, euen all her liuing.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The destruction of Ierusalem. 10 The Gospell shalbe preached to all. 9.22 The persecutions and false Prophetes which shalbe before the comming of Christ, whose houre is vncertain. 33 He exhorteth euery one to watch.

Mat.24.1.luke.21.5.

1 AND * as he went out of the Temple, one of his disciples sayde vnto him, Master, see what stones and what buildings are here.

Luk.19.43.44.

2 * Then Jesus answered and said vnto him, Seest thou these great buildings? there shall not be left one stone vpon a stone, that shall not be throwen downe.

3 And as he sate on ꝑ mount of Olives, ouer against the Temple, Peter, and James, and John, and Andrewe asked him secretly, Ephe.5.6.2.thess.2.3.

a He doeth answere them of things that were more necessarie for them to know then the things that they demanded.

4 Tell vs, when shall these thinges bee? and what shalbe the signe when al these things shalbe fulfilled?

5 And Jesus answered them, and began to say, * a Take heed least any man deceiue you.

b Vsurping the authoritie of Christ.

6 For many shall come in my name, saying, I b am Christ, and shall deceiue many.

c That they may be inexcusable.

7 Furthermore when yee shall heare of warres, and rumours of warres, bee yee not troubled: for such things must needes be: but the end shall not be yet.

Matt.10.19.luke.22.11.and 21.14.

8 For nation shall rise against nation, & kingdome against kingdome, and there shall bee earthquakes in diuers quarters, and there shalbe famine and troubles: these are the beginninges of sorowes.

d He onely forbiddeth that care which commeth of distrust.

9 But take ye heede to your selues: for they shall deliuer you vp to the Councels, and to the Synagogues: ye shalbe beaten, and brought before rulers and Kinges for my sake, for a c testimonall vnto them.

e This is not to make them negligent, but to assure them that he will assist them and instruct them sufficiently with answers, so that they may hereby perceiue that their defence standeth not in their owne wisdome, or eloquence.

10 And the Gospell must first bee published among all nations.

11 * But when they leade you, and deliuer you vp, take ye no d thought afore, neither premeditate e what ye shall say: but whatsoeuer is giuen you at ꝑ same time, that speake: for it is not yee that speake, but the holy Ghost.

12 Yea, and the brother shall deliuer the brother to death, and the father the sonne, and the children shall rise against their parents, & shall cause them to die.

13 And ye shalbe hated of all men for my Names sake: but whosoeuer shall endure vnto the end, he shalbe saued.

Mat.24.15.

14 * Moreouer, when ye shall see the abomination of desolation (spoken of by *Daniel the Prophet) f *standing where it ought not, (let him that readeth, consider it) *then let them that be in Judea, flee vnto the g mountaines, f This is ment of that time that the Romanes should prophane the Temple.

Dan.9.27.

15 And let him that is vpon the house, not come downe into the house, neyther enter therein, to fetch any thing out of his house.

Or, being.

Luk.21.20,21.

16 And let him that is in the fielde, not turne backe againe vnto the thinges which he left behinde him, to take his clothes.

g Because the destruction shall be most extreme and cruel.

17 Then woe shall bee to them that are with h childe, and to them that giue sucke in those dayes.

h For they shall not be able to flee.

18 i Pray therefore that your flight bee not in the winter.

i That you haue no let to hinder you when you should escape.

19 For there shall be in those dayes such tribulation, as was not from the beginning of the creation which God created vnto this time, neither shalbe.

20 And except that the Lord had shortened those dayes, no *flesh should be saued: but for the electes sake, which hee hath chosen, hee hath shortened those dayes.

Or, man.

21 Then * if any man saye to you, Loe, here is Christ, or, loe, he is there, beleeue it not.

Mat.24.23.luke.21.8.

k The elect may wauer and be troubled, but they cannot vterly be deceiued, and ouercome.

22 For false Christs shall rise, & false prophets, and shall shewe signes and wonders, to deceiue if it were k possible, the very elect.

23 But take ye heed: behold, I haue shewed you all things l before.

l Wherefore he that suffereth himselfe nowe to be seduced, hath none excuse.

Isa.13.10.ezek.32.7.ioel.2.10.

24 ¶ Moreouer * in those dayes, after ꝑ tribulation, ꝑ Sunne shall ware darke, & the Moone shall not giue her light, & 3.15.

25 And the m starres of heauen shall fall: and the powers which are in heauen, shall shake.

m This teacheth that there shalbe a change of the whole order of nature.

26 And then shall they see the Sonne of man comming in the cloudes, with great power and glory.

Mat.24.31.

27 * And he shall then sende his Angels, and shal gather together his elect from the foure windes, and from the vtmost part of the earth to the vtmost part of heauen.

n The word signifieth the space of a 100 yeres: albeit this came to passe before fiftie yeres.

28 Now learne a parable of the fig tree. When her bough is yet tender, and it bringeth forth leaues, yee knowe that sommer is neere.

29 So in like maner, when yee see these thinges come to passe, knowe that the kingdome of God is neere, euen at the dores.

o When the destruction of Ierusalem, the persecutions & illusions shal come: but chiefly these are vnderstand of the second comming of Christ.

30 Verely I say vnto you, that this *generation shall not passe, tyll all these things be done.

31 Heauen and earth shall passe away, but my words shall not passe away.

32 But of that ᵒday and houre knoweth no no man, no, not the Angels with are in heauen, neither the p Sonne himself, saue the Father.

33 * Take heede: watch, and pray: for ye knowe not when the time is.

34 For the Sonne of man is as a man going into a straunge countrey, and leaueth his house, and giueth authoritie to his seruants, and to euery man his worke, and commandeth the porter to watch.

35 ¶ Watch therefore, (for ye knowe not when the Master of the house will come, at euen, or at midnight, at the cocke crowing, or in the dawning)

36 Lest if he come suddenly, he should find you sleeping.

37 And those thinges that I say vnto you, I say vnto all men, Watch.

p In that he is man and Mediator. Mat.24.42.

q For of the cōming we are most assured: but of the time, the yere, the day or houre, we are ignorant, and therefore must watch continually.

CHAP. XIIII.

1 The Priestes conspire against Christ. 3 Maria Magdalene aneyntath Christ. 12 The Passeouer is eaten. 18 He telleth afore of the treason of Iudas. 22 The Lordes Supper is instituted. 46 Christ is taken. 67 Peter denieth him.

Mat.26.2. Luke.22.1.

1 And * two daies after followed the feast of the Passeouer, and of vnleauened bread: and the hygh Priests, and Scribes sought how they might take him by craft, and put him to death.

2 But they sayde, Not in the feast daye, least there be any tumult among the people.

Mat.26 6. Iohn.12.1.

3 * And when he was in Bethania in the house of Simon the leper, as he sate at table, there came a woman hauing a boxe of oyntment of [1] spikenard, very costly, and she brake the boxe, and powred it on his head.

1 Or, of pure narde, & faithfully made a As Iudas who caused this murmuring.

4 Therefore [a] some disdayned among themselues, and said, To what ende is this waste of ointment?

5 For it might haue bene solde for more then [b] three hundreth pence, and bene giuen vnto the poore, [c] and they grudged against her.

b Which are in value about six pound sterling.

c To wit, Iudas: who was offended therwith, & therefore made a busines.

6 But Iesus sayde, Let her alone: why trouble yee her? she hath wrought a good worke on me.

7 For yee haue the poore with you alwayes, and when ye will ye may doe them good, but me ye shall not haue alwayes.

8 She hath done that she could: she came aforehande to anoynt my body to the burying.

9 Verely I say vnto you, Wheresoeuer this Gospel shall be preached throughout the whole worlde, this also that she hath done, shall be spoken of in remembrance of her.

Mat.26.14. Luke.22.4.

10 ¶ * Then Iudas Iscariot, one of the twelue, [d] went awaye vnto the hygh Priests, to betraye him vnto them.

d He tooke occasion by this ointment as of a thing euil done.

11 And when they heard it, they were glad, and promised that they would giue him money: therefore he sought howe he might conueniently betraye him.

Mat.26.17. Luke.22.7.

12 ¶ * Nowe the first day of vnleauened bread, when they sacrificed the Passeouer, his disciples sayde vnto him, Where wilt thou that we goe and prepare, that thou mayest eate the Passeouer?

13 Then he sent forth two of his disciples, and sayde vnto them, Goe ye into the city, and there shall a man meet you bearing a pitcher of water: follow him.

14 And whithersoeuer he goeth in, say ye to the goodman of the house, The Master sayth, Where is the lodging where I shal eate the Passeouer with my disciples?

15 And he wil shew you an vpper chamber which is large, trimmed and prepared: there make it ready for vs.

16 So his disciples went forth, and came to the citie, and founde as he had sayde vnto them, and made readie the Passeouer.

17 ¶ And at euen he came with the twelue.

Mat.26.20. Luke.22.14. Iohn.13.21.

18 * And as they sate at table and did eate, Iesus sayde, Verely I say vnto you, that one of you shall betray me, which eateth with me.

19 Then they began to be sorowfull and to say to him one by one, Is it I? and another, Is it I?

20 And he answered and said vnto them, It is one of the twelue that [e] * dippeth with me in the platter.

e To dip the hand, is as much to say, as he that is accustomed to eate with me.

Psal.41.9. Iohn.13.18. Mat.26.24.

21 * Truely the Sonne of man goeth his way, as it is [f] written of him: but woe be to that man, by whom the Sonne of man is betrayed: it had bene good for that man, if he had neuer beene borne.

Act.1.16.

f This declareth that nothing can be done without Gods prouidence.

22 * And as they did eate, Iesus [g] toke the bread, & whe he had giuen thanks, he brake it and gaue it to them, & sayd, Take, eat, this is my body.

23 Also hee toke the cuppe, and when he had [h] giuen thanks, gaue it to them: and they all dranke of it.

Mat.26.26. 1.Cor.11.24.

g Reade Mat. chap.26.26.

h The Greeke word is to blesse, which is here taken onely to giue thankes, as S. Luke and S. Paul interprete it, & S. Mark also speaking of the cup. Iohn.16.32.

24 And he saide vnto them, This is my blood of the new Testament, which is shed for many.

25 Verely I say vnto you, I will drinke no more of the fruite of the vine, vntill that daye, that I drinke it newe in the kingdome of God.

26 And when they had sung a psalme, they went out to the mount of Olives.

27 ¶ * Then Iesus saide vnto them, All ye shall be [i] offended by me this night: for it is written, * I wil smite the shepheard, and the sheepe shalbe scattered.

i That is, turned from me, because of the persecution. Zech.13.7. Chap.16.7.

28 But after that I am risen, I will goe into * Galile before you.

29 And Peter saide vnto him, Although all men shoulde be offended, yet woulde not I.

30 Then Iesus said vnto him, Verely I say vnto thee, this day, euen in this night, before the cocke crow twise, thou shalt denie me thrise.

31 But hee sayde more earnestly, If I shoulde shoulde die with thée, I will not denie thee: likewise also saide they all.

Mat.26.36. luke.22.39.

32 ¶ * After, they came into a place named Gethsemane: then he saide to his disciples, Sit ye here, til I haue prayed.

k His diuinitie was as it were hid, and his humanitie shewed it selfe fully.

33 And hee tooke with him Peter, and Iames, and Iohn, and he began k to be afraid, and in great heauines, 34 And said vnto them, My soule is very heauie, euen vnto the death: tarry here and watch.

35 So he went forwarde a litle, and fell downe on the ground, and prayed, that if it were possible, that houre might passe from him.

l Ab in Ebrew, and Abba in the Syrian tongue signifieth father.

36 And he sayde, l Abba, Father, all things are possible vnto thee: take away this cuppe from me: neuertheles, not that I wil, but that thou m wilt, be done.

m He standeth not so to his owne will, but that willingly he offreth him selfe to obey God.

37 Then hée came and founde them sléeping, and saide to Peter, Simon, sléepest thou? couldest not thou watch one houre?

38 ¶ Watch ye, and pray, that ye enter not into temptation: the spirite in deede is ready, but the flesh is weake.

39 And againe he went away, and prayed, and spake the same woordes.

40 And he returned, and founde them a sléepe againe: for their eyes were heauy: neither knewe they what they shoulde answere him.

n He meaneth that the houre will come when they shall be kept from sleeping. Mat.26.47. luke.22.47. iohn.18.3.

41 And he came the third time, and saide vnto them, n Sléepe henceforth, & take your rest: it is enough: the houre is come: behold, the Sonne of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners.

42 Rise vp: let vs go: lo, he that betrayeth me, is at hand.

43 * And immediatly while he yet spake, came Iudas o was one of the twelue, and with him a great multitude with swoordes & staues from the hie Priests, and Scribes, and Elders.

o It was the fashion then to greete with kissing at their meetings, and also at their departure.

44 And he that betrayed him, had giuen them a token, saying, Whomsoeuer * I shall kisse, he it is: take him, and leade him away safely.

p He repeteth it twise, as if he had bene moued with a certaine pitie in taking his last leaue.

45 And assoone as he was come, he went straightway to him, and said, p Master, Master, and kissed him.

46 Then they layde their handes on him, and tooke him.

47 And one of them that stood by, drewe out a swoorde, and smote a q seruant of the hie Priest, and cut off his eare.

q To wit, Peter.

48 And Iesus answered and sayde vnto them, Ye be come out as vnto a theefe with swoordes and with staues to take me.

r Called Malchus.

49 I was daily with you teaching in the Temple, and ye r tooke me not: but this is done that the Scriptures should bée fulfilled.

s Which declareth that no man can do any thing contrary to Gods ordinance.

50 Then they s all forsooke him, and fled.

t Meaning all the disciples.

51 And there followed him a certayne young man, clothed in linnen vpon his bare body, & the yong men caught him.

52 But he left his linnen cloth, and fled from them naked.

Mat.26.57. luke.22.54. iohn.18.24.

53 * So they ledde Iesus away to the hie Priest, and to him came all the u hie Priests, & the Elders, & the Scribes.

u That is, they which had chiefest authoritie amõg y priests.

54 And Peter followed him x a farre off, euen into the hall of the hie Priest, and sate with the seruants, & warmed him selfe at the y fire.

x Which signified that his hoat zeale began now to be abated.

55 And the * hie Priestes, and all the Councill sought for witnes against Iesus, to put him to death, but found none.

y Or, light.

56 For many bare false witnesse against him, but their witnesse z agreed not together.

Mat.26.56.

z Or, were not like.

57 Then there arose certaine, and bare false witnesse against him, saying,

Iohn.2.19.

58 We heard him say, * I a will destroy this Temple made with handes, and within thrée dayes I will builde another, made without handes.

y These two witnesses dissented, in that the one reported that Christ saide, he coulde destroy the Temple, (as Matth. writeth) and the other said, that he heard him say, that he would do it, as is here noted.

59 But their witnes yet agreed not together.

60 Then the hie Priest stoode vp amongs them, and asked Iesus, saying, Answerest thou nothing? What is the matter that these beare witnesse against thee?

z That is, of God, who is worthy al praise the which word in their language, the Iewes when they speake of God, vse commonly in their writings euen to this day.

61 But he helde his peace, and answered nothing. Againe the hie Priest asked him, & saide vnto him, Art thou Christ the Sonne of the z Blessed?

Mat.24.30.

62 And Iesus said, I am he, * and ye shal see the a Sonne of man sit at the right hand of the power of God, and come in the cloudes of heauen.

a Whom they now contemned in this base estate, they should see appeare at the last day with maiestie and glorie.

63 Then the hie Priest rent his clothes & saide, What haue we any more neede of witnesses?

64 Ye haue heard the blasphemie: what thinke ye? And they all condemned him to be worthie of death.

b This declareth the wickednes and insolencie of the gouernours, and rulers, seeing their officers contrary to all iustice, thus raged & tormented him, that was innocent.

65 And some begaune to spit at him, and to couer his face, & to beate him with fists, and to say vnto him, Prophecie, and the b sergeants smote him with their roddes.

Mat.26.69. luke.22.55. iohn.18.25.

66 * And as Peter was beneath in the hall, there came one of the maydes of the hie Priest.

67 And when she sawe Peter warming himselfe, she looked on him, & said, Thou wast also with Iesus of Nazaret.

c We ought to consider our own infirmitie, that we may learne onely to trust in God, and not in our owne strength.

68 But c he denied it, saying, I knowe him not, neither wot I what thou sayest. Then he went out into the d porch, and the cocke crewe.

d Peter prepareth himselfe to flee, if he were further laid vnto. Mat.26.71. luke.22.58. iohn.18.25.

69 * Then a maid saw him againe, and began to say to them that stoode by, This is one of them.

70 But he denied it againe: and anon after, they that stood by, saide againe to Peter, Surely thou art one of them: for thou art of Galile, and thy speache is like.

71 And he beganne to curse, and sweare, saying, I knowe not this man of whom ye speake.

72 * Then the second time þ cocke crew, and Peter remembred the worde that Iesus had saide vnto him, Before the cocke crowe twise, thou shalt denie me thrise, and * waping that with hym selfe, he wept.

*Mat.26.75. *Iohn.13.38.

* Or, rushed out of the doores and wept.

CHAP. XV.

1 Iesus is led to Pilate. 15 He is condemned, reuiled and put to death, 46 And is buryed by Ioseph.

1 AND * anon in the dawning, the high Priestes held a counsel with the Elders, & the Scribes, and the whole counsel, & bound Iesus, and led him away, & deliuered him to Pilate.

*Mat.27.1,2. Luke 22.66. *Iohn.*18.28. a For the Romans gaue them no autoritie to put any man to death.

2 Then Pilate asked him, Art thou the king of the Iewes? And he answered, and said vnto him, Thou sayest it.

3 And the hie Priests accused him of many things.

4 * Wherefore Pilate asked him agayne, saying, Answerest thou nothing? beholde howe many thinges they witnes against thee.

*Mat.27.12. Luke 23.3. *Iohn.*18.35.

5 But Iesus answered b no more at all, so that Pilate marueyled.

b He would not defend his cause, but presented him selfe willingly to be condemned.

6 Nowe at the feast Pilate did deliuer a prisoner vnto them, whomesoeuer they would desire.

7 The there was one named Barabbas, which was bound wt his fellowes, that had made insurrection, who in the insurrection had committed murder.

8 And the people cried alowd, and began to desire that he would do as he had euer done vnto them.

e The people alwaies maintene their customes, although they be worth nothing.

9 Then Pilate answered them, and said, Will ye that I let loose vnto you the king of the Iewes?

10 For he knew that the hie Priests had deliuered him of enuie.

11 But the hie Priests had mouued the people to desire that he would rather deliuer Barabbas vnto them.

12 And Pilate answered, and said agayne vnto them, What will ye then that I do with him, whome ye cal the king of the Iewes?

13 And they cryed againe, Crucifie him.

14 Then Pilate sayde vnto them, But what euill hath he done? And they cried the more fercuently, Crucifie him.

d When a iudge hath respect to mẽ, he quite forgetteth iustice.

15 So Pilate d willing to content the people, loosed them Barabbas, and deliuered Iesus when he had scourged him, that he might be crucified.

16 Then the souldiers led him away into the hal, which is the * common hal, and called together the whole band,

*Or, Pretorie.

17 And clad him with purple, and platted a crowne of thornes, and put it about his head, 18 And began to salute him, saying, Haile, king of the Iewes.

19 And they smote him on the head with a * rede, and spat vpon him, and bowed the knees, and did him reuerence.

*Or, Balke.

20 And when they had mocked him, they tooke the purple off him, & put his own clothes on him, and led him out to crucifie him.

21 * And they e compelled one that passed by, called Simo of Cyrene (which came out of the countrey, & was father of Alexander & Rufus) to beare his crosse.

*Mat.27.32. Luke 23.26. e It was the custome to make him that was condemned, to cary his crosse, but Iesus was not able for weakenes 22 * And they brought him to a place named Golgotha, which is by interpretation, the place of dead mens skulles.

*Mat.27.33. Luke 23.33. Iohn 19.17.

23 And they gaue him to drinke wine mingled f with myrhe: but he receiued it not.

f Which was to haste his death: but he woulde not drinke it, because he would waite for the houre that his Father had appointed, that he might render vnto him perfite obedience.

24 And whe they had crucified him, they parted his garmẽts, casting lottes for them, what euery man should haue.

25 And it was g the thirde houre, when they crucified him.

g The Iewes deuided their day into foure parts, so that by the thirde houre is here meant the thirde part of ỹ day, which was from sixe a clock to nine, at what time Mat. saith he was crucified.

26 And þ title of his cause was writte aboue, THE KING OF THE IEWES.

*Isa.*53.12.

27 They crucified also with him two theeues, the one on the right hande, and the other on his left.

*Iohn.*2.19.

28 Thus the Scripture was fulfilled, which saieth, * And he was counted among the wicked.

h Meaning the one of thẽ that were crucified.

29 And they that went by, railed on him, wagging their heads, and saying, * Vah, thou that destroyest the Temple, and buildest it in three dayes, i Because this darkenes was onely ouer the land of Canaan, when the rest of the worlde was light, the miracle is the greater.

30 Saue thy selfe, and come downe from the crosse.

31 Likewise also euen þ hie Priests mocking, did among them selues with the Scribes, He saued other men, himselfe he can not saue.

k Which was the third part of the day, and about three of ỹ clocke after noone.

32 Let Christ þ king of Israel nowe come downe from the crosse, that we may see, and beleeue. h They also that were crucified with him, reuiled him.

*Psal.*22.1. *mat.*27.46.

33 ¶ Nowe when ỹ sixt houre was come, darkenes arose ouer i all the lande vntil the ninth houre.

l This was spoken mockingly.

34 And at the k ninth houre Iesus cryed with a loude voyce, saying, * Eloi, Eloi, lamona-sabachthani? which is by interpretation, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?

*Psal.*69.21.

35 And some of them that stood by, when they heard it, saide, l Behold, he calleth Elias.

m Who had charge ouer an hundred men.

36 And one ran, and filled a * sponge full of vineger, and put it on a rede, & gaue him to drinke, saying, Let him alone: let vs see if Elias will come and take him downe.

Luke 8.2,3.

37 And Iesus cryed with a loude voyce, and gaue vp the ghost.

*Mat.*27.57.

38 ¶ And the vaile of þ Temple was rent in twaine, from the top to the bottome.

Luke 23.50,51.

39 Nowe when the m Centurion, which stood ouer against him, saw that he thus cryng gaue vp the ghost, he sayd, Truely this man was the Sonne of God.

*Iohn.*19.38.

40 ¶ There were also women, which beheld afarre off, among whom was Marie Magdalene, & Marie the mother of Iames the lesse, & of Ioses) & Salome, 41 Which also when he was in Galile, * followed him, & ministred vnto him, and many other women which came vp with him vnto Ierusalem.

42 ¶ * And nowe when night was come

(because it was the day of the preparation, that is before the Sabbath)

n A graue man and of great authoritie.

43 Ioseph of Arimathea, an [n] honourable Counsellour, which also looked for the kingdome of God, came, and went in [o] boldly vnto Pilate, and asked the body of Iesus.

o This man shewed his faith boldly when the danger seemed to be most perilous.

44 And Pilate marueiled, if he were alreadie dead, & called vnto him the Centurion, and asked of him whether hee had bene any while dead.

45 And when he knewe the trueth of the Centurion, he gaue the body to Ioseph, 46 Who bought a linnen cloth, and tooke him downe, & wrapped him in the linnen cloth, and laid him in a toombe that was hewen out of a rocke, and rolled a stone vnto the doore of the sepulchre.

47 And Marie Magdalene, and Marie Ioses mother beheelde where he shoulde be layde.

CHAP. XVI.

1 The women come to the graue. 9 Christ being risen againe, appeareth to Magdalene, 14 Also to the eleuen, and reproueth their vnbeliefe. 16 He committeth the preaching of the Gospel and the ministration of baptisme vnto them.

Luke 24.1. Iohn.20.1.

1 AND [*] when the Sabbath day was past, Marie Magdalene, & Marie the mother of Iames, and Salome, brought sweete ointments that they might come, and embalme him.

2 Therefore early in the morning, the first day of the weeke, they came vnto the sepulchre, when the sunne was [p] set rising.

p Or, not risen.

3 And they sayde one to another, Who shall rolle vs away the stone from the doore of the sepulchre?

4 And when they looked, they sawe that the stone was rolled away (for it was a very great one.)

Mat.28.1. Iohn.20.12.

5 [*] So they went into the sepulchre, and sawe [a] a yong man sitting at the right side, clothed in a long white robe: and they were afraide.

5 IN the time of c Herode King of Iudea, there was a certaine Priest named Zacharias, of the d course of Abia: and his wife was of the e daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elisabet.

6 Both were f iust before God, and walked in all the commaundements and g ordinances of the Lorde, without reproofe.

7 And they had no childe, because that Elisabet was barren: h both were well striken in age.

8 And it came to passe, as he executed the Priestes office before God, as his course came in order, 9 According to the custome of h Priests office, his lot was to i burne incense, when he went into the i Temple of the Lord.

10 And the whole multitude of the people were without in prayer, * while the incense was burning.

11 Then appeared vnto him an Angell of the Lorde standing at the right side of the altar of incense.

12 And when Zacharias saw him, he was troubled, and feare fell vpon him.

13 But the Angell said vnto him, Feare not, Zacharias: for thy prayer is heard, and thy wife Elisabet shall beare thee a sonne, and thou shalt call his name k Iohn.

14 And thou shalt haue ioy and gladnes, and many shall reioyce at his birth.

15 For he shalbe great in the sight of the Lord, and shall neither drinke wine, nor l strong drink: and he shalbe filled with the holy Ghost, euen from his mothers woombe.

16 * And many of the children of Israel shall he turne to their Lord God.

17 * For he shal go m before him in the spirit and power of Elias, to turne the heartes of the n fathers to the children, and the disobedient to the wisedome of the iust men, to make readie a people prepared for the Lorde.

18 Then Zacharias saide vnto the Angell, Whereby shall I knowe this? for I am an olde man, and my wife is of a great age.

19 And the Angel answered, and said vnto him, I am o Gabriel that stand in the presence of God, and am sent to speake vnto thee, and to shewe thee these good tidings.

20 And beholde, thou shalt be domme, and not be able to speake, vntill p the day that these things be done, because thou beleeuedst not my wordes, which shalbe fulfilled in their season.

21 Now the people waited for Zacharias, and marueiled that he taried so long in the Temple.

22 And when he came out, he could not speake vnto them: then they perceiued that he had seene a vision in the Temple: for he made signes vnto them, and remained domme.

23 And it came to passe, when the dayes of his office were fulfilled, that he departed q to his owne house.

24 And after those dayes, his wife Elisabet conceiued, and hid her selfe fiue moneths, saying, 25 Thus hath the Lorde dealt with mee, in the dayes wherein he looked on mee, to take from mee r my rebuke among men.

26 ¶ And in the sixt moneth, the Angell Gabriel was sent from God vnto a citie of Galile, named Nazaret, 27 To a virgin affianced to a man whose name was Ioseph, of the house of Dauid, and the virgins name was Marie.

28 And the Angell went in vnto her, and said, s Haile thou that art t freely beloued: the Lord is with thee: blessed art thou among women.

29 And when she saw him, she was troubled at his saying, and thought what maner of salutation that should be.

30 Then the Angell said vnto her, Feare not, Marie: for u thou hast found fauour with God.

31 * For loe, thou shalt conceiue in thy woombe, and beare a sonne, and shalt call his name IESVS.

32 He shalbe great, and shalbe called the Sonne x of the most High, and the Lord God shall giue vnto him the throne of his father Dauid.

33 * And he shall reigne ouer the house of Iacob for euer, and of his kingdome shalbe none ende.

34 Then sayde Marie vnto the Angell, y Howe shall this be, seeing I knowe not man?

35 And the Angell answered, and sayde vnto her, The holy Ghost shall come vpon thee, and the power of the most High shall z ouershadowe thee: therefore also that y holy thing which shalbe borne of thee, shalbe called the Sonne of God.

36 And beholde, thy a cousin Elisabet, she hath also conceiued a sonne in her olde age: and this is her sixt moneth, which was called barren.

37 For with God shal nothing be vnpossible.

38 Then Marie said, Behold the seruant

39 ¶ And Marie arose in those dayes, and went into the hill countrey with haste to a [a] citie of Juda, 40 And entred into the house of Zacharias, and saluted Elisabet.

41 And it came to passe, as Elisabet heard the salutatiō of Mary, the babe [b] sprang in her belly, & Elisabet was filled with the holy Ghost.

42 And she cryed with a loude voice, and sayd, Blessed art thou among women, because the [c] fruite of thy woumbe is blessed.

43 And whence commeth this to me, that the mother of my Lorde shoulde come to me?

44 For lo, assoone as the voyce of thy salutation sounded in mine eares, the babe sprang in my bellie for ioye.

45 And blessed is she that beleeued: for those thinges shalbe performed, which were tolde her [d] from the Lorde.

46 Then Marie said, My [e] soule magnifieth the Lorde, 47 And my spirit reioyceth in God my Sauiour.

48 For hee hath looked on the [f] poore degree of his seruaunt: for beholde, from henceforth shall all ages call [g] me blessed.

56 ¶ And Marie abode with her about three moneths: after, shee returned to her owne house.

57 ¶ Nowe Elisabets time was fulfilled, that she shoulde be deliuered, and shee brought forth a sonne.

58 And her neighbours, & cousins heard tell how the Lord had shewed his great mercie vpon her, and they reioyced with her.

59 And it was so that on the eyght daye they came to circumcise the babe, and called him Zacharias, after the name of his father.

60 But his mother answered, and sayd, Not so, but he shalbe called Iohn.

61 And they sayd vnto her, There is none of thy kinred, that is named with this name.

62 Then they made signes to his father, how he would haue him called.

63 So hee asked for writing tables, and wrote, saying, His name is Iohn, and they marueyled all.

64 And his mouth was opened immediatly, and his tongue loosed, & he spake and praysed God.

65 Then feare came on all the that dwelt neere vnto them, and all these wordes were noised abroade throughout all the hill countrey of Iudea.

66 And all they that heard them, layde them vp in their heartes, saying, What maner childe shall this be! & the [k] hand of the Lorde was with him.

67 Then his father Zacharias was filled with the holy Ghost, and prophecyed, saying,

68 Blessed be the Lorde God of Israel, because he hath [l] visited * and redeemed his people,

69 * And hath raysed vp the [m] horne of saluation vnto vs, in the house of his seruaunt Dauid,

70 * As he spake by the mouth of his holy Prophets, which were since [p] world began, saying,

4 As it is written in the booke of the sayinges of Esaias the Prophet, which sayeth, * The voyce of him that cryeth in the wildernesse is, Prepare ye the way of the Lorde: make his paths straight, Mat.3.2.mar.1.4 Isa.40.3.ioh.1.23

5 Euery [c] valley shalbe filled, and euery mountaine, & hill shalbe brought lowe, and crooked thinges shall bee made straight, and the rough wayes shall be made smooth. c Al impedimēts shall be taken away, which should hinder the way of God,

6 And [d] all flesh shall see the [d] saluation of God. or of saluation, so that the way shal be plaine by Christ to leade vs vnto God.

7 Then saide he to the people that were come out to be baptized of him, [*] O generations of vipers, who hath forewarned you to flee from the wrath to come? [d] Or, euery man. d That is, the Messias shal be reueiled to the world. Mat.3.7. [] Or, vipers broods.*

8 Bring foorth therefore fruites worthie amendement of life, & begin not to say with your selues, We haue Abraham to our father: for I say vnto you, that God is able of these stones to raise vp children vnto Abraham.

9 Nowe also is the [e] axe layde vnto the roote of the trees: therefore euery tree which bringeth not foorth good fruite, shalbe hewen downe, and cast into the fire. e The vengeāce of God is at hād.

10 ¶ Then the people asked him, saying, What shall we doe then?

11 And hee answered, and sayde vnto them, * He [f] that hath two coates, let him part with him that hath none: and hee that hath meate, let him doe likewise. Iam.2.15. 1.iohn.3.17. f He willeth that the riche helpe the poore according to their necessitie.

12 Then came there [g] Publicanes also to be baptized, & sayde vnto him, Master, what shall we doe? g Whose office was to receiue the tribute and tolles.

13 And hee sayd vnto them, Require no more then that which is appointed vnto you.

14 The souldiers likewise demanded of him, saying, And what shall we doe? And he sayd vnto them, Do violence to no man, neither accuse any falsly, and be content with your wages.

15 As the people waited, and al men mused in their hearts of John, if hee were not the Christ, 16 John answered, and sayd to them all, * In deede I [h] baptize you with water, but one stronger then I, commeth, whose shoes latchet I am not worthie to vnloose: he wil baptize you with the holy Ghost, and [i] with fire. Mat.3.11. mar.1.8. iohn.1.26. actes.1.5.& 2.4. & 11.16 & 19.4. h The vertue & force of baptism standeth in Jesus Christ, and John was but the minister thereof.

17 * Whose fanne is in his hand, and he will make cleane his flooze, and wil gather the wheate into his garner, but the chaffe will hee burne vp with fire that neuer shall be quenched. i That is, with a mightie & vehement spirite: whose propertie is to consume, & purge our filth as fire doeth the metalles.

18 Thus the exhorting with many other things, he preached vnto the people.

19 * But when [k] Herode the Tetrarch was rebuked of him, for Herodias his brother Philips wife, and for all the euils which Herode had done, 20 He added yet this aboue all, that hee shut vp John in prison. Mat.3.12.

21 * Now it came to passe, as al the people were baptized, and that Jesus was baptized and did pray, that the heauen was opened: Mat.14.3. mar.6.17. k Named Antipas.

22 And the holy Ghost came downe in a bodily shape like a doue, vpon him, and there was a voyce from heauen, saying, Mat.3.13. mar.1.9. iohn.1.32.

saying, Thou art my beloued Sonne: in thee I am well pleased.

23 ¶ And Jesus him selfe began to bee about thirtie yeres of age, being as men 5

35 The sonne of Saruch, the sonne of Ragau, the sonne of Phalec, the sonne of Eber, the sonne of Sala, 36 The sonne of Cainan, the sonne of Arphaxad, the sonne of Sem, the sonne of Noe, the sonne of Lamech, 37 The sonne of Mathusala, the sonne of Enoch, the sonne of Jared, the sonne of Maleleel, the sonne of Cainan, 38 The sonne of Enos, the sonne of Seth, the sonne of Adam, the sonne [m] of God.

l Luke assendeth from the last father to the first, and Matthewe descendeth from the first to the last. Matthew extendeth not his rehearsall further then to Abrahã, which is for the assurance of the promise for the Iewes. Luke referreth it euẽ to Adam, whereby the Gentiles also are assured of the promise, because they came of Adam, and are restored in the seed Adam: Matthewe counteth by the legal descent, and Luke by the naturall: finally both two speaking of the same persons applie vnto them diuers names.

[a] Or, Iesus.
[a] Or, Mattha.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Iesus is led into the wildernes to be tempted. 13. He ouercommeth the deuil. 14 He goeth into Galile, 16 Preacheth at Nazaret, and Capernaum. 22 The Iewes despise him. 38 Hee commeth into Peters house, and healeth his mother in lawe. 41 The deuils acknowledge Christ. 43 He preacheth through the cities.

Mat.4.1. mar.1.12.

1 AND Jesus ful of the holy Ghost returned from Jordan, and was led by the spirit into the wildernes,

2 *And was there fourtie dayes tempted of the deuill, and in those dayes [a] he did eate nothing: but when they were ended, he afterward was hungrie.

3 Then the deuill said vnto him, If thou be the Sonne of God, command this stone that it be made bread.

4 But Jesus answered him, saying, It is written,* That man shall not liue by bread only, but by euery [b] word of God.

a This fast was miraculous, to confirme the Gospel, and ought no more of men to be followed then the other miracles that Christ did.

5 Then the deuill tooke him vp into an high mountaine, and shewed him al the kingdomes of the world, "in the twinkeling of an eye.

6 And the deuil said vnto him, All this power will I [c] giue thee, and the glorie of those kingdomes: for that is deliuered to me: and to whomsoeuer I will, I giue it:

7 If thou therefore wilt [d] worship me, they shalbe al thine.

8 But Jesus answered him, and sayde, "Auoide from me, Satan: for it is written, * Thou shalt worship the Lorde thy [d] God, and him alone thou shalt serue.

9 Then he brought him to [e] Jerusalem, & set him on a pinacle of the Temple, and said vnto him, If thou bee the Sonne of God, cast thy selfe downe from hence,

10 For it is written, *That he will giue his Angels charge ouer thee to kepe thee:

11 And with their hands they shall lift thee vp, least at any time thou hurt thy foote against a stone.

12 And Jesus answered, and said vnto him, It is said, * Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.

13 And when the deuill had ended al the tentation, he departed from him [f] for a season.

14 ¶ And Jesus returned by the power of the Spirit into Galile: & there went a fame of him throughout all the region round about.

15 For he taught in their Synagogues, and was honoured of all men.

16 *And he came to Nazaret where hee had bene brought vp, & (as his custome was) went into the Synagogue on the Sabbath day, and stoode vp to reade.

17 And there was deliuered vnto him the booke of the Prophet Esaias: & when he had opened the booke, he found the place, where it was written,

18 *The Spirit of the Lord is vpon me, because he hath [g] anoynted me, that I should preach the Gospel to the poore: hee hath sent me, that I should heale the broken hearted, that I should preach deliuerance to the captiues, & recouering of sight to the blinde, that I should set at libertie them that are bruised, 19 And that I should preach the [h] acceptable yeere of the Lord.

20 And he closed the booke, and gaue it againe to the minister, and sate downe: and the eyes of all that were in the Synagogue were fastened on him.

21 The he began to say vnto them, This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your eares.

Deut.8.3. mat.4.4

b That is, by the ordinance, and prouidence of God.

"Greeke, in a moment of time.

c Satan promiseth that, which he cannot giue, thinking therby that he might deceiue the more craftily: for he is but prince of the world by permission, & hath his power limited.

"Or, fal downe before me.
"Greeke, go behind me.

Deut.6.13. and 10.20.

d Christ sheweth that al creatures ought only to woorship and serue God.

e This declareth how hard it is to resist the tentations of Satan: for he giueth not ouer for twise or thrise putting backe.

Psal.91.11,12. Deut.6.16.

f It is not ynough, twise or thrise to resist Satan: for he neuer ceaseth to tempt: or if he relent a litle, it is to the ende that he may renue his force and assaile vs more sharply.

Matth.13.54. mar.6.1. iohn.4.43. Isa.61.1.

g That is, endued with graces.

h He alludeth to the yere of Iubile, which is mencioned in the lawe, whereby this great deliuerance was figured.

i They approved & commended whatsoeuer he said.

22 And all i bare him witnes, & wondered at the gracious wordes, which proceded out of his mouth, and saide, Is not this Josephs sonne?

23 Then he said vnto them, Ye will surely say vnto me this prouerbe, Physitiō, k heale thy selfe: whatsoeuer we haue heard done in Capernaum, doe it here likewise in thine owne countrey.

k Bestowe thy benefites vpon them, which appertaine more vnto thee. Ioh.4.44.

24 And he sayde, Verely I say vnto you, * No l Prophet is accepted in his own countrey.

l Their infidelitie staied Christ from working miracles. 1.King.17.9. sam.5.17.

25 But I tell you of a trueth, many widowes were in Israel in þ dayes of * Elias, whē heauen was shut three yeeres and sixe moneths, when great famine was throughout all the lande, 26 But vnto none of them was Elias sent, saue into Sarepta, a citie of Sidō, vnto m a certaine widowe.

m He sheweth by examples, þ God oft times preferreth the strangers to thē of the houshold. 2.King.5.14.

27 Also many lepers were in Israel, in þ time of * Eliseus the Prophet: yet none of them was made cleane, sauing Naaman the Syrian.

n Because they perceiued that þ grace of God should be taken from them and giuen to others.

28 Then al that were in the Synagogue, when they heard it, were n filled with wrath, o And escaped miraculously out of their hands: for his houre was not yet come. Mat.4.13. mar.1. 21. Mat.7.29. mar.1. 22.

29 And rose vp, and thrust him out of the citie, and ledde him vnto the edge of the hill, whereon their citie was buylte, to cast him downe headlong.

30 But he passed o thrugh the middes of them, and went his way, p Full of dignitie and maiestie, which touched the heart of the auditors and caused them to beare reuerence to his wordes.

31 ¶ * And came downe into Capernaum a citie of Galile, and there taught them on the Sabbath dayes.

32 * And they were astonied at his doctrine: for his word was with p authoritie.

q That is, the motion of the deuill, or that was tormented with a very deuill.

33 And in the Synagogue there was a man which had a q spirite of an vncleane deuill, which cryed with a loude voyce.

34 Saying, Oh, what haue we to do with thee, thou Jesus of Nazaret? art thou come to destroy vs? I know who thou art, euen the Holy one of God.

35 And Jesus rebuked him, saying, Holde thy peace, and come out of him. Then the deuill throwing him in the middes of them, came out of him, and hurt him not.

36 So feare came on them all, and they spake among themselues, saying, What thing is this? for with authoritie and power he commaundeth the foule spirits, and they come out?

37 And the fame of him spred abroade throughout all the places of the countrey round about.

Mat.8.14. mar.1.30.

38 ¶ * And he rose vp, and came out of þ Synagogue, and entred into Simons house. And Simons wiues mother was taken with a great feuer, and they required him for her.

39 Then he stoode ouer her, and rebuked the feuer, and it left her: and immediatly shee arose, and ministred vnto them.

40 Now when the sunne was downe, al they that had sicke folkes of diuerse diseases, brought them vnto him, and hee laide his handes on euery one of them, and healed them.

41 * And deuils also came out of many, crying, and saying, r Thou art þ Christ, the Sonne of God: but he rebuked thē, and suffered them not to say that they knew him to be Christ.

Mark.1.34.

r The deuils are constrayned to confesse Christ to be the Sonne of God, and yet it doeth nothing auaile them, because it cōmeth not of faith.

42 And when it was day, he departed, & went forth into a desert place, and the people sought him, and came to him, and kept him, that he should not depart from them.

43 But he said vnto thē, Surely I must also preach the kingdome of God to other cities: for therefore am I sent.

44 And he preached in the Synagogues of Galile.

CHAP. V.

Christ preacheth out of the ship. 6 The great draught of fish. 10 Certayne disciples are called. 12 He cleanseth the Leper. 18 He healeth the man of the palsie. 27 He calleth Matthewe the customer, 30 Eateth with sinners, 34 And excuseth his, at touching fasting.

1 THen * it came to passe, as the people pressed vpon him to heare the word of God, that he stood by the lake of Gennesaret,

Mat.4.18. mar.1.16.

2 And sawe two shippes standē by the lake side, but the fishermen were gone out of them, and were washing their nettes.

3 And a he entred into one of the shippes, which was Simons, & required him that he would thrust off a litle from the land: and he sate downe, and taught the people out of the ship.

a To the intent that he might not be thronged of the preasse, & also that he might the better be heard.

4 ¶ Now when he had left speaking, he said vnto Simon, Launche out into the deepe, and let downe your nettes to make a draught.

5 Then Simon answered, and sayde vnto him, b Master, we haue trauailed al night, and haue taken nothing: nertheless at thy c worde I will let downe the net.

b The word signifieth him that is made ruler ouer any thing.

c He sheweth his prompt obedience to Christs commādement.

6 And when they had so done, they inclosed a great multitude of fishes, so that their net brake.

7 And they beckened to their partners, which were in the other ship, that they should come and help them, who came then, & filled both the shippes, that they did d sinke.

d They were so laden that they almost sunke.

8 Nowe when Simon Peter saw it, he fel downe at Jesus knees, saying, Lord, go from me: for I am a sinfull man.

9 For he e was vtterly astonied, & al that were with him, for the draught of fishes, which they tooke.

e The feeling of Gods presence maketh afrayd.

10 And so was also James & John the sonnes of Zebedeus, which were companions with Simō. Then Jesus said vnto Simō, Feare not: frō henceforth thou shalt catch men.

f He appointeth him to the office of an Apostle.

11 And when they had brought þ ships to land, they forsooke all, and followed him.

12 ¶ * Nowe

Mat.8.2. mar.1.40.

12 ¶ And it came to passe, as he was in a certaine citie, beholde, there was a man full of leprosie, and when he sawe Jesus, he fell on his face, and besought him, saying, Lorde, if thou wilt, thou canst make me cleane.

13 So he stretched forth his handes, and touched him, saying, I will, be thou cleane. And immediatly the leprosie departed from him.

14 And he commanded him ᵖ he should tell it no man: but Go, saith he, & shew thy selfe to the Priest, and offer for thy cleansing, as * Moses hath commanded, for a witnes vnto them.

g Hereby he shewed them ẏ he woulde not transgresse the law, & that they should be inexcusable, who seeing the miracle wrought, would not beleeue Christ.

Leuit.14.4.

15 But so much more went there a fame abroade of him, and great multitudes came together to heare, and to be healed of him of their infirmities.

16 But hee kept himselfe apart in the wildernesse, and prayed.

17 ¶ And it came to passe, on a certaine day, as he was teaching, that the Pharises and doctors of the Lawe sate by, which were come out of euery towne of Galile, and Judea, and Jerusalem, and the power of the Lorde was in him to heale them.

Mat.9.2. mar.2.3.

18 * Then beholde, men brought a man lying in a bed, which was taken with a palsie, and they sought meanes to bring him in, and to lay him before him.

19 And when they coulde not finde by what way they might bring him in, because of the preasse, they went vp on the house, and let him downe through the tiling, bed and all, in the middes before Jesus.

h Christ toucheth the principal cause of all our euils.

20 And when he sawe their faith, he sayde vnto him, Man, thy ʰ sinnes are forgiuen thee.

21 Then the Scribes and the Pharises began to thinke, saying, Who is this that speaketh blasphemies? who can forgiue sinnes, but God onely?

22 But when Jesus perceiued their thoughts, he answered, & said vnto thē, What thinke ye in your hearts?

i For as much as his diuinitie was sufficiētly shewed by this miracle, he gaue thē hereby to vnderstand ẏ he had power to forgiue sinnes.

23 Whether is easier to say, Thy i sinnes are forgiuen thee, or to say, Rise and walke?

24 But that ye may know that ẏ Sonne of mā hath authoritie to forgiue sinnes in earth, (he said vnto the sicke of the palsie) I say to thee, Arise: take vp thy bed, and go to thine house.

25 And immediatly hee arose vp before them, and tooke vp his bed whereon he lay, and departed to his owne house, praysing God.

26 And they were all amased, and praysed God, and were filled with feare, saying, Doubtlesse we haue seene ᵗ straunge thinges to day.

ᵗ Or, aboue our expectation. Mat.9.9. mar.2.14.

27 ¶ And after that, he went forth and sawe a Publicane named ᵘ Leui, sitting at the receit of custome, and sayd vnto him, Followe me.

ᵘ Or, Matthewe.

28 And hee left all, rose vp, and followed him.

29 Then Leui made him a great feast in his owne house, where there was a great company of Publicanes, and of other, that sate at table with them.

30 But they that were Scribes & Pharises among them, murmured against his disciples, saying, Why eate ye and drinke ye with Publicanes & sinners?

1.Tim.1.15.

31 Then Jesus answered, and said vnto them, They that are whole, nerde not the Physition, but they that are sicke.

k Which seeme to be righteous, and yet are but hypocrites. Mat.9.14. mar.2.18.

32 * I came not to call the ᵏ righteous, but sinners to repentance.

33 ¶ Then they sayde vnto him, Why do the disciples of Johm fast often, and ˣ pray, and the disciples of the Pharises also, but thine eate, and drinke?

ˣ Greeke, make prayers.

34 And he said vnto them, Can ye make the l children of the wedding chamber to fast, as long as the bridegrome is with them?

l The friends & familiars of Christ: and hereby Iesus Christ declareth that he wil not burden his, before that he hath made them able to beare.

35 But the dayes will come, euen when the bridegrome shall bee taken away from them: then shall they fast in those dayes.

36 Agayne hee spake also vnto them a parable, No man putteth a piece of a newe garment into an olde vesture: for then the newe renteth it, and the piece taken out of the newe, agreeth not with the olde.

m Reade Mat. 9.17.

37 ᵐ Also no man powreth newe wine into olde vessels: for then ẏ newe wine wil breake the vessels, and it will runne out, and the vessels will perish.

n He admonisheth them not to trust to much to their owne sense or iudgement: nor, because they haue accustomed thē selues to one thing, to condemne another which is better.

38 But newe wine must be powred into new vessels: so both are preserued.

39 Also no mā that ⁿ drinketh olde wine, straightway desireth newe: for he saith, The olde is better.

CHAP. VI.

3 Christ standeth in his disciples defence & his owne, as touching the breach of the Sabbath. 12 After watching & prayer he electeth his Apostles. 18 He healeth & teacheth the people. 20 He sheweth who are blessed. 27 To loue our enemies. 37 Not to iudge rashly, 41 And to auoide hypocrisie.

AND it came to passe on the second ᵃ Sabbath, after the first, that hee went through the corne fields, and his disciples plucked the eares of corne, and did eate, and rubbe them in their hands.

a Those feasts which conteined manie daies, as ẏ Passeouer, and the feast of Tabernacles, had two Sabbaths: the first day of ẏ feast, & the last. 1.Sam.21.6.

b Hauing power to dispense with, and qualifie the keeping of the Sabbath & other ceremonies.

5 And hee sayde vnto them, The Sonne of man is ᵇ Lorde also of the Sabbath day.

6 ¶ * It came to passe also on another Sabbath, Mat.12.9. mar.3.1.

Sabbath, that he entred into the Synagogue and taught, and there was a man, whose right hand was dried vp.
7 And the Scribes and Pharises watched him, whether he would heale on the Sabbath day, that they might finde an accusation against him.
8 But he knew their thoughts, and said to the man which had the withered hande, Arise, and stand vp in the midst. And he arose, and stood vp.
9 Then sayde Iesus vnto them, I will aske you a question, Whether is it lawfull on the Sabbath dayes to do good, or to doe euill? to saue [a] life, or to destroy it?
10 And he beheld them all in compasse, and sayde vnto the man, Stretch forth thine hande. And he did so, and his hand was restored againe, as whole as the other.
11 Then they were filled ful of madnes, & communed one with another, what they might do to Iesus.
12 ¶ And it came to passe in those dayes, that he went into a mountayne to prayer, and spent the night in prayer to God.
13 *And when it was day, he called his disciples, and of them he chose [c] twelue, which also he called [d] Apostles.
14 (Simon whom he named also Peter, and Andrew his brother, Iames and Iohn, Philippe, and Bartlemewe:
15 Matthewe, and Thomas: Iames the sonne of Alpheus, and Simon called Zelotes:
16 Iudas Iames brother, and Iudas Iscariot, which also was the traitour.)
17 Then he came downe with them, & stood in a [e] plaine place, with the company of his disciples, and a great multitude of people out of all Iudea, and Ierusalem, and from the sea coast of Tyrus and Sidon, which came to heare him, and to be healed of their diseases:
18 And they that were vexed with foule spirites, and they were healed.
19 And the whole multitude sought to touche him: for there went vertue out of him, and healed them all.
20 ¶ * And he lifted vp his eyes vpon his disciples, and sayd, Blessed be ye [e] poore: for yours is the kingdome of God.
21 *Blessed are ye that hunger nowe: for ye shalbe satisfied: blessed are ye that [g] weepe now: for ye shall laugh.
22 *Blessed are ye when men hate you, & when [f] they separate you, and reuile you, and put out your name as euill, for the Sonne of mans sake.
23 Reioyce ye in that day, and be [g] glad: for beholde, your rewarde is great in heauen: for after this maner their fathers did to the Prophets.
24 *But woe bee to you that are [h] riche: for ye haue receiued your consolation.
25 *Woe bee to you that are full: for yee shall hunger. Woe bee to you that nowe [i] laugh: for yee shall waile and weepe.
26 Woe be to you when al [k] men speake wel of you: for so did their fathers to the false prophets.
27 ¶ *But I say vnto you which heare, Loue your enemies: do well to them which hate you.
28 Blesse them that curse you, and pray for them which hurt you.
29 *And vnto him that [l] smiteth thee on the one cheeke, offer also the other: * and him that taketh away thy cloke, forbid not to take thy coate also.
30 Giue to euery man that asketh of thee: and of him that taketh away thy goods, [m] aske them not againe.
31 *And as ye would that men should do to you, so do ye to them likewise.
32 *For if yee loue them which loue you, what thanke shall ye haue? for euen the [n] sinners loue those that loue them.
33 And if yee do good for them which doe good for you, what thanke shall yee haue? for euen the sinners doe the same.
34 *And if ye lende to them of whom ye hope to receiue, what thanke shall ye haue? for euen the sinners lend to sinners, to receiue the like.
35 Wherefore loue yee your enemies, & do good, and lend, [o] looking for nothing againe, and your rewarde shalbe great, and ye shalbe the children of * the most High: for he is kinde vnto the vnkinde, and to the euill.
36 Be ye therefore mercifull, as your Father also is mercifull.
37 ¶ *Iudge not, and ye shall not be iudged: condemne not, and ye shal not be condemned: forgiue, and ye shall be forgiuen.
38 Giue, and it shall be giuen vnto you: * a good measure, pressed downe, shaken together, and running ouer shall men giue into your bosome: for with what measure ye mete, with the same shall men mete to you againe.
39 And he spake a parable vnto them, *Can the blinde leade the blinde? shall they not both fal into the ditch?
40 *The disciple is not aboue his master: but whosoeuer wilbe a perfite disciple, shalbe as his master.
41 ¶ *And why [p] seest thou a mote in thy brothers eye, and considerest not the beame that is in thine owne eye?

1 WHen * he had ended all his sayings in the audience of þ people, he entred into Capernaũ.

a It might be, þ this captaine did lie with his garrison in Capernaum.

2 And a certaine a Centurions seruant was sicke and readie to die, which was deare vnto him.

3 And when he heard of Iesus, he sent vnto him the Elders of the Iewes, beseeching him that he would come and heale his seruant.

4 So they came to Iesus, and besought him instantly, saying that he was worthy that he should do this for him.

b In building them a temple for their assemblies, he shewed his zeale towards the true seruice of God.

5 For he loueth, said they, our nation, and he hath built vs a b Synagogue.

c The friendes speake to Iesus in the captaines name.

6 Then Iesus went with them: but when he was nowe not farre from the house, the Centurion sent friendes to him, c saying vnto him, Lorde, trouble not thy selfe: for I am not worthy that thou shouldest enter vnder my roofe.

d Or, command by a word onely that it so be.

7 Wherefore I thought not my selfe worthie to come vnto thee: but d say the word, and my seruãt shalbe whole.

e He commendeth this heathẽ captaine because he assureth himself vpon Christs word alone.

8 For I likewise am a man set vnder authoritie, and haue vnder me souldiers, and I say vnto one, Go, and he goeth: and to another, Come, and he commeth: and to my seruant, Do this, and he doeth it.

9 When Iesus heard these thinges, he marueiled at him, and turned him, and saide to the people that followed him, I say vnto you, I haue not founde so e great faith, no not in Israel.

10 And when they that were sent, turned backe to the house, they founde the seruant that was sicke, whole.

11 And it came to passe the day after, that he went into a citie called f Naim, & many of his disciples went with him, and a great multitude.

f Which was a towne of Galile in the tribe of Issachar not far from Tiberias.

12 Now when he came neere to the gate of the city, behold, there was a dead mã caried out, who was the onely begotten sonne of his mother, which was a widowe, and much people of the citie was with her.

13 And when the Lorde sawe her, he had compassion on her, and said vnto her, Weepe not.

16 Then there came a feare on them all, and they glorified God, saying, A great Prophet is raysed vp among vs, and God hath h visited his people.

h That is, to establish, and restore them.

17 And this rumour of him went foorth throughout all Iudea, and throughout all the region round about.

18 ¶ And the disciples of Iohn shewed him of all these thinges.

19 So Iohn called vnto him two certaine men of his disciples, and sent them to Iesus, saying, Art thou i he that should come, or shall we waite for another?

i To wit, the Messias, and redeemer.

20 And when the men were come vnto him, they sayde, Iohn Baptist hath sent vs vnto thee, saying, Art thou he that shoulde come, or shall wee waite for another?

21 And at that time, hee cured many of their sicknesses, and plagues, and of euill spirites, and vnto many blinde men he gaue sight.

22 And Iesus answered, and saide vnto them, Go your wayes & shewe Iohn, k what things ye haue seene and heard: that the blinde see, the halte goe, the Lepers are cleansed, the deafe heare, the dead rise againe, and the l poore receiue the Gospel.

24 For whosoeuer will saue his life, shal lose it: and whosoeuer shall lose his life for my sake, the same shall saue it.
25 For what auantageth it a man, if he winne the whole worlde, and destroy him selfe, or lose him selfe?
26 * For whosoeuer shall be ashamed of me, and of my wordes, of him shall the Sonne of man be ashamed, when he shall come in his glory, and in the glory of the Father, and of the holy Angels.
27 * And I tell you of a surete, there be some standing here, which shal not taste of death, till they haue seene the [h] kingdome of God.
28 * And it came to passe about an eight dayes after those wordes, that he toke Peter, and Iohn, and Iames, & went vp into a mountaine to pray.
29 And as he prayed, the facion of his countenance was chaunged, and his garment was white and glistered.
30 And beholde, two men talked with him, which were Moses and Elias, 31 Which appeared in glorie, and tolde of his departing, which he should accomplish at Ierusalem.
32 But Peter and they that were with him, were heauie with slepe, and when they awoke, they sawe his glorie, and the two men standing with him.
33 And it came to passe, as they departed from him, Peter saide vnto Iesus, Master, it is good for vs to be here: let vs therefore make three tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, & one for Elias, and wist not what he said.
34 While he thus spake, there came a cloude, and [k] ouershadowed them, and they feared when they were entring into the cloude.
35 * And there came a voyce out of the cloude, saying, This is my beloued Sonne, heare him.
36 And when the voyce was past, Iesus was founde alone: and they kept it close, & told no man in [l] those dayes any of those things which they had seene.
37 ¶ And it came to passe on the next day, as they came downe from the mountaine, much people met him.
38 * And behold, a man of the company cried out, saying, Master, I beseeche thee, behold my sonne: for he is all [p] I haue.
39 And loe, a spirit taketh him, & suddenly he crieth, & he teareth him, [p] he foameth, and with much paine departeth from him, when he hath bruised him.
40 And I haue besought thy disciples to cast him out, but they could not.
41 Then Iesus answered, and said, [m] O generation faithles, and crooked, howe long now shall I be with you, & suffer you? bring thy sonne hither.
42 And whiles he was yet comming, [p] the deuil rent him, & tare him: and Iesus rebuked the vncleane spirit, & healed the childe, and deliuered him to his father.
43 ¶ And they were all amazed at the mightie power of God: and while they all wondred at all things, which Iesus did, he said vnto his disciples, 44 [n] Marke these wordes diligently: for it shal come to passe, [p] the Sonne of man shalbe deliuered into the hands of men.
45 But they [n] vnderstood not that word: for it was hid from them, so that they could not perceiue it: and they feared to aske him of that word.
46 ¶ * Then there arose a disputation among them, which of them should be the greatest.
47 When Iesus sawe the thoughts of their hearts, he toke a litle childe, and set him by him, 48 And said vnto [o], Whosoeuer receiueth this litle child in my Name, receiueth me: & whosoeuer shall receiue me, receiueth him that sent me: for he that is least among you all, he shalbe great.
49 ¶ * And Iohn answered and saide, Master, we saw one casting out deuils in thy Name, and we forbade him, because he followeth thee not with vs.
50 Then Iesus said vnto him, Forbid ye him not: for he that is not against vs, [o] is with vs.
51 ¶ And it came to passe, when the [p] dayes were accomplished, that he should be receiued vp, he settled himself fully to go to Ierusalem, 52 And sent messengers before him: and they went & entred into a towne of the Samaritanes, to prepare him lodging.
53 But they would not receiue him, because his [q] behauiour was, as though he would go to Ierusalem.
54 And when his disciples, Iames and Iohn saw it, they said, Lorde, wilt thou that we commande, that fire come downe from heauen, and consume them, euen as * Elias did?
55 But Iesus turned about, and rebuked them, and saide, Ye knowe not of what [r] spirit ye are.
56 For the sonne of man is not come to destroy mens liues, but to saue them. Then they went to another towne.
57 ¶ And it came to passe that as they went in the way, * a certaine man said vnto him, I will followe thee, Lord, whithersoeuer thou goest.
58 And Iesus saide vnto him, The [r] foxes haue holes, and the birdes of the heauen haue nests, but the Sonne of man hath not whereon to lay his head.
59 But he said vnto another, Followe me. And the same said, Lorde, suffer me first to go and [t] burie my father.
60 And Iesus saide vnto him, [u] Let the dead burie their dead: but go thou and preach the kingdome of God.
61 Then another said, I will follow thee, Lord: but let me first goe bid them fare well, which are at mine house.
62 And Iesus said vnto him, No man [p] putteth his hand to [p] plough, & [x] looketh backe, is apt to the kingdome of God.

17 ¶ And the ſeuentie returned againe with ioy, ſaying, Lorde, euen the deuils are ſubdued to vs through thy Name.

18 And he ſaide vnto them, I ſaw m Satan, like lightening, fall downe from heauen.

19 Beholde, I giue vnto you power to treade on ſerpents and ſcorpions, and ouer all the power of the enemie, and nothing ſhall hurt you.

20 Neuertheles, in this reioyce not, that the ſpirits are ſubdued vnto you: but rather reioyce, becauſe your names are written in heauen.

24 For I tell you that many Prophetes and Kings haue deſired to ſe thoſe thinges, which ye ſee, and haue not ſeene them: and to heare thoſe things, which ye heare, and haue not heard them.

25 ¶ * Then beholde, a certaine expounder of the Lawe ſtoode vp, and tempted him, ſaying, Maiſter, what ſhall I doe, to inherite eternall life?

26 And he ſaid vnto him, What is written in the Lawe? how readeſt thou?

27 And he anſwered, and ſaide, * Thou ſhalt loue thy Lorde God with all thine heart, and with all thy ſoule, and with all thy ſtrength, & with all thy thought, * and thy neighbour as thy ſelfe.

28 Then he ſaide vnto him, Thou haſt anſwered right: this do, and thou ſhalt liue.

29 But he willing to r iuſtifie him ſelfe, ſaide vnto Jeſus, Who s is then my neighbour?

30 And Jeſus anſwered, and ſaide, A certaine man went downe from Jeruſalem to Jericho, & fell among theeues, & they robbed him of his rayment, and wounded him, and departed, leauing him halfe dead.

CHAP. XI.

2 He teacheth his disciples to pray. 14 He driueth out a deuil, 15 And rebuketh the blasphemous Pharises. 28 He preferreth the spirituall cousinage. 29 They require signes and tokens. 37 He eateth with the Pharise, and reproueth the hypocrisie of the Pharises, Scribes and hypocrites.

1 AND so it was, that as he was praying in a certain place, when he ceased, one of his disciples sayde vnto him, Master, teach vs to pray, as Iohn also taught his disciples.

2 * And he said vnto them, When ye pray, say, Our Father, which art in heauen, halowed be thy Name: Thy kingdome come: Let thy will bee done euen in earth, as it is in heauen:

3 Our dayly bread giue vs [a] for the day:

4 And [b] forgiue vs our sinnes: for euen we forgiue euery man that is indetted to vs: And leade vs not into temptation: but deliuer vs from euil.

5 ¶ Moreouer he said vnto them, [b] Which of you shall haue a friende, and shall goe to him at midnight, and saye vnto him, Friende, lende me three loaues?

Mat.7.9.

12 Or if he aske an egge, will he giue him a scorpion?

13 If ye then which are euill, can giue good giftes vnto your children, howe much more shall your heauenly Father giue [c] the holy Ghost to them that desire him?

c The chiefest thing that we can desire of God, is his holy Spirit. Mat.12.25. mar.3.24,25.

14 ¶ Then he cast out a deuill which was dumme: and when the deuill was gone out, the dumme spake, and the people wondered.

15 But some of them said, He casteth out deuils through Beelzebub the chiefe of the deuils.

d That is to say, your coniurers.

16 And others tempted him, seeking of him a signe from heauen.

e The finger of God is taken for the vertue and power of God. And the vertue of the Father & the Sonne is the holy Ghost: for so Matthewe doth interprete this place.

17 But he knewe their thoughtes, and said vnto them, * Euery kingdome deuided against it selfe, shall be desolate, & an house deuided against an house, falleth.

18 So if Satan also be deuided against him selfe, howe shall his kingdome stand, because ye say that I cast out deuils through Beelzebub?

f The word signifieth an entrie or porche before an house.

19 If I through Beelzebub cast out deuils, by whom do your [d] children cast them out? Therefore shall they be your iudges.

b Or, safetie.

g They that do not wholy apply themselues to destroy the kingdome of Satan, cannot be counted to be on Christes side, but are his aduersaries: howe much more is he against him that maketh open warre with him as Satan doth? Mat.12.43.

20 But if I by the [e] finger of God cast out deuils, doubtles the kingdome of God is come vnto you.

28 But he said, m Yea, rather blessed are they that heare the word of God, and keepe it.

35 Take heede therefore, that the light which is in thee, be not darkenes.
36 If therefore thy whole body shall bee light, hauing no part darke, then shal al be light, euen as when a candle doeth light thee with the brightnes.
37 ¶ And as he spake, a certaine Pharise besought him to dine with him: and he went in, and sate downe at table.
38 And when the Pharise saw it, he marueiled that he had not first washed before dinner.
39 *And the Lorde said to him, In deede ye Pharises make cleane the outside of the cuppe, and of the platter: but the inwarde parte is full of rauening and wickednes.
40 Ye fooles, did not he that made that which is without, make that which is within also?
41 Therefore, geue almes of [a] those things which are within, and behold, al things shalbe cleane to you.
42 But woe be to you, Pharises: for ye tythe the mynt and the rewe, and all manner herbes, and passe ouer [a] iudgement and the loue of God: these ought ye to haue done, and not to haue left the other vndone.
43 *Woe be to you, Pharises: for ye loue the vppermoste seates in the Synagogues, and greetinges in the markets.
44 Woe be to you, Scribes and Pharises, hypocrites: for ye are as graues which [a] appeare not, and the men that walke ouer them, perceyue not.
45 ¶ Then answered one of the lawyers of the Lawe, and sayde vnto him, Master, thus saying thou puttest vs to rebuke also.
46 And he said, Woe be to you also, ye interpreters of the Law: *for ye lade men with burdens grieuous to bee borne, & yee your selues touche not the burdens with one of your fingers.

50 That the blood of all the Prophetes, shed from the foundation of the worlde, may be required of this generation, 51 From the blood of *Abel vnto the blood of *Zacharias, which was slayne betweene the altar and the Temple: verely I saye vnto you, it shalbe required of [a] this generation.
52 Woe be to you, interpreters of the Lawe: for ye haue y taken away the keye of knowledge: ye entred not in your selues, and them that came in, ye forbade.
53 And as he saide these things vnto them, the Scribes and Pharises began to vrge him sore, and to prouoke him to speake of many thinges, 54 Laying waite for him, and seeking to catche something of his mouth, wherby they might accuse him.

Or, that which is iust and right.
q He would not breake the very least commandement before all things were accomplished: but taught them to stick to the chiefest and not preferre the inferiour ceremonies which must quickely be abolished.

CHAP. XII.

1 Christ commandeth to auoyde hypocrisie. 4 That we should not feare man but God. 5 To confesse his Name. 10 Blasphemie against the Spirit. 14 Not to passe our vocation. 15 Not to giue our selues to couetous care of this life, 32 But to righteousnes, almes, watching, pacience, wisedome and concorde.

1 IN *the meane tyme, there gathered together an vnnumerable multitude of people, so that they trode one another: and he began to say vnto his disciples first, Take heede to your selues of the leauen of the Pharises, which is hypocrisie.
2 *For there is nothing couered, that shall not be reuealed: neyther hid, that shall shall not be knowen.

3 Wherefore whatsoeuer ye haue spoken in darkenesse, it shall bee heard in the light: and that which ye haue spoken in the eare, in secrete places, shall be preached on the [a] houses.

a Openly that al men may heare. *Mat.*10.28.

4 * And I say vnto you, my friends, be not afrayed of them that kill the bodie, and after that are not able to doe any more.

5 But I will forewarne you, whome ye shall feare: feare him which after he hath killed, hath power to cast into hell: yea, I say vnto you, him feare.

6 Are not fiue sparowes bought for two farthings, and yet not one of them is forgotten before God?

7 Yea, and all the heares of your heade are nombred: feare not therefore: ye are more of value then many sparowes.

Chap.9.26. mar.10.32. mar.8.38. 2.tim.1.12.

8 * Also I say vnto you, Whosoeuer shall confesse mee before men, him shall the Sonne of man confesse also before the Angels of God.

9 But he that shall denie me before men, shalbe denied before ỹ Angels of God.

10 And whosoeuer shall speake a worde against the Sonne of man, it shall bee forgiuen him: but vnto him, that [b] shall blaspheme the holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiuen.

b He that shall resist against the worde of God purposely, and against his conscience. *Mat.*10.19. *mar.*13.11.

11 * And when they shall bring you vnto the Synagogues, and vnto the rulers and princes, take no [c] thought how, or what thing ye shall answere, or what ye shall speake.

c Be not so doubtfull that you should be discouraged or distrust.

12 For the holy Ghost shall teache you in the same [d] houre, what ee ought to say.

13 And one of the companie sayde vnto him, Master, bid my brother deuide the inheritance with me.

d Christ chiefly came to be iudged, and not to iudge: notwithstanding he willeth the Christians to be iudges and decide controuersies betwixt their brethren, 1.Cor.6.1.

14 And hee sayde vnto him, Man, who made mee a [d] iudge, or a deuider ouer you?

e Christ condēneth the arrogācie of the riche worldlings, who as though they had God locked vp in their coffers and barnes, set their whole felicitie in their goods, not considering that God gaue them life and also can take it away when he will.

15 Wherefore he sayde vnto them, Take heede, and beware of couetousnes: [e] for though a man haue abundance, yet his life standeth not in his riches.

16 And he put forth a parable vnto them, saying, The [e] grounde of a certayne riche man brought forth fruites plentously.

Eccle.11.19.

17 Therefore he thought with him selfe, saying, What shal I do, because I haue no roume, where I may laye vp my fruites?

18 And he said, This will I do, I will pul downe my barnes, and build greater, and therein will I gather all my fruits, and my goodes.

19 And I will say to my soule, Soule, [f] thou hast much goods laid vp for many yeres: liue at ease, eate, drinke, and take thy pastime.

20 But God said vnto him, O foole, this night will they fetch away thy soule from thee: then whose shall those things be which thou hast prouided?

21 So is he that gathereth riches to him selfe, and is not rich in [f] God.

f To depend onely on his prouidence, knowing that he hath inough for all. Mat.6.25. 1.pet.5.7. psal.55.22.

22 And he spake vnto his disciples, Therefore I say vnto you, * Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eate: neither for your body, what ye shall put on.

23 The life is more then meate: and the bodie more then the rayment.

24 § Consider the rauens: for they neither sowe nor reape: which neither haue storehouse nor barne, and yet God feedeth them: how much more are ye better then fowles?

g He exhorteth vs to cast our care on God, and to submit our selues to his prouidence.

25 And which of you ỹ taking thought, can adde to his stature one cubite?

26 If ye then be not able to doe the least thing, why take ye thought for the remnant?

27 [h] Consider the lilies how they growe: they labour not, neither spin they: yet I say vnto you, that Solomon himself in all his royaltie was not clothed like one of these.

h The liberalitie of God which shineth in the herbes & floures surmounteth all that man can do by his riches or force.

28 If then God so clothe the grasse which is to day in the field, and to morowe is cast into the ouen, how much more will he clothe you, O ye of litle faith?

29 Therefore aske not what ye shall eate, or what ye shal drinke, neither [i] stand in doubt.

[i] Or, make diſcompoſition in the aire.

30 For all such thinges the people of the worlde seeke for: and your Father knoweth that yee haue neede of these things.

31 But rather seeke yee after the kingdome of God, and all these things shal be ministred vnto you.

i Which are but accessaries, & are cōmon as wel to the wicked men as to the godly.

32 Feare not, litle flocke: for it is your fathers pleasure, to giue you the [k] kingdome.

k Which is the chiefest thing that can be giuē, & therefore you cānot wāt those things which are of lesse importance.

33 ¶ * Sell that ye haue, and giue almes: make you bagges, which waxe not old, a treasure that can neuer faile in heaue, where no thiefe commeth, neither moth corrupteth.

Mat.6.20. 1.Pet.1.13.

34 For where your treasure is, there wil your hearts be also.

35 ¶ * Let your loynes be [l] girde about, and your lightes burning, l Be in a readines to execute the charge which is committed vnto you.

36 And ye your selues like vnto men that waite for their master, when he will returne from the wedding, that when hee commeth and knocketh, they may open vnto him immediately.

37 Blessed are those seruants, whom the Lord when he commeth shall finde waking: verely I say vnto you, hee will [m] gird himself about, and make them to sit downe at table, and will come forth, and serue them.

m Because they did vse long garments, ỹ maner was to gird or truſſe them vp when they went about any busines.

38 And if he come in the second watche, or come in the thirde watche, and shall finde them so, blessed are those seruants.

39 * Now vnderstand this, that if the good man of the house had knowen at what houre the thiefe would haue come, hee would haue watched, and would not haue suffred his house to be digged through.

Mat.24.43. reuel.16.15.

40 Be ye also prepared therefore: for the Sonne of man will come at an houre when ye thinke not.
41 Then Peter saide vnto him, Master, tellest thou this parable vnto vs, or euen to all?
42 And the Lorde saide, Who is a faithfull stewarde, and wise, whom the master shall make ruler ouer his household, to giue them their [n] portion of meate in season?
43 Blessed is that seruant, whome his master when he commeth, shall finde so doing.
44 Of a trueth I say vnto you, that he will make him ruler ouer all that he hath.
45 But if that seruant saye in his heart, My master doth deferre his comming, and shall beginne to smite the seruants, and maidens, and to eate, and drinke, & to be drunken,
46 The master of that seruant will come in a day when he thinketh not, and at an houre when he is not ware of, & will cut him off, and giue him his portion with the vnbeleeuers.
47 ¶ And that seruant that knewe his masters will, and prepared not himself, neither did according to his will, shalbe beaten with many stripes.
48 But he that knewe it not, and yet did commit things [o] worthie of stripes, shal be beaten with fewe stripes: for vnto whom soeuer [p] much is giuen, of him shalbe much required, and to whome men much committe, the more of him will they aske.
49 ¶ I am come to put [q] fire on the earth, and what is my desire, if it be [r] alreadie kindled?
50 Notwithstanding I must bee [s] baptised with a baptisme, and howe am I grieued, till it be ended?
51 * Thinke ye that I am come to giue peace on earth? I tell you, nay, but rather debate.
52 For from henceforth there shalbe fiue in one house deuided, three against two, and two against three.
53 The father shalbe deuided against the sonne, and the sonne against the father: the mother against the daughter, & the daughter against the mother: the mother in lawe against her daughter in lawe, and the daughter in lawe, against her mother in lawe.
54 ¶ * Then said he to the people, When ye see a cloude ryse out of the West, straightway ye say, A showre cometh: and so it is.
55 And when ye see the South wind blow, ye say, that it wilbe hoate: and it commeth to passe.
56 Hypocrites, ye can discerne the face of the earth, and of the skie: but why discerne ye not this time?
57 Yea, and why iudge ye not of your selues what is right?
58 ¶ * While thou goest with thine aduersarie to the ruler, as thou art in the way, giue diligence in the way, that thou maiest be [t] deliuered from him, least he bring thee to the iudge, and the iudge deliuer thee to the iayler, and the iayler cast thee into prison.
59 I tell thee, thou shalt not departe thence, till thou hast payd the vtmost mite.

n The portion of seruants euery moneth was foure peckes of corne, as Donatus writeth in Phormio.

o Therefore ignorance is inexcusable.

p To whome God hath giuen many graces.

q The Gospel is as a burning fire most vehement, which maketh a change of things through all the worlde.

r If there be great troubles & alterations vpon the earth, which things come not by the proprietie of the Gospell, but through the wickednesse of man.

s He compareth his death to baptisme.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The crueltie of Pilate. 2 We ought not to condemne al to be wicked men which suffer. 3 Christ exhorteth to repentance. 11 He healeth the crooked woman, 15 Answereth to the master of the Synagogue. 18 By diuers similitudes he declareth what the kingdome of God is, 23 Also that the number of them which shalbe saued, is small. 33 Finally he sheweth that no worldly policie or force can let the worke and counsel of God.

1 THere were certayne men present at the same season, that shewed him of the Galileans, whose bloud Pilate had [a] mingled with their owne sacrifices.
2 And Jesus answered, and saide vnto them, Suppose ye, that these Galileans were [b] greater sinners then all the other Galileans, because they haue suffred such things?
3 I tell you, nay: but except [c] ye amende your liues, ye shall all likewise perish.
4 Or thinke you that those eighteene, vpon whom the towre in [d] Siloam fell, & slewe them, were [e] sinners aboue al men that dwell in Jerusalem?
5 I tel you, nay: but except ye amende your liues, ye all shall likewise perish.
6 ¶ He spake also this parable, A certain man had a fig tree planted in his vineyarde: and he came and sought fruite thereon, and found none.
7 Then said he to the dresser of his vineyarde, Behold, [f] this three yeeres haue I come and sought fruite of this figge tree, and find none: [g] cut it downe: why keepeth it s also the ground baren?
8 And he answered, and saide vnto him, Lorde, let it alone this yeere also, till I digge round about it, and dung it.
9 And if it beare fruite, wel: if not, then after thou shalt cut it downe.
10 ¶ And he taught in one of the Synagogues on the Sabbath day.
11 And behold, there was a woman which had a [h] spirit of infirmitie eighteene yeeres, & was [i] bowed together, & could not lift vp her selfe in any wise.
12 When Jesus sawe her, he called her to him, and said to her, Woman, thou art [k] loosed from thy disease.
13 And he laid his hands on her, and immediatly she was made straight again, and glorified God.
14 And the ruler of the Synagogue answered with indignation because that Jesus had healed on the Sabbath day, a He murthered them as they were sacrificing: & so their blood was mingled w the blood of the beastes which were sacrificed.

b For the Iewes tooke occasion hereby to condemne them as most wicked me.

c He warneth them rather to consider their owne estate, the to reproue other mens.

d Which towre stoode by the riuer Siloe or fishpoole in Ierusalē e Or, detters.

e By this similitude is declared the great patiēce that God vseth towards sinners in looking for their amendement: but this delay auayleth them nothing, when they still remaine in their corruption.

g For both it is vnfruitfull it selfe, and doth hurt to the ground where it groweth.

and saide vnto the people, There are sixe dayes in which men ought to worke: in them therefore come and bee healed, and not on the Sabbath day.

15 Then answered him the Lord, & saide, Hypocrite, doeth not eche one of you on the Sabbath day loose his oxe or his asse from the stall, and leade him awaye to the water?

*Mat.*12.11. *mar.*4.31.

16 And ought not this daughter of Abraham, whom Satan had bounde, lo, eighteene yeeres, be loosed frō this bond on the Sabbath day?

k By these similitudes he sheweth the increase, whereby God augmenteth his kingdome, contrary to al mens opinions.

17 And when he laid these things, all his aduersaries were ashamed: but all the people reioyced at al the excellent things, that were done by him.

18 ¶ * Then said he, What is the k kingdome of God like? or wherevnto shall I compare it?

*Mat.*9.35. *mar.*6.6.

21 It is like leauen, which a woman tooke, and hid in three peckes of floure, till all was leauened.

CHAP. XIIII.

Iesus eateth with the Pharise, 4 Healeth the dropsie vpon the Sabbath, 8 Teacheth to be lowly and to bid the poore to our table. 15 He vttereth of the great supper. 28 He warneth thē that will follow him, to lay their accounts before, what it will cost them. 34 The salte of the earth.

1 AND it came to passe that when he was entred into the house of one of the chiefe Pharises on the Sabbath daye, to t eate bread, they watched him.

t Or, take his refection.

2 And beholde, there was a certaine man before him, which had the dropsie.

3 Then Iesus answering, spake vnto the expounders of the Law, and Pharises, saying, Is it lawfull to heale on the Sabbath day?

4 And they helde their peace. Then hee tooke him, and healed him, and let him goe,

5 And answered them, saying, Which of you shall haue an asse, or an oxe fallen into a pit, and will not straightway pull him out on the Sabbath day?

6 And they couldo not answere him againe to those things.

7 ¶ Hee spake also a parable to the ghests, when he marked how they chose out the chiefe roomes, and said vnto them,

8 * When thou shalt bee bidden of any man to a wedding, set not thy selfe downe in the chiefest place, lest a more honourable man then thou, be bidden of him, a He reproueth their ambition, which desire to sit in the hiest places.

9 And he that bade both him and thee, come, and saye to thee, Giue this man roome, and thou then begin with shame to take the lowest roome.

10 * But when thou art bidden, goe and sitte downe in the lowest roome, that when he that bade thee, commeth, he may say vnto thee, Friend, sitte vp hier: then shalt thou haue worshippe in the presence of them that sitte at table with thee.

11 * For whosoeuer exalteth himselfe, shal be brought lowe, and he that humbleth him selfe, shalbe exalted.

12 ¶ Then [b] said he also to him that had bidden him, *When thou makest a dinner or a supper, call not thy friends, nor thy brethren, neither thy kinsmen, nor the riche neyghbours, lest they also bid thee again, and a recompence be made thee.

13 But when thou makest a feast, call the poore, the maymed, the lame, and the blinde, 14 And thou shalt be blessed, because they can not recompense thee: for thou shalt bee recompensed at the resurrection of the iust.

15 ¶ Now when one of them that sate at table, heard these thinges, he saide vnto him, Blessed is hee that eateth bread in the kingdome of God.

16 Then said he to him, *[c] A certaine man made a great supper, and bade many,

17 And sent his seruant at supper time to say to them that were bidden, Come: for all things are nowe readie.

18 But they all with one minde began to make excuse: The first said vnto him, I haue bought a farme, and I must needes go out & see it: I pray thee haue me excused.

19 And another said, I haue bought fiue [d] yoke of oxen, and I go to proue them: I pray thee, haue me excused.

20 And another said, I haue marryed a wife, and therefore I can not come.

21 So that seruant returned, and shewed his master these things. Then was the good man of the house angrie, and saide to his seruant, [d] Goe out quickly into the places and stretes of the citie, and bring in hither the poore, and the maymed, and the halt, and the blinde.

22 And the seruant saide, Lord, it is done as thou hast commanded, and yet there is rome.

23 Then the master sayde to the seruant, Goe out into the [e] hie wayes, and hedges, and [f] compell them to come in, that mine house may be filled.

24 For I say vnto you, that none of those men which were bidde, shal taste of my supper.

25 ¶ Nowe there went great multitudes with him, and he turned and saide vnto them, 26 * If any man come to me, and [g] hate not his father, and mother, and wife, and children, and brethren, and sisters: yea, and his owne life also, he can not be my disciple.

27 * And whosoeuer beareth not his crosse, and commeth after me, cannot be my disciple.

28 For which of you minding to builde a towne, sitteth not downe before, and [h] counteth the cost, whether he haue sufficient to perfourne it,

29 Lest that after he hath laid the foundation, and is not able to perfourne it, all that beholde it, beginne to mocke him, 30 Saying, This man began to build, and was not able to make an end?

31 Or what king going to make warre against another king, sitteth not downe first, and taketh counsell, whether he be able with ten thousande, to meete him that commeth against him with twentie thousand?

32 Or els while he is yet a great way off, he sendeth an ambassage, and desireth conditions of peace.

33 So likewise, whosoeuer he be of you, that [i] forsaketh not all that he hath, he can not be my disciple.

34 * Salt is good: [k] but if salt haue lost his sauour, wherewith shal it be [l] salted?

35 It is neither meete for the lande, nor yet for the dunghill, but men cast it out. He that hath eares to heare, let him heare.

i He that is not perswaded to leaue al at euery houre to bestow him selfe frankly in Gods seruice. *Mat.*5.13. mar.9.50.

k If they that should season others, haue lost it themselues, where should a man recouer it?

[l] Or, seasoned.

CHAP. XV.

The Pharises murmure because Christ receiueth sinners. 4 The louing mercie of God is openly set foorth in the parable of the hundreth sheepe. 7 Ioy in heauen for one sinner. 12 Of the prodigall sonne.

THen resorted vnto him al the Publicanes and sinners, to heare him.

2 Therefore the Pharises & Scribes murmured, saying, He receyueth sinners, and eateth with them.

3 Then spake he this parable to them, saying,

4 * What man of you hauing an hundreth sheepe, if he lose one of them, doeth not leaue ninetie and nine in the wildernes, and go after that which is lost, vntill he finde it?

*Mat.*18.12.

5 And when he hath founde it, he layeth it on his shoulders with ioy.

6 And when he commeth home, he calleth together his friendes and neyghbours, saying vnto them, Reioyce with me: for I haue found my sheepe, which was lost.

7 I say vnto you, that likewise ioy shall be in heauen for one sinner that conuerteth, more then for ninetie and nine [a] iust men, which nede none amendment of life.

a Which iustifie themselues, and knowe not their owne faultes.

8 Either what woman hauing ten [b] pieces of siluer, if she lose one piece, doeth not lyght a candle, and sweepe the house, and seeke diligently till she finde it?

b The worde is drachma, which is somewhat more in value then fiue pence of olde sterling money, and was equall with a Romane penie.

9 And when shee hath founde it, she calleth her friendes, and neighbours, saying, Reioyce with me: for I haue found the piece which I had lost.

10 Likewise I say vnto you, there is ioye in the presence of the Angels of God, for one sinner that conuerteth.

11 ¶ He saide moreouer, A certaine man had two sonnes.

12 And the ponger of them saide to his father, Father, giue mee the [c] portion of the goods that falleth to mee. So hee deuided vnto them his substance.

c This declareth that we ought not to desire to haue our portion separate from God, except we will lose all,

13 So not long after, when the ponger sonne sonne had gathered all together, he tooke his iourney into a farre countrey, and there he wasted his goodes with [d] riotous liuing.

14 Now when he had spent al, there arose a great dearth throughout that lande, & he began to be in necessitie.

15 Then he went and claue to a citizen of that countrey, and hee sent him to his farme, to feede swine.

16 And he would fayne haue filled his belie with the huskes, that the swine ate: [e] but no man gaue them him.

17 Then he came to himselfe, and sayde, Howe many hyred seruants at my fathers haue bread ynough, and I die for hunger!

18 I will rise and go to my father, and say vnto him, Father, I haue sinned against [f] heauen, and before thee, 19 And am no more worthy to bee called thy sonne: make me as one of thy hired seruants.

20 So hee arose and came to his father, and when he was yet a great way off, his father saw him, and had compassion, and ranne and fell on his necke, and kissed him.

21 And the sonne said vnto him, [h] Father, I haue sinned against heauen, and before thee, and am no more worthy to be called thy sonne.

22 Then the father saide to his seruants, Bring forth the best robe, and put it on him, and put a ring on his hande, and shoes on his feete, 23 And bring the fat calfe, & kil him, and let vs eate, and be merry.

24 For this my sonne was dead, and is aliue againe: and he was lost, but he is found. And they began to be merry.

25 Nowe the [i] elder brother was in the field, and when he came and drewe nere to the house, he heard melodie, and dauncing, 26 And called one of his seruants, and asked what those things ment.

27 And he said vnto him, Thy brother is come, and thy father hath killed the fatted calfe, because he hath receiued him safe and sound.

28 Then he was angrie, and would not go in: therefore came his father out and intreated him.

29 But he answered and saide to his father, Lo, these many yeres haue I done thee seruice, neither brake I at any time thy commandement, and yet thou neuer gauest me a kid that I might make merie with my friendes.

30 But when this thy sonne was come, which hath deuoured thy goodes with harlots, thou hast for his sake killed the fat calfe.

31 And he said vnto him, [k] Sonne, thou art euer with me, and al that I haue, is thine.

32 It was meete that we should make merie, and be glad: for this thy brother was dead, and is aliue againe: and he was lost, but he is found.

d The Greeke word signifieth so to waste all, that a man reserueth nothing to himselfe.

g God preuenteth vs and heareth our gronings before we cry to him.

h He was touched with the feeling of his sinne, & therefore was ashamed thereof, and beaue in heart.

i God reproueth the enuie of such as grudge when God receiueth sinners to mercy.

k Thy part, which art a Iew, is nothing diminished by that that Christ was also killed for the Gentiles: for he accepteth not the person, but feedeth indifferently all them that beleeue in him, with his bodie and blood to life euerlasting.

CHAP. XVI.

Christ exhorteth him to wisdome and liberalitie by the example of the steward. 13 None can serue two masters. 14 He reproueth the couetousnes & hypocrisie of the Pharisies. 16 Of the ende and force of the Lawe. 18 Of the holy state of mariage. 19 Of the rich man, and Lazarus.

1 AND hee sayde also vnto his disciples, [a] There was a certaine riche man, which had a steward, and hee was accused vnto him, that hee wasted his goods.

2 And he called him, and said vnto him, Howe is it that I heare this of thee? Giue an accounte of thy stewardship: for thou mayest bee no longer steward.

3 Then the stewarde saide within himselfe, What shall I doe: for my master will take away from mee the stewardship? I can not digge, and to begge I am ashamed.

4 I know what I will do, that when I am put out of the stewardship, they may receyue me into their houses.

5 Then called hee euery one of his masters debters, & said vnto the first, How much owest thou vnto my master?

6 And he said, An hundreth measures of oyle. And he said to him, Take thy writing, and sit downe quickely, and write fiftie.

7 Then said he to another, Howe much owest thou? And he sayde, An hundreth measures of wheat. Then he said to him, Take thy writing, and write foure score.

8 And the Lord commended [b] the vniust steward, because hee had done wisely. Wherefore the children of this worlde are in their generation wiser then the children of light.

9 And I say vnto you, Make you friends [c] with the riches of iniquitie, that when ye shall want, they may receiue you into euerlasting habitations.

10 He that is faithfull in the least, hee is also faithful in much: and he that is vniust in the least, is vniust also in much.

11 If then ye haue not bene faythfull in [d] the wicked riches, who will trust you in the true treasure?

12 And if ye haue not bene faythfull in [e] another mans goods, who shall giue you that which is [f] yours?

13 [g] No seruant can serue two masters: for either he shal hate the one, and loue the other: or els he shal leane to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serue God and riches.

14 All these things heard the Pharises also which were couetous, and they [g] mocked him.

15 Then he said vnto them, Ye are they, which [h] iustifie your selues before men: but God knoweth your hartes: for that which is hie among men, is abhomination before God.

16 The Lawe and the Prophets were vntil Iohn: from that time the kingdome of God is preached, and euery man presseth into it.

17 And it is easier for heauen and earth to passe, then one title of the Lawe to fall.

18 Whosoeuer putteth away his wife, and marieth another, breaketh wedlocke: and whosoeuer marieth her that is put away from her husband, breaketh wedlocke.

19 There was a certaine riche man, which was clothed in purple and fine linen, and fared deliciously euery day.

20 And there was a certaine beggar named Lazarus, which was laide at his gate full of sores, 21 And desired to be fed with the crommes which fell from the riche mans table: moreouer the dogges came and licked his sores.

22 And it came to passe that the beggar died, and was caried of the Angels into Abrahams bosome. The riche man also died, and was buried.

23 And in hell he lift vp his eyes, when he was in torments, and saw Abraham afarre off, and Lazarus in his bosome, 24 And he cried and said, Father Abraham, haue mercie on me, and send Lazarus, that he may dippe the tippe of his finger in water, and coole my tongue: for I am tormented in this flame.

25 But Abraham said, Sonne, remember that thou in thy life time receiuedst thy pleasures, and likewise Lazarus paines: but now he is comforted, and thou art tormented.

26 And besides all this, betweene vs and you there is a great gulfe fixed, so that they which would go from hence to you, cannot, neither can they come from thence to vs.

27 Then he said, I pray thee therefore, father, that thou wouldest send him to my father house, 28 For I haue fiue brethren, that he may testifie vnto them, lest they also come into this place of torment.

29 Abraham said vnto him, They haue Moses and the Prophets, let them heare them.

30 And he said, Nay, father Abraham: but if one went vnto them from the dead, they will repent.

31 And he said vnto him, If they heare not Moses and the Prophets, neither will they be perswaded though one rise from the dead.

a Christ teacheth hereby, that like wise as he which is in authority & hath riches, if he get friends in his prosperitie, may be relieued in his aduersitie: so our liberalitie towards our neighbour shall stand vs in such stead at the day of iudgement, that God will accept it as done vnto him.

b God, who doeth here represent the maister of the house, doth rather cõmend the prodigal waste of his goods, and the liberal giuing of the same to the poore, than the strait keeping & hording of the.

16 The Law and the Prophets endured until Iohn: and since that time the kingdome of God is preached, and euery man [i] preasseth into it.

17 And it is more easie that heauen & earth should passe away, then that one title of the Law should fall.

18 Whosoeuer putteth away his wife, and marieth another, committeth adulterie: and whosoeuer marieth her that [k] is put away from her husbande, committeth adulterie.

19 There was a certaine riche man, which was clothed in purple, and fine linen, and fared wel and delicately euerie day.

20 Also there was a certaine begger named Lazarus, which was laied at his gate full of sores, 21 And desired to bee refreshed with the crummes that fell from the rich mans table: yea, and the dogges came and licked his sores.

22 And it was so that the begger dyed, & was caried by the Angels into [m] Abrahams [n] bosome. The rich man also died, and was buried.

23 And being in hell in torments, hee lift vp his eyes, and saw Abraham a farre off, and Lazarus in his bosome.

24 Then he cryed, & saide, Father Abraham, haue mercie on me, & sende Lazarus that he map dippe the tippe of his [o] finger in water, and cole my tongue: for I am tormented in this flame.

25 But Abraham said, Sonne, remember that thou in thy life time receiuedst thy [p] pleasures, and likewise Lazarus [q] paynes: now therfore is he comforted, and thou art tormented.

26 Besides al this, betweene vs and vs there is a great [r] gulfe set, so that they which would go from hence to you, can not, neither can they come from thence to vs.

27 Then he said, I pray thee therefore father, that thou wouldest sende him to my fathers house, 28 For I haue fiue brethren) that he map testifie vnto them, least they also come into this place of torment.

29 Abraham saide vnto him, They haue Moses and the [s] Prophetes: let them [t] heare them.

30 And he saide, Nay, father Abraham: but if one came vnto them frō the dead, they will amend their liues.

31 Then he said vnto him, If they heare not Moses and the Prophets, neither will they be perswaded, though one rise from the dead againe.

CHAP. XVII.

Christ teacheth his disciples to auoyde occasions of offence, 3 One to forgiue another. 5 We ought to pray for the increase of faith. 6 He magnifieth the vertue of fayth, 10 And sheweth the inabilitie of man, 11 Healeth ten lepers, 20 Speaketh of the latter dayes, & of the end of the world.

THen said he to the disciples, [p] It can not be auoyded, but that offences will come, but woe be to him by whō they come.

2 It were better for him that a great millstone were hanged about his necke, and that he were cast into the sea, then that he should [a] offend one of these little ones.

3 Take heede to your selues: if thy brother trespasse against thee, rebuke him: and if he repent, forgiue him.

4 And though he sinne against thee [b] seuen times in a day, and seuen times in a day turne againe to thee, saying, It repenteth me, thou shalt forgiue him.

5 And the Apostles said vnto the Lord, Increase our faith.

6 And the Lorde sayd, [c] If ye had fayth as much as is [d] a graine of mustard seede, and should say vnto this mulberie tree, [d] Plucke thy selfe vp by the rootes, and plant thy selfe in the sea, it should euen obey you.

7 Who is it also of you, that hauing a seruant plowing or feeding cattell, would say vnto him by and by, when he were come from the field, Go, and sit downe at table?

8 And woulde not rather say to him, [e] Dresse wherewith I may suppe, and girde thy selfe, and serue me, till I haue eaten and dronken, & afterward thou shalt eate and drinke?

9 Doeth he thanke that seruant, because he did that which was commaunded vnto him? I trow not.

10 So likewise ye, when ye haue done al those things which are cōmanded you, say, We are [f] vnprofitable seruants: we haue done that which was our duetie to doe.

11 And so it was when he went to Ierusalem, that hee passed through the mids of Samaria and Galile.

12 And as he entred into a certain town, there mette him ten men that were lepers, which stood a farre off.

13 And they lift vp their voyces and said, Iesus, Master, haue mercie on vs.

14 And when he sawe them, he sayd vnto them, [g] Go, shewe your selues vnto the [t] Priests. And it came to passe, that as they went, they were cleansed.

7 Howe shall not God auenge his elect, which crye daye and night vnto him, yea, though [x] he suffer long for them?
8 I tell you he wil auenge them quickly: but when the Sonne of man cometh, shall he finde faith on the earth?

g They that suppresse the giftes of God, and liue in idlenes, are wout all excuse. Cha.8.18.mat.13.32.& 25.29.mar.4.25.

h He that faithfully bestoweth ✠ graces of God, shall haue them increased: but they shalbe take away from him that is vnprofitable, and vseth them not to Gods glorie.

i Hereby we perceiue the excellent constancie of Christ, who notwithstanding he did now fight against the terrour of death, & Gods iudgemēt: yet went before his fearefull disciples, & led the way to death. Mat.21.1.mar.11.1.

k Christ preuenteth such difficulties as might haue troubled his disciples.

man went into e a farre countrey, to receiue for him selfe a kingdome, and so to come againe.

13 And he called his ten seruants, and deliuered them tenne d pieces of money, and saide vnto them, e Occupie till I come.

14 Now his citizens hated him, & sent an ambassage after him, saying, We will not haue this man to reigne ouer vs.

15 And it came to passe, when hee was come f again, and had receiued his kingdome, that he commanded the seruantes to be called to him, to whom he gaue his money, that he might knowe what euery man had gained.

16 Then came the first, saying, Lorde, thy piece hath encreased ten pieces.

17 And he saide vnto him, Well, good seruant: because thou hast bene faithfull in a very litle thing, take thou authority ouer ten cities.

18 And the second came, saying, Lord, thy piece hath encreased fiue pieces.

19 And to the same he saide, Be thou also ruler ouer fiue cities.

20 So the other came and said, Lord, behold thy piece, which I haue laid vp in a napkin.

21 For I feared thée, because thou art a strait man: thou takest vp, that thou laidest not down, and reapest that thou diddest not sowe.

22 Then he said vnto him, Of thine owne mouth will I iudge thee, O euill seruant. Thou knewest that I am a strait man, taking vp that I laid not downe, and reaping that I did not sowe.

23 Wherefore then gauest not thou my money into the banke, that at my comming I might haue required it with vantage?

24 And he saide to them that stoode by, Take from him that piece, and giue it him that hath ten pieces.

25 (And they said vnto him, Lord, he hath ten pieces.)

26 * For I say vnto you, that vnto al that haue, it shall be h giuen: and from him that hath not, euen that hee hath, shalbe taken from him.

27 Moreouer, those mine enemies, which would not that I should reigne ouer them, bring hither, and slaye them before me.

28 ¶ And when he had thus spoken, hée went forth i before, ascending vp to Ierusalem.

29 * And it came to passe, when he was come nére to Bethphage, and Bethania, beside the mount which is called the mount of Olives, he sent two of his disciples, 30 Saying, Go ye to the towne which is before you, wherein, assone as ye are come, ye shall finde a colte tied, whereon neuer man sate: loose him, & bring him hither.

31 k And if any man aske you, why ye loose him, thus shall ye say vnto him, Because the Lorde hath neede of him.

32 So they that were sent, went their way, and founde it as he had said vnto them.

33 And as they were loosing the colte, the owners thereof sayde vnto them, Why loose ye the colte?

34 And they sayde, The Lorde hath néede of him.

35 ¶ * So they brought him to Iesus, & they cast their garments on the colt, & set Iesus thereon. Mat.21.7. ioh.12.14.

36 And as hee went, they spred their clothes in the way.

37 And when hee was nowe come nére to the going downe of the mount of Olives, the whole multitude of the disciples began to reioyce, & to praise God with a loude voice, for al ✠ great works that they had seene, 38 Saying, Blessed be the king that cometh in the Name of the Lorde: l peace in heauen, and glorie in the hyest places.

39 Then some of the Pharises of the cōpanie said vnto him, Master, rebuke thy disciples.

40 But he answered, & sayde vnto them, I tell you, that if these should hold their peace, the stones would cry.

41 ¶ And when he was come nere, hee beheld the citie, and wept for it, m

42 Saying, "O if thou hadest euē knowen at ✠ least in this thy day "those things, which belong vnto thy peace! but nowe are they o hid from thine eyes.

43 For the dayes shall come vpon thee, that thine enemies shall cast a trench about thee, and compasse thee rounde, & keepe thee in on euery side, 44 And shall make thee euen with the grounde, and thy children which are in thee, and they shall not leaue in thee a stone vpon a stone, because thou knewest not the time of thy p visitation.

45 ¶ * He went also into the Temple, and began to cast out them that solde therein, and them that bought, 46 Saying vnto them, It is written, * Mine house is ✠ house of prayer, "but ye haue made it a denne of theeues.

47 And he taught "dayly in the Temple. And the high Priests and the Scribes, and the chiefe of the people sought to destroy him.

48 But they could not finde what they might do to him: for al the people "hanged vpon him when they heard him.

l They wish that God may be appeased & reconciled with men: and so by this meanes be glorified. Cha.21.6.mal.2.4 1. mar.13.1.

m Christ partly pitieth the Citie which was so nere her destruction, & partly vpbraideth their malice which would not imbrace Christ their Sauiour, & therefore pronounceth greater punishmēt to Ierusalem, then to other cities, which had not receyued like graces.

Christ stoppeth his aduersaries mouthes by an other question, 9 Sheweth their destruction by a parable. 22 The authoritie of Princes. 27 The resurrection, and his diuine power. 46 He reproueth the ambition of the Scribes.

pie in the Temple, and preached the Gospel, the high Priestes & the Scribes came vpon him with the Elders, 2 And spake vnto him, saying, Tell vs by what authoritie thou doest these thinges, or who is he that hath given thee this authoritie?
3 And he answered, & sayd vnto them, I also will aske you one thing: tell me therefore:
4 The a baptisme of Iohn was it from heauen, or of men?
5 And they reasoned within themselues, saying, If we shall say from heauen, he will say, Why then beleued ye him not?
6 But if we shal say, Of men, all the people will stone vs: for they be perswaded that Iohn was a Prophet.
7 Therefore they answered, that they could not tell whence it was.
8 Then Iesus sayd vnto them, b Neither tel I you, by what authoritie I do these thinges.
9 ¶ *Then began he to speake to the people this parable, *A certaine man planted a c vineyard, and d let it forth to husbandmen: and went into a strange countrey, for a great season.
10 And at a time he sent a seruant to the husbandmen, that they should giue him of the fruit of the vineyarde, but the husbandmen did beat him, and sent him away emptie.
11 Againe he sent yet another seruant: & they did beate him, and sowle intreated him, and sent him away emptie.
12 Moreouer, he sent the thirde, and him they wounded, and cast out.
13 Then sayd the Lorde of the vineyarde, What shall I do? I wil sende my beloued Sonne: it may be that they will do reuerence, when they see him.
14 But when the husbandmen saw him, they reasoned with them selues, saying, This is the heire: come, let vs kil him, that the inheritance may be ours.
15 So they cast him out of the vineyard, and killed him. What shall the Lorde of the vineyarde therefore doe vnto them?
16 He wil come & destroy these husbandmen, & wil giue out his vineyarde to others. But when they heard it, they said, God forbid.
17 ¶ And he beheld them, and sayde, What meaneth this then that is written, * The stone that the builders refused, that is made the head f of the corner?
18 gWhosoeuer shal fall vpon that stone, shalbe broken: and on whom so euer it shal fall, it will grinde him to powder.
19 Then the hie Priests and the Scribes the same houre went about to lay hands on him: (but they feared the people) for they perceiued that he had spoken this parable against them.
20 *And they h watched him, and sent forth spies, which shoulde fayne themselues iust men, to take him in his talke, and to deliuer him vnto the power and authoritie of the gouernour.
21 And they asked him, saying, Master, we knowe that thou sayest, and teachest ryght, neyther doest thou accept mans person, but teachest the way of God truely.
22 Is it lawfull for vs to giue Cesar tribute, or no?
23 But he perceiued their craftines, and said vnto them, Why tempt ye me?
24 Shewe me a penie. Whose image & superscription hath it? They answered and said, Cesars.
25 Then he sayde vnto them, *k Giue then vnto Cesar the thinges which are Cesars, and to God those which are Gods.
26 And they could not reprone his saying before the people: but they marueyled at his answere, and held their peace.
27 * Then came to him certeyne of the Sadducees (which denie that there is any resurrection) and they asked him, 28 Saying, Master, * Moses wrote vnto vs, If any mans brother die hauing a wife, and he die without children, that his brother should take his wife, & raise vp seede vnto his brother.
29 Now there were seuen brethren, and the first tooke a wife, and hee died without children.
30 And the second tooke the wife, and he died childelesse.
31 Then the thirde tooke her: and so likewise the seuen died, and left no children.
32 And last of all, the woman died also.
33 Therefore at the resurrection, whose wife of them shall she be? for seuen had her to wife.
34 Then Iesus answered, and sayde vnto them, The l children of this worlde marrie wiues, and are married.
35 But they which shalbe counted worthie to enioy that worlde, and the resurrection from the dead, neyther marrie wiues, neither are married.
36 m For they can dye no more, for as much as they are equall vnto the Angels, and are the Sonnes of God, since they are the children of the resurrection.
37 And that the dead shall rise againe, euen *Moses shewed it besides the bush, when he saide, The Lorde is the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Iacob.
38 For he is not the God of the o dead, but of them which liue: for all liue vnto him.
39 Then certaine of the Pharises answered, & said, Master, thou hast wel saide.
40 And after that, durst they not aske him any thing at all.
41 ¶ *Then said he vnto them, Howe say they that Christ is Dauids sonne?
42 And Dauid him selfe saith in the booke of the Psalmes, * The Lorde sayd vnto my Lord, Sit at my right hand,

4 * For they all haue of their superfluitie cast into the offrings of God: but she of her penurie hath cast in all the liuing that she had.
5 * Nowe as some spake of the Temple, howe it was garnished with goodly stones, and ỹ consecrate things, he said,
6 Are these the things that ye looke vpō? the daies will come, wherein a stone shal not be left vpon a stone, that shall not be throwen downe.
7 Then they asked him, saying, Master, but when shall these things be? & what signe shall there bee when these thinges shall come to passe?
8 * And he saide, b Take heede, that ye be not deceiued: for many will come in my name, saying, I am Christ, and the time draweth neere: followe yee not them therefore.
9 And when ye heare of warres and seditions, be not afrayde: for these things must first come, but the ende followeth not by and by.
10 Then said he vnto them, Nation shall rise against nation, & kingdome against kingdome, 11 * And great earthquakes shalbe in diuers places, and hunger, and pestilence, and fearefull thinges, and great signes shall there be from heauen.
12 But before all these, they shall lay their handes on you, and persecute you, deliuering you vp to the Synagogues, and into prisons, & bring you before kinges and rulers for my Names sake.

45 And he rose vp from prayer, & came to his disciples, and found them sleeping for heauines.
46 And he saide vnto them, Why sleepe ye? rise and pray, lest ye enter into tentation.
47 ¶ *And while he yet spake, beholde a company, & he that was called Judas one of ꝑ twelue, went before them, and came neere vnto Jesus to kisse him.
48 And Jesus said vnto him, Judas, betrayest thou the sonne of man with a kisse?
49 Nowe when they which were about him, saw what would follow, they saide vnto him, Lord, shal we smite ꝑ with swords?
50 And one of thē smote a seruant of the hie Priest, & stroke off his right eare.
51 Then Jesus answered, and said, Suffer them thus farre: and he touched his eare, and healed him.
52 Then Jesus said vnto the hie Priests, and captaines of the Temple, and the Elders which were come to him, Be ye come out as vnto a theefe ꝑ with swords and staues?
53 When I was dayly with you in the Temple, ye stretched not forth ꝑ hands against me: but this is your very houre, and the s power of darkenes.
s For now God gaue libertie to Satan, whose ministers they were, to execute his rage against him: which thing we see is gouerned by the prouidence of God. Mat.26.69. mar.14.66. iohn.18.25.
54 ¶ Then toke they him, and led him, & brought him to the hie Priestes houle. And Peter followed a farre off.
55 * And when they had kindled a fire in the middes of the hall, and were set downe together, Peter also sate downe among them.
56 And a certaine maid beheld him as he sate by the fire, & hauing well looked on him, said, This mā was also with him.
57 But he denied him, saying, Woman, I knowe him not.
58 And after a litle while, another man sawe him, & said, Thou art also of them. But Peter said, Man, I am not.
59 And about the space of an houre after, a certaine other affirmed, saying, Verely euen this man was with him: for he is also a Galilean.
60 And Peter saide, Man, I knowe not what ꝑ sayest. And immediatly while he yet spake, the cocke crewe.
61 Then the Lorde turned backe, and looked vpon Peter: and Peter remembred the word of the Lord, howe he had saide vnto him, * Before the cocke crowe, thou shalt denie me thrise. Mat.26.34. iohn.13.38.
62 And Peter went out, and wept bitterly.
63 ¶ And the men that helde Jesus, mocked him, and stroke him.
64 And when they had blindfolded him, they smote him on the face, and asked him, saying, t Prophecie who it is that smote thee.
t They scoffed at him, because the people thought he was a Prophet. Mat.27.1. mar.15 1. iohn.18.28.
65 And many other thynges blasphemously spake they against him.
66 * And assone as it was day, the Elders of the people, and the hie Priestes and the Scribes came together, & ledde him into their Counsell, u They asked not to the ende that the trueth might be knowē (for the thing was to manifest) but for malice they bare towards Christ.
67 Saying, * Art thou the Christ? tel vs. And he said vnto them, If I tel you, ye will not beleeue it.
68 And if also I aske you, ye will not answere me, nor let me go.
69 x Hereafter shal the Sōne of man sit at the y right hande of the power of God.
x At his second comming.
y As in the second place of honour & dignitie.
70 Then said they all, Art thou then the Sonne of God? And he saide to them, Ye say that I am.
71 Then said they, What neede wee any further witnes? for we our selues haue heard it of his owne mouth.

CHAP. XXIII.

Iesus is brought before Pilate and Herode. 18 Of Barabbas. 26 Of Simon the Cyrenian. 27 The women make lamentation. 33 Christ crucified. 34 He prayeth for his enemies. 40 He conuerteth the theefe and many others at his death. 53 And is buried.

THen * the whole multitude of them arose, and led him vnto a Pilate.
Mat.27.2. mar. 15.1.
a Who was the chief gouernour and had the examinatiō of matters of life and death.
2 And they began to accuse him, saying, We haue founde this man perverting the people, and forbidding to pay tribute to Cesar, saying, That he is Christ a king.
Mat.27.11. mar. 15.2. iohn.18.33.
3 * And Pilate asked him, saying, Art thou the king of the Iewes? And he answered him, and said, Thou sayest it.
4 Then saide Pilate to the hie Priestes, and to the people, I finde no faulte in this man.
5 But they were the more fierce, saying, He moueth ꝑ people, teaching throughout al Judea, beginning at Galile, euen to this place.
6 Nowe when Pilate heard of Galile, he asked whether the man were a Galilean.
7 And when hee knewe that hee was of Herods iurisdiction, hee b sent him to Herod, which was also at Jerusalem c in those dayes.
b To rid his hands, and to gratifie Herod.

9 Then questioned he with him of many things: but he answered him [d] nothing.
10 The hie Priests also & Scribes stoode forth, and accused him vehemently.
11 And Herode with his [b] men of warre despised him, and mocked him, and araied him in a [c] white, and sent him againe to Pilate.
12 And the same day Pilate and Herode were made friends together: for before they were enemies one to another.
13 ¶ Then Pilate called together the hie priests, and the rulers, and the people,
14 * And said vnto them, Ye haue brought this man vnto me, as one that peruerteth the people: and behold, I haue examined him before you, and haue found no fault in this man, of those thinges whereof ye accuse him:
15 No, nor yet Herode: for I sent you to him: and loe, nothing worthy of death is done [e] to him.
16 I will therefore chastise him, & let him loose.
17 (For of [f] necessitie he must haue let one loose vnto them at the feast.)
18 Then all the multitude cried at once, saying, Away with him, and deliuer to vs Barabbas:
19 Which for a certaine insurrectiō made in the citie, & murther was cast in prison.
20 Then Pilate spake againe to them, willing to let Iesus loose.
21 But they cryed, saying, Crucifie, crucifie him.
22 And he said vnto them the third time, But what euil hath he done? I finde [g] no cause of death in him: I will therefore chastise him, and let him loose.
23 But they were instant with loud voices, and required that he might be crucified: and the voices of them, and of the hie Priests preuailed.
24 So Pilate gaue sentence, that it should be as they required.
25 And he let loose vnto them him that for insurrection and murder was cast into prison, whom they desired, and deliuered Iesus to do with him what they would.
26 ¶ * And as they led him away, they caught one Simō of Cyrene, comming out of the fielde, and on him they layde the crosse, to beare it after Iesus.
27 And there followed him a great multitude of people, and of women, which women bewayled and lamented him.
28 But Iesus turned backe vnto them, and saide, [h] Daughters of Ierusalem, weepe not for me, but weepe for your selues, and for your children.
29 For behold, the daies will come, when men shall say, Blessed are the barren, & the wombes that neuer bare, and the pappes which neuer gaue sucke.
30 Then shall they beginne to say to the mountaines, * Fall on vs: and to the hilles, Couer vs.
31 * For if they do these things to a [i] greē tree, what shalbe done to the dry?
32 * And there were two others, which were euill doers, ledde with him to be slaine.
33 And when they were come to the place, which is called [k] Caluarie, there they crucified him, and the euill doers: one at the right hande, and the other at [l] the left.
34 Then sayde Iesus, Father, forgiue them: for they know not what they do. And they parted his rayment, and cast lottes.
35 And the people stoode, and beheld: and the rulers mocked him with them, saying, He saued others: let him saue himselfe, if he be the Christe, the [m] Chosen of God.
36 The souldiers also mocked him, and came and offred him [n] vineger, 37 And saide, If thou be the king of the Iewes, saue thy selfe.
38 And a superscription was also written ouer him, in [o] Greeke letters, and in Latine, and in Hebrew, THIS IS THE KING OF THE IEWES.
39 ¶ And one of the euill doers, which were hanged, rayled on him, saying, If thou be the Christ, saue thy selfe and vs.
40 But the other answered, & rebuked him, saying, [p] Fearest thou not God, seeing thou art in the same condemnation?
41 We are in deede righteously here: for we receiue thinges worthy of that we haue done: but this man hath done nothing amisse.
42 And he said vnto Iesus, Lord, remember me, when thou commest into thy kingdome.
43 Then Iesus saide vnto him, Verely I say vnto thee, to day shalt thou be with me in Paradise.
44 ¶ And it was about the [q] sixt houre: and there was a darkenes ouer all the land, vntill the ninth houre.
45 And the sunne was darkned, and the vaile of the Temple rent thorough the middes.
46 And Iesus cryed with a loude voyce, and said, * Father, into thine hands I commend my spirit. And when he thus had said, he gaue vp the ghost.
47 ¶ Now when the [r] Centurion sawe what was done, he glorified God, saying, Of a surete this man was iust.
48 And al the people that came together to that sight, beholding the things which were done, smote their breastes, and returned.
49 And al his acquaintance stood afarre off, and the women that followed him from Galile, beholding these things.
50 ¶ * And behold, there was a man named Ioseph, which was a Counseller, a good man and a iust.

CHAP. XXIIII.

1 The women come to the grave. 13 Christ appeareth vnto the two disciples that goe toward Emmaus. 36 He standeth in the middes of his disciples, and openeth their vnderstanding in the Scriptures. 47 He giueth them a charge. 51 He ascendeth vp to heauen. 52 His disciples worship him, 53 And of their daily exercise.

Mat. 28. 1. mar. 16. 1. ioh. 20. 1.

1 NOwe the a first day of the weeke early in the morning, they came vnto the sepulchre, and brought the odours which they had prepared, and certaine women with them.
2 And they found the stone rolled away from the sepulchre,
3 And went in, but found not the body of the Lord Jesus.
4 And it came to passe, that as they were amased thereat, beholde, b two men suddenly stoode by them in shining vestures.
5 And as they were afraide, and bowed downe their faces to the earth, they said to them, Why seeke ye him that liueth, among the dead?
6 He is not here, but is risen: remember *howe he spake vnto you, when he was yet in Galile,
7 Saying that the Sonne of man must be deliuered into the handes of sinnefull men, and be crucified, and the third day rise againe.
8 And they remembred his wordes, 9 And returned from the sepulchre, and tolde all these thinges vnto the eleuen, and to all the remnant.
10 Now it was Marie Magdalene and Joanna, & Marie the mother of James, and other women with them, which tolde these thinges vnto the Apostles.
12 But their wordes seemed vnto them, as a fained thing, neither beleeued they them.
12 Then arose Peter, and ran vnto the sepulchre, and looked in, and saw the linnen clothes laid by themselues, and departed wondering in him selfe at that which was come to passe.
13 ¶ And beholde, two of them went that same day to a towne which was 16 But their eyes e were holden, that they could not knowe him.

17 And he said vnto them, What maner of communications are these that ye haue one to another as ye walke, and are sad?
18 And the one (named Cleopas) answered, & said vnto him, Art thou onely a f stranger in Jerusalem, and hast not knowen the things which are come to passe therein in these dayes?
19 And he said vnto them, What things?
And they said vnto him, Of Jesus of Nazaret, which was a Prophet, mightie in deede and in worde before God, and all the people,
20 And how the hie Priests, & our rulers deliuered him to be condemned to death, and haue crucified him.
21 But we g trusted that it had beene hee that should haue deliuered Israel, and as touching all these thinges, to day is the third day, that they were done.
22 Yea, and certaine women among vs made vs astonied, which came early vnto the sepulchre,
23 And when they founde not his bodie, they came, saying, that they had also seene a vision of Angelles, which saide that he was alive.
24 Therefore certaine of them which were with vs, went to the sepulchre, and founde it euen so as the women had said, but him they sawe not.
25 Then he saide vnto them, h O fooles and slowe of heart to beleeue all that the Prophets haue spoken, 26 Ought not Christ to haue suffred these things, and to enter into his glorie?
27 And he began at i Moses, and at all the Prophets, and interpreted vnto them in all the Scriptures the thinges which were written of him.
28 And they drewe nere vnto the towne, which they went to, but hee k made as though he would haue gone further.
29 But they constrained him, saying, Abide with vs: for it is towardes night, and the day is farre spent. So he went in to tarie with them.
30 And it came to passe, as he sate at table with them, he toke the bread, l and gaue thankes, and brake it, and gaue it to them.
31 Then their eies were opened, and they knewe him: but hee was taken out of their sight.
32 And they sayde betweene themselues,
Did not our hearts burne within vs, while hee talked with vs by the way,
and when hee opened to vs the Scriptures?
33 And they rose vp the same houre, and returned to Jerusalem, and founde the eleuen gathered together, and them

35 Then they told what things were done in the way, and howe he was knowen of them in [m] breaking of bread.
36 ¶ * And as they spake these thinges, Jesus him selfe stoode in the middes of them, and said vnto them, Peace be to you.
37 But they were abashed & afraide, supposing that they had seene a spirit.
38 Then he said vnto them, Why are ye troubled? and wherefore do doubtes arise in your heartes?
39 Behold mine handes and my feete: for it is I my selfe: handle me, and see: for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye see me haue.
40 And when he had thus spoken, he shewed them his handes and feete.
41 And while they yet beleeued not for ioye, and wondered, he said vnto them, Haue ye here any meate?
42 And they gaue him a piece of a broiled fish, and of an hony combe, 43 And hee tooke it, and did eate before them.
44 And hee said vnto them, These are the woordes, which I spake vnto you while I was yet with you, That all must bee fulfilled which are written of me in the Lawe of Moses, & in the Prophets, and in the Psalmes.
45 Then opened he their vnderstanding, that they might vnderstand the Scriptures, 46 And said vnto them, Thus is it written, and thus it behoued Christ to suffer, and to rise againe from the dead the third day,
47 And that repentance, and remission of sinnes shoulde bee preached in his Name among all nations, beginning at Jerusalem.
48 Now ye are witnesses of these things.
49 And behold, I wil send the *promes of my Father vpon you: but tarie yee in the citie of Jerusalem, * vntil ye be endued with power from an hie.

51 And it came to passe, that as he blessed them, * he departed from them, and was caried vp into heauen.

CHAP. I.

1. 14. 17 The diuinitie, humanitie, and offices of Iesus Christ. 15 The testimonie of Iohn. 39 The calling of Andrew, Peter, &c.

1 [a] IN the beginning was the Woorde, and the Woord was with [b] God, and that Woord was God.
2 The same was [b] in the beginning with God.
3 All thinges were made by it, and [c] without it was made nothing that was made.
4 In it was [d] life, and the life was the * light of men.
5 And the light shineth in [f] the darkenesse, and the darkenes comprehended it not.
6 ¶ * There was a man sent from God, whose name was Iohn.
7 The same came for a witnes, to beare witnes of the light, that all men through him might beleeue.
8 He was not that light, but was sent to beare witnes of the light.
9 That was the true light, which lighteth euery man that [g] commeth into the worlde.
10 He was in the world, & the world was * made by him: and the world [e] knewe him not.
11 He came vnto [h] his owne, & his owne receiued him not.
12 But as many as receiued him, to the hee gaue [i] power to bee the sonnes of God, euen to them that beleeue in his Name, 13 Which are borne not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God.
14 * And the Word was made [k] flesh, and dwelt among vs, (and we * sawe the glorie thereof, as the glorie of the onely begotten Sonne [l] of the Father) * full of grace and trueth.
15 ¶ Iohn bare witnes of him, & cryed, saying, This was he of whom I spake, He that commeth after me, is preferred before me: for he was [m] before me.
16 And of his fulnes haue al we receiued, and [l] grace for grace.
17 For [p] the Law was giuen by Moses, but grace and trueth came by Iesus Christ.
18 * No man hath seene God at any time: the onely begotten Sonne, which is in the [n] bosome of the Father, he [o] declared him.
19 ¶ Then this is [p] the record of Iohn, when the Iewes sent Priests & Leuites from Jerusalem, to aske him, Who art thou?
20 And he confessed and denied not, and said plainely, I * am not the Christ.
21 And

24 Now they which were sent, were of the Pharises.

25 And they asked him, and sayde vnto him, Why baptizest thou then, if thou be not the Christ, neither Elias, nor the Prophet?

26 Iohn answered them, saying, I baptize with water: but there is one among you, whom ye knowe not.

34 And I saw, and bare record that this is the Sonne of God.

35 ¶ The next daye, Iohn stood againe, and two of his disciples:

36 And he beheld Iesus walking by, and said, Behold the s lambe of God.

s He alludeth to & Paschal lambe which was a figure of Christ.

37 And the two disciples heard him speake, and followed Iesus.

38 Then Iesus turned about, & saw them folow, and said vnto them, What seke ye? and they sayde vnto him, Rabbi (which is to say by interpretation, Master) t where dwellest thou?

t Or, where is thy lodging? or whyther goest thou? for he dwelled in Nazaret, and was there as a stranger.

39 He sayde vnto them, Come, and se. They came and saw where he dwelt, & abode with him that day: for it was about the u tenth houre.

43 ¶ The day following, Iesus would go into Galile, and found Philippe, and sayde vnto him, Followe me.

44 Nowe Philippe was of Bethsaida, the citie of Andrew and Peter.

45 Philippe found Nathanael, and said vnto him, We haue found him, of whō * Moses did write in the Lawe, and the * Prophets, Iesus of Nazaret b Sonne of Ioseph.

47 Iesus sawe Nathanael comming to him, and said of him, Behold, in deede an Israelite, in whom is no guile.

48 Nathanael said vnto him, Whence knewest thou me? Iesus answered, and said vnto him, Before that Philippe called thee, when thou wast vnder the figge tree, I sawe thee.

49 Nathanael answered, and saide vnto him, Rabbi, thou art d Sonne of God: thou art the king of Israel.

50 Iesus answered, and saide vnto him, Because I said vnto thee, I sawe thee vnder the fig tree, e believest thou? thou shalt see greater thinges then these.

CHAP. II.

Christ turneth the water into wine. 14 He driueth the byers out, and ouerthrowe the tables of the Temple. 19 He foreseeth manie his death and resurrection. 23 He knoweth euery man, and discouereth none.

AND g the third day, was there a mariage in Cana a towne of Galile, & the mother of Iesus was there.

2 And Iesus was called also, and his disciples vnto the mariage.

3 And when the wine sayled, the mother of Iesus said vnto him, They haue no wine.

4 Iesus sayde vnto her, Woman, what haue I to do with thee? mine houre is not yet come.

5 His mother sayde vnto the seruantes, Whatsoeuer he sayeth vnto you, do it.

6 And there were set there, six waterpots of stone, after the h manner of the i purifying of the Iewes, containing two or three h firkins a piece.

h Or, measures.

7 And Iesus said vnto them, Fil the waterpots with water. Then they filled them vp to the brim.

8 Then he sayde vnto them, Drawe out nowe and beare vnto the k gouernour of the feast. So they bare it.

b Whereof euery one conteined 15. gallons.

9 Nowe when the gouernour of the feast had tasted the water, that was made wine, (for he knewe not whence it was: but the seruaunts, which drewe the water, knewe) the gouernour of the feast called the bridegroome,

10 And said vnto him, All men at the beginning set forth good wine, and when men haue well dronke, then that which is worse: but thou hast kept backe the good wine vntill now.

11 This beginning of [f] miracles did Jesus in Cana a towne of Galile, & shewed forth his glory: and his disciples beleeued on him.

[f] Or, signes.

12 After that he went down into Capernaum, he and his mother, and his [g] brethren, and his disciples: but they continued not many dayes there.

[g] Or, cousins.

13 For the Iewes Passeouer was at hand. Therefore Jesus went vp to Jerusalem.

14 * And he founde in the Temple those that solde oxen, and sheepe, & doues, and changers of money, sitting there.

Mat. 21.12. mar. 11.15. luk. 19.45.

15 Then he made a scourge of smal cords, and driue them all out of the Temple with the sheepe and oxen, and powred out the changers money, & ouerthrewe the tables,

16 And said vnto them that solde doues, Take these thinges hence: make not my Fathers house, an house of marchandise.

17 And his disciples remembred, that it was written, * The [c] zeale of thine house hath eaten me vp.

Psal. 69.9.

c This affection was so burning in him, that it surmounted and swallowed vp all the others.

18 Then answered the Iewes, & said vnto him, What [f] signe shewest thou vnto vs that thou doest these thinges?

[f] Or, miracle.

19 Jesus answered and said vnto them, *Destroy this Temple, & in three dayes I will raise it vp again.

Mat. 26.61. & 27.40. mark. 14.58. & 15.29.

20 Then said the Iewes, Fourtie and sixe yeres was this Temple a building, & wilt thou reare it vp in three dayes?

21 But he spake of the [d] temple of his body.

d Christs body might iustly bee called the Temple, because the fulnes of the godhead dwelleth in it corporally, Col. 2.9.

22 Assoone therefore as he was risen from the dead, his disciples remembred that he thus said vnto them: and they beleeued the Scripture, and the worde which Jesus had said.

23 Now when he was at Jerusalem at the Passeouer, at the feast, many beleeued in his name, when they sawe his miracles which he did.

24 But Jesus [e] did not commit himself vnto them, because he knewe them all, e For he tooke not them for true disciples, as he knew by their inwarde thoughts, what religion soeuer they did pretend outwardly.

25 And had no neede that any should testifie of man: for he knewe what was in man.

CHAP. III.

3 Christ instructeth Nicodemus in the regeneration. 15 Of faith. 16 Of the loue of God to vs in the worlde. 33 The doctrine and baptisme of Iohn. 38. And the witnes that he beareth of Christ.

1 THere was now a man of the Pharisies named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Iewes:

2 He came to Jesus by night, & said vnto him, Rabbi, we knowe that thou art a teacher come from God: for no man could do these miracles that thou doest, except God were with him.

3 Jesus answered, and said vnto him, Verily, verily I say vnto thee, except a man be borne againe, he cannot [h] see the [i] kingdome of God.

h To enter therein.

i Which thing is to be assembled and incorporate into the Church of God.

4 Nicodemus said vnto him, How can a man be borne which is olde? can he enter into his mothers wombe againe, and be borne?

5 Jesus answered, Verily, verily I say vnto thee, except that a man be borne of [k] water & of the Spirite, he cannot enter into the kingdome of God.

c Which is the spirituall water where the holy Ghost doeth washe vs into newnes of life.

6 That which is borne of [l] flesh, is flesh: & that [l] is borne of the Spirit, is spirit.

d As the power of God is manifest by the mouing of the aire, so is it in changing & renuing vs, although the maner be hid from vs.

7 Marueile not that I said to thee, Ye must be borne againe.

8 The [d] winde bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it commeth, and whither it goeth: so is euery man that is borne of the Spirite.

e Although he was excellently learned, yet knewe he not those thinges which the very babes in Christs schole ought to know.

9 Nicodemus answered, and said vnto him, How can these thinges be?

10 Jesus answered, and said vnto him, Art thou a teacher of Israel, & [e] knowest not these thinges?

f We may not teach our owne inuentions.

11 Verily, verily I say vnto thee, we speake that we [f] know, and testifie that we haue seene: but ye [g] receiue not our witnes.

g He reproueth him, for that me do teach thinges which they vnderstand not, & yet others beleeue them: but Christ teacheth things most certeine & knowen, and men will not receiue his doctrine.

12 If when I tel you [h] earthly things, ye beleeue not, how should ye beleeue, if I shall tell you of heauenly things?

h Which was after a common & grosse maner.

13 For no man ascendeth vp to heaven, but he that hath descended from heauen, the Sonne of man which is in [i] heaven.

i By reason of the vnion of his Godhead with his manhode. Nom. 21.9.

16 * For God so loued the worlde, that he hath giuen his [l] onely begotten Sonne, that whosoeuer beleeueth in him, should not perish, but haue euerlasting life.

l The contempt of Christ, and the sinnes of the wicked condemne them: yet Christ as a iust iudge

17 * For God sent not his Sonne into the world, that he should [m] condemne the worlde, but that the [n] world through him might be saued.

19 * And this is the [p] condemnation, that light is come into the worlde, and men loued darkenesse rather then light, because their deedes were euill.

p The contempt of Christ, and the sinnes of the wicked condemne them: yet Christ as a iust iudge 20 For euery man that euil doth, hateth the light, neither commeth to light, least his deedes should be reproued.

23 And John alſo baptized in Enon beſides Salim, becauſe there was much water there: and they came, and were baptized.

24 For John was not yet caſt into priſon.

25 Then there aroſe a queſtion betweene Johns diſciples and the Iewes, about [r] purifying.

26 And they came vnto John, and ſayde vnto him, Rabbi, [s] he that was with thee beyonde Iordan, to whom [t] thou bareſt witnes, behold, he baptizeth, and all men come to him.

27 John anſwered, and ſaide, A man can receiue nothing, except it be giuen him from heauen.

28 Ye your ſelues are my witneſſes, that [u] I ſaid, [x] I am not the Chriſt, but that I am ſent before him.

29 He that hath the bride, is the bridegroome: but the friend of the bridegroome which ſtandeth and heareth him, reioyceth greatly, becauſe of the bridegroomes voyce. This my ioye therefore is fulfilled.

30 He muſt [y] increaſe, but I muſt decreaſe.

31 He that is come from on hie, is aboue all: he that is of the [z] earth, is of the earth, and ſpeaketh of the earth: he that is come from heauen, is aboue all.

32 And what he hath ſeene & heard, that he teſtifieth: but no man receiueth his teſtimonie.

33 He that hath receiued his teſtimonie, hath ſealed that [a] God is true.

34 For he whome God hath ſent, ſpeaketh the woords of God: for God giueth him not the Spirit by [b] meaſure.

35 The father loueth the Sonne, & hath [c] giuen all things into his hand.

36 [d] He that beleeueth in the Sonne, hath euerlaſting life, and he that obeyeth not the Sonne, ſhall not ſee life, but [e] wrath of God abideth on him.

CHAP. IIII.

7 The communication of Chriſt with the woman of Samaria. 34 His zeale towarde his Father and his harueſt. 39 The converſion of the Samaritans. 45 And Galileans. 47 How he healeth the rulers ſonne.

1 NOw when the Lord knewe, howe the Phariſies had heard, that Ieſus made and baptized moe diſciples then John,

2 (Though Ieſus him ſelfe baptized not: but his diſciples)

3 He [a] left Iudea, and departed againe into Galile.

4 And he muſt needes goe through Samaria.

5 Then came he to a citie of Samaria called [b] Sychar, nere vnto [f] poſſeſſion that [c] Jacob gaue to his ſonne Ioſeph.

6 And there was Jacobs well. Ieſus then wearied in the iourney, ſate [d] thus on the well: it was about the [e] ſixt houre.

7 There came a woman of Samaria to draw water. Ieſus ſayd vnto her, Giue me drinke.

8 For his diſciples were gone away into the citie, to bye meate.

9 Then ſaid the woman of Samaria vnto him, Howe is it, that thou being a Iewe, aſkeſt drinke of mee, which am a woman of [g] Samaria? For the Iewes meddle not with the Samaritans.

10 Ieſus anſwered and ſaid vnto her, If thou kneweſt the [h] gift of God, & who it is that ſaith to thee, Giue me drinke, thou wouldeſt haue aſked of him, & he would haue giuen thee [i] water of life.

11 The woman ſaid vnto him, Sir, thou haſt nothing to draw with, and the well is deepe: from whence then haſt thou that water of life?

12 Art thou greater then our father Jacob, which gaue vs the well, and he him ſelfe dranke thereof, and his children, & his cattel?

13 Ieſus anſwered, and ſayde vnto her, Whoſoeuer drinketh of this water, ſhal thirſt againe:

14 But whoſoeuer drinketh of the [k] water that I ſhall giue him, ſhall neuer be more [l] a thirſt: but the water that I ſhall giue him, ſhall be in him a well of water, ſpringing vp into euerlaſting life.

15 The woman ſaid vnto him, Syr, giue me of that water, [m] I may not thirſt, neither come hither to drawe.

16 Ieſus ſaide vnto her, Goe, call thine huſband, and come hither.

17 The woman anſwered, and ſayde, I haue no huſbande. Ieſus ſayde to her, Thou haſt well ſaid, I haue no huſband.

18 For thou haſt had fiue huſbands, and he whom thou nowe haſt, is not thine huſband: that ſaideſt thou truely.

19 The woman ſaide vnto him, Syr, I [n] ſee that thou art a Prophet.

20 Our fathers worſhipped in this mountaine, and ye ſay, that in [o] Jeruſalem is the place where men ought to worſhip.

21 Ieſus ſaide vnto her, Woman, beleeue me, the houre commeth, when yee ſhall neither in this mountaine, nor at Jeruſalem worſhip the Father.

22 Yee worſhip that which ye [p] knowe not: we worſhip that which we knowe: for ſalnation is of the Iewes.

23 But the houre commeth, and now is, when the true worſhippers ſhall worſhip the Father in ſpirit, and trueth: for the Father requireth euen ſuch to worſhip him.

24 [q] God is a Spirit and they that worſhip him, muſt worſhippe him in ſpirit and trueth.

27 ¶ And vpon that came his diſciples, and marueyled that hée talked with a woman: yet no man ſayde vnto him, What aſkeſt thou? or why talkeſt thou with her?
28 The woman then left her water pot, and went her way into the citie, & ſaide to the men, 29 Come, ſee a man which hath tolde me all things that euer I did: is not he the Chriſt?
30 Then they went out of the citie, and came vnto him.
31 ¶ In the meane while, the diſciples prayed him, ſaying, Maiſter, eate.
32 But he ſaid vnto them, I haue meate to eate, that ye know not of.
33 Then ſaid the diſciples betweene them ſelues, Hath any man brought him meate?
34 Iesus ſaide vnto them, l My meate is that I may doe the will of him that ſent me, and finiſh his worke.
35 Say not ye, There are yet foure moneths, and then commeth harueſt? Beholde, I ſaye vnto you, Lift vp your eyes, and looke on the regions: for they are white already vnto harueſt.
36 And he that reapeth, receiueth wages, and gathereth fruite vnto life eternall, that both hée that ſoweth, and hée that reapeth, might m reioyce together.

38 I ſent you to reape that, whereon ye beſtowed no labour: o other men laboured, and ye are entred into their labours.
39 Now many of the Samaritans of that citie p beleeued in him, for the ſaying of the woman which teſtified, Hée hath told me all things that euer I did.
40 Then when the Samaritans were come vnto him, they beſought him, that he would tarie with them: & he abode there two dayes.
41 And many mo p beleeued, becauſe of his owne word.
42 And they ſayd vnto the woman, Now we beleeue, not becauſe of thy ſaying: for we haue heard him our ſelues, and know that this is in deede the Chriſt the Sauiour of the world.
43 ¶ So two dayes after, he departed thence, and went into Galile.
44 For Iesus himſelfe had q teſtified that r a Prophet hath none honour in q his owne country.
45 Then when he was come into Galile, the Galileans receiued him, which had ſeene all the things that he did at Ieruſalem at the feaſt: for they went alſo vnto the feaſt.
46 And Iesus came againe into s Cana a towne of Galile, where hée had made of water wine. And there was a certaine t ruler, whoſe ſonne was ſicke at Capernaum.
47 When he heard that Iesus was come out of Iudea into Galile, he went vnto him, and beſought him that he would u go downe, and heale his ſonne: for he was euen ready to die.
48 Then ſaid Iesus vnto him, Except ye ſee ſignes and wonders, ye will not beleeue.
49 The ruler ſayde vnto him, Syr, goe downe before my ſonne die.
50 Iesus ſayd vnto him, Go thy way, thy ſonne liueth: and the man beleeued the worde that Iesus had ſpoken vnto him, and went his way.
51 And as he was now u going downe, his ſeruants met him, ſaying, Thy ſonne liueth.
52 Then enquired he of them the houre when he began to amend. And they ſaid vnto him, Yeſterday the ſeuenth houre the feuer left him.
53 Then the father knew, that it was the ſame houre in the which Iesus had ſaid vnto him, Thy ſonne liueth. And he beleeued, and all his houſholde.
54 This ſeconde miracle did Iesus againe, after he was come out of Iudea into Galile.

CHAP. V.

He healeth the man that was ſicke eight & thirtie yeeres. 10 The Iewes accuſe him. 19 Chriſt anſwereth for him ſelfe, and reproueth them, 32 Shewing by the teſtimonie of his Father, 33 Of Iohn, 36 Of his workes, 39 And of the Scriptures, who he is.

AFter x that, there was a feaſt of the Iewes, and Iesus went vp to Ieruſalem.
2 And there is at Ieruſalem by y the place of the ſheepe, a z poole called in Ebrewe a Bethesda, hauing fiue porches:
3 In the which lay a great multitude of ſicke folke, of blinde, halt, and withered, waiting for the mouing of the water.
4 For an Angel went downe at a certaine ſeaſon into the poole, and troubled the water: whoſoeuer then firſt, after the ſtirring of the water, ſtepped in, was made whole of whatſoeuer diſeaſe he had.
5 And a certaine man was there, which had bene diſeaſed eight and thirtie yeres.
6 When Iesus ſawe him lie, and knewe that he nowe long time had bene diſeaſed, hée ſaide vnto him, Wilt thou bée made whole?
7 The ſicke man anſwered him, Syr, I haue no man, when the water is troubled, to put me into the poole: but while I am coming, another ſteppeth downe before me.
8 Iesus ſayde vnto him, Riſe: b take vp thy bed, and walke.
9 And immediatly the man was made whole, and tooke vp his bed, & walked: and the ſame day was the Sabbath.
10 The Iewes therefore ſaid to him that was made whole, It is the Sabbath day:

Ier.17.22.

11 He answered them, He that made mee whole, he sayde vnto mee, Take vp thy bed, and walke.

12 Then asked they him, What man is that which sayde vnto thee, take vp thy bed, and walke?

13 And he that was healed, knewe not who it was: for Iesus had conueyed himselfe away from the multitude that was in that place.

14 And after that, Iesus found him in the Temple, & said vnto him, Beholde, thou art made whole: [d] sinne no more, least a worse thing come vnto thee.

d The afflictions that we endure, are chastisements for our sinnes.

15 ¶ The man departed, and tolde the Iewes that it was Iesus, which had made him whole.

16 And therefore the Iewes did persecute Iesus, and sought to slay him, because he had done these thinges on the Sabbath day.

17 But Iesus answered them, My Father worketh hitherto, and I worke.

18 Therefore the Iewes sought the more to kill him: not onely because hee had broken the Sabbath: but said also that God was [e] his [f] Father, and made himselfe equall with God.

e That is, proper and peculiar to him alone.

f It was lawfull for all Israel to call God their Father, Exod. 4. 22, but because Christ did attribute to himselfe, ỹ he had power ouer all things, and wrought as his Father did, they gathered ỹ Christ did not onely make him selfe the Sonne of God, but also equall with him.

19 Then answered Iesus, and said vnto them, Verely, verely I saye vnto you, The Sonne can do nothing of himself, saue that he seeth ỹ father do: for whatsoeuer things he doth, the same things doeth the Sonne also.

20 For the Father loueth the Sonne, & sheweth him all things, whatsoeuer he himselfe doeth, and he will shew him greater workes then these, ỹ ye shoulde marueile.

21 For likewise as the Father raiseth vp the dead, and quickeneth them, so the Sonne quickeneth whom he will.

22 For the Father iudgeth no man, but hath committed all [g] iudgement vnto the Sonne, g That is, he doeth communicate with him, hauing the same power and the same will.

23 Because that all men should honour the Sonne, as they honour the Father: he that honoureth not the Sonne, the same honoureth not the Father, which hath sent him.

24 Verely, verely I say vnto you, he that heareth my word, and beleeueth in him that sent me, hath euerlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation, but hath passed from death vnto life.

25 Verely, verely I say vnto you, ỹ houre shall come, and nowe is, when the dead shall heare the voyce of the Sonne of God: and they that [i] heare it, shall liue.

26 For as the Father hath life in [k] him selfe, so likewise hath hee giuen to the Sonne to haue life in himselfe, k To communicate it with vs.

27 And hath giuen him power also to execute [l] iudgement, in that hee is the Sonne of man.

l That is, to gouerne and rule al things.

28 Marueile not at this: for the houre shall come in the which all that are in the graues, shall heare his voyce, 29 And they shal come forth, * that haue done good, vnto ỹ resurrection of life: but they that haue done euill, vnto the resurrection of condemnation.

CHAP. VI.

10 Iesus feedeth fiue thousande men with fiue loaues and two fishes. 15 He departeth away, that they shoulde not make him king. 26 He reproueth the fleshly hearers of his word. 41 The carnal are offended at him. 63 The flesh profiteth not.

1 AFter these things, Iesus went his way ouer the * sea of Galile, or of [a] Tiberias.

a Called the lake of Gennesareth.

b Tiberias, Bethsaida, and Capernaum were on this side ỹ lake in respect of Galile: but it is here said that he went ouer, because there were diuers cricks & turnings, ouer ỹ which men fered.

2 And a great multitude followed him, because they sawe his miracles, which he did on them that were diseased.
3 Then Iesus went vp into a mountaine, and there he sate with his disciples.
Leui.23.5. deu.16.1. Mat.14.16. mar.6.37. luke 9.13.
4 Nowe the Passeouer, a * feast of the Iewes, was nere.
5 *Then Iesus lift vp his eyes, & seeing that a great multitude came vnto him, he said vnto Philip, Whence shall we bye bread, that these might eate?
6 (And this he said to proue him: for hee him selfe knewe what he would do) c This summe amounteth to about fiue pound sterling.
7 Philip answered him, c Two hundreth penyworth of bread is not sufficient for them, that euery one of them may take a litle.
8 Then saide vnto him one of his disciples, Andrew, Simon Peters brother, 9 There is a litle boy here, which hath fiue barly loaues, and two fishes: but what are they among so many?
10 And Iesus said, Make the people sit downe. (Nowe there was much grasse in that place) Then the men sate downe in nomber, about fiue thousand.
d Prayer and thankesgiuing do sanctifie our meates, wherewith we are nourished.
11 And Iesus tooke the bread, & d gaue thankes, and gaue to the disciples, and the disciples to them p were set downe: and likewise of the fishes as much as they would.
e The abundant store of Gods gifts ought not to make vs prodigall to waste them.
12 And when they were satisfied, he saide vnto his disciples, Gather vp the broken meate which remaineth, that e nothing be lost.
13 Then they gathered it together, & filled twelue baskets vp the broken meate of the fiue barly loaues, which remayned vnto them that had eaten.
14 Then the men when they had seene the miracle that Iesus did, sayde, This is of a trueth the Prophet that shoulde come into the world.
f They imagined an earthly kingdome without the testimonie of Gods word, so that by this meanes his spirituall kingdome should haue bene abolished.
15 When Iesus therefore perceyued that they would come, & take him to make him a f king, he departed againe into a mountaine him selfe alone.
16 ¶ When euen was now come, his disciples went downe vnto the sea, 17 * And entred into a shippe, and went g ouer the sea towards Capernaum: & now it was darke, and Iesus was not come to them.
18 And the sea arose with a great winde that blewe.
19 And when they had rowed about fiue and twentie, or thirtie h furlonges, they sawe Iesus walking on the sea, and drawing nere vnto the shippe: so they were afraide.
20 But he said vnto them, It is I: be not afraide.
21 Then willingly they receiued him into the ship, and the ship was by and by at the land, whither they went.
22 ¶ The day following, p people which stood on the other side of the sea, sawe that there was none other ship there, sane that one, whereinto his disciples were entred, and that Iesus went not with his disciples in the ship, but that his disciples were gone i alone,
23 And that there came other ships from Tiberias nere vnto the place where they ate the bread, after the Lord had giuen thankes.
24 Now when the people sawe that Iesus was not there, neither his disciples, they also tooke shipping, & came to Capernaum, seeking for Iesus.
25 And when they had founde him on the k other side of the sea, they sayde vnto him, Rabbi, when camest thou hither?
26 Iesus answered them, and said, Verely, verely I say vnto you, ye seeke me not, because ye sawe the miracles, but because ye ate of the loaues, and were filled.
27 Labour not for the meate which perisheth, but for the meate that l endureth vnto euerlasting life, which the Sonne of man shall giue vnto you: for him hath * God the Father m sealed.
28 Then said they vnto him, what shall we doe, that wee might worke the n workes of God?
29 Iesus answered, and said vnto them, * This is the worke of God, that ye beleeue in him, whom he hath sent.
30 Then said therefore vnto him, What signe shewest thou then, that we may see it, and beleeue thee? what doest thou worke.
31 * Our fathers did eate Manna in the desert, as it is * written, He gaue them bread from heauen to eate.
32 Then Iesus saide vnto them, Verely, verely I say vnto you, * Moses gaue you not bread from heauen, but my Father giueth you the true bread from heauen.
33 For the bread of God is he which cõmeth downe from heauen, and giueth life vnto the worlde.
34 Then they said vnto him, Lord, euermore giue vs this bread.
35 And Iesus said vnto them, I am the bread of life: he that commeth to me, shall not hunger, and * he that beleeueth in me, shal * neuer thirst.
36 But I said vnto you, that ye also haue seene me, and beleeue not.
37 All q that the Father giueth me, shal come to me: and him that commeth to me, I cast not away.
38 For I came downe from heauen, not to do mine own will, but his wil which hath sent me.
39 And this is the Fathers wil which hath sent me, that of all which he hath giuen me, I shoulde lose nothing, but should raise it vp againe at the last day.
40 And this is the wil of him that sent mee, that euery man which seeth the Sonne, and beleeueth in him, shoulde haue euerlasting life: and I will raise him vp at the last day.
41 The Iewes then murmured at him, because he sayde, I am the bread, which 51 I am the *liuing bread, which came downe from heauen: if any man eat of this bread, he shal liue for euer: and the bread that I wil giue, is my flesh, which I wil giue for the life of the worlde.

b He meaneth not that his humanitie descended from heauē: but he speaketh touching the vnion of both natures, attributing to the one, that which appertaineth to the other. Chap.3.13.

53 Then Iesus said vnto them, Verely, verely I say vnto you, Except ye eate the flesh of the Sonne of man, & drinke his blood, ye haue x no life in you.

54 Whosoeuer *eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, hath eternall life, & I will raise him vp at the last day.

55 For my flesh is meat indede, and my blood is drinke indede.

58 This is the bread which came downe from heauen: not as your fathers haue eaten Manna, and are dead. He that eateth of this bread, shall liue for euer.

59 These things spake hee in the Synagogue, as he taught in Capernaum.

60 Many therefore of his disciples (whē they heard this) saide, This is an hard saying: who can a heare it?

61 But Iesus knowing in him selfe, that his disciples murmured at this, saide vnto them, Doeth this offend you?

62 What then if ye shoulde see the Sonne of man b ascend vp *where he was before?

63 It is the Spirit that quickeneth: the flesh c profiteth nothing: the wordes that I speake vnto you, are spirit and life.

64 But there are some of you that beleeue not: for Iesus knewe from the beginning, which they were that beleeued not, & who shoulde betrap him.

65 And he sayd, Therefore said I vnto you, that no man can come vnto me, except it be giuen vnto him of my Father.

66 From that time, many of his disciples went backe, and walked no more with him.

67 Then said Iesus to the twelue, Will ye also goe away?

68 Then Simon Peter answered him, Master, to whom shall we goe? Thou hast the wordes of d eternall life:

1 AFter these thinges, Iesus walked in Galile, and woulde not walke in Iudea: for the Iewes sought to kill him.

Leuit.23.34.
a At this feast they dwelled seuen daies in the tents, which put them in remembrāce, that thei had no citie here permanent, but that they must seeke one to come.

9 ¶ These things he said vnto them, & abode still in Galile.

10 But assoone as his brethrē were gone vp, then went he also vp vnto the feast, not openly, but as it were priuily.

11 Then the Iewes sought him at the feast, and said, Where is he?

12 And much murmuring was ther-

13 Howbeit no man spake openly of him for feare of the [d] Iewes.

d These were the heads of the people who did enuie Christ.

14 Now when halfe the feast was done, Iesus went vp into the Temple and taught.

15 And the Iewes marueiled, saying, Howe knoweth this man the [a] Scriptures, seeing that he neuer learned?

a Or, letters.

16 Iesus answered them, and sayde, My doctrine is not [e] mine, but his that sent me.

e In that, that he is man onely.

17 If any man will do his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speake of my selfe.

f By this marke we may know whether the doctrine be of God or of man.

18 He [f] that speaketh of him selfe, seeketh his owne glorie: but hee that seeketh his glorie that sent him, the same is true, and no [g] vnrighteousnesse is in him.

25 ¶ Then said some of them of Ierusalem, Is not this he, whom they go about to kill?

*Or, freely.

26 And beholde, he speaketh [p] openly, & they say nothing to him: doe the rulers knowe in deede that this is the very Christ?

27 Howbeit we know this man whence he is: but when the Christ commeth, no man shall knowe whence he is.

28 ¶ Then cried Iesus in the Temple as he taught, saying, Ye [q] both know me, and know whence I am: yet am I not come of my selfe, but he that sent me, is true, whom ye know not.

q He speaketh this, as it were scornefully.

29 But I know him: for I am of him, and he hath sent me.

31 Now many of the people [r] beleeued in him, and said, When the Christ commeth, will he do mo miracles then this man hath done?

r They were well minded to heare him: which prepared them to receiue.

32 The Pharises heard that the people murmured these thinges of him, and the Pharises, and the Priests sent officers to take him.

36 What saying is this that he sayd, Ye shall seeke me, and shal not find me? and where I am, can ye not come?

43 So was there dissension among the people for him.

1 And Jesus went vnto the mount of Olives,
2 And early in the morning came againe into the Temple, and all the people came vnto him, and he sate downe, and taught them.
3 Then the Scribes, and the Pharises brought vnto him a woman, taken in adulterie, and set her in the middes,
4 And said vnto him, Master, this woman was taken in adulterie, in the very acte.
5 * Nowe Moses in the Law commanded vs, that such shoulde be stoned: what sayest thou therefore?
6 And this they said to tempt him, that they might haue whereof to [a] accuse him. But Jesus stouped downe, and wrote his finger wrote on the ground.
7 And while they continued asking him, he lift himselfe vp, and said vnto them, * Let him that is among you without sinne, cast the first stone at her.
8 And againe he stouped downe, & wrote on the ground.
9 And when they heard it, being accused by their owne conscience, they went out one by one, beginning at the eldest euen to the last: so Jesus was left alone, and the woman standing in the middes.
10 When Jesus had lift vp him selfe againe, and sawe no man, but the woman, he said vnto her, Woman, where are those thine accusers? hath no man condemned thee?
11 She saide, No man, Lorde. And Jesus said, [b] Neither do I condemne thee: go and sinne no more.
12 Then spake Jesus againe vnto them, saying, I * am the light of the world: he that followeth me, shall not walke in darknes, but shal haue the [a] light of life.
13 The Pharises therefore saide vnto him, Thou bearest recorde of thy selfe: thy record is not [a] true.
14 * Jesus answered, and saide vnto the, [c] Though I beare record of my selfe, yet my recorde is true: for I know whence I came & whither I go: but ye cannot tel [d] whence I come, & whither I go.
15 Ye iudge after the flesh: * I iudge no man.
16 And if I also iudge, my iudgement is true: for I am not alone, but I and the Father, that sent me.
17 And it is also written in your Lawe, * that the testimonie of two men is true.
18 I am [f] one that beare witnesse of my selfe, and the Father that sent me, beareth witnes of me.
19 Then said they vnto him, Where is thy Father? Jesus answered, Ye neither knowe me, nor my Father. If ye had knowen me, ye should haue knowē my Father also.
20 These woordes spake Jesus in the [g] treasury, as he taught in the Temple, and no man laide handes on him: for his houre was not yet come.
21 Then sayde Jesus againe vnto them, I goe my way, & ye shall seeke me, and shall die in your [h] sinnes. Whither I go, can ye not come.
22 Then saide the Iewes, Will hee kill him selfe because he saith, Whither I go, can ye not come?
23 And he said vnto them, [i] Ye are from beneath: I am from aboue: ye are of this worlde: I am not of this worlde.
24 I sayde therefore vnto you, That ye shall dye in your sinnes: for except ye beleeue, that I am hee, ye shall die in your sinnes.
25 Then sayde they vnto him, Who art thou? And Jesus sayde vnto them, [a] Euen the same thing that I saide vnto you [k] from the beginning.
26 I haue many thinges to say, and to iudge of you: but he that sent mee, is true, and the thinges that I haue heard of him, those speake I to the world.
27 They vnderstoode not that hee spake to them of the Father.
28 Then sayde Jesus vnto them, When ye haue [l] lift vp the Sonne of man, then shall ye [m] knowe that I am [n] hee, and that I doe nothing of my selfe, but as my Father hath taught mee, so I speake these thinges.
29 For he that sent me, is with mee: the Father hath not left me alone, because I do alwayes those thinges that please him.
30 ¶ As he spake these thinges, many beleeued in him.
31 Then saide Jesus to the Iewes which beleeued in him, If ye continue in my woorde, ye are verely my disciples, 32 And shall knowe the truth, and the truth [o] shal make you free.
33 They answered him, [p] We be Abrahams seede, and were neuer bonde to any man: why sayest thou then, Ye shall be made free?
34 Jesus answered them, Verely, verely I saye vnto you, that whosoeuer committeth sinne, is the * seruant of sinne.
35 And the seruant abideth not in the house for euer: but the Sonne abideth for euer.
36 If the Sonne therefore shal make you free, ye shalbe free in deede.
37 I [q] know that ye are Abrahams seed, but ye seeke to kill me, because my woord hath no place in you.
38 I speak that which I haue seene with my Father: and ye doe that which yee haue seene with your father.
39 They answered, and saide vnto him, Abraham is our father. Jesus saide vnto them, If ye were Abrahams children, ye would do the [r] woorkes of Abraham.

of fornication: wee haue one Father, which is God.

42 Therefore Iesus saide vnto them, If God were your Father, then woulde ye loue me: for I proceeded forth, and came from God, neither came I of my selfe, but he sent me.

43 Why do ye not vnderstand my talke? because ye cannot t heare my worde.

44 *Ye are of your father the deuill, and the lustes of your father ye will do: hee hath beene a murtherer t from the beginning, and u abode not in the trueth, because there is no trueth in him. When he speaketh a lie, then speaketh he of his x owne: for he is a liar, and the father thereof.

45 And because I tell you the trueth, ye beleeue me not.

46 Which of you can rebuke me of sinne? and if I say the trueth, why doe ye not beleeue me?

47 *He that is of God, heareth Gods wordes: ye therefore heare them not, because ye are not of God.

48 Then answered the Iewes, and sayde vnto him, Say we not well that thou art a Samaritan, and hast a deuill?

49 Iesus answered, I haue not a deuill, but I honour my Father, and ye haue dishonoured me.

50 And I seeke not mine owne prayse: but there is one that seeketh it, and y iudgeth.

51 Verely, verely I saye vnto you, If a man keepe my word, he shall neuer z see death.

52 Then sayde the Iewes to him, Now knowe we that thou hast a deuill. Abraham is dead, & the Prophetes, and thou sayest, If a man keepe my worde, he shall neuer taste of death.

53 Art thou greater then our father Abraham, which is dead? and the Prophets are dead: whome makest thou thy selfe?

54 Iesus answered, If I honour my selfe, mine honour is nothing worth: it is my Father that honoureth mee, whome ye say, that he is your God.

55 Yet yee haue not knowen him: but I know him, and if I shoulde say I know him not, I shoulde be a liar like vnto you: but I know him, & keep his word.

1 Of him that was borne blinde. 11 The confession of him that was borne blynde. 39 To what blindnes Christ giueth sight.

AND as Iesus passed by, he sawe a man which was blinde from his birth.

2 And his disciples asked him, saying, Master, who did sinne, this man, or his parents, that he was borne blinde?

3 Iesus answered, a Neither hath this man sinned, nor his parentes, but that the workes of God shoulde be shewed on him.

4 I must worke the workes of him that sent me, while it is b day: the night cõmeth when no man can worke.

5 As long as I am in the world, *I am the light of the world.

6 Assoone as he had thus spoken, hee c spat on the grounde, and made clay of the spittle, and anointed the eyes of the blinde with the clay,

7 And said vnto him, Goe washe in the poole of Siloam (which is by interpretation, d Sent) He went his way therefore, and washed, and came againe seeing.

8 Howe the neighbours and they that had seene him before, when he was blinde, saide, Is not this he that sate & begged?

9 Some saide, This is he: and others saide, He is like him: but hee him selfe said, I am he.

10 Therefore they saide vnto him, Howe were thine eyes opened?

11 He answered, and said, The man that is called Iesus, made clay, and anointed mine eyes, and saide vnto me, Goe to the poole of Siloam and wash. So I went & washed, & receiued sight.

12 Then they saide vnto him, Where is he? He said, I cannot tell.

13 ¶ They brought to the Pharises him that was once blinde.

14 And it was § Sabbath day, when Iesus made the clay, & opened his eyes.

15 Then againe the Pharises also asked him, how he had receiued sight. And he saide vnto them, He layed clay vpon mine eyes, and I washed, and do see.

16 Then saide some of the Pharises, This man is not of God, because he keepeth not the Sabbath day. Others said, How can a man b is a sinner, doe such miracles? and there was a diuision among them.

17 Then spake they vnto the blinde again, What sayest thou of him, because he hath opened thine eyes? And he saide, He is a Prophet.

18 Then the Iewes did not beleeue him (that he had bene blinde, and receyued his sight) vntil they had called the parents of him that had receyued sight.

19 And they asked them, saying, Is this your sonne, whom ye say was borne blinde? How doth he now see then?

20 His parents answered them, and said, We knowe that this is our sonne, and that he was borne blinde:

21 But by what meanes he now seeth, we know not: or who hath opened his eyes, a God doeth not alwaies punish men for their sinnes.

c This was not for any vertue that was in the earth, in the spittle, or in the clay to make one see: but it only pleased him to vse these signes and meanes.

d Hereby was prefigured the Messias, who should be sent vnto them.

e They durst not speake the trueth for feare they should be excommunicate.

epes, [a] can wee not tell: hee is olde enough: aske him: he shall answere for himselfe.

22 These wordes spake his parentes, because they feared the Iewes: for the Iewes had ordeyned alreadie, that if any man did confesse that hee was the Christ, he should be excommunicate out of the Synagogue.

23 Therefore said his parents, He is olde enough: aske him.

24 Then againe called they the man that had bin blinde, and said vnto him, [b] Giue glorie vnto God: wee knowe that this man is a sinner.

f That is, Consider that nothing is hid from God: therefore tell vs the trueth that god may be glorified therby, Ios.7.19.1.Sam. 6.5.

25 Then he answered, and said, Whether he be a sinner or no, [c] I can not tell: one thing I know, that I was blinde, and now I see.

g He spake this in mockerie.

26 [d] Then sayde they to him againe, What did he to thee? howe opened he thine eyes?

h They thought eyther to driue him from the trueth, or to make him swarue by their oft times examining him: which practise Satans members euer do obserue in examining the Christians.

27 He answered them, I haue tolde you alreadie, & ye haue not heard it: wherefore would ye heare it againe? [e] will ye also be his disciples?

i He derideth their wilfull malice and ignorance.

28 Then checked they him, & said, Thou art his disciple: we be Moses disciples.

29 We know that God spake with Moses: but this man we knowe not from whence he is.

k They doubted not of his countrey or parents, but of his office and authoritie.

30 The man answered, and sayde vnto them, Doubtles, this is a maruellous thing, that ye [f] know not whence he is, and yet he hath opened mine eyes.

l Or, wicked me, contemners of God, and such as delite in sinne.

31 Now we know that God heareth not [g] sinners: but if any man be a worshipper of God, and doth his will, him heareth he.

33 If this man were not of God, he could haue done nothing.

34 They answered, and sayde vnto him, Thou art altogether borne in sinnes, & doest thou teach vs? so they cast him out.

o You shoulde not be so much in fault.

35 Iesus hearde that they had [h] cast him out: and when he had founde him, he said vnto him, Doest thou beleue in the Sonne of God?

36 He answered, and sayde, Who is he, Lord, that I might beleeue in him?

37 And Iesus said vnto him, Both thou hast seene him, and he it is that talketh with thee.

38 Then he sayde, Lorde, I beleeue, and [m] worshipped him.

39 And Iesus sayde, I am come vnto [n] iudgement into this worlde, that they which see not, might see: and that they [o] which see, might be made blinde.

40 And some of the Pharises which were with him, heard these things, and sayde vnto him, Are we blinde also?

41 Iesus saide vnto them, If yee were blinde, [p] ye should not haue sinne: but nowe ye saye, We see: therefore your sinne remaineth.

Christ is the true shepheard, & the doore. 19 Diuers opinions of Christ. 24 He is asked if he be Christ. 31 His workes declare that he is God. 34 The princes called gods.

1 VErely, verely I saye vnto you, He that entreth not in by the doore into the sheepefolde, but climeth vp an other waye, he is a theefe and a robber.

2 But he that goeth in by the doore, is the shepheard of the sheepe.

3 To him the porter openeth, and the sheepe heare his voyce, and he [a] calleth his owne sheepe by name, and leadeth them out.

a That is, there is mutual agreement and consent of faith betweene the pastour and the sheepe.

4 And when he hath sent forth his owne sheepe, hee goeth before them, and the sheepe followe him: for they knowe his voyce.

5 And they will not followe a stranger, but they flee from him: for they knowe not the voyce of strangers.

6 This parable spake Iesus vnto them: but they vnderstoode not what thinges they were which he spake vnto them.

7 Then saide Iesus vnto them againe, Verely, verely I saye vnto you, I am the doore of the sheepe.

b He meaneth all the false prophets, who led not mē to Christ, but from him.

8 All, [b] that euer came before mee, are theeues and robbers: but the sheepe did not heare them.

c He shall be sure of his life. Isa.40.11.ezek. 34.23.

9 I am the doore: by mee if any man enter in, he shalbe saued, and shall [c] goe in and go out, and finde pasture.

10 The theefe commeth not, but for to steale, and to kill, and to destroye: I am come that they might haue life, & haue it in abundance.

d Christ knoweth his because he loueth them, careth and prouideth for them.

11 [d] I am the good shepheard: the good shepheard giueth his life for his sheepe.

12 But an hireling, and he which is not the shepheard, neither the sheepe are his owne, seeth the wolfe comming, and he leaueth the sheepe, and fleeth, and the wolfe catcheth them, and scatereth the sheepe.

e As the father can not forget him, no more can he forget vs.

13 So the hireling fleeth, because he is an hireling, and careth not for the sheepe.

f In that he loueth and approueth me.

14 I am the good shepheard, and [e] know mine, and am knowen of mine.

15 [f] As the Father knoweth me, so know I the Father: and I lay downe my life for my sheepe.

g To wit, among the Gentiles, which then were strangers from the Church of God. Ezek.37.22,24.

16 [g] Other sheepe I haue also, which are not of this folde: the also must I bring, and they shall heare my voyce: & [h] there shall be one sheepefolde, and one shepheard.

17 [i] Therefore doeth my Father loue me, because [k] I lay downe my life, that I might take it againe.

18 [l] No man taketh it from me, but I lay it downe of my selfe: I haue power to lay it downe, and haue power to take it againe: this [m] commandement haue I receiued of my Father.

19 [n] There was a dissention againe among the Iewes for these sayings.

20 And

20 And many of them sayde, Yee hath a deuill, and is madde: why heare yee him?
21 Other sayde, These are not the wordes of him that hath a deuill: can the deuill open the eyes of the blinde?
22 And it was at Ierusalem the [i] feast of the [k] Dedication, and it was winter.
23 And Iesus walked in the Temple, in [k] Solomons porche.
24 Then came the Iewes rounde about him, and said vnto him, How long doest thou [l] make vs doubt? If thou bee the Christ, tell vs playnely.
25 Iesus answered them, I tolde you, & ye beleeue not: the workes that I do in my Fathers Name, they beare witnes of me.
26 But ye beleeue not: [l] for ye are not of my sheepe, as I said vnto you.
27 My sheepe heare my voyce, and I know them, and they follow me,
28 And I giue vnto them eternall life, & they shall neuer perish, neither shal any plucke them out of mine hand.
29 My father which gaue them me, is [m] greater then all, and none is able to take them out of my Fathers hand.
30 I and my Father are one.
31 [n] Then the Iewes againe tooke vp stones, to stone him.
32 Iesus answered them, Many good woorkes haue I shewed you from my father: for which of these woorkes doe ye stone me?
33 The Iewes answered him, saying, For the good worke we stone thee not, but for blasphemie, and that thou being a man, makest thy selfe God.
34 Iesus answered them, Is it not written in your Law, [o] I said, ye are [p] gods?
35 If he called them gods, vnto whome [p] word of God was giuen, & the Scripture can not be broken, 36 Say ye of him, whom [p] Father hath sanctified, & sent into the worlde, Thou blasphemest, because I saide, I am the Sonne of God?
37 If I do not the workes of my Father, beleeue me not.
38 But if I doe, then though ye beleeue not me, yet beleeue the woorkes, that ye may knowe and beleeue, that the Father is in me, and I in him.
39 Againe they went about to take him: but he escaped out of their handes, 40 And went againe beyond Iordan, into the place where Iohn first baptized, and there abode.
41 And many resorted vnto him, & saide, Iohn did [o] no miracle: but all thinges that Iohn spake of this man, were true.
42 And many beleeued in him there.

CHAP. XI.

43 Christ raiseth Lazarus from death. 47 The high Priests and Pharises gather a counsell against him. 50 Caiaphas propheciseth. 54 Christ getteth him out of the way.

1 And a certaine man was sicke, named Lazarus of Bethania, [p] towne of Marie, and her sister Martha.
2 (And it was [p] Marie which anoynted the Lord with ointment, and wiped his feete with her heare, whose brother Lazarus was sicke.)
3 Therefore his sisters sent vnto him, saying, Lord, behold, he whom thou louest, is sicke.
4 Whē Iesus heard it, he said, This sickenes is not [a] vnto death, but for the glory of God, that the Sonne of God myght be glorified thereby.
5 ¶ Now Iesus loued Martha, and her sister, and Lazarus.
6 And after hee had heard that he was sicke, yet abode he two dayes still in the same place where he was.
7 Then after that, saide he to his disciples, Let vs go into Iudea againe.
8 The disciples sayde vnto him, Master, the Iewes lately sought to [b] stone thee, and doest thou go thither againe?
9 Iesus answered, Are there not [b] twelue houres in the day? if a man walke in the day, he stumbleth not, because he seeth the light of this world.
10 But if a man walke in the myght, hee stumbleth, because there is no light in him.
11 These things spake he, & after he saide vnto them, Our frind Lazarus sleepeth: but I go to wake him vp.
12 Then sayde his disciples, Lorde, if hee sleepe, he [c] shalbe safe.
13 Howbeit, Iesus spake of his death: but they thought that he had spoken of the [c] naturall sleepe.
14 Then said Iesus vnto them plainely, Lazarus is dead.
15 And I am glad for your sakes, that I was not there, that ye may beleeue: but let vs go vnto him.
16 Then saide Thomas (which is called [d] Didymus) vnto his fellowe disciples, Let vs also goe, that we maye die with him.
17 ¶ Then came Iesus, and founde that he had lien in the graue foure dayes alreadie.
18 (Nowe Bethania was neere vnto Ierusalem, about [e] fiftene furlongs off.)
19 And many of the Iewes were come to Martha and Marie to comfort them for their brother.
20 Then Martha, when she hearde that Iesus was comming, went to meete him: but Marie sate still in the house.
21 Then said Martha vnto Iesus, Lord, if thou haddest beene here, my brother had not beene dead.
22 But now [f] I knowe also, that whatsoeuer thou askest of God, God will giue it thee.
23 Iesus said vnto her, Thy brother shal rise againe.
24 Martha saide vnto him, I knowe that he shal rise againe in the resurrection at the last day.

a For although he died, yet being restored so soone to life, it was almost no death in comparison.
b He that walketh in his vocation, and hath the light of God for his guide, needeth to feare no dangers. The day also, both sommer & winter was with the Iewes deuided into xii. houres.

g Christ restoreth vs from death to giue vs euerlasting life.

25 Jesus said vnto her, g I am the resurrection and the life: he that beleeueth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he liue.
26 And whosoeuer liueth, and beleeueth in me, shall neuer die. Beleeuest thou this?
27 She said vnto him, Yea, Lorde, I beleeue that thou art the Christ the Sonne of God, which should come into the worlde.
28 ¶ And when she had so said, she went her way, and called Marie her sister secretly, saying, The Master is come, and calleth for thee.
29 And whē she heard it, she arose quickly, and came vnto him.
30 For Jesus was not yet come into the towne, but was in the place where Martha met him.
31 The Jewes then which were with her in the house, and comforted her, when they sawe Marie, that she rose vp h hastily, and went out, followed her, saying, She goeth vnto the graue, to weepe there.
32 Then when Marie was come where Jesus was, and saw him, she fell down at his feete, saying vnto him, Lorde, if thou hadest bene here, my brother had not bene dead.
33 When Jesus therefore saw her weepe, and the Jewes also weepe which came with her, he i groned in the spirit, and was troubled in him selfe, 34 And saide, Where haue ye laid him? They said vnto him, Lord, come, & see.
35 And Jesus k wept.
36 Then said the Jewes, Beholde, howe he loued him.
37 And some of them said, Could not he, which opened the eyes of the blinde, haue made also that this man shoulde not haue died?
38 Jesus therefore againe groned in him self, and came to the graue. And it was a caue, and a stone was layed vpon it.
39 Jesus sayde, Take ye away the stone. Martha the sister of him that was dead, saide vnto him, Lorde, he stinketh alreadie: for he hath bene dead foure dayes.
40 Jesus said vnto her, Said I not vnto thee, that if thou diddest beleeue, thou shouldest see the l glorie of God?
41 Then they tooke away the stone from the place where the dead was laid. And Jesus lift vp his eyes, and saide, Father, I thanke thee, because thou hast heard me.
42 I knowe that thou heerest me alwayes, but because of the people that stande by, I saide it, that they may beleeue, that thou hast sent me.
43 As he had spoken these thinges, he cryed with a loude voyce, Lazarus, come forth.
44 Then he that was dead, came foorth, bounde hande and foote with bandes, and his face was bound with a napkin. Jesus saide vnto them, Loose him, and let him goe.
45 ¶ Then many of the Jewes, which came to Marie, and had seene p things which Jesus did, beleeued in him.
46 But some of them went their way to the Pharises, and tolde them what things Jesus had done.
47 Then gathered the hie Priestes, and the Pharises a counsel, and said, What shall we do? For this man doeth many miracles.
48 If m we let him thus alone, all men will beleeue in him, and the Romanes will come and take away both our place, and the nation.
49 Then one of them named Caiaphas, which was the hie Priest n that same yeere, saide vnto them, Ye perceiue nothing at all,
50 Nor yet doe you consider that it is expedient for vs, that one man die for the people, and that the whole nation perish not.
51 This spake he not of him selfe: but being hie Priest that same yeere, he o prophecied that Jesus shoulde die for the nation:
52 And not for the nation only, but that he shoulde gather together in one the children of God, which were scattered.
53 Then from that day forth they consulted together, to put him to death.
54 Jesus therefore walked no more openly among the Jewes, but went thence vnto a countrey nere to the wildernes, into a citie called Ephraim, and there continued with his disciples.
55 ¶ And the Jewes Passeouer was at hand, and many went out of the countrey vp to Jerusalem before the Passeouer, to p purifie them selues.
56 Then sought they for Jesus, and spake among them selues, as they stood in the Temple, What thinke ye, that he commeth not to the feast?
57 Nowe both the hie Priestes and the Pharises had giuen a commandement, that if any man knewe where he were, he shoulde shewe it, that they might take him.

14 And Ieſus founde a [d] yong aſſe, and ſate thereon, as it is written, 15 * Feare not, daughter of Sion: beholde, thy king commeth ſitting on an aſſes colte.
16 But his diſciples vnderſtoode not theſe thinges at the firſt: but when Ieſus was glorified, then remembred they, that theſe things were written of him, & that they had done theſe thinges vnto him.
17 The people therefore that was with him, bare witneſſe that he called Lazarus out of the graue, and raiſed him from the dead.
18 Therefore met him the people alſo, becauſe they heard that he had done this miracle.
19 And the Phariſes ſaid among themſelues, Perceiue ye howe ye preuaile nothing? Beholde, the * worlde goeth after him.
20 ¶ Now there were certaine * Grekes among them that came vp to worſhip at the feaſt.
21 And they came to Philip, which was of Bethſaida in Gahle, and deſired him, ſaying, Sir, we would ſee Ieſus.
22 Philippe came and tolde Andrewe: and againe Andrewe and Philippe tolde Ieſus.
23 And Ieſus anſwered them, ſaying, The houre is come, that the Sonne of man muſt be [f] glorified.
24 Verely, verely I ſay vnto you, except the wheate corne fall into the grounde and dye, it bideth alone: but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruite.
25 * He that [g] loueth his life, ſhall loſe it, and hee that [h] hateth his life in this worlde, ſhall keepe it vnto life eternall.
26 * If any man ſerue me, let him followe me: for where I am, there ſhall alſo my ſeruant be: and if any man ſerue me, him will my Father honour.
27 Nowe is my ſoule troubled: and what ſhall I ſay? Father, ſaue me from this houre: but therefore came I vnto this houre.
28 Father, glorifie thy Name. Then came there a voyce from heauen, ſaying, I haue both glorified it, and will glorifie it againe.
29 Then ſaide the people that ſtoode by & heard, that it was a thunder: others ſaid, An Angel ſpake to him.
30 Ieſus anſwered, and ſaid, This voice came not becauſe of me, but for your ſakes.
31 Nowe is the [i] iudgement of this worlde: nowe ſhall the prince of this worlde be caſt out.
32 * And [k] I, if I were lift vp from the earth, will draw [l] all men vnto me.
33 Nowe this ſaide he, ſignifying what death he ſhould die.
34 The people anſwered him, We haue heard out of the * Lawe, that the Chriſt abideth for euer: and howe ſayeſt thou, that the Sonne of man muſt be lift vp? who is that Sonne of man?
35 Then Ieſus ſayde vnto them, Yet a litle while is * the light with you: walke while ye haue light, leſt the darkneſſe come vpon you: for hee that walketh in the darke, knoweth not whither he goeth.
36 While ye haue light, beleeue in the light, that ye may bee the children of the light. Theſe thinges ſpake Ieſus, and departed, and hid him ſelfe from them.
37 ¶ And though hee had done ſo many miracles before them, yet beleeued they not on him:
38 That the ſaying of Eſaias the Prophet might be fulfilled, that he ſayde, * Lord, who beleeued our report? and to whome is the [m] arme of the Lord reueiled?
39 Therefore coulde they not beleeue, becauſe that Eſaias ſaith againe, 40 * He hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their heart, that they ſhoulde not ſee with their eyes, nor vnderſtande with their heart, and ſhoulde be conuerted, and I ſhould [n] heale them.
41 Theſe thinges ſaide Eſaias when hee ſawe his glorie, and ſpake of him.
42 Neuertheles euen among the chiefe rulers many beleeued in him: but becauſe of the Phariſes, they did not confeſſe him, leſt they ſhould be [o] caſt out of the Synagogue.

1 NOw * before the feast of the Passouer, when Jesus knewe that his houre was come, that he shoulde depart out of this worlde vnto the Father, for asmuch as he loued his owne which were in the world, vnto the ende he [a] loued them.

a Because he shwe the daunger great which was toward thē, therfore he toke the greater care for them.

2 And when [b] supper was done, (and that the deuill had now put in the heart of Judas Iscariot, Simons sonne, to betrap him)

b Which was the eating of the Passouer.

3 Jesus knowing that the Father had geuen all thinges vnto his handes, and that he was come from God, and went to God,

4 He riseth from supper, and layeth aside his vpper garments, and tooke a towel, and girded himselfe.

5 After that, he powred water into a basin, and beganne to washe the disciples feete, and to wipe them with the towel, wherewith he was girded.

6 Then came he to Simon Peter, who said to him, Lorde, doest thou washe my feete?

7 Jesus answered and sayde vnto him, what I doe, thou knowest not nowe: but thou shalt know it hereafter.

8 Peter said vnto him, Thou shalt neuer wash my feete. Jesus answered him, If I [c] wash thee not, thou shalt haue no part with me.

c And make thee cleane from thy sinnes.

9 Simon Peter said vnto him, Lorde, not my feete onely, but also the handes, and the head.

10 Jesus said to him, He that is washed, needeth not, saue to [d] wash his feete, but is cleane euery whit: and ye are [e] cleane, Chap.15.3. but not all.

d That is, to be continually purged of his corrupt affections & worldly cares which remaine dayly in vs.

12 ¶ So after he had washed their feete, and had taken his garments, and was set downe againe, he sayde vnto them, Knowe ye what I haue done to you?

13 Ye call me Master, and Lorde, and ye say well: for so am I.

k Their fashion was not to sit at table, but hauing their shoes off, & cushions vnder their elbowes, leaned on their sides, as it were halfe lying.

24 To him beckened therefore Simon Peter, that he shoulde aske who it was of whom he spake.

25 He then, as he leaned on Jesus brest, said vnto him, Lord, who is it?

26 Jesus answered, He it is, to whome I shall giue a soppe, when I haue dipped it: and he wet a soppe, and gaue it to Judas Iscariot, Simons sonne.

27 And after the soppe, [l] Satan entred into him. Then saide Jesus vnto him, That thou doest, doe quickly.

l Satan tooke full possession of him.

28 But none of them that were at table, knewe, for what cause he spake it vnto him.

29 For some of them thought because Judas had the bagge, that Jesus had saide vnto him, Bye those thinges that we haue nede of against the feast: or that he shoulde giue some thing to the poore.

p For in so beleeuing, no troubles shall ouercome them.

2 In my Fathers house are b many dwelling places: if it were not so, I would haue tolde you: I go to prepare a place for you.

b So that there is not only place for him, but for all his.

c At the latter day, Act.1.11.

4 And whither I goe, ye know, and the way ye know.

5 Thomas saide vnto him, Lorde, wee d know not whither thou goest: howe can we then know the way?

d He was not altogether ignorant, but his knowledge was weake and imperfect.

6 Iesus saide vnto him, I am the * Way, and the Trueth, and the Life. No man commeth vnto the Father, but by me.

e Therefore we must begin in him, continue in him, and ende in him.

7 If ye had knowen me, ye should haue knowen my Father also: and from henceforth ye know him, and haue seene him.

8 Philippe saide vnto him, Lorde, shewe vs thy Father, and it sufficeth vs.

9 Iesus saide vnto him, I haue beene so long time with you, and hast thou not knowen me, Philippe? he that hath seene me, hath seene my Father: how then sayest thou, Shew vs thy Father?

f For the very fulnes of the diuinitie remaineth in Christ.

10 Beleuest thou not, that I am in the Father, and f the Father is in me? the wordes that I speake vnto you, I speak not of my g selfe: but the Father that dwelleth in me, he h doeth the workes.

12 Verely, verely I say vnto you, he that beleeueth in me, the workes that I doe, i he shall doe also, and greater then these shall yee doe: for I goe vnto my Father.

18 I will not leaue you comfortles: but I will m come to you.

m Which thing he doeth by the vertue of his Spirit.

19 Yet a litle while, and the worlde shal see me no more, but ye shall see me: because I liue, ye shall liue also.

20 At that day shal ye knowe that I am in my Father, and you in me, and I in you.

21 He that hath my commaundementes, and keepeth them, is he that loueth me: and he that loueth me, n shalbe loued of my Father: and I will loue him, and will shewe mine owne selfe to him.

n If shall sensibly feele that y grace of God abideth in him.

22 Iudas saide vnto him (not * Iscariot) Lord, What is the cause that thou wilt shewe thy selfe vnto vs, and not vnto the worlde?

o But the brother of Iames.

23 Iesus answered, and sayde vnto him, If any man loue me, he wil p keepe my worde, and my Father will loue him, and we will come vnto him, and wyll dwel with him.

p Whereby he aduertiseth the not to haue respect to the world, lest they should be drawen backe by euil example.

24 Yee that loueth me not, keepeth not my wordes, & the word which ye heare, is not q mine, but the Fathers which sent me.

q That is, not his alone: for he had nothing separate from his Father.

25 These things haue I spoken vnto you, being present with you.

26 But the Comforter, which is the holy Ghost, whome the Father will sende in my Name, he shall teach you all things, and bring all thinges to your remembrance, which I haue told you.

r All comfort and prosperitie.

27 r Peace I leaue with you: my peace I giue vnto you: not as the worlde giueth, giue I vnto you. Let not your heart be troubled, nor feare.

s In that, that Christ is become man to be Mediator betweene God and vs.

28 Ye haue heard howe I said vnto you, I goe away, and wil come vnto you. If ye loued me, ye would verely reioyce, because I saide, I goe vnto the Father: for my Father is s greater then I.

t Satan executeth his rage and tyrannie by the permission of God.

30 Hereafter will I not speake manye things vnto you: for the t prince of this worlde commeth, and hath u nought in me.

u Satan shall assaile me with all his force, but he shal not finde y in me which he looketh for: for I am that innocent lambe without spot.

6 The sweete consolation, and mutuall loue betwene Christ and his members vnder the parable of the vine. 18 Of their common afflictions & persecution. 26 The office of ỹ holy Ghost, & the Apostles.

1 I Am the true vine, and my Father is an husbandman.

Mat.15.13. 2 *Euery branch that beareth not fruit in me, he taketh away: & euery one that beareth fruit, he purgeth it, that it may bring forth more fruit.

Chap.13.10. 3 * Now are ye cleane through the word, which I haue spoken vnto you.

4 Abide in me, and I in you: as ỹ branch cannot beare fruit of it selfe, except it abide in the vine, no more can ye, [a] except ye abyde in me.

a We can bring forth no fruite, except we be ingrafted in Christ.

5 I am the vine: ye are the branches: he that abideth in mé, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruite: for without me can ye do nothing.

6 If a man abide not in mee, hée is cast forth as a branch, and withereth: and men gather them, and cast them into the fire, and they burne.

7 If ye abide in me, & my [b] wordes abide in you, aske [c] what ye wil, and it shalbe done to you.

b We must be rooted in Iesus Christ by fayth, which commeth of the word of God.

c So that ye follow Gods word which ye comprehend by faith

8 Herein is my Father glorified, that ye beare much fruite, and be made my disciples.

9 As the Father hath loued mée, so haue I loued you: continue in [d] my loue.

d Wherewith I loue you.

10 If ye shal kéepe my commandements, ye shall abide in my loue, as I haue kept my Fathers commandements, & abide in his loue.

11 These things haue I spoken vnto you, that my ioy might remaine in you, and that your ioy might be [e] full.

e Perfect and entier.

12 * This is my commandement, that ye loue one another, as I haue loued you.

Chap.13.34. 1.thes.4.9. 1.iohn.3.11. and.4.21.

13 Greater loue then this hath no man, when any man bestoweth his life for his friends.

14 Ye are my friendes, if ye do whatsoeuer I command you.

15 Henceforth, call I you not seruantes: for the seruant knoweth not what his master doeth: but I haue called you friendes: for [f] all thinges that I haue heard of my Father, haue I made knowen to you.

f So that there is nothing omitted that is necessarie for vs, and concerning our saluation.

16 Ye haue not chosen mée, but I haue chosen you, and ordeyned you, * that ye go and bring forth fruit, and that your fruit remaine, that whatsoeuer ye shall aske of the Father in my Name, hee may giue it you.

Mat.28.19.

17 These thinges command I you, that ye loue one another.

18 If the world hate you, ye knowe that it hated me before you.

19 If ye were of the worlde, the worlde would loue his owne: but because yee are not of the world, but I haue chosen you out of the worlde, therefore the worlde hateth you.

Chap.13.16. mat.10.24.

Mat.24.9.

g The word also signifieth, to be diligent to espie faults to trip one in.

21 But all these things will they do vnto you for my names sake, because they haue not knowne him that sent me.

22 If I had not come and spoken vnto them, they [h] should not haue had sinne: but nowe haue they no [k] cloke for their sinne.

h Which is the selfe same word, but called theirs because they preach it.

i But shoulde haue seemed to be innocent, if I had not discouered their malice.

23 He that hateth me, hateth my Father also.

24 If I had not done workes among the which none other man did, they had not had sinne: but now haue they both seene, and haue hated both mee, and my Father.

k In that they refused Christ, it taketh from them all excuse wherewith they would haue iustified themselues as if they had bene vene holy and without all sinne.

25 But it is that the worde might be fulfilled, that is written in their [l] Lawe, * They hated me without a cause.

10 Of f righteousnes, because I go to my Father, and ye shall see mee no more:
11 Of g iudgement, because the prince of this world is iudged.
12 I haue yet h many things to say vnto you, but ye cannot beare them now.
13 Howbeit, when he is come which is the Spirit of trueth, he will lead you into all trueth: for he shall not speake of himselfe, but whatsoeuer he shall heare, shall he speake, and he will shew you the things i to come.
14 He shall glorifie me: for he shall receiue of mine, and shall shewe it vnto you.
15 All things that the Father hath, are mine: therefore sayd I, that he shal take of mine, and shew it vnto you.
16 k A litle while, and ye shall not see mée: and againe a litle while, & ye shal see me: for I l go to my Father.
17 Then sayde some of his disciples among themselues, What is this that he sayth vnto vs, A litle while, and ye shall not see me, and againe, a litle while, and ye shall see me, and, For I go to my Father?
18 They said therefore, What is this that he sayeth, A litle while? we knowe not what he sayth.
19 Now Iesus knewe that they would aske him, and sayde vnto them, Doe ye enquire among your selues, of that I sayd, A litle while, and ye shal not see me: and againe, a litle while, and ye shall see me?
20 Verely, verely I say vnto you, that ye shall weepe & lament, & the worlde shall reioyce: and ye shall sorow, but your sorowe shal be turned to ioy.
21 A woman when she trauayleth, hath sorowe, because her houre is come: but as soone as shee is deliuered of the childe, she remembreth no more the anguish, for ioy that a man is borne into the worlde.
22 And ye now therefore are in sorow: but I will see you m again, and your hearts shal reioyce, and your ioy shal n no man take from you.
23 And in that day shall ye aske me n o nothing. p Verely, verely I say vnto you, whatsoeuer yée shall aske the Father in my name, he will giue it you.
24 Hitherto haue ye asked p nothing in my Name: aske, and ye shall receiue, that your ioy may be full.
25 These things haue I spoken vnto you in parables: but the time will come, when I shall no more speake to you in parables: but I shall shewe you plainly of the Father.
26 At that day shal ye aske in my Name, & I say not vnto you, that I will q pray vnto the Father for you.
27 For the Father himselfe loueth you, because ye haue loued mee, r and haue beleeued that I came out from God.
28 I am come out from the Father, and came into the worlde: againe I leaue the world, and go to the Father.
29 His disciples said vnto him, Lo, nowe speakest thou plainly, and thou speakest no parable.
30 Now know we that thou knowest all things, and needest not that any man should aske thee. By this we beleeue, that thou art come out from God.
31 Iesus answered them, Do you beleeue nowe?
32 * Beholde, the houre commeth, and is already come, that ye shall be scattered euery man into his owne, and shall leaue me alone: but I am not s alone: for the father is with me.
33 These things haue I spoken vnto you, that t in mee ye might haue peace: in the worlde ye shall haue affliction, but be of good comfort: I haue ouercome the worlde.

CHAP. XVII.

The prayer of Christ vnto his Father, both for him selfe and his Apostles, and also for all such as receyue the trueth.

1 THese things spake Iesus, and lift vp his eyes to heauen, and sayde, Father, the houre is come: glorifie thy Sonne, that thy Sonne also may glorifie thee,
2 * As thou hast giuen him u power ouer all flesh, that he should giue eternall life to all x them that thou hast giuen him.
3 And this is life eternal, that they know thée to be the onely verie God, & whom thou hast sent, Iesus y Christ.
4 I haue z glorified thée on the earth: I haue finished the worke which thou gauest me to do.
5 And nowe glorifie mée, thou Father, with thine owne selfe, with the glorie which I had with thee before the worlde was.
6 I haue declared thy name vnto the men which thou gauest mée out of the world: a thine they were, and thou gauest them mé, and they haue kept thy worde.
7 Nowe they knowe that all thinges whatsoeuer thou hast giuen mée, are of thée.
8 For I haue giuen vnto them b words, which thou gauest mé, and they haue receyued them, * & haue knowen surely that I came out from thée, and haue beleeued that thou hast sent me.
9 I pray for them: I pray not for c the worlde, but for them which thou hast giuen me: for they are thine.
10 And all mine are thine, and thine are mine, and I am glorified in them.
11 And now am I no more in the world, but k Renue them with thine heauenly grace, that they onely may seeke thy will.

6 Assone then as he had said vnto them, I am he, they went backwards, and fel to the ground.

7 Then he asked thē again, Whom seeke ye? And they said, Iesus of Nazaret.

8 Iesus answered, I said vnto you, that I am hee: therefore if ye seeke me, let these goe their way.

11 Then said Iesus vnto Peter, Put vp thy sworde into the sheath: shall I not drinke of the cup which my father hath giuen me?

12 Then the band and the captaine, and the officers of the Iewes toke Iesus, and bound him,

13 And led him away to * [d] Annas first (for he was father in law to Caiaphas, which was the hie Priest * that same yeere)

14 * And Caiaphas was hee, that gaue counsell to the Iewes, that it it was expedient that one man should die for the people.

e Although this office was for terme of life by Gods ordinance, yet the ambition & dissension of the Iewes caused the Romanes from time to time to change it either for briberie or fauour.

15 ¶ * Now Simon Peter followed Iesus, and another disciple, and that disciple was knowen of the high Priest: therefore hee went in with Iesus into the hall of the hie Priest.

16 But Peter stode at the doore without. Then went out the other disciple, which was knowen vnto the hie Priest, and spake to her that kept the doore, and brought in Peter.

17 Then sayde the mayde that kept the doore, vnto Peter, Art not thou also one of this mans disciples? He saide, I am not.

20 Iesus answered him, I spake openly to the worlde: I euer taught in the Synagogue and in the Temple, whyther the Iewes resort continually, and in secret haue I said nothing.

21 Why askest thou me? aske them which heard me what I spake vnto them: behold, they knowe what I said.

22 When he had spoken these things, one of the officers which stoode by, smote Jesus with his rod, saying, Answerest thou the hie Priest so?

29 Pilate then went out vnto them, and said, What accusation bring ye against this man?

30 They answered and said vnto him, If he were not an euil doer, we would not haue deliuered him vnto thee.

31 Then sayde Pilate vnto them, Take h ye him, & iudge him after your owne lawe. Then the Iewes saide vnto him, It is not i lawful for vs to put any mã to death.

h He spake this disdainfully, because they were so bent against all right and equitie.

i As if they should say, Thou wilt not suffer vs to do it: for he knewe that it was not permitted to them by ỹ Romanes to punish w̃ death. Mat.20.19.

32 It was that the worde of Jesus * might be fulfilled which he spake, signifying what death he should die.

33 * So Pilate entred into the common hall againe, and called Jesus, & said vnto him, Art thou þ King of the Iewes?

34 Jesus answered him, Saiest thou that of thy selfe, or did other tel it thee of me?

35 Pilate answered him, Am I a Iewe? Thine owne nation, and the hie priests haue deliuered thee vnto mée. What hast thou done?

k It standeth not in strength of mẽ nor in worldly defence.

36 Jesus answered, My kingdome is not of this k worlde: if my kingdome were of this worlde, my seruants would surely fight, that I shoulde not be deliuered to the Iewes: But now is my kingdome not from hence.

37 Pilate then saide vnto him, Art thou a King then? Jesus answered, Thou sayest that I am a King: for this cause am I borne, and for this cause came I into the worlde, that I should beare witnes vnto the trueth: euery one that is of the trueth, heareth my voyce.

l This was a mocking & disdaineful questiõ.

38 Pilate sayde vnto him, l What is trueth? And when he had said that, he went out againe vnto the Iewes, and said vnto them, I finde in him no cause at all.

Mat.27 15. mar 15.6. luke.23.17.

39 * But you haue a m custome, that I should deliuer you one loose at þ Passeouer: will ye then that I loose vnto you the King of the Iewes?

m This was one of their blinde abuses: for the Law of God gaue no libertie to quit a wicked trespasser. Act.3.14.

40 * Then cryed they all againe, saying, Not him, but Barabbas: nowe this Barabbas was a murtherer.

2 And þ Souldiers platted a crowne of thornes, and put it on his head, and they put on him a purple garment, a He thought to haue pacified the furie of the Iewes by some indifferent correction.

3 And saide, Haile, King of the Iewes. And they smote him with their roddes.

4 Then Pilate went forth agayne, and saide vnto them, Beholde, I bring him forth to you, that ye may knowe, that I finde no fault in him at all.

5 Then came Jesus forth wearing a crowne of thornes, and a purple garment. And Pilate said vnto them, b Beholde the man.

b He spake in mockerie, because Christ called him selfe King.

6 Then when the hie Priestes and officers saw him, they cryed, saying, Crucifie, crucifie him. Pilate said vnto them, Take ye him and crucifie him: for I find no fault in him.

7 The Iewes answered him, We haue a lawe, and by our law he ought to die, because he made him selfe the c Sonne of God.

c Christ was in deede the Sonne of God, & therefore might iustly call himself so without breach of the Lawe: wherefore their coloured accusation was falsely applied.

8 ¶ When Pilate then heard that worde, he was the more afraide,

9 And went agayne into the common hall and saide vnto Jesus, Whence art thou? But Jesus gaue him none answere.

10 Then said Pilate vnto him, Speakest thou not vnto me? Knowest thou not that I haue power to crucifie thee, and haue power to loose thee?

11 Jesus answerd, Thou couldest haue no d power at all against mee, except it were giuen thee from aboue: therefore he that deliuered me vnto thee, hath the greater sinne.

d Hereby he sheweth him, ỹ he ought not to abuse his office and authoritie.

12 From thence forth Pilate sought to loose him, but the Iewes cryed, saying, If thou deliuer him, thou art not Cesars friend: for whosoeuer maketh him selfe a King, speaketh against Cesar.

13 ¶ When Pilate heard that worde, he brought Jesus forth, and sate downe in the iudgement seate in a place called the * Pauement, & in Hebrewe, Gabbatha.

e A place somewhat high and raised vp.

14 And it was the Preparation of the Passeouer, and about the f sixt houre: and he saide vnto the Iewes, Beholde your King.

f Which was midday.

15 But

15 But they cried, Away with him, away with him, crucifie him. Pilate ſayde vnto them, Shall I crucifie your king? The hie prieſts anſwered, Wee haue no king but Ceſar.
16 Then deliuered he him vnto them, to be crucified. * And they tooke Jeſus, & led him away.
17 And he bare his croſſe, and came into a place named of dead mens Sculles, which is called in Hebrew, a Golgotha:
18 Where they crucified him, and two other with him, on either ſide one, and Jeſus in the middes.
19 ¶ And Pilate wrote alſo a title, & put it on the croſſe, and it was written, IESVS OF NAZARET THE KING OF THE IEWES.
20 This title the read many of the Jewes: for the place where Jeſus was crucified, was nere to the citie: and it was written in b Hebrewe, Greeke and Latin.
21 Then ſaid the hie Prieſts of the Jewes to Pilate, Write not, The king of the Jewes, but that he ſayde, I am king of the Jewes.
22 Pilate anſwered, What I haue written, I haue written.
23 ¶ Then the *ſouldiers, when they had crucified Jeſus, toke his garmentes, & made foure partes, to euery ſouldier a part, & his coate: & the coat was without ſeame, wouen from the top throughout.
24 Therfore they ſaid one to another, Let vs not deuide it, but caſt lottes for it, whoſe it ſhalbe. This was that the i ſcripture might bee fulfilled, which ſayeth, * They parted my garments among them, & on my coat did caſt lots. So the ſouldiers did theſe things in deede.
25 ¶ Then ſtoode by the croſſe of Jeſus his mother, & his mothers ſiſter, Marie the wife of k Cleopas, and Marie Magdalene, 26 And when Jeſus ſaw his mother, & the diſciple ſtanding by, whome he loued, he ſaid vnto his mother, Woman, behold thy ſonne.
27 Then ſaid he to the diſciple, Behold thy mother: and from that houre, the diſciple tooke her home vnto him.
28 ¶ After, when Jeſus knew that all things were performed, that the * Scripture might be fulfilled, he ſaid, I thirſt.
29 And there was ſet a veſſel full of vinegre: and they filled a ſponge with vinegre, & l put it about m an hyſſope ſtalke, and put it to his mouth.
30 Now when Jeſus had receiued of the vinegre, he ſaide, n It is finiſhed, and bowed his head, and gaue vp the ghoſt.
31 The Jewes then (becauſe it was the Preparation, that the bodies ſhoulde not remaine vpon the croſſe on the Sabbath daye: for that Sabbath was an o hie day) beſought Pilate that their legges might bee broken, and that they might be taken downe.
32 Then came the ſouldiers & brake the legges of the firſt, & of the other, which was crucified with Jeſus.
33 But when they came to Jeſus, and ſawe that hee was dead alreadie, they brake not his legges.
34 But one of the ſouldiers with a ſpeare p perced his ſide, and foorthwith came there out blood and water.
35 And he that ſawe it, bare recorde, and his record is true: and he knoweth that he ſayth true, that ye might beleeue it.
36 For theſe thinges were done, that the * Scripture ſhould bee fulfilled, Not a bone of him ſhalbe broken.
37 And againe another Scripture ſaith, * They ſhall ſee him whome they haue thruſt through.
38 * And after theſe things, Joſeph of Arimathea (who was a diſciple of Jeſus, but ſecretely for feare of the Jewes) beſought Pilate that he might take down the body of Jeſus. And Pilate gaue him licence. He came then & toke Jeſus body.
39 And there came * alſo Nicodemus (which firſt came to Jeſus by night) & brought of myrrhe & aloes mingled together about an hundreth pounde.
40 ¶ Then toke they the body of Jeſus, q & wapped it in linen clothes with the odours, as the maner of the Jewes is to burie.
41 And in that place where Jeſus was crucified, was a garden, & in the garden a newe ſepulchre, wherein was neuer man yet laid.

14 When she had thus said, shee turned her selfe backe, and saw Iesus standing, and knewe not that it was Iesus.

25 The other disciples therefore said vnto him, We haue seene the Lorde: but he said vnto them, Except I see in his hands the print of the naples, and put my finger into the [l] print of the nailes, and put mine hand into his side, I will not beleeue it.

Chap.21.25.

31 But these thinges are written, that ye might beleeue, that Iesus is the Christ the Sonne of God, and that in beleeuing yee might haue life through his Name.

CHAP. XXI.

1 Christ appeareth to his disciples againe. 15 Hee commandeth Peter earnestly to feede his sheepe. 18 He forewarneth him of his death. 25 Of Christs manifold miracles.

2

AFter these thinges, Iesus shewed himselfe againe to his disciples at the [1] sea of Tiberias: and thus shewed he himself.

[1] Or, lake of Gennesareth.

2 There were together Simon Peter, & Thomas, which is called Didymus, and Nathanael of Cana in Galile, and the sonnes of Zebedeus, and two other of his disciples.

3 Simon Peter said vnto them, I go a fishing. They said vnto him, Wee also wil go with thee. They went their way, and entred into a ship straightway, and that night caught they nothing.

4 But when the morning was nowe come, Iesus stoode on the shore: neuertheles the disciples knewe not that it was Iesus.

5 Iesus then said vnto them, [2] Syrs, haue ye any meat? They answered him, No.

[2] Or, Children.

6 Then he saide vnto them, Cast out the net on the right side of the ship, and ye shall finde. So they [a] cast out, and they were not able at all to drawe it, for the multitude of fishes.

a Albeit they knewe him not, yet they followed his counsel, because thei had all night taken paines in vaine.

7 Therefore said the disciple whom Iesus loued, vnto Peter, It is the Lorde. When Simon Peter heard that it was the Lorde, hee girded his [b] coate to him (for he was naked) and cast him selfe into the sea.

b It was some linen garment, which fishers vsed to weare, which being trussed vnto him, couered his nether partes, & also letted not his swimming.

8 But the other disciples came by shippe (for they were not farre from land, but about two hundreth cubites) and they drew the net with fishes.

9 Assoone then as thei were come to land, they sawe hoate coales, and fishe layde thereon, and bread.

10 Iesus saide vnto them, Bring of the fishes, fishes, which ye haue now caught.

11 Simon Peter stepped forth & drewe the net to lande, full of great fishes, an hundreth, fifte and three: and albeit there were so many, yet was not the net broken.
12 Jesus said vnto them, Come, and dine. And none of the disciples durst aske him, Who art thou, seeing they knewe that he was the Lord.
13 Jesus then came, and tooke bread, & gaue them, and fish likewise.
14 This is nowe the third time that Jesus shewed him selfe to his disciples, after that he was risen againe from the dead.
15 So when they had dined, Jesus said to Simon Peter, Simon sonne of Jona, c louest thou me more then these? He saide vnto him, Yea Lorde, thou knowest that I loue thee. He said vnto him, Feede my lambes.
16 He said to him again the second time, Simon the sonne of Jona, louest thou me? He said vnto him, Yea Lord, thou knowest that I loue thee. He said vnto him, Feede my sheepe.
17 He said vnto him the d thirde time, Simon the sonne of Jona, louest thou me? Peter was sorie because he said to him the thirde time, Louest thou me: & said vnto him, Lord, thou knowest all things: thou knowest that I loue thee. Jesus said vnto him, Feede my sheepe.
18 Verely, verely I say vnto thee, When thou wast yong, thou girdedst thy selfe, and walkedst whither thou wouldest: but when thou shalt be olde, thou shalt stretch forth thine handes, and another shall e gird thee, and leade thee whither thou wouldest not.
19 And this spake he, signifying by what death he should glorifie God. And when he had saide this, he said to him, Followe me.
20 Then Peter turned about, and sawe the disciple whom Jesus loued, following, which had also * leaned on his breast at supper, and had saide, Lorde, which is he that betrayeth thee?
21 When Peter therefore sawe him, he sayde to Jesus, Lorde, what shall this man do?
22 Jesus saide vnto him, If I will that he tarie till I come, what is it to thee? followe thou me.
23 Then went this word abroad among the brethren, that this disciple shoulde not die. Yet Jesus said not to him, He shall not die: but if I wil that he tarie till I come, what is it to thee?
24 This is that disciple, which testifieth of these things, and wrote these things, and wee knowe that his testimonie is true.
25 * Nowe there are also many other things which Jesus did, the which if they should be written euery one, f I suppose the world could not conteine the bookes that should be written. Amen.

c The minister cannot well teach his congregation, except he loue Christ effectually, which loue is not in them that feede not the flocke.
d Because Peter should be established in his office of an Apostle, Christ causeth him by these three times confessing, to wipe away the shame of his three times denying.
e In steade of a girdle, thou shalt be tyed with bands & cords: & whereas now thou goest at libertie, then thou shalt be drawen to punishment when thy flesh shall after a sort resist. Chap. 13. 23.
Chap. 20. 30.
f But God would not charge vs with so great an heape: seeing therefore that we haue so much as is necessarie, we ought to content our selues and praise his mercie.

THE ACTES OF THE HOLY APOSTLES, VVRITten by Luke the Euangelist.

THE ARGVMENT.

CHrist, after his ascension, performed his promes to his Apostles, and sent them the holy Ghost, declaring thereby, that he was not onely mindefull of his Church, but would bee the head and mainteiner thereof for euer. Wherein also his mightie power appeareth, who notwithstanding that Satan and the world resisted neuer so much against this noble worke, yet by a fewe simple men of no reputation, replenished all the worlde with the sounde of his Gospell. And here, in the beginning of the Church, and in the encrease thereof, wee may plainely perceiue the practise and malice which Satan continually vseth to suppresse, and ouerthrowe the Gospell: he raiseth conspiracies, tumultes, commotions, persecutions, slanders and all kinde of crueltie. Againe wee shall here beholde the prouidence of God, who ouerthroweth his enemies enterprises, deliuereth his Church from the rage of tyrants, strengtheneth, and encourageth his most valiantly and constantly to followe their captaine Christ, leauing as it were by this historie a perpetuall memorie to the Church, that the crosse is so ioyned with the Gospell, that they are fellowes inseparable, and that the ende of one affliction, is but the beginning of another. Yet neuertheleise God turneth the troubles, persecutions, imprisonings and tentations of his, to a good issue, giuing them as it were, in sorowe, ioye: in bondes, freedome: in prison, deliuerance: in trouble, quietnes: in death, life. Finally, this booke conteineth many excellent sermons of the Apostles and disciples, as touching the death, resurrection, and ascension of Christ. The mercie of God. Of the grace, and remission of sinne through Iesus Christ. Of the blessed immortalitie. An exhortation to the ministers of Christes flocke. Of repentance, and feare of God, with other principall pointes of our faith: so that this onely historie in a maner may be sufficient to instruct a man in all true doctrine and religion.

CHAP. I.

7 The wordes of Christ and his Angels to the Apostles. 9 His ascension. 14 Wherein the Apostles are occupied tyl the holy Ghost be sent. 26 And of the election of Matthias.

1 THe former treatise, O Theophilus, of all that Iesus began to [a] do, and teach,

2 Until the daye, that he was taken vp, after that hee thorough the holie Ghost, had giuen [b] commandements vnto the [c] Apostles, whō he had chosen:

3 To whome also he presented him selfe aline, after that he had suffered, by many infallible tokens, being seene of them by the space of fourtie dayes, and speaking of those thinges which appertaine to the [d] kingdome of God.

4 And when hee had [e] gathered them together, hee commaunded them, that they shoulde not departe from Ierusalem, but to waite for the promise of the Father, * which, saide he, ye haue heard of me.

5 * For Iohn in deede baptized with water, but yee shall bee baptized with the [f] holie Ghost within these fewe dayes.

6 When they therefore were come together, they asked of him, saying, Lorde, wilt thou at this time restore the kingdome to Israel?

7 And he said vnto them, It is not for you to know the [h] times, or the seasons, which the Father hath put in his own power,

8 But ye shal receiue power of the holy Ghost, whe he shal come on you: and ye shalbe [i] witnesses vnto me both in Ierusalem & in all Iudea, & in Samaria, & vnto the [k] vttermost part of the earth.

9 * And when hee had spoken these things, while they beheld, he was [l] taken vp: for a cloude tooke him vp out of their sight.

10 And while they looked stedfastly toward heauen, as he went, behold, [m] two men stoode by them in white apparell, 11 Which also saide, Ye men of Galile, Why stande yee [n] gasing into heauen? This Iesus which is taken vp from you into heauen, shall [o] so come, as yee haue seene him go into heauen.

12 ¶ Then returned they vnto Ierusalem from the mount that is called the mount of Olives, which is nere to Ierusalem, conteining a [p] Sabbath dayes iourney.

13 And when they were come in, they went vp into an vpper chamber, where abode both Peter, and Iames, and Iohn, and Andrewe, Philippe, & Thomas, Bartlemewe, and Matthewe, Iames the sonne of Alpheus, and Simō Zelotes, & Iudas Iames brother.

14 These all continued with one [q] accorde in [r] prayer and supplication with the [s] women, and Marie the mother of Iesus, and with his brethren.

15 ¶ And in those dayes Peter stoode vp in the middes of the disciples, and said, (now the nomber of [t] names that were in one place, were about an hundreth & twentie.)

16 Ye men and brethren, this [u] Scripture must needes haue bene fulfilled, which the * holy Ghost by the mouth of Dauid spake before of Iudas, which was * guyde to them that tooke Iesus.

17 For he was nombred with vs, and had obteined [x] fellowshippe in this ministration.

18 Hee therefore hath purchased a fielde with the [y] rewarde of iniquitie: & when he * had throwen downe himselfe headlong, he brast a sunder in the middes, & all his bowels gushed out.

19 And it is knowen vnto all the inhabitants of Ierusalem, in so much, that that fielde is called in their owne language, Aceldama, that is, the fielde of blood.

20 For it is written in the booke of Psalmes, * Let his habitation be voyd, and let no man dwell therein: also, * Let another take his [z] charge.

21 Wherefore, of these men which haue companied with vs, all the time that the Lorde Iesus was [a] conuersant among vs, 22 Beginning from the Baptisme of Iohn, vnto the day that hee was taken vp from vs, must one of them bee made a witnesse with vs of his [b] resurrection.

23 And they presented two, Ioseph called Barsabas, whose surname was Iustus, and Matthias.

24 And they prayed, saying, Thou Lord, which knowest the heartes of all men, shewe whether of these two [c] thou hast chosen, 25 That he may take the roume of this ministration and Apostleshippe, from which Iudas hath gone astray, to goe to his owne place.

26 Then they gaue forth their lottes: & the lot fell on Matthias, and he was by a common consent counted with the Eleuen Apostles.

19 And I will shewe wonders in heauen aboue, and tokens in the earth beneath, blood, and fire, and the vapour of smoke.

22 Ye men of Israel, heare these woordes, Iesus of Nazaret, a man approued of God among you with great woorkes, and wonders, and signes, which God did by him in the middes of you, as ye your selues also knowe:

29 Men & brethren, I may boldly speake vnto you of the Patriarke Dauid, * that he is both dead and buried, and his sepulchre remayneth with vs vnto this day.

30 Therefore, seeing he was a * Prophet, and knewe that God had * sworne with an othe to him, that of the fruite of his loynes hee woulde raise vp Christ concerning the flesh to set him vpon his throne,

20 And he shall send Iesus Christ, which before was preached vnto you:
21 Whom the heauen must containe vntill the time that all things[m] be restored, which God hath spoken by the mouth of all his holy Prophets since ꝧ world began.
22 [*] For Moses saide vnto the Fathers, The Lord your God shall raise vp vnto you a Prophet, euen of your[n] brethren like vnto me: him shall ye heare in all things, whatsoeuer he shall say vnto you.
23 For it shalbe that euery person, which shall not heare that Prophet, shalbe destroyed out of the people.
24 Also all the Prophets from Samuel, & thencefoorth as many as haue spoken, haue likewise foretold of these dayes.
25 Ye are the[o] children of the Prophets, and of the couenant, which God hath made vnto our fathers, saying to Abraham, [*] Euen in thy seede shall all the[p] kinreds of the earth be[q] blessed.

CHAP. IIII.

3 Peter and Iohn delivered out of prysõ, preache the Gospel boldly. 10 They confesse playnely the Name of Christ. 16 They are commanded to preach no more in that Name. 24 They pray for the good successe of the Gospell. 32 The increase, vnitie, and charitie of the Church.

1 AND as they spake vnto the people, the Priests & the [a] Captaine of the Temple, and the Sadducees came vpon them,
2 Taking it grieuously that they taught the people, and preached in Iesus Name the[b] resurrection from the dead.
3 And they layd hands on them, and put them in holde, vntill the next day: for it was now euentide.
4 Howbeit, many of them which heard the worde, beleeued, and the number of the men was about[c] fiue thousand.
5 ¶ And it came to passe on the morowe, that their rulers, & Elders, & Scribes were gathered together at Ierusalem, 6 And Annas the chief Priest, and Caiaphas, & Iohn, & Alexander, & as many as were of the kinred of the hie Priests.
7 And when they had set them before thẽ, they asked, [d] By what power, or[e] in what Name haue ye done this?
8 Then Peter full of the[f] holy Ghost, said vnto them, Ye rulers of the people, and Elders of Israel,
9 Forasmuch as we this day are examined of the[g] good deede done to the impotent man, to wit, by what meanes he is made whole,
10 Be it knowen vnto you all, and to all the people of Israel, that by the Name of Iesus Christ of Nazareth, whome ye haue crucified, whome God raysed from the dead, euen by him doeth this man stand here before you, whole.
11 [*] This is the stone cast of you [h] builders, which is become the head of the[h] corner.
12 Neither is there saluation in any other: for among men there is giuen none other name[i] vnder heauen, wherebye we must be saued.
13 Now when they saw the boldnesse of Peter & Iohn, and vnderstoode that they were vnlearned men and without knowledge, they marueiled, and knewe them, that they had bene with Iesus.
14 And beholding also the man which was healed standing with them, they had nothing to say against it.
15 Then they commaunded them to go aside out of the Counsel, and [k] conferred among themselues, 16 Saying, What shall we do to these men? for surely a manifest signe is done by thẽ, & it is openly knowen to all the that dwell in Ierusalem: & we can not denye it.
17 But that it bee noysed no further among the people, let vs threaten and charge them, that they speake hencefoorth to no man in this[l] Name.
18 So they called them, and commaunded them, that in[m] no wise they should speake or teach in the Name of Iesus.
19 But Peter and Iohn answered vnto them, and sayde, Whether it be right in the sight of God, to obey you rather then God, iudge ye.
20 For we can not but speake the things which we haue[n] seene and heard.
21 So they [*] threatned them, & let them goe, and found nothing how to punish them, because of the people: for all men praised God for that which was done.
22 For the man was aboue fourtie yere olde, on whome this miracle of healing was shewed.
23 Then assone as they were let go, they came to their[p] fellowes, and shewed all that the hie Priests and Elders had sayde vnto them.
24 And when they heard it, they lift vp their voyces to God with one accord, & sayde, O Lord, thou art the God which hast made the heauen and the earth, the sea, and all things that are in them.
25 Which [q] by the mouth of thy seruant Dauid hast sayde, [*] Why did the Gentiles rage, and the people imagine vaine things?
26 The kings of the earth assembled, & the rulers came together against the Lord, and against his[t] Christ.
27 For [*] of trueth, against thine holy Sonne Iesus, whõ thou hast [u] anointed, both Herode and Pontius Pilate, with the Gentiles and the people of Israel gathered themselues together, 28 To be whatsoeuer thine[v] hand, & thy [a] counsell had determined before to be done.

a It is to be thought that this was the captaine of the Romanes ganison.

29 And now, O Lord, behold their threatnings, and x graunt vnto thy seruantes with all boldnes to speake thy word, 30 So that thou stretch forth thine hand, that healing, and signes, and wonders may be done by the name of thine holy Sonne Iesus.

31 And when as they had prayed, the place was shaken where they were assembled together, and they were all y filled with the holy Ghost, and they spake the word of God z boldly.

32 And the multitude of them that beleeued, were of one heart, & of one a soule: neither any of them said, that any thing of that which hee possessed, was his b owne, but they had all things * common.

33 And with great power gaue the Apostles witnes of the resurrection of the Lord Iesus: and great grace was vpon them all.

34 Neither was there any among them, that c lacked: for as many as were possessours of landes or houses, solde them, and brought the price of the things that were sold, 35 And layed it downe at the Apostles feete, and it was distributed vnto euery man, d according as he had neede.

CHAP. V

5 The hypocrisie of Ananias & Sapphira is punished. 12 Miracles are done by the Apostles. 17 They are taken, but the Angel of God bringeth them out of prison. 29 Their bolde confession before the Counsell. 34 The counsel of Gamaliel. 40 The Apostles are beate, and reioyce in trouble.

1 BVt a certain man named Ananias, with Sapphira his wife, solde a possession,

2 And a kept away part of the price, his wife also being of counsell, and brought a certaine part, and laid it downe at the Apostles feete.

3 Then said Peter, Ananias, why hath Satan filled thine hart, that thou shouldest lie vnto the holy b Ghost, & kepe backe part of the price of the possession?

4 Whiles it remained, c appertained it not vnto thee? and after it was solde, was it not in thine owne d power? how is it p thou hast conceiued this thing in thine heart? thou hast not lyed vnto men, but vnto God.

a Which signified their sacrilledge, distrust, & hypocrisie.

b Who moued thine heart to sel thy possessiō? where as thou turnest part to another vse, as if God did not see thy dissimulatiō.

c His sinne therfore was so much greater in that he committed it willingly.

d Then no man was compelled to sell his possessions, nor to put his money to the common vse.

5 Nowe when Ananias hearde these wordes, he fel downe, & gaue vp the ghost. Then great feare came on al them that heard these things.

6 And the yong men rose vp, and tooke him vp, and caried him out, and buried him.

7 And it e came to passe about the space of three houres after, that his wife came in ignorant of that which was done.

8 And Peter said vnto her, Tel me, solde ye the lande for so much? And she saide, Yea, for so much.

9 Then Peter said vnto her, Why haue ye agreed together, to f tempt the Spirite of the Lorde? behold, the feete of them which haue buried thyne husbande, are at the doore, & shall carie thee out.

10 Then she fel down straightway at his feete, and pelded vp the ghost: and the yong men came in, and found her dead, and caried her out, & buried her by her husband.

11 And great feare came on al p Church, and on as many as heard these things.

12 Thus by the handes of the Apostles were many signes and wonders shewed among the people (and they were all with one accord in Solomons porch.

13 And of the other r durst no man ioyne him selfe to them: neuertheles the people h magnified them,

14 Also the nomber of them that beleeued in the Lorde, both of men and women, grewe more and more)

15 In so much that they brought the sicke into the streetes, and laid them on beds and couches, that at the least way the shadowe of Peter, when he came by, might shadowe some of them.

16 There came also a multitude out of the cities rounde about vnto Ierusalem, bringing sicke folkes, and them which were vexed with vncleane spirits, who were all healed.

17 ¶ Then the chiefe Priest rose vp, & all they that were with him (which was the sect of the i Sadduces) and were ful of k indignation, 18 And laide handes on the Apostles, and put them in the common prison.

19 But the Angell of the Lorde, by night opened the prison doores, and brought them forth, and said, 20 Go your way, & stand in the Temple, and speake to the people all the wordes l of this life.

21 So when they heard it, they entred into the Temple early in the morning, and taught. And the chief Priest came, and they that were with him, & called the Counsel together, and al the Elders of the children of Israel, and sent to the prison, to cause them to be brought.

22 But when the officers came, & found them not in the prison, they returned & tolde it,

23 Saying, Certainly we found the prison

e Because that God so disposed it.

f And to mocke him, as if he should not haue knowne your craftie fetch? which declareth that when men do any thing of an euill conscience, they do not only pronounce the sentence of damnation vpon themselues, but also prouoke the wrath of God, because they do proue, as it were purposely, whether God be righteous & almightie.

g Because of their owne euill consciences which made them to tremble for they that were not assured of Gods mercies in Christ, were astonished at these his strange iudgements.

h That is, they gaue them great praise.

son that as fure as was possible, and the keepers ᵐ standing without before the doores: but when we had opened, we founde no man within.

24 Then when the chefe Priest, and the captaine of ꝑ Temple, & the hie priestes heard these thinges, they doubted of the, whereunto this would growe.

25 Then came one & shewed them, saying, Behold, the men that ye put in prison, are standing in the Temple, and teache the people.

26 Then went the captaine with the officers, and brought them without violence (for they feared the people, least they should have been stoned)

27 And when they had brought them, they set them before the Counsell, & the chiefe Priest asked them, 28 Saying, Did not we straitely cõmand you, that ye shoulde not teache in this Name? and behold, ye have filled ⁿ Jerusalem with your doctrine, & ye would bring this mans ᵒ blood upon us.

29 Then Peter and the Apostles answered, and saide, We ought rather to obey God then ᵖ men.

30 The ᵠ God of our fathers hath raysed up Jesus, whom ye slewe, and hanged on a tree.

31 Him hath God lift up with his right hand, to be a prince and a ʳ Saviour, to give repentance to Israel, and forgivenes of sinnes.

32 And we are his witnesses concerning these things which we say: yea, and the holy Ghost, whome God hath given to them that obey ˢ him.

33 Nowe when they heard it, they brast for anger, and consulted to slay them.

34 Then stood there up in the Counsell a certaine Pharise named Gamaliel, a doctour of the Law, honoured of all the people, and commanded to put the Apostles forth a litle space, 35 And saide unto them, Men of Israel, take heede to your selves, what ye intende to do touching these men.

36 For before these times, rose up ᵗ Theudas boasting him selfe, to whome resorted a nomber of men, about a foure hundreth, who was slaine: & they all which obeyed him, were scattered, & brought to nought.

37 After this man, arose up ᵗ Judas of Galile, in the dayes of the tribute, and drewe away much people after him: he also perished, and all that obeyed him, were scattered abroade.

38 And nowe I saye unto you, refraine your selves from these men, & let them alone: for if this counsell, or this worke be of men, it will come to nought:

39 But if it be of ᵘ God, ye can not destroy it, least ye be found even fighters against God.

40 And to him they agreed, & called the Apostles: and when they had beaten them, they commanded that they should not speake in the Name of Jesus, & let them go.

41 So they departed from the Counsell, rejoycing that they were counted worthie to suffer rebuke for his Name.

42 And daylye in the Temple, and from house to house they ceased not to teache, and preach Jesus Christ.

3 Seven Deacons are ordained in the Church. 8 The graces and miracles of Steven, whom they accused falsly.

AND in those dayes, as the nomber of the disciples grewe, there arose a murmuring of the ᵃ Grecians towardes the Hebrewes, because their widowes were ᵇ neglected in the daily ministring.

2 Then the twelve called the multitude of the disciples together, and said, It is not mete that we should leave ꝑ word of God to serve the ᶜ tables.

3 Wherefore brethren, looke ye out among you seven men of honest reporte, and full of the holy Ghost, and of wisdome, which we may appoynt to this busines.

4 And we will give our selves continually to prayer, and to the ministration of the worde.

5 And the saying pleased the whole multitude: and they chose Steven a man full of ᵈ faith and of the holy Ghost, & ᵉ Philippe, & Prochorus, & Nicanor, & Timon, and Parmenas, and Nicolas a ᶠ proselyte of Antiochia, 6 Which they set before the Apostles: & they prayed, and ᵍ layed their hands on them.

7 And the worde of God increased, and the nomber of the disciples was multiplied in Jerusalem greatly, and a great compame of the Priests were obedient to the ʰ faith.

8 ¶ Now Steven full of faith and power, did great wonders and miracles among the people.

9 Then there arose certeine of the ⁱ Synagogue, which are called Libertines, & Cyrenians, and of Alexandria, and of them of Cilicia, and of Asia, and disputed with Steven.

10 But they were not able to resiste the wisdome, and the Spirit by the which he spake.

11 Then they ᵏ suborned men, which saide, We have heard him speake blasphemous wordes against Moses, and God.

12 Thus they moved the people and the Elders, and the Scribes: and running upon him, caught him, & brought him to the Counsell, 13 And set forth false witnesses, which saide, This man ceaseth not to speake blasphemous wordes against this holy place, and the Law.

1 Then saide the chiefe Priest, Are these things so?

2 And he said, Ye men, brethren & fathers, hearken. The God of a glorie appeared vnto our father Abraham, while he was in b Mesopotamia, before he dwelt in Charran,

3 * And said vnto him, Come out of thy countrey, and from thy kinred, and come into the lande, which I shall shew thee.

4 Then came he out of the lande of the Chaldeans, and dwelt in Charra. And after that his father was dead, God brought him from thence into this land, wherein ye now dwell.

5 And he gaue him none inheritance in it, no, not the breadth of a foote: yet he promised that he would giue it to him for a possession, and to his seede after him, when as yet he had no childe.

6 But God spake thus, that his * seede should be a sojourner in a straunge land, & that they shoulde keepe it in bondage, and entreate it euill d foure hundreth peres.

7 But the nation to whome they shal be in bondage, will I * iudge, (sayeth God:) and after that, they shal come forth and serue me in this place.

8 * He gaue him also the couenant of circumcision: and so Abraham begate * Isaac, and circumcised him the eight day: and Isaac begate * Iacob, and Iacob the twelue * Patriarkes.

9 And the Patriarkes moued with enuie solde * Ioseph into Egypt: but God was f with him,

10 And deliuered him out of all his afflictions, & * gaue him fauour & wisedome in the sight of Pharao king of Egypt, who made him gouernor ouer Egypt, and ouer his whole house.

11 ¶ Then came there a famine ouer all the lande of Egypt and Canaan, and great affliction, that our fathers found no sustenance.

12 But when * Iacob heard that there was corne in Egypt, he sent our fathers first.

13 * And at the seconde tyme, Ioseph was knowen of his brethren, and Iosephs kinred was made knowen vnto Pharao.

14 Then sent Ioseph and called his father to be brought, and all his kinred, euen g threscore and fiftene soules.

15 So * Iacob went downe into Egypt, and he * died, and our fathers, 16 And were remoued into * Sychem, & were put in the sepulchre, that h Abraham had bought * for money of the sonnes of Emmor, sonne of Sychem.

17 But when the tyme of the promes drewe neere, which God had sworne to Abraham, the people * grewe and multiplied in Egypt, 18 Till another king arose, which knew not Ioseph.

19 The same deale i subtilly with our kinred, and euill intreated our fathers, and made them to cast out their yong children, that k they shoulde not remaine aliue.

20 * The same time was Moses borne, and was acceptable vnto God, which was nourished vp in his fathers house three monethes.

21 And when he was cast out, Pharaos daughter toke him vp, and nourished him for her owne sonne.

22 And Moses was learned in all the wisedome of the Egyptians, and was mightie in words and in deedes.

23 And when he was full fourtie yeere olde, it came into his heart to visite his brethren, the children of Israel.

24 * And when he sawe one of them suffer wrong, he defended him, and auenged his quarell that had l harme done to him, and smote the Egyptian.

25 For he supposed his brethren wouldde haue vnderstand, that God by his hand should giue them deliuerance: but they vnderstood it not.

26 * And the next day, he shewed himselfe vnto them as they stroue, and wouldde haue set them at one againe, saying, Sirs, ye are brethren: why do ye wrong one to another?

27 But he that did his neighbour wrong, thrust him away, saying, Who made thee a prince, and a iudge ouer vs?

28 Wilt thou kill me, as thou diddest the Egyptian yesterday?

29 Then fled Moses at that saying, and was a stranger in the land of Madian, where he begate two sonnes.

30 And when fourtie yeres were expired, there appeared to him in the * wildernesse of mount Sina, an Angell of the Lord in a flame m of fire, in a bush.

31 And when Moses sawe it, he wondred at the sight: and as he drewe neere to consider it, the voyce of the Lorde came vnto him, saying, 32 I am the God of thy fathers, the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Iacob. Then Moses trembled, and durst not behold it.

33 Then the Lord said to him, * Put off thy shoes from thy feete: for the place where thou standest, is holy ground.

34 I haue seene, I haue seene the affliction of my people, which is in Egypte, and I haue heard their groning, and am come downe to deliuer them. And nowe come,

42 Then God turned him selfe away, and *gaue them vp to serue the ʿhost of heauen, as it is written in the booke of the Prophets, * ʿO house of Israel, haue ye offred to me slaine beastes and sacrifices by the space of fourtie yeres in the wildernes?
43 And yée ª toke vp the tabernacle of *Moloch, and the starre of your god Remphan, figures, which ye made to worship them: therefore I wil carry you away beyonde Babylon.
44 Our fathers had the tabernacle of ˣ witnes in the wildernes, as hée had appointed, speaking vnto *Moses, that he shoulde make it according to the facion that he had seene.
45 Which tabernacle also our fathers receiued, and brought in with *Iesus into the possession of the Gentiles, which God draue out before our fathers, vnto the dayes of Dauid:

50 Hath not mine hande made all these things?
51 *Ye stiffenecked and of vncircumcised ª hearts and eares, ye haue alwayes resisted the holy Ghost: as your fathers did, so doe you.
52 Which of the Prophetes haue not your fathers persecuted? and they haue slaine them, which shewed before of the comming of that ᵇ Just, of whome ye are nowe the betrayers and murtherers.

54 But when they heard these thynges, their hearts brast for anger, and they gnashed at him with their teeth.
55 But he being full of the holy Ghost, ʿlooked stedfastly into heauen, and sawe the glorie of God, and Iesus standing ª at the ᵇ right hand of God, 56 And sayd, Beholde, I see the heauens open, and the Sonne of man standing at the right hand of God.
57 Then they gaue a shout with a loude voyce, and stopped their eares, & ª ran vpon him all at once.
58 And cast him out of the citie, and stoned him: and the *witnesses laide downe their clothes at a yong mans feete, named Saul.
59 And they stoned Steuen, who called on God, and sayd, Lorde Iesus, receiue my spirite.
60 And hee kneeled downe, and cryed with a loude voyce, *Lord, lay not this sinne to their charge. And when he had thus spoken, he slept.

one accorde, hearing, and seing the miracles which he did.

7 For vncleane spirites crying with a loude voyce, came out of manye that were possessed of them: and many taken with palsies, & that halted, were healed.

8 And there was great ioy in that citie.

9 And there was before in the citie a certayne man called Simon, which vsed witchcraft, and bewitched the people of Samaria, saying, that he him selfe was some great man.

10 To whom they [d] gaue heede from the least to the greatest, saying, This man is the great [e] power of God.

11 And they gaue heede vnto him, because that of long time he had bewitched them with sorceries.

12 But assoone as they beleeued Philippe, which preached the thinges that concerned the kingdome of God, & the Name of Iesus Christ, they were baptized both men and women.

13 Then Simon him selfe [f] beleeued also and was baptized, and continued with Philippe, and wondred, when he sawe the signes & great miracles which were done.

14 ¶ Nowe when the Apostles, which were at Ierusalem, heard say, that Samaria had receyued the woorde of God, they sent vnto them Peter and Iohn.

15 Which when they were come downe, prayed for them, that they might receyue the [g] holy Ghost.

16 (For as yet, he was come downe on none of them, but they were baptized [h] onely in the Name of the Lord Iesus)

17 Then layd they their handes on them, and they receyued the holy Ghost.

18 And when Simon sawe, that through laying on of the Apostles handes the holy Ghost was giuen, he offred them money, 19 Saying, Giue mee also this power, that on whomsoeuer I lay the handes, he may receiue the holy Ghost.

20 Then said Peter vnto him, Thy money perish with thee, because thou thinkest that the gift of God may be obtayned with money.

21 Thou hast neither part nor [i] felowship in this matter: for thine heart is not right in the sight of God.

22 [k] Repent therefore of this thy wickednes, and pray God, that if it be [l] possible, the thought of thine heart may be forgiuen thee.

23 For I see that thou art [m] in the gall of [n] bitternes, & in the bond of iniquitie.

24 Then answered Simon, & said, Pray ye to the Lord for me, that none of these thinges which ye haue spoken, come vpon me.

25 ¶ So they, when they had testified and preached the woorde of the Lorde, returned to Ierusalem, and preached the Gospel in many townes of the Samaritans.

26 Then the Angell of the Lorde spake vnto Philippe, saying, Arise, and goe [o] towarde the South vnto the way that goeth downe from Ierusalem vnto Gaza, which is [p] waste.

27 And hee arose and went on: and beholde, a certaine [q] Eunuch of Ethiopia, Candaces the Queene of the Ethopians chiefe Gouernour, who had the rule of all her treasure, and came to Ierusalem to worship:

28 And as he returned sitting in his charet, he read Esaias the Prophet.

29 Then the Spirit sayde vnto Philippe, Goe neere and ioyne thy selfe to ponder charet.

30 And Philippe ran thither, and hearde him reade the Prophet Esaias, & sayde, But vnderstandest thou what thou readest?

31 And he sayde, Howe can I, except I had a guide? And he desired Philippe, that he woulde come vp & sit with him.

32 Nowe the place of the Scripture which he read, was this, [r] He was ledde as a sheepe to the slaughter: and like a lambe dumme before his shearer, so opened he not his mouth.

33 [s] In his humilitie his [t] iudgement hath beene exalted: but who shall declare his [u] generation? for his life is taken from the [x] earth.

34 Then the Eunuche answered Philippe, and sayde, I pray thee of whom speaketh the Prophet this? of him selfe, or of some other man?

35 Then Philippe [y] opened his mouth, and began at the same Scripture, and preached vnto him Iesus.

36 And as they went on their way, they came vnto a certaine water, and the Eunuch said, See, here is water: what doeth let me to be baptized?

37 And Philippe sayde vnto him, If thou beleeuest with [z] all thine heart, thou mayest. Then he answered, and sayde, I beleeue that Iesus Christ is the Sonne of God.

38 Then hee commanded the charet to stande still: and they went downe both into the water, both Philippe and the Eunuch, and he baptized him.

39 And assoone as they were come vp out of the water, the Spirite of the Lorde caught away Philip, that the Eunuche [a] sawe him no more: so hee went on his way reioycing.

40 But Philippe [b] was founde at [c] Azotus, and he walked to & fro preaching in all the cities, til he came to Cesarea.

1 AND "Saul yet "breathing out threatnings & slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, went vnto the hie priest,

2 And desired of him letters to Damascus to the Synagogues, that if he found any that were of that "way (either men or women) he might bring them bound vnto Ierusalem.

3 Now as he iourneyed, it came to passe that as he was come neere to Damascus, "suddenly there shined roundeabout him a light from heauen.

4 And he fell to the earth, and heard a voyce, saying to him, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?

5 And he said, Who art thou, Lord? And the Lord said, I am Iesus whom thou persecutest: it is hard for thee to kicke against "pricks.

6 He then both trembling and astonied, said, Lorde, what wilt thou that I doe? And the Lord said vnto him, Arise and go into the citie, and it shalbe told thee what thou shalt do.

7 The men also which iourneyed with him, stood amased, hearing "his voyce, but "seeing no man.

8 And Saul arose from the ground, and opened his eyes, but "saw no man. Then led they him by the hande, and brought him into Damascus, 9 Where hee was three dayes without sight, and neither "ate nor dranke.

10 And there was a certaine disciple at Damascus named Ananias, & to him said the Lord in a vision, Ananias. And he said, Behold, I am here, Lord.

11 Then the Lord saide vnto him, Arise, and goe into the streete which is called Straight, & seeke in the house of Iudas after one called Saul of Tarsus: for behold, he prayeth.

12 (And he saw in a vision a man named Ananias comming in to him, and putting his handes on him, that he might receiue his sight.)

13 Then Ananias answered, Lorde, I haue heard by many of this man, how much euill he hath done to thy Saints at Ierusalem.

14 Moreouer here he hath authoritie of the hie Priests, to binde all that call on thy Name.

15 Then the Lorde said vnto him, Go thy way: for hee is a "chosen vessell vnto mee, to "beare my Name before the Gentiles, and Kings, and the children of Israel.

16 For I will shewe him, howe many thinges hee must suffer for my Names sake.

17 Then Ananias went his way, & entred into the house, and put his handes on him, and sayd, Brother Saul, "the Lord hath sent me (euen Iesus that appeared vnto thee in the waye as thou camest) that thou mightest receiue thy sight, & be filled with the holy Ghost.

18 And immediatly there fell from his eyes as it had bene scales, and suddenly he receiued sight, and arose, and was baptized, 19 And receiued meate, & was strengthened. So was Saul certaine dayes with the disciples which were at Damascus.

20 And straightway he preached Christ in the Synagogues, that hee was the Sonne of God.

21 So that all that heard him, were amased, & said, Is not this he, that destroied them which called on this Name in Ierusalem, and came hither for that intent, that he should bring them bounde vnto the hie Priests?

22 But Saul increased "more in strength, & confounded the Iewes which dwelt at Damascus, "confirming, that this was the Christ.

23 And after "that many dayes were fulfilled, the Iewes tooke counsel together, to kill him.

24 But their laying await was knowne of Saul: now they "watched the gates day and night, that they might kill him.

25 Then the disciples tooke him by night, and put him through the wall, and let him downe in a basket.

26 And when Saul was come to Ierusalem, he assayed to ioyne himselfe with the disciples: but they were all afrayed of him, and beleeued not that he was a disciple.

27 But Barnabas tooke him, & brought him to the Apostles, and declared to them, how he had seene the Lord in the way, and that he had spoken vnto him, and how he had spoken boldly at Damascus in the Name of Iesus.

28 And he "was conuersant with "them at Ierusalem,

29 And spake boldly "in the name of the Lorde Iesus, and spake and disputed with the "Grecians: but they went about to slay him.

30 But when the brethren knewe it, they brought him to Cesarea, and sent him forth to "Tarsus.

31 Then had the Churches rest through all Iudea, & Galile, and Samaria, and were edified, and walked in the feare of the Lorde, and were multiplied by the comfort of the holy Ghost.

32 And it came to passe, as Peter walked throughout all quarters, he came also to the Saints which dwelt at Lydda.

33 And there he founde a certaine man named Aeneas, which had kept his bed eight yeeres, and was sicke of the palsie.

3 Cornelius admonished by the Angel. 7 He sendeth to Ioppa. 11 The vision that Peter saw. 17 How he was sent to Cornelius. 44 The Gentiles also receiue the Spirit, and are baptized.

1 FOrthermoꝛe there was a certayne man in Cesarea called Cornelius, a captaine of the band called the Italian band, a Who had forſaken all ſuperſtitions and gaue himſelfe to the true ſeruice of God.

2 A deuout man, and [a] one that feared God with all his houſhold, which gaue much almes to the people, and prayed God continually.

3 He ſaw in a viſion euidently (about the ninth houre of the daye) an Angell of God comming in to him, and ſaying vnto him, Cornelius.

4 But when he looked on him, he was afrayd, and ſaid, What is it, Lord? And he ſaid vnto him, Thy prayers & thyne almes are come [b] vp into remembrance before God.

b That is, God did accept them: whereof it followeth if he had faith: for els it is impoſſible to pleaſe God.

5 Nowe therefore ſende men to Ioppa, and call for Simon, whoſe ſurname is Peter.

6 He lodgeth with one Simon a tanner, whoſe houſe is by the ſea ſide: ‖ he ſhall tell thee what thou oughteſt to do.

‖ He ſhal ſpeak woꝛds vnto thee whereby thou ſhalt be ſaued, and all thine houſe.

7 And when the Angel which ſpake vnto Cornelius, was departed, hee called two of his ſeruants, and a ſouldier that feared God, one of them that wayted on him,

8 And told them all thinges, and ſent them to Ioppa.

9 On the morow as they went on their iourney, and drew neere vnto the citie, Peter went vp vpon the houſe to pray, about the [c] ſixt houre.

c Which was midday.

10 Then wayed he an hungred, & would haue eaten: but while they made ſome thing readie, he fell into a trance.

11 And he ſawe heauen opened, and a certaine veſſell come downe vnto him, as it had bene a great ſheete, knit at the foure corners, and was let downe to the earth.

12 Wherein were [d] al maner of foure footed beaſtes of the earth, & wilde beaſtes and creeping things, and fowles of the heauen.

d As camels, horſes, dogs, oxen, ſheepe, ſwine and ſuch like, which man nouriſheth for his vſe.

13 And there came a voyce to him, Ariſe, Peter: kill, and eate.

14 But Peter ſaid, Not ſo, Lorde: for I haue neuer eaten any thing that is [e] polluted, or vncleane.

[e] Or, common.

15 And the voyce ſpake vnto him againe the ſecond time, The thinges that God hath [f] purified, ‖ pollute thou not.

e In taking away the difference betwixt vnclean beaſts & cleane, he ſheweth there is no difference betwixt the Iewes and Gentiles.

f Take it not for polluted and impure.

16 This was ſo done thryſe: and the veſſel was taken vp againe into heauen.

17 ¶ Now while Peter doubted in himſelfe what this viſiō which he had ſeen, meant, beholde, the men which were ſent from Cornelius, had inquired for Simons houſe, and ſtood at the gate, 18 And called, & aſked, whether Simon, which was ſurnamed Peter, were lodged there.

19 And while Peter thought on the viſion, the Spirit ſaid vnto him, Beholde, three men ſeeke thee.

20 Ariſe therefore, and get thee downe, & go with them, and [g] doubt nothing: for I haue ſent them.

g Then true obedience which proceedeth of fayth, ought to be without doubt or queſtioning.

21 ¶ Then Peter went downe to the men, which were ſent vnto him from Cornelius, and ſayd, Beholde, I am hee whō ye ſeeke: what is the cauſe wherefoꝛe ye are come?

22 And they ſaid, Cornelius the captain, a iuſt man, and one that feareth God, and of good report among all the nation of the Iewes, was warned from heauen by an holy Angell, to ſende for thee into his houſe, and to heare thy woꝛdes.

23 Then called [h] he them in, and lodged them, and the next day, Peter wēt forth with them, and certaine brethren from Ioppa accompanied him.

[h] Or, Peter.

24 ¶ And the day after, they entred into Cesarea. Now Cornelius wayted for them, and had called together his kinſmen, and ſpeciall friends.

25 And it came to paſſe as Peter came in, that Cornelius met him, & fell downe at his feete, and [i] woꝛſhipped him.

i Shewed too much reuerence and farre paſſing decent order, as though Peter had bene God.

26 But Peter tooke him vp, ſaying, Stand vp: for euen I my ſelfe am a man.

27 And as he talked with him, he came in, and found many that were come together.

28 And he ſaid vnto them, Ye know that it it is an vnlawfull thing for a man that is a Iewe, to companie or come vnto one of another nation: but God hath shewed me, that I should not call any man [g] polluted, or vncleane.

[g] Or, common.

29 Therefore came I vnto you without saying nay, when I was sent for. I aske therefore, for what intent haue ye sent for me?

30 Then Cornelius saide, Foure dayes agoe, about this houre, I fasted, and at the ninth houre I prayed in mine house, and beholde, a man stoode before me in bright clothing, 31 And saide, Cornelius, thy prayer is heard, and thine almes are had in remembrance in the sight of God.

32 Send therefore to Ioppa, and call for Simon, whose surname is Peter (he is lodged in the house of Simon a tanner by the sea side) who when he commeth, shall speake vnto thee.

33 Then sent I for thee immediatly, and thou hast well done to come. Nowe therefore are we all here present before God, to heare all things that are commanded thee of God.

6 Toward the which when I had fastened mine eyes, I considered, and sawe foure footed beasts of the earth, & wilde beasts, and creeping things, and foules of the heauen.

7 Also I heard a voyce, saying vnto mee, Arise, Peter: slay and eate.

8 And I said, God forbid, Lorde: for nothing polluted or vncleane hath at any time entred into my mouth.

9 But the voyce answered me the second time from heauen, The thinges that God hath purified, pollute thou not.

10 And this was done three times, and all were taken vp againe into heauen.

11 Then beholde, immediatly there were three men already come vnto the house where I was, sent from Cesarea vnto me.

12 And the Spirit sayd vnto me, that I should go with them, without doubting: moreouer these sixe brethren came with me, and wee entred into the mans house.

13 And he shewed vs, howe he had seene an Angell in his house, which stoode and sayde to him, Send men to Ioppa, and call for Simon whose surname is Peter.

19 ¶ And they which were f scattered abroad because of the g affliction that arose about Steuen, walked thoughout till they came vnto Phenice and Cyprus, and Antiochia, preaching the worde to no man, but vnto the Iewes onely.

20 Now some of them were men of Cyprus and of Cyrene, which when they were come into Antiochia, spake vnto the f Grecians, and preached the Lorde Iesus.

21 And the g hand of the Lord was with them, so that a great nomber beleeued and turned vnto the Lord.

22 Then tidinges of those thinges came vnto the eares of the Church, which was in Ierusalem, and they sent forth Barnabas, that he should go vnto h Antiochia.

23 Who when he was come & had seene the grace of God, was glad, and exhorted all, that with purpose of heart they would i cleaue vnto the Lord.

24 For he was a good man, and full of the holy Ghost, and faith, and much people ioined themselues vnto the Lord.

25 ¶ Then departed Barnabas to Tarsus to seeke Saul:

26 And when he had founde him, he brought him vnto Antiochia, and it came to passe, that a whole yere they were conuersant with the Church, and taught much people, in so much, that the disciples were first called i Christians in Antiochia.

27 In those dayes also came Prophetes from Ierusalem vnto Antiochia.

28 And there stoode vp one of them named Agabus, & signified by the k Spirite, that there should be great famine thoughout all the worlde, which also came to passe vnder Claudius Cesar.

29 Then the disciples, euery man according to his abilitie, l purposed to sende succour vnto the brethren which dwelt in Iudea.

3 And when he sawe that it c pleased the Iewes, he proceeded further, to take Peter also (then were the dayes of vnleauened bread.)

4 And when he had caught him, he cast him in prison, & deliuered him to d foure quaternions of souldiers to be kept, intending after the Passeouer to bring him forth to the people.

5 So Peter was kept in prison, but earnest prayer was made of the Church vnto God for him.

6 And when Herod would haue brought him out vnto the people, the same night slept Peter betweene two souldiers, bound with two chaines, and the keepers before the doore, kept the prison.

7 * And beholde, the Angel of the Lorde came vpon them, and a light shined in the house, and he smote Peter on the side, and raised him vp, saying, Arise quickly. And his chaines fell off from his handes.

8 And the Angel sayd vnto him, Gird thy selfe, and binde on thy e sandales. And so he did. Then he sayd vnto him, Cast thy garment about thee, and followe me.

9 So Peter came out and followed him, and wiste not that it was true, which was done by the Angell, but thought he had seene a vision.

10 Nowe when they were past the first and the second watch, they came vnto the yron gate, that leadeth vnto the citie, which opened to them by it owne accorde, and they went out, and passed thoughe one streete, and by and by the Angel departed from him.

14 But when she knewe Peters voyce, she opened not the entrie doore for gladnes, but ran in, and tolde howe Peter stoode before the entrie.

20 Then Herod intended to make warre against them of Tyrus and Sidon, but they came all with one accorde vnto hym, and i perswaded Blastus the kinges chamberlaine, and they desired peace, because their countrey was nourished by the kings land.

5 And when they were at Salamis, they preached the worde of God in the Synagogues of the Iewes: and they had also Iohn to their minister.

44 And the next Sabbath day came almost the whole citie together, to heare the worde of God.

45 But when the Iewes saw the people, they were full of r enuie, and spake against those things, which were spoken of Paul, contrarying them, and raging on them.

46 Then Paul and Barnabas spake boldely, & said, * It was necessarie that the word of God should first haue been spoken vnto you: but seeing ye put it from you, and iudge your selues vnworthie of s euerlasting life, lo, we turne to the Gentiles.

47 For so hath the Lord commanded vs, saying, * I haue made thee a light of the Gentiles, that thou shouldest be the saluation vnto the ende of the world.

23 And when they had ordeyned them Elders by [i] election in euery Church, and prayed, and fasted, they commended them to the Lord in whome they beleeued.

10 Now therefore, why e tempt ye God, to f lay a yoke on the disciples neckes, which neither our fathers, nor we were able to beare?

11 But we beleeue, through the g grace of the Lorde Iesus Christ to be saued, euen as they do.

12 Then all the multitude kept silence, and heard Barnabas & Paul, which tolde what signes & wonders God had done among the Gentiles by them.

13 And when they helde their peace, Iames answered, saying, Men & brethren, hearken vnto me.

14 *Simeon hath declared, howe God first did visite the Gentiles, to take of them a people vnto his Name.

15 And to this agree the wordes of the Prophets, as it is written,

16 *After this I will returne, and wyll builde againe the s tabernacle of Dauid, which is fallen downe, and the ruines thereof wil I builde agayne, and I wil set it vp,

17 That the residue of men might seeke after the Lord, & all the h Gentiles vpõ whome my Name is called, saith the Lorde which doeth all these things.

18 From the beginning of the worlde God knoweth all his workes.

19 Wherefore my sentence is, that we trouble not them of the Gentiles that are turned to God, 20 But that we write vnto them, that they abstein them selues frõ i filthines of idoles, & k fornication, and that that is strangled, and from blood ‖.

21 For l Moses of olde time hath in euery citie them that preache him, seeing he is read in the Synagogues euery Sabbath day.

22 Then it seemed good to the Apostles and Elders with the whole Church, to send chosen men of their owne compayny to Antiochia with Paul and Barnabas: to wit, Iudas whose surname was Barsabas, & Silas, which were chiefe men among the brethren, 23 And wrote letters by them after this maner, THE APOSTLES, and the Elders, and the brethren, vnto the brethren which are of the Gentiles in Antiochia, and in Syria, and in Cilicia send greeting.

24 For asmuch as we haue heard, that certaine which departed from vs, haue troubled you with wordes, & combred your minds, saying, Ye must be circumcised and keepe the Lawe: to whom we gaue no such commandement,

25 It seemed therefore good to vs, when we were come together with one accord, to send chosen men vnto you, with our beloued Barnabas and Paul,

26 Men that haue giuen vp their liues for the Name of our Lord Iesus Christ.

27 Wee haue therefore sent [illegible] and Silas, which shall also tell you the same things by mouth.

28 For it seemed good to the holy Ghost, and m to vs, to lay no more burden vpon you, then these necessarie things, 29 That is, that ye abstein from thinges offered to idoles and blood, & that that is strangled, & from fornication: ‖ from which if yee keepe your selues, ye shall do well. Fare ye well.

30 Now when they were departed, they came to Antiochia, and after that they had assembled the multitude, they deliuered the epistle.

31 And when they had read it, they reioyced for the consolation.

32 And Iudas and Silas being Prophets, n exhorted the brethren with many wordes, and strengthened them.

33 And after they had tarried there a space, they were let goe in o peace of the brethren vnto the Apostles.

34 Notwithstanding * Silas thought good to abide there still ‖.

35 Paul also and Barnabas continued in Antiochia, teaching and preaching with many other the word of the Lord.

36 ¶ But after certaine dayes, Paul said vnto Barnabas, Let vs returne, & visite our brethren in euery citie, where we haue preached the word of ẏ Lorde, and see how they do.

37 And Barnabas ‖ counselled to take with them Iohn, called Marke.

38 But Paul thought it not mete to take him vnto their compaine, which departed from them from Pamphylia, and went not with them to the worke.

39 Then were they so stirred, that they p departed asunder one from the other, so that Barnabas tooke Marke, and sayled vnto Cyprus.

40 And Paul chose Silas and departed, being commended of the brethren vnto the grace of God.

41 And he went through Syria and Cilicia, stablishing the Churches.

5 And so were the Churches stablished in the faith, and encreased in number daily.

6 ¶ Nowe when they had gone throughout Phrygia, and the region of Galatia, they were [b] forbidden of the holye Ghost to preache the word in [c] Asia.

7 Then came they to Mysia, and sought to go into Bithynia: but ꝑ Spirit ‖ suffred them not.

8 Therefore they passed throughe Mysia, and came downe to [d] Troas, 9 Where a vision appeared to Paul in the night. There stoode a man of Macedonia, and prayed him, saying, Come into Macedonia, and helpe vs.

10 And after he had seene the vision, immediatly we prepared to go into Macedonia, being [e] assured that the Lorde had called vs to preache the Gospell vnto them.

11 Then went we forth from Troas, and with a straight course came to Samothacia, and the next daye to [f] Neapolis, 12 ¶ And from thence to Philippi, which is the chiefe citie in the partes of Macedonia, and [g] whose inhabitantes came from Rome to dwel there, and we were in that citie abyding certeine dayes.

13 And on the Sabbath day, we went out of the citie, beesides a riuer, where they were wont to [h] pray: and we sate downe, & spake vnto the women, which were come together.

14 And a certaine woman, named Lydia, a seller of purple, of the citie of the Thyatirians, which worshipped God, heard vs: whose heart the Lorde opened, that shee attended vnto the thinges, which Paul spake.

15 And when she was baptized, and her houshold, she besought vs, saying, If ye haue iudged me to be faithfull to the Lord, come into mine house, and abide there: and she constrained vs.

16 And it came to passe that as we went to prayer, a certeine maid hauing [a] spirit of diuination, met vs, which gate her masters much vantage with diuining.

17 She followed Paul and vs, & cryed, saying, These men are the seruantes of the most high God, which shewe vnto vs the [k] way of saluation.

18 And this did she many dayes: but Paul being grieued, [l] turned about, and saide to the spirit, I commande thee in the Name of Jesus Christ, that thou come out of her. And he came out the same houre.

19 Now when her masters saw that the hope of their gaine was gone, they caught Paul & Silas, & drew them into the market place vnto ꝑ Magistrates,

20 And brought them to ꝑ Gouernours, saying, These men which are Iewes, trouble our citie, 21 And preach ordinances, which are not lawfull for vs to receyue, neyther to obserue, seeing we are Romanes.

22 The people also rose vp together against them, and the Gouernours rent [m] their clothes, and [n] commanded them to be beaten with rodes.

23 And when they had beaten them sore, they cast them into prison, commanding the iayler to keepe them surely.

24 Who hauing receyued such commandement, cast them into the [o] inner prison, & made their feete fast in the stocks.

25 Nowe at midnight Paul and Silas prayed, and sung a psalme vnto God: & the prisoners heard them.

26 And suddenly there was a great earthquake, so that the foundation of the prison was shaken: and by and by all the doores opened, and euery mans bandes were loosed.

27 Then the keeper of the prison waked out of his sleepe, and when he sawe the prison doores open, hee drewe out his sword, & would haue killed himself, supposing the prisoners had bene fled.

28 But Paul cryed with a loude voyce, saying, Doe thy selfe no harme: for wee are all here.

29 Then he called for a light, and leaped in, and came trembling, and fell downe before Paul and Silas, 30 And brought them out, & said, Syrs, what must I do to be saued?

31 And they said, Beleue in the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saued, and thine houshold.

32 And they preached vnto him the worde of the Lord, and to all that were in his house.

33 Afterwarde hee tooke them the same houre of the night, and washed their [p] stripes, and was baptized with al that belonged vnto him, straightway.

34 And when he had brought them into his house, he [q] set meat before them, & reioyced that he with all his houlholde beleeued in God.

38 And the sergeants tolde these wordes vnto the Gouernours, who [s] feared when they heard that they were Romanes.

39 Then came they & prayed them, and brought them out, and desired them to depart out of the citie.

40 And then went out of the prison, and entred into the house of Lydia: & when they had seene the brethren, they comforted them, and departed.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Paul commeth to Theſſalonica, 4 Where ſome receiue him, & others perſecute him. 11 To ſearch the Scriptures. 17 He diſputeth at Athens, and the fruite of his doctrine.

1 NOwe as they paſſed thyough Amphipolis, and Apollonia, they came to Theſſalonica, where was a Synagogue of the Iewes.

2 And Paul, as his maner was, went in vnto them, and three Sabbath dayes diſputed with them by the Scriptures,

3 Opening, & alledging that Chriſt muſt haue ſuffred, and riſen againe from the dead: and this is Iesus Chriſt, whome, ſaid he, I preach to you.

4 And ſome of them beleeued, and ioyned in companie with Paul and Silas: alſo of the Grecians that feared God a great multitude, and of the chiefe women not a fewe.

5 But the Iewes which beleeued not, moued with enuie, tooke vnto them certeine vagabounds and wicked fellowes, & when they had aſſembled the multitude, they made a tumult in the citie, & made aſſault againſt the houſe of Iaſon, & ſought to bring them out to the people.

6 But when they founde them not, they drewe Iaſon and certeine brethren vnto the heades of the citie, crying, Theſe are they which haue ſubuerted the ſtate of the world, and here they are, a Like quarelpiking they vſed againſt Chriſt: & theſe be the weapons wherewith the world continually fighteth againſt the members of Chriſt, treaſon and ſedition.

7 Whom Iaſon hath receiued, and theſe all doe againſt the decrees of Cæſar, ſaying that there is another [a] King, one Iesus.

8 Then they troubled the people, and the heades of the citie, when they hearde theſe thinges.

[b] Or, a ſufficient anſwere.

9 Notwithſtanding when they had receiued [b] ſufficient aſſurance of Iaſon and of the other, they let them go.

b Not more excellent of birth, but more prõpt, and couragious in receiuing the worde of God: for he compareth them of Berea with them of Theſſalonica, who perſecuted the Apoſtles in Berea.

10 And the brethren immediatly ſent away Paul and Silas by nyght vnto Berea, which when they were come thither, entred into the Synagogue of the Iewes.

Iohn. 5. 39.

11 These were alſo [c] more noble men then they which were at Theſſalonica, which receiued the word with al readines, and [d] ſearched the Scriptures daily, [e] whether thoſe thinges were ſo.

c This was not onely to trie if theſe thinges which they had heard, were true, but alſo to confirme theſelues in the ſame, and to increaſe their faith.

12 Therefore many of them beleeued, and of honeſt women, which were Grecians, and men not a fewe.

[d] Or, had the charge to conduct him ſafely.

13 ¶ But when the Iewes of Theſſalonica knew, that the worde of God was alſo preached of Paul at Berea, they came thither alſo, & moued the people.

14 But by and by the brethren ſent away Paul to go as it were to the ſea: but Silas and Timotheus abode there ſtill.

15 And they that [d] did conduct Paul, brought him vnto Athens: and when they had receiued a commandement vnto Silas and Timotheus [e] they ſhould come to him at once, they departed.

16 ¶ Now while Paul wayted for them at Athens, his ſpirite was ſtirred in him, when he ſawe the citie [f] ſubiect to idolatrie.

d That citie which was the fountaine of all knowledge, was now the ſinke of moſt horrible idolatrie.

17 Therefore he diſputed in the Synagogue with the Iewes, and with them that were religious, and in the market daily [g] with whomſoeuer he met.

18 Then certeine Philoſophers of the [f] Epicures, and of the [g] Stoikes, diſputed with him, and ſome ſaid, What will this [h] babbler ſay? Others ſaide, He ſeemeth to be a ſetter forth of ſtrange gods (becauſe he preached vnto them Iesus, and the reſurrection.)

e Such was his feruent zeale towards Gods glorie, that he laboured to amplifie the ſame both in ſeaſon, & out of ſeaſon, as he taught afterwarde to Timothie.

19 And they tooke him, and brought him vnto [h] Mars ſtreete, ſaying, May we not know, what this newe doctrine, where of thou ſpeakeſt, is?

f Who helde, that pleaſure was mans whole felicitie.

20 For thou bringeſt certeine ſtrange things vnto our eares: we would know therefore, what theſe things meane.

21 For all the Athenians, and ſtrangers which dwelt there, [i] gaue them ſelues to nothing elſe, but either to tell, or to heare ſome newes.

g Who taught that vertue was onely mans felicitie, which notwithſtanding they neuer attained vnto, 22 Then Paul ſtoode in the middes of [i] Mars ſtreete, and ſaide, Ye men of Athens, I perceiue that in all things ye are too ſuperſtitious.

[i] Or, raſcal, or triſter.

23 For as I paſſed by, and beheelde your deuocions, I founde an altar wherein was written, [k] VNTO THE VNKNOWEN GOD. Whom ye then ignorãtly woſhip, him ſhew I vnto you.

h Where iudgement was giuen of weightie matters, but chiefly of impietie againſt their gods whereof Paul was accuſed: or els was led thither becauſe of the reſort of people, whoſe eares euer tickled to heare newes.

Paul laboureth with his handes, and preacheth at Corinthus. 6 He is detested of the Iewes, & Yet receiued of many, 9 And comforted of the Lorde. 14 Gallio refuseth to meddle with religion. 18 Paules vowe. 21 His faith in the prouidence of God, 22 And care for the brethren. 24 The praise of Apollos.

1 After these thinges, Paul departed from Athens, and came to Corinthus,

2 And founde a certaine Iewe, named * Aquila, borne in Pontus, lately come from Italie, and his wife Priscilla (because that [a] Claudius had commanded all Iewes to depart from Rome) and he came vnto them.

3 And because he was of the same craft, he abode with them and [b] wrought (for their craft was to make [c] tents.)

4 And hee disputed in the Synagogue euery Sabbath daye, and exhorted the Iewes, and the Grecians.

5 Nowe when Silas and Timotheus were come from Macedonia, Paul [d] burned in spirit, testifying to þ Iewes that Iesus was the Christ.

6 And when they resisted and blasphemed, he * shooke his rayment, and saide vnto them, [e] Your blood be vpon your owne head: I am cleane: from hencefoorth will I go vnto the Gentiles.

7 So he departed thence, and entred into a certaine mans house, named Iustus, a worshipper of God, whose house ioyned harde to the Synagogue.

8 And * Crispus the chiefe ruler of the Synagogue, beleeued in the Lorde with all his houlholde: & many of the Corinthians hearing it, beleeued & were baptized.

9 Then said the Lord to Paul in the night by a vision, Feare not, but speake, and hold not thy peace.

10 For [f] I am with thee, & no man shall lay hands on thee to hurt thee: for I haue much people in this citie.

11 So he continued there a yeere and sixe moneths, & taught the word of God among them.

12 ¶ Now when Gallio was deputie of [g] Achaia, the Iewes arose with one accord against Paul, and brought him to the iudgement seat, 13 Saying, This fellow perswadeth men to worship God contrary to the [g] Law.

14 And as Paul was about to open his mouth, Gallio said vnto the Iewes, If it were a matter of wrong, or an euill deede, O ye Iewes, I would according to reason maintaine you.

15 But if it be a question of wordes, and names, and of your Lawe, looke ye to it your selues: for I will be no iudge of those thinges.

16 And he draue them from þ iudgement seat.

17 Then tooke all the Grecians [h] Sosthenes þ chiefe ruler of the Synagogue, and beat him before the iudgement seat: but Gallio cared nothyng for those things.

18 But when Paul had taried there yet a good while, her tooke leaue of the brethren, and sayled into Syria (and with him Priscilla & Aquila) after that hee had [i] shorne his head in Cenchrea: for he had a * vowe.

19 Then he came to Ephesus, & left them there: but hee entred into þ Synagogue and disputed with the Iewes.

20 Who desired him to tary a loger time with them: but he would not consent, 21 But bade thē farewell, saying, I must needs keepe this feast that commeth, in Ierusalem: but I will returne againe vnto you, * if God will. So he sayled from Ephesus.

22 ¶ And when he came downe to [k] Cesarea, he went vp to Ierusalem: & when he had saluted þ Church, he went down vnto Antiochia.

23 Nowe when hee had tarryed there a while, he departed, and went through the countrey of Galatia and Phrygia by order, strengthening all the disciples.

24 And a certaine Iewe named * Apollos, borne at Alexandria, came to Ephesus, an eloquent man, and [l] mighty in the Scriptures.

25 The same was [l] instructed in the way of the Lorde, and he spake feruently in the spirit, & taught diligently the things of the Lorde, and knewe but the [m] baptisme of Iohn onely.

26 And he began to speake boldly in the Synagogue. Whom when Aquila and Priscilla had heard, they tooke him vnto them, and [o] expounded vnto him the * way of God more perfectly.

27 And when he was minded to go into Achaia, the brethren exhorting him, wrote to the disciples to receyue him: and after he was come thither, he holpe thē much which had beleeued through grace.

28 For mightily he confuted publikely þ Iewes with great vehemencie, shewing by the Scriptures, that Iesus was the Christ.

1 And it came to passe, while Apollos was at Corinthus, that Paul when he passed through the vpper coastes, came to Ephesus, & founde certaine disciples,

2 And saide vnto them, Haue ye receiued the [a] holy Ghost since ye beleeued? And they saide vnto him, We haue not so much as heard whether there be an holy Ghost.

3 And he saide vnto them, [b] Vnto what were ye then baptized? And they saide, Vnto Iohns baptisme.

4 Then said Paul, [*] Iohn verely baptized with the baptisme of repentance, saying vnto the people, that they shoulde beleeue in him, which should come after him, that is, in Christ Iesus.

5 So when they hearde it, they were [c] baptized in the name of the Lorde Iesus.

6 And Paul laid his hands vpon them, and the holy Ghost came on them, and they spake the tongues, and prophecied.

7 And all the men were about twelue.

8 ¶ Moreouer, hee went into the Synagogue, and spake boldely for the space of three moneths, disputing and exhorting to the thinges that appertaine to the kingdome of God.

9 But when certaine were hardened, and disobeyed, speaking euill of the waye of God before the multitude, hee departed from them, & separated the disciples, & disputed daily in the schole of one [d] Tyrannus.

10 And this was done by the space of two yeres, so that all they which dwelt in Asia, heard the worde of the Lord Iesus, both Iewes and Grecians.

11 And God wrought no small miracles by the hands of Paul,

12 So that from his body were brought vnto the sicke, [e] kercheses [*] or handkerchefs, and the diseases departed from them, and the euill spirites went out of them.

13 Then certayne of the vagabonde Iewes, [f] exorcistes, tooke in hande to name ouer them which had euill spirits, the Name of the Lord Iesus, saying, We [f] adiure you by Iesus, whome Paul preacheth.

14 (And there were certayne sonnes of Sceua a Iewe, the Priest, about seuen which did this)

15 And the euill spirite answered, & saide, Iesus I acknowledge, and Paul I know: but who are ye?

16 And the man in whome the euill spirit was, ranne on them, and ouercame them, and preuailed against them, so that they fled out of that house, naked, and wounded.

17 And this was knowen to all the Iewes and Grecians also, which dwelt at Ephesus, and feare came on them all, & the Name of the Lord Iesus was magnified.

18 And many that beleeued, came & confessed, and [g] shewed their workes.

19 Many also of the which vsed curious arts, brought their bookes, and burned them before all men, and they counted the price of them, and founde it [h] fifte thousand pieces of siluer.

20 So the word of God grew mightily, and preuailed.

21 ¶ Nowe when these things were accomplished, Paul purposed [i] by the Spirite to passe through Macedonia & Achaia, & to go to Ierusalē, saying, After I haue bene there, I must also see Rome.

22 So sent hee into Macedonia two of them that ministred vnto him, Timotheus and Erastus, but hee remained in Asia for a season.

23 And the same time there arose no small trouble about that [k] way.

24 For a certayne man named Demetrius a siluer smith, which made siluer [l] temples of Diana, [l] brought great gaines vnto the crafts men:

25 Whome hee called together, with the workemen of like things, & saide, Sirs, ye knowe that by this craft [m] we haue our goods.

26 Moreouer ye see and heare, that not alone at Ephesus, but almost through out all Asia this Paul hath perswaded, and turned away much people, saying, That they be not gods which are made with hands:

27 So that not onely this thing is dangerous vnto vs, [n] that the state shoulde be reproued, but also that the [o] temple of the great goddesse Diana shoulde bee nothing esteemed, and that it woulde come to passe [p] her magnificence, which all Asia, and the [p] world worshippeth, should be destroyed.

28 Nowe when they heard it, they were full of wrath, & cried out, saying, Great is Diana of the Ephesians.

29 And the whole citie was full of confusion, & they rushed into the common place with one assent, & caught [] Gaius, and [] Aristarchus, men of Macedonia, and Pauls companyons of his iourney.

30 And when Paul woulde haue entred in vnto the people, the disciples suffred him not.

31 Certayne also of the chiefe of Asia which were his friends, sent vnto him, desiring him that he would not present himselfe in the common place.

a Paul goeth into Macedonia and into Grecia. 7 He celebrateth the Lordes supper and preacheth. 9 At Troas he raiseth vp Eutychus. 17 At Ephesus he calleth the Elders of the Church together, committeth the keeping of Gods flocke vnto them, warneth them of false teachers, maketh his prayer with them, and departeth by ship towardes Ierusalem.

1 NOw after the tumult was ceased, Paul called the disciples vnto him, and embraced them, and departed to go into Macedonia.

2 And when he had gone thorough those partes, and had exhorted them with many wordes, he came into Grecia.

3 And hauing tarried there three moneths, because the Iewes laide waite for him, as he was about to saile into Syria, he purposed to returne through Macedonia.

a He remained there these dayes, because he had better opportunitie to teach: also the abolishing of the Lawe was not yet knowen.

4 And there accompanied him into Asia Sopater of Berea, (of them of Thessalonica, Aristarchus, & Secundus, and Gaius of Derbe, and Timotheus, & of them of Asia Tychicus, & Trophimus.

5 These went before, and tarried vs at Troas.

6 And we sailed forth from a Philippi, after the dayes of vnleuened bread, & came vnto the to Troas in fiue dayes, where we abode seuen dayes.

12 And they brought the boye aliue, and they were not a litle comforted.

14 Now when he was come vnto vs to Assos, and we had receiued him, we came to Mitylenes.

15 And we sayled thence, and came the next day ouer against Chios, and the next day we arriued at Samos, and tarried at Trogyllium: the next daye we came to Miletum.

31 Therefore watch and remember, that by the space of three yeeres I ceased not to warne euery one, both night and day with teares.

5 The common prayers of the faithfull. 9 Philippes foure daughters prophetisses. 33 Pauls constancie to beare the crosse, as Agabus and others forspake, although he was otherwise counselled by the brethren. 28 The great daunger that he was in, and howe he escaped.

1 And as we launched forth, & were departed frō them, we came with a straight course vnto Coos, and the day following vnto the Rhodes, & from thence vnto Patara.

2 And we founde a ship that went ouer vnto Phenice, and went aboorde, and set forth.

3 And when we had discouered Cyprus, we left it on the left hand, and sailed toward Syria, and arriued at Tyrus: for there the ship vnladed the burden.

4 And when we had found disciples, we taried there seuen dayes. And they told Paul [a] through the [b] Spirite, that he should not go vp to Jerusalem.

5 But when the dayes were ended, we departed, and went our way, and they all accompanied vs with their wiues and children, euen out of the citie: and we kneeling downe on the shore, prayed.

6 Then when we had embraced one another, we tooke ship, and they returned home.

7 And when we had ended the course frō Tyrus, we arriued at Ptolemais, and saluted the brethren, & abode with them one day.

8 And the next day, Paul and they that were with him, departed, and came vnto Cesarea: and we entred into ꝑ house of * Philippe the Euangelist, which was one of the [c] seuen Deacons, & abode with him.

9 Now he had foure daughters virgins, which did prophecie.

10 And as we taried there many dayes, there came a certaine Prophete from Judea, named Agabus.

11 And when he was come vnto vs, he tooke Pauls girdell, and bounde his owne hands and feete, and said, [d] Thus saith the holy Ghost, So shall ꝑ Jewes at Jerusalem [e] binde the man that oweth this girdell, and shall deliuer him into the hands of the Gentiles.

12 And whē we had heard these things, both we and other of the same place besought him that he would not go vp to Jerusalem.

13 Then Paul answered, and said, What do ye weeping & breaking mine heart? For I am ready not to be bound only, but also to die at Jerusalem for the Name of the Lord Jesus.

14 So when he would not be perswaded, we ceased, saying, The will of the Lorde be done.

15 And after those dayes we trussed vp our fardels, & went vp to Jerusalem.

16 There went with vs also certaine of ꝑ disciples of Cesarea, and brought with them one Mnason of Cyprus, an olde disciple, with whom we should lodge.

17 And when we were come to Jerusalem, the brethren receiued vs gladly.

18 And the next day Paul went in with vs vnto [f] James: and all the Elders were there assembled.

19 And when he had embraced them, he tolde by order all things, that God had wrought among the Gentiles by his ministration.

20 So when they heard it, they glorified

22 What is then to be done? the multitude muſt needes come together: for they ſhall heare that thou art come.

23 Doe therefore this that we ſay to thee. We haue foure men, which haue made a vowe.

24 Them take, and purifie thy ſelf with them, and contribute with them, that they may * ſhaue their heades: and all ſhall know, that thoſe things, whereof they haue bene informed concerning thee, are nothing, but that thou thy ſelfe alſo walkeſt and keepeſt the Lawe.

26 Then Paul toke the men, & the next day was purified with them, & entred into the Temple, * declaring the accompliſhment of the dayes of the purification, vntill that an offring ſhould be offred for euery one of them.

27 And when the ſeuen dayes were almoſt ended, the Iewes which were of Aſia (when they ſawe him in the Temple) moued all the people, and * layde handes on him, 29 For they had ſeene before Trophimus an Epheſian with him in the citie, whome they ſuppoſed that Paul had brought into the Temple.

30 Then all the citie was moued, and the people ranne together: and they toke Paul, & drewe him out of the Temple, and forthwith the doores were ſhut.

33 Then the chiefe captaine came neere and toke him, and commanded him to be bounde with two chaines, and demanded who he was, and what he had done.

34 And one cryed this, another that, among the people. So when hee coulde not knowe the certaintie for the tumult, he commanded him to be ledde into the caſtle.

35 And when he came vnto the grieces, it was ſo that he was borne of the ſouldiers, for the violence of the people.

36 For the multitude of the people followed after, crying, Away with him.

21 Then he sayde vnto me, Depart: for I wil send thee farre hence vnto the Gentiles.
22 ¶ And they heard him vnto this worde, but then they lift vp their voyces, and said, Away with such a felow from the earth: for it is not meete that he shoulde liue.
23 And as they cryed and cast off their clothes, and threw dust into the ayre, 24 The chiefe captaine commanded him to be led into the Castle, and bade that he shoulde be scourged, and examined, that hee might knowe wherefore they cryed so on him.
25 And as they bound him with thongs, Paul sayde vnto the Centurion that stood by, Is it lawful for you to scourge one that is a [f] Romane, and not condemned?
26 Whē when the Centurion heard it, he went, and tolde the chiefe captaine, saying, Take heede what thou doest: for this man is a Romane.
27 Then the chiefe captaine came, and sayde to him, Tell mee, art thou a Romane? And he sayd, Yea.
28 And the chiefe captayne answered, With a great summe obtayned I this burgesship. Then Paul said, But I was [g] so borne.
29 Then straightway they departed frō him, which should haue examined him: and the chiefe captaine also was afraid, after he knewe that he was a Romane, and that he had bounde him.

2 Then the hie Priest Ananias commāded them that stood by, to smite him on the mouth.
3 Then sayde Paul to him, God [a] will smite thee, thou whited wall: for thou sittest to iudge me according to þ Law, and commandest thou me to be smitten contrary to the Law?
4 And they that stoode by, saide, Reuilest thou Gods hie Priest?
5 Then said Paul, I [b] knowe not, brethren, that he was þ hie Priest: for it is written, * Thou shalt not speake euil of the Ruler of thy people.
6 But when Paul perceyued that the one part were of the Sadducees, and the other of the Pharises, hee cryed in the Counsell, Men and brethren, * I am a Pharise, the sonne of a Pharise: I am accused of the hope and [c] resurrection of the dead.
7 And when he had sayd this, there was a dissension betweene the Pharises and the Sadducees, so that the multitude was diuided.
8 * For the Sadducees saye that there is no resurrection, neither Angel, nor spirit: but the Pharises confesse [d] both.
9 Then there was a great crie: and the Scribes of the Pharises part rose vp, and strone, saying, We finde none euil in this man: but if a spirite or an Angell hath spoken to him, let vs not fight against God.
10 And when there was a great dissension, the chiefe captaine, fearing least Paul should haue bene pulled in pieces of them, commanded the souldiers to go downe, and to take him from among them, and to bring him into the castle.

Mat. 22. 23.
d Vnderstanding both kindes, the Angels, and the spirits, which he concludeth vnder one, and the resurrection which is the other part.

12 And

12 And when the day was come, certain of the Iewes made an assemblie, and bound themselues with an [e]oth, saying, that they would neither eat nor drinke, til they had killed Paul.

13 And they were more then fourtie, which had made this conspiracie.

14 And they came to the chiefe Priests and Elders, and saide, We haue bound our selues with a solemne othe, that we will eate nothing, vntill we haue slaine Paul.

15 Now therefore, ye and the Counsel signifie to the chief captaine, that he bring him foorth vnto you to morowe, as though yee would knowe some thing more perfectly of him, and we, or euer he come nere, will be readie to kill him.

16 But when Pauls sisters [f] sonne heard of their laying awayt, he went, & entred into the castle, and told Paul.

17 And Paul called one of the Centurions vnto him, & saide, Bring this yong man vnto the chiefe captaine: for he hath a certaine thing to shew him.

18 So he tooke him, and brought him to the chiefe captaine, and sayde, Paul the prisoner called me vnto him, and praied me to bring this yong man vnto thee, which hath some thing to say vnto thee.

19 Then the chiefe captaine tooke him by the hand, and went apart with him alone, and asked him, What hast thou to shewe me?

20 And he sayd, The Iewes haue conspired to desire thee, that thou wouldest bring foorth Paul to morowe vnto the Counsel, as though they would inquire somewhat of him more perfectly.

21 But let them not perswade thee: for there lie in waite for him of them more then fourtie men, which haue bounde themselues with an othe, that they will neither eate nor drinke, till they haue killed him: and now are they readie, and wait for thy promise.

22 The chiefe captaine then let the yong man depart, and charged him to speake it to no man, that he had [g] shewed him these things.

23 And he called vnto him two certaine Centurions, saying, Make readie two hundreth souldiers, that they may go to Cesarea, and horsmen three score and ten, and two hundreth with dartes, at the third houre of the night, 24 And let them make readie an horse [h] Paul being set on, may be brought safe vnto Felix the Gouernour.

25 And hee wrote an [i] epistle in this maner:

26 Claudius Lysias, vnto the most noble Gouernour Felix sendeth greeting.

27 As this man was taken of [k] Iewes, and should haue bene killed of them, I came vpon them with the garison, and rescued him, [l] perceiuing that hee was a Romane.

28 And when I would haue knowne the cause, wherefore they accused him, I brought him forth into their counsell.

29 There I perceiued that he was accused of questions of their Lawe, but had no crime worthie of death, or of bondes.

30 And when it was shewed me, howe that the Iewes layde wayte for the man, I sent him straightway to thee, & commanded his accusers to speake before thee the thinges that they had against him. Farewell.

31 Then the souldiers as it was commanded them, tooke Paul, and brought him by night to Antipatris.

32 And the next day, they left the horsme to go with him, and returned vnto the Castle.

33 Nowe when they came to Cesarea, they deliuered the epistle to the Gouernour, & presented Paul also vnto him.

34 So when the Gouernour had read it, he asked of what [i] prouince hee was: and when he vnderstoode that hee was of Cilicia, 35 I will heare thee, saide he, when thine accusers also are come, and commaunded him to be kept in Herodes iudgement hall.

CHAP. XXIIII.

10 Paul being accused, answereth for his life and doctrine against his accusers. 25 Felix appointeth him, thinking to haue a bribe, 28 And after leaueth him in prison.

NOw after fiue dayes, Ananias the hie Priest came downe with the Elders, and with Tertullus a certaine Oratour, which appeared before the Gouernour against Paul.

2 And when hee was called foorth, Tertullus began to accuse him, saying, Seeing that we haue obteined great quietnes thrugh thee, and that many worthie thinges are done vnto this nation through thy prouidence,

3 We acknowledge it wholy, and in all places, most noble Felix, with all thanks.

4 But that I be not tedious vnto thee, I pray thee, that thou wouldest heare vs of thy courtesie a fewe wordes.

5 Certainely we haue found this man a pestilent fellow, & a mouer of sedition among all the Iewes throughout the worlde, and a chiefe maintener of the [b] sect of the [c] Nazarites:

6 And hath gone about to pollute the Temple: therefore we tooke him, and would haue iudged him according to our Lawe:

7 But the [d] chiefe captaine Lysias came vpon vs, and with great violence tooke him out of our handes,

8 Commanding his accusers to come to thee: of whom thou mayst (if thou wilt inquire) know all these things whereof we accuse him.

9 And the Iewes likewise affirmed, saying that it was so.

10 Then Paul, after that the gouernour had beckened vnto him that he shoulde speake, answered, I do the more gladly e The word signifieth cursing, as when a man either sweareth, voweth or wisheth himselfe to die, or to be giuen to the deuil, except he bring his purpose to passe.

f This declareth that God hath so many meanes to deliuer his children out of danger, as there are creatures in ỹ world, so that the aduersaries cannot conspire so craftily against thē, but he hath infinite meanes to defeat their wicked practises.

g This letter was written partely in the fauour of Paul that his aduersaries might not oppresse him.

h The captaine dissembleth to commend his owne diligence: for he did not knowe that Paul was a Romane before he had rescued him, and giuen him to be straitly examined.

i By this name ỹ Romanes called euery countrey which they had subdued.

a For Felix by his diligence had taken Eleazarus the captaine of the murtherers, & put the Egyptian to flight, which raised vp tumultes in Iudea: for these the oratour praiseth him: otherwise he was both cruel & couetous, reade Ioseph. lib. 20. d Or, captaine of a thousand.

answere for my selfe, for as much as I knowe that thou hast beene of many yeres a [d] iudge vnto this [e] nation, 11 Seeing that thou mayest knowe, that there are but twelue daies since I came vp [f] to worship in Ierusalem.
12 And they neither found me in ꝑ Temple disputing with any man, neither making vproare among the people, neither in the Synagogues, nor in the citie.
13 Neither can they proue the thinges, whereof they now accuse me.
14 But this I confesse vnto thee, that after the way (which they call s heresie) so worship I the God of my fathers, beleeuing all things which are written in the Law and the Prophets,
15 And haue hope towards God, that the resurrection of the dead which they themselues looke for also, shalbe both of iust and vniust.
16 And herein I endeuour my selfe to haue alway a cleare conscience toward God, and toward men.
17 Now after [h] many yeres, I came and brought * almes to my nation and offrings.
18 * At what time, certaine Iewes of Asia found me purified in the Temple, 19 Neither with multitude, nor with tumult.
20 Who [i] ought to haue bene present before thee, and accuse mee, if they had ought against me.
21 Or let these themselues say, if they haue found any vniust thing in mee, while I stoode in the Counsell, 22 Except it bee for this one voyce, that I cried standing among them, * Of the resurrection of the dead am I accused of you this day.
23 Now when Felix heard these things, he deferred them, & saide, When I shall more perfectly know the things which concerne this [s] way, by the comming of Lysias the chiefe Captaine, I will decide your matter.
24 Then he commanded a Centurion to keepe Paul, & that he should haue ease, and that he shoulde forbid none of his acquaintance to minister vnto him, or to come vnto him.
25 ¶ And after certaine dayes, came Felix with his wife Drusilla, which was a [k] Iewesse, and he called forth Paul, and heard him of the faith in Christ.
26 And as hee disputed of righteousnes, and temperance, & of the iudgement to come, Felix [l] trembled, & answered, Go thy way for this time, & when I haue conuenient time, I will call for thee.
27 He hoped also that money should haue bene giuen him of Paul, that he might loose him: wherefore he sent for him the oftener, and communed with him.
28 When two yeres were expired, Porcius Festus came into Felix roome: and Felix willing to [s] get fauour of ꝑ Iewes, left Paul bound.

d Or, gouernor: for before this he ruled Trachonites, Batanea, & Gaulanites.
e So that thou art not ignorant of their fashions.
f Not that his purpose was to worship there, but the Iewes so found him by the counsel of others: for he thought to haue wonne the simple brethren, & to stop the enemies mouthes.

CHAP. XXV.

1 The Iewes accuse Paul before Festus. 8 He answereth for himselfe, 11 And appealeth vnto the Emperour. 14 His matter is rehearsed before Agrippa, 23 And he is brought forth.

NOw when Festus was then come into the prouince, after three daies he went vp from Cesarea vnto Ierusalem.
2 Then the hie Priest, and the chiefe of the Iewes appeared before him against Paul: and they besought him,
3 And [a] desired fauour against him, that he would send for him to Ierusalem: & they laid waite to kill him by the way.
4 But Festus answered, ꝑ Paul should be kept at Cesarea, and that he himselfe would shortly depart thither.
5 Let them therefore, saide he, which among you are [b] able, come downe with vs: and if there be any wickednes in the man, let them accuse him.
6 ¶ Now when he had tarried among them no more then ten dayes, he went downe to Cesarea, and the next day sate in the iudgement seate, and commanded Paul to be brought.
7 And when he was come, the Iewes which were come from Ierusalē, stoode about him, and laide many & grieuous complaints against Paul, which they could not proue,
8 For answered, [c] that he had neither offended any thing against the Law of the Iewes, neither against the Temple, nor against Cesar.
9 Yet Festus willing to [s] get fauour of the Iewes, answered Paul, and sayde, Wilt thou go vp to Ierusalem, & there be iudged of these things before me?
10 Then said Paul, I stand at [d] Cesars iudgement seat, where I ought to bee [e] iudged: to the Iewes I haue done no wrong, as thou very well knowest.
11 For if I haue done wrong, or committed any thing worthy of death, I refuse not to die: but if there bee none of these things whereof they accuse me, no man can deliuer me to them: I appeale vnto Cesar.
12 Then when Festus had spoken with [f] the Counsell, he answered, Hast thou appealed vnto Cesar? vnto Cesar shalt thou go.
13 ¶ And after certain dayes, king Agrippa and [g] Bernice came downe to Cesarea to salute Festus.
14 And when they had remained there many dayes, Festus proposed Pauls cause vnto the king, saying, There is a certaine man left in prison by Felix.
15 Of whome when I came to Ierusalem, the hie Priests and Elders of the Iewes informed me, & desired to haue iudgement against him.
16 To whom I answered, that it is not the maner of the Romanes for fauour to deliuer any man to the death, before that he which is accused, haue the accusers before him, and haue place to defend a The enuious sute of ꝑ Priests against Paul.

b Which may most commodiously.
c Paul defendeth himselfe in iudgement.
d Seeing himself betrayed by the ambition of the iudge, he desireth that in consideration of his freedome, he may be sent to Rome.

defend him selfe, concerning the crime.
17 Therefore when they were come hither, without delay the day following I sate on the iudgement seate, and commanded the man to be brought forth.
18 Against whome when the accusers stood vp, they brought no crime of such things as I suppose:
19 But had certayne questions against him of their owne [h] superstition, and of one Iesus which was dead, whome Paul affirmed to be aliue.
20 And because I doubted of such maner of question, I asked him whether he would goe to Ierusalem, and there be iudged of these things.
21 But because he appealed to be reserued to the examination of Augustus, I commanded him to be kept, til I might send him to Cesar.
22 Then Agrippa saide vnto Festus, I would also heare the man my selfe. To morow, saide he, thou shalt heare him.
23 And on the morowe when Agrippa was come and Bernice with great pompe, and were entred into the [k] Common hall with the chiefe captaines and chiefe men of the citie, at Festus commandement Paul was brought forth.
24 And Festus said, King Agrippa, and all men which are present with vs, ye see this man, about whom all the multitude of the Iewes haue called vpon me, both at Ierusalem, & here, crying, that he ought not to liue any longer.
25 Yet haue I found nothing worthie of death, that he hath committed: neuertheles, seeing that he hath appealed to Augustus, I haue determined to sende him.
26 Of whom I haue no certaine thing to write vnto my [l] lord: wherefore I haue brought him forth vnto you, and specially vnto thee, King Agrippa, that after examination had, I might haue somewhat to write.
27 For me thinketh it vnreasonable to send a prisoner, & not to shewe the causes which are laied against him.

h This word doeth also signifie religion: but he speaketh in contempt of the true doctrine.

k Or, auditorie.

l Flatterers first vsed to call Tyrants by this name, and after it so growed into vse, that vertuous Princes refused it not, as appeareth by Plinies epistles to Traiane.

CHAP. XXVI.

1 The innocencie of Paul is approued by rehearsing his conuersation. 25 His modest answere against the iniurie of Festus.

1 THen Agrippa sayde vnto Paul, Thou art permitted to speake for thy selfe. So Paul stretched forth the hand, and answered for him selfe.
2 I thinke my selfe happie, King Agrippa, because I shall answere this day before thee of all the things whereof I am accused of the Iewes:
3 Chiefly, because thou hast knowledge of all customes, and questions which are among the Iewes: wherefore, I beseeche thee, [a] to heare me patiently.
4 As touching my life from my childehood, and what it was from the beginning among mine owne nation at Ierusalem, know all the Iewes.
5 Which knewe me heretofore (if they would testifie) that after the most straite [b] sect of our religion I liued a Pharise.
6 And now I stand and am accused for the hope of the promes made of God vnto our fathers.
7 Whereunto our twelue tribes instantly seruing God day and night, hope to come: for the which hopes sake, O king Agrippa, I am accused of the Iewes.
8 Why shoulde it be thought a thing incredible vnto you, that God shoulde rayse againe the dead?
9 I also verely thought in my selfe, that I ought to do many cõtrarie things against the Name of Iesus of Nazaret.
10 * Which thing I also did in Ierusalem: for many of the Saints I shut vp in prison, hauing receiued authoritie of the high Priestes, and when they were put to death, I [c] gaue my sentence.
11 And I punished them throughout all the Synagogues, and compelled them to blaspheme, and being more mad against them, I persecuted them, euen vnto strange cities.
12 At which time, euẽ as I went to * Damascus with authoritie, and commission from the high Priests, 13 At midday, O King, I saw in the way a light from heauen, passing the brightnes of the sunne, shine round about me, and them which went with me.
14 So when we were al fallen to y earth, I heard a voyce speaking vnto me, and saying in the Hebrewe tongue, * Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? It is hard for thee to kicke against pricks.
15 Then I saide, Who art thou, Lorde? And he sayde, I am Iesus whom thou persecutest.
16 But rise and stand vp on thy feete: for I haue appeared vnto thee for this purpose, to appoint thee a minister and a witnesse, both of the things which thou hast seene, and of the things in the which I will appeare vnto thee,
17 Deliuering thee from the [d] people, and from the Gentiles, vnto whom now I send thee,
18 To [e] open their eyes, that they may turne from darknes to light, and from the power of Satan vnto God, that they may receiue forgiuenes of sinnes, and inheritance among them, which are sanctified by faith in me.
19 Wherefore, King Agrippa, I was not disobedient vnto the heauenly vision, 20 * But shewed first vnto them of Damascus, and at Ierusalem, & throughout all the coastes of Iudea, and then to the Gentiles, that they shoulde repent, and turne to God, & do workes worthie amendement of life.
21 For this cause the Iewes caught me in the * Temple, and went about to kill me.
22 Neuertheless, I obtayned helpe of God, and continue vnto this day, witnessing both to small & to great, saying b Paul speaketh of this sect according to the peoples estimation, who preferred it as most holy aboue all others: for their doctrine was least corrupt.

23 To wit, that Christ should suffer, & that he shoulde be the first that shoulde rise from the dead, and shoulde shewe light vnto the people, and to the Gentiles.
24 And as he thus answered for himselfe, Festus saide with a loude voyce, Paul, thou art beside thy self: much learning doeth make thee mad.
25 But he saide, I am not mad, O noble Festus, but I speake þ words of trueth and sobernes.
26 For þ king knoweth of these things, before whom also I speake boldely: for I am perswaded that f none of these things are hid from him: for this thing was not done in a corner.
27 O king Agrippa, beleuest thou the Prophets? I know that thou beleuest.
28 Then Agrippa sayde vnto Paul, Almost thou perswadest me to become a Christian.
29 Then Paul sayde, I woulde to God that not onely thou, but also all that heare me to day, were both almost, and altogether such as I am, except these bonds.
30 And when hee had thus spoken, the king rose vp, and the gouernour, and Bernice, and they that sate with them.
31 And when they were gone apart, they talked betweene themselues, saying, This man doeth nothyng worthie of death, nor of bonds.
32 Then sayde Agrippa vnto Festus, This man might haue bene loosed, if he had not appealed vnto Cesar.

f He knew that the Law and the Prophets were of God, but he did not vnderstand the true applying of the same.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 Pauls dangerous voyage and his companie toward Rome. 44 How, and where they arriue.

1 NOw when it was concluded, that we shoulde saple into Italie, they deliuered both Paul, & certaine other prisoners vnto a Centurio named Julius, of the band of Augustus.
2 And * we entred into a shippe of Adramyttium purposing to saile by þ coastes of Asia, and launched forth, and had Aristarchus of Macedonia, a Thessalonian, with vs.
3 And the next daye wee arriued at Sidon: and Julius courteously intreated Paul, and gaue him libertie to goe vnto his friendes, that they might refresh him.
4 And from thence we launched, and sayled hard by a Cyprus, because þ winds were contrary.
5 Then sailed we ouer the sea by Cilicia, and Pamphylia, and came to Myra, a citie in Lycia.
6 And there the Centurion found a ship of Alexandria, saylyng into Italie, and put vs therein.
7 And when we had sailed slowly many dayes, and scarce were come against Gnidum, because the winde suffred vs not, we sailed hard by b Candie, neere to Salmone,
8 And with much a doe sailed beyond it, and came vnto a certayne place called the Faire hauens, neere vnto the which was the citie Lasea.
9 So when much time was spent, and saylyng was now ieopardous, because also the c Fast was nowe passed, Paul exhorted them,
10 And said vnto them, Syrs, I see that this voyage will be with hurt & much domage, not of the lading and ship onely, but also of our liues.
11 Neuertheless the Centurion beleeued rather the gouernour and the master of the ship, then those thinges which were spoken of Paul.
12 And because þ hauen was not commodious to winter in, many tooke counsell to depart thence, if by any meanes they might attaine to Phenice, there to winter, which is an hauen of Candie, and lyeth towarde the Southwest and by West, and Northwest and by West.
13 And when the Southerne winde blew softly, they supposing to obteyne their purpose, loosed neerer, and sayled by Candie.
14 But anon after, there arose by it a stormie winde called d Euroclydon.
15 And when the ship was caught, and could not resist the winde, we let her go, and were caried away.
16 And we ranne vnder a litle Ile named e Clauda, and had much a do to get the boat.
17 Which they tooke vp & vsed all helpe, vndergirding the ship, fearing least they should haue fallen into Syrtes, & they let downe the f vessell, and so were caryed.
18 The nert daye when we were tossed with an exceeding tempest, they lightened the ship.
19 And the thirde daye we cast out with our owne handes the takling of the ship.
20 And when neyther sunne nor starres in many dayes appeared, and no small tempest lay vpon vs, all hope that wee should be saued, was then taken away.
21 But after long abstinence, Paul stood forth in the middes of them, and saide, Syrs, ye should haue hearkened to me, and not haue loosed from Candie: so shoulde ye haue g gayned this hurt and losse.
22 But nowe I exhort you to be of good courage: for there shalbe no losse of any mans life among you, saue of the ship onely.
23 For there stoode by me this night the Angell of h God, whose I am, & whom I serue, 24 Saying, Feare not, Paul: for thou must be brought before Cesar: and lo, God hath giuen vnto b thee al that saile with thee.
25 Wherefore, sirs, be of good courage: for for i I beleeue God, that it shall be so as it hath bene tolde me.

26 Howbeit, wee must bee cast into a certaine Ilande.
27 And when the fourteenth night was come, as we were caried to and fro in the k Adriaticall sea about midnight, the shipmen deemed that some countrey approched vnto them,
28 And sounded, and found it twenty fathoms: and when they had gone a little further, they sounded againe, and found fifteene fathoms.
29 Then fearing lest they should haue fallen into some rough places, they cast foure ancres out of the sterne, & wished that the day were come.
30 Now as the mariners were about to flee out of the ship, and had let downe the boat into the sea vnder a colour as though they would haue cast ancres out of the foreship, 31 Paul said vnto the Centurion, and the souldiers, Except these abide in þ ship, l ye cannot be safe.
32 Then the souldiers cut off the ropes of the boat, and let it fall away.
33 And when it began to be day, Paul exhorted them al to take meate, saying, This is the fourteenth day that ye haue taried, and continued m fasting, receiuing nothing.
34 Wherefore I exhort you to take meat: for this is for your safegarde: for there shall not a an heare fall from the head of any of you.
35 And when hée had thus spoken, hée tooke bread, and gaue thankes to God, in presence of them al, and brake it, and began to eate.
36 Then were they all of good courage, & also tooke meate.
37 Now we were in the ship in all two hundreth, three score and sixteene soules.
38 And whe they had eaten inough, they lightened the ship, & cast out the wheat into the sea.
39 And when it was day, they knew not the countrey, but they spied a certaine créke with a bank, into the which they were minded (if it were possible) to thrust in the ship.
40 So when they had taken vp the ancres, they committed the ship vnto the sea, and losed the rudder bondes, & hoysed vp the maine saile to the winde, & drewe to the shore.
41 And when they fel into a place, where two seas mette, they thrust in the ship: and the fore parte sticke fast, and could not bee moued, but the hinder part was broken with the violence of the waues.
42 Then the souldiers counsell was o to kill the prisoners, least any of them, when hee had swommne out, should flee away.
43 But the Centurion willing to saue Paul, staied them from this counsell, & commaded that they that could swim, should cast themselues first into the sea, and go out to land:
44 And the other, some on boardes, and some on certaine pieces of the ship: and so it came to passe, that they came all safe to land.

2 And the Barbarians shewed vs no litle kindnesse: for they kindled a fire, and receiued vs euerie one, because of the present shoure, and because of the colde.
3 And when Paul had gathered a nomber of stickes, and laid them on the b fire, there came a viper out of the heate, and lept on his hand.
4 Nowe when the Barbarians saw the worme hang on his hand, they sayde among themselues, This man surely is a c murtherer, whom, though hee hath escaped the sea, yet d Vengeance hath not suffered to liue.
5 But he shooke off the worme into the fire, and felt no harme.
6 Howbeit they wayted when he should haue swollen, or fallen downe dead suddenly: but after they had looked a great while, and saw no inconuenience come to him, they changed their mindes, and said, That he was a e God.
7 In the same quarters, the chiefe man of the Ile (whose name was Publius) had possessions: the same receyued vs, and lodged vs three daies courteously.
8 And so it was, þ the father of Publius lay sicke of the feuer, & of a bloudy flix: to whom Paul entred in, and when he prayed, he layd his handes on him, and healed him.
9 When this then was done, other also in the ile, which had diseases, came to him and were healed,
10 Which also did vs great honour: and when we departed, they laded vs with thinges necessarie.
11 ¶ Now after three moneths we departed in a ship of Alexandria, which had wintred in the ile, whose badge was f Castor and Pollux.
12 And when wee arriued at Syracuse, we taried there three daies.
13 And from thence we fet a compasse, & came to Rhegium: and after one daye, the South winde blewe, & we came the second day to Putioli, 14 Where we found brethren, and were desired to tarie with them seuen dayes, and so we went toward Rome.
15 ¶ And from thence, when the brethren heard of vs, they came to meete a Now called Malta.

b Or, heate.

c Such is the peruerse iudgement of men, þ they condemne such as they see in any affliction.

c Whome they made a goddesse and called her Dice, or Nemesis.

d Beholde the extremitie of these infidels, & how much they are bent to superstition: for after one rage and errour they fel into another.

e These the Painims fained to be Iupiters children, and goddes of the sea.

vs at the Market of Appius, and at the [f] Three [g] tauernes, whome when Paul saw, he thanked God, and waxed bold.

16 So when we came to Rome, the Centurion deliuered the prisoners to the generall Captaine: but Paul was [e] suffered to dwell by himselfe with a souldier that kept him.

17 And the third day after, Paul called the chiefe of the Iewes together: and when they were come, he said vnto them, Men and brethren, though I haue committed nothing against the people, or Lawes of the fathers, yet was I deliuered prisoner from Ierusalem into the handes of the Romanes.

18 Who when they had examined me, would haue let me go, because there was no cause of death in me.

19 But when the Iewes spake cõtrarie, I was constrained to appeale vnto Cesar, not because I had ought to accuse my nation of.

20 For this cause therefore haue I called for you, to see you, and to speake with you: for the hope [h] of Israels sake, I am bound with this chaine.

21 Then they said vnto him, We neither receiued letters out of Iudea concerning thee, neither came any of the brethre that shewed or spake any euill of thee.

22 But we will heare of thee what thou thinkest: for as concerning this sect, we knowe that euery where it is spoken against.

23 And when they had appointed him a daye, there came many vnto him into his lodging, to whom he expounded and testified the [i] kingdome of God, & preached vnto them concerning Iesus, both out of the Law of Moses and out of the Prophets, from morning to night.

24 And some were perswaded with the things, which were spoken, and some beleeued not.

25 Therefore whē they agreed not among themselues, they departed, after that Paul had spoken one word, to wit, Well spake the holy Ghost by Esaias the Prophet vnto our fathers, 26 Saying, [k] Go vnto this people, & say, By hearing ye shall heare, and shall not vnderstand, and seeing ye shall see, and not perceiue.

27 For the heart of this people is waxed fat, and their eares are dull of hearing, and with their eyes haue they winked, least they should see with their eyes, and heare with their eares, and vnderstand with their hearts, & should returne that I might [l] heale them.

28 Be it knowen therefore vnto you, that this saluation of God is sent to the Gentiles, and they shall heare it.

29 And when he had said these things, the Iewes departed, & had great reasoning among themselues.

30 And Paul remained two yeres full in an house hired for him self, and receiued all that came in vnto him, 31 Preaching the kingdome of God, and teaching those thinges, which concerne the Lord Iesus Christ, with all boldnes of speach, without let.

f These places were distant frõ Rome a dayes iourney, or thereabout.

g Or, shoppes.

No dout the captaine vnderstoode both by Festus letters, & also by the report of the vndercaptaine, that Paul had committed no fault.

THE EPISTLE OF THE APOSTLE

Paul to the Romanes.

THE ARGVMENT.

THe great mercie of God is declared towarde man in Christ Iesus, whose righteousnes is made ours through faith. For when man by reason of his owne corruption could not fulfill the Lawe, yea, committed most abominably, both against the Law of God and nature, the infinite bountie of God, mindful of his promes made to his seruant Abraham, the father of al beleeuers, ordeined that mans saluatiõ should only stand in the perfect obedience of his Sonne Iesus Christ: so that not only the circumcised Iewes, but also the vncircumcised Gentiles should be saued by faith in him: euen as Abraham before he was circumcised, was counted iust onely through faith, and yet afterward receiued circumcision, as a seale or badge of the same righteousnes by faith. And to the intent, that none should thinke that the couenant which God made to him, & his posteritie, was not performed: either because the Iewes receiued not Christ, (which was the blessed seede) or elst beleeued not that he was the true redemer, because he did not only, or at least more notably perserue the Iewes, the examples of Ismael and Esau declare, that al are not Abrahams posteritie, which come of Abraham according to the flesh: but also the verie strangers and Gentiles grafted in by faith, are made heires of the promes. The cause whereof is the onely will of God: forasmuch as of his free mercie he electeth some to be saued, and of his iust iudgement reiecteth others to bee damned, as appeareth by the testimonies of the Scriptures. Yet to the intent that the Iewes should not be too much beaten downe, nor the Gentiles too much puffed vp, the example of Elias proueth, that God hath yet his elect euen of the natural posteritie of Abraham, though it appeareth not so to mans eie: & for that preferment that the Gentiles haue, it proceedeth of the liberall mercie of God, which he at length wil stretche toward the Iewes againe, and so gather the whole Israel (which is his Church) of them both. This ground worke of faith and doctrine laid, instructions of Christian maners folow: teaching euery man to walke in roundnes of conscience in his vocation, with al patience & humblenes, reuerencing and obeying the magistrate, exercising charitie, putting off the olde man, and putting on Christ, bearing with the weake, and louing one another according to Christs example. Finally S. Paul after his commendations to the brethren exhorteth them to vnitie, and to flee false preachers and flatterers, and so concludeth with a prayer.

CHAP. I.

1 Paul sheweth by whome, and to what purpose he is called. 13 His ready will. 16 What the Gospell is. 20 The vse of creatures and wherefore they were made. 21.24 The ingratitude, perverstie and punishment of all mankinde.

1 PAul a seruaunt of Iesus Christ, called to be an Apostle, put apart to preache the Gospell of God,

2 (Which her had promised afore by his Prophets in the holie Scriptures)

3 Concerning his Sonne Iesus Christ our Lord (which was made of the seed of Dauid according to the flesh,

4 And declared mightily to be the Sonne of God, touching the Spirit of sanctification by the resurrection from the dead)

5 By whome wee haue receiued grace and Apostleship (that obedience might be giuen vnto the faith) in his Name among all the Gentiles,

6 Among whome ye be also the called of Iesus Christ:

7 To all you that be at Rome beloued of God, called to be Saintes: Grace be with you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ.

8 First I thanke my God through IESVS Christ for you all, because your faith is published throughout the whole worlde.

9 For God is my witnesse (whome I serue in my spirit in the Gospell of his Sonne) that without ceasing I make mention of you

10 Alwayes in my prayers, beseeching, that by some meanes one time or other I might haue a prosperous iourney by the will of God, to come vnto you.

11 For I long to see you, that I might bestowe among you some spiritual gift, to strengthen you, 12 That is, that I might be comforted together with you, through our mutual faith, both yours and mine.

13 Howbe my brethren, I would that ye should not bee ignorant, howe that I haue often times purposed to come vnto you (but haue been let hitherto) that I might haue some fruite also among you, as I haue among the other Gentiles.

14 I am debter both to the Grecians, and to the Barbarians, both to the wise men and vnto the vnwise.

15 Therefore, as much as in me is, I am ready to preach the Gospell to you also that are at Rome.

16 For I am not ashamed of the Gospell of Christ: for it is the power of God vnto saluation to euerie one that beleeueth, to the Iewe first, and also to the Grecian.

17 For by it the righteousnes of God is reuealed, from faith to faith: as it is written, The iust shal liue by faith.

18 For the wrath of God is reuealed from heauen against all vngodlinesse, and vnrighteousnesse of men, which withhold the trueth in vnrighteousnes, 19 For asmuch as that, which may bee knowen of God, is manifest in them: for God hath shewed it vnto them.

20 For the inuisible thinges of him, that is, his eternall power and Godhead, are seene by the creation of the worlde, being considered in his workes, to the intent that they should be without excuse:

21 Because that when they knew God, they glorified him not as God, neither were thankefull, but became vaine in their imaginations, and their foolish heart was full of darkenes.

22 When they professed them selues to be wise, they became fooles.

23 For they turned the glorie of the incorruptible God to the similitude of the image of a corruptible man, and of birdes, and foure footed beastes, and of creeping things.

24 Wherefore also God gaue them vp to their hearts lusts, vnto vncleanes, to defile their own bodies betweene them selues:

25 Which turned the trueth of God vnto a lie, and worshipped and serued the creature, forsaking the Creator, which is blessed for euer, Amen.

26 For this cause GOD gaue them vp vnto vile affections: for euen their women did change the naturall vse into that which is against nature.

27 And likewise also the men left the naturall vse of the woman, and burned in their lust one toward another, & man with man wrought filthines, and receiued in them selues such recompence of their errour, as was meete.

28 For as they regarded not to knowe God, euen so God deliuered them vp vnto a reprobate minde, to doe those things which are not conuenient,

29 Being full of all vnrighteousnes, fornication, wickednes, couetousnes, maliciousnes, full of enuie, of murther, of debate, of deceit, taking all things in the euill parte, whisperers,

30 Backebiters, haters of God, doers of wrong, proude, boasters, inuenters of euill thinges, disobedient to parents, without vnderstanding, couenant breakers, without naturall affection, such b Or, consent to them: which is the full measure of all iniquitie.

CHAP. II.

1 He feareth the hypocrites with Gods iudgement, 7 And comforteth the faithfull. 12 To beate downe all vaine pretence of ignorance, holines, and of alliance with God, he proueth al men to be sinners, 15 The Gentiles by their conscience, 17 The Iewes by the Lawe written.

1 THerefore thou art inexcusable, O man, whosoeuer thou art that [a] iudgest: * for in that that thou iudgest another, thou condemnest [b] thy selfe: for thou that iudgest, doest [c] same things.
2 But we knowe that the iudgement of God is according to [c] trueth, against them which commit such things.
3 And thinkest thou this, O thou man, that iudgest the which do such thinges, and doest the same, that thou shalt escape the iudgement of God?
4 Or despisest thou the riches of his bountifulnes, and *patience, and long sufferance, not knowing that the bountifulnes of God leadeth thee to repentance?
5 But thou, after thine hardnesse, and heart that can not repent, *heapest vnto thy selfe wrath against the day of [d] wrath, and of the declaration of the iust iudgment of God,
6 *Who wil reward euerie man according to his [e] workes:
7 That is, to them which by continuance in well doing seeke glorie, & honour, and immortalitie, eternall life:
8 But vnto them that are contentious and disobey the trueth, and obey vnrighteousnesse, shalbe indignation and wrath,
9 Tribulation and anguishe shalbe vpon the soule of euery man that doeth euil: of the Iewe first, and also of the [f] Grecian.
10 But to euery man that doeth good, shalbe glorie, and honour, and peace, to the Iewe first, and also to the Grecian.
11 For there is no * respect of [g] persons with God.
12 For as many as haue sinned without the Lawe, shall perish also [h] without the Lawe: and as many as haue sinned in the Lawe, shall be iudged by the Lawe, 13 (* For the hearers of the Lawe are not righteous before God: but the doers of the Lawe shalbe iustified.
14 For when the Gentiles which haue not the lawe, do by nature the thinges contained in the Lawe, they hauing not the Lawe, are a Lawe vnto them selues, 15 Which shewe the effect of the Lawe written in their [i] hearttes, their conscience also bearing witnesse, and their thoughts accusing one another, or excusing,) 16 At the day when God shall iudge the secrets of men by Iesus Christ, according to my Gospel.
17 [k] Beholde, thou art called a Iewe, and restest in the Lawe, and * gloriest in God, 18 And knowest his will, and [l] allowest the thinges that are excellent, in that thou art instructed by the Lawe:
19 And perswadest thy selfe that thou art a guide of the blind, a light of them which are in darkenesse, 20 An instructer of them which lacke discretion, a teacher of the vnlearned, which hast the [l] fourme of knowledge, & of the trueth in the Law.
21 Thou therefore, which teachest another, teachest thou not thy selfe? thou that preachest, A man should not steale, doest thou steale?
22 Thou that sayest, A man should not commit adulterie, doest thou commit adulterie? thou that abhorrest idoles, committest thou sacriledge?
23 Thou that glorifiest in the Lawe, through breaking the Lawe dishonourest thou God?
24 For the Name of God is blasphemed among the Gentiles through you, * as it is written.
25 For circumcision verely is profitable, if thou doe the Lawe: but if thou bee a transgressour of the Law, thy [m] circumcision is made vncircumcision.
26 Therefore if the vncircumcision keepe the ordinances of the Lawe, shall not his vncircumcision bee counted for circumcision?
27 And shall not vncircumcision which is by nature (if it keepe the Lawe) [n] iudge thee, which by the [o] letter and circumcision art a transgressour of the Law?
28 For he is not a Iewe, which is one outward: neither is that circumcision, which is outward in the flesh:
29 But he is a Iewe which is one within, and the * circumcision is of the heart, in the [o] spirite, not in the letter, whose praise is not of men, but of God.

n In the inward man and heart.

CHAP. III.

Hauing graunted some prerogatiue to the Iewes, because of Gods free and stable promes, 10 He proueth by the Scriptures, both Iewes and Gentiles to be sinners, 21. 24 And to be iustified by grace through faith, and not by workes, 31 And so the Lawe to be established.

h He meaneth the Law, either writte or vnwritte, which commandeth or forbiddeth any thing, whose workes can not iustifie because we cannot performe them. Chap.1,17.

1 WHat is the the preferment of the Iewe? or what is the profit of circumcision?

2 Much every maner of way: for chiefly, because vnto them were committed the [a] oracles of God.

3 For what, though some did not beleeue? shal their [b] vnbelief make the [a] faith of God without effect?

4 God forbid: yea, let God be [c] true, and [c] every man a lyar, as it is written, [d] That thou mightest be [e] iustified in thy wordes, and ouercome, when thou art iudged.

5 Now if [f] our vnrighteousnes commend the righteousnes of God, what shal we say? Is God vnrighteous which punisheth? (I speake [g] as a man)

6 God forbid: els howe shall God iudge the worlde?

7 For if the veritie of God hath more abounded through my lie vnto his glory, why am I yet condemned as a sinner?

8 And (as we are blamed, and as some affirme that we say) why doe we not euill, that good may come thereof? whose damnation is iust.

9 What then? [h] are we more excellent? No, in no wise: for we haue already proued, that all, both Iewes and Gentiles are [c] vnder sinne, 10 As it is written, [i] There is none righteous, no not one.

11 There is none that vnderstandeth: there is none that seeketh God.

12 They haue all gone out of the waye: they haue bene made altogether vnprofitable: there is none that doeth good, no not one.

13 [k] Their throte is an open sepulchre: they haue vsed their tongues to deceit: [l] the poyson of aspes is vnder their lips.

14 [m] Whose mouth is full of cursing and bitternesse.

15 [n] Their feete are swift to shed blood.

16 Destruction and calamitie are in their waynes,

17 And the [o] way of peace they haue not known.

18 [p] The feare of God is not before their eyes.

19 Nowe we knowe that whatsoeuer the [q] Lawe sayth, it sayth it to them which are vnder the Lawe, that euery mouth may be stopped, and all the worlde be [r] culpable before God.

20 [s] Therefore by the workes of the [t] Law shall no flesh be iustified in his sight: for by the Lawe commeth the knowledge of sinne.

21 But now is the [u] righteousnes of God made manifest without the Law, hauing witnesse of the Law & of the Prophets, 22 To wit, the righteousnes of God by the faith of Iesus Christ, vnto al, and vpon all that beleeue.

23 For there is no difference: for all haue sinned, and are [i] deprined of the glory of God,

24 And are iustified freely by his grace, through the redemption that is in Christ Iesus,

25 Who God hath set forth to be a reconciliation through faith in his blood, to declare his [k] righteousnes, by the forgiuenes of the sinnes that are passed, through the patience of God, 26 To shewe at this time his righteousnes, that he might be iust, and a iustifier of him which is of the faith of Iesus.

27 Where is then the reioycing? It is excluded. By what Law? of workes? Nay: but by the [l] Lawe of faith.

28 Therefore we conclude, that a man is iustified by faith without the workes of the Law.

29 God, is he the God of the Iewes only, and not of the Gentiles also? Yes, euen of the Gentiles also.

30 For it is one God who shal iustifie circumcision [m] of faith, and vncircumcision through faith.

31 Do we then make the Law of none effect through fayth? God forbid: yea [n] we establishe the Law.

[i] The word signifieth them which are left behinde in the race and are not able to runne to the marke, that is, to euerlasting life, which here is called the glorie of God.

[k] Or fidelitie in performing his promes.

[l] The Lawe of faith is Gospell which offereth saluatiō with condition (if thou beleeuest) which condition also Christ freely giueth to vs. So the Law is (if thou doest all these things) which only Christ hath fulfilled for vs.

[m] Meaning, that they are all iustified by one meanes, and if they wil haue any difference, it onely standeth in wordes: for in effect there is none.

[n] The doctrine of faith is the ornament of the Lawe: for it embraceth Christ, who by his death hath satisfied the Law: so that the Law which coulde not bring vs to saluation by reason of our owne corruption, is now made effectual to vs by Christ Iesus.

CHAP. IIII.

1.17 He declareth that iustification is a free gift, euen by them themselues, of whom the Iewes most boasted, as of Abraham and of Dauid, 15 And also by the office of the Lawe and faith.

WHat shall we saye then, that Abraham our father hath founde [a] concerning the flesh?

2 For if Abraham were iustified by workes, he hath wherein to [b] reioyce, but not with God.

3 For what sayth the Scripture? Abraham beleeued God, and it was counted to him for righteousnesse.

4 Now to him that [c] worketh, the wages is not counted by fauour, but by dette:

5 But to him that [d] worketh not, but beleeueth in him that [e] iustifieth the vngodly, his faith is counted for rightousnes.

6 Euen as Dauid declareth the blessednes of the man, vnto whom God imputeth righteousnes without workes, saying,

7 [f] Blessed are they, whose iniquities are forgiuen, & whose sinnes are couered.

8 Blessed is the man, to whom the Lord imputeth not sinne.

9 Came this blessednes then vpon the [g] circumcision onely, or vpon the vncircumcision also? For we say, that faith was imputed vnto Abraham for righteousnes.

10 Howe was it then imputed? when he was circumcised, or vncircumcised? not Psal.32.1.

[f] Vnder this excellent sacramēt he comprehendeth the whole Lawe.

Gen.17.11.

g This may not be vnderstand of ỹ fruites of faith: (for thereof ỹ Apostle doth here after expressely intreat) but of the faith it selfe.

h In fulfilling the workes thereof.

i And thinke to performe ỹ same by workes.

k If it be requisite to fulfill the law for him that shalbe of Abrahams inheritãce, then it is in vaine to beleeue the promise: for it serueth to no vse l Through our default, and not of it selfe.

m That is, no breach of commandement.

o By a spirituall kinred which God chiefly accepteth.

not when he was circumcised, but whe he was vncircumcised.

11 *After he receiued the signe of circumcision, as the seale of the righteousnes of the fayth which he had, when he was vncircumcised, that he shoulde be the father of all them that beleeue, not being circumcised, ỹ righteousnes might be imputed to them also,

12 And the father of circumcision, not vnto them only which are of the circumcision, but vnto them also that walke in the s steps of the fayth of our father Abraham, which he had when hee was vncircumcised.

13 For the promes that hee should be the heire of the worlde, was not giuen to Abraham, or to his seede, through the b Lawe, but through the righteousnesse of fayth.

14 For if they which i are of the Lawe, be k heires, fayth is made voyde, & the promise is made of none effect.

15 For the Lawe causeth l wyath: for where no Lawe is, there is no m transgression.

16 Therefore it is by fayth, ỹ it might come by grace, and the promes might be sure to n al the seede, not to that only which is of the Law: but also to that which is of the fayth of Abraham, who is the father of vs all,

17 (As it is written, * I haue made thee a father of many nations (euen o before God whõ he beleeued, who quickeneth the p dead, & calleth those things which be not, as though they were.

18 Which Abraham aboue hope, beleeued vnder hope, that he shoulde be the father of many nations: according to that which was spoken to him, * So shal thy seede bee.

19 And he q not weake in the fayth, considered not his owne bodie, which was nowe dead, being almost an hundreth peere olde, neyther r the deadnes of Sara womb.

20 Neither did he doute of the promes of GOD thyough vnbeliefe, but was strengthened in the fayth, and gaue glorie to God, 21 Being fully assured that he which had promised, was also able to do it.

22 And therefore it was imputed to him for righteousnes.

23 Nowe it is not written for him only, that it was imputed to him for righteousnes, 24 But also t for vs, to whom it shall bee imputed for righteousnes, which beleeue in him that raysed vp Iesus our Lorde from the dead.

25 Who was deliuered to death for our sinnes, and u is risen againe for our iustification.

CHAP. V.

1 He declareth the fruits of faith, 7 And by comparison setteth forth the loue of God and obedience of Christ, which is the foundation and grounde of the same.

1 THen being iustified by fayth, wee haue a peace toward God thyough our Lord Iesus Christ.

2 * By whome also wee haue accesse thyough fayth vnto this grace, wherein we stande, and reioyce vnder the hope of the glorie of God.

3 Neither do we so onely, but also we b reioyce in tribulations, knowing that tribulation bringeth forth patience,

4 And patience experience, and experience hope,

5 And hope maketh not c ashamed, because the d loue of God is shedde abroade in our hearts by the holy Ghost, which is giuen vnto vs.

6 For Christ, when we were yet of no strength, at his time, dyed for the * vngodly.

7 Doutles one will scarse die for a e righteous man: but yet for a f good man it may be that one dare dye.

8 But God setteth out his loue toward vs, seeing that while we were yet sinners, Christ dyed for vs.

9 Much more then, being nowe iustified by his blood, we shall be saued from wyath thyough him.

10 For if when we were g enemies, wee were reconciled to God by the death of his Sonne, much more being reconciled, we shalbe saued by his life.

11 And not onely so, but we also reioyce in God thyough our Lord Iesus Christ, by whome we haue nowe receiued the atonement.

12 Wherefore, as by one man sinne entred into the world, and death by sinne, and so death went ouer all men: for als much as all men haue sinned.

13 For vnto the h time of the Lawe was sinne in the worlde, but sinne is not imputed, while there is no Law.

14 But death reigned frõ Adam to Moses, euen ouer them also that sinned not i after the like maner of the transgression of k Adam, which was the figure of him that was to come.

15 But yet the gift is not so, as is the offence: for if thyough the offence of one, many be dead, much more the grace of God, and the gift by grace, which is by one man Iesus Christ, hath abounded vnto many.

16 Neither is the gift so, as that which entred in by one that sinned: for the sentence came of one offence vnto condemnation: but the gift is l of many offences to iustification.

17 For if by the offence of one, death reigned thyough one, much more shall they which receiue the abundance of grace, and of the gift of m righteousnes, reigne in life thyough one, that is, Iesus Christ.

18 Likewise then as by the offence of one, the fault came on all men to condemnation, so by the iustifying of one, the benefite a By peace here is meant that incredible & most constant ioye of minde, when we are deliuered frõ all terrour of conscience, and fully perswaded of the sauour of God: and this peace is the fruit of faith. Ephe.2.18. Iam.1,3.

b For it hath euer good successe.

c He meaneth that loue wherewith God loueth vs. Heb.9.15. 1.pet.3.18.

d By this compassion he amplifieth the death of Christ.

e That is, for such one of whõ he hath receiued good.

f Because of sin: yet sinnedes by the grace of Christ.

g From Adam to Moses.

h He meaneth young babes, which ney ther had the knowledge of the law of nature, nor any motion of concupiscence, much lesse committed any actual sinne: & this may also comprehend the Gentiles.

i Yet all mankinde, as it were, sinned whẽ they were as yet inclosed in Adams loynes.

k Which was Christ.

l For by Christ we are not onely deliuered from the sinnes of Adam, but also frõ all such as wee haue added thereunto.

nesse abounded toward a all men to the iustification of life.

19 For as by one mans disobedience, many were made sinners: so by the obedience of one, shal many also be made righteous.

o The Lawe of Moses.

20 Moreouer the o Lawe entred thereupon that the offence should p abound: nevertheles, where sinne abounded, there grace abounded much more:

p That it might be more manifestly knowen, & set before all mens eyes.

21 That as sinne had reigned vnto death, so might grace also reigne by righteousnes vnto eternall life, through Iesus Christ our Lord.

CHAP. VI.

Because no man should glorie in the flesh, but rather seeke to subdue it to the Spirit, 3 He sheweth by the vertue and ende of Baptisme, 5 That regeneration is ioyned with iustification, and therefore exhorteth to godly life, 21 Setting before mens eyes the reward of sinne and righteousnes.

1 WHat shall we say then? Shall we continue still in sinne, that grace may abound? God forbid.

a He dieth to sinne in whom the strength of sinne is broken by the vertue of Christ, and so nowe liueth to God.

2 How shall we, that are a dead to sinne, line yet therein?

3 Know ye not, that * all we which haue bene baptized into b Iesus Christ, haue bene baptized into his death?

b Which is, that growing together with him, we might receiue vertue to kill sinne, and raise vp our new man.

4 * We are buried the with him by baptisme into his death, that like as Christ was raysed vp from the dead by the glorie of the Father, so we also shoulde c walke in newnes of life.

5 * For if we bee c grafted with him d to the similitude of his death, euen so shall we be to the similitude of his resurrectiõ, c The Greeke word meaneth, that we growe vp together with Christ, as we see mosse, yuie, mistletowe, or such like growe vp by a tree and are nourished with the iuyce thereof.

6 Knowing this, that our olde man is crucified with him, that the e bodie of sinne might be destroyed, that henceforth we should not serue sinne.

7 For he that is dead, is f freed frõ sinne.

8 Wherefore, if we bee dead with Christ, we beleue that we shal line also vvith him, 9 Knowing that Christ being raysed frõ the dead, dyeth no more: death hath no more dominion ouer him.

10 For in that he died, he died once g to sinne: but in that he liueth, he liueth to h God.

d If wee by his vertue die to sinne. e The flesh wherein sinne sticketh fast. f Because that being dead wee can not sinne. g That he might destroy sinne in our flesh. h And sitteth at the right hand of the Father. i We may gather that we are dead to sinne, when sinne beginneth to die in vs: which is by the participation of Christs death, by whom also being quickned, we liue to God, that is, to righteousnesse. k In that ye are led with the Spirit of God. l The minde first ministreth euill motions, wherby mans will is entised: thence burst forth the lusts, by them the body is prouoked, and the body by his actions doeth solicite the minde: therefore he commaundeth, at the least that we rule our bodies.

11 Likewise thinke yee also, that yee are i dead to sinne, but are aliue k to God in Iesus Christ our Lord.

12 Let not sinne reigne therefore in your mortall body, that ye shoulde obey it in the l lustes thereof.

13 Neyther giue yee your members as f weapons of vnrighteousnes vnto sin: but giue your selues vnto God, as they that are aliue from the dead, and giue your members as weapons of righteousnes vnto God.

f Or, instruments, or armour.

14 For sinne shall not haue dominion ouer you: for ye are not vnder the m Law, but vnder g grace.

m Which is the declaration of sinne.

15 What then? shal we sinne, because we are not vnder the Lawe, but vnder grace? God forbid.

n Indued with the Spirit of Christ.

16 * Knowe ye not, that to whomsoeuer ye giue your selues as seruãts to obey, his seruants ye are to whom ye obey, whether it bee of sinne vnto death, or of h obedience vnto righteousnes?

Iohn.8.34.2.pet. 2.19.

o Shewing that none can be iust, which doeth not obey God.

17 But God be thanked, that ye haue bene the seruants of sinne, but ye haue obeyed from the heart vnto the fourme of the doctrine, wherunto ye were i deliuered.

p To conforme your selues vnto it.

18 Being then made k free from sinne, ye are made the seruants of righteousnesse.

q It is a most vile thing for him that is deliuered from the slauerie of sinne, to returne againe to the same.

19 I speake l after the maner of men, because of the infirmitie of your flesh: for as ye haue giuen your members seruants to vncleannes and to iniquitie, to commit iniquitie, so nowe giue your members seruantes vnto righteousnes in holines.

r Leaning to speake of heauenly things, according to your capacitie, I vse these similitudes of seruitude and freedome, that ye might the better vnderstand.

20 For when yee were the seruauntes of sinne, ye were freed from righteousnes.

21 What fruit had ye then in those things, wherof ye are now ashamed? for the ende of those things is death.

22 But now being freed from sinne, and made seruãts vnto God, ye haue your fruite in holinesse, and the ende, euerlasting life.

s Or, the reward & recompence.

23 For the s wages of sinne is death: but the gift of God is eternall life through Iesus Christ our Lord.

t Sinne is compared to a tyrant which reigneth by force, who giueth death as an alowance to them that were preferred by the Lawe.

CHAP. VII.

1.7.12 The vse of the Lawe, 6. 24 And how Christ hath deliuered vs from it. 26 The infirmities of the faithfull. 23 The daungerous fight betweene the flesh and the Spirit.

KNowe ye not, brethren, (for I speake to them that knowe the Lawe) that the a Lawe hath dominion ouer a man as long as he liueth?

a Meaning the morall lawe. 1.Cor.7.39.

2 * For the b woman which is in subiection to a man, is bound by the Lawe to the man, while he liueth: but if the man be dead, she is deliuered from the lawe of the man.

b Both in this first marriage & in the second, the husband and the wife must be cõsidered within our selues: the first husband was Sinne, and our flesh was the wife: their children were the fruits of the flesh, Galat.5.19. In the second marriage the Spirit is the husband, the new creature is the wife, and their children are the fruits of the Spirit, Gal.5.22. Mat.5.32.

3 So then, if while the man liueth, she take another man, she shall be called an * aduoutresse: but if the man be dead, she is free from the Lawe, so that she is not an an adulteresse, though she take another man.

4 So yée, my brethren, are dead also to the Lawe by the body of Christ, that ye shoulde bée vnto another, euen vnto him that is rayſed vp from the dead, that we ſhould bring forth fruite vnto God.

5 For when we were [d] in the flesh, the [a] motions of ſinnes, which were by the Lawe, had force in our members, to bring forth fruite vnto death.

6 But nowe wee are deliuered from the Lawe, being dead vnto it, wherein wee were holden, that wée ſhoulde ſerue in newnes of Spirit, and not in the oldenesse of the letter.

7 [f] What ſhall we ſay then? Is the Lawe ſinne? God forbid. Nay, I knewe not ſinne, but by the Lawe: for I had not knowen [g] luſt, except the Law had ſaid, [*] Thou ſhalt not luſt.

8 But ſinne tooke an occaſſion by the commandement, and wrought in mée all maner of concupiſcence: for without the Law ſinne is dead.

9 For I once [h] was aliue, without the Lawe: but when the commandement came, ſinne reuiued, 10 But I died: and the ſame commandement which was ordayned vnto life, was founde to be vnto me vnto death.

11 For ſinne tooke occaſion by the commandement, and deceiued me, & therby ſlewe me.

12 Wherefore the Lawe is [*] holy, and the commaundement is holy, and iuſt, & good.

13 Was that then which is good, made death vnto me? God forbid: but ſinne, that it might [i] appeare ſinne, wrought death in me by that which is good, that ſinne might be out of meaſure ſinfull by the commandement.

14 For wee knowe that the Lawe [k] is ſpirituall, but I am carnall, ſolde vnder ſinne.

15 For I alowe not that which I doe: for what I [l] would, that do I not: but what I hate, that do I.

16 If I doe then that which I woulde not, I conſent to the Lawe, that it is good.

17 Nowe then, it is no more I, that do it, but the ſinne that dwelleth in me.

18 For I know, that in me, that is, in my [*] flesh, dwelleth no good thing: for to will is preſent with mee: but I finde no meanes to perfourme that which is good.

19 For I doe not the good thing, which I would, [*] but the euill, which I would not, that do I.

20 Nowe if I do that I would not, it is no more I that do it, but the ſinne that dwelleth in me.

21 I finde then by the Lawe, that when I would doe good, euill is preſent with me.

22 For I delite in the Lawe of God, concerning the [*] inner man:

23 But I ſée another [*] lawe in my [r] members, rebelling againſt the lawe of my mynde, and leading me captiue vnto the lawe of ſinne, which is in my members.

24 O wretched man that I am, who ſhall deliuer me from the [q] body of this death?

25 I thanke God through Ieſus Chriſt our Lord. Then I my ſelf in my [*] minde ſerue the Law of God, but in my [t] flesh the Law of ſinne.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The aſſurance of the faithfull, and of the fruites of the holy Ghoſt in them. 3 The weakeneſſe of the Lawe, and who accompliſhed it, 4 And wherefore. 5 Of what ſort the faithfull ought to be. 6 The fruite of the Spirite in them. 17 Of hope. 18 Of patience vnder the croſſe. 28 Of the mutuall loue betwixt God and his children. 29 Of his foreknowledge.

1 NOw then there is no [a] condemnation to thé that are in Chriſt Ieſus, which walke not [b] after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

2 For the Law of the Spirit of life which is in [d] Chriſt Ieſus, hath freed me from the law of ſinne and of death.

3 For (that that was impoſſible to the law, in as much as it was [*] weake, becauſe of the flesh) God ſending his own Sonne, in the [e] ſimilitude of ſinfull flesh, and [i] for ſinne, condemned ſinne in the flesh,

4 That the [f] righteouſneſſe of the lawe myght bée fulfilled in vs, which walke not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

5 For they that are after the flesh, ſauour the [s] things of the flesh: but they that are after the Spirit, the things of the Spirit.

6 For the wiſedome of the flesh is death: but the wiſedome of the Spirit is lyfe & peace,

7 Becauſe the wiſedome of the flesh is enimitie againſt God: for it is not ſubiect to the Law of God, neither in déede can be.

8 So then they that are in the flesh, can not pleaſe God.

9 Nowe yée are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit, [*] becauſe the Spirit of God dwelleth in you: but if any man hath not the Spirit of Chriſt, the ſame is not his.

10 And if Chriſt bée in you, the [*] bodie is dead, becauſe of ſinne: but the [h] Spirit is life for righteouſneſſes ſake.

11 But if the Spirit of him that raiſed vp Ieſus from the dead, dwell in you, hée that raiſed vp Chriſt from the dead, ſhal alſo quicke your mortall bodies, becauſe that his Spirit dwelleth in you.

s By hope is ment that thing, which we hope for.
t In that he stirreth their hearts to pray, & sheweth both whom to aske, and how.
u He sheweth by the order of our election that afflictions are meanes to make vs like the Sonne of God.

12 Therefore brethren, we are debters not to the flesh, to liue after the i flesh:
13 For if ye liue after the flesh, ye shal die: but if ye mortifie the deedes of the bodie by the Spirit, ye shall liue.
14 For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sonnes of God.
15 For ye haue not receiued the spirite of bondage to feare againe: but ye haue receiued the Spirit of k adoptiō, whereby we crie * Abba, Father.
16 The same Spirite l beareth witnesse with our spirit, that we are the children of God.
17 If we be children, we are also m heyres, euen the heires of God, and heyres annexed with Christ, if so be that we suffer with him, that we may also be glorified with him.
18 For I count that n afflictions of this present time, are not o worthie of the glorie, which shalbe shewed vnto vs.
19 For the feruent desire of the creature waiteth when the sonnes of God shall be reuealed, 20 Because the p creature is subiect to q vanitie, not of it owne will, but by reason of him, which hath subdued it vnder hope,
21 Because the creature also shalbe deliuered from the bondage of corruption into the glorious libertie of the sonnes of God.
22 For we knowe that euery r creature groneth with vs also, and trauaileth in payne together vnto this present.
23 And not only the creature, but we also which haue the s first fruits of the Spirit, euen we do sigh in our selues, waiting for the adoption, euen the t redemption of our u bodie.
24 For we are saued by hope: but x hope that is seene, is not hope: for how can a man hope for that which he seeth?
25 But if we hope for that we see not, we do with patience abide for it.
26 Likewise the Spirite also helpeth our infirmities: for we knowe not what to pray as we ought: but the Spirit it selfe maketh request for vs with sighes, which can not be expressed.
27 But he that searcheth y hearts, knoweth what is the meaning of the Spirit: for he z maketh request for the Saintes, according to the will of God.
28 Also we knowe that all things worke together for the best vnto the that loue God, euen to them that are called of his purpose.
29 For those which hee a knewe before, he also predestinate to be made lyke to the image of his Sonne, that he might be the first borne among many brethre.
30 Moreouer whom he predestinate, them also he called, & whome he called, them also he iustified, and whom he iustified, them he also glorified.
31 What shal we then say to these things? If God be on our side, who can be against vs?
32 Who spared not his owne Sonne, but gaue him for vs all to death, howe shall he not with him giue vs all things also?
33 Who shal laye any thing to the charge of Gods chosen? it is God that b iustifieth, 34 Who shal condemne? it is Christ, which is dead, yea or rather, which is risen againe, who is also at the right hande of God, and maketh request also for vs.
35 Who shall separate vs from the loue of c Christ? shal tribulation or anguish, or persecution, or famine, or nakednes, or perill, or sworde?
36 As it is written, * For thy sake are we d killed all day long: we are counted as sheepe for the slaughter.
37 Neuertheles, in al these things we are more then conquerours through him that loued vs.
38 For I am perswaded that neyther death, nor life, nor Angels, nor e principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come,
39 Nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature shall be able to separate vs frō the f loue of God, which is in Christ Iesus our Lord.

Exod.33.19. 15 For he saith to Moses, * I i will haue mercie on him, to whome I will shewe mercie: and will haue compassion on him, on whom I wil haue compassion.

16 So then it is not in him that willeth, nor in him that runneth, but in God that sheweth mercie.

17 For the k Scripture sayth vnto Pharao, * For this same purpose haue I stirred thee vp, that I might shewe my power in thee, & that my name might be declared throughout all the earth.

18 Therefore he hath mercy on whom he will, and whom he will, he hardeneth.

19 Thou wilt saye then vnto me, Why doeth he yet complayne? for who hath resisted his will?

20 But, O man, who art thou which l dest against God? shall the * thing say to him that formed it, Why hast thou made me thus?

21 Hath not the potter [illegible] to make of the same [illegible] to m honour, and [illegible] honour?

22 What and if God would, to shewe his wrath, and to make his power knowe, suffer with long patience the vessels of wrath, prepared to destruction?

23 And that he might declare the riches of his glorie vpon the vessels of mercie, which he hath prepared vnto glory?

24 Euen vs, whom he hath called, not of n Iewes onely, but also of the Gentiles, Hose.2.23. 1.pet.2.10. 25 As he saith also in Osee, * I will call them, My people, which were not my people: and her, Beloued, which was not beloued.

Hose.1.10. Isa.10.22,22. 26 And it shalbe in o place where it was said vnto them, * Ye are not my people, that there they shall be called, The children of the liuing God.

l God wil make such wast of that people, that the few, which shall remaine, shal be a worke of his iustice, and shall set forth his glorie in his church. 27 Also Esaias crieth concerning Israel, * Though the number of the children of Israel were as the sande of the sea, yet shall but a remnant be saued.

Isa.1.9. 28 l For he will make his account, & gather it into a short summe with righteousnes: for the Lorde will make a short count in the earth.

29 * And as Esaias saide before, Except the Lord of hostes had left vs a seede, we had bene made as p Sodom, and had bene like to Gomorrha.

30 What shall we saye then? That the Gentiles which followed not righteousnes, haue attained vnto righteousnes, euen the righteousnes which is of faith.

31 But Israel which followed the Lawe of righteousnes, could not attaine vnto the Law of righteousnes.

Isa.8.14. & 28.16 1.pet.2.6. 32 Wherefore? Because they sought it not by faith, but as it were by the workes of the Law: for they haue stumbled at the stumbling stone, Psal.118.22. 33 As it is written, * Behold, I laye in Sion a q stumbling stone, and a rocke to make men fall: and euery one that beleeueth in him, shall not be ashamed.

m That is, vtterly lost.

n Iesus Christ is to the infidels destruction, and to the faithfull life and resurrection.

CHAP. X.

1 After that he had declared his zeale towarden them, 3 He sheweth the cause of the ruine of the Iewes. 4 The ende of the Law. 5 The difference betweene the iustice of the Lawe, and of faith. 17 VVhereof faith commeth, and to whom it belongeth. 19 The reiection of the Iewes, and calling of the Gentiles.

1 BRethren, mine heartes desire and prayer to God for Israel is, that they might be saued.

2 For I beare them recorde, that they haue r the zeale of God, but not according to knowledge.

3 For they, being ignorant of the righteousnes of God, and going about to stablish [illegible] owne righteousnesse, haue not [illegible] submitted themselues to the righteousnes of God.

4 * For Christ is the s ende of the Lawe for righteousnes vnto euery one that beleeueth.

5 For Moses thus describeth t righteousnes which is of the Law, * That the man which doeth these thinges, shall liue thereby.

6 But u righteousnes which is of faith, speaketh on this wise, c * Saye not in thine heart, Who shall ascend into heauen? (that is to bring Christ frō aboue)

7 Or, Who shall descende into the deepe? (that is to bring Christ againe from the dead)

8 But what saith it? * The worde is nere thee, euen in thy mouth, and in thine heart. This is the x worde of faith which we preache.

9 For if thou shalt confesse with thy mouth the Lord Iesus, & shalt beleeue in thine heart, that God raised him vp frō the dead, thou shalt be saued.

10 For with the heart man beleeueth vnto righteousnes, and with y the mouth man confesseth to saluation.

11 For the Scripture saith, * Whosoeuer

c Because we cannot performe the lawe, it maketh vs to dout, who shal go to heaue, & to say, Who shall goe downe to the deepe to deliuer vs thence? but faith teacheth vs that Christ is ascēded vp to take vs with him, and hath descended into the depth of death to destroy death, and deliuer vs. Deut.30.12.

16 But they haue not al obeyed the Gospel: for Esaias sayth, * Lorde, who hath beleeued our [f] report?
17 Then faith is by hearing, and hearing [g] by the word of God.
18 But I demād, Haue [h] they not heard? * No doubt their sound went out through all the earth, and their wordes into the endes of the [k] world.
19 But I demand, Did not Israel know God? First Moses sayth, * I will prouoke you to enuie by a nation that is not my nation, and by a foolish nation I wil anger you.
20 * And Esaias is bolde, and sayth, I was founde of them that sought me not, & haue bene made manifest to them that asked not after me.

CHAP. XI.

4 God hath his Church although it be not seene to mans eye. 5 The grace shewed to the elect. 7 The indgement of the reprobate. 8 God hath blinded the Iewes for a time, and reuealed him selfe to the Gentiles. 18 VVhom hee warneth to humble themselues. 29 The giftes of God without repentance. 33 The depth of Gods iudgements.

1 I Demand then, Hath God cast away his people? God forbid: for I also am an Israelite, of the seede of Abraham, of the tribe of Beniamin.
2 God hath not cast away his people which he [a] knewe before. Know ye not what ȳ Scripture saith of Elias, how he maketh request vnto God [b] against Israel, saying,
3 * Lord, they haue killed thy Prophets, & digged downe thine altars: and I am left alone, and they seeke my life?
4 But what saieth the answere of God to him? * I haue reserued vnto my selfe [c] seuen thousand men, which haue not bowed the knee to Baal.
5 Euen so then at this present tyme is there a remnant through the [d] election of grace.
6 And if it be of grace, it is no more of workes: or els were grace no more grace: but if it bee of workes, it is no more grace: or els were worke no more worke.
7 What then? Israel hath not obtained that he sought: but the election hath obtained it, and the rest haue bin hardened,
8 Accordyng as it is written, * God hath geuen them the spirit of [e] slumber: eyes that they should not see, and eares that they should not heare vnto this day.
9 And Dauid sayth, * Let their [d] table be made a snare, and a net, and a stumbling blocke, euen for a recompence vnto them.
10 Let their eyes be darkened that they see not, and [e] bowe downe their backe alwayes.
11 I demaunde then, Haue they stumbled, that they [f] should fal? God forbid: but through their fall saluation commeth vnto the Gentiles, to [g] prouoke them to follow them.
12 Wherefore if the fall of them bee the riches of the world, and the diminishing of them the [h] riches of the Gētiles, how much more shal their abundance be?
13 For in that I speake to you Gentiles, in as much as I am the Apostle of the Gentiles, I magnifie mine office, 14 To trie if by any meanes I might [i] prouoke them of my flesh to followe them, and might saue some of them.
15 For if the casting away of them be the reconciling of the world, what shal the receiuing be, but [k] life from the dead?
16 For if [l] the first fruits be holy, so is the whole lumpe: and if the [m] roote be holy, so are the branches.
17 And though some of the branches bee broken off, and thou being a wilde olyue tree, wast graft in [n] for them, and made partaker of the roote, and fatnes of the [o] olyue tree, 18 Boast not thy selfe against the branches: and if thou boast thy self, thou bearest not the roote, but the roote thee.
19 Thou wilt say then, The branches are broken off, that I might be graft in.
20 Wel: through vnbeliefe they are broken off, and thou standest by fayth: be not high minded, but [p] feare.
21 For if God spared not the naturall branches, take heede, least he also spare not thee.
22 [q] Beholde therefore the bountifulnes, and seuerite of God: towarde them which haue fallen, seuerite: but toward thee, bountifulnes, if thou continue in his bountifulnes: or els thou shalt also be cut off.
23 And they also, if they abide not still in vnbeliefe, shalbe graffed in: for God is able to graffe them in againe.
24 For if [r] thou wast cut out of the olyue tree, which was wilde by nature, and wast graffed contrarye to nature in a right olyue tree, howe much more shall they that are by nature, be graffed in their owne olyue tree?

4 For he is the minister of God for thy wealth: but if thou do euil, feare: for he beareth not the sword for nought: for he is the minister of God " to take vengeance on him that doeth euil.

5 Wherefore ye must be subiect, not because of wrath onely, but also for b conscience sake.

6 For, for this cause ye pay also tribute: for they are Gods ministers, applying themselues for the same c thing.

7 * Giue to all men therefore their duetie: tribute, to whome ye owe tribute: custome, to whom custome: feare, to whō feare: honour, to whom ye owe honour.

8 Owe nothing to any man, but to loue one another: for hee that loueth another, hath fulfilled the d Law.

CHAP. XIIII.

1 The weake ought not to be despised. 10 No man should offende anothers conscience, 15 But one to support another in charitie and feare.

1 HIm that is weake in the a faith, receiue vnto you, but not b for controuersies of disputations.

2 One beleeueth that he may eate of all things: and another, which is weake, eateth herbes.

3 Let not him that eateth, despise hym that eateth not: and let not him which eateth not, iudge him that eateth: for God hath receiued him.

4 * Who art thou that condemnest another mans seruant? he standeth or falleth to his owne c master: yea, he shalbe established: for God is able to make him stand.

5 This man esteemeth one day aboue another day, and another man counteth euery day alike: let euery man be d fully perswaded in his minde.

6 He that c obserueth the day, obserueth it to the f Lord: & he that obserueth not the day, obserueth it not, to the Lorde. He that eateth, eateth to the Lorde: for he giueth God thankes: & he that eateth not, h eateth not, to the Lorde, and giueth God thankes.

7 For none of vs liueth i to him selfe, neither doth any die to him selfe.

8 For whether we liue, we liue vnto the Lorde: or whether we die, we die vnto the Lord: whether we liue therefore, or die, we are the Lordes.

9 For Christ therefore died, & rose againe, & reuiued, that he might be Lord both of the dead and the quicke.

10 But why doest thou iudge thy brother? or why doest thou despise thy brother? * for we shall all appeare before the iudgement seate of Christ.

11 For it is written, * I k liue, saith the Lord, & euery knee shal bow to me, & all tongues shall l confesse vnto God.

12 So then euery one of vs shall giue accountes of him selfe to God.

13 Let vs not therefore iudge one another any more: but vse your iudgement rather in this, that no man put an occasion to fall, or a stumbling blocke before his brother.

14 m I knowe, and am perswaded through the Lord Iesus, þ there is nothing vncleane of it selfe: but vnto him that iudgeth any thing to be vncleane, to him it is vncleane.

15 But if thy brother be grieued for the meate, now walkest thou not charitably: * destroy not him with thy meate, for whom Christ dyed.

16 Cause not your n commoditie to bee euill spoken of.

17 For the o kingdome of God is not meate nor drinke, but righteousnes, and peace, and ioy in the holy Ghost.

18 For whosoeuer p in these thinges serueth Christ, is acceptable vnto God, & is approoued of men.

19 Let vs then follow those things which concerne peace, & wherewith one may edifie another.

20 Destroy not the worke of God for meates sake: * all thinges in deede are pure: but it is euill for the man which eateth with offence.

21 * It is good neither to eate flesh, nor to drinke wine, nor any thing, whereby thy brother stumbleth, or is offended, or made weake.

CHAP. XV.

1 Paul exhorteth them to support and loue one another by the example of Christ, 9 And by the onely mercie of God which is the cause of saluation both of the one and the other. 14 He sheweth his zeale toward them and the Church, 30 And requireth the same of them.

a To edifie, signifieth to do al maner duties to our neighbor, either to bring him to Christ, or if he be wone, that he may growe from faith to fayth: for the faithfull are called the tẽple of God wher in he is resident by his holy spirit, & these faithfull are ỹ stones of the new Ierusalem: that is, the vniuersal church Isa. 54. Reu. 21. of ỹ which building Christ is ỹ chiefe corner stone, Eph. 2. 20.

1 WE which are strong, ought to beare þ infirmities of þ weak, and not to please our selues.
2 Therefore let euery man please his neighbour in that that is good to a edification.
3 For Christ also would not please himselfe, but as it is written, * The rebukes of them which rebuke thee, fell b on mee.
4 For whatsoeuer thinges are written afore time, are written for our learning, that we through patience, & comfort of the Scriptures might haue hope.
5 Now the God of c patience and consolation giue you that ye be * like minded one towardes another, according to Christ Iesus,
6 That ye with one minde, and with one mouth may praise God, euen the Father of our Lord Iesus Christ.
7 Wherefore receiue ye one another, as Christ also receiued vs to the d glorie of God.
8 Now I say, that Iesus Christ was a e minister of the circumcision, for the f trueth of God, to confirme the promises made vnto the fathers.
9 And let the Gentiles praise God for his mercie, as it is written, * For this cause I will confesse thee among the Gentiles, and sing vnto thy Name.
10 And againe he saith, * Reioyce, ye Gentiles with his people.
11 And againe, * Praise the Lord, all ye Gentiles, and laude ye him, all people together.
12 And againe Esaias saith, * There shall be a roote of Iesse, & he that shall rise to reigne ouer h the Gentiles, in him shall the Gentiles trust.
13 Now the God of hope fil you with all ioy, & peace in beleeuing, that ye may abound in hope, through the power of the holy Ghost.
14 And I my selfe also am persuaded of you, my brethren, that ye also are full of goodnes, & filled with all knowledge, & are able to admonish one another.
15 Neuertheless brethren, I haue somewhat boldely after a sort written vnto you, as one that putteth you in remembrance, through the grace that is giuen mee of God,
16 That I should be the minister of Iesus Christ toward the Gentiles, ministring the Gospel of God, þ the offering vp of the Gentiles might be acceptable i being sanctified by the holy Ghost.
17 I haue therefore whereof I may reioyce in Christ Iesus in those thinges which perteine to God.
18 For I dare not k speake of any thing, which Christ hath not wrought by me, to make the Gentiles obedient in worde and deede, 19 With the power of signes and wonders, by the power of the spirit of God: so that from Ierusalem, and roundeabout vnto Illyricum, I haue caused to abound the Gospell of Christ.
20 Yea, so I enforced my selfe to preach the Gospel, not where Christ was named, lest I should haue built on another mans foundation.
21 But as it is written, * To whom he was not spoken of, they shall see him, & they þ heard not, shall vnderstand him.
22 Therefore also I haue bene * oft let to come vnto you.
23 But nowe seeing I haue no more place in these quarters, and also haue * bene desirous many yeres agone to come vnto you,
24 When I shall take my iourney into Spayne, I will come to you: for I trust to see you in my iourney, and to be brought on my way thitherwarde by you, after that I haue bene somewhat filled with your company.
25 But now go I to Ierusalem, to l minister vnto the Saintes.
26 For it hath pleased them of Macedonia & Achaia, to make a certaine distribution vnto the poore Saintes which are at Ierusalem.
27 For it hath pleased them, and their detters are they: * for if the Gentiles be made partakers of their spirituall thinges, their duetie is also to minister vnto them in carnall things.
28 When I haue therefore performed this, & haue m sealed them this n fruite, I will passe by you into Spaine.
29 * And I knowe when I come, that I shall come to you with o abundance of the blessing of the Gospel of Christ.
30 Also brethren I beseech you for our Lord Iesus Christes sake, & for the loue of þ spirit, that ye * woulde striue with me by prayers to God for me,
31 That I may be deliuered from them which are disobedient in Iudea, & þ my seruice which I haue to doe at Ierusalem, may be p accepted of the Saints, 32 That I may come vnto you with ioy by the will of God, and may with you be refreshed.
33 Thus the * God of peace be with you all. Amen.

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAVL to the Corinthians,

THE ARGVMENT.

After that S. Paul had preached at Corinthus a yere and an halfe, he was compelled by the wickednes of the Iewes to saile into Syria. In whose absence false apostles entred into the Church, who being puffed vp with vaine glorie, and affectate eloquence, sought to bring into contempt the simplicitie which Paul vsed in preaching the Gospell. By whose ambition such factions and schismes sprang vp in the Church, that from opinions in policies & ceremonies, they fell to false doctrine and heresies, calling into dout the resurrection from the dead, one of the chiefest poyntes of Christian religion. Against these euilles the Apostle proceedeth, preparing the Corinthians heartes, and eares with gentle salutations: but soone after he reproueth their contentions and debates, their arrogancie and pride, & exhorteth them to concord and humilitie, setting before their eyes the spirituall vertue, and heauenly wisdome of the Gospell, which cannot bee perswaded by worldly wit and eloquent reasons, but is reueyled by Gods Spirite, and so sealed in mens heartes. Therefore this saluation may not be attributed to the ministers, but onely to God, whose seruants they are, and haue receiued charge to edifie his Church: wherein Saint Paul behaued himselfe skilfully, buylding according to the foundation (which is Christ) and exhorteth others to make the ende proportionable to the beginning, taking diligent heede that they be not polluted with vaine doctrine, seeing they are the Temple of God. And as for those which douted of his Apostleship, he sheweth them that he dependeth not on mans iudgement, albeit hee had declared by manifest signes that he neuer sought his owne glorie, ney ther yet howe he might liue, but onely the glorie of Christ, which thing at his comming he would declare more amply, to the shame of those vaine glorious braggers, who sought them selues onely, and therefore suffred most horrible vices vnreproued and vnpunished, as incest, contentions, pleadings before infidels, fornication, & such like, to the great slander of the Gospel. This done, he answereth to certeine poynts of the Corinthians letter, as touching single life, duetie of marriage, of discorde and dissension among the married, of virginitie, and seconde marriage. And because some thought it nothyng to be present at idole seruice, seeing in their heart they worshipped the true God, he warneth them to haue respect to their weake brethren, whose fayth by that dissembling was hindred, and their consciences wounded, which thing rather then he would do, he would neuer vse that libertie which God had giuen him. But forasmuch as pryde, and selfewill was the cause of those great euils, he admonisheth them by the example of the Iewes not to glory in these outwarde giftes, whose horrible punishment for the abuse of Gods creatures, ought to be a warning to all men to followe Christ vpryghtly, without all pollution and offence of others. Then he correcteth diuers abuses in their Church, as touching the behauiour of men, and women in the assemblies: of the Lordes supper, the abuse of the spirituall giftes, which God hath giuen to maintayne loue and edifie the Church: as concerning the resurrection from the dead, without the which the Gospel serueth to no vse. Last of all he exhorteth the Corinthians to relieue the poore brethren at Ierusalem, to persеuere in the loue of Christ, and well doing, sending his commendations, and wishing them peace.

CHAP. I.

2 He prayseth the great graces of God shewed toward them, 10 Exhorting them to concord and humilitie. 19 He beateth downe all pride, and wisdome which is not grounded on God, 26 Shewing whom God hath chosen to confound the wisdome of the world.

1 PAul called to be an Apostle of IESVS CHRIST, through the will of God, & our brother Sosthenes,

2 Vnto þ Church of God which is at Corinthus, to them that * [a] are sanctified in Christ Iesus, * [b] Saintes by calling, * with all that [c] cal on the Name of our Lord Iesus Christ in euery place, both their Lorde, and ours:

3 Grace be with you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lorde Iesus Christ.

4 I thanke my God alwayes on your behalfe for the [d] grace of God, which is giuen you in Iesus Christ,

5 * That in all thinges ye are made rich [e] in him, in [f] all kind of speach, and in al knowledge:

6 As the testimonie of Iesus Christ hath bene confirmed in you:

7 So that ye are not destitute of any gift: * waiting for the appearing of our Lorde Iesus Christ.

8 * Who shal also confirme you vnto the end, that ye may be [g] blamelesse in the day of our Lord Iesus Christ.

9 * God is faithfull, by whom ye are called vnto the felowship of his Sonne Iesus Christ our Lord.

10 Now I beseech you, brethren, by the Name of our Lord Iesus Christ, * that ye all [h] speake one thing, and that there be no dissentions among you: but be ye knit together in one minde, and in one iudgement.

11 For it hath bene declared vnto me, my brethren, of you by them that are of the house of [i] Cloe, that there are contentions among you.

12 Nowe this I saye, that euery one of you saith, I am Paules, and I am * Apollos, and I am Cephas, and I am Christes.

13 Is Christ deuided? was Paul crucified for you? either were ye baptized [k] into the name of Paul?

14 I thanke God, that I baptized none of you, but * Crispus, and [l] Gaius, 15 Lest any should say, that I had baptized into mine owne name.

16 I baptized also the houlholde of Stephanas: furthermore knowe I not, whether I baptized any other.

17 For Christ sent me not to [m] baptize, but to preach the Gospell, not with * [n] wisedome of wordes, [o] lest þ crosse of Christ should be made of none effect.

18 For the preaching of the crosse is to them that perish, foolishnes: but vnto vs, which are saued, it is the * power of God.

19 For it is written, * I will destroy the wisedome of the wise, & will cast away the vnderstanding of the prudent.

20 Where is the wise? where is the [p] Scribe? where is the [q] disputer of this world? hath not God made the wisedome of this world foolishnes?

21 For seeing the world by wisedome knew not God in the wisdom of God, it pleased God by þ foolishnes of preaching to saue them that beleeue:

22 Seeing also that the Iewes require a * signe, and the Grecians seeke after wisedome.

CHAP. II.

1 He putteth for example his maner of preaching, which was according to the tenor of the Gospell. 8 Which Gospel was contemptible and hid to the carnall, 10 And againe honourable and manifest to the spiritual.

1 AND I, brethren, when I came to you, came not with [a] excellencie of wordes, or of wisedome, shewing vnto you the [b] testimonie of God.

2 For I esteemed not to know any thing among you, saue Iesus Christ, and him crucified.

3 [c] And I was among you in [d] weakenes, & in feare, and in much trembling,

4 Neither stood my word, and my preaching in the [e] entising speach of mans wisedome, but in plaine euidence of [f] the Spirit and of power,

5 That your faith shoulde not be in the wisedome of men, but in the power of God.

6 And we speake wisdome among them that are [g] perfit: not the wisdome of this world, neyther of the [h] princes of this world, which come to nought.

7 But we speake the wisedome of God in a mysterie, euen [i] hid wisedome, which God had determined before the world, vnto our glorie,

8 Which [k] none of the princes of this worlde hath knowen: for had they knowen it, they woulde not haue crucified the [l] Lord of glorie.

9 But as it is written, [m] The thinges which eye hath not seene, neither eare hath heard, neither [n] came into mans heart, are, which God hath prepared for them that loue him.

10 But God hath reuealed them vnto vs by his Spirit: for the Spirit [o] searcheth al things, yea, the deepe things of God.

11 For what man knoweth the thinges of a man, saue [p] spirit of a man, which is in him? euen so the thinges of God knoweth no man, but the Spirite of God.

12 Nowe we haue [q] receiued not the Spirit of the worlde, but the Spirit, which is of God, that we might knowe the [r] thinges that are giuen to vs of God.

13 Which things also we speake, not in the [s] words which mans wisedome teacheth, but which the holy Ghost teacheth, comparing [t] spirituall thinges with spirituall things.

14 But the [u] natural man perceiueth not the thinges of the Spirite of God: for they are foolishnes vnto him: neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned.

15 But he that is [x] spiritual, discerneth all thinges: yet he him selfe is [y] iudged of no man.

CHAP. III.

1 Paul rebuketh the sects and authors thereof. 7 No man ought to attribute his salvation to the ministers, but to God. 10 That they beware erroneous doctrines. 11 Christ is the foundation of his Church. 16 The dignitie and office both of the ministers, and also of all the faithful.

1 AND I could not speake vnto you, brethren, as vnto spirituall men, but as vnto carnall, euen as vnto [a] babes in Christ.

2 I gaue you milke to drinke, and not meate: for ye were not yet able to beare it, neither yet now are ye able.

3 For ye are yet carnall: for where as there is among you emuping, & strife, & diuisions, are ye not carnall, and walke as men?

4 For when one saith, I am Paules, & another, I am Apollos, are ye not carnall?

5 Who is Paul then? & who is Apollos,

[a] Being ingrafted in Christ by faith, we begin to moue by his Spirit, and as we profit in faith, we grow vp to a ripe age. And here let him take heede that teacheth, least for milke he giue poison: for milke and strong meat in effect are one, but only differ in maner and forme.

but the ministers by whō ye beleeued, and as the Lorde gaue to euery man?
6 I haue planted, Apollos watred, but God gaue the increase.
7 So then, neither is he that planteth, any thing, neither he that watreth, but God that giueth the increase.
8 And hee that planteth, and he that watreth, are [b] one, * and euery man shall receiue his wages, [b] according to his labour.
9 For wee together are Gods [c] labourers: ye are Gods husbandrie, & Gods building.
10 According to [d] grace of God giuen to me, as a [e] skilfull master builder, I haue laide the fundation, & another buildeth thereon: but let euery man [d] take heede how he buildeth vpon it.
11 For other fundation can no man lay, then that which is layde, which is Iesus Christ.
12 And if any man build on this fundation, gold, siluer, precious stones, timber, hay, or stubble, 13 Euery mans worke shalbe made manifest: for the [e] day shall declare it, because it shalbe reuealed by the [f] fire: and the fire shall trie euery mans worke of what sort it is.
14 If any mans worke, [g] he hath built vpon, abide, he shall receiue wages.
15 If any mans worke burne, hee shall [g] lose, but he [h] shalbe [i] safe himselfe: neuertheless yet as it were by the fire.
16 * Know ye not that ye are the Temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you?
17 If any man destroye the Temple of God, him shall God destroy: for the Temple of God is holy, which ye are.
18 Let no man deceiue him selfe. If any man among you seeme to be wise in this worlde, let him be a foole, that he may be wise.
19 For the wisedome of this worlde is foolishnes with God: for it is written, * He catcheth the wise [k] in their owne craftines.
20 * And again, The Lord knoweth that the thoughtes of the wise be vaine.
21 Therefore let no man [l] reispce in men: for all things are yours.
22 Whether it be Paul, or Apollos, or Cephas, or the worlde, or life, or death: whether they be thinges present, or things to come, euen all are yours,

CHAP. IIII.

1 After that he had described the office of a true Apostle, 3 Seeing they did not acknowledge him such one, 4 He appealeth to Gods iudgement, 7 Beating down their glory which hindred them to praise that, which they dispraysed in him. 16 He sheweth what he requireth on their part, and what they ought to looke for of him at his returne.

1 LEt a man so thinke of vs, as of the * ministers of Christ, & disposers of the secretes of God.
2 And as for the rest, it is required of the dispōsers, that euery man bee found faithfull.
3 * As touching me, I passe very litle to be iudged of you, or of [a] mans iudgement: no, I iudge not [b] mine owne selfe.
4 For I [c] know nothing by [d] my self, yet am I not thereby iustified: but he that iudgeth me, is the Lord.
5 Therefore * iudge nothing before the time, vntill the Lorde come, who will lighten things that are hid in darknes, & make the counsels of the hearts manifest: and then shall euery man haue praise of God.
6 Now these things, brethren, I haue figuratiuely applyed vnto myne owne selfe and Apollos, for your sakes, that ye might learne [e] by vs, that no man presume aboue that which is written, that one swell not against another for any mans cause.
7 For who [f] separateth thee? & what hast thou, that thou hast not receiued? if thou hast receiued it, why reioycest thou, as though thou haddest not receiued it?
8 Now ye are full: now ye are made rich: ye reigne as kings without vs, & wouldo to God ye did reigne, that we also might reigne with you.
9 For I thinke that God hath set forth vs [g] the last Apostles, as men appointed to death: for we are made a gasing stocke vnto the worlde, and to the Angels, and to men.
10 We are [h] fooles for Christes sake, and ye are wise in Christ: we are weake, and ye strong: ye are honourable, and we are despised.
11 Vnto this houre we both hunger, & thirst, and are naked, and are buffeted, and haue no certaine dwelling place, 12 * And labour, working with our own handes: we are reuiled, & yet we bless: we are persecuted, and suffer it.
13 * We are euill spoken of, & we [i] pray: we are made as the filth of the worlde, the offscowring of al thinges, vnto this time.
14 I write not these things to shame you, but as my beloued children I admonish you.
15 For though ye haue ten thousande [k] instructours in Christ, yet haue ye not many fathers: for in Christ Iesus I haue begotten you through ỹ Gospel.
16 Wherefore, I pray you, be ye followers of me.
17 For this cause haue I sent vnto you Timotheus, which is my beloued sonne, & faithful in the Lord, which shal put you in remembrance of my waies in Christe as I teache euerie where in euery Church.

8 Therefore let vs keepe the feast, not wỹ olde leauen, neither in the leauen of maliciousnes and wickednes: but with the vnleauened bread of sincerite and trueth.

9 I wrote vnto you in an Epistle, * that ye shoulde not company together with fornicatours,

10 And i not altogether with the fornicators of this woorlde, or with the couetous, or with extortioners, or with idolaters: for then ye must go out of the woorld.

11 But nowe I haue written vnto you, that ye companie not together: if any that is called a brother, be a fornicator, or couetous, or [k] an idolater, or a railer, or a drunkard, or an extortioner, with such one eate not.

12 For what haue I to do, to iudge them also, which are [l] without? do ye not iudge them that are [m] within?

13 But God iudgeth ỹ that are without. Put away therefore from among your selues that wicked man.

CHAP. VI.

He rebuketh them for going to lawe together before the heathen. 7 Christians ought rather to suffer. 12 He reproueth the abusing of Christian libertie, 15 And sheweth that we ought to serue God purely both in body, and soule.

1 Are any of you, hauing busines against another, be iudged vnder [a] the vniust, and not vnder the Saints?

2 * Do ye not knowe, that the Saintes shal iudge the woorld? If the woorld then shalbe iudged by you, are ye vnworthy to iudge the smallest matters?

3 Knowe ye not that we shall iudge the [b] Angels? how much more things that pertaine to this life?

4 If then ye haue iudgements of things pertaining to this life, [c] set vp them which are [d] least esteemed in ỹ Church.

5 I speake it to your shame. Is it so that there is not a wise mā among you? no not one, that can iudge betweene his brethren?

6 But a brother goeth to lawe with a brother, and that vnder the infidels.

7 Nowe therefore there is vtterly [a] a fault among you, because ye go to lawe one with another: * why rather suffer ye not wrong? why rather suffer ye not harme?

8 * Nay, ye your selues [e] do wrong, and do harme, and that to your brethren.

9 Knowe yee not that the vnrighteous shal not inherite the kingdome of God? Be not deceiued: * neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor wantons, nor buggerers, 10 Nor thieues, nor couetous, nor drunkards, nor railers, nor extortioners shall inherite the kingdome of God.

11 And such were * some of you: but ye are washed, but ye are sanctified, but ye are iustified in the Name of the Loide Jesus, and by the Spirit of our God.

12 ¶ * All [f] things are lawfull vnto me: but al things are not profitable. I may do al things, but I will not be brought vnder [g] the power of any thing.

13 Meates are ordeined for the belie, and the belie for the meates: but God shall destroy both it, & them. Now the body is not for [h] fornication, but for the Lord, and the Lord for the bodie.

14 And God hath also raised vp ỹ Lord, and * shall raise vs vp by his power.

CHAP. VII.

1 The Apostle answereth to certaine question, which the Corinthians desired to knowe, 2 As of single life, 3 Of the dueties of mariage, 11 Of discordes and dissension in mariage, 13 Of mariage betweene the faithfull and vnfaithfull, 18 Of vncircumcising the circumcised, 21 Of seruitude, 25 Of virginitie, 39 And seconde mariage.

1 NOw concerning [a] things whereof ye wrote vnto mee, It were [b] good for a man not to touche a woman.
2 Neuertheless, to auoyde fornicatiō, let [b] euery man haue his wife, & let euery woman haue her owne husband.
3 *Let the husbande giue vnto the wife [c] due beneuolence, and likewise also the wife vnto the husband.
4 The wife hath not the power of her owne body, but the husband: and likewise also the husband hath not the power of his owne body, but the wife.
5 Defraude not one another, except it be with consent for a tyme, that ye may giue your selues to fasting and prayer, and againe come together that Satan tempt you not for your incontinencie.
6 But I speake this by permission, [d] not by commandement.
7 For I would that al men were euen as I my self am: but euery man hath his proper gifte of God, one after this manner, and another after that.
8 Therefore I say vnto the vnmaried, and vnto the widowes, it is good for them if they abide euen as I do.
9 But if they cannot abstaine, let them marrie: for it is better to marie then to [e] burne.
10 And vnto the maried I commaund, not I, but the Lorde, Let not the wyfe * depart from her husband.
11 But & if she [f] depart, let her remaine vnmaried, or be reconciled vnto her husbande, and let not the husbande put [g] away his wife.
12 But to the remnant I speake, and not [h] the Lord, If any brother haue a wife, that beleeueth not, if shee be content to dwel with him, let him not forsake her.
13 And the woman which hath an husband that beleeueth not, if he be content to dwell [i] with her, let her not forsake him.
14 For the vnbeleeuing husbande is [i] sanctified by the wife, & the vnbeleeuing wife is sanctified by the husbande, els were your children vncleane: but nowe are they [k] holy.
15 But if the vnbeleeuing depart, let him departe: a brother or a sister is not in subiection in [l] such thinges: but God hath called vs in peace.
16 For what knowest thou, O wife, whether thou shalt saue thine husband? Or what knowest thou, O man, whether thou shalt saue thy wife?
17 But as God hath distributed to euerie man, as the Lord hath [m] called euerie one, so let him walke: and so ordeine I, in al Churches.
18 Is any man called being circumcised? let him not [n] gather his vncircumcision: is any called vncircumcised? let him not be circumcised.
19 * Circumcision is nothing, & vncircumcision is nothing, but the keeping of the commandements of God.
20 *Let euery man abide in the same vocation wherein he was called.
21 Art thou called being a seruant? care not for it: but if yet thou maiest be free, vse it rather.
22 For he that is called in the [o] Lorde being a seruant, is the Lordes freeman: likewise also he that is called being free, is Christs seruant.
23 * Ye are bought [p] with a price: be not the seruants of men.
24 Brethren, let euery man, wherein he was called, therein abide [r] with God.
25 Now concerning [s] virgins, I haue no [t] commandement of the Lord: but I giue mine aduice, as one that hath obteined mercy of the Lord to be [u] faithful.
26 I suppose then [x] this to be good for the present [y] necessitie: I meane, that it is good for a man so to be.
27 Art thou bounde vnto a wife? seeke not to be loosed: art thou loosed from a wife? seeke not a wife.
28 But if thou takest a wife, thou sinnest not: & if a virgin marry, she sinneth not: neuertheless such shal haue [z] trouble in the flesh: but I [a] spare you.
29 And this I say, brethren, because the time is short, [b] hereafter that both they which haue wiues, be as though they had none:
30 And they that [c] weepe, as though they wept not: & they that [d] reioyce, as though

32 And I would haue you without care. The vnmaried careth for the things of the Lord, how he may please the Lorde:

33 But he that is married, careth for the things of the [d] worlde, howe he may please his wife.

34 There is difference also betweene a virgine and a wife: the vnmarried woman careth for the thinges of the Lord, that she may be [e] holy, both in body & in spirit: but she that is married, careth for the things of the worlde, howe she may please her husband.

35 And this I speake for your owne commoditie, not to [f] tangle you in a snare, but that ye follow that, which is honest, and that ye may cleaue fast vnto the Lord without separation.

36 But if any man thinke [g] it is vncomely for his virgine, if she passe the flowre of her age, and [h] nede so require, let him do what he wil, he sinneth not: let them be married.

37 Neuertheles he [i] that standeth firme in his heart, that he hath no nede, but hath [k] power ouer his owne will, and hath so decreed in his heart, that he wil keepe his virgine, he doth wel.

38 So then he that giueth her to marriage, doth well, but he that giueth her not to marriage, doeth [l] better.

39 The wife is bound by the [m] Lawe, as long as her husbande [n] liueth: but if her husbande be dead, she is at libertie to marrie with whom she will, onely in the Lord.

CHAP. VIII.

1 He rebuketh them that vse their libertie to the slander of other, in going to the idolatrous sacrifices, 9 And sheweth howe men ought to behaue them toward such as be weake.

1 AND as touching thinges sacrificed vnto idoles, we knowe that we all haue [a] knowledge: knowledge puffeth vp, but loue edifieth.

2 Now, if any man thinke that he knoweth any thing, he knoweth nothing yet as he ought to knowe.

3 But if any man loue God, the same is [a] knowen of him.

4 Concerning therefore meate sacrificed vnto idoles, we knowe that an idole is [b] nothing in the world, and that there is none other God but one.

5 For though there be that are called gods, whether in heauen, or in earth, (as there be many gods, and many [c] lords)

6 Yet vnto vs there is but one God, which is the Father, of whom are all thinges, and we in him: and [a] one Lord Iesus Christ, by whom are all things, and we by him. Iohn.13.13. chap.12.3.

7 But euery man hath not knowledge: for some hauing [d] conscience of the idole, vntill this houre, eate as a thing sacrificed vnto the idole, and so their conscience being weake, is defiled.

8 But meate maketh not vs acceptable to God: for neither if we eate, haue we the [e] more, neither if we eate not, haue we the lesse.

9 But take heede least by any meanes this [a] power of yours be an occasion of falling to them that are weake.

10 For if any man se thee which hast knowledge, sit at table in the idoles temple, shal not the conscience of him which is weake, be [f] boldened to eat those things which are sacrificed to idoles?

11 And through thy knowledge shall the [g] weake brother perishe, for whome Christ died.

12 Now when ye sinne so against the brethren, and wounde their weake conscience, ye sinne against Christ.

13 * Wherefore if meate offende my brother, I wil eate no flesh while the world standeth, that I may not offende my brother.

CHAP. IX.

22 To the weake I become as weake, ṗ I may winne the weake: I am made o all things to all men, that I might by al meanes saue some.
23 And this I do for the Gospels sake, that I might be partaker thereof with you.
24 Know ye not, that they which run in a race, runne all, yet one receiueth the price? so runne, that ye may obtaine.
25 And euery man that prouyth masteries, p abstaineth from all things: & they do it to obtaine a corruptible crowne: but we for an vncorruptible.
26 I therefore so runne, not as vncertainely: so fight I, not as one that beateth the aire.
27 But I beate downe my q body, and bring it into subiection, least by any meanes after that I haue preached to other, I my selfe should be r reproued.

CHAP. X.

Hee seareth them with the examples of the Iewes, that they put not their trust carnally in the graces of God, 14 Exhorting them to flee all idolatrie, 23 And offence of their neighbour.

1 MOreouer brethren, I would not that ye should be ignorant, that all our fathers were vnder * the cloude, and all passed through the * sea,
2 And were al baptized vnto a Moses, in the cloude, and in the sea,
3 * And did al eate the same b c spiritual meat,
4 * And did all drinke the same spirituall drinke (for they dranke of the spirituall Rocke that followed them: and the Rocke d was Christ.)
5 But with many of them God was not pleased: for they were * ouerthrowē in the wildernes.
6 Now these are ensamples to vs, to the intent that wee shoulde not lust after euil thinges * as they also lusted.
7 Neither be ye idolaters as were some of them, as it is written, * The people sate downe to e eate and drinke, and rose vp to play.
8 Neither let vs committe fornication, as some of them committed fornication, and fel in one * f day three and twenty thousand.
9 Neither let vs tempt g Christ, as some of them also tempted him, & were * destroyed of serpents.
10 Neither murmure ye, as some of them * also murmured, and were destroyed of the h destroyer.
11 Now al these things came vnto them for ensamples, and were written to admonish vs, vpon whome the i endes of the worlde are come.
12 Wherefore, let him that thinketh hee standeth, take heede lest he fal.
13 There hath no tentation taken you, but such as appertaineth to man: and God is faithfull, which will not suffer you to be tempted aboue that you be able, but k will euen giue the issue with the tentation, that ye may be able to beare it.
14 Wherefore my beloued, flee from idolatrie.
15 I speake as vnto them which haue vnderstanding: iudge ye what I say.
16 The cup of * blessing which we n blesse, is it not the communion of the bloud of Christ? The bread which we breake, is it not the n communion of the bodie of Christ?
17 For we ṗ are manie, are o one breade and one bodie, because we all are partakers of one bread.

CHAP. XI.

He rebuketh the abuse which were crept into their Church, 4 As touching prayer, prophesying, 18 And ministring the Lordes supper, 23 Bringing them again to the first institution thereof.

1 BE * ye the followers of me, euen as I am of Christ.

2 Now, brethren, I commend you, that ye remember ᶻ all my thinges, and keepe the ordinances, as I deliuered them to you.

3 But I will that ye knowe, that Christ is the ᵃ head of euery man: & the man is the womans head: & God is Christs head.

4 Euery man ᵇ praying or ᵇ prophecying hauing any thing on his head, ᶜ dishonoureth his head.

5 But euery woman that prayeth or ᶜ prophecieth bare headed, dishonoureth her head: for it is euen one verie thing, as though she were shauen.

6 Therefore if the woman be not couered, let her also be shorne: & if it be shame for a woman to bee ᵈ shorne or shauen, let her be couered.

7 For a man ought not to couer his head: forasmuch as he is the ᵉ image & glorie of God: but the woman is the ᵉ glorie of the man.

8 For the man is not of the woman, but the woman of the man.

9 * For the man was not created for the womans sake: but the woman for the mans sake.

10 Therefore ought the woman to haue ᶠ power on her head, because of ᵍ the Angels.

11 Neuertheles, neither is the man without the woman, neyther the woman without the man in the ʰ Lord.

12 For as the woman is of the man, so is the man also by the woman: but all things are of God.

13 Iudge in your selues, Is it comely that a woman pray vnto God vncouered?

14 Doeth not nature it selfe teache you, that if a man haue long ⁱ heare, it is a shame vnto him?

15 But if a woman haue long heare, it is a praise vnto her: for her heare is ᵏ giuen her for a couering.

16 But if any man lust to bee contentious, we haue no such custome, neyther the Churches of God.

17 ¶ Nowe in this that I declare, I praise you not, that ye come together, not with profit, but with hurt.

18 For first of al, when ye come together in the Church, I heare that there are dissensions among you: and I beleeue it to be true ᵐ in some part.

19 For there must be ⁿ heresies euen among you, that they which are approued among you, might be knowen.

20 When ye come together therefore into one place, this is not to eat the Lords supper.

21 For euery man when they should eat, taketh his owne supper afore, & one is hungrie, and another is drunken.

22 Haue ye not houses to eat & to drinke in? despise ye the Church of God, & shame them that haue not? what shal I say to you? shal I praise you in this? I praise you not.

23 For I haue receiued of the ° Lorde that which I also haue deliuered vnto you, to wit, that the Lorde Iesus in the night that he was betraied, tooke bread:

28 * Let a man therefore examine himselfe, and so let him eate of this bread, and drinke of this cup.

30 For this cause many are weake, and sicke among you, and many s sleepe.

31 For if we would iudge our selues, we should not be iudged.

CHAP. XII.

The diuersitie of the gifts of the holy Ghost ought to be vsed to the edifying of Christs Church, 12 As the members of mans bodie serue to the vse one of another.

d As no man ỹ hath the spirite of God, can blaspheme Christ, & worship idols: so none can acknowledge Christ for Lord and God wout the same spirit. John 13.13. chap.8.6. phil.2.11.

1 NOwe concerning spirituall gifes, brethren, I woulde not haue you a ignorant.

2 Ye knowe that ye were Gentiles, and were caried away vnto the b domme idoles, as ye were c led.

3 Wherefore, I declare vnto you, that no man * speaking by the d Spirite of God, calleth Jesus * erecrable: also no man can saye that Jesus is the Lorde, but by the holy Ghost.

4 Nowe there are diuersities of gifes, but the same Spirit.

5 And there are diuersities of administrations, but the same Lord.

6 And there are diuersities of operations, but God is the same which worketh all in all.

7 But the manifestation of the Spirit is giuen to euery man, to e profit withall.

8 For to one is giuen by the Spirite the word of wisedome: and to another the word of knowledge, by ỹ same Spirit:

9 And to another is giuen f faith, by the same Spirite: and to another the gifts of healing, by the same Spirit:

10 And to another g the operations of great woorkes: and to another, h prophecie: and to another, i the discerning of spirits: and to another, diuersities of tongues: and to another, the interpretation of tongues.

11 * And all these thinges worketh euen the selfe same Spirit, distributing to euery man seuerally as he will.

12 For as the bodie is one, and hath many members, and all the members of the bodie, which is one, though they be many, yet are but one bodie: euen so is Christ.

13 For by one Spirit are we al baptized into k one bodie, whether we be Iewes or Grecians, whether we be bonde, or free, and haue bene all made to drinke into one Spirit.

14 For the bodie also is not one member, but many.

15 If the foote would say, Because I am not the hand, I am not of the body, is it therefore not of the bodie?

16 And if the eare would say, Because I am not the eie, I am not of the body, is it therefore not of the body?

17 If the whole body were an eye, where were the hearing? If the whole were hearing, where were the smelling?

18 But nowe hath God disposed the members euery one of them in the bodie at his owne pleasure.

19 For if they were al one member, where were the body?

20 But now are there many members, yet but l one bodie.

21 And the eye can not say vnto ỹ hand, I haue no neede of thee: nor the head againe to the feete, I haue no neede of you.

22 Yea, much rather those members of the body, which seeme to be m more feeble, are necessarie.

23 And vpon those members of the bodie, which wee thinke most vnhoneste, put we more o honestie on: & our vncomely parts haue more comelines on.

24 For our comely parts neede it not: but God hath tempered the body together, and hath giuen ỹ more honour to that part which lacked,

25 Lest there should be any diuision in the body: but ỹ the members should p haue the same care one for another.

26 Therefore if one member suffer, al suffer with it: if one member be had in honour, al the members reioyce with it.

27 Nowe ye are the body of Christ, and members q r for your part.

28 * And God hath ordayned some in the Church: as first, Apostles, secondlie Prophetes, thirdly teachers, then them that doe miracles: after that, the gifes of healing, s helpers, t gouernours, diuersitie of tongues.

31 But *desire you the best gifts, and I will yet shewe you a more excellent way.

CHAP. XIII.

Because loue is the fountaine and rule of edifying the Church, he setteth forth the nature, office and praise thereof.

a If the Angels had tongues, & I had ☞ vse thereof, and did not bestowe them to profit my neighbour, it were nothing but vaine babbling.

b Faith is here taken for ☞ gift of doing miracles, which the wicked may haue, as Mat. 7. 22. and also for that faith (called historical) which beleueth the mightie power of Christ, but can not apprehend Gods mercie through him: and this dwels haue, Iam. 2. 19: and therefore is separated frō charitie, but the faith that iustifieth in effect can not, as 1. Ioh. 2. 9. Mat. 17. 20. Luke. 17. 6.

c Not that it suffreth it selfe to be abused, but iudgeth others by al loue and humanitie.

d Which may be without offence of Gods word.

1 Though I speake with ☞ tongues of men and a Angels, and haue not loue, I am as sounding brasse, or a tinckling cymball.

2 And though I had the gift of prophecie, and knewe all secretes & all knowledge, yea, if I had b all faith, so that I could remoue * mountaines and had not loue, I were nothing.

3 And though I feede the poore with all my goods, and though I giue my body, that I be burned, and haue not loue, it profiteth me nothing.

4 Loue suffereth long: it is bountifull: loue enuieth not: loue doeth not boast it selfe: it is not puffed vp:

5 It disdaineth not: it seketh not her own things: it is not prouoked to anger: it thinketh not euil:

6 It reioyceth not in iniquitie, but reioyceth in the trueth:

7 It suffereth al things: it beleeueth c all things: it hopeth al things: it endureth d al things.

8 Loue doeth neuer fall awap, though that prophecynges be abolished, or the tongues cease, or knowledge vanish away.

9 For e we know f in part, and we g prophecie in parte.

10 But when that which is perfect, is come, then that which is in part, shall be abolished.

11 When I was a childe, I spake as a childe, I vnderstoode as a childe, I thought as a childe: but whē I became a man, I put awap childish things.

12 For nowe we see h through a glasse darkely: but then shall we see face to face. Nowe I know in part: but then shal I know euen as I am i knowen.

13 And now abideth faith, hope and loue, euen these thre: but ☞ b chiefest of these is loue.

e Knowledge it selfe shalbe perfected in the world to come, and not abolished: but the maner of knowing & teaching shal cease, when we shalbe before Gods presence, where we shall neither neede scholes nor teachers. f That is, imperfectly. Or, teach. g The mysteries of God. Or, taughs of God. h Because it serueth both here and in the life to come: but faith and hope appertaine onely to this life.

CHAP. XIIII.

He exhorteth to loue, commendeth the gift of tongues, & other spiritual gifts, 5 But chiefly prophecying. 34 He commandeth women to keepe silence in the Church, 40 And sheweth what good order ought to be obserued in the Church.

a That is, to expound the word of God to the edification of the Church.

1 Follow after loue, & couet spirituall gifts, & rather ☞ ye may a prophecie:

2 For hee that speaketh a strange tongue, speaketh not vnto men, but vnto God: for no man b heareth him: howbeit in the c spirit hee speaketh secret things.

3 But he that prophecieth, speaketh vnto men to edifying, and to exhortation, and to comfort.

4 He that speaketh strange language, edifieth d him selfe: but he that prophecieth, edifieth the Church.

5 I would that ye all spake strange languages, but rather that ye prophecied: for greater is he that prophecieth, then hee that speaketh diuers tongues, except hee expounde it, that the Church may receiue edification.

6 And now, brethren, if I come vnto you speaking diuers tongues, what shall I profite you, except I speake to you, either by e reuelation, or by knowledge, or by prophecying, or by doctrine?

7 Moreouer things without life which giue a sound, whether it be a f pipe or an harpe, except they make a distinction in the soundes, how shal it be knowen what is piped or harped?

8 And also if the trumpet giue an vncertaine sound, who shal prepare him selfe to battel?

9 So likewise you, by the tongue, except ye vtter words that haue signification, howe shal it be vnderstand what is spoken? for ye shal speake in the aire.

10 There are so many kindes of voices (g as it commeth to passe) in the world, and none of them is vaine.

11 Except I knowe then the power of the voyce, I shalbe vnto him that speaketh, h a barbarian, and he that speaketh, shalbe a barbarian vnto me.

12 Euen so, for as much as ye couet spirituall gifts, seeke that ye may excell vnto the edifying of the Church.

13 Wherefore, let him that speaketh a strange tongue, pray, ☞ he may interpret.

14 For if I pray in a strange tongue, my spirit i prayeth: but mine vnderstanding is without k fruite.

15 What is it then? I will pray with the spirit, but I will pray with the vnderstanding also: I will l sing with the spirit, but I will sing with the vnderstanding also.

16 Els, when thou blessest with the spirit, how shall he that occupieth the roome of the vnlearned, say m Amen, at thy giuing of thankes, seeing he knoweth not what thou sayest?

17 For thou verely giuest thankes well, but the other is not edified.

18 I thanke my God, I speake languages more then ye al.

19 Yet had I rather in the Church to speake n fiue wordes with mine vnderstanding, that I might also instruct others, then ten thousand wordes in a strange tongue.

20 Brethren, be not * children in vnderstanding, but as concerning malicious nes be children, but in vnderstanding be of a ripe age.

b Vnderstādeth him.

c By the spirituall gift, which he hath receiued.

d For he profiteth none saue him selfe.

e The prophecie expoundeth that which God hath reueiled: & the doctrine teacheth ☞ which he hath giuen vs to vnderstand.

f Your wordes shal be lost: for ye shal neither glorifie God thereby, nor profite man.

Or, as the thing requireth.

g That is, they may be able to be vnderstand.

h He condemneth the Corinthians of barbarousnes in that thing, whereby they thought to haue atteined to ☞ greatest praise of eloquence.

i And doeth his part.

k Not in respect of him that prayeth, but in respect of the Church, which is nothing edified thereby.

l Or, giue thāks by singing.

m One onely made the prayers & the rest of the people followed in heart his words, and when he had prayed, they al said, Amen, signifying that they beleeued assuredly ☞ God would grant their requests.

n That is, most fewe.

21 In Mat. 18. 3.

Isa.28.11. deut.28.49. ier.5.15. ezek.3.6

o He threatneth them most sharpely, that God will punish the contempt of his worde, and their counterfait ignorance, for as much as to speak with vnknowen tongues is a signe of Gods curse towardes the wicked.

21 In the Lawe it is written,* o By men of other tongues, & by other languages wil I speake vnto this people: yet so shall they not heare me, saith the Lorde.
22 Wherefore strange tongues are for a p signe, not to them that beleeue, but to them that beleeue not: but prophesying serueth not for them that beleeue not, but for them which beleeue.
23 If therefore, when the whole Church is come together in one, and all speake strange tongues, there come in they that are vnlearned, or they which beleeue not, will they not say, that ye are out of your wittes?

p Of Gods curse when they are not vnderstand.

24 But if all prophecie, and there come in one that beleeueth not, or one vnlearned, q he is rebuked of r all men, and is iudged of all.
25 And so are þ secrets of his heart made manifest, and so he wil fal down on his face and worship God, and say plainely that God is in you in deede.

q By hearing his secret faults ript vp, & his sinnes reproued by Gods word, he is compelled by his owne conscience to praise God.

r Which expouñ ȝ word of God.

26 What is to be done then, brethren? when ye come together, according as euery one of you hath a psalme, or hath doctrine, or hath a tongue, or hath reuelation, or hath interpretation, let all things be done vnto edifying.
27 If any man speake a strange tongue, let it be by two, or at the ſ moſt, by three, & that by course, and let one interpret.
28 But if there be no interpreter, let him keepe silence in the Church, which speaketh languages, and let him speake to him selfe, and to God.
29 Let þ Prophets speake two, or three, and let the other iudge.
30 And if any thing be reuelled to another that sitteth by, let the first holde his peace.
31 For ye may all prophecie one by one, that all may learne, and all may haue comfort.
32 And the t spirits of the Prophets are u subiect to the Prophets.
33 For God is not the authour of confusion, but of peace, as we see in all the Churches of the Saintes.
34 * Let your women keepe x silence in the Churches: for it is not permitted vnto them to speake: but they ought to be subiect, as also * the Law saith.
35 And if they will learne any thing, let them aske their husbands at home: for it is a shame for women to speake in the Church.
36 y Came the worde of God out from you? either came it vnto you only?

s To haue vnderstanding of spiritual things.

37 If any man thinke him selfe to be a Prophet, or z spirituall, let him acknowledge, that þ things, that I write vnto you, are the commandements of the Lord.
38 a And if any man be ignorant, let him be ignorant.
39 Wherefore, brethren, couet to prophecie, and forbid not to speake languages.
40 Let all things be done honestly and by order.

z If any man haue iudgemẽt, let him acknowledge ȝ I speake of the spirite of God, and so let him obey: and if he haue no iudgement, let him acknowledge his ignorance, and trouble not the Church, but credit them that are learned.

CHAP. XV.

He proueth the resurrection of the dead, 3 And first that Christ is risen: 22 Then that we shal rise, 52 And the maner how.

1 MOreouer, * brethren, I declare vnto you the Gospel, which I preached vnto you, which ye haue also receiued, and wherein ye continue,
2 And whereby ye are saued, if ye keepe in memorie, after what maner I preached it vnto you, a except ye haue beleeued in vaine.
3 For first of all, I deliuered vnto you þ which b I receiued, how that Christ died for our sinnes according to the * Scriptures,
4 And that he was buried, and that he arose the thirde day, according to the * Scriptures,
5 * And that hee was seene of Cephas, then of the c twelue.
6 After that, he was seene of mo then fiue hundreth brethren at once: whereof many remaine vnto this present, and some also are a sleepe.
7 After that, he was seene of Iames: then of al the Apostles.
8 * And last of al he was seene also of me, as of one borne out of due time.
9 For I am * the least of the Apostles, which am not meete to be called an Apostle, because I persecuted the Church of God.
10 * But by the d grace of God, I am that I am: and his grace which is in me, was not in vaine: but I laboured more abundantly then they al: yet not I, but þ grace of God which is with me.
11 Wherefore whether it were I, or they, so we preach, and so haue ye beleeued.
12 ¶ Now if it be preached, that Christ is risen from the dead, how say some among you, that there is no resurrection of the dead?
13 For if there be no resurrection of the dead, then is Christ not risen.
14 And if Christ be not risen, then is our preaching e vaine, and your f faith is also vaine.
15 And we are founde also false witnesses of God: for we haue testified of God, that he hath raised vp Christ: whom he hath not raised vp, if so be the dead be not raised.
16 For if the dead be not raised, then is Christ not raised, 17 And your.

a If you beleeue to be saued by ȝ Gospell, ye must beleeue also the resurrection of ȝ dead, which is one of the principall points ther of, or els your beliefe is but vaine.

b He sheweth ȝ nothing ought to be taught, which we haue not learned by Gods worde.

d For he was but the instrument and minister, and giueth the whole glory to God.

e Christs death is not effectual, except he rise from death.

f For if Christ be swallowed vp of death, there remaineth no hope of life any more.

17 And if Christ be not rayſed, your faith is a vaine: ye are yet in your b ſinnes.
18 And ſo they which are a ſleepe in Chriſt, are perished.
19 If in this life c onely we haue hope in Chriſt, we are of all men the moſt miſerable.
20 But nowe is Chriſte riſen from the dead, and was made the * firſt d fruites of them that ſlept.
21 For ſince by man came death, by man came alſo the reſurrection of the dead.
22 For as in Adam all die, euen ſo in e Chriſt ſhall f all be made aliue, 23 But euery man in his * owne order:
the firſt fruites is Chriſt, afterward, they that are of Chriſt, at his comming ſhal riſe againe.
24 Then ſhall bee the ende, when he hath g deliuered vp the kingdome to God, euen þ Father, when he hath put downe all rule, and all authoritie and power.
25 For he muſt reigne * til he hath put all his enemies vnder his feete.
26 The laſt enemie that ſhalbe deſtroyed, is death.
27 * For he hath put downe all thinges vnder his feete. (And whē he ſaith that all thinges are ſubdued to him, it is ma-nifeſt that he is excepted, which did put downe all thinges vnder him.)
28 And when all thinges ſhalbe ſubdued vnto him, then ſhall the Sonne alſo him ſelfe be ſubiect vnto him, that did ſub-due all thinges vnder him, that God may be h all in all.
29 Elſe what ſhal they do which are baptized i k for dead? if the dead riſe not at al, why are they then baptized for dead?
30 Why are we alſo in ieopardie euerye houre?
31 l By our reioycing which I haue in Chriſt Ieſus our Lorde, I dye dayly.
32 If I haue fought with beaſtes at E-pheſus after m the maner of men, what aduantageth it me, if the dead be not raiſed vp? * let vs eate and drinke: for to morowe we ſhall die.
33 Be not deceiued: * euil ſpeakings corrupt good maners.
34 Awake to liue righteouſly, and ſinne not: for ſome haue not the knowledge of God. I ſpeake this to your ſhame.
35 But ſome man will ſay, Howe are the dead raiſed vp? and with what bodie come they forth?
36 O foole, that which thou ſoweſt, is not quickened, except it die.
37 And that which thou ſoweſt, thou ſoweſt not that bodie that ſhall be, but bare corne, as it falleth, of wheate, or of ſome other.
38 But God giueth it a body at his plea-ſure, euen to euery ſeede his own body.
39 All fleſh is not the ſame fleſh, but there is one n fleſh of men, and another fleſh of beaſtes, and another of fiſhes, & another of birdes.
40 There are alſo heauenly bodyes, and earthly bodies: but the glorie of the hea-uenly is one, and the glorie of the earthly is another.
41 There is another glorie of the o ſunne, and another glorie of the moone, and an other glorie of the ſtarres: for one ſtarre differeth from another ſtarre in glorie.
42 So alſo is the reſurrection of p dead.
The body is ſowen in corruption, and is raiſed in incorruption.
43 It is ſowen in q dishonour, and is raiſed in glorie: it is ſowen in weakeneſſe, and is rayſed in power.
44 It is ſowen a naturall body, and is rayſed a r ſpiritual body: there is a naturall body, and there is a ſpiritual body.
45 As it is alſo written, The firſt man
* Adam was made a liuing ſoule: and the laſt Adam was made a s quickening Spirit.
46 Howebeit that was not firſt made which is ſpirituall: but that which is naturall, and afterwarde that which is ſpirituall.
47 The firſt man is of the earth, earthly:
the ſecond man is the Lorde t from heauen.
48 As is the earthly, ſuch are they that are earthly: and as is the heauenly, ſuch are they alſo that are heauenly.
49 And as we haue borne the u image of the earthly, ſo ſhal we beare the image of the heauenly.
50 This ſay I, brethren, that x fleſh and blood can not inherite the kingdome of God, neither doeth corruption inherite incorruption.
51 Beholde, I ſhewe you a ſecrete thing,
We ſhall not all ſleepe, but we ſhal all be y changed,
52 In a moment, in the twinkling of an eye at the laſt * trumpette: for the trumpet ſhal blowe, and the dead ſhall be rayſed vp incorruptible, and we ſhall be changed.
53 For this corruptible muſt put on in-corruption: and this mortall muſt put on immortalitie.
54 So when this corruptible hath put on incorruption, and this mortal hath put on immortalitie, then ſhall be brought to paſſe the ſaying that is written,
* Death is ſwallowed vp into victorie.
55 ‖ * O death, where is thy ſting? O

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAVL to the Corinthians.

THE ARGVMENT.

AS nothing can be written, either ſo perfectly, or with ſo great affection and zeale, which is not vnprofitable to many, and reſiſted by ſome: ſo the firſt Epiſtle written by S. Paul to the Corinthians, beſides the puritie and perfection of the doctrine, ſheweth a loue towarde them far paſſing al natural affections: which did not only not profit al, but hardened the hearts of many to remaine in their ſtubbernes, and contemne the Apoſtles authoritie. By reaſon whereof S. Paul, being let with iuſt occaſions to come vnto them, wrote this Epiſtle from Macedonia, minding to accompliſhe the worke which he had begonne among them. Firſt therefore he wiſheth them wel in the Lorde, declaring that albeit certaine wicked perſons abuſed his afflictions to condemne thereby his authoritie, yet they were neceſſarie ſchoolings, and ſent to him by God for their bettering. And where as they blame his long abſence, it came of no inconſtancie, but to beare with their inhabilitie and imperfection, leaſt contrarie to his fatherly affection, he ſhould haue bene compelled to vſe rigour and ſeueritie. And as touching his ſharpe writing in the former epistle, it came through their fault, as is nowe euident both in that, that he pardoneth the trespasser, seeing he doeth repent: and also in that he was vnquiet in his minde, till hee was certified by Titus of their estate. But forasmuch as the false apostles went about to vndermine his authoritie, he confuteth their arrogant bragges, and commendeth his office, and the diligent executing of the same: so that Satan must haue greatly blinded their eyes, which see not the brightnesse of the Gospell in his preaching: the effect whereof is newnes of life, forsaking of our selues, cleauing to God, fleeing from idolatrie, embracing the true doctrine, & that sorow which engendreth true repentance: to the which is ioyned mercy & compassion towardes our brethren: also wisedome to put difference betwixt the simplicitie of the Gospell, and the arrogancie of the false preachers, who vnder pretence of preaching the trueth, sought onely to fill their bellies, whereas he contrariwise, sought them, and not theyr goodes, as those ambitious persons slaundered him: wherefore at his comming he menaceth such as rebell agaynst his authoritie, that he will declare by liuely example, that he is the faithfull ambassadour of Iesus Christ.

CHAP. I.

4 He declareth the great profite that commeth to the faithfull by their afflictions. 15. 17 And because they should not impute to lightnes, that hee deferred his comming contrarie to his promes, hee proueth his constancie, both by the sinceritie of his preaching, & also by the immutable trueth of the Gospel. 21 Which trueth is grounded on Christ, and sealed in our hearts by the holy Ghost.

1 PAul an Apostle of Iesus Christ, by the will of God, and our brother Timotheus, to the Church of God, which is at Corinthus [a] with all the Saints, which are in all [b] Achaia:

2 Grace bee with you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lorde Iesus Christ.

3 [c] Blessed be God, euen the Father of our Lorde Iesus Christ, the Father of mercies, and the God of all comfort, 4 Which comforteth vs in all our tribulation, that we may be able to comfort them which are in any affliction by the comfort wherewith we our selues are comforted of God.

5 For as the [d] sufferings of Christ abound in vs, so our consolation aboundeth through Christ.

6 And whether wee bee afflicted, it is for your consolation and [e] saluation, which [f] is wrought in the suffring of the same sufferings, which we also suffer: or whether we be comforted, it is for your consolation and saluation.

7 And our hope is stedfast concerning you, in as much as we knowe that as ye are partakers of the sufferings, so shal ye be also of the consolation.

8 For brethren, we would not haue you ignorant of our affliction, which came vnto vs in Asia, how we were pressed [g] out of measure passing strength, so that we altogether doubted, euen of life.

9 Yea, we [h] receiued the sentence of death in our selues, because wee shoulde not trust in our selues, but in God, which raiseth the dead.

10 Who deliuered vs from so [i] great a death, and doeth deliuer vs: in whome wee trust, that yet hereafter hee will deliuer vs, 11 * So that ye labour together in prayer for vs, that for the gift bestowed vpon vs for many, thankes may be giuen by many persons for vs. Rom.15.30.

12 [k] For our reioycing is this, the testimonie of our conscience, that in simplicitie and godly pureness, & not in fleshly wisdome, [l] but by the grace of God we haue had our conuersation in the world, and most of all to you wardes.

13 For we [m] write none other things vnto you, then that ye reade, or else that ye acknowledge, and I trust ye shall acknowledge vnto the ende.

14 Euen as ye haue acknowledged vs partly, that we are your [n] reioycing, euen as ye are [o] ours, in the [p] day of our Lord Iesus.

15 And in this confidence was I minded first to come vnto you, that yee might haue had a double grace, 16 And to passe by you into Macedonia, and to come againe out of Macedonia vnto you, and to be led forth towarde Iudea of you.

17 When I therefore was thus minded, did I vse lightnes? or minde I those things which I minde, [q] according to the flesh, that with me should be, [r] Yea, yea, and Nay, nay?

18 Yea, [s] God is faithfull, that our worde toward you, was not Yea, and Nay.

19 For the Sonne of God Iesus Christ who was preached among you by vs, [t] is, by me, & Siluanus, & Timotheus, was not Yea, and Nay: but in him it was [u] Yea.

20 For all the promises of God in him are [x] Yea, and are in him Amen, vnto the glorie of God through vs.

21 And it is God which stablisheth vs with you in Christ, and hath anointed vs.

22 Who hath also * sealed vs, & hath giuen the [y] earnest of the Spirit in our hearts.

23 Nowe, I call God for a recorde vnto my soule, that to spare you, I came not as yet vnto Corinthus.

e As God onely worketh all things in vs: so doth he also our saluation by his free mercie, and by such meanes as he hath here left in this life for vs to be exercised in.

f Hereby he sheweth his owne infirmitie, that it might appeare how wonderfully Gods graces wrought in him.

CHAP. II.

He shroweth his loue towards them, 7 Requiring likewise that they would be fauourable to the incestuous adulterer, seeing he did repent. 14 He also reioyceth in God for the efficacie of his doctrine, 17 Confuting thereby such quarelpickers, as vnder pretence of speaking against his person, sought nothing but the ouerthrowe of his doctrine.

a Which was giuen to Satan but now doeth repent.

b Which made you and him sorie in my former epistle.

c After this adulterer did repent and amend, Paul did so vtterly cast off al sorow, that he denieth that in maner he was any whit sorie.

d And so should increase his sorowe which I would diminish.

e The adulterer, which interteined his mother in lawe.

f That at my intercession you woulde declare by the publike consent of the Church that you imbrace him againe as a brother: seeing he was excommunicate by the common consent.

g That is, truely, and from mine heart, euen as in the presence of Christ.

h by our rigorous punishing.

x Or, in my mind.

i From this place vnto the.6.chap. 11. he entreateth only of the ministers, saue he sometime intermedleth that which apperteineth to the whole church, as chap.3.17.& 18.verses, and not only to the ministers. k In working mightily by vs, he maketh vs partakers of his victorie & triumph. l The preaching of the crosse bringeth death to them which only consider Christes death as a common death, and be thereat offended, or els thinke it follie: and bringeth againe life to them, who in his death behold their life.

1 BVt I determined thus in my selfe, that I woulde not come againe to you in heauines.

2 For if I make you sory, who is he then that should make me glad, but the same which is made a sorie by me?

3 And I wrote b this same thing vnto you, least when I came, I shoulde take heauines of them, of whom I ought to reioyce: this confidence haue I in you all, that my ioy is the ioy of you all.

4 For in great affliction, and anguish of heart I wrot vnto you with many teares: not that ye shoulde be made sorie, but that ye might perceyue the loue which I haue, specially vnto you.

5 And if any hath caused sorow, the same hath not c made me sory, but partly (lest I should d more charge him) you all.

6 It is sufficient vnto the same man, that he was rebuked of many.

7 So that nowe contrariwise e ye ought rather to forgiue him, & comfort him, lest the same c should be swallowed vp with ouermuch heauines.

8 Wherfore, I pray you, that you would f confirme your loue towards him.

9 For this cause also did I write, that I might knowe the proofe of you, whether ye would be obedient in all things.

10 To whom ye forgiue any thing, I forgiue also: for verely if I forgaue any thing, to whom I forgaue it, for your sakes forgaue I it in the g sight of Christ, 11 Lest Satan should h circumuent vs: for we are not ignorant of his enterprises.

12 ¶ Furthermore, whē I came to Troas to preach Christes Gospel, & a doore was opened vnto me of the Lord, 13 I had no rest i in my spirit, because I found not Titus my brother, but tooke my leaue of them, and went away into Macedonia.

14 i Now thanks be vnto God which alwaies maketh vs k to triuph in Christ, and maketh manifest the sauour of his knowledge by vs in euerie place.

15 For we are vnto God the sweete sauour of Christ, in them that are saued, and in them which perish.

16 To the one we are the l sauour of death vnto death, & to the other the sauour of life, vnto life, and who is sufficient for these thinges?

17 * For wee are not as many, m which make marchandise of the word of God: but as of sincerite, but as of God in the sight of God speake we n in Christ.

CHAP. III.

1 He taketh for example the faith of the Corinthians for a probation of ỹ truth which he preached. 6 And to exalt his Apostleship against the brags of the false apostles, 7.13 He maketh comparison betwixt the Lawe and the Gospell.

1 DO a we begin to praise our selues againe? or need we as some other, epistles of recōmendatiō vnto you, or letters of recōmendation from you?

2 Ye are our epistle, written in our hearts, which is vnderstand & read of all men,

3 In that ye are manifest, to bee the epistle of Christ, b ministred by vs, & written not with inke, but with the spirit of the liuing God, not in c tables of stone, but in fleshly tables of the heart.

4 And such trust haue we through Christ to God:

5 Not that we are sufficient of our selues, to thinke any thing, as of our selues: but our sufficiencie is of God.

6 Who also hath made vs able ministers of the new testament, not of the d letter, but of the e Spirit: for the letter killeth, but the f spirit giueth life.

7 If then the ministration of death written with letters, & ingrauen in stones, was glorious, so that the children of Israel could not behold the face of Moses for the h glorie of his countenance (which glorie is done away)

8 How shall not the ministration of the Spirit be more glorious?

9 For if the ministerie of i condemnation was glorious, much more doeth the ministration of k righteousnes exceede in glorie.

10 For euen that which was glorified, was not glorified in this point, that is, as touching the exceeding glorie.

11 For if that which should be abolished, was glorious, much more shall that which remaineth, be glorious.

12 Seeing then that we haue such trust, we vse l great boldnes of speach.

13 * And we are not as Moses, which m put a vaile vpon his face, that the children of Israel should not looke vnto the ende of that which should be abolished.

14 Therefore their mindes are hardened: for vntill this day remaineth the same couering vntaken away in the reading of the olde Testament, which vaile in a Meaning him selfe, Timotheus and Siluanus.

b Who were Gods pen.

c The hardnes of mans heart before he be regenerate is as a stonie table, Eze.11 19.&36.26: but being regenerat by the Spirite of God, it is as soft as flesh, that the grace of ỹ Gospel may be written in it, as in new tables, Iere. 31.31,32,33.

d Whose ministers Moses was.

e Which Christ gaue.

f Meaning, the spirituall doctrine, which is in our hearts.

g Thus he nameth the law, in comparison of the Gospel.

h After that God had spoken with him, and giuen him the lawe.

i For the lawe declareth all men to be vnder condemnation.

k Meaning, of the Gospell which declareth that Christ is made our righteousnes.

l In preaching the Gospel.

Exod.34.33. m Moses shewed the Lawe as it was couered with shadowes, so that the Iewes eyes were not lightened, but blinded, and so could not come to Christ, who was the ende thereof: againe the Gospel setteth foorth the glorie of God cleerely, not couering our eyes, but driuing the darkenes away from them.

Christ

n Christ is our mediatour, and author of the New testament, whose doctrine is spirituall, and giueth life to the Lawe.
Iohn.4.24.
o In Christ, who is God manifested in the flesh, we see God the father as in a most cleare glasse.

Christ is put away.
15 But euen vnto this day, when Moses is read, ẏ vaile is laid ouer their hearts.
16 Neuertheles when their heart shall be turned to the Lord, the vaile shalbe take away.
17 Now the Lord is the Spirit, & where the Spirit of ẏ Lord is, there is libertie.
18 But we all beholde as in a mirrour the glorie of the Lorde with open face, and are changed into the same image, from glorie to glorie, as by the Spirit of the Lord.

CHAP. IIII.

1 He declareth his diligence and roundnes in his office. 8 And that which his enemies tooke for his disaduantage, to wit, the crosse & afflictions which he endured, he turneth to his great aduantage, 11. 17 Shewing what profit commeth thereby.

1 THerefore, seeing that we haue this ministerie, as we haue receiued mercie, a we faint not:
2 But haue cast from vs the b clokes of shame, and * walke not in craftinesse, neither handle we the word of God deceitfully: but in declaration of ẏ truethe we approue our selues to euery mans conscience in the sight of God.
3 If our Gospel be then hid, it is hid to them, that are lost.
4 In whom the c god of this world hath blinded the mindes, that is, of the infidels, that the light of the glorious Gospel of Christ, which is the d image of God, should not shine vnto them.
5 For we preache not our e selues, but Christ Iesus the Lorde, and our selues your seruants for Iesus sake.
6 For God that * commanded the light to shine out of darkenesse, is he which hath shined in f our hearts, to giue the g light of the knowledge of the glorie of God in the face of Iesus Christ.
7 But we haue this h treasure in earthen vessels, that ẏ excellencie of that power might be of God, and not of vs.
8 We are afflicted on euery side, yet are we not in distresse: in powertie, but not ouercome of powertie.
9 We are persecuted, but not forsaken: cast downe, but we perish not.
10 Euery where we beare about in our bodie the i dying of the Lord Iesus, that the life of Iesus might also bee made manifest in our bodies.
11 For we which liue, are alwayes deliuered vnto death for Iesus sake, that the life also of Iesus might bee made manifest in our mortall flesh.
12 So then k death worketh in vs, & life in you.

a For any troubles or afflictiõs.
b Meaning, such shiftes and pretẽces as become not them that haue such a great office in hand.
Chap.2.17.
c To wit, Satan, Iohn.12.31. and 14.30. Eph.6.12.
d In whom God doeth shewe him selfe to be seene: and here Christ is called so in respect of his office.
e As they, which preach for gaine, or els which rather seeke to bee seene and knowen, then to edifie.
Gen.1.3.
f Which are your seruants.
g That we hauing receiued light, shoulde communicate the same with others, & therefore Christ calleth them the light of ẏ world, Mat.5.14.
h Albeit the ministers of the Gospel be contemptible as touching their person, yet the treasure which they carie is nothing worse or inferiour.
i All the faithfull, & chiefly the ministers must drinke of this cup, because the world hateth Christ: and also ẏ the members should be conformable to Christ their head, yet by the mightie power of Christ, who ouercame death, they are made conquerours.
k By our death you haue life: so that the fruit of our afflictions commeth to you.

13 And because we haue ẏ same l Spirit of fayth, according as it is written, * I beleeued, and therefore haue I spoken, we also beleeue, and therefore speake, 14 Knowing that hee which hath raised vp the Lord Iesus, shall m raise vs vp also by Iesus, & shal set vs with you.
15 For all things are for your sakes, that most plenteous grace by the thankesgiuing of * many, may redounde to the praise of God.
16 Therefore wee faint not, but though our outwarde man n perish, yet the inward man is o renewed daily.
17 For our p light affliction which is but for a moment, causeth vnto vs a farre most excellent and an eternall weight of glory:
18 While we looke not on ẏ things which are seene, but on the thinges which are not seene: for ẏ things which are seene, are temporall: but the things which are not seene, are eternall.

l The same faith by the inspiration of the holy Ghost.
Psal.116.10.
m In deliuering vs from these dangers, which is as it were a restoring from death to life.
n That I being dead, am restored to you againe, may not only my self giue God thankes for this infinite benefite of deliuerance, but also you al, which are both partakers of mine affliction and comfort, may abundãtly set forth his glory.
o Groweth stronger.
p Which is so called in respect of the euerlasting life.

CHAP. V.

1 Paul proceedeth to declare the vilitie that commeth by the crosse. 4 Howe we ought to prepare our selues vnto it, 5 By whom, 9 And for what ende. 14. 19 He setteth forth the grace of Christ, 20 And the office of ministers, and al the faithful.

1 FOr we knowe that if a our earthly house of this tabernacle be destroyed, wee haue a building giuen of God, that is, an house not made with hands, but eternall in the heauens.
2 For therefore we sigh, desiring to bee clothed with our house, which is from heauen.
3 b Because that if we be clothed, we shal not be found * naked.
4 For in deede we that are in this tabernacle, sigh and are burdened, c because we would not be vnclothed, but would be clothed vpon, that mortalitie might be swalowed vp of life.
5 And hee that hath created vs for this thing, is God, who also hath giuen vnto vs the * earnest of the Spirit.
6 Therefore we are alway d bold, though we know that whiles we are e at home in the bodie, wee are absent from the Lord.
7 (For we f walke by faith, and not by sight)
8 Neuertheless, we are bolde, and loue rather to remoue out of the body, and to dwell with the Lord.
9 Wherefore also wee couet, that both dwelling d at home, & removing e from home, we may be acceptable to him.
10 * For we must all appeare before the iudgement seate of Christ, that euery man may receiue the things which are done in his bodie, according to that hee hath done, whether it be g good or euill.
11 Knowing therefore the h terrour of a After this body shalbe dissolued, it shall be made incorruptible and immortall.

b Or, if so be we shalbe found clothed, and not naked.

c Or, wherein.
Chap.1.22.
d Not onely quiet in minde, but also readie to sustaine all dangers: being assured of the good successe thereof.
e Or, strangers in the body.
f For here onely we beleeue in God, and see him not.
d In this body.
e Out of this body, to heauen.
Rom.14.10.
f That is, either glory or shame.
g His fearefull

h He proueth the dignitie of his ministerie by the fruite and effect thereof, which is, to bring men to Christ.
i By imbracing the same faith which wee preach to others.
k As they, which more esteemed the outward shewe of wisdome and eloquence, then true godlines.
l As the aduersaries saide, which could not abide to heare them praised.
m Out follie serueth to Gods glorie.
n Therefore whosoeuer giueth place to ambition or vaine glory, is yet dead, and liueth not in Christ.
o As the onely faithfull doe in Christ.
p According to the estimation of the world: but as he is guided by the Spirit of God.
q We do not esteeme, nor commende Christ him selfe nowe, as he was an excellent man: but as he was the Sonne of God, partaker of his glorie, and in whom God dwelled corporally: and do you thinke, that I will flatter my selfe or any man in setting forth his giftes? Yea, when I prayse my ministerie, I commend the power of God: when I commende our worthie factes, I prayse the myghtie power of God, set foorth by vs wormes and wretches. r Let him be regenerate, & renounce himself, els al the rest is nothing. Isa.43 19. rom.l.21.5. s Therefore without Christ we cannot enioy the life euerlasting nor come to God. t That is, a sacrifice for sinne.
u By imputation, when we shalbe clad with Christs iustice.

the Lorde, we [h] perswade men, and wee [i] are made manifest vnto God, and I trust also that we are made manifest in your consciences.
12 For we prayse not our selues againe vnto you, but giue you an occasion to reioyce of vs, that ye may haue to answere against them, which reioyce in the [k] face, and not in the heart.
13 For whether wee be [l] out of our wit, we are it [m] to God: or whether we be in our right minde, we are it vnto you.
14 For the loue of Christ constrayneth vs: because we thus iudge, that if one be dead for all, then were [n] all dead,
15 And he dyed for all, that they [o] which liue, should not henceforth liue vnto them selues, but vnto him which dyed for them, and rose againe.
16 Wherefore, henceforth knowe we no man [p] after the flesh, yea though we had knowen Christ after the flesh, yet nowe henceforth [q] knowe we him no more.
17 Therefore if any man be in Christ, let him be a [r] newe creature. * Olde things are passed away: beholde, all thinges are become newe.
18 And al things are of God, which hath reconciled vs vnto him selfe by Iesus Christ, and hath giuen vnto vs the ministerie of reconciliation.
19 For God was [s] in Christ, and reconciled the worlde to him selfe, not imputing their sinnes vnto them, and hath committed to vs the worde of reconciliation.
20 Nowe then are wee ambassadours for Christ: as though God did beseeche you through vs, we pray you in Christs stead, that ye be reconciled to God.
21 For he hath made him to be [t] sinne for vs, which knewe no sinne, that wee should be [u] made the righteousnesse of God in him.

a To wit, Gods free mercie, wherein he hath powred foorth his infinite loue.
b By the infidels, if they sawe no fruite come thereof.

i Shewe like affection towards me.
k He seemeth to allude to that which is written, Deut. 22.10. where the Lorde commandeth that an oxe and an asse be not yoked together, because y matche is vnequal: so if the faithful marrie with the infidels, or els haue to do with them in any thing vnlawfull, it is here reproued. Ecclus.13.18. l Or, *the deuill. 1. CHAP. VI.

1 An exhortation to Christian life, 11 And to beare him like affection, as he doth them. 14 Also to keepe them selues from all pollution of idolatrie both in bo he, and soule, and to haue none acquaintance with idolaters.

1 WE then as workers together beseeche you, that ye receiue not the grace of God in vaine.
2 For he sayth, * I haue heard thee in a time accepted, and in the day of saluation haue I succoured thee: beholde nowe the [a] accepted time, beholde nowe the day of saluation.
3 We giue no occasion of offence in any thing, that our ministerie shoulde not be [b] reprehended.
4 But in all thinges wee approue our selues as * the ministers of God, in much patience, in afflictions, in necessities, in distresses,
5 In stripes, in prisons, in tumultes, in labours,
6 By [c] watchings, by fastings, by puritie, by knowledge, by long suffering, by kindnes, by the [d] holy Ghost, by [e] loue vnfained,
7 [f] By the worde of trueth, by the power of God, by the armour of righteousnesse on the right hand and on the left,
8 By honour, and dishonour, by euill report and good report, as deceiuers, and yet true:
9 As vnknowen, and yet knowen: as dying, and beholde, we liue: as chastened, and yet not killed:
10 As sorowing, and yet alway reioycing: as poore, and yet make many rich: as hauing nothing, and yet possessing all things.
11 O Corinthians, our [g] mouth is open vnto you: our heart is made large.
12 Ye are not kept strait in vs, but ye are kept strait in your owne [h] bowels.
13 Nowe for the same recompence, I speake as to my children, [i] be you also enlarged.
14 [k] Be not vnequally yoked with the infidels: for * what fellowshippe hath righteousnesse with vnrighteousnesse? and what communion hath light with darknesse?
15 And what concorde hath Christ with [l] Belial? or what part hath the beleeuer with the infidel?
16 And what agreement hath the Temple of God with idoles? * for ye are the Temple of the [m] liuing God: as God hath said, * I will dwell among them, and walke there: and I will be their God, and they shall be my people.
17 * Wherefore come out from among them, and separate your selues, sayth the Lorde: and touche none vncleane thing, and I will receiue you.
18 * And I will be a Father vnto you, and ye shall be my sonnes and daughters, saith the Lord almightie.

Isa.49.8.

CHAP. VII.

1 He exhorteth them by the promises of God to keepe them selues pure, 3. 7 Assuring them of his loue, 8. 13 And doth not excuse his seueritie toward them, but reioyceth thereat, considering what profite came thereby. 10. Of two sortes of sorowe.

1 Seeing

1 SEeing then we haue these promises, dearely beloued, let vs [a] cleanse our selues from all filthines of the [b] flesh and spirit, and growe vp vnto ful holynes in the feare of God.

2 [c] Receiue vs: wee haue done wrong to no man: we haue consumed no man: we haue [d] defrauded no man.

3 I speake it not to your condemnation: for I haue said before, that ye are in our hearts, to die and liue together.

4 I vse great boldnes of speach toward you: I reioyce greatly in you: I am filled with comfort, & am exceeding ioyous in all our tribulation.

5 For when wee were come into Macedonia, our flesh had no rest; but we were troubled on euery side, fightinges [e] without, and terrours within.

6 But God, that comforteth the abiect, comforted vs at the comming of Titus:

7 And not by his comming onely, but also by the cõsolation wherewith he was comforted of you, when hee tolde vs your great desire, your mourning, your feruent minde to me ward, so that I reioyced [f] much more.

8 For though I made you sorie with a letter, I repent not, though I did repent: for I perceiue that the same epistle made you sorie, though it were but for a season.

9 I now reioyce, not that ye were sorie, but that ye sorowed to repentance: for ye sorowed godlie, so that in nothing ye were hurt by vs.

10 *For godly sorow causeth repentance vnto saluation, not to bee repented of: but the worldly sorow causeth death.

11 For behold, this thing þ ye haue bene [g] godly sorie, what great care it hath wrought in you: yea, what [h] clearing of your selues: yea, what indignation: yea, what feare: yea, how great desire: yea, what a zeale: yea, what [i] punishment: in all things ye haue shewed your selues, that ye are pure in this matter.

12 Wherefore, though I wrote vnto you, I did not it for his cause that had done the wrong, neither for his cause that had the iniurie, but that our care toward you in the sight of GOD might appeare vnto you.

13 Therefore wee were comforted, because yée were comforted: but rather we reioyced much more for the ioy of Titus, because his [l] spirite was refreshed by you all.

14 For if that I haue boasted any thing to him of you, I haue not bene ashamed: but as I haue spoken vnto you all things in trueth, euẽ so our boasting vnto Titus was true.

15 And [k] his inward affection is more abundant toward you, when he remembreth the obedience of you all, and howe with feare and trembling yee receiued him.

16 I reioyce therefore that I may [l] put my confidence in you in al things.

a Confidet this wel, ye ỳ serue idoles with your bodies, and yet thinke your consciences pure toward God: God wil one day smite you for your halting.
b Of body and soule.
c That we may touch you.
d By griedy couetousnes.
e He had neyther rest in body nor Spirite: and it seemeth that he alludeth to that which is written, Deut. 32.25. For the crosse to mans eye is common both to the godly & to the wicked, although to contrarie ends.

h In asking God forgiuenes.

CHAP. VIII.

1 By the example of the Macedonians, 9 And Christ, he exhorteth them to continue in relieuing the poore Saintes, commending their good beginning. 23 After he commendeth Titus and his fellowes vnto them.

WE do you also to wit, brethrẽ, of the [a] grace of God bestowed vpõ the Churches of Macedonia,

2 Because in great trial of affliction their ioy abounded, and their most extreme pouertie [b] abounded vnto their rich liberalitie.

3 For to their power (I beare recorde) yea, and beyond their power, they were willing,

4 And prayed vs with great instance that we would receyue the [c] grace, and felowship * of the ministring which is toward the Saints.

5 And this they did, not as wee looked for: but gaue their owne selues, first to the Lord, & after vnto vs by the wil of God,

6 That we should exhort Titus, that as he had begonne, so he would also accõplish the same grace among you also.

7 Therfore, as ye abound in euery thing, in faith and word, and knowledge, and in all diligence, and in your loue towards vs, euen so see that ye abounde in this grace also.

8 This say I not by commandement, but because of the diligence of others: therefore proone I the naturalnesse of your loue.

9 For ye knowe the grace of our Lorde Iesus Christ, that hee being riche, for your sakes became poore, þ ye through his pouertie might be made rich.

10 And I shew my minde herein: for this is expedient for you, which haue begun not to doe onely, but also to [d] will, a yere agoe.

11 Now therefore performe to do it also, that as there was a readines to wil, euen so ye may performe it of that which ye haue.

12 For if there be first a willing minde, it is accepted according to þ a man hath, and not according to that hee hath not.

13 Neither is it that other men should be eased and you grieued.

14 But vpon like condition, at this time your [e] abundance supplieth their lacke, that also their abundance may bee for your lack, that there may be [f] equalitie:

15 As it is written, * He that gathered much, had nothing ouer, and hee that gathered litle, had not the lesse.

16 And thanks be vnto God, which hath put in the heart of Titus the same care for you.

17 Because he accepted the [g] exhortation, yea, he was so careful, that of his owne accorde he went vnto you.

18 And wee haue sent also with him the brother, whose prayse is [h] in the Gospell a This benefite of God appeared in two things: first, that ỳ Macedonians being in so great afflictions were so prompt to helpe others: and next ỳ being in great pouertie, were very liberall towardes others.

b So that a most abundant riuer of riches flowed out of their pouertie.
c So he calleth their liberalitie, eyther because they were the bestowers of Gods graces, or because they receiued them of God freely, & so they desired Paul to see to the distribution thereof. Chap. 9.12.
d Euery man may doe good ỳ hath abilitie thereunto: but to will, and haue a minde to doe good, cõmeth of perfect charitie.
e That as you helpe others in their neede, so others shal relieue your want f That both you and others, as occasion shall serue, may relieue the godly according to their necessities. Exod 16.18.
g And willingly offred him selfe to gather your almes.

throughout all the Churches,
19 (And not so onely, but is also chosen of the Churches to be a felow in our iourney concerning this grace that is ministred by vs vnto the glorie of the same Lord, and declaration of your prompt minde)
20 Auoyding this, that no man should blame vs in this abundance that is ministred by vs, 21 * Prouiding for i honest thinges, not onely before the Lorde, but also before men.
22 And we haue sent with them our brother whom we haue oft times proued to be diligent in many things, but now much more diligent, for the great confidence, which I haue in you.
23 Whether any do enquire of Titus, hee is my fellowe and helper to youwarde: or of our brethren, they are messengers of the Churches, and the k glorie of Christ.
24 Wherefore shew towarde them, and before the Churches the proofe of your loue, and of the reioycing that we haue of you.

CHAP. IX.

3 The cause of Titus and his companions comming to them. 6 He exhorteth to giue almes cheerefully, 7 Shewing what fruite will come thereof.

1 FOr as touching the ministring to the Saints, it is superfluous for mee to write vnto you.
2 For I knowe your readines of minde, whereof I boast my selfe of you vnto them of Macedonia, & say, that Achaia was prepared a yere a goe, and your zeale hath prouoked many.
3 Now haue I sent the brethren, lest our reioycing ouer you shoulde be in vayne in this behalfe, that ye (as I haue said) be readie:
4 Least if they of Macedonia come with mee, and finde you unprepared, we (I need not to say, you) should be ashamed in this my constant boasting.
5 Wherefore, I thought it necessarie to exhort the brethren to come before vnto you, and to finish your benevolence appointed afore, that it might be readie, & come as of benevolence, and not as of sparing.
6 This yet remember, that he which soweth sparingly, shall reape also sparingly, and he that soweth liberally, shall reape also liberally.
7 As euerie man wisheth in his heart, so let him giue, not * grudgingly, or of necessitie: * For God loueth a cherefull giuer.
8 And God is able to make all grace to abound toward you, that ye alwayes hauing a all sufficiencie in all thinges, may abound in euerie b good worke,
9 *As it is written, c He hath sparsed abroad and hath giuen to the poore: his benevolence remaineth for euer.
10 Also he that findeth seede to the sower, will minister likewise bread for foode, and multiplie your seede, and increase the fruits of your benevolence, 11 That on all partes ye may bee made rich vnto all liberalitie, which causeth though vs thanksgiuing vnto God.
12 For the ministration of this seruice not only supplieth the necessities of the Saintes, but also is abundant by the thanksgiuing of many vnto God.
13 (Which by the experiment of this ministration prayse God for your obedient submission to the Gospel of Christ, and for your liberall distribution to them, and to all men)
14 And by d their prayer for you, e desiring after you greatly, for the abundat grace of God in you.
15 Thankes therefore bee vnto God for his vnspeakeable gift.

e Or, greatly affectioned toward you.

CHAP. X.

He toucheth the false apostles and defendeth his authoritie, exhorting them to obedience, 11 And sheweth what his power is, 13 And how hee vseth it.

1 NOw I Paul my selfe beseech you by the meekenes, & gentlenes of Christ, which when I am present among you, am a base, but am bold toward you being absent:
2 And this I require you, that I neede not to be bold when I am present, with that same confidence, wherewith I thinke to be bolde against some, which esteeme vs as though wee walked b according to the flesh.
3 Neuertheless, though wee walke in the flesh, yet wee do not warre after the flesh,
4 (For the weapons of our warrefare are not carnall, but mightie though God, to cast downe holdes)
5 Casting downe the imaginations, and euery high thing that is exalted against the knowledge of God, & bringing into captiuitie euery thought to the obedience of Christ,
6 And hauing readie the vengeance against all disobedience, when your obedience is fulfilled.
7 Looke ye on things after p appearance? If any man trust in him selfe that he is Christs, let him consider this againe of himselfe, that as he is Christes, euen so are we Christes.
8 For though I should boast somewhat more of our authoritie, which the Lord hath giuen vs for edification, and not for your destruction, I should haue no shame.
9 This I say that I may not seeme as it were to feare you with letters.
10 For the letters, c saith he, are sore and strong, but his bodily presence is weake, and his speach is of no value.
11 Let such one thinke this, that such as we are in word by letters when we are absent, such wil we be also in deed, when we are present.
12 For we dare not make our selues of p nomber, a These wordes his backbiters vsed, thinking thereby to diminish his authoritie, as vers. 10.

b As though we boasted of our selues by a carnal affection.
c Meaning, a certaine man among them, which thus spake of Paul.

d He that measureth any thing must haue some line or measure to mete by, and not to measure a thing by it selfe: so these boasters must measure themselues by their worthie actes: and if they wil compare with others, let them shew what countries, what cities, & people they haue wõne to the Lord: for who wil praise that souldier, which onely at the table cã fine ly talke of the warres, & when he commeth to the brunt, is neither valiant nor expert? Ephe.4.7.

e That is, the giftes and vocation, which God had giuen him to winne others by.

number, or to compare our selues to them, which praise themselues: but they vnderstand not that the [d] measure 13 But wee will not reioyce of things, which are not within our measure, * but according to the [e] measure of the line, wherreof God hath distributed vnto vs a measure to attaine euen vnto you.

14 For we stretch not our selues beyond our measure, as though we had not attained vnto you: for euen to you also haue wee come in preaching the Gospell of Christ,

15 Not boasting of thinges which are without our measure: that is, of other mens labours: and wee hope, when your fayth shal increase, to be magnified by you according to our line abundantly,

16 And to preache the Gospell in those regions which are beyond you: not to reioyce in [f] another mans line, that is, in the things that are prepared alreadv.

17 * But let him that reioyceth, reioyce in the Lord.

18 For he that praiseth himselfe, is not alowed, but hee whome the LORD praiseth.

f God gaue the whole world to the Apostles to preach in, so that Paul here meaneth by the line, his portion of the countreyes where he preached. Iere.9.24. 1.cor.1.31.

CHAP. XI.

2 He declareth his affection toward them. 5 The excellencie of his ministerie, 9 And his diligence in the same. 13 The sotches of the false apostles. 16 The peruerse iudgement of the Corinthians, 22 And his owne praises.

a He calleth the praising of him selfe dotage, to the which thing the arrogancie of the false apostles compelled him, who sought nothing els, but to ouerthrowe the Church by diminishing the authoritie of his ministerie.

b To speake in mine owne commendation.

c The minister marrieth Christ and his Church as husband and wife by preaching of the Gospell.

1 WOuld to God, ye could suffer a litle my [a] foolishnes, and in deede, [b] ye suffer me.

2 For I am ielous ouer you, with godly iealousie: for [c] I haue prepared you for one husband, to present you as a pure virgine to Christ:

3 But I feare least as the * serpent beguiled Eue through his subtiltie, so your mindes should bee corrupt from the simplicitie that is in Christ.

4 For if hee that commeth, preacheth another [d] Iesus then him whome wee haue preached: or if ye receiue another [e] spirit then that which ye haue receiued: either another Gospell, then that ye haue receiued, yee might well haue suffered him.

5 Verely I [f] suppose that I was not inferiour to the very chiefe Apostles.

6 And though I bee [g] rude in speaking, yet I am not so in knowledge, but among you we haue bene made manifest to the vtmost, in al things.

7 Haue I committed an offence, because I abased my selfe, that ye might be exalted, and because I preached to you the Gospel of God freely?

8 I [h] robbed other Churches, and tooke wages of them to do you seruice.

9 And when I was present with you, and had nerde, I was [i] not slothfull to the hinderance of any man: for that which was lacking vnto mee, the brethren which came from Macedonia, supplied, and in all things I kept and will keepe my selfe, that I shoulde not * be grieuous to you.

10 [k] The trueth of Christ is in mee, that this reioycing shall not bee shut vp against me in the regions of Achaia.

11 Wherefore? because I loue you not? God knoweth.

12 But what I doe, that wil I doe: that I may cut away occasion from them which desire [l] occasion, that they might be founde like vnto vs in that wherein they reioyce.

13 For such false [m] apostles are deceitfull workers, & transforme themselues into the Apostles of Christ.

14 And no marueile: for Satan himselfe is transformed into an Angel of light.

15 Therefore it is no great thing, though his ministers transforme them selues, as though they were the ministers of righteousnes, whose end shalbe according to their workes.

16 I say againe, let no man thinke, that I am foolish: or els take mee euen as a foole, that I also may boast my selfe a litle.

17 That I speake, I speake it not after the [n] Lord: but as it were foolishly, in this my great boasting.

18 Seeing that many reioyce [o] after the flesh, I wil reioyce also.

19 For ye suffer fooles gladly, because that ye are wise.

20 For ye suffer euen if a man bring you into bondage, if a mã deuour you, if a man take your goods, if a man exalt himselfe, if a man smite you on the face.

21 [p] I speake as concerning the reproch, as though that we had bene [q] weake: but wherein any man is bold (I speake foolishly) I am bold also.

22 They are Ebrewes, * so am I: they are Israelites, so am I: they are the seede of Abraham, so am I:

23 They are the Ministers of Christ, (I [r] speake as a foole) I am more: in labours more abundant: in stripes aboue measure: in prison more plenteously: in [s] death oft.

24 Of the Iewes [t] fiue times receiued I fourtie stripes * saue one.

2 * I knowe a man ª in Christ above fouretene yeeres agone, (whether hee were in the body, I can not tel, or out of the bodie, I can not tell: God knoweth) which was taken vp into the ᵇ third heauen.

ª That is, a Christian: or, I speake it in Christ.

ᵇ That is to say, into the highest heauen.

3 And I knowe such a man (whether in the bodie, or out of the bodie, I cannot tell: God knoweth)

ᶜ Mans infirmitie was not able to declare them, neither were they shewed vnto him for that end.

4 How that hee was taken vp into Paradise, and heard ᶜ wordes which cannot be spoken, which are not ᵈ possible for man to vtter.

ᵈ Or, lawfull.

5 Of such a man will I reioyce: of my selfe wil I not reioyce, except it bee of mine infirmities.

ᵈ The Greeke worde signifieth a sharpe piece of wood, as a pale, or stake, and also a litle spilde or sharpe thing which pricketh one as he goeth through busshie & thicke places, and entring into the flesh, cannot be taken out without cutting of the flesh: & this was the rebelling of ỹ flesh against the Spirit, and warned him that Satan was at hand.

6 For though I would reioyce, I should not be a foole: for I wil say the trueth, but I refraine, least any man should be thinke of me above that he seeth in me, or that he heareth of me.

7 And least I should bee exalted out of measure through the abundance of reuelations, there was given vnto mee ᵈ a pricke in the flesh, the messenger of Satan to buffet mee, because I should not be exalted out of measure.

8 For this thing I besought the Lorde * thrise, that it might depart from me.

9 And he sayde vnto mee, My grace is sufficient for thee: for my power is made ᶠ perfect through weakenesse. Very gladly therefore will I reioyce rather in mine infirmities, that the power of Christ may dwell in me.

10 Therefore ᵍ I take pleasure in infirmities, in reproches, in necessities, in persecutions, in anguish for Christes sake: for when I am weake, then am I strong.

13 For what is it, wherein ye were inferiours vnto other Churches, * except that I haue not bene ª slothfull to your hinderance? forgiue mee this wrong.

ª That is to say, oftentimes.

14 Beholde, the ʰ thirde time I am ready to come vnto you, and yet will I not bee slothfull to your hinderance: for I seeke not yours, but ⁱ you: for the children ought not to lay vp for the fathers, but the fathers for the children.

1 This is the a third time that I come vnto you. * In the mouth of two or three witnesses shall every word stand.

5 * Proue your selues whether ye are in the fayth: examine your selues: knowe ye not your owne selues, how that Iesus Christ is in you, except ye be reprobates?

THE EPISTLE OF THE APOSTLE Paul to the Galatians.

THE ARGVMENT.

THe Galatians after they had bene instructed by S Paul in the trueth of the Gospell, gaue place to false apostles, who entring in, in his absence corrupted the pure doctrine of Christ, and taught that the ceremonies of the Law must be necessarily obserued, which thing the Apostle so earnestly reasoneth against, that he proueth that the graunting thereof is the ouerthrow of mans saluation purchased by Christ: for thereby the light of the Gospel is obscured: the conscience burdened: the testaments confounded: mans iustice established. And because the false teachers did pretende, as though they had bin sent of the chief Apostles, and that Paul had no authoritie, but spake of himselfe, he proueth both that he is an Apostle ordeined by God, and also that he is not inferiour to the rest of the Apostles: which thing established, he proceedeth to his purpose, prouing that we are freely iustified before God without any workes or ceremonies: which notwithstanding in their time had their vse and commoditie: but nowe they are not onely vnprofitable figures, but also pernicious, because Christ the trueth and the end thereof is come. wherefore men ought now to embrace that libertie, which Christ hath purchased by his blood, and not to haue their consciences snared in the grennes of mans traditions: finally he sheweth wherein this libertie standeth, and what exercises appertaine thereunto.

CHAP. I.

6 Paul rebuketh their inconstancie which suffred themselues to be seduced by the false apostles, who preached that the obseruation of the ceremonies of the Lawe were necessarie to saluation, 8 And detesteth them that preach any otherwise then Christ purely. 13 He sheweth his own conuersation, magnifieth his office and Apostleship, and declareth himselfe to be equal with the chiefe Apostles.

1 PAul * an Apostle (not a of men, neither by man, but by Iesus Christ, and God b Father which hath raysed him from the dead)

d Or, doctrine.

e That is, to be partakers of the saluation offered freely by Christ.

7 Which

7 Which is not another Gospel, saue that there bee some which trouble you, and intende to [e] pervert the Gospell of Christ.

8 But though that wee, or an [f] Angel from heauen preach vnto you otherwise, then that which wee haue preached vnto you, let him be [g] accursed.

9 As we said before, so say I now againe, If any man preach vnto you otherwise then that ye haue receiued, let him be accursed.

10 For [h] now preache I mans doctrine, or Gods? or go I about to please men? for if I should yet please men, I were not the seruant of Christ.

11 * Now I certifie you, brethren, that the Gospell which was preached of me, was not after [k] man.

12 For neither receiued I it of man, neither was I taught it, but by the [l] reuelation of Iesus Christ.

13 For ye haue heard of my conuersation in time past, in the Iewish religion, how that * I persecuted the Church of God extremely, and wasted it, 14 And profited in the Iewishe religion aboue many of mine [g] companions of mine owne nation, and was much more zealous of the [k] traditions of my fathers.

15 But when it [i] pleased God (which had separated me from my mothers wombe, and called me by his grace)

16 To reueile his Sonne [m] in mée, that I should preach him * among the Gentiles, immediatly I communicated not with [m] flesh and blood:

17 Neither came I againe to Ierusalem to them which were Apostles before me, but I went into Arabia, and turned againe vnto Damascus.

18 Then after three yeres I came againe to Ierusalem to visit Peter, and abode with him fiftéene dayes.

19 And none other of the Apostles sawe I, saue Iames the Lords brother.

20 Now the things which I write vnto you, beholde, I witnesse before God, that I lie not.

21 After that, I went into the coastes of Syria and Cilicia: for I was vnknowē by face vnto the Churches of Iudea, which were in Christ.

22 But they had heard only some say, He which persecuted vs in time past, nowe preacheth the [n] faith, which before he destroyed.

23 And they glorified God for me.

e For what is more contrarie to our free iustification by faith, then the iustification by the Lawe, or our workes? therefore to ioyne these two together, is to ioyne light with darknes, death with life, and doeth vtterly ouerthrowe the Gospel.

1 Then fourtéene yéeres after, I went vp againe to Ierusalē with Barnabas, & tooke with me Titus also.

2 And I went vp by reuelation, & [o] communicated with them of the Gospell which I preache among the Gentiles, * but particularly with them that were the chiefe, least by any meanes I should runne, or had runne [p] in vaine:

13 And the other Iewes dissembled likewise with him, in so much that Barnabas was brought into their dissimulation also.

14 But when I saw, that they went not the [p] right waye to the trueth of the Gospel, I said vnto Peter before al me, If thou being a Iewe, liuest as the Gentiles, and not like the Iewes, why [h] constrainest thou the Gentiles to doe lyke the Iewes?

[q] As did the false apostles which preached not the faith in Christ.

[r] Or, for nothing.

the woorkes of the Lawe, but by the fayth of Iesus Christ: euen we, I say, haue beleeued in Iesus Christ, that we might be iustified by the faith of Christ, & not by the woorkes of the Lawe, because that by the woorkes of the Law no [h] flesh shall be iustified.

17 * If then while we seeke to bee made righteous by Christ, we our selues are found [k] sinners, is Christ therefore the minister of sinne? God [l] forbid.

18 For if I build againe the things that I haue destroyed, [m] I make my selfe a trespasser.

19 For I through the Lawe am dead to the Lawe, and that I might liue vnto God, I am [n] crucified with Christ.

20 Thus I liue, yet [o] not I nowe, but Christ liueth in mee: and in that that I now liue in the flesh, I liue by the faith in the sonne of God, who hath loued me, and giuen himselfe for me.

21 I do not abrogate the [q] grace of God: for if righteousnesse be by the Law, then Christ died [r] without a cause.

CHAP. III.

1 He rebuketh them sharply, 2 And proueth by diuers reasons that iustification is by faith, 6 As appeareth by the example of Abraham, 10.19.24 And by the office, and the end, both of the Lawe, 11.25 And of fayth.

O foolish Galatians, who hath bewitched you that yee should not obey the trueth, to whom Iesus Christ before [a] was described in your sight, and among you crucified?

[a] To whome Christ was so liuely preached, as if his liuely image were set before your eyes, or else had bene crucified among you.

2 This onely would I learne of you, Receiued ye the [b] Spirit by the woorkes of the Lawe, or by the hearing of [c] faith preached?

[b] Meaning, the giftes of the Spirit.

[c] That is, the doctrine of saluation through faith in Iesus Christ, as chap. 1.22.

3 Are ye so foolish, that after ye haue begonne in the Spirit, ye would now [d] be made perfect by the [e] flesh?

[d] The false apostles taught that Christ profited nothing, except they were circumcised, and that the Lawe was the perfection, and Christs doctrine onely the rudiments thereunto.

4 Haue yee suffered so many thinges in vaine? if so be it be euen in vaine.

5 He therefore that ministreth to you the Spirite, and woorketh miracles among you, doeth he it through the woorkes of the Law, or by the hearing of faith preached?

6 Yea rather as Abraham beleeued God, and it was * imputed to him for righteousnesse.

7 Knowe yee therefore, that they which are of faith, the same are the children of Abraham.

8 For the Scripture foreseeing, that God would iustifie the Gentiles through faith, preached before the Gospell vnto Abraham, saying, * In thee shall all the Gentiles be blessed.

9 So then they which bee of fayth, are blessed with faithfull Abraham.

10 For as many as are of the [f] woorkes of the Lawe, are vnder the curse: for it is written, * Cursed is euery man that continueth not in all things, which are written in the booke of the Lawe, to doe them.

11 And that no man is iustified by the Lawe in the sight of God, it is euident: * for the iust shall liue by faith.

12 And the [g] Lawe is not of fayth: but * the man that shal do those things, shal liue in them.

13 Christ hath redeemed vs frō the curse of the Law, when he was made a curse for vs (for it is written, * Cursed is euerie one that hangeth on tree)

14 That the blessing of Abraham might come on the Gentiles through Christ Iesus, that we might receiue the [h] promises of the Spirit through fayth.

15 Brethren, [i] I speake as men doe, * Though it bee but a mans couenant when it is confirmed, yet no man doeth abrogate it, or [k] adde any thing thereto.

16 Nowe to Abraham and his seede were the promises made. He saith not, And to the seedes, as speaking of many: but, And to thy seede, as of one, which [l] is Christ.

17 And this I say, that the Lawe which was foure hundreth and thirtie yeeres after, cannot disanull the couenant that was confirmed afore of God in respect of Christ, that it should make the promise of none effect.

18 For if the inheritance be of the Lawe, it is no more by the promise, but God gaue it vnto Abraham by promise.

19 Wherefore then serueth the Lawe? It was added because of the [m] transgressions, till the seede came vnto the which the promise was made: & it was ordeined by [n] Angels in the hande of a Mediatour.

20 Now a Mediatour is not a mediatour of [o] one: but God is [p] one.

21 Is the Lawe then against the promise of God? God forbid: for if there had bene a Law giuen which could haue giuen life, surely righteousnesse should haue bene by the Lawe.

22 But the Scripture hath * concluded all vnder sinne, that the promise by the fayth of Iesus Christ should be giuen to them that beleeue.

23 But before [r] fayth came, wee were kept vnder the Lawe, and shut vp vnto the faith, which should afterwarde bee reuealed.

24 Wherefore the * Law was our schole-

[f] Which thinke to be iustified by them.

[g] The Law pronounceth not the iust, which beleeue, but which worke, & so condemneth all the which in all poynts doe not fulfill it.

[h] Which is the Gospel.

[i] I wil vse a common example that you may be ashamed to attribute lesse vnto God, then to such couenants, which one man maketh to another.

[k] No more is the promise or couenant of God abrogate by the Law, nor yet is the Lawe added to the promise to take any thing away that was superfluous, or to supplie any thing that wanted.

[l] Which declareth that the Iewes and Gentiles are both partakers of the promise, because they are ioyned in Christ, which is this blessed seede.

[m] That sinne might appeare & be made more abundant, and so all to be shut vp vnder sinne.

[n] Who as ministers gaue it to Moses by the authoritie of Christ.

[o] But serueth both for the Iewes and Gentiles to ioyne them to God.

[p] Constant and alwayes like himselfe.

[q] Both men & al their workes.

CHAP. IIII.

2 He sheweth wherefore the ceremonies were ordayned. 3 Which being shadowes must ende when Christ the truth commeth. 9 He moueth them by certaine exhortations, 22 And confirmeth his argument with a strong example, or allegorie.

a The Church of Iſrael was vnder the lawe as the pupil ſubiect to his tutor, euẽ vnto the time of Chriſt, when ſhe waxed ſtrong, & then her tutelſhip ended.

b That is, ỹ law, which before he called a ſcholemaſter, cha.3.25.

c That is, vnder ỹ law, which was but an a.b.c. in reſpect of the Goſpel.

d That is, who was ſubiect vnto the Law. Rom.8.14,15.

e For our adoption vnto Chriſt is ſealed by him.

f He inſtructeth both Iewes and Gentiles to call God their father in euery language, ſo ỹ none are excepted.

g Which maiſt not vſe thy libertie.

h Whẽ ye receiued ỹ Goſpel, ye were idolaters: therfore it is ſhame for you to refuſe liberty, and become ſeruauntes, yea, and ſeeing the Iewes deſire to be out of their tutelſhip.

i Not in deede, but in opinion.

k The Galatians, of Painims began to bee Chriſtians, but by falſe apoſtles were turned backwarde to begin anewe the Iewiſh ceremonies, and ſo in ſteade of going forwarde towarde Chriſt, they ranne backwarde from him.

l Ye obſerue dayes, as Sabbaths, newe moons, &c: ye obſerue moneths, as the firſt & ſeuenth moneth: ye obſerue times, as Eaſter, Witſontide, the feaſt of Tabernacles: ye obſerue yeeres, as the Iubile, or yeere of forgiuenes, which beggerly ceremonies are moſt pernicious to them which haue receiued the ſweete libertie of the Goſpel, and thruſt them back into ſuꝑ ..litious ſlauerie.

1 Then I ſay, that the a heire as long as he is a childe, differeth nothing from a ſeruant, though he be lorde of all,

2 But is vnder b tutors and gouernours, vntill the time appoynted of the father.

3 Euen ſo, wée when we were children, were in bondage vnder the c rudiments of the world.

4 But when the fulneſſe of time was come, God ſent forth his Sonne made of a woman, & made d vnder the Law,

5 That he myght redéeme them which were vnder the Lawe, that we * myght receiue the adoption of the ſonnes.

6 And becauſe ye are ſonnes, God hath ſent forth the e Spirit of his Sonne into your heartes, which cryeth, f Abba, Father.

7 Wherefore, thou art no more g a ſeruãt, but a ſonne: now if thou be a ſonne, thou art alſo the heire of God thrꝫ Chriſt.

8 But euen then, when ye h knewe not God, ye did ſeruice vnto them, which by i nature are not gods.

9 But nowe ſéeing ye knowe God, yea, rather are knowen of God, howe turne k ye againe vnto vnpotent and beggerlie rudimentes, whereunto as from the beginning yée will bée in bondage againe?

10 Ye obſerue l daies, and moneths, and times, and yeres.

11 I am in feare of you, leaſt I haue beſtowed on you labour in vaine.

12 Bée ye as m I: for I am euen as you: brethren, I beſeech you: yee haue not hurt n me at all.

13 And ye knowe, howe thrꝫ o infirmitie of the fleſhe I preached the Goſpel vnto you at the firſt.

14 p And the triall of mee which was in my fleſh, ye deſpiſed not, neither abhorred: but ye receiued me as an q Angel of God, yea, as Chriſt Ieſus.

15 What was then your felicitie? For I beare you recorde, that if it had bene poſſible, yée woulde haue plucked out your owne eyes, and haue giuen them to me.

16 Am I therefore become your enemie, becauſe I tell you the truth?

17 They are iealous ouer you r amiſſe: yea, they would exclude ſ you, that ye ſhould altogether loue them.

18 But it is a good thing to loue earneſtly alwayes in a good thing, and not only when I am preſent with you, 19 My litle children, of whom I trauaile in birth againe, vntil Chriſt be t formed in you.

20 And I would I were with you now, that I myght change my voyce: for I am in dout of you.

21 Tel me, ye that wil be vnder the Law, do ye not heare the Law?

22 For it is written, that Abraham had two ſonnes, * one by a ſeruant, & * one by a frée woman.

23 But hée which was of the ſeruaunt, was borne after the fleſh: and he which was of the frée woman, was borne by promes.

24 By the which things an other thing is ment: for theſe mothers u are the two Teſtamentes, the one which is x Agar of mount Sina, which gendreth vnto bondage, 25 (For Agar or Sina is a mountaine in y Arabia, and it anſwereth to Ieruſalem which now is) and ſhe is in bondage with her children.

26 But Ieruſalem, which is z aboue, is frée: which is the mother of vs all.

27 For it is written, * Reioyce thou z barren þ beareſt no children: breake forth, and crye, thou that trauaileſt not: for the deſolate hath many moe children, then he which hath an huſband.

28 * Therefore, brethren, we are after the maner of Iſaac, children of the promiſe.

29 But as then he that was borne after the fleſh, perſecuted him that was borne after the ſpirit, euen ſo it is now.

30 But what ſaith the Scripture? * Put out the ſeruaunt and her ſonne: for the ſonne of the ſeruaunt ſhall not bée heire with the ſonne of the frée woman.

31 Then brethren, wée are not children of the ſeruant, but of the a frée woman.

1 STande fast therefore in the libertie wherwith Christ hath made vs free, and be not intangled againe with the yoke of bondage.

2 * Behold, I Paul say vnto you, that if ye be [a] circumcised, Christ shall profite you nothing.

3 For I testifie againe to euery man, which is circumcised, that he is bounde to keepe the whole Lawe.

4 Ye are * abolished from Christ: whosoeuer are iustified by the Law, ye are fallen from grace.

5 For we through the Spirit [b] waite for the hope of righteousnes through faith.

6 For in Iesus Christ neither Circumcision auayleth any thing, neither vncircumcision, but faith which worketh by loue.

7 Ye did runne well: who did let you, that ye did not obey the [c] trueth?

8 It is not the perswasion of him that [d] calleth you.

9 * A litle [e] leauen doth leauen the whole lumpe.

10 I haue trust in you through the Lord, that ye will be none otherwise [f] minded: but hee that troubleth you, shall beare his condemnation, whosoeuer he be.

11 And brethren, if I yet preach circumcision, why do I yet suffer persecution? Then is the [g] slander of the crosse abolished.

12 Would to God they were euen cut off, which do disquiet you.

13 For brethren, ye haue bene called vnto libertie: onely vse not your libertie as an occasion vnto the flesh, but by loue serue one another.

14 For [h] all the Lawe is fulfilled in one word, which is this, * Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe.

15 If ye bite & deuoure one another, take heede lest ye be consumed one of another.

16 Then I say, * walke in the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfil the lusts of the flesh.

17 For the [k] flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh: and these are contrarie one to the other, so that ye can not do the same things that ye would.

18 And if ye be led by the [l] Spirite, ye are not vnder the Law.

19 Moreouer the workes of the flesh are manifest, which are aduulterie, fornication, vncleannes, wantonnes,

20 Idolatrie, witchcraft, hatred, debate, emulations, wrath, contentions, seditions, heresies, 21 Enuie, murthers, drunkennes, gluttonie, and such like, whereof I tell you before, as I also haue told you before, that they which do such things, shall not inherit the kingdome of God.

22 But the fruite of the Spirite is loue, ioye, peace, long suffering, gentlenesse, goodnes, faith, 23 Meekenes, temperancie: against such there is [m] no Law.

24 For they that are Christs, [n] haue crucified the flesh with the affections and the lustes.

25 If we liue in the Spirite, let vs also walke in the [o] Spirit.

26 Let vs not be desirous of vaine glorie, prouoking one another, enuying one another.

THE EPISTLE OF PAVL to the Ephesians.

THE ARGVMENT.

WHile Paul was prisoner at Rome, there entred in among the Ephesians false teachers, who corrupted the true doctrine which he had taught them, by reason whereof hee wrote this Epistle to confirme them in that thing, which they had learned of him. And first after his salutation, he assureth them of saluation, because they were thereunto predestinate by the free election of God, before they were borne, and sealed vp to this eternall life by the holy Ghost, giuen vnto them by the Gospell, the knowledge of the which mysterie he prayeth God to confirme toward them. And to the intent they should not glorie in themselues, he sheweth them their extreme miserie, wherein they were plonged before they knewe Christ, as people without God, Gentiles to whom the promises were not made, & yet by the free mercie of God in Christ Iesus, they were saued, and he appoynted to be their Apostle, as of all other Gentiles: therefore he desireth God to lighten the Ephesians hearts with the perfite vnderstanding of his Sonne, and exhorteth them likewise to be mindfull of so great benefits, neyther to bee moued with the false apostles, which seeke to ouerthrowe their fayth, & tread vnder foote the Gospell, which was not preached to them, as by chance or fortune, but according to the eternall counsell of God: who by this meanes preserueth onely his Church. Therefore the Apostle commendeth his ministerie, forasmuch as God thereby reigneth among men, and causeth it to bring forth most plentifull fruites, as innocencie, holines, with all such offices apperteining to godlines. Last of all, he declareth not onely in generall, what ought to be the life of the Christians, but also sheweth particularly, what things concerne euery mans vocation.

CHAP. I.

After his salutation, 4 He sheweth that the chiefe cause of their saluation standeth in the free election of God through Christ. 16 He declareth his good will toward them, giuing thankes and praying God for their faith. 21 The maiestie of Christ.

i Though we be redeemed frō the bondage of sinne by ỹ death of Christ, Rom. 6 22. yet we hope for this second redemption which shall be whē we shall possesse our inheritance in the heauens, where of we haue the holy Ghost for a gage, as Chap. 4.30.
k Of Christ. Col.2.12. chap.3.7.
l Made him Gouernour of all thinges both in heauen and in earth: so that Christes body is nowe onely there, or else it should not be a true bodie, and his ascension should be but a fantastical thing and onely imagined.
a Psal.8.6. hebr.2.8.
m This is the great loue of Christ toward his Church, that hee counteth not him selfe perfect without vs which are his members: and therefore the Church is also called Christ, as 1.Cor.12.12,13.

CHAP. II.

5 To magnifie the grace of Christ, which is the only cause of saluation, 11 He sheweth them what maner of people they were before their conuersion, 18 And what they are nowe in Christ.

1 AND a you hath hee quickened, that were dead in trespasses and sinnes,
2 Wherein, in time past ye walked, according to the course of this worlde, & after the * a prince that ruleth in the aire, euen the spirit, that nowe worketh in the children of disobedience,
3 Among whom wee also had our conuersation in time past, in the lustes of our flesh, in fulfilling the wil of the flesh, and of the minde, and were b by nature the children of wrath, as well as others.
4 But God which is riche in mercye, though his great loue wherewith hee loued vs,
5 Euen when we were dead by sinnes, hath quickened vs c together in Christ, by whose grace ye are saued,
6 And hath d raised vs vp together, and made vs sit together in the heauenly places in Christ Iesus,
7 That hee might shewe in the ages to come the exceeding riches of his grace, through his kindnesse towarde vs in Christ Iesus.
8 For by grace are ye saued through faith, and that not of your selues: it is the gift of God, 9 Not of workes, least any man should boast him selfe.
10 For we are e his workemanship created in Christ Iesus vnto good workes, which God hath ordeyned, that wee should walke in them.
11 Wherefore f remember that ye being in time past Gentiles in the flesh, & called g vncircumcision of them, which are called circumcision in the flesh, made with handes, 12 That ye were, I say, at that time without Christ, and were aliants from the common wealth of Israel, and were h strangers from the couenants of promise, and had no i hope, and were k without God in the world.
13 But nowe in Christ Iesus, ye which once were farre off, are made neere by the blood of Christ.
14 For he is our peace, which hath made of both one, & hath broken the l stoppe of the partition wall,
15 In abrogating through his m flesh the hatred, that is, the Lawe of commandements which standeth in ordinances, for to make of twaine one new man in him selfe, so making peace,
16 And that he might reconcile both vnto God in one n body by his o crosse, and slaye hatred therby, 17 And came, and preached peace to you which were afarre off, and to them that were neere.
18 * For through him we both haue an entrance vnto p Father by one Spirit.
19 Nowe therefore ye are no more straungers and forreners: but citizens with the Saintes, and of the housholde of God,
20 And are built vpon the foundation of the Apostles & Prophets, Iesus Christ him selfe being the chiefe corner stone, 21 In whom all the building coupled together, groweth vnto an holy Temple in the Lord, 22 In whom ye also are built together to be the habitation of God by the Spirit.

c Here he meaneth, as concerning grace, and not by nature.
f He sheweth here that the further the Gentiles were off frō the grace of God, the greater detters they are now to the same. 1.Sam.17.26. ezek.44.7. Rom.9.4.
g It was but one couenāt, but because it was diuers times confirmed and established, therfore here he calleth them Couenāts.
h Where no promise is, there is no hope.
i Or, Atheists.
k That is, the cause of the diuision that was betweene the Iewes and the Gentiles.
l For in Christ all thinges were accomplished, which were prefigurated in the Lawe.
m For of the Iewes and the Gentils he made one flocke. n Or, death. Rom.5.2.

CHAP. III.

1 He sheweth the cause of his imprisonment, 13 Desireth them not to faint because of his trouble, 14 And prayeth God to make them stedfast in his Spirit.

1 FOr this cause, I Paul am the a prisoner of Iesus Christ for you Gentiles, 2 If ye haue heard of the b dispensation of the grace of God, which is giuen me to you warde, e The Angels.

f The Church being gathered of so many kinds of people, is an example, or a glasse for the Angels to beholde the wisdome of God in, who hath turned their particular discordes into an vniuersall concord, & of ỹ Synagogue of bondage, hath made ỹ Church of freedome.

3 That is, that God by reuelation hath shewed this mysterie vnto mee (as I wrote ᶜ aboue in fewe wordes,
4 Whereby when ye reade, ye may know mine vnderstanding in the mysterie of Christ)
5 Which in other ages was ᵈ not opened vnto the sonnes of men, as it is now reuelled vnto his holy Apostles and Prophets by the Spirit,
6 That the Gentiles shoulde bee inheritors also, and of the same body, and partakers of his promise in Christ by the Gospell,
7 Whereof I am made a minister by the gift of the grace of God giuen vnto mee ᵉ through the working of his power.
8 * Euen vnto me the least of all Saints is this grace giuen, that I shoulde preach among the ᵉ Gentiles the vnsearcheable riches of Christ,
9 And to make cleare vnto all men what the felowship of the ᶠ mysterie is, which from the beginning of the worlde hath bene hid in God, who hath created al thinges by Iesus Christ,
10 To the intent, that nowe vnto ᵉ principalities & powers in heauenly places might be knowen ᶠ by the Church the manifolde wisedome of God, 11 According to ỹ eternal purpose, which he wrought in Christ Iesus our Lord.
12 By whom we haue boldenes and entrance with confidence, by faith in him.
13 Wherefore I desire that ye faint not at my tribulatiõs for your sakes, which is your glorie.
14 For this cause I bowe my knées vnto the Father of our Lord Iesus Christ, 15 (Of whom is named the whole ᵍ familie in ʰ heauen and in earth)
16 That he might graunt you according to the riches of his glorie, that ye may be strengthened by his Spirit in the inner man, 17 That Christ may dwel in your hearts by faith, that ye, being rooted & grounded in loue, 18 May be able to comprehend with all Saints, what is the ᵏ breadth, & length, and depth, and height:
19 And to know the loue of Christ, which passeth knowledge, that ye may be filled with all ˡ fulnes of God.
20 * Vnto him therefore that is able to doe exceeding abundantly aboue all that we aske or thinke, according to the power that worketh in ᵐ vs, 21 Be prayse in the Church by Christe Iesus, throughout all generations for euer, Amen.

CHAP. IIII.

He exhorteth them vnto meekenes, long suffering, vnto loue and peace, 3 Euery one to serue and edifie another with the gift that God hath given him, 14 To beware of straunge doctrine, 22 To laye aside the olde conuersation of grosse lustes, and to walke in a newe life.

1 * Therefore, being prisoner in the ᵃ Lorde, pray you that ye walke worthie of the vocation wherunto ye are called,
2 With all humblenesse of minde, and meekenes, with long suffering, supporting one another through loue,
3 Endeuouring to keepe the vnitie of the Spirite in the bond of peace.
4 There is ᵇ one bodie, and one ᶜ Spirite, euẽ as ye are called in one hope of your vocation.
5 There is one Lord, one Faith, one Baptisme,
6 * One God and Father of all, which is ᵈ aboue all, and ᵉ through al, and in you all.
7 * But vnto euery one of vs is giuen grace, according to the measure of the ᶠ gift of Christ.
8 Wherefore he sayth, * When hee ascended vp on high, he ᵍ led captiuitie captiue, and gaue giftes vnto men.
9 (Nowe, in that he ascended, what is it but that he had also descended first into the lowest parts of the earth?
10 He that descended, is euen the same that ascended, farre aboue all heauens, that he might fill ʰ all things)
11 * He therefore gaue some to be Apostles, and some Prophets, and some Euangelistes, and some Pastours, and Teachers.
12 For the ⁱ gathering together of the Saints, for the worke of the ministerie, ᵏ and for the edification of the bodie of Christ,
13 Till we all mẽte together (in the vnitie of faith & knowledge of the Sonne of God) vnto a ˡ perfite man, and vnto the measure of the age of the fulnesse of Christ,
14 That wee henceforth be no more children, wauering and caried about with euery wind of doctrine, by the deceit of men, and with craftines, whereby they lay in waite to deceiue.
15 But let vs follow the trueth in loue, and in all thinges growe vp vnto him, which is the ᵐ head, that is Christ,

THE EPISTLE OF PAVL to the Philippians.

THE ARGVMENT.

PAul being warned by the holy Ghost to goe to Macedonia, planted first a Church at Philippi a citie of the same countrey: but because his charge was to preach the Gospell vniuersally to all the Gentiles, he trauayled from place to place, til at the length he was taken prisoner at Rome, whereof the Philippians being aduertised, sent their minister Epaphroditus with reliefe vnto him: who declaring him the state of the Church, caused him to write this Epistle, wherein he commendeth them that they stoode manfully against the false apostles, putting them in minde of his good will towarde them, and exhorteth them that his imprisonment make make them not to shrinke: for the Gospel thereby was confirmed and not diminished: especially he desireth them to flee ambition, and to embrace modestie, promising to sende Timothens vnto them, who should instruct them in matters more amplie: yea, and that he him selfe would also come vnto them, adding likewise the cause of their ministers so long abode. And because there were no greater enemies to the crosse then the false apostles, he confuteth their false doctrine, by prouing onely Christ to be the end of all true religion, with whom we haue all thing, and without whom we haue nothing, so that his death is our life, and his resurrection our iustification. After this follow certaine admonitions both particular & generall, with testification of his affection toward them, and thankfull accepting of their beneuolence.

1 PAul and Timothens the seruants of Iesus Christ, to all þ Saints in Christ Iesus which are at Philippi, with the [a] Bishops, & Deacons:

2 Grace be with you, & peace from God our Father, and from the Lorde Iesus Christ.

3 * I thanke my God hauing you in perfect memorie,

4 (Alwayes in al my prayers for al you, praying with gladnes)

5 Because of the [b] felowship which ye haue in the Gospell, from the [c] first day vnto nowe.

6 And I am perswaded of this same thing that hee that hath begonne this good worke in you, will perfourme it vntill the [d] day of Iesus Christ,

7 As it becommeth me so to iudge of you al, because I haue you in remembrance [e] that both in my bands, and in my defence, and confirmation of the Gospell you all were partakers of my [f] grace.

8 For God is my recorde, howe I long after you all from the very heart roote in Iesus Christ.

9 And this I pray, that your loue may abound, yet more and more in knowledge, and in all iudgement,

10 That ye may discerne thinges that [g] differ one from another, that ye may be pure, and [h] without offence, vntill the day of Christ, 11 Filled with the fruits of [i] righteousnesse, which are by Iesus Christ vnto the glorie and praise of God.

12 ¶ I would ye vnderstoode, brethren, that the things which haue come vnto me, are turned rather to the furthering of the Gospel,

13 So that my bandes in [k] Christ are famous throughout all the [l] iudgement hall, and in all other places, 14 In so much that many of the brethren in the Lorde are boldened through my bandes, & dare more frankly speake the l word.

15 Some preach Christ euen through enuie & strife, and some also of good will.

16 The one part preacheth Christ of contention and not [m] purely, supposing to adde more affliction to my bandes:

17 But the others of loue, knowing that I [n] am set for the defence of the Gospel.

18 What then? yet Christ is preached al maner wayes, whether it [o] be vnder a pretence, or sincerely: and I therein ioye, yea, and will ioye.

19 For I knowe þ this shall turne to my saluation through your prayer, & by the helpe of the Spirit of Iesus Christ, 20 As I hartily loke for, and hope, that in nothing I shall be ashamed, but that with all confidence, as alwayes, so now Christ shall bee magnified in my bodie, whether it be by life or by death.

21 For Christ is to me both in life, and in death aduantage.

25 And this am I sure of, that I shall abide, & with you all continue, for your furtherance and ioy of your faith, 27 * Only let your conuersation be, as it becommeth the Gospell of Christ, that whether I come and see you, or else bee absent, I may heare of your matters that ye [p] continue in one Spirit, and in one mynde fighting together through the faith of the Gospel.

28 And in nothing feare your aduersaries, which is to them a [r] token of perdition, and to you of saluation, & ¶ that of God.

29 For vnto you it is giuen for Christ, þ not onely ye should beleeue in him, but also suffer for his sake, 30 Hauing the same fight, which ye saw in me, and now heare to be in me.

7 *But he made him selfe of no reputation, & tooke on him the e fourme of a seruant, and was made like vnto men, & was found in f shape as a man.

9 Wherefore God hath also highly exalted him, and giuen him a Name aboue euery name, 13 For it is God which worketh in you, both the will and the deede, euen of his k good pleasure.

14 Doe all things without *murmuring and reasonings,

18 For the same cause also be ye glad, and reioyce with me.

20 For I haue no man like minded, who will faithfully care for your matters.
21 * For all p seeke their owne, and not that which is Iesus Christs.
22 But ye knowe the proofe of him, that as a sonne with the father, he hath serued with me in the Gospel.
23 Him therefore I hope to sende assoone as I knowe howe it will goe with me, 24 And trust in the Lord, that I also my selfe shall come shortly.
25 But I supposed it necessary to send my brother Epaphroditus vnto you, my companion in labour, & fellow souldier, euen your messenger, and he that ministred vnto me such things as I wãted.
26 For he longed after all you, and was full of heauines, because ye had heard, that he had bene sicke.
27 And no doubt he was sicke, very nere vnto death: but God had mercie on him, & not on him onely, but on me also, lest I should haue sorowe vpon sorowe.
28 I sent him therefore the more diligently, that when ye should see him again, ye might reioyce, and I might be the lesse sorowful.
29 Receiue him therefore in the Lorde with all gladnes, & make much of such:
30 Because that for q the worke of Christ he r was neere vnto death, and regarded not his life, to fulfill that seruice which was lacking on your part toward me.

6 * Be nothing carefull, but in all things let your requestes be shewed vnto God in praier, and supplication with giuing of thankes. Mat.6.25.

8 Furthermore, brethren, whatsoeuer things are true, whatsoeuer things are honest, whatsoeuer things are iust, whatsoeuer things are pure, whatsoeuer things pertaine to loue, whatsoeuer things are of good report, if there be any vertue, or if there be any praise, thinke on these things, 12 And I can be abased, & I can abound: euery where & in all things I am instructed both to be ful, and to be hungry, and to abounde, and to haue want.

13 I am able to doe all things through the helpe of [f] Christ, which strengtheneth me.
14 Notwithstanding ye haue well done, that ye did communicate to mine affliction.
15 And ye Philippians know also that in the [g] beginning of the Gospell, when I departed frō Macedonia, no Church communicated with me cōcerning the [h] matter of giuing and receiuing, but ye onely.

18 Nowe I haue receiued all, and haue plentie: I was euen filled, after that I had receiued of Epaphroditus that which came from you, an odour that smelleth sweete, a sacrifice acceptable & pleasant to God.
19 And my God shal fulfil al your necessities through his riches with glorie in Jesus Christ.

THE EPISTLE OF PAVL to the Colossians.

THE ARGVMENT.

IN this Epistle S. Paul putteth difference betwene the liuely, esse ſtuall and true Christ, & the feyned, counterfeit and imagined Christ, whome the false apostles taught. And first, he confirmeth the doctrine which Epaphras had preached, wishing them increase of fayth, to esteeme the excellencie of Gods benefite towarde them, teaching them also that saluation, and whatsoeuer good thing can be desired, standeth onely in Christ, whom onely we embrace by the Gospel. But for as much as the false brethren woulde haue mixed the Lawe with the Gospell, he toucheth those flatterers vehemently, and exhorteth the Colossians to stay onely on Christ, without whome all things are but mere vanitie. And as for circumcision, abstinence from meates, eternall holinesse, worshipping of Angels as meanes whereby to come to Christ, he vtterly condemneth, shewing what was the office and nature of ceremonies, which by Christ are abrogate: so that now the exercises of the Christians stand in mortification of the flesh, newnesse of life, with other like offices apperteining both generally and particularly to all the faithfull.

CHAP. I.

3 He giueth thanks vnto God for their faith, 7 Confirmeth the doctrine of Epaphras, 9 Prayeth for the increase of their faith. 13 He sheweth vnto them the true Christ, and discouereth the counterfeit Christ of the false apostles. 25 He approueth his authoritie and charge, 28 And of his faithfull executing of the same.

1 PAul an Apostle of Jesus Christ, by the will of God, & Timotheus our brother,

2 To them which are at [a] Colosse, Saints & faythfull brethren in Christ: Grace be with you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 We giue thankes to God euen the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, alwayes praying for you:

4 Since we hearde of your fayth [b] in Christ Jesus, and of your loue towarde all Saintes,

5 For the hopes sake, which is layde vp for you in heauen, whereof yee haue heard before by the woꝛd of trueth, which is the Gospell,

6 Which is come vnto you, euen as it is vnto all the worlde, and is fruitfull, as it is also among you, from the daye that yée heard and trulye knewe the grace of God.

7 As yee also learned of Epaphras our deare fellow seruant, which is for you a faythfull minister of Christ:

8 Who hath also declared vnto vs your loue, which ye haue [c] by the Spirit.

9 For this cause we also, since the daye wee heard of it, cease not to praye for you, and to desire that ye might be fulfilled with knowledge of [d] his will, in all wisedome, and spirituall vnderstanding,

10 *That ye might walke worthie of the Lorde, and please him in al things, being *fruitfull in all good workes, & increasing in the knowledge of God,

11 Strengthened with all might through his glorious power, vnto all patience, and long suffering with ioyfulnes,

12 Giuing thankes vnto the Father, which hath made vs meete to be partakers of the inheritance of the Saints in light,

13 Who hath deliuered vs from the power of darkenes, and hath translated vs into the kingdome * of his deare Sonne,

14 In whō we haue redemption through his blood, that is, the forgiuenesse of sinnes, 15 Who is the *image of the inuisible God, the first borne of euery creature.

16 *For by him were al things created, which are in heauen, and which are in earth, things visible & inuisible: whether they be Thrones, or Dominions, or Principalities, or Powers, all things were created by him and for him, 17 And he is before all things, & in him all things consist.

18 And he is the head of the body of the Church: he is the beginning, * and & the first borne of the dead, that in all things he might haue the preeminence.

19 *For it pleased the Father, that in him should all [h] fulnesse dwell, 20 And by him to reconcile al things vnto him selfe, and to set at peace through the blood of his crosse both the things in earth, and the things in heauen.

21 And you which were in times past straungers and enemies, because your mindes were set in euil workes, hath he now also reconciled,

22 In the body of his flesh through death, to make you *holy and vnblameable, & without fault in his sight,

23 * If ye continue, grounded and stablished in the fayth, and be not moued awaye from the hope of the Gospell, whereof ye haue heard, and which hath bene preached to euery creature which is vnder heauen, whereof I Paul am a minister.

24 Nowe reioyce I in my sufferings for you, and fulfill the rest of the afflictions of Christ in my flesh, for his bodies sake which is the Church,

4 And this I saye, least any man shoulde beguile you with entising words:

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAVL to the Thessalonians.

THE ARGVMENT.

After that the Thessalonians had bene well instructed in the faith, persecution, which perpetually followeth the preaching of the Gospell, arose, against the which although they did constantly stand, yet S. Paul (as most carefull for them) sent Timothie to strengthen them, who soone after admonishing him of their estate, gaue occasion to the Apostle to confirme them by diuers arguments to be constant in faith, and to suffer whatsoeuer God calleth them vnto for the testimonie of the Gospell, exhorting them to declare by their godly liuing the puritie of their religion. And as the Church can neuer be so purged, that some cockle remaine not among the wheat, so there were among them wicked men, which by mouing vaine and curious questions to ouerthrowe their faith, taught falsly, as touching the point of the resurrection from the dead: whereof he briefly instructeth them what to thinke, earnestly forbidding them to seeke curiously to know the times, willing them rather to watch least the sodaine comming of Christ come vpon them at vnwares: and so after certeine exhortations, and his commendations to the brethren, he endeth.

CHAP. I.

2 He thanketh God for them, that they are so stedfast in faith and good workes, 6 And receiue the Gospell with such earnestnes, 7 That they are an example to all others.

1 PAul and Syluanus, and Timotheus, vnto the Churche of the Thessalonians, which is in [a] God the Father, and in the Lorde Iesus Christ: Grace be with you, and peace from God our Father, & from the Lord Iesus Christ.

2 We giue God thankes alwayes for you all, making * mention of you in our prayers

3 Without ceasing, remembring your [b] effectuall faith, and [c] diligent loue and the patience of your hope in our Lorde Iesus Christe in the sight of God even our Father,

4 Knowing, beloued brethren, that ye are elect of God.

5 For our [d] Gospell was not vnto you in word onely, but also in power, and in the holy Ghost, and in much assurance, as ye knowe after what maner we were among you for your sakes.

6 And ye became followers of vs, and of the Lorde, and receiued the worde in much affliction, with [e] ioy of the holy Ghost,

7 So that ye were as [f] ensamples to all that beleeue in Macedonia and Achaia.

8 For from you sounded out the worde of the Lorde, not in Macedonia & in Achaia onely: but your faith also which is towarde God, spredde abroade in all quarters, that we nede not to speake any thing.

9 For [f] they themselues shewe of you what maner of entring in we had vnto you, and howe ye turned to God from idoles, to serue the [g] liuing & true God,

10 And to looke for his sonne from heauen, whom he raised frō the dead, euen Iesus which deliuereth vs from the [h] wrath to come.

a For there is no Church which is not ioyned together in God.

2. Thess. 1. 3. Philip. 1. 3, 4.

b Which declareth it selfe by most liuely fruites.

c Whereby you declared your selues most readie and painefull to helpe ỹ poore.

d The effectuall preaching of the Gospel is an euident token of our election.

e To beleeue, & to be fully persuaded to haue ỹ giftes of the holie Ghost, and ioyfully to suffer for Christes sake, are most certaine signes of our election.

[1] Or, patternes.

f To wit, all the faithfull.

g For idoles are dead things and onely fained fantasies.

h Which he shal execute vpon ỹ wicked.

CHAP. II.

1 To the intent they should not faint vnder the crosse, 2 He commendeth his diligence in preaching, 13 And thirst in obeying. 18 Hee excuseth his absence, that he could not come and open his heart to them.

1 FOr ye your selues knowe, brethren, that our entrance in vnto you was not in [a] vayne,

2 But euen after that we had suffred before, and were shamefully entreated at * Philippi (as ye know) we were bolde [b] in our God, to speake vnto you the Gospel of God with much striuing.

3 For our exhortation was not by deceit, nor by vncleannes, nor by guile.

4 But as we were allowed of God, that the Gospell shoulde bee committed vnto vs, so we speake, not as they that [c] please men, but God, which trieth our hearts.

5 Neither yet did we euer vse flattering words, as ye know, nor coloured couetousnes, God is record.

6 Neyther sought we praise of men, neither of you, nor of others,

7 When we might haue bene [1] chargeable, as the Apostles of Christ: but wee were gentle among you, euē as a [d] nource cherisheth her children.

8 Thus being affectioned towarde you, our good will was to haue dealt vnto you, not the Gospel of God onely, but also our owne soules, because ye were deare vnto vs.

9 For ye remember, brethren, * our labour and trauaile: for we laboured day and night, because we would not be chargeable vnto any of you, and preached vnto you the Gospell of God.

10 Ye are witnesses, and God also, howe holily, and iustly, and vnblameably wee behaued our selues among * you that beleeue.

11 As ye knowe howe that we exhorted you, and comforted, and besought euery one of you (as a father his children)

12 That yee * woulde walke worthy of God, who hath called you vnto his kingdome and glory.

13 For a Not in outwarde shew and in pompe, but in trauel and in the feare of God. Act. 16. 12, 23.

b By his helpe and grace.

c Which declareth a naughtie conscience.

[1] Or, in authoritie.

d He humbled himselfe to support all thinges without all respect of lucre: euen as the tender mother which nourseth her children, and thinketh no office too vile for her childrens sake. Act. 20. 34. 1. cor. 4. 12. 2. thes. 3. 8.

e For it is not possible to auoid the reproches of the wicked, which euer hate good doings. Ephe. 4. 1. Phil. 1. 27. col. 1. 10.

13 For this cause also thanke we God without ceasing, that when ye receiued of vs the woorde of the preaching of God, ye receiued it not as the word of men, but as it is in deede the woorde of God, which also worketh in you that beleeue.

14 For brethren, ye are become followers of the Churches of God, which in Iudea are in [i] Christ Iesus, because ye haue also suffred [p] same things of your owne countrey men, euen as they haue of the Iewes,

15 Who both killed the Lorde Iesus and their owne Prophets, and haue persecuted vs, and God they please not, and are contrary [g] to al men,

16 And forbid vs to preache vnto the Gentiles, that they might be saued, to [h] fulfil their sinnes alwayes: for the wrath of God is [i] come on them, to the vttmost.

17 Forasmuch, brethren, as wee were kept from you for a season, concerning sight, but not in the heart, we * endeuored the more to see your face with great desire.

18 Therefore we would haue come vnto you (I Paul, at least once or twise) but Satan hindred vs.

19 For what is our hope or ioy, or crown of reioycing? are [k] not euen you it in the presence of our Lord Iesus Christ at his comming?

20 Yes, ye are our glory and ioye.

CHAP. III.

2 Her sheweth howe greatly hee was affectioned towarde them both in that hee sent Timotheus to them, 10 And also prayed for them.

1 Wherefore since we could no longer forbeare, we thought it good to remaine at Athens [a] alone,

2 * And haue sent Timotheus our brother and minister of God, & our labour fellowe in the Gospel of Christ, to stablish you, and to comfort you touching your faith,

3 That no man shoulde be mooued with these afflictios: for ye your selues know, that we are appointed thereunto.

4 For verily when wee were with you, we tolde you before that we should suffer tribulatiõs, euen as it came to passe, and ye knowe it.

5 Euen for this cause, when [b] I could no loger forbeare, I sent him that I might knowe of your fauth, least the [c] tempter had tempted you in any sort, and that our labour had bene in vayne.

6 But nowe lately when Timotheus came from you vnto vs, and brought vs good tidings of your fauth and loue, and that ye haue good remembrance of vs alwayes, desiring to see vs, as wee also do you,

7 Therfore, brethren, we had consolation in you, in all our affliction and necessitie through your faith.

8 For nowe are we [d] aline, if ye [e] stande fast in the Lord.

9 For what thankes can we recompense to God againe for you for all the ioye wherewith we reioyce for your sakes before our God,

10 Night and day * praying exceedingly that we might see your face, and might [f] accomplishe that which is lacking in your faith?

11 Now God him selfe, euen our Father, and our Lorde Iesus Christ, guide our iourney vnto you,

12 And the Lord increase you, and make you abounde in loue one towarde another, and toward all men, euen as wee do toward you:

13 * To make your hearts stable and vnblameable in holines before God euen our Father, at the comming of our Lorde Iesus Christ with all his Saintes.

CHAP. IIII.

1 He exhorteth them to holines, 6 Innocencie, 9 Loue, 11 Labour, 13 And moderation in lamenting for the dead, 17 Describing the ende of the resurrection.

1 And furthermore we beseeche you, brethren, and exhort you in [p] Lord Iesus, that [a] ye increase more and more, as ye haue receyued of vs, howe ye ought to walke and to please God.

2 For ye know what [b] commaundements we gaue you by the Lord Iesus.

3 * For this is the will of God euen your sanctification, [c] and that ye should abstaine from fornication,

4 That euery one of you should knowe, howe to possesse his [d] vessell in holines and honour,

5 And not in the lust of concupiscence, euen as the Gentiles which knowe not God:

6 * That no man oppresse or defraude his brother in any matter: for the Lorde is auenger of all such things, as we also haue told you before time, and testified.

7 * For God hath not called vs vnto vncleannes, but vnto holines.

8 Hee therefore that despiseth * these things, despiseth not man, but God who hath euen giuen * you his holy Spirit.

9 But as touching brotherly loue, yee neede not that I write vnto you: * for ye are taught of God to loue one another.

10 Yea, and that thing verely ye doe vnto all the brethren, which are throughout all Macedonia: but we beseeche you, brethren, that ye increase more and more,

11 * And that ye studie to be quiet, and to meddle with your owne busines, and to worke with your [f] owne handes, as we commanded you,

12 That ye may behaue your selues honestly towarde them that [g] are without, and that nothing be [h] lacking vnto you.

CHAP. V.

1 He informeth them of the day of iudgement and comming of the Lorde, 6 Exhorting them to watch, 12 And to regard such as preache Gods word among them.

a So much the more we ought to beware of all dreames and fantasies of men, which wearie themselues and others in searching out curiously the time y the Lord shall appeare, alledging for them selues a vaine prophecie, and most fallly ascribed to Elias, that 2000. yeere before the Law, 2000. vnder the Lawe, and 2000. after the Lawe the world shall endure.

1 BVt of the * tymes and seasons, bréthren, ye haue no néed that I write vnto you.
2 For yee your selues knowe perfectly, that the * day of the Lorde shal come, euen as a thiefe in the night.
3 For when they shall saye, Peace, and safety, then shall come vpon them sudden destruction, as the b trauaile vpon a woman with childe, and they shall not escape.
4 But ye, bretheren, are not in darkenesse, that that day shoulde come on you, as it were a thiefe.
5 Ye are all the children of light, and the children of the daye: we are not of the night, neither of darkenes.
6 Therfore let vs not c slæpe as do other, but let vs d watch and be sober.
7 For they that slæpe, slæpe in y vnight, and they that be drunken, are drunken in the night.

b That is, suddenly and vnlooked for. c Here sleepe is taken for contempt of saluation, when men continue in sinnes, and will not awake to godlinesse. d And not bee ouercome with the cares of the world.

8 But let vs which are of the * daye, bée sober, * putting on the brestplate of faith and loue, and the hope of saluation for an helmet.
9 For God hath not appointed vs vnto wrath, but to obteine saluation by the meanes of our Lord Iesus Christ,
10 Which died for vs, that whether we wake or e slæpe, we should liue together with him.
11 Wherefore erhorte one another, and edifie one another, euen as ye do.
12 Nowe we beseech you, brethren, that ye knowe them, which labour among you, and are ouer you in the Lorde, and f admonish you,
13 That yee haue them in singular loue for g their workes sake. Be at peace among your selues.
14 We desire you, brethren, admonish them that are vnruly: comfort the feble minded: beare with the weake: bée patient toward all men.

The first Epistle vnto the Thessalonians written from Athens.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF Paul to the Thessalonians.

THE ARGVMENT.

LEast the Thessalonians shoulde thinke that Paul neglected them, because he went to other places rather then came to them, hee writeth vnto them and exhorteth them to patience tience and other fruites of faith, neither to be moued with that vaine opinion of such as taught that the comming of Christ was at hande, forasmuch as before that day there shoulde be a falling away from true religion, euen by a great part of the world, and ỹ Antichrist shoulde reigne in the Temple of God: finally commending himselfe to their prayers, and encouraging them to constancie, he willeth them to correct such sharpely, as liue idlely of other mens labours, whom, if they do not obey his admonitions, he commandeth to excommunicate.

CHAP I.

3 He thanketh God for their faith, loue, and patience. 11 He praieth for the increase of the same, 12 And sheweth what fruite shall come thereof.

1 PAul & Siluanus and Timotheus vnto the Church of the Thessalonians, which is in God our father, and in the Lorde Iesus Christ:

2 Grace be with you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ.

3 *We ought to thanke God alwayes for you, brethren, as it is méete, because that your faith groweth exceedingly, and the loue of euery one of you toward another aboundeth,

4 So that wée our selues reioyce of you in the Churches of God, because of your [a] patience and faith in all your persecutions and tribulations that ye suffer,

5 Which is a [b] token of the ryghteous *iudgement of God, that yée may bée counted worthy of the kingdome of God, for the which ye also suffer.

6 For it is a righteous thyng with God to recompense tribulation to them that trouble you,

7 And to you which are troubled, rest with vs *when the Lord Iesus shal shew himself from heauen with his [c] mightie Angels,

8 In flaming fire, rendring vengeance vnto them that do not know God, and which obey not vnto the Gospel of our Lord Iesus Christ,

9 Which shall bee punished with [d] euerlasting perdition, from the presence of the Lord, and from the glorie of his power,

10 When hée shall come to be glorified in his Saintes, & to be made marueilous in all them that beléeue (because our testimonie towarde you was beleeued) in that day.

11 Wherefore, we also pray alwayes for you, ỹ our God may make you worthy of his calling, & fulfill [e] all the good pleasure of his goodnesse, and the [f] worke of faith with power, 12 That the Name of our Lorde Iesus Christ may be [g] glorified in you, and ye in him, according to the grace of our God, and of the Lord Iesus Christ.

3 He sheweth them that the day of the Lorde shall not come, til the departing frō the faith come first, 9 And the kingdome of Antichrist, 15 And therefore beexhorteth them not to be deceiued, but to stande stedfast in the thinges that he hath taught them.

1 NOwe we beséech you, brethren, by the comming of our Lorde Iesus Christ, and by our assembling vnto him,

2 That ye be not suddenly moued from your minde, nor troubled neyther by [a] spirit, nor by [b] word, nor by letter, as it were from vs, as though the daye of Christ were at hand.

3 * Let no man deceiue you by any meanes: for that day shall not come, except there come a [c] departing first, and that that [d] man of sinne be disclosed, euen the sonne of [e] perdition,

5 Remember ye not, that when I was yet with you, I tolde you these thinges?

6 And nowe ye knowe what [f] withholdeth, that he myght bee reuealed in his time.

7 For the mysterie of iniquitie doeth alreadie [g] worke: onely he which [h] nowe withholdeth, shall let vntil hée bée taken out of the way.

8 And then shall the wicked man be reuealed, * whom the Lord shall consume with the [i] Spirite of his mouth, and shall abolish with the brightnesse of his comming,

10 And in all deceiueablenes of vnrighteousnes, among them that [l] perish, because they receiued not the loue of the trueth, that they might be saued.

11 And therfore God shall send thé strong delusion, that they shoulde beléeue lies, 12 That al they might be damned, which beléeued not the trueth, but had [m] pleasure in vnrighteousnes.

13 But we ought to giue thankes alway to God for you, brethren [n] beloued of the Lord, because that God hath [o] from the beginning chosen you to saluation, through sanctification of the Spirite, & the faith of [p] trueth,

¶ The ſecond Epiſtle to the Theſſalonians, written from Athens.

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAVL to Timotheus.

THE ARGVMENT.

IN writing this Epiſtle Paul ſeemed not onely to haue reſpect to teache Timotheus, but chiefly to keepe other in awe, which would haue rebelled againſt him, becauſe of his youth. And therefore he doeth arme him againſt thoſe ambitious queſtioniſtes, which vnder pretence of zeale to the Lawe, diſquieted the godly with fooliſhe and vnprofitable queſtions, whereby they declared, that profeſſing the Lawe they knewe not what was the chiefe ende of the Lawe. And as for him ſelfe, he ſo confeſſeth his vnworthines, that he ſheweth to what worthines the grace of God hath perferred him: and therefore he willeth prayers to bee made for all degrees and ſortes of men, becauſe that God by offering his Goſpell and Chriſt his Sonne to them all, is indifferent to euery ſorte of men, as his Apoſtleſhip, which is peculiar to the Gentiles, witneſſeth. And for as much as God hath left miniſters as ordinarie meanes in his Church to bring men to ſaluation, he deſcribeth what maner of men they ought to be, to whom the myſterie of the Sonne of God manifeſted in fleſhe is committed to be preached. After this he ſheweth him what troubles the Church at all times ſhall ſuſtaine, but ſpecially in the latter dayes, when as vnder pretence of religion men ſhall teache things contrary to the word of God. This done, he teacheth what widowes ſhould be receyued or refuſed to miniſter to the ſicke: alſo what Elders ought to be choſen into office, exhorting him neither to be haſtie in admitting, nor in iudging any: alſo what is the duetie of ſeruantes, the nature of falſe teachers, of vaine ſpeculations, of couetouſnes, of riche men, and aboue all things he chargeth him to beware falſe doctrine.

CHAP.

CHAP. I.

3 He exhorteth Timotheus to waite vpon his office, namely to see that nothing bee taught but Gods worde, &c. 5 Declaring that faith, with a good conscience, charitie and edification are the ende thereof, 20 And admonisheth of Hymeneus and Alexander.

1 PAul an Apostle of Jesus Christ, by the [a] commaundement of God our Sauiour, and of our Lorde Jesus Christ [*] our hope,

2 Vnto Timotheus my [a] naturall sonne in the faith: Grace, mercie, & peace from God our Father, and from Christ Jesus our Lord.

3 As I besought thee to abide still in Ephesus, when I departed into Macedonia, so do, that thou maist command some, that they teach none other doctrine,

4 Neither that they give heede to [*] fables and genealogies, * which are endles, which breede questions rather then godly edifying which is by faith.

5 For [*] the [b] ende of the [c] commaundement is loue out of a pure heart, and of a good conscience, and of faith vnfained.

6 From [d] which things some haue erred, and haue turned vnto vaine iangling, 7 They would be doctours of the Lawe, & yet vnderstand not what they speake, nether whereof they affirme.

8 * And we know, that the Law is good, if a man vse it lawfully,

9 Knowing this, that the Law is not giuen vnto a [e] righteous man, but vnto [d] lawlesse and disobedient, to the vngodly, and to [d] sinners, to the vnholy, and to the prophane, to murtherers of fathers and mothers, to manslayers,

10 To whoremongers, to buggerers, to [e] menstealers, to liars, to the periured, & if there be any other thing, that is contrary to wholesome doctrine, 11 Which is according to [d] glorious Gospell of the * blessed God, which is committed vnto me.

12 Therefore [f] I thanke him, which hath made me strog, that is, Christ Jesus our Lord: for he counted me faithfull, and put me in his seruice:

13 When before I was a blasphemer, & a persecuter, and an oppresser: but I was receiued to mercie: for I did it [g] ignorantly through vnbeliefe.

14 But the grace of our Lord was exceeding abundant with [h] faith and [i] loue, which is in Christ Jesus.

15 This is a [k] true saying, & by all meanes worthie to be receiued, that * Christ Jesus came into the worlde to saue sinners, of whom I am chiefe.

16 Notwithstanding, for this cause was I receiued to mercie, that Jesus Christ should first shewe on me al long suffring vnto the ensample of them, which shal in time to come beleeue in him vnto eternall life.

17 [k] Now vnto the King euerlasting, immortall, inuisible, vnto God onely wise, be honour and glorie for euer, and euer, Amen.

18 This commandement commit I vnto thee, sonne Timotheus, according to the [l] prophecies, which went before vpon thee, that thou by them shouldest * fight a good fight, 19 Hauing [m] faith & a good conscience, which some haue put away, and as concerning faith, haue made shipwracke.

CHAP. III.

2 He declareth what is the office of Ministers, 11 And as touching their families, 15 The dignitie of the Church, 16 And the principall point of the heauenly doctrine.

Tit. 1. 6.

1 THis is a true saying, * If any man [a] desire the office of a [b] Bishop, he desireth [c] a worthie worke.
2 A Bishop therefore must be vnreprouable, the husbande of [d] one wife, watching, sober, modest, harberous, apt to teach,
3 Not giuen to wine, no striker, not giuen to filthie lucre, but gentle, no fighter, not couetous,
4 One that can rule his owne house honestly, hauing children vnder obedience with all [e] honestie.
5 For if any can not rule his owne house, howe shall he [c] care for the Church of God?
6 He may not be a yong [f] scholer, least he being puffed vp fall into the [g] condemnation of the deuill.
7 He must also be well reported of, euen of them which are [h] without, least hee fall into [i] rebuke, and the snare of the deuill.
8 Likewise must Deacons bee honest, not double tongued, not giuen vnto much wine, neither to filthie lucre, 9 * [k] Hauing the mysterie of the fayth in pure conscience.
10 And let them first be proued: then let them minister, if they be founde blamelesse.
11 Likewise their [l] wiues must be honest, not euil speakers, but sober, and faithfull in all thinges.
12 Let the Deacons be the husbandes of one wife, & such as can rule their children well, and their owne houholdes.
13 For they that haue ministred well, get them selues a [m] good degree, and great a Libertie in the faith, which is in Christ Jesus.

14 These thinges write I vnto thee, trusting to come very shortly vnto thee.
15 But if I tarie long that thou mayest know how thou ought est to behaue thy selfe in þ house of God, which is the Church of the liuing God, the [o] pillar and ground of trueth.
16 And without controuersie, great is the mysterie of godlines, which is, God is manifested in the flesh, [p] iustified in the Spirit, [q] seene of Angels, preached vnto the Gentiles, beleeued on in the world, and receiued vp in [r] glorie.

n To serue God with greater assurance, because they haue alway a good conscience. o This is spoken in respect of me, for almuch as in this worlde the trueth onely remaineth in the Church, by reason of Gods worde: for otherwise Christ is the foundation and the corner stone, which both beareth, and maintaineth his Church. p Approued iust, in that he was not onely a man, but God also. q So that the Angels marueiled at his excellencie. r To the right hand of God the Father.

CHAP. IIII.

2 He teacheth him what doctrine he ought to flee, 6. 8. 11 And what to follow, 15 And wherein hee ought to exercise himselfe continually.

1 NOw the Spirit speaketh euidently, that in the [a] latter times some shal depart from the fayth, & shal giue heede vnto [a] spirites of errour, and doctrines of deuils,
2 Which speake lies through hypocrisie, & haue their [b] consciences burned with an hot yron,
3 Forbidding to marrie, and commanding to abstaine from meates which GOD hath created to be receiued with giuing thankes of them which beleeue & know the trueth.
4 For euery creature of God is good, and nothing ought to bee refused, if it be receiued with thanksgiuing.
5 For it is [c] sanctified by the woorde of God, and prayer.
6 If thou put the brethren in remembrance of these thinges, thou shalt be a good minister of Iesus Christ, which hast bene nourished vp in the words of faith, and of good doctrine, which thou hast continually followed.
7 * But cast away prophane, & old wiues fables, and exercise thy selfe vnto godlines.
8 For [d] bodily exercise profiteth litle: but [e] godlines is profitable vnto all things, which hath the promise of the life present, and of that that is to come.
9 This is a true saying, and by al meanes worthie to be receiued.
10 For therefore we labour and are reuiled, because we trust in the liuing God, which is the [f] Sauiour of al men, specially of those that beleeue.
11 These things command & teach.
12 Let no man despise thy youth, but be

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAVL to Timotheus.

THE ARGVMENT.

THe Apoſtle being now readie to confirme that doctrine with his blood, which he had profeſſed and taught, encourageth Timotheus (and in him all the faythfull) in the fayth of the Goſpell, and in the conſtant and ſyncere confeſſion of the ſame: willing him not to ſhrink for feare of afflictions, but pacienty to attend the iſſue, as do husbandmen, which at length receyue the fruites of their labours, and to caſt off all feare and care, as ſouldiers do which ſeeke only to pleaſe their captaine. ſhewing him briefly the ſumme of the Goſpel, which he preached, commanding him to preach the ſame to others, diligently taking heede of contentions, curious diſputations and vaine queſtions, to the intent that his doctrine may altogether edifie. Conſidering that the examples of Hymeneus and Philetus, which ſubuerted the true doctrine of the reſurrection, were ſo horrible: and yet to the intent that no man ſhould be offended at their fall, being men of authoritie and in eſtimation, he ſheweth that all that profeſſe Chriſt, are not his, and that the Church is ſubiect to this calamitie, that the euill muſt dwell among the good till Gods triall come: yet he reſerueth them whom he hath elected, euen to the end. And that Timotheus ſhould not be diſcouraged by the wicked, he declareth what abominable men, and dangerous times ſhall folow, willing him to arme himſelfe with the hope of the good iſſue that God will giue vnto his, and to exerciſe him ſelfe diligently in the Scriptures, both againſt the aduerſaries, and for the vtilitie of the Church, deſiring him to come to him for certaine neceſſarie affaires, and ſo with his and other ſalutations endeth.

CHAP. I.

6 Paul exhorteth Timotheus to ſtedfaſtnes and pacience in perſecution, and to continue in the doctrine, that he had taught him, 12 VVhereof his bondes and afflictions were a gage. 16 A commendation of Oneſiphorus.

1 PAul an Apoſtle of Ieſus Chriſt, by the will of GOD, a according to the promes of life, which is in Chriſt Ieſus, a Being ſent of God to preache that life which he had promiſed in Chriſt Ieſus.

2 To Timotheus my beloued ſonne: Grace, mercie & peace from God the Father, and from Ieſus Chriſt our Lord.

3 I thanke God, * whom I ſerue from mine b elders with pure conſcience, that without ceaſing I haue remembrance of thee in my prayers night and day, b Following the ſteppes of mine anceſters, as Abraham, Iſaac, Iacob, and others of whom I am come, & of whō I receyued the true religion in by ſucceſſion.

Actes.22.3.

4 Deſiring to ſee thee, mindefull of thy teares, that I may be filled with ioy:

5 When I call to remembrance the vnfeyned fayth that is in thee, which dwelt firſt in thy grandmother Lois, & in thy mother Eunice, and am assured that it dwelleth in thee also.

6 Wherfore, I put thee in remembrance, that thou c ſtirre vp the gift of GOD which is in thee, by the putting on of d mine handes.

7 For GOD hath not geuen to vs the Spirit of c feare, but of power, and of loue, and of a sounde minde.

8 Bee not therefore ashamed of the testimonie of our Lorde, neither of mee his prisoner: but bee partaker of the afflictions of the Gospel, according to the power of God,

9 Who hath saued vs, and called vs with an * holy c.lling, not according to our * workes, but according to his own purpose and grace, which was geuen to vs through Christ Jesus before the * world was,

10 But is now made manifest by þ f appearing of our Sauiour Jesus Christ, who hath abolished death, and hath brought life and immortalitie vnto light through the Gospel, 11 *Whereunto I am appointed a preacher, and Apostle, and a teacher of the Gentiles.

12 For the which cause I also suffer these thinges, but I am not ashamed: for I knowe whom I haue beleeued, and I am perswaded that hee is able to keepe that which I haue g committed to him against that day.

13 Keepe the true paterne of the wholsome wordes, which thou hast heard of mee in fayth and loue which is in Christ Jesus.

14 That h worthie thing, which was committed to thee, keepe through the holie Ghost, which dwelleth in vs.

15 This thou knowest, that all they which are in Asia, be turned from mee: of which sort are Phygellus and Hermogenes.

16 The Lord giue mercie vnto the house of Onesiphorus: for he oft refreshed me, and was not ashamed of my chaine.

17 But when he was at Rome, he sought me out very diligently, and found me.

18 The Lord graunt vnto him, that hee may finde mercie with the Lord at that day, and in how many thinges he hath ministred vnto me at Ephesus, thou knowest very well.

c The gift of God is a certein liuely flame kindled in our heartes, which Satan and the flesh labour to quenche, and therefore wee must nourish it, and stirre it vp.

CHAP. II.

2 He exhorteth him to be constant in trouble, to suffer manly, and to abide fast in the wholsome doctrine of our Lord Iesus Christ, 11 Shewing him the fidelitie of Gods counsel touching the salvation of his, 19 And the marke thereof.

1 THou therefore, my sonne, be strong in þ grace that is in Christ Jesus.

2 And what thinges thou hast heard of me, i by many witnesses, the same deliuer to faithfull men, which shalbe able to a teach other also.

3 Thou therefore suffer affliction as a good souldier of Jesus Christ.

4 No man that warreth, entangleth him selfe with b the affaires of this life, because he woulde please him that hath chosen him to be a souldier.

5 And if any man also striue for a masterie, he is not crowned, except he striue as he ought to do.

6 The husbandman c must labour before he receiue the fruites.

7 Consider what I say: and the Lorde giue thee vnderstanding in all things.

8 Remember that Jesus Christ made of the seede of Dauid, was raised againe from the dead according to my Gospel:

9 Wherein I suffer trouble as an euill doer, euen vnto bondes: but the worde of God is not d bound.

10 Therfore I suffer all thinges, for the * e electes sake, that they might also obtaine the saluation which is in Christ Jesus, with eternall glorie.

11 It is a true saying, For if we be * dead with him, we also shall liue with him.

12 If we suffer, we shall also reigne with him: * if we denie him, he also will denie vs.

13 If * we beleeue not, yet abideth he faithfull: he cannot denie himselfe.

14 Of these thinges put them in remembrance, and protest before the Lord, that they striue not about wordes, which is to no profit, but to the peruerting of the hearers.

15 Studie to shew thy selfe approued vnto God, a workeman that needeth not to be ashamed, f dunding the word of trueth aright.

16 * Stay prophane, g vaine babblings: for they shal increase vnto more vngodlines.

17 And their worde shall fret as a canker: of which sort is Hymeneus and Philetus, 18 Which as concerning the trueth haue erred, saying that the resurrection is past alreadie, and do destroy the fayth of certaine.

19 But the fundation of God remaineth sure, and hath this seale, g The Lorde knoweth who are his, and, Let euerie one that calleth on þ name of Christ, depart from iniquitie.

20 Notwithstanding in a h great house are not onely vessels of golde and of siluer, but also of wood and of earth, and some for honour, and some vnto dishonour.

21 If any man therefore purge himselfe from i these, hee shall be a vessell vnto honour, sanctified, and meete for the Lorde, and prepared vnto euery good worke.

22 Flee also from the lusts of youth, and followe after righteousnes, fayth, loue, and peace, with them that * call on the Lord with pure heart.

23 * And put away foolish, and k vnlearned questions, knowing that they ingender strife.

24 But the seruant of the Lorde must not striue, but must be gentle toward all men, b As with his household, and other ordinarie affaires.

8 * And as Iannes and Iambres withstoode Moses, so doe these also resist the trueth, men of [c] corrupt mindes, reprobate concerning the faith.

9 But they shall preuaile no longer: for their madnes shalbe euident vnto all men, as theirs also was.

10 ¶ But thou hast fully knowen my doctrine, maner of liuing, [d] purpose, faith, long suffering, loue, patience,

14 But continue thou in the thinges which thou hast learned, and art perswaded thereof, knowing of whom thou hast learned them:

15 And that thou hast knowen the holy Scriptures of a childe, which are able to make thee wise vnto saluation through the faith which is in Christ Iesus.

1 I Charge thee therefore before God, and before the Lorde Iesus Christ, which shall iudge the quicke and dead at his appearing, and in his kingdome,

2 Preach the word: be instant, [a] in season and out of season: improue, rebuke, exhort with all long suffering and doctrine.

3 For the time will come, when they wil not suffer wholesome doctrine: but hauing their eares itching, shal after their owne lustes get them an heape of teachers,

THE EPISTLE OF PAVL to Titus.

THE ARGVMENT.

WHen Titus was left in Creta to finishe that doctrine which Paul had there begunne, Satan stirred vp certayne which went about not onely to ouerthrowe the gouernement of the Church, but also to corrupt the doctrine: for some by ambition woulde haue thrust in themselues to bee pastours: others, vnder pretext of Moses Lawe brought in manie trifles. Against these two sorts of men Paul armeth Titus; first teaching him what maner of ministers he ought to choose, chiefly requiring that they be men of sounde doctrine to the intent they myght resist the aduersaries, and amongs other thinges he noteth the Iewes which put a certaine holines in meates, and such outwarde ceremonies, teaching them which are the true exercises of a Christian life, and what things appertaine to euery mans vocation. Agaynst the which if any man rebell or els doeth not obey, he willeth him to be auoyded.

THE EPISTLE OF PAVL to Philemon.

THE ARGVMENT.

Albeit the excellencie of Pauls ſpirit wonderfully appeareth in other his Epiſtles, yet this Epiſtle is a great witnes, and a declaration of the ſame. For farre paſſing the baſenes of his matter, he flyeth as it were vp to heauen, and ſpeaketh with a diuine grace and maieſtie. Oneſimus ſeruant to Philemon both robbed his maſter, and fledde away, whom Paul hauing wonne to Chriſt, ſent againe to his maſter, earneſtly begging his pardon, with moſt weighтie arguments prouing the dutie of one Chriſtian to another, and ſo with ſalutations endeth.

4 He reioyceth to heare of the faith and loue of Philemon. 9 Whom he deſireth to forgiue his ſeruāt Oneſimus, & louingly to receiue him againe

1 Paul a priſoner of Jeſus Chriſt, and our brother Timotheus, vnto Philemon our deare friende and fellowe helper,

2 And to our deare ſiſter Apphia, and to Archippus our fellowe ſouldier and to the Churche that is in thine houſe:

3 Grace be with you, & peace from God our Father, and from the Lorde Jeſus Chriſt.

1.Theſſ.1.2. 2.theſſ.1.3.

4 I * giue thankes to my God, making mencion alwaies of thee in my prayers,

5 (When I heare of thy loue and fayth, which thou haſt towarde the Lorde Jeſus, and toward all Saints) a Thy beneuolence toward ỹ Saintes, which procedeth of a liuely and effectuall fayth.

6 That the a felowſhip of thy faith may be made fruitfull, and that whatſoeuer good thyng is in you b through Chriſt Jeſus, may be knowne.

7 For we haue great ioy and conſolation in thy loue, becauſe by thee, brother, the Saints c hearts are comforted.

b That experience may declare that you are the members of Jeſus Chriſt.

c Meaning, their inward parts & affections were through his charitie comforted. Col.4.9.

8 Wherefore, though I bee very bolde in Chriſt to commande thee that which is conuenient, 9 Yet for loues ſake I rather beſeech thee, though I be as I am, euen Paul aged, & euen now a priſoner for Jeſus Chriſt.

10 I beſeech thee for my ſonne * Oneſimus, whom I haue begotten in my bonds,

11 Which in time paſt was to thee vnprofitable, but now profitable both to thee and to me,

12 Whō I haue ſent again: thou therfore receiue him, that is mine owne bowels,

13 Whom I would haue retained vnto me, þ in thy ſtead he might haue miniſtred vnto me in the bonds of the Goſpell.

14 But without thy minde would I doe nothing, that thy benefit ſhould not bee as it were of neceſſitie, but willingly.

15 It may be that he therefore d departed for a ſeaſon, that thou ſhouldeſt receiue him for euer, d He fled away from thee.

16 e Not nowe as a ſeruant, but aboue a ſeruant, euen as a brother beloued, ſpecially to me: how much more then vnto thee, both in the fleſh, and in the Lord?

e For he is thy ſeruāt by condition, and alſo now the Lordes: ſo that both for thine owne ſake and for ỹ Lords, thou oughteſt to loue him.

17 If therefore thou count me thyne f common, receyue him as my ſelfe.

18 If hee hath hurt thee, or oweth thee ought, that put on mine accounte.

19 I Paul haue written this with mine owne hand: I will recompenſe it, albeit I doe not ſay to thee, that thou oweſt vnto me euen thine owne ſelfe.

f That al thine is mine, and all mine is thine.

20 Yea, brother, let me obteine this pleaſure of thee in the Lorde: comfort my g bowels in the Lord.

g Graunt me this benefite, which ſhalbe moſt acceptable vnto me of all others.

21 Truſting in thine obedience, I wrote vnto thee, knowing that thou wilt doe euen more then I ſay.

22 Moreouer alſo prepare mee lodging: for I truſt through your prayers I ſhal be giuen vnto you.

23 There ſalute thee Epaphras my fellow priſoner h in Chriſt Jeſus, 24 Marcus, Ariſtarchus, Demas and Luke, my fellow helpers.

h That is, for Chriſtes cauſe.

25 The grace of our Lorde Jeſus Chriſt be with your ſpirit, Amen.

THE EPISTLE TO THE HEBREWES.

THE ARGVMENT.

Forasmuch as diuers, both of the Greeke writers and Latines, witneſſe that the writer of this Epiſtle for iuſt cauſes would not haue his name knowne, it were curioſitie of our part to labour much therein. For ſeeing the Spirite of God is the authour thereof, it diminiſheth nothing the authoritie, although wee knowe not with what penne he wrote it. Whether it were Paul (as it is not like) or Luke, or Barnabas, or Clement, or ſome other, his chiefe purpoſe is to perſwade vnto the Hebrewes (whereby hee principally meaneth them that abode at Ieruſalem, and vnder them all the reſt of the Iewes) that Chriſt Ieſus was not onely the redeemer, but alſo that at his comming all ceremonies muſt haue an ende: forasmuch as his doctrine was the concluſion of all the Prophecies, & therefore not only Moſes was inferiour to him, but alſo the Angels: for they al were ſeruants, and he the Lorde, but ſo Lord, that he hath alſo taken our fleſh, & is made our brother to aſſure vs of our ſaluation through himſelf: for he is ỹ eternal Prieſt, wherof al ỹ Leuitical Prieſts were but ſhadowes, & therefore at his cōming they ought to ceaſe, and all ſacrifices for ſinne to bee aboliſhed, as hee proueth from the 7. Chap. verſ. 11.

vnto the 12. Chap. vers. 18. Also he was that Prophet of whome all the Prophets in time past witnessed, as is declared from the 12 Chap. vers. 18. to the twentie and fiue verse of the same Chapter: yea, and is the King to whome all things are subiect, as appeareth from that Vers 25. to the beginning of the last chap. Wherefore according to the examples of the olde fathers we must constantly beleeue in him, that being sanctified by his iustice, taught by his wisdome, and gouerned by his power, we may stedfastly, and courageously persеuere euen to the ende in hope of that ioye that is set before our eyes, occupying our selues in Christian exercises that we may both be thankefull to God, and ductifull to our neighbour.

CHAP. I.

1 He sheweth the excellencie of Christ 4 Aboue the Angels, 7 And of their office.

1 GOd, who is euer constant, & mercifull to his church, declared his will in tyme past, not all at once, or after one sort, but frō time to time and in sundrie sorts: but now last of al he hath fully declared al truth to vs by his Sonne.

2 In these [b] last dayes he hath spoken vnto vs by his Sonne, whō he hath made heire of all things, [c] by whom also he made the worldes,

3 * Who being the brightnes of the glorie, and the [d] ingraued forme of his person, and bearing vp all things by his mightie worde, hath by him selfe [e] purged our sinnes, and sitteth at the right hand of the maiestie in the highest places,

4 And is made so much more excellent then the [f] Angels in as much as he hath obteined a more excellent name then they.

5 For vnto which of the Angels sayde he at any tyme, * Thou art my Sonne, this day begate I thee? and againe, I * will be his Father, and he shall bee my sonne?

6 And againe when hee bringeth in his first begotten Sonne into the worlde, he saith, * And let all the Angels of God worshippe him.

7 And of the Angels hee saith, * He maketh the [h] Spirits his messengers, and his ministers a flame of fire.

8 But vnto the Sonne he saith, * O God, thy throne is for euer and euer: the [i] scepter of thy kingdome is a scepter of righteousnes.

9 Thou hast loued righteousnesse and hated iniquitie. Wherefore God, euen thy God, hath [k] anointed thee with the oyle of gladnes aboue thy fellowes.

10 And, * Thou, Lorde, in the beginning hast established the earth, and the heauens are the workes of thine handes.

11 They shall perish, but thou doest remayne: and they all shall waxe olde as doeth a garment.

12 And as a vesture shalt thou fold them vp, and they shalbe changed: but thou art the same and thy yeres shal not fayle.

13 Vnto which also of the Angels sayde hee at any tyme, * Sit at my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footestoole? Psal. 110.1. mat. 22.44. 1.*cor.*15.25. *chap.*10.12.

14 Are they not all ministring spirites, sent forth to minister, for their sakes which shalbe heires of saluation?

CHAP. II.

1 He exhorteth vs to bee obedient vnto the newe Lawe which Christ hath giuen vs, 9 And not to be offended at the infirmitie and lowe degree of Christ, 10 Because it was necessarie that for our sakes he should take such an humble state vpon him, that he might be like vnto his brethren.

1 WHerefore wee ought diligently to giue heede to the thinges which wee haue heard, least at any [a] time wee should let them slippe.

2 For if the [b] worde spoken by Angels was stedfast, and euery transgression, and disobedience receiued a iust recompence of reward,

3 Howe shall wee escape, if we neglect so [c] great saluation, which at the first began to bee preached by the Lorde, and afterward was confirmed vnto vs by [d] them that heard him,

4 * God bearing witnesse thereto, both with signes and wonders, and with diuers miracles, and gifts of the holy Ghost, according to his owne will?

5 For he hath not put in subiection vnto the Angels the [e] woorld to come, whereof we speake.

6 But * one in a certaine place witnessed, saying, [f] What is man, that thou shouldest be mindefull of him? or the sonne of man that thou wouldest consider him?

7 Thou madest him a litle inferiour to the Angels: thou crownedst him with [g] glorie and honour, and hast set him aboue the workes of thine hands.

8 * Thou hast put all things in subiection vnder his feete. And in that he hath put all things in subiection vnder him, he [h] left nothing that should not bee subiect vnto him. But now we see not yet all things subiect vnto him.

a We must diligently keepe in memory the doctrine, which we haue learned lest like vessels full of chappes we leake, and runne out on euery part.

b Which was the Law giuen to Moses by the hands of the Angels, Gal. 3.19. Act. 7.53.

c As the Gospel is, which onely offereth saluation.

d That is, the Apostles. Mar. 16.20.

e Which Esay calleth the newe heauens, and the newe earth, Chap. 65.17. whereof Christ is the father, Isa. 9.6. that is, the head of vs his members. Psal. 8.4.

f He speaketh here chiefly of the faithfull, which are made through Christ, citizens of the world to come, where they shall enioy with their prince all these things which nowe they haue onely but in part. g In making him fellow heire with Christ, Mat. 28.18. 1. cor. 15.27. phil. 2.9, 10, 11.

e So that our sinnes can bee purged by none other meanes. f Much more then, then all other things created. Psal. 2.7. chap. 5.5. act. 13.33. g Because hee was at the time appointed, declared to the world. 2. Sam. 7.14. 1. chron. 22.10. Psal. 97.7. Psal. 104.4. h He compareth the Angels to the windes, which are here beneath as Gods messengers. Psal. 45.6,7. i The administration of thy kingdome is iust. k This is ment in that that the word is made flesh, and that the holy Ghost was powred on him without measure, that we may all receiue of him euery one according to his measure. Psal. 102.25.

h To the which obiect that they see not these things accompli shed in man, the Apostle answereth that they are fulfilled in Christ our captaine, who leadeth his to the same glorie with him.

i To man, as he is of Christ.

k By his vertue which most manifestly appeareth in the Church.

l Iesus Christ by humbling himselfe and taking vpon him the forme of a seruant, which was our flesh, and mortalitie, giueth vs assurãce of our saluation.

m Therefore we by afflictions are made like to the Sonne of God.

n The head and the members are of one nature: so Christ which sanctifieth vs, & we that are sanctified, are all one by the vnion of our flesh.

ject vnto him. h But we yet see not all thinges subdued vnto him.

9 But we see Iesus k crowned with glory and honour, which was made a litle inferiour to the Angels, through the suffering of death, that by Gods grace he might taste death for all men.

10 For it became him, for whome are all thinges, and by whome are all thinges, seeing that hee brought many children vnto glorie, that he shoulde consecrate the l Prince of their saluation through m afflictions.

11 For he that sanctifieth, & they which are sanctified, are all n of one: wherefore he is not ashamed to call them brethren, 12 Saying, * I will declare thy Name vnto my o brethren: in the middes of the Church wil I sing praises to thee.

13 And agame, * I wil put my p trust in him. And againe, * q Beholde, here am I, and the children, which G O D hath giuen me.

14 Forasmuch then as the children were partakers of flesh and blood, hee also himselfe likewise tooke part with them, that he might destroy * through death, him that had the power of death, that is the deuill, 15 And that hee might deliuer all them, which for feare of r death were all their life time subiect to bondage.

16 For he in no sort tooke the s Angels, but he tooke the seede of Abraham.

17 Wherefore t in all thinges it became him to be made like vnto his brethren, that he might be mercifull, and a faithfull high Priest in thinges concerning God, that he might make reconciliation for the sinnes of the people.

18 For in that hee u suffered, and was tempted, hee is able to succour them that are tempted.

o This proueth Christes humanitie. *Psal.*18.2.

p Meaning, that Christ touching his humanitie put his trust in God. *Isa.*8.18.

q Isaie speaketh this of him selfe and his disciples, but properly it is applied to Christ the head of all ministers. *Hose.*13.14. 1.*cor.*15.55.

r And Gods anger.

s Not the nature of Angels but of man.

t Not onely as touching nature but also qualities, onely sinne except.

u Forasmuch as he is exercised in our miseries, we may bee assured, that at all times in our tentations he will succour vs.

*Psal.*22.22.

CHAP. III.

1 He requireth them to be obedient vnto the worde of Christ, 3 VVho is more worthy then Moses. 12 The punishment of such as will harden their hearts, and not beleeue, that they might haue eternall rest.

a Take heede to his words & receiue him.

b Of that doctrine which we beleeue, and ought to confesse.

c To be the ambassadour and hie priest. *Num.*12.7.

1 Therefore, holy brethren, partakers of the heauenly vocation, a consider the Apostle and high Priest of our b profession Christ Iesus:

2 Who was faithfull to him that hath appointed c him, euen as * Moses was in all his house.

3 For this man is counted worthy of more glorie then Moses, in asmuch as he which hath builded the house, d hath more honour then the house.

4 For euery house is builded of some man, and he that hath built all thinges, is e God.

5 Now Moses verily was faithfull in all his house, as a seruant, for a witnes of the thinges which should bee spoken after.

6 But Christ is as the Sonne, ouer his owne house, whose f house we are, if we holde fast the confidence and the reioycing of the hope vnto the ende.

7 Wherefore, as the holy Ghost sayth, * To day if ye shall heare his voyce,

8 Harden not your hearts, as in the g prouocation, according to the day of the tentation in the wildernes, 9 Where your fathers tempted me, proued mee, and sawe my workes fourty yeres long.

10 Wherefore I was grieued with that generation, and said, They erre euer in their heart, neither haue they knowen my wayes.

11 Therefore I sware in my wrath, h If they shall enter into my i rest.

12 Take heede, brethren, least at any time there be in any of you an euil heart, and vnfaithfull, to depart away from the liuing God.

13 But exhorte one another daily, while it is called * To day, least any of you be hardened through the deceitfulnesse of sinne.

14 For wee are made partakers of Christ, if we keepe sure vnto the k ende the l beginning, wherewith we are vpholden, 15 So long as it is sayde, To day if ye heare his voice, harde not your hearts, as in the prouocation.

16 For some when they heard, prouoked m him to anger: howbeit, not all that came out of Egypt by Moses.

17 But with whome was hee displeased fourtie yeres? Was hee not displeased with them that sinned, * whose n karkeises fell in the wildernes?

18 And to whome sware hee that they shoulde not enter into his rest, but vnto them, that obeyed not?

19 So we see that they coulde not enter in, because of vnbeliefe.

d Moses was but part of y house, that is, of the Church whereof the pastours are the liuely stones, but christ builded it, and layed the stones: therefore he deserueth more praise.

e That is, christ: for Christ is the foundation, and head of his Church: he is our brother, and Lord: he is the Sonne of God, and very God working all things by his owne power.

f For in obeying the Sonne, we are made the house of God. *Psal.*95.7,8. *chap.*4.7.

g As when ye prouoked Gods anger in Massa and Meriba, Exod.17.7.

h Meaning by this othe, y they should not enter.

i As disobeying God, they in old time were debarred from the quietnes of the land of Chanaan so they which do not obey Christ, shall not enter into the heauenly rest.

k Which is all that time wherin God doeth call vs: while he therefore speaketh, let vs heare.

l Which is by faith to embrace and hold fast the true doctrine of Iesus Christ. a Or, foundation of our assurance. b Or, bodies and members.

m To wit, the Lord. *Numb.*14.37.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The word without faith is vnprofitable. 3 The Sabbath or rest of the Christians. 6 Punishment of vnbeleeuers. 12 The nature of the word of God.

Let vs feare therefore, lest at any time by forsaking the promes of entring into his rest, any of you should seeme to be depriued.

2 For a He compareth the preaching of the Gospel, as it were, to wine, whereof if we will taste, that is, heare & vnderstand with profite, we must temper or mixe it with faith. Psalme.95.11.

b Although that God by his rest, after the creatiō of his workes, signified the spirituall rest of the faithfull, yet he ſware to giue rest in Chanaan, which was but a figure of the heauenly rest, and dured but for a time.

c The perfection of Gods workes, and so his rest, signifie our heauenly rest. Gen.2.2. deu.5.14

d That is, in the psalmes. Chap.3.7.

e Meaning Ioshua.

f Hath cast off his appetites, mortified his flesh, renounced himselfe, and followeth God.

g For it mortally woundeth the rebellious, & in the elect it killeth the old man that they should liue vnto God.

h Where the affections are.

i Which conteineth wil and reason.

k As that thing which is cleft asunder euen through the middes of the backe, and so is made open, that it may be seene throughout. [l] Or, concerning whom we speake.

2 For vnto vs was the Gospel preached as also vnto them: but the worde that they heard, profited not them, because it was not [a] mixed with faith in those that heard it.

3 For we which haue beleeued, do enter vnto rest, as he saide to the other, * As I haue ſwoorne in my wrath, If [b] they shal enter into my rest: although [c] þ workes were finished from the foundation of the worlde.

4 For he spake in a certayne place of the seuenth day on this wise, * And God did rest the seuenth daye from all his workes.

5 And in this place againe, If they shall enter into my rest.

6 Seeing therefore it remayneth that some must enter therevnto, and they to whom it was first preached, entred not therein for vnbeleefes sake:

7 Againe he appointeth [d] in Dauid a certaine daye by To daye, after so long a time, saying, as it is saide, * This day if ye heare his voyce, harden not your hearts.

8 For if [e] Iesus had giuen them rest, the would he not after this day haue spoken of another.

9 There remaineth therefore a rest to the people of God.

10 For hee that is entred into his rest, [f] hath also ceased frō his owne works, as God did from his.

11 Let vs studie therefore to enter into that rest, least any man fall after þ same ensample of disobedience.

12 For þ worde of God is liuely, & mightie in operation, and sharper then any two edged swoorde, & entreth through, euen vnto the deuiding asunder of þ soule & the [g] spirit, and of the ioyntes, and the marow, & is a discerner of þ thoughts and the intents of the heart.

13 Neither is there any creature, which is not manifest in his sight: but all thinges are naked and [h] open vnto his eyes, [i] with whom we haue [l] to do.

14 Seeing then that we haue a great hie Priest, which is entred into heauen, euen Iesus the Sonne of God, let vs holde fast our profession.

15 For we haue not an hie Priest, which can not be touched with the feeling of our infirmities, but was in all thinges tempted in like sort, yet without sinne.

16 Let vs therefore goe boldely vnto the throne of grace, that we may receyue mercie, and finde grace to helpe in time of neede.

CHAP. V.

He compareth Iesus Christ with the Leuiticall Priests, shewing wherein they either agree, or disſent. 11 Afterward he reproueth the negligence of the Iewes.

1 For euery hie Priest is taken from among men, and is [a] ordeyned for men, in things pertayning to God, that he may offer both [b] giftes and [c] sacrifices for sinnes,

2 Which is able sufficiently to haue compassion on them [d] that are ignorant, and that are out of the way, because that he also is compassed with infirmitie,

3 And for the same sake he is bounde to offer for sinnes, as well for his owne part, as for the peoples.

4 * And no man taketh this honour vnto himselfe, but hee that is called of God, as was Aaron.

5 So likewise Christ tooke not to himselfe this honour, to be made the hie Priest, but he that saide vnto him, * Thou art my Sonne, this day begate I thee, gaue it him.

6 As he also in another place speaketh, * Thou art a Priest for euer after the [e] order of Melchi-sedec.

7 Which in the [f] dayes of his flesh dyd offer vp prayers and supplications, with [g] strong crying and teares vnto him, that was able to saue him from death, & was also heard [h] in that which he feared.

8 And though hée were the Sonne, yet learned hee obedience, by the thinges which he suffered.

9 And being consecrate, was made the author of eternall saluation vnto all them that obey him:

10 And is called of God an hie Priest after the order of Melchi-sedec.

11 [i] Of whom we haue many thinges to saye, which are hard to be vttered, because ye are dull of hearing.

12 For when as concerning the time yee ought to be teachers, yet haue ye nede againe that we teache you þ first [k] principles of the worde of God: and are become such as haue nede of [k] milke, and not of strong meate.

13 For euery one that vseth milke, is inexpert in the [l] worde of righteousnes: for he is a babe.

14 But strong meate belongeth to them that are of age, which through long custome haue their wittes exercised, to discerne both good and euill.

CHAP. VI.

1 He proceedeth in reproouing them, and exhorteth them not to faint, 12 But to be stedfast and patient, 18 Forasmuch as God is sure in his promis.

1 Therefore, leauing the doctrine of the [a] beginning of Christ, let vs be led forwarde vnto perfection, not laying agayne the foundation [b] of repentance from dead workes, & of faith toward God, a He sheweth that man can haue none accesse to God without an hie priest, because that of himselfe he is prophane and sinfull.

2 Of

b Which were of thinges without life.

f When he liued in this worlde.

g He meaneth y most earnest prayer which Christ prayed in y garden, where he sweat droppes of blood.

h Being in perplexitie, and fearing the horrors of death.

i Hee digresseth til he come to y beginning of the 7.chap.

[k] Or, rudiments.

k Reade 1.Cor. 3.2.

l That is, the Gospel which is y true knowledge that teacheth vs where we haue our iustice.

a That is, the first rudiments of our Christian religion.

b He mentioneth fiue pointes of y catechisme, which was then in vse: the sūme of the faith: a briefe explication of Baptisme, and laying on of handes the article of the resurrection, and the last iudgement.

2 Of

2 Of the doctrine of [c] baptismes, and laying on of handes, and of the resurrection from the dead, and of eternall iudgement.
3 And this will we do [d] if God permit.
4 * For it is impossible that they, which were once lightened, and haue tasted of the heauenly gift, and were made partakers of the holy Ghost,
5 And haue tasted of the good woorde of God, and of the powers of the world to come,
6 If they fal awap, should be renewed againe by repentance: seeing they [e] crucifie againe to themselues the Sonne of God and make a mocke of him.
7 For the earth which drinketh in the raine that commeth ofte vpon it, and bringeth foorth herbes meete for them by whom it is dressed, receiueth blessing of God.
8 But that which beareth thornes and briers, is reproued, and is neere vnto cursing, whose ende is to be burned.
9 But beloued we haue perswaded our selues better things of you, and such as accompanie saluation, though we thus speake.
10 For God is not vnrighteous, that he should forget your worke, and labour of loue, which ye shewed towarde his Name, in that ye haue ministred vnto the Saints, and yet minister.
11 And wee desire that euery one of you shewe the same diligence, to the [f] full assurance of hope vnto the ende, 12 That ye be not slouthful, but followers of [g] them, which through faith and patience, inherite the promises.
13 For when God made the promes to Abraham, because he had no greater to sweare by, he sware by him selfe, 14 Saying, * Surely I wil abundantly blesse thee and multiplie thee marueilously.
15 And so after that he had taried patiently he enioyed the promes.
16 For men verely sweare by him that is greater then them selues, and an othe for confirmation is among them an end of all strife.
17 So God willing more [h] abundantly to shewe vnto the heires of promes the stablenes of his counsell, bounde himselfe by an othe,
18 That by [i] two immutable thinges, wherin it is impossible that God should lye, we might haue strong consolation, which haue our refuge to holde fast the hope that is set before vs,
19 Which wee haue, as an ancre of the soule, both sure and stedfast, and it [k] entreth into that which is within the [l] vaile, 20 Whither the forerunner is for vs entred in, euen Iesus that is made an hie Priest for euer after the order of Melchi-sedec.

[c] Then [f] vse of Baptisme was declared, when on the solemne dayes appointed to baptize, the Church came together.
[d] It is Gods singular gift to increase in knowledge, and to go forward in the vnderstanding of Gods worde. *Mat.*12.31,32. 2.*pet.*2.20. *chap.*10.26.
[e] They which are apostates, & sinne against the holie Ghost, hate Christ, crucifie and mocke him, but to their owne destruction, and therefore fall into desperation, and can not repent.
[f] Whereby it may appeare, that you are fully perswaded of life euerlasting.
[g] As the holy fathers, Prophets and martyres, that were before vs. *Gen.*12.2. & 17.4. and 22.17.
[h] Because of mans wickednes, which will not beleeue God except he swear.
[i] Gods worde & othe, are two things in him vnchangeable.
[k] He returneth to the comparison betweene Christs Priesthode & the Leuitical which hee had begun in the 5. chap.
[l] Which is heauen whither Christ is gone before to prepare vs place.

CHAP. VII.

[1] Her compareth the Priesthode of Christ with Melchi-sedec, [11] Also Christs Priesthod with the Leuites.

1 For this Melchi-sedec * was king of Salem, the Priest of the most hie God, who met Abraham, as he returned from the slaughter of the kings, and blessed him: *Gen.*14.18.
2 To whom also Abraham gaue [a] tithe of all thinges: who first is by interpretatiō king of righteousnes: after that, he is also king of Salem, that is, King of peace,
3 Without [a] father, without mother, without kindred, and hath neyther beginning of his daies, neyther end of life: but is likened vnto the Sonne of God, and continueth a Priest for euer.
4 Nowe consider how great this man was, vnto whom euen the [b] Patriarke Abraham gaue the tithe of the spoiles.
5 For verily they which are the children of Leui, which receiue the office of the Priesthood, haue a * [c] commandement to take, according to the Lawe, tithes of the people (that is, of their brethren) though they [d] came out of the loynes of Abraham.
6 But he whose kinred is not counted among them, [e] receiued tithes of Abraham, and blessed him that had the promises.
7 And without al contradiction the lesse is blessed of the greater.
8 And here men that die, receiue tithes: but there he receiueth them, of whom it is witnessed, that he [f] liueth.
9 And to say as the thing is, Leui also which receiueth tithes, payed tithes in Abraham.
10 For he was yet in the loynes of his father Abraham, when Melchi-sedec met him.
11 If therefore perfection had bin by the Priesthode of the Leuites (for vnder it the Law was established to the people) what needed it further more, that another Priest should rise after the order of Melchi-sedec, and not to be called after the order of Aaron?
12 For if the Priesthode be changed, the of necessitie must there bee a change of the [g] Lawe.
13 For he of whom these things are spoken, pertepneth vnto another tribe, whereof no man serued at the altar.
14 For it is euident, that our Lord sprong out of Iuda, concerning the which tribe Moses spake nothing, touching the Priesthode.
15 And it is yet a more euident thing, because that after the similitude of Melchi-sedec, there is risen vp an other Priest, 16 Which is not made Priest after the Lawe [h] of the carnall commandement, but after the power of the endles life.
17 For hee testifieth thus, * Thou art a Priest for euer, after the order of Melchi-sedec.
18 For the commandement that went afore,

[a] So called, because [f] Moses maketh no mention of his parents or kinsfolkes, but as he had bene suddenly sent of God into the world to be a figure of Christ our euerlasting Priest, & shortly taken out of the world againe: so Christ as touching his humanitie had no father, and concerning his diuinitie, no mother.
[b] That is, the chiefe of fathers. *Numb.*18.21. *deut.*18.1,2. *ios.*14.4.
[c] The Leuites had commandement to receiue that, which Abraham gaue freely to Melchi-sedec.
[d] Were begotte of Abraham.
[e] The Leuites receiued tithes of their brethrē, but Melchi-sedec of Abraham the patriarke: therefore his priesthode is more excellent then [f] Leuitical.
[f] Because there is no mencion of his death.
[g] The Lawe and the priesthode are both of one cōdition: so that both Aarons and Moses office perteine to Christ, which is Priest and Law maker.
[h] Which stoode in outward and corporall ceremonies. *Psal.*110.4. *chap.*5.6.

i For the Lawe hath no vertue nor profit till a man be come to Christ.

afore, is disanulled, because of þ weaknes therof, and unprofitablenes.
19 For the Law made nothing perfit, but
* the bringing in of a better hope made perfite, wherebp wee drawe nere vnto God.
20 And forasmuch as it is not without an othe (for these are made Priestes without an othe:
21 But this, he is made with an othe bp him that sayde vnto him, * The Lord hath swoine, & will not repent, Thou art a Priest for euer, after the order of Melchi-sedec)
22 Bp so much is Jesus made a suertie of a better * Testament.
23 And among them many were made priestes, because they were not suffered to endure, bp the reason of death.
24 But this man, because he endureth euer, hath an k euerlasting Priesthood.
25 Wherefore, he is able also * perfectly to saue them that come vnto God bp him, seeing he euer liueth, to make intercession for them.
26 For such an hie Priest it became vs to haue, which is holy, harmeles, undefiled, separate from sinners, and made hier then the heauens:
27 Which needed not daply as those hie Priestes to offer vp sacrifice, * first for his owne sinnes, & then for the peoples: for that did he m once, when hee offered vp himselfe.
28 For the Lawe maketh men high Priestes, which haue infirmitie: but the word of the othe that was * since the Lawe, maketh the Sonne, who is consecrated for euermore.

k Therefore all others are blasphemous, ý either make them selues his successors, or pretend any other sacrifice.
l The fruite of his Priesthode is to saue, and ý fully & perfectly, not by supplying that that wanteth, but by taking away the Lawe which is vnperfect by reason of our infirmities. Leuit.16.6.
m And can not without blasphemie be said to be offred againe, or els by any creature: for none could offer him, but him selfe.
n Not that it was first made after the lawe was giuen: but because the declaration of that eternall othe was then reueiled to the world.

CHAP. VIII.

6 He proueth the abolishing aswell of the Leuiticall Priesthoode, as of the olde Couenant by the spirituall and euerlasting Priesthode of Christ, 8 And by the newe Couenant.

1 NOw of the things which we haue spoken, this is the summe, that we haue such an high Priest, that sitteth at þ right hand of the throne of the maiestie in heauens,
2 And is a minister of the * Sanctuarie, and of the true b Tabernacle which the Lord pight, and not c man.
3 For d euerie hie Priest is ordeyned to offer both giftes and sacrifices: wherefore it was of necessitie, that this man should haue somewhat also to offer.
4 For he were not a Priest, if hee were on the earth, seeing there are Priestes that according to the Lawe offer giftes,
5 Who serue vnto the paterne and shadowe of heauenly thinges, as Moses was warned bp God, when hee was about to finishe the Tabernacle. * See, saide he, that thou make all things according to the * paterne, shewed to thée in the mount.
6 But nowe our hie Priest hath obtained a more excellent office, in asmuch as he is the Mediatour of a better * Testament, which is established vpon better promises.
7 For if þ first Testament had bene faultelesse, no place shoulde haue bene sought for the second.
8 For in rebuking them he sayth, * Beholde, the dayes will * come, sayeth the Lord, when I shal make with the house of Israel, and with the house * of Juda a newe Testament:
9 Not lyke the Testament that I made with their fathers, in the day that I tooke them bp the hande, to leade them out of the land of Egypt: for they h continued not in my Testament, and I regarded them not, sayth the Lord.
10 For this is the Testament that I wil make with the house of Israel, After those dayes, sayth the Lorde, I will put my lawes in their minde, and in their heart I will write them, & I wil be their God, and they shalbe my people, 11 And then shall not i teache euery man his neighbour and euery man his bro-ther, saying, Knowe the Lorde: for all shall knowe me, from the least of them to the greatest of them.
12 For I will be mercifull to their vnrighteousnesse, and I will remember their sinnes and their iniquities no more.
13 In that he saith a newe Testament, hée hath abrogate the old: now that which is disanulled and wayed olde, is ready to vanish away.

e Seing the offerings of the Leuites were but shadowes of heauenly things, as appeareth bp the oracle to Moses, it soloweth then that Christs heauenly Sanctuary, his Tabernacle and office are farre more excellent.
* Or, couenant. Iere.31.31. rom.11.27. chap.10.16.
f That is, when Christ shal remit our sinnes by the preaching of the Gospel.
g Signifying that there should be no more diuisiō, but all shall be made one Church.
h Man by transgressing the bands of the couenant, couldc not enioy the commoditie thereof.
i Men shal not in the time of the Gospel be so ignorant as they were before, but shall knowe God much more perfectly through Christ.

CHAP. IX.

1 How that the ceremonies and sacrifices of the Law are abolished. 11 By the eternitie and perfection of Christs sacrifice.

1 THen the first * Testament had also * ordinances of religion, and a * worldly Sanctuarie.
2 For the first * Tabernacle was made, wherein was the candlesticke, and the table, and the shew bread, which Tabernacle is called the holy places.
3 And after the b seconde vaile was the Tabernacle, which is called the Holiest of all,
4 Which had the golden censer, and the Arke of the Testament ouerlaid round about with golde, wherein the golden pot which had manna, was, and * Aarons rod that had budded, & the * tables of the Testament.
5 * And ouer the Arke were the glorious Cherubins, shadowing the * mercie seate: of which things we wil not nowe speake particularly.
6 Nowe when these thinges were thus ordayned, the Priestes went alwayes into the first Tabernacle, and accomplished h Which is heauen.

i For Christ was the sacrifice, the Tabernacle and the Priest.

Leuit. 16. 14. nom. 19. 4.

k The Leuitical Priest offered beasts blood: but Christ the true & eternall Priest offred his owne blood, which was most holy and pure: the Leuitical Priest offred yeerely, and therefore did onely represent the true holines; but Christ by one only sacrifice hath made holy for euer all them that beleue.

p Without the death of beasts that were sacrificed, which signified, that Christ would pacifie his Father with his blood.

plished the seruice.

7 But into the seconde went the * high Priest alone, once euery yere, not without blood which he offered for him selfe, and for the [a] ignorances of the people.

8 Whereby the holy Ghost this signified, that the [c] way into the Holiest of al was not yet opened, while as yet ỹ first Tabernacle was standing,

9 Which was a figure for the time present, wherein were offred gifts and sacrifices that could not make [b] holy, concerning the conscience, [d] him that dyd the seruice,

10 Which onely stoode in meates and drinkes, and diuers washings, & [e] carnall rites, vntill the time of [f] reformation.

11 But Christ being come an hie Priest of good things to come, by a greater & a more perfect [g] Tabernacle, not made with handes, that is, not of this building, 12 Neither by the blood of goates and calues: but by his owne blood entred he in once vnto the [h] Holy place, [i] and obtained eternall redemption for vs.

13 * For if the [k] blood of bulles and of goates & the ashes of an heifer, sprinkling them that are vncleane, sanctifieth as touching the purifying of the [l] flesh,

14 How much more shall the * blood of Christ which through the eternall Spirit offered him selfe without spotte to GOD, purge your conscience from [m] dead workes, * to serue the liuing God?

15 And for this cause is he the Mediatour of the newe Testament, that throwe * death which was for ỹ redemption of the transgressions that were in ỹ [n] former Testament, they which were called, might receyue the promise of eternall inheritance.

16 For where a Testament is, there must be the death of him that made the Testament.

17 * For the [o] Testament is confirmed when men are dead: for it is yet of no force as long as he ỹ made it, is aliue.

18 Wherefore neyther was the first ordained without [p] blood.

19 For when Moses had spoken euerie precept to the people, according to the lawe, hee take the blood of calues and of goates, with water and purple woll and hyssope, and sprinkled both the booke, and all the people, 20 * Saying, This is the blood of the Testament, which God hath appointed vnto you.

21 Moreouer, hee sprinkled likewise the Tabernacle with blood also, and all the ministring vessels.

22 And almost all things are by ỹ lawe purged with blood, & without sheading of blood is no remission.

23 It was then necessarie, that the similitudes of heauenly thinges shoulde bee purified with such thinges: but the heauenly thinges them selues are purified with better [q] sacrifices then are these.

24 For Christ is not entred into the holy places that are made with handes, which are [r] similitudes of the true Sanctuarie: but is entred into very heauen, to appeare nowe in ỹ sight of God for vs,

25 Not that hee shoulde offer hym selfe [s] often, as the hie Priest entred into the Holy place euery yere with other blood, 26 (For then must he haue often suffred since the foundation of the worlde) but nowe in the [t] ende of the world hath he appeared once to put away sinne, by the sacrifice of himselfe.

27 And as it is appointed vnto men ỹ they shall once die, and after that commeth the iudgement, 28 So * Christ was once offered to take away the sinnes of [v] many, and vnto them that looke for him, shal he appeare the seconde time [u] without sinne vnto saluation.

Exod. 24. 8.

q Albeit there is but one sacrifice, which is Christ himselfe once offred, yet because this true and eternall sacrifice is compared with all those which were figuratiue, and is more sufficient then all they, therfore he calleth it in the plural nomber, Sacrifices.

[r] Or, paternes.

r Therefore to make any other offring or sacrifice for sinne after that Christs bodie was once offred, is blasphemie.

s Which is, the latter daies when Christ came. Rom. 5. 8. 1. pet. 3. 18.

t Of the elect.

u That is, without a sacrifice for sinne: or sin abolished.

CHAP. X.

1 The olde Law had no power to clense away sinne, 10 But Christ did it with offring of his body once for all. 22 An exhortation to receiue the goodnesse of God thankefully with patience and stedfast faith.

1 FOr the * Law hauing the [a] shadowe of good thinges to [b] come, and not the very [c] image of the thinges, can neuer with those sacrifices, which they offer yere by yere continually, [d] sanctifie the commers thereunto.

Leuit. 16. 14, 23.

a Which was as it were the first draught & purtrait of the liuely paterne to come.

b Which are eternal.

[c] Or, substance.

[d] Or, make perfit, Leuit. 16. 21.

2 For woulde they not then haue ceased to haue bene offered, because that the offerers once purged, shoulde haue had no more conscience of sinnes?

3 But in those sacrifices there is a remembrance againe of sinnes euery yere.

4 For it is impossible that the blood of bulles and goates shoulde * take away sinnes.

c When Christ was made man. Psal. 40. 6, 7.

5 Wherefore when he [e] commeth into the worlde, he saith, * Sacrifice and offring thou wouldest not: but a [d] body hast thou ordeined me.

d In ỹ Hebrewe it is, thou hast perced mine eares thorowe, that is, hast made me prõpt and readie to heare: and in the Greeke, thou hast made me a body, that is, to obey thee, which both tende to one purpose.

6 In burnt offrings, and sinne offrings thou hast had no pleasure.

7 Then I saide, Lo, I come (In the beginning of the [e] booke it is written of me)

e Or rolle and folding: for in olde time they vsed to folde bookes like rolles.

me) that I should do thy wil, O God.
8 Aboue, when he said, Sacrifice and offring, and burnt offrings, and sinne offrings thou wouldest not haue, neyther hadst pleasure therein (which are offered by the Lawe)
9 Then said he, Lo, I come to do thy wil, O God, he taketh away f the first, that he may stablish the s second.
10 By the which will we are sanctified, euen by the offring of the body of Jesus Christ once made.
11 And euery Priest appeareth daily ministring, and oft times offreth one maner of offring, which can neuer take away sinnes:
12 But this man after he had offred one sacrifice for sinnes, * sitteth for euer at the right hand of God, 13 And from henceforth tarieth, * till his enemies be made his footestoole.
14 For with one offring hath h he cõsecrated for euer them that are sanctified.
15 For the holy Ghost also beareth vs record: for after that he had said before,
16 * This is the Testament that I will make vnto them after those dayes, saith the Lorde, I wil put my Lawes in their heart, and in their mindes I wil write them.
17 And their sinnes and iniquities wil I remember no more.
18 Now where i remission of these things is, there is no more k offring for sinne.
19 Seing therefore, brethren, that by the blood of Jesus we l may be bolde to enter into the Holy place, 20 By the new and m liuing way, which he hath prepared for vs, through the vaile, that is, his flesh:
21 And seeing wee haue an high Priest, which is ouer the house of God, 22 Let vs draw neere with a true heart in assurance of fayth, n sprinkled in our hearts from an euill conscience, & washed in our bodies with pure water.
23 Let vs keepe p profession of our hope, without wauering (for hee is faythfull that promised)
24 And let vs cõsider one another, to prouoke vnto loue, and to good workes, 25 Not forsaking the fellowship that we haue among our selues, as the maner of some is: but let vs exhort one another, and that so much the more, because ye see that the o day draweth neere.
26 * For if we sinne p willingly after that wee haue receiued p knowledge of the trueth, there remayneth no more sacrifice for sinnes, 27 But a fearefull looking for of iudgement, and violent fire, which shall deuoure the aduersaries.
28 He that despiseth Moses lawe, dyeth without mercie * vnder two, or three witnesses.
29 Of how much sorer punishment suppose ye shall he be worthy, which treadeth vnder foote the Sõne of God, and counteth the blood of p Testament as an vnholy thing, wherewith he was sanctified, and q doeth despite the Spirit of grace?
30 For we knowe him that hath sayde, * Vengeance belongeth vnto me: I wil recompense, sayth the Lord. And again, The Lord shall r iudge his people.
31 It is a fearefull thing to fall into the hands of the liuing God.
32 Now call to remembrance the dayes that are passed, in the which, after ye had receiued light, ye endured a great fight in afflictions,
33 Partly whyle you were made a gasing stocke both by reproches & afflictions, & partly whyle ye became s companions of them which were t so tossed to and fro.
34 For both ye sorrowed with me for my bonds, and suffred with ioye the spoyling of your goods, knowing in your selues how that ye haue in heauē a better, and an enduring substance.
35 Cast not awaye therefore your confidence which hath great recompence of reward.
36 For ye haue nede of patience, that after ye haue done the will of God, ye might receiue the promises.
37 For yet a very litle whyle, and he that shall come, will come, and wil not tarry.
38 * Now the iust shal liue by fayth: but if any withdraw him selfe, my soule shal haue no pleasure in him.
39 But wee are not they which withdraw our selues vnto perdition, but followe fayth vnto the conseruation of the soule.

6 But without faith it is impossible to please him: for he that cometh to God, must beleeue that God is, and that he is a a rewarder of them that seeke him.

First God must finde vs before we can seek him: then we must seeke him with a pure heart in Christ, who is reueiled in his word: and thereby we learne to beleeue Gods free mercie towards vs in his Sonne, through whome we obtaine the reward of his promes, and not of our deserts.

7 By faith * Noe being warned of God of thinges which were as yet not seene, moued with reuerence, prepared the Arke to the saueing of his houshold, through the which Arke he condemned the worlde, and was made heire of the righteousnes, which is by faith.

CHAP. XII.

An exhortation to be patient & stedfast in trouble & aduersitie, vpon hope of euerlasting rewarde. 21 A commendation of the newe Testament aboue the olde.

1 WHerefore, *let vs also, seeing that we are compassed with so great a [a] cloude of witnesses, cast away euery thing that [a] presseth downe, and the sinne that [a] hangeth so fast on: let vs runne with patience the race that is set before vs,

2 [b] Looking vnto Iesus the authour and finisher of our faith, who for the ioye that was set before him, endured the crosse, [c] despised the shame, and is set at the right hande of the throne of God.

3 Consider therefore him that endured such speaking against of sinners, least ye shoulde be wearied and faint in your myndes.

4 Ye haue not yet resisted vnto blood, striuing against [c] sinne.

5 And ye haue forgotten the consolation, which speaketh vnto you as vnto children, *My sonne, despise not the chastening of the Lorde, neither faint when thou art rebuked of him.

6 For whom the Lord loueth, hee chasteneth: and he scourgeth euery sonne that he receiueth.

7 If ye endure chastening, God offereth him selfe vnto you as vnto sonnes: for what sonne is it whom the father chasteneth not?

8 If therefore ye be without correction, whereof all are partakers, then are ye bastards, and not [d] sonnes.

9 Moreouer we haue had the fathers of our [e] bodies which corrected vs, and wee gaue them reuerence: shoulde wee not much rather be in subiection vnto the Father of [f] spirits, that wee might liue?

10 For they verely for a fewe dayes chastened vs after their owne pleasure: but he chasteneth vs for our profite, that wee might be partakers of his holines.

11 Nowe no chastising for the present seemeth to be ioyous, but grieuous: but afterwarde, it bringeth the quiet fruite of righteousnes, vnto them which are therby exercised.

12 Wherefore lift vp your handes which hang downe, and your weake knees, 13 And make straight steppes vnto your feete, lest [g] that which is halting, be turned out of the way, but let it rather bee healed.

14 *Followe peace with all men, and holines, without the which no man shall see the Lorde.

15 Take heede, that no man fall away from the grace of God: let no [h] roote of bitternes spring vp & trouble you, lest thereby many be defiled.

16 Let there be no fornicator, or prophane person as *Esau, which for a portion of meate solde his birthright.

17 *For ye knowe howe that afterwarde also when he would haue inherited the blessing, he was reiected: for he founde no place to [i] repentance, though he sought the blessing with teares.

18 For ye are not come vnto the *mount that [k] might be touched, nor vnto burning fire, nor to blacknes and darknes, and tempest, 19 Neither vnto the sounde of a trumpet, and the voyce of woordes, which they that heard it, excused them selues, that the woorde shoulde not be spoken to them any more.

20 (For they were not able to abide that which was commanded, *Yea, though a beast touch the mountaine, it shall bee stoned, or thrust thorow with a dart:

21 And so terrible was the sight which appeared, that Moses said, I feare and quake.)

22 But ye are come vnto [l] mount [l] Sion, and to the citie of the liuing God, the [m] celestial Ierusalem, & to the company of innumerable [n] Angels,

23 And to the congregation of the first borne, which are written in heauen, and to God the iudge of al, and to the spirits of iust and perfect men, 24 And to Iesus the Mediatour of the newe Testament, and to the blood of sprinkling that speaketh better thinges then that of *Abel.

25 See that ye despise not him that speaketh: for if they escaped not which refused him, that spake on [o] earth: much more shall wee not escape, if wee turne away from him, that speaketh from heauen.

26 Whose voyce then shooke the earth, and nowe hath declared, saying, *Yet once more will I shake, not the earth onely, but also heauen.

27 And this worde, Yet once more, signifieth the removing of those thinges, which are shaken, as of thinges which are made with handes, that the thinges which are not shaken, may remayne.

28 Wherefore seeing we receiue a kingdome, which can not be shaken, let vs haue grace, whereby wee may so serue God, that we may please him with reuerence and feare.

29 For * euen our God is a [p] consuming fire.

CHAP. XIII.

He exhorteth vs vnto loue, 2 To hospitalitie, 3 To thinke vpon such as be in aduersitie, 4 To maintaine wedlocke, 5 To auoide couetousnesse, 7 To make much of them that preach Gods word, 9 To beware of strange learning, 13 To be content to suffer rebuke with Christ, 15 To be thankful vnto God, 17 And obedient vnto our gouernours.

THE *GENERAL EPISTLE of Iames.

*That is, written to no one man, citie or countrey, but to all ᵹ Iewes generally, being now dispersed.

THE ARGVMENT.

IAmes the Apostle and sonne of Alpheus wrote this Epistle to the Iewes which were conuerted to Christ, but dispersed throughout diuers countreis, and therefore he exhorteth them to patience & prayer, to embrace the true word of God, and not to be partial, neither to boast of an ydle faith, but to declare a true faith by liuely fruites, to auoyde ambition, to bridle the tongue, to rule the affections, to be humble and loue their neighbours, to beware of swearing, to vtter their faultes when they haue offended, to pray one for another, and to bring him which is out of the way, to the knowledge of Christ.

CHAP. I.

He exhorteth to reioyce in trouble, 6 To be feruent in prayer with stedfast beliefe, 17 To looke for al good things frō aboue, 21 To forsake al vice, & thankfully to receiue the word of God, 22 Not onely hearing it, and speaking of it, but to do thereafter in deede. 27 VVhat true religion is.

1 IAmes a seruaunt of God, and of the Lorde Iesus Christe, to the twelue Tribes which are scattered abroad, salutation.

2 My brethren, count it exceeding ioy, when ye fal into diuers ᵗtentations, ᵗOr, affliction.

3 *Knowing that the a trying of your faith bringeth forth patience.

a Afflictions trie our faith and ingender patience.

4 And let patience haue her b perfect worke, that ye may be pefect & entier, lacking nothing.

b Our patience ought to continue to the ende, til by working it hath polished vs & made vs perfect in Christ.

5 If any of you lacke wisedome, let him aske of God, which giueth to al men liberally, and reprocheth no man, and it shalbe giuen him.

6 *But let him aske in faith, and waner not:

not: for he that wauereth, is like a wane of the sea, tost of the winde, and caried away.

7 Neither let that man thinke that hée shall receiue any thyng of the Lorde.

8 A[d] wauering minded man is vnstable in all his wayes.

9 Let the brother of lowe degree reioyce in that he is [e] exalted:

10 Agayne he that is riche, in that hee is made [f] low: for as the flower of þ grasse shall he * vanish away.

11 For as when the sunne riseth with heate, then the grasse withereth, and his flower falleth awap, and the beautie of the fashion of it perisheth: euen so shall the riche man fade awap in all his [g] wayes.

12 * Blessed is the man, that endureth tentation: for when he is tried, he shall receiue the crowne of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that loue him.

13 Let no man say when he is [g] tempted, I am tempted of God: for God can not be tempted with euil, neither tempteth he any man.

14 But euery man is tempted, when hée is drawen awap by his owne concupiscence, and is entised.

15 Then when lust hath conceiued, it bringeth forth sinne, and sinne when it is finished, bringeth forth death.

16 Erre not, my deare brethren.

17 Euery good [h] giuing, and euery perfect gift is from aboue, and commeth downe from the Father of lightes, with whom is no variablenes, neither [i] shadowing by turning.

18 Of his owne will begate he vs with the word of truth, that we should be as the first fruits of his creatures.

19 Wherefore my deare brethren, * let euery man be [k] swift to heare, slowe to speake, and [l] slowe to wrath.

20 For the wrath of man doth not accomplish the [m] righteousnes of God.

21 Wherefore lay apart all filthines, and superfluitie of maliciousnes, and receiue with meekenesse the worde that is [n] graffed in you, which is able to saue your soules.

22 * And be ye doers of the worde, and not hearers only, deceiuing your owne selues:

23 For if any heare the worde, and do it not, he is like vnto a man, that beholdeth his naturall face in a [o] glasse.

24 For when he hath considered himself, he goeth his way, and forgetteth immediatly what maner of one he was.

25 But who so looketh in the perfect Law of libertie, & continueth therein, he not being a forgetfull hearer, but a doer of the worke, shalbe blessed [p] in his deed.

26 If any man among you seemeth religious, and refraineth not his tongue, but deceiueth his owne heart, this mans religion is vayne.

27 Pure religion & vndefiled before God, euen the Father, is this, to visite the fatherles, & widowes in their aduersitie, and to keepe him selfe vnspotted of the worlde.

CHAP. II.

1 He forbiddeth to haue any respect of persons, 5 But to regard the poore as wel as the rich, 8 To bee louing and mercifull, 14 And not to boast of faith, where no deedes are: 17 For it is but a dead faythe, where good workes followe not.

1 My brethren, haue not the faith of our glorious Lorde Iesus Christ [a] in [b] respect of persons.

2 For if there come vnto your companie a man with a golde ring, and in goodly apparel, and there come in also a poore man in vile rayment,

3 And ye haue a respect to him that weareth the gay clothing, and say vnto him, Sit thou here in a good place, and say vnto the poore, Stand thou there, or sit here vnder my footestoole,

4 Are ye not partial in your selues, & are become iudges of euill [b] thoughts?

5 Hearken my beloued brethren, hath not [c] God chosen the poore of this worlde, that they should be rich in faith, & heires of the kingdome which he promised to them that loue him?

6 But ye haue dispised the poore. Do not the rich oppresse you by tyrannie, and do not they draw you before the iudgement seates?

7 Do not they blaspheme the [d] worthie Name after which ye be named?

8 But if ye fulfill the * royall Law according to þ Scripture, which saith, * Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe, ye do well.

9 * But if ye regard the persons, ye commit sinne, and are rebuked of the Lawe, as transgressours.

10 For * whosoeuer shal keepe the whole Law, and yet fayleth in one point, he is giltie of all.

11 For he that said, * Thou shalt not commit adulterie, said also, Thou shalt not kill. Now though thou doest none adulterie, yet if thou killest, thou art a transgressour of the Law.

12 So speake ye, and so do, as they that shalbe iudged by the [f] Law of libertie.

13 For there shalbe iudgement merciles to him that sheweth no mercie, & mercy reioyceth against iudgement.

14 What auaileth it, my brethre, though a man saith he hath [h] faith, whe he hath no workes? can the faith saue him?

m The more his faith was declared by his obedience and good works, the more was it knowen to men to be perfect, as the goodnes of a tree is knowen by her good fruite, otherwise no man can haue perfection in this worlde: for euerie man must pray for remissiō of his sinnes, and increase of faith. Gen.15.6. rom.4.3. gal.3.6. 19 Thou beleeuest that there is one God:

harlot iustified through workes, when she had receiued the messengers, and sent them out another way?
o Of that barren and dead faith whereof ye boast. Ioh.2.1. 26 For as the bodie without the spirite is dead, euen [q] so the faith without workes is dead.

p Meaning hereby all them that were not Iewes, and were receyued to grace. q Wherefore we are iustified onely by that liuely fayth, which doeth apprehende the mercie of God toward vs in Iesus Christ.

CHAP. III.

1 He forbiddeth all ambition to seeke honour aboue our brethren. 3 He describeth the properties of the tongue, 15.16. And what difference there is betwixt the wisdome of God, and the wisdome of the world.

a Vsurpe not through ambition authoritie ouer your brethren. 1 My brethrē, be not [a] many masters, knowing that we shal receiue the greater condemnation.
[q] Or, stumble. 2 For in many things we [q] [b] sinne al. * If any man sinne not in [c] worde, hee is a perfit man, and able to bridle all the bodie.
b He that well considereth him selfe, shal not be rigorous toward his brethren. Eccles.14.1 and 19.16. and 25.8. 3 Beholde, we put bittes into the horses mouthes that they should obey vs, and we turne about all their bodie.
c He that is able to moderate his tongue, hath attained to an excellent vertue. 4 Beholde also the ships, which though they be so great, and are driuen of fierce windes, yet are they turned about with a verie small rudder, whithersoeuer the gouernour listeth.
[b] Or, matter. 5 Euen so the tongue is a litle member, and boasteth of great things: beholde, howe great a [b] thing a litle fire kind-leth.
d An heape and full measure of al iniquitie. 6 And the tongue is fire, yea, a [d] worlde of wickednes: so is the tongue set amōg our members, that it defileth the whole body, and [e] setteth on fire the course of nature, and it is set on fire of hell.
e The intemperancie of the tongue is as a flame of hel fire. 7 For the whole nature of beasts, and of birds, and of creeping things, & things of the sea is tamed, and hath bene tamed of the nature of man.
8 But the tongue can no man tame. It is an vnruly euill, full of deadly poyson.
9 Therewith blesse we God euen the Father, and therewith curse wee men, which are made after the similitude of God.
10 Out of one mouth proceedeth blessing and cursing: my brethren, these things ought not so to be.
11 Doeth a fountayne sende forth at one place swéete water and bitter?
12 Can the figge tree, my brethren, bring forth olives, either a vine figges? so can no fountaine make both salt water and sweete.
13 Who is a wise man and endued with knowledge among you? let him shewe by good conuersation his workes in meekenes of wisedome.
14 But if ye haue bitter enuying, & strife in your hearts, reioyce not, neither bee liars against the trueth.
f Without mistion and dissimulation. 15 This wisedome descendeth not from aboue, but is earthly, sensuall, and diuelish.
g And examining things with extreme rigour as hypocrites, who only iustifie thēselues, & cōdemne al others. 16 For where enuying & strife is, there is sedition, and all maner of euill workes.
17 But the wisdome that is from aboue, is first [f] pure, thē peaceable, gentle, easie to be entreated, full of mercie and good fruites, without [g] iudging, and without hypocrisie.
h So that their life is according to their profession. 18 And the [h] fruit of righteousnes is sowē in peace, of them that make peace.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Hauing shewed the cause of all wrong, and wickednes, and also of all graces and goodnes, 4 He exhorteth them to loue God, 7 And submit themselues to him, 11 Not speaking euil of their neighbours, 13 But patiently to depende on Gods prouidence.

a For the Lawe of the members continually fighteth against the Lawe of the minde. FRom whence are warres & contentions among you? are they not hence, euen of your lusts, that [a] fight in your members?
b He calleth adulterers here after the maner of ỹ Scriptures, which preferre the pleasures of ỹ worlde to ỹ loue of God. 1.Ioh.2.15. Ye lust, and haue not: ye ennie, & haue indignation, & cannot obteine: ye fight and warre, and get nothing, because ye aske not.
2 Ye aske, & receiue not because ye aske amisse, that ye myght consume it on your lustes.
c The imagination of mans heart is wicked, Gen.6.5 & 8.21. Pro.3.34.1.pe.5.5 4 Ye adulterers [b] adulteresses, know ye not that the amitie of the worlde is the enmitie of God? * Whosoeuer therefore will be a friende of the worlde, ma-keth himselfe the enemie of God.
5 Do ye thinke that the Scripture sayth in vaine, The [c] spirit that dwelleth in vs, lusteth after enuie?
6 But the Scripture offereth more grace, and therefore sayth, * God resisteth the proud,

proud, and giueth grace to the humble.
Ephe.4.27. 7 *Submit pour ſelues to God: reſiſt the deuill, and he will flée from you.
8 Draw nére to God, and he will draw nére to you. Cleanſe your hands, ye ſinners, and purge your hearts, ye wauering minded.
d The Greeke word ſignifieth that heauines, which is ioyned with a certaine ſhamefaſtnes, as appeareth in the countenance. 1.Pet.5.6.
9 Suffer afflictions, and d ſorow ye, and weepe: let your laughter bee turned into mourning, and your ioye into heauines.
10 *Caſt downe your ſelues before the Lord, and he will lift you vp.
11 Speake not euill one of another, bre-thren. He that ſpeaketh euill of his bro-ther, or hee that condemneth his bro-ther, ſpeaketh euil of the Lawe, & e con-demneth the Lawe: and if thou con-demneſt the Lawe, thou art not an ob-ſeruer of the Lawe, but a iudge.
e In vſurping § authoritie of iudging, which is due to the Lawe.
f He ſheweth that this ſeuere iudging of o-thers is to de-priue God of his authoritie. Rom.14.4.
12 There is one f Lawgiuer, which is able to ſaue, and to deſtroy. *Who art thou that iudgeſt another man?
g We ought to ſubmit our ſelues to the pro-uidence of God. Actes 18.21. 1.cor.4.19.
13 Go to now ye that ſay, g To day or to morow we will go into ſuch a citie, and continue there a yere, and buy and ſell, and get gaine, h He anſwereth to them, which ſaid they knewe what was good, but they woulde not do it.
14 (And yet ye can not tel what ſhalbe to morow. For what is your life? It is euen a vapour that appeareth for a litle time, and afterwarde vaniſheth away)
15 For that ye ought to ſay, *If the Lord will, and, If we liue, we will doe this or that.
16 But now ye reioyce in your boaſtings: all ſuch reioycing is euill.
17 Therefore, h to him y knoweth how to do well, & doeth it not, to him it is ſinne.

CHAP. V.

He threatneth the wicked rich men, 7 Exhorteth vnto patience, 12 To beware of ſweating, 16 One to knowledge his faults to another, 20 And one to labour to bring another to the trueth.

a He menaceth them with the vengeance of God, which ſhall not onely make them to weepe, but to howle & deſpaire.
1 GO to nowe, ye rich men: weepe, and a howle for your miſeries that ſhall come vpon you.
2 Your riches are corrupt: and your gar-ments are mothe eaten.
3 Your golde and ſiluer is cankred, and the ruſt of them ſhalbe a b witneſſe a-gainſt you, and ſhall eat your fleſh as it were fire. *Ye haue heaped vp treaſure for the c laſt dayes.
b And kindle the wrath of God againſt you. Rom.2.5.

4 Beholde, the hire of § labourers, which haue reaped your fieldes (which is of you kept backe by fraud) crieth, and the cries of them which haue reaped, are entred into the eares of the Lorde of hoſtes.
5 Ye haue lined in pleaſure on the earth, and in wantonnes. Ye haue nouriſhed your hearts, as in a day of d ſlaughter.
6 Ye haue condemned and haue killed the iuſt, and he hath not reſiſted you.
d Which were § dayes of the ſa-crifices, or feaſts when they vſed to banket and feede more a-boundantly then other daies.
7 Be patient therefore, brethren, vnto the comming of the Lorde. Beholde, the huſbandman waiteth for the precious fruite of the earth, and hath long pati-ence for it, until he receiue the e former, and the latter raine.
e Which is whē the corne is ſowen, and a litle before it is mowen.
8 Be ye alſo patient therefore and ſtable your hearts: for the comming of the Lord draweth nerre.
9 f Grudge not one againſt another, bre-thren, leſt ye be condemned: beholde, the iudge ſtandeth before the dore.
f Be not grieued nor aſke ven-geance. Mat.5.34.
10 Take, my brethren, the Prophets for an enſample of ſuffering aduerſitie, and of long patience, which haue ſpoken in the name of the Lord.
g That which muſt be affir-med, affirme it ſimply & with-out othe: like-wiſe that which muſt be denied: by this he ta-keth not from § magiſtrate his authoritie, who may require an othe for the maintenance of iuſtice, judge-ment, and trueth.
11 Behold, we count them bleſſed which endure. Ye haue heard of the patience of Iob, and haue knowen what end the Lord made. For the Lord is very pitifull and mercifull.
12 But before all thinges, my brethren, g *ſweare not, neyther by heauen, nor by earth, nor by any other oth: but let your ſ yea, be yea, and your nay, nay, leſt ye fall into h condemnation.
Or, hypocriſie.
h The gift of healing was then in the Church. Mar.6.13.
13 Is any among you afflicted? Let him pray. Is any merry? Let him ſing.
14 Is any ſicke among you? Let him call for the i Elders of the Church, and let them pray for him, & anoynt him with * i oyle in the k Name of the Lord.
i Which in thoſe daies was a ſigne of § gift of hea-ling, but now the gift being taken away, the ſigne is to no vſe.
k In calling on § name of § Lord. Open § which grieueth you, that a remedie may be found: and this is com-manded both for him that co-plaineth, and for him that hea-reth, § the one ſhould ſhew his griefe to § other.
15 And the prayer of faith ſhall ſaue the ſicke, and the Lorde ſhall raiſe him vp: and if he haue committed ſinne, it ſhall be forgiuen him.
16 Acknowledge l your faultes one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may bee healed: for the prayer of a righteous man auaileth much, if it bee feruent.
l Open § which you haue done a-gainſt one another, and pray for one another, that ye may be ſaued. 1.Reg.17.1.Eze-chiel.48.3.Iud.4.25

18 And he prayed agayne, and the hea-uen gaue raine, and the earth brought forth her fruite.
19 Brethren, if any of you hath erred frō the trueth, and ſome man hath conuer-ted him, 20 Let him know that he which hath cō-uerted the ſinner from going aſtray out of his way, ſhal ſaue a ſoule from death, and ſhall hide a multitude of ſinnes.

THE FIRST EPISTLE GENE-rall of Peter.

THE ARGVMENT.

HE exhorteth the faithful to denie themſelues, and to contemne the world, that being de-liuered from al carnal affections and impediments, they may more ſpeedily atteine to the heauenly kingdome of Chriſt, whereunto we are called by the grace of God reuealed to vs in his Sonne, and haue alreadie receiued it by faith, possessed it by hope, and are therein confirmed by holinesse of life. And to the intent this fayth shoulde not faynt, seeing Christ contemned and reiected almost of the whole worlde, he declareth that this is nothing els but the accomplishing of the Scriptures which testifie that he should be the stumbling stone to the reprobate, and the sure foundation of saluation to the faithfull: therefore he exhorteth them courageously to go forward, considering what they were, and to what dignitie God hath called them. After, he entreateth particular poyntes, teaching subiectes howe to obey their gouernours, and seruants their masters, and howe maried folkes ought to behaue themselues. And because it is appoynted for all that are godly, to suffer persecutions, he sheweth them what good issue their afflictions shall haue, and contrariwise what punishment God reserueth for the wicked. Last of all he teacheth howe the ministers ought to behaue themselues, forbidding them to vsurpe authoritie ouer the Church: also that yong men ought to be modest, and apt to learne, and so endeth with an exhortation.

CHAP. I.

He sheweth that through the abundant mercie of God we are elect and regenerate to a liuely hope, 7 And howe fayth must be tryed, 10 That the saluation in Christ is no newes, but a thing prophecied of old. 13 He exhorteth them to a godly conuersation, forasmuch as they are new borne anewe by the word of God.

1 PEter an Apostle of Iesus Christ, to [a] the strangers that dwell here and there throughout Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia and Bithynia,

2 Elect according to the [b] foreknowledge of God the Father vnto sanctification of the spirite, [c] through obedience and sprinkling of the blood of Iesus Christ: Grace & peace be multiplied vnto you.

3 Blessed bee God euen the Father of our Lorde Iesus Christ, which according to his abundant mercie hath begotten vs againe vnto a [d] liuely hope by the resurrection of Iesus Christ from the dead,

4 To an inheritance immortall and vndefiled, and that fadeth not away, reserued in [e] heauen for you,

5 Which are kept by the power of God through fayth vnto saluation, which is prepared to be shewed in the [f] last time:

6 Wherein ye reioyce, though nowe for a season (if need [g] require) ye are in heauinesse, through manyfolde tentations,

7 That the tryall of your fayth, being much more precious then gold that perisheth (though it bee tryed with fire) might be founde vnto your prayse, and honour and glory, at the [h] appearing of Iesus Christ:

8 Whom ye haue not seene, and yet loue him, in whom nowe, though ye see him not, yet doe you beleeue, and reioyce with ioye vnspeakeable and glorious,

9 Receiuing the [i] ende of your faith, euen the saluation of your soules.

10 Of the which saluation the Prophets haue inquired and searched, which prophecied of the grace that should come vnto you,

11 Searching when or what time the Spirit which testified before of Christ which was in them, should declare the sufferings that should come vnto Christ, and the glorie that should folowe.

12 Vnto whom it was reuealed, that [i] not vnto themselues, but vnto vs they should minister the thinges which are nowe shewed vnto you by them which *haue preached vnto you the Gospell by the holy Ghost sent down from heauen, the which thinges the Angels desire to beholde.

13 Wherefore, [k] girde vp the *loynes of your minde: be sober, and trust perfectly on [l] grace that is brought vnto you, by the [l] reuelation of Iesus Christ,

14 As obedient children, not fashioning your selues vnto the former [m] lustes of your ignorance:

15 But as he which hath called you, is holy, so be ye holy in *all maner of conuersation, 16 Because it is written, *Be ye holy, for I am holy.

17 And if ye call him Father, which without *respect of person iudgeth according to euery mans *worke, passe the time of your dwelling here in feare,

18 Knowing that ye were not redeemed with corruptible thinges, as siluer and gold, from your vaine conuersation, receiued by the traditions of the [o] fathers, 19 *But with [p] precious blood of Christ, as of a lambe vndefiled, and without spot.

20 Which was *ordained before [p] foundation of the worlde, but was declared in the [p] last times for your sakes, 21 Which by his meanes doe beleeue in God that raised him from the dead, and gaue him glory, that your fayth and hope might be in God.

22 Seeing your soules are purified in [n] obeying the truth through the spirit, to *loue brotherly without fayning, loue one another with a pure heart feruently, 23 Being borne anewe, not of mortall seede, but of [q] immortall, by the worde of God, who liueth and endureth for euer.

24 For all *flesh is as grasse, and all the glorie of man is as the flower of grasse. The grasse withereth, and the flower falleth away.

25 But the worde of the Lorde endureth for euer: and this is the word which is preached among you.

17 For it is better (if the wil of God be ſo) that ye ſuffer for well doing, then for euill doing.

18 * For Chriſt alſo hath once ſuffred for ſinnes, the iuſt for the vniuſt, that he myght bring vs to God, and was put to death concerning the fleſh, but was quickened in the [k] ſpirit.

1 He exhorteth men to ceaſe from ſinne, 2 To ſpend no more time in vice, 7 To bee ſober and apt to pray, 8 To loue eche other, 12 To be patient in trouble, 15 To beware that no man ſuffer as an euill doer, 16 But as a Chriſtian man, and ſo not to be aſhamed.

1 FOrasmuch then as Chriſt hath ſuffered for vs in the fleſh, arme your ſelues likewiſe with the ſame [a] mind, which is that he which hath ſuffered in the fleſh, hath ceaſſed from ſinne,

2 That he henceforward ſhould liue (as much time as remaineth in the [b] fleſh) not after the luſts of men, but after the will of God.

3 *For it is ſufficient for vs that we haue ſpent the time paſt of the life, after the luſt of the Gentiles, walking in wantonneſſe, luſtes, drunkennes, in glutonie, drinkings, and in abominable idolatries.

6 For vnto this purpoſe was the Goſpel preached alſo vnto the [c] dead, that they might be condemned, according to men, in the fleſh, but might liue according to God, in the ſpirit.

7 Now the ende of al things is at hand. Be ye therefore ſober, and watching in prayer.

8 But aboue al things haue feruent loue among you: * for [d] loue couereth the multitude of ſinnes.

11 If any man ſpeake, let him talke as the wordes of God. If any man miniſter, let him do it as of the abilitie which God miniſtreth, that God in all things may be glorified through Jeſus Chriſt, to whome is praiſe and dominion for euer, and euer, Amen.

12 Dearely beloued, thinke it not ſtrange concerning the fiery triall, which is among you to proue you, as though ſome ſtrāge thing were come vnto you:

15 But let none of you ſuffer as a murtherer, or as a thiefe, or an euill doer, or as a buſie body in other mēs matters.

16 But if any man ſuffer as a Chriſtian, let him not be aſhamed: but let him glorifie God in this behalfe.

THE SECOND EPISTLE generall of Peter.

THE ARGVMENT.

THe effect of the Apostle here is to exhort them which haue once professed the true fayth of Christ, to stande to the same euen to the last breath: also that God by his effectuall grace towardes men, moueth them to holynes of life, in punishing the hypocrites which abuse his Name, and in increasing his giftes in the godly: wherefore by godly life, he being nowe almost at deathes doore, exhorteth them to approue their vocation, not setting their affections on worldly thinges (as he had oft written vnto them) but lifting their eyes towarde heauen, as they be taught by the Gospell, whereof he is a cleare witnes, chiefly in that he heard with his owne eares that Christ was proclaimed from heauen to be the Sonne of God, as likewise the Prophets testified. And lest they shoulde promes to themselues quietnes by professing the Gospel, he warneth them both of troubles which they should susteine by the false teachers, and also by the mockers and contemners of religion, whose maners and trade he liuely setteth forth as in a table: aduertising the faithful not onely to waite diligently for Christ, but also to beholde presently the day of his comming, and to preserue themselues vnspotted agaynst the same.

CHAP. I.

4 Forasmuch as the power of God hath giuen them al thinges pertaining vnto life, he exhorteth them to flee the corruption of worldly lustes, 10 To make their calling sure with good workes, and fruites of fayth. 14 He maketh mention of his owne death, 17 Declaring the Lorde Iesus to be the true Sonne of God, as he himselfe had seene vpon the mount.

a In that he declared himselfe iust and faithfull in accomplishing his promes by Christ.

godly nature, in that ye flee the corruption, which is in the world through lust.
5 Therefore giue euen al diligence thereunto: ioyne moreouer [f] vertue vnto your faith: and with vertue, knowledge:
6 And with knowledge, temperance: and with temperance, patience: and with patience, godlines:
7 And with godlines, brotherly kindnes: and with brotherly kindnes, loue.
8 For if these thinges be among you, and abound, they will make you that ye neither shalbe idle, nor vnfruitfull in the knowledge of our Lorde Iesus Christ.
9 For he that hath not these thinges, is blinde, and [g] cannot see farre off, and hath forgotten that hee was purged from his olde sinnes.
10 Wherefore, brethren, giue rather diligence to make your calling and election [h] sure: for if ye doe these thinges, ye shall neuer [i] fall.
11 For by this meanes an entring shall be ministred vnto you abundantly into the euerlasting kingdome of our Lord and Sauiour Iesus Christ.
12 Wherefore, I will not be negligent to put you alwayes in remembrance of these thinges, though that ye haue knowledge, and bee stablished in the present trueth.
13 For I thinke it meete as long as I am in this [k] tabernacle, to stirre you vp by putting you in remembrance, 14 Seeing I knowe that the time is at hande that I must lay downe this my tabernacle, euen as our Lorde Iesus Christ hath [l] shewed me.
15 I will endeuour therefore alwayes, that ye also may be able to haue remembrance of these thinges after my departing.
16 For we followed not [*] deceiuable fables when we opened vnto you the power, and comming of our Lorde Iesus Christ, but with our eyes we sawe his maiestie:
17 For he receiued of God the Father honour and glorie, when there came such a voyce to him from the excellent glory, [*] This is my beloued Sonne, in whome I am well pleased.
18 And this voyce we hearde when it came from heauen, being with him in the [l] holy mount.
19 We haue also a most sure [m] worde of the Prophets, to the which ye do well that ye take heede, as vnto a light that shineth in a darke place, until the [n] day dawne, and the [o] day starre arise in your hearts, 20 [*] So that ye first know this, that no prophecie in the Scripture is of [p] any priuate [r] motion.
21 For the prophecie came not in olde time by the will of man: but holy men of God spake as they were moued by the holy Ghost.

CHAP. II.

He prophesieth of false teachers, and sheweth their punishment.

1 But [*] there were false prophets also among the people, euen as there shalbe false teachers among you: which priuily shall bring in damnable heresies, euen denying the Lorde, that hath bought them, and bring vpon themselues swift damnation. Act.20.29. 1.Tim.4.1. Iude.4. and 18.
2 And many shall followe their [s] damnable wayes, by whome the way of trueth shalbe euil spoken of,
3 And through couetousnes shall they with fained wordes make [t] marchandise of you, whose iudgement long agone is not farre off, and their damnation slepeth not.
4 For if God spared not the [*] Angelles, that had sinned, but cast them downe into hell & deliuered them into chaines of darknes, to be kept vnto damnation:
5 Neither hath spared the olde worlde, but saued [*] noe the eight person a preacher of righteousnes, and brought in the flood vpō the world of the vngodly,
6 And [*] turned the cities of Sodom and Gomorrhe into ashes, condemned them and ouerthrew them, and made them an ensample vnto them that after shoulde liue vngodly,
7 [*] And deliuered iust Loth vexed [u] with the vncleanly conuersation of the wicked,
8 (For he being righteous, & dwelling among them, in seeing and hearing, vexed his righteous soule from day to day with their vnlawfull deedes.)
9 The Lorde knoweth to deliuer the godly out of tentation, and to reserue the vniust vnto the day of iudgement to be punished:
10 And chiefly them that walke after the flesh, in the lust of vncleannes, and despise the gouernment, which are presumptuous, and stand in their owne conceit, and feare not to speake euill of them that are in dignitie.
11 Where as [p] Angels which are greater both in power and might, [*] giue not [b] railing iudgement against them before the Lord.
12 But these, as [c] brute beasts, led with sensualitie and made to be taken, and destroyed, speake euill of those thinges which they knowe not, and shal perish through their owne corruption,
13 And shall receiue the wages of vnrighteousnesse, as they which count it pleasure to liue deliciously for a season. Spottes they are and blottes, [d] delighting them selues in their deceiuings, [*] in feasting with you,
14 Hauing eyes full of adulterie, and that can not cease to sinne, beguiling vnstable soules: they haue hearts exercised [v] with couetousnes, cursed children,
15 Which forsaking the right way, haue gone astray, following the way of [*] Balaam, the sonne of Bosor, which loued the wages of vnrighteousnes.

1 THis seconde Epistle I nowe write vnto you, beloued, wherewith a I stirre vp, and warne your pure mindes,

2 To cal to remembrance the words, which were told before of the holy Prophets, & also the cōmandement of vs the Apostles of the Lord and Sauiour.

b He meaneth them which had once professed Christian religion, but became afterwarde contemners & mockers, as Epicurians & Atheists.

3 * This first vnderstand, that there shall come in the last dayes, mockers, which will walke after their lustes,

4 And say, Where is the promes of his comming? for since the fathers died, all things continue alike from the beginning of the creation.

5 For this they b willingly knowe not, that the heauens were of olde, and the earth that was of the water and by the water, by the word of God.

6 Wherefore the c world that then was, perished, ouerflowed with the water.

c As touching the beautie therof, and things which were therin, except them which were in the Arke. Psal.90.4. Ezek.33.11. 1.tim.2.4.

7 But the heauens and earth, which are now, are kept by the same word in store, and reserued vnto fire against the daye of iudgement, and of the destruction of vngodly men.

8 Deare beloued, be not ignorant of this one thing, that one day is with the Lord, * as a thousand yeeres, and a thousand yeeres, as one day.

d He speaketh not here of the secret and eternall counsell of God, whereby he electeth whome it pleaseth him, but of the preaching of the Gospel whereby al are called and bidden to the banket. Mat.24.44. 1.thess.5.2. rom.3.3.& 16.15 Isa.65.17.and 66.22. reue.21.1.

9 The Lorde is not slacke concerning his promise (as some men count slackines) but is patient toward vs, and * d would haue no man to perishe, but would all men to come to repentance.

10 * But the day of the Lorde will come as a theefe in the night, in the which the heauens shall passe away with a noise, and the elements shall melt with heate, and the earth with the workes, that are therein, shalbe burnt vp.

11 Seeing therefore that all these things must be dissolued, what maner persons ought ye to be in holy conuersation and godlines, 12 Looking for, and hasting vnto the coming of the day of God, by the which the heauens being on fire, shalbe dissolued, and the elements shal melt with heate?

13 But we looke for * newe heauens, and a new earth, according to his promise, wherein dwelleth righteousnes.

15 * And suppose that the long suffering of our Lord is saluation, euen as our beloued brother Paul according to the wisdome giuen vnto him wrote to f you,

Rom.2.4.

f Albeit his epistles were written to peculiar Churches, yet they conteine a general doctrine apperteyning to all men.

16 As one, that in all his Epistles speaketh of these thinges: among the which some things are hard to be vnderstād, which they that are vnlearned and vnstable, g peruert, as they do also other Scriptures vnto their owne destructiō.

g As no man cōdemneth the brightnes of the Sunne because his eye is not able to susteine the clearenesse thereof: so the hardnes which we cannot sometime compasse or perfectly vnderstand in the Scriptures, ought not to take away from vs the vse of the Scriptures.

17 Ye therefore beloued, seeing ye knowe these things before, beware, least ye be also plucked away with the errour of the wicked, and fall from your owne stedfastnes.

g Or, wreste.

18 But grow in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lorde and Sauiour Iesus Christ: to him be glorie both nowe and for euermore, Amen.

THE FIRST EPISTLE GENERALL OF IOHN.

THE ARGVMENT.

AFter that S. Iohn had sufficiently declared, howe that our whole saluation doth consist only in Christ, lest that any man should thereby take a boldenes to sinne, he sheweth that no man can beleeue in Christ, vnlesse he doth endeuour himself to keepe his cōmandements, which thing being done, he exhorteth them to beware of false prophets, whom he calleth Antichrists, and to trie the spirites. Last of all he doth earnestly exhort them vnto brotherly loue, and to beware of deceiuers.

CHAP.

CHAP. I.

1 True witnes of the euerlasting worde of God. 7 The bloud of Christ is the purgation of sinne. 10 No man is without sinne.

THat which was [a] from the beginning, which wee [b] haue heard, which wee haue seene with our eyes, which wee haue looked vpon, and our handes haue handled of the Worde [c] of life,

2 (For the life appeared, and we haue seene it, and beare witnes, and shewe vnto you the eternal life, which was [d] with the Father, and appeared vnto vs)

3 That, I saye, which we haue seene and heard, declare we vnto you, that ye may also [e] haue fellowship with vs, and that our fellowship also may be with [f] the Father, and with his Sonne Iesus Christ.

4 And these thinges write we vnto you, that your ioy may be full.

5 This then is the message, which wee haue heard of him, & declare vnto you, that God [g] is light, and in him is no darkenes.

6 If we say that we haue fellowship with him, & walke in [h] darkenes, we lie, and do not truely:

7 But if we walke in the light as he is in the light, we haue fellowship [i] one with another, and the [k] bloode of Iesus Christ his Sonne cleanseth vs from all sinne.

8 [l] If we say that we haue no sinne, wee deceiue our selues, and trueth is not in vs.

9 If we [m] acknowledge our sinnes, he is faithfull and iust, to forgiue vs our sinnes, and to cleanse vs from all vnrighteousnes.

CHAP. II.

1 Christ is our Aduocate. 10 Of true loue, and howe it is tried. 18 To beware of Antichrist.

MY babes, these thinges write I vnto you, that ye sinne not: and if any man sinne, wee haue an [a] Aduocate with the Father, Iesus Christ, the Iust.

2 And hee is the reconciliation for our sinnes: and not for ours onely, but also for the sinnes of [b] the whole world.

3 And hereby wee are sure that wee [c] knowe him, if we keepe his commandements.

4 He that saith, I knowe him, and keepeth not his commandements, is a liar, and the trueth is not in him.

5 But he that keepeth his worde, in him is [d] the loue of God perfect in deede: hereby we knowe that we are in him.

6 He that saith hee remaineth in him, ought euen so to walke, as he hath walked.

7 Brethren, I write no newe [e] commandement vnto you: but an olde commandement, which ye haue had from the [f] beginning: the [g] olde commandement is the word, which ye haue heard from the beginning.

8 Againe, a newe commandement I write vnto you, that which is true in him and also in you: for the darkenes is past, and the true light nowe shineth.

9 He that saith that he is in the light, & hateth his brother, is in darkenes vntil this time.

10 [h] He that loueth his brother, abideth in the light, and there is none occasion of euill in him.

11 But he that hateth his brother, is in darkenes, & walketh in darkenes, and knoweth not whither he goeth, because that darkenes hath blinded his eyes.

12 [i] Litle children, I write vnto you, because your sinnes are forgiuen you for [k] his Names sake.

13 I write vnto you, fathers, because ye haue knowen him that is from the beginning. I write vnto you, yong men, because ye haue ouercome the [l] wicked. I write vnto you, babes, because ye haue knowen the Father. I haue written vnto you, fathers, because ye haue knowen him, that is from the beginning. I haue written vnto you, yong men, because ye are strong, & the worde of God abideth in you, & ye haue ouercome the [l] wicked.

15 Loue not the [m] world, neither [n] the things that are in the world. If any man loue the [m] worlde, the loue of the Father is not in him.

16 For all that is in the worlde (as the lust of the [k] flesh, the [l] lust of the eyes, & the [m] pride of life) is not of the Father, but is of the worlde.

17 And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof: but he that fulfilleth the will of God, abideth euer.

18 Babes, it is the last time, and as ye haue heard that Antichrist shall come, euen nowe are there many Antichristes: whereby wee knowe that it is the last time.

CHAP. III.

1 The ſingular loue of God toward vs, 7 And howe we againe ought to loue one another.

1 BEhold, what loue the Father hath ſhewed on vs, that we ſhoulde bee a called the ſonnes of God: for this cauſe the worlde knoweth you not, becauſe it knoweth not him.
2 Dearely beloued, nowe are wée the ſonnes of God, but yet it doeth not appeare what we ſhall be: and we know that when b he ſhall appeare, wée ſhall be c like him: for we ſhal ſee him as he is.
3 And euery man that hath this hope in him, purgeth him ſelfe, euen as he is pure.
4 Whoſoeuer d committeth ſinne, tranſgreſſeth alſo the Lawe: for ſinne is the tranſgreſſion of the Lawe.
5 And ye knowe that hée appeared that he might * take away our ſinnes, and in him is no ſinne.
6 Whoſoeuer abideth in him, ſinneth not: whoſoeuer ſinneth, hath not ſeene him, neither hath knowen him.
7 Little children, let no man deceiue you: he that doeth righteouſneſſe, is righteous, as he is righteous.
8 He that * committeth ſinne, is of the deuill: for the deuill ſinneth from the e beginning: for this purpoſe appeared the Sonne of God, that hee might looſe the workes of the deuil.
9 Whoſoeuer is borne of God, ſinneth not: for his ſ ſéed remaineth in him, neither can hee t ſinne, becauſe he is borne of God.
10 In this are ☞ children of God knowen, and the children of the deuil: whoſoeuer doeth not righteouſneſſe, is not of God, neither he ☞ h loueth not his brother.
11 For this is the meſſage, that ye heard from the beginning, that * wee ſhoulde loue one another, 12 Not as * Cain which was of that wicked, & ſlewe his brother: and wherefore ſlew he him? becauſe his owne workes were euil, and his brothers good.
13 Marueile not, my brethren, though the world hate you.
14 We know that we are tranſlated from death vnto life, becauſe we loue the brethren: * he that loueth not his brother, abideth in death.
15 Whoſoeuer hateth his brother, is a manſlayer: and ye knowe that no manſlayer hath eternal life abiding in him.
16 * Hereby haue we perceiued loue, that he laide downe his life for vs: therefore we ought alſo to laye downe our liues for the brethren.
17 * And whoſoeuer hath this worldes good, and ſeeth his brother haue néede, and ſhutteth vp his compaſſion from him, howe dwelleth the loue of God in him?
18 My little children, let vs not loue in worde, neyther in tongue onely, but in k déede and in trueth.
19 For thereby we knowe that we are of the trueth, and ſhall before him aſſure our hearts.
20 For if our l heart condemne vs, God is greater then our heart, and knoweth all things.
21 Beloued, if our heart cõdemne vs not, then haue we boldnes toward God.
22 * And whatſoeuer wée aſke, wee receiue of him, becauſe we kéepe his commandements, & do thoſe things which are pleaſing in his ſight.
23 * This is then his commandement, That wée beléeue in the Name of his Sonne Ieſus Chriſt, and loue one another, as he gaue commandement.
24 * For he that kéepeth his commandements, dwelleth in him, and he in him: & hereby we knowe that hée abideth in vs, euen by the ſpirit which he hath giuen vs.

6 Wee are of God, * hee that knoweth God, e heareth vs: hee that is not of God, heareth vs not. Hereby know wee the Spirite of trueth, and the Spirit of errour.
7 Beloued, let vs loue one another: for loue commeth of God, & euery one that loueth, is borne of God, and knoweth God.
8 Hee that loueth not, knoweth not God: for God is loue.
9 * In f this appeared the loue of God toward vs, becauſe God ſent his onely begotten Sonne into the worlde, that we might liue through him.
10 Herein is loue, not that wee loued God, but that he loued vs, and ſent his Sonne to be a g reconciliation for our ſinnes.
11 Beloued, if God ſo loued vs, we ought alſo to loue one another.
12 * No man hath ſeene God at any time. If wee loue one another, GOD dwelleth in vs, and his loue is perfect in vs.
13 Hereby knowe we, that wee dwell in him, and he in vs: becauſe he hath giuen vs of his Spirit.

CHAP. V.

1.10.13 Of the fruites of faith. 14.20 The office, authority & diuinitie of Chriſt. 21 Againſt images.

1 WHoſoeuer beleeueth that Ieſus is the Chriſt, is m borne of God, and euery one that loueth him which begate, loueth him alſo which is begotten of him.
2 In this wee knowe that wee loue the children of God, when we loue b God, and keepe his commandements.
3 For this is the loue of God that wee keepe his commandements: & his * commandements are not c grieuous.
4 For all that is borne of God, ouercommeth the world: and this is the victorie that ouercommeth the worlde, euen our faith.
5 * Who is it that ouercommeth the worlde, but hee which beleeueth that Ieſus is the Sonne of God?
6 This is that Ieſus Chriſt that came by d water e and blood, not by water onely, but by water and blood: and it is the f ſpirite, that beareth witnes: for the ſpirit is g trueth.
7 For there are three, which beare recorde in heauen, the Father, the Word, and the holy Ghoſt: and theſe three are one.
8 And there are three, which beare record in the earth, the ſpirit and the water and the blood: and theſe three agree in one.
9 If we receiue the witneſſe of men, the witneſſe of God is greater: for this is the witneſſe of God, which he teſtified of his Sonne.
10 * Hee that beleeueth in the Sonne of GOD, hath the witnes ‖ in him ſelfe: hee that beleeueth not GOD, hath made him a lyar, becauſe hee beleeued not the recorde, that God witneſſed of his Sonne.
11 And this is the record, that God hath giuen vnto vs eternall life, and this life is in his Sonne.
12 He that hath the Sonne, hath life: and he that hath not the Sonne of God, hath not life.
13 Theſe thinges haue I written vnto you, that beleeue in the Name of the Sonne of God, that yee may knowe that ye haue eternall life, and that yee may beleeue in the Name of the ſonne of God.
14 And this is the aſſurance, that wee haue in him, * that if wee aſke any thing according to his will, he heareth vs.
15 And if we knowe that he heareth vs, whatſoeuer we aſke, we knowe that we haue the petitions that we haue deſired of him.

THE SECOND EPISTLE of Iohn.

He writeth vnto a certaine Ladie, 4 Reioycing that her children walke in the trueth, 5 And exhorteth them vnto loue, 7 VVarneth them to beware of such deceiuers as denie that Iesus Christ is come in the flesh, 8 Prayeth them to continue in the doctrine of Christ, 10 And to haue nothing to do with them that bring not the true doctrine of Christ Iesus our Sauiour.

1 THe Elder to the [a]elect Lady, & her children, whom I loue in [b] the trueth: and not I onely, but also all p haue knowen the truth,
2 For the trueths sake which dwelleth in vs, and shalbe with vs for euer:
3 Grace be with you, mercy and peace from God the Father, and from p Lord Iesus Christ the Sonne of the Father, with [c] trueth and loue.
4 I reioyced greatly, that I found of thy children walking [d] in truth, as we haue receiued a commandement of p Father.
5 And now beseech I thee, Ladie, (not as writing a newe commandement vnto thee, but that same which we had from the beginning) that we * loue one another.
6 And this is the loue, that we shoulde walke after his [e] cōmandements. This commandement is, that as yee haue heard from the beginning, yee should walke in it.
7 For many deceiuers are entred into the worlde, which confesse not that Iesus Christ is come in the flesh. He that is such one, is a deceiuer and an Antichrist.
8 Looke to your selues, that we [f] lose not the things which wee haue done, but that we may receiue a full reward.
9 Whosoeuer [g] transgresseth, and abideth not in the doctrine of Christ, hath not God. He that continueth in the doctrine of Christ, he hath both the Father and the Sonne.
10 If there come any vnto you, & bring not this doctrine, * receiue him not to house, neither bid him, [h] God speede.
11 For he that biddeth him, God speede, is partaker of his euil deedes.
12 Although I had many things to write vnto you, yet I would not write with paper and inke: but I trust to come vnto you, and speake mouth to mouth, that our ioye may be full.

THE THIRD EPISTLE OF IOHN.

3 He is glad of Gaius that he walketh in the trueth, 8 Exhorteth them to bee louing vnto the poore Christen in their persecution, 9 Sheweth the vnkinde dealing of Diotrephes, 12 And the good report of Demetrius.

1 THe Elder vnto p beloued Gaius, whome I loue in the trueth.
2 Beloued, I wishe chiefly that thou prosperedst and faredst wel, as thy soule prospereth,
3 For I reioyced greatly when p brethren came, and testified of the truth that is in thee, howe thou walkest in the trueth.
4 I haue no greater ioy then this, that is, to heare that my sonnes walke in [a] veritie.
5 Beloued, thou doest faithfully whatsoeuer thou doest to the brethren, and to [b] strangers,
6 Which bare witnes of thy loue before the Churches. Whome if thou bringest on their iourney as it [c] becommeth according to God, thou shalt do well,
7 Because that for his Names sake they went forth, and tooke nothing of the Gentiles.
8 We therefore ought to receiue such, that we might be helpers to the trueth.
9 I wrote vnto the Church: but Diotrephes which loueth to haue the preeminence among them, receiueth vs not.
10 Wherefore if I come, I will declare his deedes which he doeth, prattling against vs with malicious wordes, and not therewith content, neither he himselfe receiueth the brethren, but forbiddeth them that would, & thrusteth them out of the Church.
11 Beloued, followe not that which is euil, but that which is good: he that doth well, is of God: but he that doeth euil, hath not [a] seene God.
12 Demetrius hath good report of all men, and of the trueth it selfe: yea, and we our selues beare recorde, & ye know that our recorde is true.
13 I haue many things to write: but I wil not with inke & pen write vnto thee.
14 For I trust I shal shortly see thee, and we shal speake mouth to mouth. Peace be with thee. The friendes salute thee. Greete the friendes by name.

a That is, in godly conuersation as they which haue both the knowledge and feare of God.

THE

THE GENERAL EPISTLE of Iude.

THE ARGVMENT.

SAint Iude admonisheth all Churches generally to take heede of deceiuers, which go about to drawe away the heartes of the simple people from the trueth of God, and willeth them to haue no societie with such, whom he setteth forth in their liuely colours, shewing by diuers examples of the Scriptures what horrible vengeance is prepared for them: finally hee comforteth the faithfull, and exhorteth them to persèuere in the doctrine of the Apostles of Iesus Christ.

1 IVde a seruant of Iesus Christ, and brother of Iames, to them which are called and sanctified [a] of God the Father, and [b] reserued to Iesus Christ:

2 Mercie vnto you, and peace and loue be multiplied.

3 Beloued, when I gaue all diligence to write vnto you of the common saluation, it was needefull for me to write vnto you to exhort you, that ye should earnestly [c] contend for the maintenance of the faith, which was [d] once giuen vnto the Saintes.

4 For there are certeine men crept in which were before of olde [e] ordeined to this condemnation: vngodly men they are which turne the grace of our God into wantonnes, and [*] denie God the only Lord, and our Lord Iesus Christ.

5 I wil therefore put you in remembrãce, forasmuch as ye once knew this, how [f] the Lord, after that he had deliuered the people out of Egypt, [*] destroyed them afterward which [f] beleeued not.

6 The [*] Angels also which kept not their first [g] estate, but left their owne habitation, hee hath reserued in euerlasting chaines vnder darknes vnto [f] the [g] iudgement of the great day.

7 As [*] Sodom and Gomorrhe, and the cities about them, which in like maner as they did, committed, and followed [h] strange fleih, are set forth for an ensample, and suffer the vengeance of eternal fire.

8 Likewise notwithstanding these [i] dreamers also defile the flesh, & despise gouernement, and speake euill of the that are in authoritie.

9 Yet [k] Michael the Archangel, when he stroue against the deuil, and disputed about the bodye of Moses, durst not blame him with cursed speaking, but said, [l] The Lord rebuke thee.

10 But these speake euill of those things, which they knowe not: and whatsoeuer things they know naturally, as beasts, which are without reason, in those things they corrupt themselues.

THE REVELATION * OF IOHN the Diuine.

* Or, declared to Iohn.

THE ARGVMENT.

IT is manifest, that the holy Ghost woulde as it were gather into this most excellent booke a summe of those prophecies, which were written before, but should be fulfilled after the coming of Christ, adding also such thinges as shoulde be expedient, aswell to forewarne vs of the dagers to come, as to admonish vs to beware some, & encourage vs against others. Herein therfore is liuely set foorth the Diuinitie of Christ, and the testimonies of our redemption: what thinges the Spirit of God aloweth in the ministers, and what things he reproueth: the prouidence of God for his elect, and of their glory and consolation in the day of vengeance: howe that the hypocrites which sting like Scorpions the members of Christ, shall be destroyed, but the Lambe Christ shall defend them, which beare witnes to the trueth, who in despite of the beast and Satan will reigne ouer all. The liuely description of Antichrist is set foorth, whose time and power notwithstanding is limitted, and albeit that he is permitted to rage against the elect, yet his power stretcheth no farther then to the hurt of their bodies: and at length he shall be destroyed by the wrath of God, when as the elect shal giue praise to God for the victorie: neuertheless for a season God wil permit this Antichrist and strumpet, vnder colour of faire speach and pleasant doctrine, to deceiue the worlde: wherefore he aduertiseth the godly (which are but a small portion) to auoyde this harlots flatteries, and brags, whose ruine without mercie they shall see, and with the heauenly companies sing continuall praises: for the Lambe is maried: the word of God hath gotte the victorie: Satan that a long time was vntied, is now cast with his ministers into the pit of fire to be tormented for euer, whereas contrariwise the faithful (which are the holy citie of Ierusalem, and wife of the Lambe) shal inioy perpetual glory. Reade diligently, iudge soberly, and call earnestly to God for the true vnderstanding hereof.

CHAP. I.

1 The cause of this reuelation. 3 Of them that reade it. 4 Iohn writeth to the seuen Churches. 5 The maiestie and office of the sonne of God. 20 The vision of the candlesticks and starres.

1 THE * reuelation of IESVS CHRIST, which b God gaue vnto him, to shewe vnto his seruantes things which must shortly be done: which he sent, and shewed by his Angell vnto his seruant Iohn,

2 Who bare recorde of the woorde of God, and of the testimonie of Iesus Christ, and of all thinges that he sawe.

3 Blessed is he that readeth, and they that heare the woordes of this prophecie, & keepe those thinges which are written therein: for the time is at hand.

4 Iohn, to the seuen Churches which are in Asia. Grace be with you, & peace from him, which is, and which was, & which is to come, & from the seuen spirits wich are before his Throne,

5 And from Iesus Christ, which is a faithfull witnesse, and the first begotten of the dead, & Prince of the kinges of the earth, vnto him that loued vs, & washed vs from our sinnes in his blood,

6 And made vs kinges and Priests vnto God euen his Father, to him be glorie, & dominion for euermore, Amen.

7 Behold, he commeth with cloudes, & euery eye shall see him: yea, euen they which pearced him thorough: and all kinreds of the earth shall waile before him, Euen so, Amen.

8 I am Alpha & Omega, the beginning & the ending, saith the Lorde, Which is, and Which was, & Which is to come, euen the Almightie.

9 I Iohn, euen your brother, and companion in tribulation, & in the kingdome & patience of Iesus Christ, was in the ple called Patmos, for the word of God, and for the witnessing of Iesus Christ.

10 And I was rauished in spirit on the Lords day, & heard behinde me a great voyce, as it had bene of a trumpet, 11 Saying, I am Alpha & Omega, the first & the last: & that which thou seest, write in a booke, and sende it vnto the seuen Churches which are in Asia, vnto Ephesus, and vnto Smyrna, and vnto Pergamus, and vnto Thyatira, & vnto Sardi, & vnto Philadelphia, and vnto Laodicea.

12 Then I turned backe to see the voyce, that spake with me: & when I was turned, I saw seuen golden candlesticks, 13 And in the middes of the seuen candlesticks, one like vnto the Sonne of man, clothed with a garment downe to the feete, and girded about the paps with a golden girdle.

14 His head, and heares were white as white woll, and as snowe, and his eyes were as a flame of fire.

15 And his feete like vnto fine brasse, a Of thinges which were hid before.

b Christ receyued this reuelation out of his fathers bosome as his owne doctrine, but it was hid in respect of vs, so that Christ as Lorde and God reueiled it to Iohn his seruant by the ministerie of his Angel, to the edification of his Church.

c To the good and bad.

d Which expoundeth the olde Prophets, and sheweth what shall come to passe in the new Testament.

e And beganne euen then.

f Meaning the Church vniuersall.

CHAP. II.

He exhorteth foure Churches 5 To repentance, 10 To perseuerance, patience and amendment, 5. 14. 20. 23. Also by threatnings, 7. 10. 17. 26. By promises of reward.

1 VNto the [a] Angel of the Church of Ephesus write, These things saith he that [b] holdeth the seuen starres in his [c] right hand, & [d] walketh in the middes of the seuen golden candlesticks.
2 I knowe thy workes, and thy labour, and thy patience, and howe thou canst not forbeare them which are euill, and hast examined them which say they are Apostles, and are not, and hast founde them lyers.
3 And thou hast suffered, and hast patience, and for my Names sake hast laboured, and hast not fainted.
4 Neuertheles, I haue somewhat against thee, because thou hast left thy first loue.
5 Remember therefore from whence thou art fallen, & repent, & do the first workes: or els I will come against thee shortly, and will remoue thy candlestick out of his place, except thou amende.
6 But this thou hast, that thou hatest the workes of the [e] Nicolaitans, which I also hate.
7 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the Spirit saith vnto the Churches, To him that ouercommeth, will I giue to eate of the tree of [h] life, which is in the middes of the Paradise of God.
8 ¶ And vnto the [i] Angel of the Church of Smyrna write, These things saith the first and the last, which was dead, and is [k] aliue.
9 I know thy workes and [l] tribulation, and pouertie, (but thou art [m] rich) and I knowe the blasphemie of them, which say they are Iewes, and [n] are not, but are the Synagogue of Satan.
10 Feare none of those thinges, which thou shalt suffer: beholde, it shall come to passe, that the [o] deuil shal cast some of you into prison, that ye may be [p] tryed, & ye shall haue tribulation [q] ten daies: be thou faithfull vnto the death, and I will giue thee the crowne of life.
11 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the Spirit saith to the Churches. He that ouercommeth, shall not be hurt of the [r] second death.
12 And to the Angel of the Church which is at Pergamus write, This saith he which hath the sharpe [s] swoorde with two edges.
13 I knowe thy workes and where thou dwellest, euen where Satans [t] throne is, and thou keepest my Name, and hast not denyed my faith, [u] euen in those dayes when Antipas my faithful martyr was slaine among you, where Satan dwelleth.
14 But I haue a fewe thinges against thee, because thou hast there them that maintayne the [x] doctrine of [y] Balaam, which taught Balac to put a stumbling blocke before the children of Israel, that they should eate of things sacrificed vnto idoles, and commit fornication.
15 Euen so hast thou them, that maintaine the doctrine of the Nicolaitans, which thing I hate.
16 Repent thy selfe, or els I will come vnto thee shortly, & will fight against them with the sworde of my mouth.
17 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the Spirit saith vnto the Churches, To him that ouercommeth, will I giue to eate of the [z] Manna that is [a] hid, & will giue him a [b] white stone, & in the stone a [c] newe name written, which no man knoweth sauing he that receiueth it.
18 ¶ And vnto the Angel of the Church which is at Thyatira write, These things saith the Sonne of God, which hath his eyes like vnto a flame of fire, and his feete like [d] fine brasse.

of the Smyrnians write, These thinges saith he that is first, & last, which was dead, and is [k] aliue.

ceiue my seruants to make them d com-crificed vnto idoles.

21 And I gaue her space to repent of her fornication, and she repented not.
22 Behold, I will cast her into a bed, and her, into great affliction, except they repent them of their workes.

23 And I wil kil her e children with death:
and all the Churches shall knowe that I am he which * searcth the reines and

CHAP. III.

He exhorteth the Churches or ministers to the true profession of faith and to watching, 12 With promises to them that persewre.

1 AND write vnto the Angell of the Church which is at Sardi, These thinges saith he that hath the seuen Spirits of God, & the seuen starres, I know thy workes: for thou hast a name that thou a liuest, but thou art dead.
2 Be awake and strengthen the thinges which remaine, that are readie to die:
for I haue not found thy workes perfit before God.
3 Remember therefore, howe thou hast receiued and heard, and hold fast, and repent. * If therefore thou wilt not watch, I will come on thee as a thiefe, and thou shalt not knowe what houre
I will come vpon thee.
4 Notwithstanding thou hast a few b names yet in Sardi, which haue not c defiled their garmentes: and they shall walke with me in white: for they are worthy.
5 He that ouercommeth, shall be clothed in white aray, and I will not put out his name out of the * d booke of life, but I wil confesse his name before my Father, and before his Angels.
6 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the Spirit saith vnto the Churches.
7 ¶ And write vnto the Angell of the Church which is of Philadelphia,
These thinges saith he that is Holy and True, which hath the * e key of Dauid, which openeth and no man shutteth, & shutteth and no man openeth, 8 I know thy works: behold, I haue set before thee an open f doore, and no man can shut it: for thou hast a litle strength and hast kept my worde, and hast not denied my Name.
9 Behold, I will make them of the Synagogue of Satan, which call themselues Iewes and are not, but do lie:
behold e, I say, I will make them, that they shall come and * worship before thy feete, and shall knowe that I haue loued thee.
10 Because thou hast kept the worde of my patience, therefore I wil deliuer thee from the houre of tentation, which wil come vpon all the worlde, to trie them that dwell vpon the earth.
11 Behold, I come shortly: holde that which thou hast, that no man take thy f crowne.
12 Him that ouercommeth, will I make a pillar in the Temple of my God, and hee shall go no more out: and I will write vpon him the Name of my God, and the name of the citie of my GOD, which is the newe Jerusalem, which commeth downe out of heauen from my GOD, and I will write vpon him my newe Name.
13 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the Spirit saith vnto the Churches.
14 And vnto the Angell of the Church of the Laodiceans write, These thinges saieth g Amen, the faythfull and true witnes, the h beginning of the creatures of God.
15 I know thy works, that thou art neither colde nor hote: I would thou were cold or hote.
16 Therefore, because thou art luke warm, and neither colde nor hote, it will come ched and miserable, and poore, and

1 The vision of the maiestie of God. 2 He seeth the throne, and one sitting vpon it, 8 And 24. seates about it with 24. elders sitting vpon them, and foure beastes praysing God day and night.

1 After this I looked, and beholde, a [a] doore was open in heauen, and the first voyce which I heard, was as it were of a trumpet talking with me, saying, Come vp hither, and I will shewe thee things which must be done hereafter.

2 And immediatlye I was rauished in the spirite, and behold, a throne was set in heauen, and one sate vpon the throne.

3 And [b] he that sate, was to looke vpon, lyke vnto a Jasper stone, & a Sardine, and there was a rainbowe round about the throne in sight like to an Emerande.

4 And rounde about the throne were foure and twentie seates, and vpon the seates I saw [c] foure and twentie Elders sitting, clothed in white rainment, & had on their heades crownes of golde.

5 And out of the throne [d] proceded lightnings, and thunderings, and voyces, & there were seuen lampes of fire, burning before the throne, which are the seuen spirits of God.

6 And before the throne there was a [f] sea of glasse like vnto [g] crystall: and in the [h] middes of the throne, & rounde about the throne were foure [h] beastes full of eyes before and behinde.

7 And the first beast was lyke a lyon, and the second beast like a calfe, & the thirde beast had a face as a man, & the fourth beast was like a flying egle.

8 And the foure beastes had eche one of them sixe winges about him, and they were full of eyes within, and they ceassed not day nor night, saying, [i] Holy, holy, holy Lord God almightie, Which was, and Which is, & Which is to come.

9 And when those beasts gaue glorie, and honour, and thankes to him that sate on the throne, which liueth for euer and euer,

10 The foure and twentie Elders fell down before him that sate on the throne, and worshipped him, that liueth for euermore, [k] and cast their crownes before the throne, saying,

11 Thou art * worthie, O Lord, to receiue glorie and honour, and power: for thou hast created all things, & for thy willes sake they are, and haue bene created.

a Before that he make mention of the great afflictions of the Church, he setteth forth the maiestie of God, by whose will, wisedome and prouidence, all things are created and gouerned, to teach vs patience.

CHAP. V.

1 He seeth the Lambe opening the booke, 8. 14 And therefore the foure beastes, the 24. elders, and the Angels praise the Lambe, and doe him worship 9 For their redemption and other benefites.

1 And I sawe in the right hande of him that sate vpon the throne, [a] a Booke written within, and on the backside, sealed with [b] seuen seales.

2 And I saw a strong Angel, which preached with a loude voyce, Who is worthie to open the booke, and to loose the seales thereof?

3 And no man in heauen, nor in earth, neyther vnder the earth, was able to open the Booke, neyther to looke thereon.

4 Then I wept much, because no man was found worthie to open, and to reade the Booke, neyther to looke thereon.

5 And one of the elders sayde vnto mee, Weepe not: beholde, the * Lyon which is of the tribe of Juda, the roote of Dauid, hath obteyned to open the Booke, and to loose the seuen seales thereof.

6 Then I beheld, and lo, in the middes of the throne, and of the foure beastes, and in the middes of the Elders, stode [c] a Lambe, as though he had bene killed, which had [d] seuen hornes, and [e] seuen eyes, which are the seuen spirits of God, sent into all the world.

7 And he came and tooke the Booke out of the right hand of him that sate vpon the throne.

8 And when he had taken the Booke, the foure beastes, and the foure & twentie Elders [f] fel downe before the Lambe, hauing euery one harpes and golden vials full of odours, [g] which are the prayers of the Saints,

9 And they sung a newe song, saying, thou art worthie to take the Booke, and to open the seales thereof, because thou wast killed, and hast [h] redeemed vs to God by thy blood out of euerie kindred, and tongue, and people, and nation,

10 And hast made vs vnto our God * Kings and Priests, & we shall [i] reigne on the earth.

receiue power and riches, & wisdome, and strength, and honour, and glorie, and prayse.

13 And al the creatures which are in heauen, and on the earth, & vnder the earth, and in the sea, and all that are in them, heard I, saying, Prayse & honour, and glorie, and power be vnto him, that sitteth vpon the throne, & vnto the Lambe for euermore.

14 And the foure beasts sayd, Amen, and the foure and twenty Elders fel down, and worshipped him that liueth for euermore.

CHAP. VI.

The Lambe openeth the sixe seales, and many things followe the opening thereof, so that this conteineth a generall prophecie to the ende of the world.

1 AFter, I beheld when the Lambe had opened one [a] of the seales, and I heard one of the foure beastes saye, as it were the [b] noyse of thunder, Come and see.

a The opening of the seale is the declaration of Gods will, and the executing of his iudgements.

2 Therefore I beheld, and loe, there was a [c] white horse, & he that [d] sate on him, had a bowe, and a crowne was giuen vnto him, and he went forth conquering that he might ouercome.

b Signifying, that there were marueilous things to come.

c The white horse signifieth innocencie, victorie, and felicitie which should come by the preaching of the gospel.

3 And when he had opened the seconde seale, I heard the second beast say, Come and see.

4 And there went out another horse, that was [e] red, and power was giuen to him that [f] sate thereon, to take peace from the earth, and that they should kill one another, and there was giuen vnto him a great sword.

d He that rideth on the white horse, is Christ.

e Signifying the cruell warres that ensued whē the Gospell was refused.

5 And when he had opened the thirde seale, I heard the third beast say, Come and see. Then I beheld, and lo, a black horse, and he that sate on him, had balances in his hand.

f Who was Satan.

6 And I heard a voyce in the middes of the foure beastes say, A [h] measure of wheate for a [i] penie, and three measures of barly for a penie, and oyle, and wine hurt thou not.

g This signifieth an extreme famine & want of all things.

7 And when he had opened the fourth seale, I heard the voyce of the fourth beast say, Come and see.

8 And I looked, and beholde, a [k] pale horse, and his name that sate on him was Death, and [l] Hell followed after him, and power was giuen vnto them ouer the fourth part of the earth, to kill with swoorde, and with hunger, and with death, and with the beastes of the earth.

h The Greeke word signifieth that measure which was ordinarily giuen to seruants for their portion or stint of meat for one day.

9 And when he had opened the [l] fift seale, I sawe vnder the altar [m] the soules of them, that were killed for the worde of God, and for the testimonie which they maintained.

i Which amounted about foure pence halfepeny.

10 And they cried with a lowd voyce, saying, How long, Lord, holy & true, doest not thou iudge & auenge our blood on them that dwell on the earth?

11 And long white robes were giuen vnto euery one, & it was saide vnto them, that they shoulde rest for a litle season vntil their fellowe seruaunts, and their brethren that shoulde bee killed euen as they were, were fulfilled.

12 And I beheld when he had opened the fift seale, & lo, there was a great [n] earthquake, and the [o] sunne was as blacke as [p] sackcloth of heare, and the [q] moone was like blood.

13 And the [r] starres of heauen fel vnto the earth, as a figge tree casteth her greene figs, when it is shaken of a mightie wind.

14 And [s] heauen departed away, as a scrole when it is rolled, & euery mountaine and ile were moued out of their places.

15 And the kings of the earth, and the great men, and the riche men, and the chiefe captaines, and the mightie men, and euery bondman, & euery free man, hid themselues in dennes, and among the rockes of the mountaines,

16 And said to [t] the mountaines & rocks, [u] Fall on vs, & hide vs from the presence of him that sitteth on the throne, & from the wrath of the Lambe.

17 For [x] great day of his wrath is come, and who can stande?

k Whereby is meant sickneſſe, plagues, peſtilence, and death of man and beast. [a] Or the seuenth. l The continuall persecution of the Church noted by the fift seale.

m The soules of the Saintes are vnder the altar, which is Christ, meaning that they are in his safe custodie in the heauens.

n Which signifieth the change of the true doctrine, which is the greatest cause of motions and troubles that come to the world.

o That is, the brightnes of the Gospel.

p The traditions of men.

q The Church miserably defaced with idolatrie and afflicted by tyrants.

r Doctours and preachers that depart from the trueth.

s The kingdome of God is hid, & withdrawne frō men, and appeareth not.

t Realmes, kingdomes and persons, that did seeme to be as stable in the faith as mountaines. Isa.2.19. hose.10. 8. luk.23.30.

u Such men afterward, of what estate so euer they be, shall be desperate, and not able to susteine the weight of Gods wrath, but shall continually feare his iudgements.

CHAP. VII.

4. 9 He seith the seruantes of God sealed in their foreheads out of all nations and people, 15 Which though they suffer trouble, yet the Lambe feedeth them, leadeth them to the fountaines of liuing water, 17 And God shall wipe away all teares from their eyes.

1 ANd after that, I sawe foure Angels stande on the foure conners of the earth, holding the foure [a] winds of the [b] earth, that the winds should not blowe on the earth, neither on the [c] sea, neither on any [d] tree.

a The spirit is cōpared to wind, and the doctrine also: and though there be one spirit and one doctrine, yet foure are here named in respect of the diuersitie of the foure quarters of the earth where the Gospel is spredde, and for the foure writers thereof, and the preachers of the same through the whole worlde.

2 And I sawe another [e] Angel come vp from the East, which had the seale of the liuing God, and he cryed with a loude voice to the foure Angels to whom power was giuen to hurt the earth, & the sea,

3 Saying, [f] Hurt ye not the earth, neyther the sea, neyther the trees, till we b Meaning, the men of the earth. c That is, the ylandes. d Signifying all men in generall, who can no more liue without this spirituall doctrine, then trees can blossome and beare, except the winde blowe vpon them. [e] Or, Christ. f God preuenteth the dangers and euils, which otherwise would ouerwhelme the elect.

f Those that are sealed by the spirit of God, and marked with the blood of the lambe, & lightned in faith by the word of God, so that they make open profession of the same, are exempted from euill.

g Though that this blindnes be brought into the world by the malice of Satan, yet the mercies of God reserue to himselfe an infinite nomber which shall be saued, both of the Iewes and Gētiles through Christ.

h He omitteth Dan, & putteth Leui in, whereby he meaneth the twelue tribes.

i That is, the tribe of Ephraim, which was Iosephs sonne.

l In token of victorie and felicitie.

m All that are saued, attribute their saluation vnto God onely & to his Christ, and to none other thing.

n There is no puritie nor cleannes, but by the blood of Christ only, which purgeth our sinnes and so maketh vs white.

o That is, of the maiestie of God the Father, the Sonne, and the holy Ghost.

4 And I hearde the nomber of them, which were sealed, and there were sealed [g] an hundreth and foure and fourtie thousande of all the tribes of the children of Israel.

5 Of the tribe of Iuda were sealed twelue thousande. Of the tribe of Ruben were sealed twelue thousande. Of the tribe of Gad were sealed twelue thousand.

6 Of the tribe of Aser were sealed twelue thousande. Of the tribe of Nepththali were sealed twelue thousande. Of the tribe of Manasses were sealed twelue thousand.

7 Of the tribe of Simeon were sealed twelue thousande. Of the tribe of [h] Leui were sealed twelue thousande. Of the tribe of Issachar were sealed twelue thousande. Of the tribe of Zabulon were sealed twelue thousand.

8 Of the tribe of [i] Ioseph were sealed twelue thousande. Of the tribe of Beniamin were sealed twelue thousand.

9 After these things I beheld, and loe, a great multitude, which no man coulde nomber, of al nations and kinreds, and people, and tongues, stode before the throne, and before the Lambe, clothed with long [k] white robes, & [l] palmes in their handes.

10 And they cryed with a loude voyce, saying, [m] Saluation commeth of our God, that sitteth vpon the throne, and of the Lambe.

11 And all the Angels stode rounde about the throne, and about the Elders, and the foure beasts, and they fel before the throne on their faces, and worshipped God, 12 Saying, Amen. Praise and glorie, and wisedome, and thankes, and honour, and power, & might, be vnto our God for euermore, Amen.

13 And one of the Elders spake, saying vnto me, What are these which are arayed in long white robes? and whence came they?

14 And I sayde vnto him, Lorde, thou knowest. And he saide to me, These are they, which came out of great tribulation, & haue washed their long robes, and haue made their long robes white in [n] the blod of the Lambe.

15 Therefore are they in the presence of the throne [o] of God, and serue him day and [p] nyght in his Temple, and he that sitteth on the throne, will dwell among them.

16 * They shall [q] hunger no more, neyther thirst any more, neyther shall the sunne [r] light on them, neither any heat.

17 For the [s] Lambe, which is in the [t] middes of the throne, shall gouerne them, and shall leade them vnto [u] the liuely fountaines of waters, and * God shall wipe away all teares from their eyes.

t Which is very God.

u He shall giue them life and conserue them in eternall felicitie. Isaiah.25.8.chapter.21.4.

CHAP. VIII.

The seuenth seale is opened: there is silence in heauen. 6 The foure Angels blowe their trumpets, and great plagues followe vpon the earth.

AND when he had opened the [a] seuenth seale, there was [b] silence in heauen about halfe an houre.

a Vnder the sixt seale he touched in generall the corruption of the doctrine: but vnder the seuenth he sheweth the great danger thereof, and what troubles, sectes, and heresies haue bene and shalbe brought into the Church thereby.

2 And I sawe the seuen Angels, which stode [c] before God, and to them were giuen seuen trumpets.

b That the hearers might be more attentiue.

3 Then another Angel came and stode before the altar hauing a golden censer, & much odours was giuen vnto him, that he should offer with the prayers of al Saints vpon the golden altar, which is before the throne.

c He sheweth the onely remedie in our afflictions, to wit, to appeare before the face of God by the meanes of Iesus Christ, who is the Angel, the sacrifice, and the Priest, which presenteth our prayers, which remaine yet in earth, before the altar & diuine maiestie of God.

4 And the smoke of the odours with the prayers of the Saints, went vp before God, out of the Angels hand.

5 And the Angel toke the censer, and filled it with [d] fire of the altar, and cast it vnto the [e] earth, and [f] there were voices, and thundrings, and lightnings, and earthquake.

d He meaneth by fire the grace of God whereby we are purged and made cleane Isai.6.6.

6 Then the seuen Angels, which had the seuen trumpets, prepared them selues to blowe the trumpets.

e He powreth the graces of the holy Ghost into the hearts of the faithfull.

7 So the first Angel [g] blewe the trumpet, and there was haile and fire, mingled with blood, and they were cast into the earth, and the third part of [h] trees was burnt, and al greene [i] grasse was burnt.

f When this grace is declared, marueilous rebellions arise against it by reason of the wicked, which can neither abide to heare their sinnes touched, nor mercie offred. g That is, proclaimeth warre against the Church, & troubles by false doctrine, & so admonisheth thē to watch. h That is, the most part of men were seduced. i Euen the very elect were sore tried & prooued.

8 And the second Angel blewe the trumpet, and as it were a great [k] mountaine, burning with fire, was cast into the sea, and the thirde part of the sea became blood.

9 And the thirde parte of the creatures, which were in the sea, and had life, died, and the third part of [l] shippes were destroyed.

k Diuers sectes of heretikes were spred abroad in the world.

10 Then the third Angel blewe the trumpet, and there fell [m] a great starre from heauen burning like a torche, and it fell vnto the third part of the riuers, and into the fountaines of waters.

l Meaning, the shipmasters, and so them that had any gouernment.

11 And the name of the starre is called wormewood: therefore the thirde part of the waters became wormewood, and many men died of the [n] waters, because they were made bitter.

m That is, some excellent minister of ỹ Church, which shal corrupt the Scriptures.

n Which here signifie false and corrupt doctrine.

12 And the fourth Angel blew the trumpet, and the thirde parte of the o sunne was smitten, and the thirde part of the p moone, & the third part of the q starres, so that the thirde parte of them was r darkened: and the day was smitten that the thirde part of it could not shine, and likewise the night.

13 And I beheelde, and heard one Angel flying through the middes of heauen, saying with a loude voyce, f Wo, wo, wo to the inhabitants of the earth, because of the soundes of the trumpet of the three Angels, which were yet to blow the trumpets.

o That is, of Christ who is the sunne of iustice, meaning that men by boasting of their workes and merites obscure Christ and tread his death vnder feete.

p That is, of the Church.

q Of ỹ ministers and teachers, which haue not taught, as they ought to doe.

r These are plagues for the contempt of the Gospel.

f Horrible threatnings against the infidels and rebellious persons.

CHAP. IX.

1 The fift and sixt Angell blow their trumpets: the starre falleth from heauen. 3 The locustes come out of the smoke. 12 The first woe is past. 14 The foure Angels that were bound, are loosed, 18 And the third part of men is killed.

1 AND the fift Angell blew the trumpet, & I sawe a a starre which was fallen from heauen vnto the earth, and to him was giuen the b kep of the bottomlesse pit.

2 And he opened the bottomles pit, and there arose the smoke of the pit, as the c smoke of a great fornace, & the sunne, and the ayre were darkened by the smoke of the pit.

3 And there came out of the smoke d Locustes vpon the earth, and vnto them was giuen e power, as the f scorpions of the earth haue power.

4 And it was commanded them, that they should not hurt the g grasse of the earth, neither any greene thing, neither any tree: but onely those h men which haue not the seale of God in their foreheads.

5 And to them was commanded that they should not i kil them, but that they should be k vexed fiue moneths, & that their paine should be as the paine that commeth of a l scorpion, when he hath sting a man.

6 * Therefore in those dayes shall men m seeke death, and shall not finde it, and shall desire to die, and death shall flee from them.

7 * And the forme of the locustes was like vnto n horses prepared vnto battel, and on their heads were as it were o crowns like vnto golde, and their faces p were like the faces of men.

8 And they had heare as the q heare of women, and their r teeth were as the teeth of lions.

9 And they had f habbergions, like to habbergions of yron: and the sounde of their s wings was like the sounde of charets when many horses runne vnto battell.

10 And they had tailes like vnto scorpions, and there were t stings in their tayles, and their power was to hurt men fiue moneths.

11 And they haue a king ouer thē, which is the x Angell of the bottomlesse pit, whose name in Ebrewe is, y Abaddon, and in Greeke he is named Apollyon.

12 One wo is past, and beholde, yet two woes come after this.

13 ¶ Then the sixt Angel blew the trumpet, & I heard a z voyce from the foure hornes of the golden altar, which is before God,

14 Saying to the sixt Angell, which had the trumpet, Loose the foure a Angels, which are bound in the great riuer Euphrates.

15 And the foure Angels were loosed, which were prepared at an b houre, at a day, at a moneth, and at a yere, to slay the third part of men.

16 And the nomber of horsmen of warre were twenty thousand times ten thousand: for I heard the nomber of them.

17 And thus I saw the horses in a visiō, and them that sate on them, hauing fierie habbergions, and of Iacinth and of brimstone, and the heades of the horses were as the heads of lyons: and out of their mouthes went forth fire & smoke and brimstone.

18 Of these three was the thirde part of men killed, that is, of the fire, and of the smoke, & of the brimstone which came out of their mouthes.

a That is, the Bishops and ministers, which forsake the word of God, and so fal out of heauē, and become Angels of darkenes.

b This authoritie chiefly is cōmitted to the Pope, in signe whereof he beareth the keyes in his armes.

c Abundance of heresies and errous, which couer with darkenes Christ and his Gospel.

d Locustes are false teachers, heretikes, and wordly subtil Prelates, with Monkes, Friers, Cardinals, Patriarkes, Archbishops, Bishops, Doctours, Bacheleres and Masters which forsake Christ to mainteyne false doctrine.

e False and deceyuable doctrine, which is pleasant to the flesh.

f That is, secretely to persecute and to sting with their tayle as Scorpions doe: such is the fashion of the hypocrites.

g For the false Prophetes cannot destroye the elect, but such as are ordeyned to perdition.

h That is, the infidels whom Satan blindeth with the efficacie of errour, 2. Thessal. 2. 11.

i Though the elect bee hurt, yet they cannot perishe.

k The elect for a certaine space and at times are in troubles: for the grashoppers endure but from Aprill to September, which is fiue monethes.

l For at the beginning the sting of their consciēce seemeth as nothing, but except they soone seeke remedie, they perishe, Isa. 2. 19. hose. 10. 8. Luke. 23. 30. chap. 6. 16.

m Such is the terrour of the vnbeleeuing cōscience, which hath no assurance of mercie, but feeleth the iudgement of God against it, when men imbrace errour, and refuse the true simplicitie of Gods worde. Wisd. 16. 9.

n Which signifieth that the Popes clergie shalbe proude, ambitious, bold, stoute, rashe, rebellious, stubburne, cruel, lecherous, and authours of warre and destruction of the simple children of God.

o They pretend a certaine title of honour, which in deede belongeth nothing vnto thē, as the priestes by theyr crownes and strange apparel declare.

p That is, they pretende great gentlenesse and loue: they are wise, politike, subtill, eloquent, and in worldly craftines passe all in all their doings.

q That is, effeminate, delicate, idle, trimming themselues to please their harlots.

r Signifying their oppression of the poore, and crueltie against Gods children.

s Which signifieth their hardnes of heart & obstination in their errours, with their assurance vnder the protection of worldly princes.

t For as though they had wings, so are they lifted vp aboue the common sort of men and esteemed most holy, and do all things with rage and fiercenes.

u To infect and kill with their venemous doctrine.

x Which is Antichrist the Pope, king of hypocrites, and Satans ambassadour.

y That is, destroyer: for Antichrist the sonne of perdition destroyeth mens soules with false doctrine, & the whole worlde with fire and sword.

z Which was the voyce of Christ sitting at the right hand of the Father.

a Meaning the enemies of the East countrey, which shoulde afflict the Church of God, as did the Arabians, Sarasines, Turkes and Tartarians.

b This signifieth the great readines of the enemies, c Which signifieth their false doctrine and hypocrisie.

d And therefore were iustly destroyed. *Psal.115.4. and 135.15.

19 For their power is in their *mouthes, and in their tailes: for their tailes were like vnto serpentes, and had heades, wherewith they hurt.
20 And the remnant of the men which were not killed by these plagues, d repented not of the woorkes of their handes that they shoulde not worship deuils, and *idoles of golde and of siluer, and of braſſe, and of stone, and of wood, which neyther can see, neyther heare nor go.
21 Also they repented not of their murther, and of their sorcery, neither of their fornication, nor of their theft.

CHAP. X.

1 The Angel hath the booke open. 6 He sweareth there shalbe no more time. 9 He giueth the booke vnto Iohn, which eateth it vp.

a Which was Iesus Christ that came to comfort his Church against the furious assaults of Satan and Antichrist: so that in al their troubles, the faithfull are sure to find consolation in him.

AND I sawe another mightie a Angell come downe from heauen, clothed with a cloud, and the b raine bowe vpon his head, & his face was as the c sunne, & his d feete as pillars of fire.
2 And he had in his hande a litle e booke open, and he put his right foote vpon the sea, and his left on the earth,
3 And cryed with a f loude voyce, as when a lion roareth: and when he had cryed, seuen g thunders vttered their voyces.
4 And when the seuen thunders had vttered their voyces, I was about to write: but I heard a voyce from heauē saying vnto mée, * h Seale vp those things which the seuen thunders haue spoken, and write them not.
5 And the Angel which I saw stand vpon the sea & vpon the earth, lift vp his hand to heauen,
6 And sware i by him k liueth for euermore, which created heauen, and the thinges that therein are, and the earth, and the things that therein are, and the sea, and the things which therein are, that time should be no more.
7 But in the dayes of the voyce of the seuenth Angel, when he shal beginne to blow the trumpet, euen the k mysterie of God shalbe finished, as he hath declared to his seruants the Prophets.
8 And the voyce which I heard frō heauen, spake vnto l me againe & sayde, Go and take the litle booke which is open in the hande of the m Angell, which standeth vpon the sea & vpon the earth.
9 So I went vnto the Angell, and saide to him, Giue me the litle n booke. And he sayd vnto mee, * Take it, and o eate it vp, and it shal make thy belly bitter, but it shalbe in thy mouth as sweet as honie.
10 Then I tooke the litle booke out of the Angels hande, and ate it vp, and it was in my mouth as p sweet as hony: but when I had eaten it, my belly was bitter.
11 And he said vnto me, Thou must prophecie q againe among the people and nations, and tongues, and to many kings.

Ezek.3.1.

b Straight, strong and pure from all corruptions.
c Meaning the Gospel of Christ which Antichrist cannot hide, seeing Christ bringeth it open in his hand.
f Which declareth that in despite of Antichrist y Gospel should be preached 1 gh all the world: so that y enemyes shalbe astonied.

o Which signifieth that the ministers ought to receiue the word into their heartes, and to haue graue and deepe iudgement, and diligently to studie it, & with zeale to vtter it.
p Signifying that albeit that the minister haue consolation by the worde of God, yet shall he haue sore, and grieuous enemies, which shall be troublesome vnto him. q Not onely meaning in his life time, but that this booke after his death shoulde be as a preaching vnto all nations.

CHAP. XI.

THen was giuē me a reed, like vnto a rodde, & the Angel stoode by, saying, Arise and * mete a the Temple of God, and the altar, and them that worship therein.
2 But b the court which is without the Temple cast out, and mete it not: for it is giuen vnto the Gentiles, and the holy c citie shall they treade vnder foote d two and fourtie moneths.
3 But I will giue power vnto my e two witnesses, and they shall prophecie a f thousand, two hundreth, and three score dayes, clothed in g sackecloth.
4 These are two h olme trees, and two candlesticks, standing before the God of the i earth.
5 And if any man will hurt them, fire proceedeth out of their mouthes, and deuoureth their enemies: for if any man would hurt them, k thus must hee be killed.

turne them into [m] blood, and to smite the earth with all maner plagues, as often as they wil.

7 And when they haue finished their testimonie, the [n] beast that commeth out of the bottomles pit, shall make warre against them, & shall [o] ouercome them, and kill them.

8 And their corpses shall lie in [p] streetes of the great [p] citie, which spiritually is called Sodom and Egypt, where our Lorde also was crucified.

9 And they of the people and kinreds, and tongues, and Gentiles shal see their corpses three dayes and an halfe, and shall not suffer their carkeises to be put in graues.

10 And they [p] dwel vpon the earth, shall reioyce ouer them, and be glad, and shal sende giftes one to another: for these two Prophets [q] vexed them that dwelt on the earth.

11 But after three dayes and an halfe, the spirit of life cõming from God, shall enter into them, and they shall [r] stand vp vpon their feete: and great feare shall come vpon them which saw them.

12 And they shall heare a great voyce from heauen, saying vnto them, [s] Come vp hither. And they shall ascende vp to heauen in a cloude, and their enemies shall see them.

13 And the same houre shall there bee a great earthquake, and the tenth parte of the citie [t] shall fall, and in the earthquake shall bee slaine in nomber seuen thousande: and the remnant shall be afraide, [u] and giue glorie to the God of heauen.

14 The second wo is past, and behold the third wo wil come anon.

15 And the seuenth Angell blewe the trumpet, and there were great voyces in heauen, saying, The [x] kingdomes of this worlde are our Lordes, and his Christes, and he shall reigne for euermore.

16 Then the foure and twentie Elders, which sate before God on their seates, fell vpon their faces, and worshipped [y] God, 17 Saying, [z] We giue thee thanks, Lord God almightie, Which art, and Which wast, and Which art to come: for thou hast receiued thy great might, and hast obteined thy kingdome.

CHAP. XII.

1 There appeareth in heauen a woman clothed with the sunne. 7 Michael fighteth with the Dragon, which persecuteth the woman. 11 The victorie is gotten to the comfort of the faithfull.

1 AND there appeared a great wonder in heauen: A [a] woman clothed with the sunne, and the [b] moone was vnder her feete, and vpon her head a [c] crowne of twelue starres.

2 And shee was with childe and [d] cryed trauailing in birth, and was payned ready to be deliuered.

3 And there appeared another wonder in heauen: for behold, a great [e] red dragon hauing [f] seuen heades, and tenne hornes, and seuen crownes vpon his heads:

4 And his taile drewe the [g] third part of the starres of heauen, and cast them to the earth. And the dragon stoode before the woman, which was ready to be deliuered, to deuoure her child when she had brought it forth.

5 [h] So she brought forth a man childe, which shoulde rule all nations with a [*] rod of yron: and her sonne was taken vp vnto God and to his throne.

6 And the woman fledde into [i] wildernes where she hath a place prepared of God, that they shoulde fede her there a thousand, two hundreth and three score dayes.

7 And there was a battell in heauen. [k] Michael & his Angels fought against the dragon, and the dragon fought and his Angels.

8 But they preuailed not, neither was their place found any more in [l] heauen.

9 And the great dragon, that olde serpent, called the deuil and Satan, was cast out, which deceiueth all the world: hee was euen cast into the earth, and his Angels were cast out with him.

10 Then I heard a loude voyce, saying, Nowe is saluation in heauen, and strength, and the kingdome of our God, and the power of his Christ: for the accuser of our brethren is cast downe, which accused them before our GOD day and night.

12 Therefore reioyce, ye heauens, and ye that dwell in them. Woe to the ⁿ inhabitants of the earth, and of the sea: for the deuill is come downe vnto you which hath great wrath, knowing that hee hath but a short time.

13 And when the dragon sawe that hee was ᵒ cast vnto the earth, he persecuted the woman which had brought forth the man childe.

14 But to the woman were giuen two winges of a great egle, that she might flie into the wildernes, into ᵖ her place, where she is nourished for a time, and times, & halfe a time, from the presence of the serpent.

15 And the serpent cast out of his mouth water after the woman like a flood, that he might cause her to be caried awaye of the flood.

16 But the ᑫ earth holpe the woman, and the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed vp the flood, which the dragon had cast out of his mouth.

17 Then the dragon was wroth with the woman, and went and made warre with the ʳ remnant of her seede, which keepe the commaundements of God, and haue the testimonie of Jesus Christ.

18 And I stood on the sea sand.

1.8 The beast deceyueth the reprobate, 2.4.12. And is confirmed by another beast. 17 The priuiledge of the beastes marke.

1 And I sawe a ˢ beast rise out of the sea, hauing ᵇ seuen heads, and ᶜ ten hornes, and vpon his hornes were ten crownes, and vpon his heades the name of blasphemie.

2 And the beast which I sawe, was like a ᵈ leopard, and his feete like a beares, and his mouth as the mouth of a lion: and the ᵉ dragon gaue him his power and his throne, and great authoritie.

3 And I sawe one of his ᶠ heades as it were wounded to death, but his ᵍ deadly wound was healed, and all the world wondered and followed the beast.

4 And they worshipped the dragon which gaue power vnto the beast, and they ʰ worshipped the beast, saying, Who is like vnto the beast? who is able to warre with him?

5 And there was giuen vnto him a mouth, that spake great things and blasphemies, and power was giuen vnto him, to do ⁱ two and fourtie moneths.

6 And he opened his mouth vnto blasphemie against God, to blaspheme his name and his tabernacle, and them that dwell in heauen.

7 And it was giuen vnto him to make warre with the Saintes, and to ᵏ ouercome them, and power was giuen him ouer euerie ˡ kinred and tongue, and nation.

8 Therefore all that dwell vpon the earth, shall worship him, whose ᵐ names are not ⁿ written in the booke of life of the Lambe, which was slaine ᵒ from the beginning of the worlde.

11 And I beheelde another beast coming vp out of the ᑫ earth, which had two ʳ hornes like the Lambe, but he ˢ spake like the dragon.

12 And hee did all that the first ᵗ beast could do before him, and he caused the earth, and them which dwel therein, to worship the first ᵗ beast, whose deadly wound was healed.

13 And ᵘ he did great wonders, so that hee made fire to come downe from heauen on the earth, in the sight of men,

14 And deceyued them that dwel on the earth by the signes, which were permitted to him to do in the ˣ sight of the beast, saying to them that dwell on the earth, that they should make ʸ ymage of the beast, which had the wound of a swoorde, and did liue.

15 And it was permitted to him to giue a ᶻ spirit vnto the image of the beast, so ᵃ the image of the beast should ᵇ speake, and should cause that as many as would not ᵇ worship the image of the beast, should be killed.

16 And hee made all, both small and great, rich and poore, free and bonde,

CHAP. XIIII.

1 The notable company of the Lambe. 6 One Angell announceth the Gospell, 8 Another the fall of Babylon, 9 And the thirde warneth to flee from the beast. 13 Of their blessednes which die in the Lorde. 18 Of the Lordes haruest.

a Iesus Christ ruleth in his Church to defende and comfort it, though the beast rage neuer so much: and seeing Christ is present euer ẅ his Church, there can be no vicar: for where there is a vicar, there is no Church. b Meaning a great and ample Church. c Which was the marke of their election, to wit, their faith. d Signifying that the nomber of the Church should be great, and that they shoulde speake boldly, and aloude, and so glorifie the Lord. e None can praise God, but the elect whome hee hath bought. f By whoredome: and vnder this vice he comprehendeth all other: but this is chiefly meant of idolatrie which is the spirituall whoredome. g For their whole delight is in the Lambe Iesus, & they loue none but him. h Which declareth ỹ the faithfull ought to liue iustly & holily, that they may be the first fruites, & an excellent offring of the Lord. i Forasmuch as their sinnes are pardoned, & they are clad ẅ the iustice of Christ.

1 THen I looked, and loe, a a Lambe stoode on mount Sion, and with him an b hundreth, fourtie & foure thousand, hauing his fathers c name written in their foreheads.

2 And I heard a voyce from heauen, as the sound of many d waters, and as the sound of a great thunder: and I heard the voyce of harpers harping with their harpes,

3 And they sung as it were a newe song before the throne, and before the foure beasts, and the Elders, and no e man coulde learne that song, but the hundreth, fourtie & foure thousand, which were bought from the earth.

4 These are they, which are not f defiled with women: for they are virgins: these followe the Lambe g whithersoeuer he goeth: these are bought from men, being the h first fruites vnto God, and to the Lambe.

5 And in their mouthes was founde no guile: for they are without i spot before the throne of God.

6 ¶ Then I saw another k Angel flie in the middes of heauen, hauing an euerlasting Gospell, to preache vnto them, that dwell on the earth, and to euerie nation, and kinred, & tongue, & people,

7 Saying ẅ a loud voyce, l Feare God, and giue glorie to him: for the houre of his iudgement is come: & worship him that made m heauen and earth, and the sea, and the fountaines of waters.

8 And there followed another Angell, saying, n It is fallen, it is fallen, o Babylon the great citie: for she made all nations to drinke of the wine of the p wrath of her fornication.

9 ¶ And the third Angell folowed them, saying with a loude voyce, If any man worship the beast and his Image, and receiue his marke in his forehead, or on his hande,

10 The same shall drinke of the wine of the wrath of God, pea, of the q pure wine, which is powred into the cup of his wrath, and he shall be tormented in fire and brimstone before the holie Angels, and before the Lambe.

11 And the smoke of their torment shall ascende euermore: & they shall haue no rest day nor night, which worshippe the beast and his image, and whosoeuer receiueth the print of his name.

12 Here is the patience of r Saintes: here are they that keepe the commandements of God, and the faith of Iesus.

13 Then I heard a voyce from heauen, saying vnto me, Write, ¶ Blessed are the dead, which hereafter die s in the t Lord. Euen so saith the Spirit: for they rest from their labours, & their workes followe them.

14 ¶ And I looked, and beholde, a white u cloude, and vpon the cloude one sitting like vnto the Sonne of man, hauing on his head a golden crowne, and in his hand a sharpe sickle.

15 And another Angell came out of the Temple, crying ẅ a loude voyce to him that sate on the cloude, x Thrust in thy sickle and reape: for the time is come to reape: for the haruest of the earth is ripe.

16 And he that sate on the cloud, y thrust in his sickle on the earth, and the earth was reaped.

k By this Angel are meant the true ministers of Christ which preach the Gospel faithfully. Psal.145.6. l The Gospell teacheth vs to feare God and honour him, which is the beginning of heauenly wisdome. Act.14.15. m Signifying Rome, forasmuch as the vices which were in Babylon, are found in Rome in greater abundãce, as persecution of ỹ Church of God, oppression and slauerie, with destruction of the people of God, confusion, superstition, idolatrie, impietie, & as Babylon ỹ first Monarchie was destroyed, so shall this wicked kingdom of Antichrist haue a miserable ruine, though it be great, & seemeth to extende throughout all Europa. n By the which fornication God is prouoked to wrath: so that he suffereth many to walke in the way of the Romish doctrine to their destruction. o That is, of his terrible iudgement. p The faithfull are exhorted to patience. q For they are deliuered from the horrible troubles which are in the Church, and rest with God. r Or, for the Lordes cause. s Which are ingrafted in Christ by faith, which rest and stay onely on him, and reioyce to be with him: for immediatly after their death they are receiued into ioy. t Signifying that Christ shal come to iudgement in a cloude, euen as he was seene to go vp. Iohn.1.11. mat.13.39. u The ouerthrow of the people is compared to an haruest, Isay.19.5. also to a vintage. Ioel.3.3. x This is spoken familiarly for our capacitie, alluding vnto an husbandman, who suffreth himself to be aduertised by his seruants when his haruest is ripe, and not that Christ hath needs to be told when hee should come to iudgement for the comfort of his Church, and destruction of his enemies.

17 Then

x This was Christ who is also the altar, the priest and sacrifice.

y That is, a certaine place appointed, and not in the heauen.

z By this similitude he declareth the horrible confusion of the tyrants and infidels, which delight in nothing but wars, slaughters, persecutions and effusion of blood.

17 Then another Angell came out of the Temple, which is in heauen, hauing also a sharpe sickle.
18 And another Angell came out from the x altar, which had power ouer fire, and cried with a loude crie to him that had the sharpe sickle, and said, Thrust in thy sharpe sickle, & gather the clusters of the vineyard of the earth: for her grapes are ripe.
19 And the Angell thrust in his sharpe sickle on the earth, and cut downe the vines of the vineyard of the earth, and cast them into the great wine presse of the wrath of God.
20 And the y wine presse was trode without the citie, and blood came out of the wine presse, vnto the z horse bridles by the space of a thousande and sixe hundreth furlongs.

1 AND I sawe another a signe in heauen, great and marueilous, b seuen Angels hauing the seuen last plagues: for by them is fulfilled the wrath of God.
2 And I sawe as it were a c glassie sea, mingled with fire, & them that had gotten victorie of the beast, & of his image, and of his marke, and of the nomber of his name, stand at þ glassie sea, hauing the harpes of God,
3 And they sing the song of Moses the * seruaunt of God, and the song of the Lambe, saying, Great and marueilous are thy workes, Lorde God almyghtie: iust and true are thy * 1 wayes, King of Saints.
4 * Who shal not feare thée, O Lord, and glorifie thy Name? for thou onely art holy, and all nations shall come & worship before thée: for thy iudgements are made manifest.
5 And after that, I looked, and beholde, the temple of the tabernacle of testimonie was open in heauen.
6 And the seuen Angels came out of the temple, which had the seuen plagues, clothed in pure and d bright linen, and hauing their e breasts girded with golden girdles.
7 And one of the f foure beasts gaue vnto the seuen Angels seuen golden vials full of the wrath of God, which liueth for euermore.

CHAP. XVI.

1 The Angels powre out their vialles ful of wrath, 6 And what plagues follow thereof. 15 Admonition to take heede and watch.

1 AND I heard a great voyce out of the Temple, saying to þ seuen Angels, Goe your wayes, and powre out the seuen vialles of þ wrath of God vpon the earth.
2 And the first went, and powred out his viall vpon the earth: and there fell a noysome, and a grieuous a sore vpon the men, which had the marke of the beast, & vpon them which worshipped his image.
3 And the second Angel powred out his viall vpon the sea, and it became as the b blood of c a dead man: and euerie liuing thing died in the sea.
4 And the thirde Angel powred out his vial vpon the riuers and fountaines of waters, and they became d blood.
5 And I heard the Angel of the e waters say, Lord, thou art iust, Which art, and Which wast, and Holy, because thou hast iudged these things.
6 For they shed the blood of the Saints, and Prophets, and therefore hast thou giuen them blood to drinke: for they are worthy.
7 And I heard another out of the Sanctuarie saye, Euen so, Lorde God almightie, f true and righteous are thy iudgements.
8 And the fourth Angell powred out his viall on the Sunne, & it was giuen vnto him to torment men with g heate of fyre, 9 And men boyled in great heate, and h blasphemed the name of God, which hath power ouer these plagues, & they repented not, to giue him glory.
10 And the fift Angell powred out his viall vpon the throne of the i beast, and his kingdome ward darke, and they k gnewe their tongues for sorowe, 11 And blasphemed the God of heauen for their payues, and for their sores, and repented not of their workes.

b Antichriſt is compared to an harlot, becauſe he ſeduceth the world with vaine words, doctrines of lyes, and outward appearaunce.

c Meaning diuers nations & countreis.

3 So he carped mee away into the wildernes in the Spirit, and I ſawe a woman ſit vpon a ſcarlet coloured [d] beaſt, full of names of [e] blaſphemie, which had ſeuen heades, and ten hornes.

4 And the [f] woman was arayed in purple and ſkarlet, and guilded with gold, and precious ſtones, and pearles, and had a cuppe of golde in her hande, full of abominations, and filthineſſe of her fornication.

5 And in her forehead was a name written, [h] A Myſterie, great Babylon, the mother of whoredomes, and abommations of the earth.

6 And I ſawe the woman dronken with the blood of Saintes, and with the blood of the Martyrs of Ieſus: and when I ſawe her, I wondred with great marueile.

7 Then the Angell ſaid vnto me, Wherefore marueileſt thou? I will ſhewe thee the myſterie of the woman, and of the beaſt that beareth her, which hath ſeuen heades, and ten hornes,

8 The [i] beaſt that thou haſt ſeene, was, and is not, and ſhall aſcend out of the bottomles pit, and ſhall go into perdition, and they that dwell on the earth, ſhall wonder (whoſe names are not written in the Booke of life from the foundation of the worlde) when they behold the beaſt that was, and is not, and yet is.

9 Here is the minde that hath wiſedome. The ſeuen heades are [k] ſeuen mountaines, wherron the woman ſitteth: they are alſo [l] ſeuen kinges.

10 Fiue are fallen, and one is, and another is not yet come: and when he commeth, he muſt continue a ſhort ſpace.

11 And the beaſt that was, and is not, is euen the [m] eight, and is one of the ſeuen, and ſhall go into deſtruction.

12 And the ten hornes which thou ſaweſt, are ten kinges, which yet haue not receiued a kingdome, but ſhall receiue power, as kinges at one houre with the beaſt.

13 [n] These haue one minde, & ſhall giue their power, and authoritie vnto the beaſt.

14 These ſhall fight with the Lambe, and the Lambe ſhall [o] ouercome them: * for he is Lord of Lordes, & King of kinges: and they that are on his ſide, called, and choſen, and faithfull.

15 And he ſaide vnto mee, The waters which thou ſaweſt, where the whore ſitteth, are people, and multitudes, and nations, and tongues.

d The beaſt ſignifieth the ancient Rome: the woman that ſitteth theron, the newe Rome, which is y Papiſtrie, whoſe cruelties and blood-ſhedding is declared by ſcarlet.

e Full of Idolatrie, ſuperſtition and contempt of the true God.

f This woman is the Antichriſt, that is, the Pope with the whole body of his filthy creatures, as is expounded, verſ.18. whoſe beautie only ſtandeth in outward pompe and impudecie, & craft like a ſtrumpet.

g Of falſe doctrines and blaſphemies.

h Which none can knowe to anoyde but the elect.

i This is the Romane empire which being fallen into decay, the whore of Rome vſurped authoritie, and proceeded from the deuil, and thither ſhall returne.

k which are about Rome.

l For after that the empire was decaied in Nero, Galba, Otho, Vitellius, Veſpaſian and Titus dyed in leſſe then foureteene yeeres, and reigned as Kings: Domitian then reigned, and after him Cocceius Nerua which was the ſeuenth.

m He meaneth Traiane the Emperour who was a Spanyard and adopted by Nerua, but becauſe he perſecuted the faithfull, he goeth alſo to perdition.

n He ſignifieth the horrible perſecutions which haue bene vnder the empire of Rome, and in all other realmes ſubiect to the ſame.

o And breake them to ſhiuers as a potters pot.

1.Tim.6.15. chap.19.16.

16 And

16 And the p ten hornes which thou sawest vpon the beast, are they that shal hate the whore, and shal make her desolate and naked, & shall eate her flesh, and burne her with fire.
17 For God hath q put in their heartes to fulfill his will, and to doe with one consent for to giue their kingdome vnto the beast, vntill the wordes of God be fulfilled.
18 And the woman which thou sawest, is the great citie, which reigneth ouer the kings of the earth.

p Diuers nations as the Gothes, Vandales, Hunnes and other nations which were once subiect to Rome, shall rise against it, and destroy it.
q That in steade of doing homage to Christ Iesus, thei should be cast into a reprobate sense to serue Antichrist, and to dedicate them selues and theirs wholy vnto him.

CHAP. XVIII.

3. 9 The louers of the worlde are sorie for the fall of the whore of Babylon. 4 An admonition to the people of God, to flee out of her dominion, 20 But they that be of God, haue cause to reioyce for her destruction.

Isa.21.9. ier.51.8. chap.14.8.

1 And after these things, I saw another Angel come downe from heauen, hauing great power, so that p earth was lightened with his glorie.
2 And hee cryed out mightily with a loud voyce, saying, * a It is fallen, it is fallen, Babylon the great citie, and is become the habitation of b deuils, and the hold of all foule spirits, and a cage of euery vncleane and hatefull byrde.
3 For c all nations haue dronken of the wine of the wrath of her fornication, & the kings of the earth haue committed fornication with her, & the marchants of the earth are wared rich of p abundance of her pleasures.
4 And I heard another voyce from heauen say, d Goe out of her, my people, that ye be not partakers in her sinnes, and that ye receiue not of her plagues.
5 For her sinnes are e come vp vnto heauen, and God hath remembred her iniquities.
6 f Rewarde her, euen as she hath rewarded you, and giue her double according to her workes: and in the cuppe that she hath filled to you, fill her the double.
7 In asmuch as she glorified her selfe, and lined in pleasure, so much giue yee to her torment and sorowe: for she saith in her heart, * I sit being g a Queene, and am no h widowe, and shall see no mourning.
8 Therefore shall her plagues come at one day, death, and sorow, and famine, and shee shall bee burnt with fire: for strong is the Lorde GOD which will condemne her.
9 And the kinges of the earth shall bewaile her, and lament for her, which haue committed fornication, and lined in pleasure with her, when they shal see the smoke of her burning,
10 And shall stand a farre off for feare of her torment, saying, Alas, alas, the great citie Babylon, the mightie citie: for in one houre is thy iudgement come.
11 And the i marchants of the earth shal weepe and waile ouer her: for no man buyeth their ware any more.
12 The ware of golde and siluer, and of precious stone, and of pearles, and of fine linen, and of purple, and of silke, & of skarlet, and of all maner of Thyne k wood, and of al vessels of yuorie, and of all vessels of most precious wood, and of brasse, and of yron, and of marble,
13 And of cinnamom, and odours, and ointments, and frankincense, & wyne, and oyle, and fine floure, and wheate, and beasts, and sheepe, and horses, and l charets, and seruants, and m soules of men.
14 (And the n apples that thy soule lusted after, are departed from thee, and all things which were fat & excellent, are departed from thee, & thou shalt finde them no more)
15 The marchants of these things which were wared rich, shall stand a farre off from her, for feare of her torment, weeping and wayling,
16 And saying, Alas, alas, the great citie, that was clothed in fine linen, and purple, and skarlet, and guilded with golde, and precious stone, and pearles.
17 For in one houre so great riches are come to desolation. And euery shipmaster, and all the people that occupie ships, and shipmen, and whosoeuer trauaile on the sea, shall stand a farre off, 18 And crie, when they see the smoke of her burning, saying, What citie was like vnto this great citie?
19 And they shall cast o dust on their heads, and cry weeping, and wayling, & say, Alas, alas, the great citie, wherein were made rich all that had shippes on the sea by her p costlines: for in one houre she is made desolate.
20 O heauen, reioyce of her, and ye holy Apostles and Prophets: for God hath p giuen your iudgement on her.
21 Then a mightie Angel tooke vp a stone like a great millstone, * and cast it into the sea, saying, With such violence shal the great citie Babylon be cast, and shalbe q found no more.
22 And the voyce of harpers, and musicians, and of pipers, and trumpetters shall bee heard no more in thee, and no crafts man, of whatsoeuer craft he bee, shalbe found any more in thee: and the sound of a millstone shall bee heard no more in thee.
23 And the light of a candle shal shine no more in thee; and the voyce of the bridegroome i Both they that temporally haue had profite by the strumpet, and also the spiritual marchants shall for sorowe & want of their gaine, cry out and despaire.

k Which is verie odoriferous and precious.

o And so shewe signes of great sorowe.
p Or, noble estate.
p And hath reuenged your cause in punishing her. Iere.51.63.
q It shall not be like to other cities which may he builded againe, but it shall be destroyed without mercie.

Isa.47.8. g The glorious boasting of the strumpet. h But full of people and mightie.

c The Romish prelates & marchants of soules are as kings and princes: so that their couetousnes and pride must be punished: secondly their craftes and deceites; and thirdly their crueltie.

indegrome & of the bride shal be heard no more in thee: for thy c marchants were the great men of the earth: & with thine inchantments were deceiued all nations.

24 And in her was found the blood of the Prophets, and of the Saints, and of al that were slame vpon the earth.

CHAP. XIX.

1 Prayses are giuen vnto God for iudging the whore, and for auenging the blood of his seruants. 10 The Angel will not be worshipped. 17 The foules and birds are called to the slaughter.

a That is, praise ye God, because the Antichrist & all wickednes is taken out of ỹ worlde.

b So that all the Saints are confirmed & ought nothing to dout of the saluation of the faithful.

c The wicked shalbe burned in continual fire, that neuer shall be extinguished.

d By the foure beasts are ment all creatures.

e Signifying that his iudgementes are true and iust, and ỹ we ought to praise him euermore for the destruction of the Pope.

f God made Christ the bridegrome of his Church at ỹ beginning, & at the last day it shalbe fully accomplished when we shall be ioyned with our head.

g That is, the Angel. Matth.22.2. chap.14.13.

h Whom God of free mercie calleth to be partakers of his heauenly graces, and deliuereth from the filthie pollutions of Antichrist. Chap.22.8,9.

i Who am charged to testifie of Iesus, or which am partaker of the same Gospel and faith.

k He sheweth that none ought to be worshipped but onely God: and that he is of their nomber whom God vseth to reueile his secrets by to the Prophets, that they may declare thē to others, also that we must beleeue no other spirit of prophecie, but that which doeth testifie of Iesus, and leade vs to him.

1 Whereby is signified that Iesus Christ our iudge shall be victorious, and shal triumph ouer his enemies.

m He meaneth Christ.

n So that ỹ wicked shal tremble before his face.

o To shew that he was ruler of all the world.

p That is, none can haue so full reuelation how Christ is verie God, eternal, infinite & almightie, as he himself. Isa.63.1,2.

q Whereby is signified his victorie, and the destruction of his enemies.

r Signifying ỹ Iesus Christ, which is the worde, is made flesh, & is our Lord, out God, and the iudge of the quicke & dead.

s This declareth that his Angels shal come with him to iudge ỹ world.

t Which driueth the wicked into eternal fire. Psal.2.9. chap.2.27.

u Which declareth his humanitie, wherein he is Lord of all, & shall iudge the worlde. 1.Tim.6.15. chap.17.14.

x This signifieth that the day of iudgement shal be cleare & euident, so that none shall be hid. for the trumpet shal blowe aloude and al shal vnderstande it.

y For the Pope and the worldly princes shal fight against Christ, euen vntil this last day.

z The ouerthrowe of the beast and his, which shalbe chiefly accomplished at the second comming of Christ.

1 AFter these thinges I heard a great voyce of a great multitude in heauen, saying, a Hallelu-iah, saluation, & glory, and honour, and power be to the Lord our God.

2 For b true & righteous are his iudgements: for he hath condemned the great whore, which did corrupt the earth with her fornication, and hath auenged the blood of his seruantes shed by her hand.

3 And againe they said, Hallelu-iah: and her c smoke rose vp for euermore.

4 And the foure & twentie Elders, and the foure d beasts fell downe, and worshipped God that sate on the throne, saying, e Amen, Hallelu-iah.

5 Then a voyce came out of the throne, saying, Prayse our God, all ye his seruants, and ye that feare him, both small and great.

6 And I heard like a voyce of a great multitude, and as the voyce of many waters, & as the voyce of strong thundrings, saying, Hallelu-iah: for our Lord God almightie hath reigned.

7 Let vs be glad and reioyce, and giue glorie to him: for the f marriage of the Lambe is come, & his wife hath made her selfe readie.

8 And to her was graunted, ḥ she should be arayed with pure fine linē & shining, for the fine linen is the righteousnesse of Saints.

9 Then i he said vnto me, Write, * Blessed are they which are h called vnto the Lambes supper. And he saide vnto me, These words of God are true.

10 And I fell before his fete * to worship him: but he saide vnto me, See thou do it not: I am thy fellowe seruant, and one of thy brethren, which haue ḥ testimonie of Iesus. Worshippe God: for the k testimonie of Iesus, is the Spirite of prophecie.

11 And I sawe heauen open, and behold a white l horse, and he that sate vpon him, was called, m Faithful and true, and he n iudgeth and fighteth ryghteously.

12 And his eyes were as a flame of fire, & on his head were o many crownes: and he had a name written, that no man r knewe but himselfe.

13 And *he was clothed with a garment dipt in q blood, and his name is called, THE r WORD OF GOD.

14 And the s warriers which were in heauen, followed him vpon white horses, clothed with fine linen white and pure.

15 And out of his mouth went out a sharpe t sworde, that with it he should smite the heathen: for he t shal rule them with a rod of yron: for he it is that treadeth the wine presse of the fiercenes and wrath of almightie God.

16 And he hath vpon his garment, & vpon his u thigh a name written, * THE KING OF KINGS, AND LORD OF LORDES.

17 And I saw an Angel stād in ḥ x sunne, who cried with a loude voyce, saying to all the foules that did flye by the midst of heauen, Come, & gather your selues together vnto the supper of the great God,

18 That ye may eate the flesche of Kings, and the flesh of hie Captaines, and the flesche of mightie men, and the flesche of horses, and of them that sit on them, & the flesh of all free men and bondmen, & of small and great.

19 And I sawe the beast, and the Kings of the earth, and their y warriers gathered together to make battell agaynst him, that sate on the horse and agaynst his souldiers.

20 But the beast was z taken, and with him that false Prophete that wrought miracles before him, wherewith he deceiued them that receiued the beastes marke, and them that worshipped his image. These both were alue cast into a lake of fire, burning with brimstone.

21 And the remnant were slayne with the swoorde of him that sitteth vpon the horse, which cometh out of his mouth, and all the foules were filled full with their flesche.

CHAP. XX.

1 Satan being bound for a certaine time, 7 And after let loose, vexeth the Church grieuously. 10 And after the world is iudged, he and his are cast into the lake of fire.

2 And a This Angell representeth the order of the Apostles, whose vocation & office was from heauen: or may signifie Christ, which shoulde tread downe the serpents head.

b Hereby hee meaneth the Gospel whereby hel is shut vp to the faithfull, and Satan is chained that hee cannot hurt thē, yea and the ministers hereby open it to the infidels, but through their impietie and stubburnnes.

c That is, from Christs natiuitie vnto the time of Pope Syluester ỹ second: so long ỹ pure doctrine should after a sorte remaine.

d After this terme Satan had greater power then hee had before.

e The glory & authoritie of them that suffer for Christs sake.

f That is, whiles they haue remained in this life.

g He meaneth them, which are spiritually dead: for in whom Satan liueth, hee is dead to God.

h Which is to receiue Iesus Christ in true faith, and to rise from sinne in newnes of life.

i The death of the soule, which is eternal damnation. k Shal be true partakers of Christ & of his dignitie. l That is, for euer. m After that the chaine is broken & the true preaching of Gods worde is corrupt. n By thē are ment diuers and straūge enemies of ỹ Church of God, as ỹ Turke, ỹ Sarazins & others, read Eze. 38. 2. & 39. 1, 2. by whom ỹ Church of God should be grieuously tormented. o Which was Christ, prepared to iudgemēt with glorie & maiestie. p Euerie mans conscience is as a booke wherein his deedes are writtē, which shal appeare whē God openeth ỹ booke. Phi. 4. 3. cha. 3. 5. & 21. 27.

1 AND I saw an [a]Angel come downe from heauen, hauing the [b]keye of the bottomles pitte, and a great chayne in his hande.
2 And he toke the dragon that olde serpent, which is the deuil & Satan, and he bounde him [c] a thousand yeeres,
3 And cast him into the bottomles pit, & he shut him vp, & sealed the doore vpon him, that he shoulde deceiue the people no more, till the [d] thousand yeeres were fulfilled: for after that he must be loosed for a litle season.
4 And I saw [e] seates: and they sate vpō them, and iudgement was giuen vnto them and I sawe the soules of them that were beheaded for the witnes of Iesus, and for the worde of God, and which did not worship the beast, neyther his image, neither had taken his marke vpon their foreheads, or on their hāds: and they liued, and reigned with Christ a [f] thousand yere.
5 But the rest of the [g] dead men shall not liue agame, vntill the thousande yeres be finished: this is the [h] first resurrection.
6 Blessed & holy is he, that hath part in the first resurrectiō: for on such ỹ [i] second death hath no power: but they [k] shalbe the Priestes of God and of Christ, and shall reigne with him a [l] thousand yere.
7 And when the thousande yeeres are [m] expired, Satan shall be loosed out of his prison,
8 And shal goe out to deceiue the people, which are in the foure quarters of the earth: euen [n] Gog and Magog, to gather them together to battel, whose nōber is as the sand of the sea.
9 And they went vp into ỹ plaine of the earth, which compassed the tents of the Saints about, and the beloued citie: but fire came downe from God out of heauen, and deuoured them.
10 And the deuil that deceiued them, was cast into a lake of fire and brimstone, where the beast and the false prophet shalbe tormented euen day and night for euermore.
11 And I sawe a great white throne, and [o] one that sate on it, from whose face fled away both the earth and heauen, and their place was no more found.
12 And I sawe the dead, both great and small stande before God: & the [p] bookes were opened, and [*] another booke was opened, which is the booke of life, and the dead were iudged of those thinges, which were writtē in the bookes, according to their workes.
13 And the sea gaue vp her dead, which were in her, and [q] death and hel deliuered vp the dead, which were in them: & they were iudged euery man according to their workes.
14 And [r] death and hel were cast into the lake of fire: this is the second death.
15 And whosoeuer was not found written in the booke of life, was cast into the lake of fire.

3. 24 The blessed estate of the godly, 8. 27 And the miserable condition of the wicked. 11 The description of the heauenly Ierusalem, and of the wife of the Lambe.

AND I saw [] a new heauen, & a new earth: [a] for [] the first heauen, and the first earth were [b] passed away, and there was no more sea.
2 And I John sawe the [c] holy citie new Ierusalem come [d] down from God out of heauen, prepared as a bride trimmed for her husband.
3 And I heard a great voyce out of heauen, saying, Behold, the Tabernacle of God is with men, and he wil dwel with them: and they shall be his people, and God him selfe shall bee their God with them.
4 [*] And God shal wipe [e] away all teares from their eyes: and there shall be no more death, neither sorowe, neither crying, neyther shall there be any more payne: for the first thinges are passed.
5 And he that sate vpon the throne, said, [*] Behold, I make all things newe: and he said vnto me, Write: for these words are faithfull and true.
6 And he said vnto me, It is done, [*] I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning & the end. I wil giue to him that is a thirst, of the [f] well of the water of life freely.

9 And there came vnto me one of the seuen Angels, which had the seuē vialles full of the seuen last plagues, and talked with me, saying, Come: I will shewe thee the [i] bride, the Lambes wife.
10 And he caried me away in the spirite to a great and an hie mountaine, and he shewed me the great [k] citie, holie Ierusalem, [l] descending out of heauen from God,

11 Hauing

11 Hauing the glorie of GOD: and her shining was like vnto a stone most precious, as a m Jasper stone cleare as crystall, 12 And had a great n wall and hie, and had twelue o gates, and at the gates twelue Angels, and the names writte, which are the twelue tribes of the children of Israel.
13 On p East part there were three gates,
& on the Northside three gates, on the Southside three gates, and on the Westside three gates.
14 And the wall of the citie had twelue foundations, and in them the names of the Lambes twelue q Apostles.
15 And hee that talked with mee, had a golden reede to measure the citie withal, & the gates therof, & the wall therof.
16 And the city lay foure square, and the length is as large as the breadth of it, and he measured the citie with the reed, twelue thousande furdongs: and the length, and the bredth, and the height of it are equall.
17 And hee measured the wall thereof, an hundreth, fourtie and foure cubits, by the measure of man, that is, of the Angell.
18 And the building of the wal of it was of Jasper: and the citie was pure golde like vnto cleare glasse.
19 And the foundations of the wal of the citie were garnished with all maner of precious stones: the first foundation was Jasper: the second of Saphire: the thirde of a Chalcedonie: the fourth of an Emeraude:
20 The fift of a Sardonyx: the sixt of a Sardius: the seuenth of a Chrysolite:
the eyght of a Beryll: the ninth of a Topaze: the tenth of a Chrysoprasius:
the eleuenth of a Jacinth: the twelfth an Amethyst.
21 And the twelue gates were twelue pearles, & euerie gate is of one pearle, and the streete of the citie is pure golde,
as shining glasse.
22 And I sawe no Temple therein: for the Lord God almightie & the r Lambe are the Temple of it.
23 And the citie hath no neede of the sunne, neither of the moone to shine in it: for the glory of God did light it: and the Lambe is the light of it.
24 And the people which are saued, shall walke in the light of it: and the s kinges of the earth shall bring their glorie and honour vnto it.
25 And the gates of it shall not be shut by day: for there shalbe no night there.
26 And the glory, & honour of the Gentiles shalbe brought vnto it.
27 And there shal enter into it none vncleane thing, neyther whatsoeuer worketh abomination or lyes: but they which are written in the Lambes

m Euer greene and flourishing.
n Signifying that the faithfull shal be surely kept in heauen.
o That is, place inough to enter: for els we know there is but one way & one gate, euen Iesus Christ.
p For the Apostles were meanes whereby Iesus Christ the true foundation was reueiled to the world.
q This declareth that Christ is God inseparable with his Father. Isa.60.19.
Isa 60.3,5.
r Here we see as in infinite other places that kings and princes (contrarie to that wicked opinion of the Anabaptists) are partakers of the heauenly glory, if they rule in the feare of the Lord. Isa.60.11. Phil.4.3.chap.3.5.and 20.12.

CHAP. XXII.

1 The riuer of the water of life. 2 The fruitfulnes and light of the citie of God. 6 The Lord giueth ouer his seruants warning of things to come. 9 The Angel will not be worshipped. 18 To the word of God may nothing be added nor diminished there-from.

1 And hee shewed me a pure a riuer of water of life, cleare as crystall, proceeding out of the throne of God, & of the Lambe.
2 In the b middes of the streete of it, and of either side of the riuer, was the tree of life, which bare twelue maner of fruits, and gaue fruit euery c moneth: and the leaues of the tree serued to heale the d nations with.
3 And there shall bee no more curse, but the throne of God & of the Lambe shall bee in it, and his seruantes shall serue him.
4 And they shall see his face, and his Name shalbe in their foreheads.
5 And there shall bee no e night there, and they neede no candle, neyther light of the Sunne: for the Lord God giueth them light, and they shall reigne for euermore.
6 And he saide vnto me, These wordes are faithfull and true: and the Lorde God of the holy Prophets sent his Angel to shew vnto his seruants f things which must shortly be fulfilled.
7 Beholde, I come shortly. Blessed is he that keepeth the wordes of the prophe-

8 And I am John, which sawe & heard these things: & when I had heard and seene, g I fell downe to worship before the feete of the Angell, which shewed me these things.
9 But he saide vnto me, See thou do it not: for I am thy fellow seruant, and of thy brethren the Prophets, and of them which keepe the wordes of this booke:
worship God.
10 And he said vnto me, h Seale not the wordes of the prophecie of this booke:
for the time is at hand.
11 He that is vniust, let him be vniust stil:
and he which is filthy, let him be filthie still: and he that is righteous, let him be righteous still: and he that is holy, let him be holy still.
12 And beholde, I come shortly, and my reward is with me, to giue euery man according as his worke shalbe.
13 I am Alpha & Omega, the beginning and the end, the first and the last.
14 Blessed are they, that doe his com-

15 For without shall be dogges and ena He alludeth to the visible paradise to set forth more sensibly the spiritual: and this agreeth with that which is written, Ezek. 47.1.

b Meaning, that Christ who is the life of his church is common to all his, & not peculiar for any one sort of people.
c For there are all things pleasant and ful of al contentation continually.
d Which sometime were vnpure as Gentiles, but now are purged and made whole by Christ. Isa.60.19,20.

f Now this is the second time that he suffered himself to be caried away with the excellencie of the person: which is to admonish vs of our infirmitie & readines to fall, except God strengthen vs miraculously with his Spirit.
g This is not the as the other prophecies which were commanded to be hid till the time appointed, as in Daniel 12.4 because that these things should be quickly accomplished, and did now beginne. Rom.2.6.

Isa.41.4.& 44.6.chap.1.8.and 21.6. h They shall liue eternally with the sonne of God.

f That maintain false doctrine & delight therein.

m Let them be afraid of Gods horrible iudgements, and assoone as they heare the Lambe call, let them come.
n He that feeleth himselfe oppressed with afflictions, and desireth the heauenly graces and comfort.
o That is, When God beginneth to reforme our will by his spirit.
p Seeing ſ Lord is at hande, we ought to be constant & reioyce, but we must beware we esteeme not ſ length nor shortnesse of the Lords comming by our owne imagination, 2. Pet. 3.9.
q This declareth the earnest desire that the faithfull haue to be deliuered out of these miseries, and to be ioyned with their head Christ Iesus.

16 maketh i lies.
I Iesus haue sent mine Angel, to testifie vnto you these things in the Churches: I am the roote and the k generation of Dauid, and the bright morning l starre.
17 And the Spirit & the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth, say, m Come: And let him that is a n thirst, come: and o let whosoeuer p will, take of the water of life freely.
18 For I protest vnto euery man that heareth ſ wordes of ſ prophecie of this booke, q If any man shal adde vnto these things, God shall adde vnto him the plagues that are written in this booke.
19 And if any man shall diminish of the wordes of the booke of this prophecie, God shall take away his part out of ſ Booke of life, and out of the holy citie, and from those things which are written in this booke.
20 He which testifieth these things, saith, r Surely, I come quickly. Amen. Euen so q come, Lord Iesus.
21 The grace of our Lorde Iesus Christ be with you all, Amen.
